Foreward

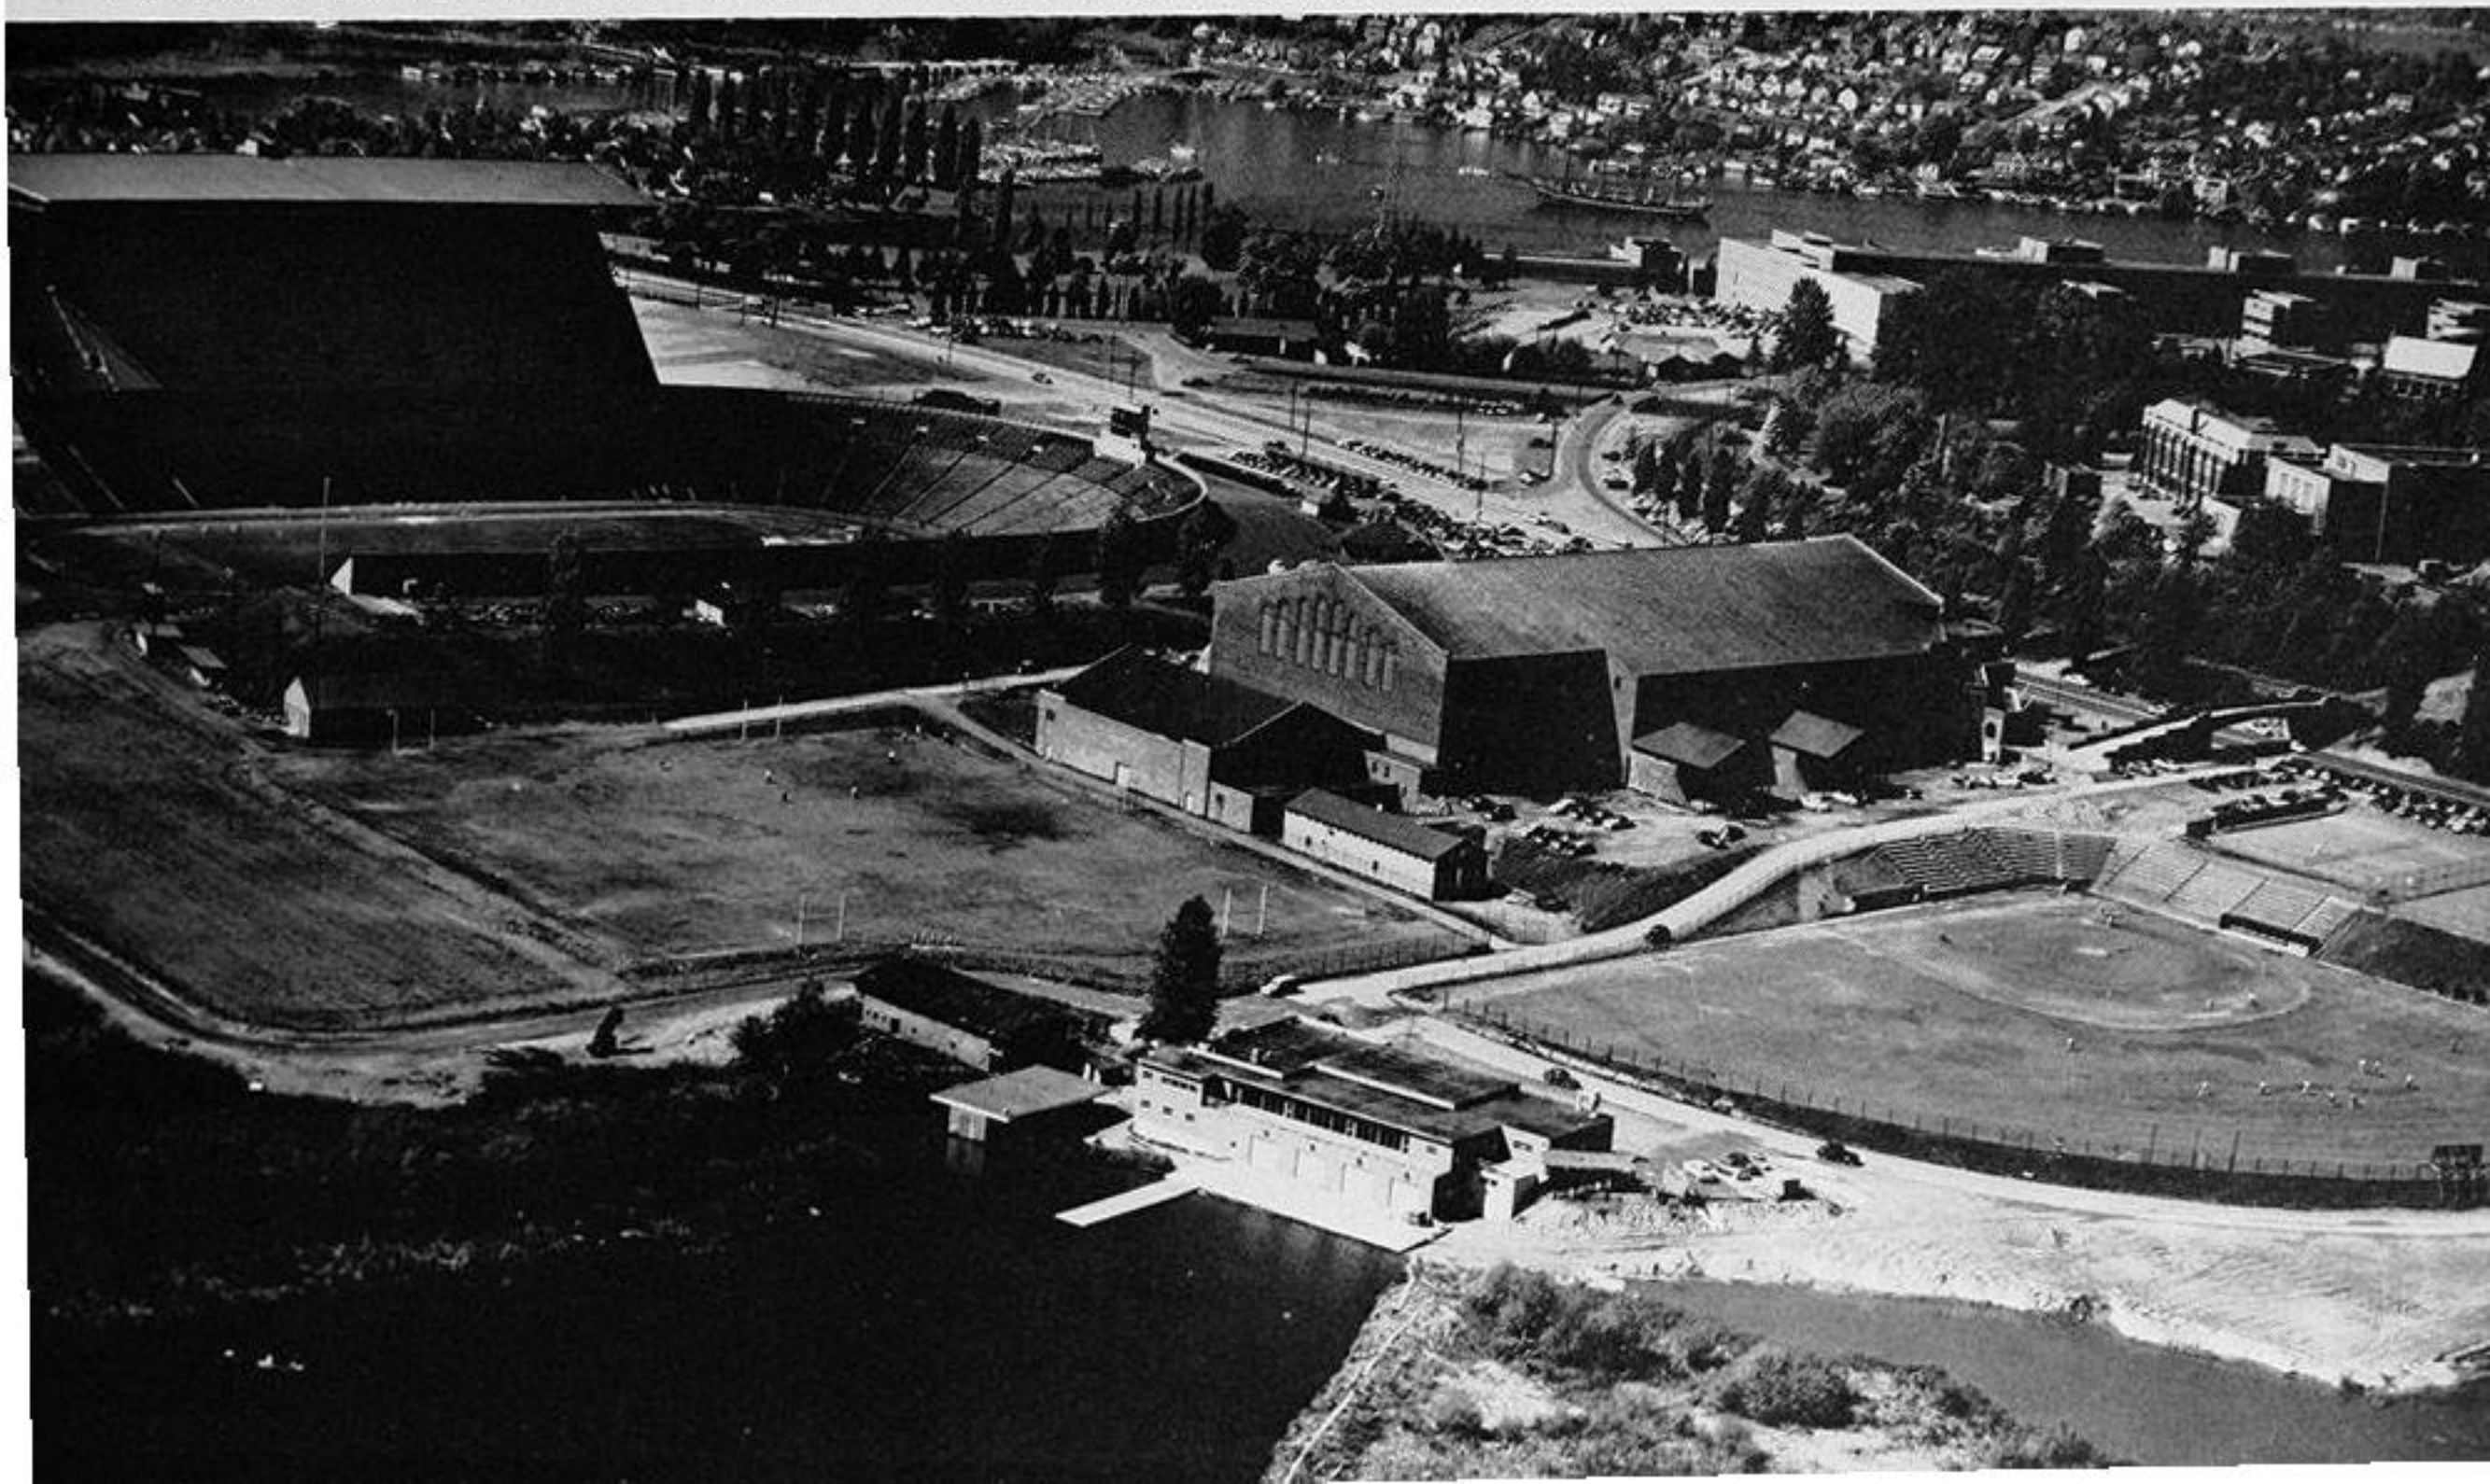

Why do we, at Washington, regard these four years of our lives as among the fullest—not in the sense that our calendars have always been full, but considering the great degree of values and unforgettable experience we have gained? All aspects of our environment come into view and our attention is turned to something which Washington and no other school could have given us—its unique location. The mountains on one hand and the bays and lakes on the other have provided a broad horizon for our interests and activities. In an atmosphere of fun, we have unknowingly acquired traits of character expected of college graduates. It is this informality woven through an extremely broad field of opportunities in which everyone can find an interest that has characterized Washington for us. If you, the reader, can feel this mood as you look through the pages of your 1952 TYEE this year and in the years to come, then our purpose has been accomplished.

—THE STAFF

Mt. Rainier looms to the south above Frosh Pond.

Lake Union in the background and Lake Washington in the foreground form the boundaries of the campus.

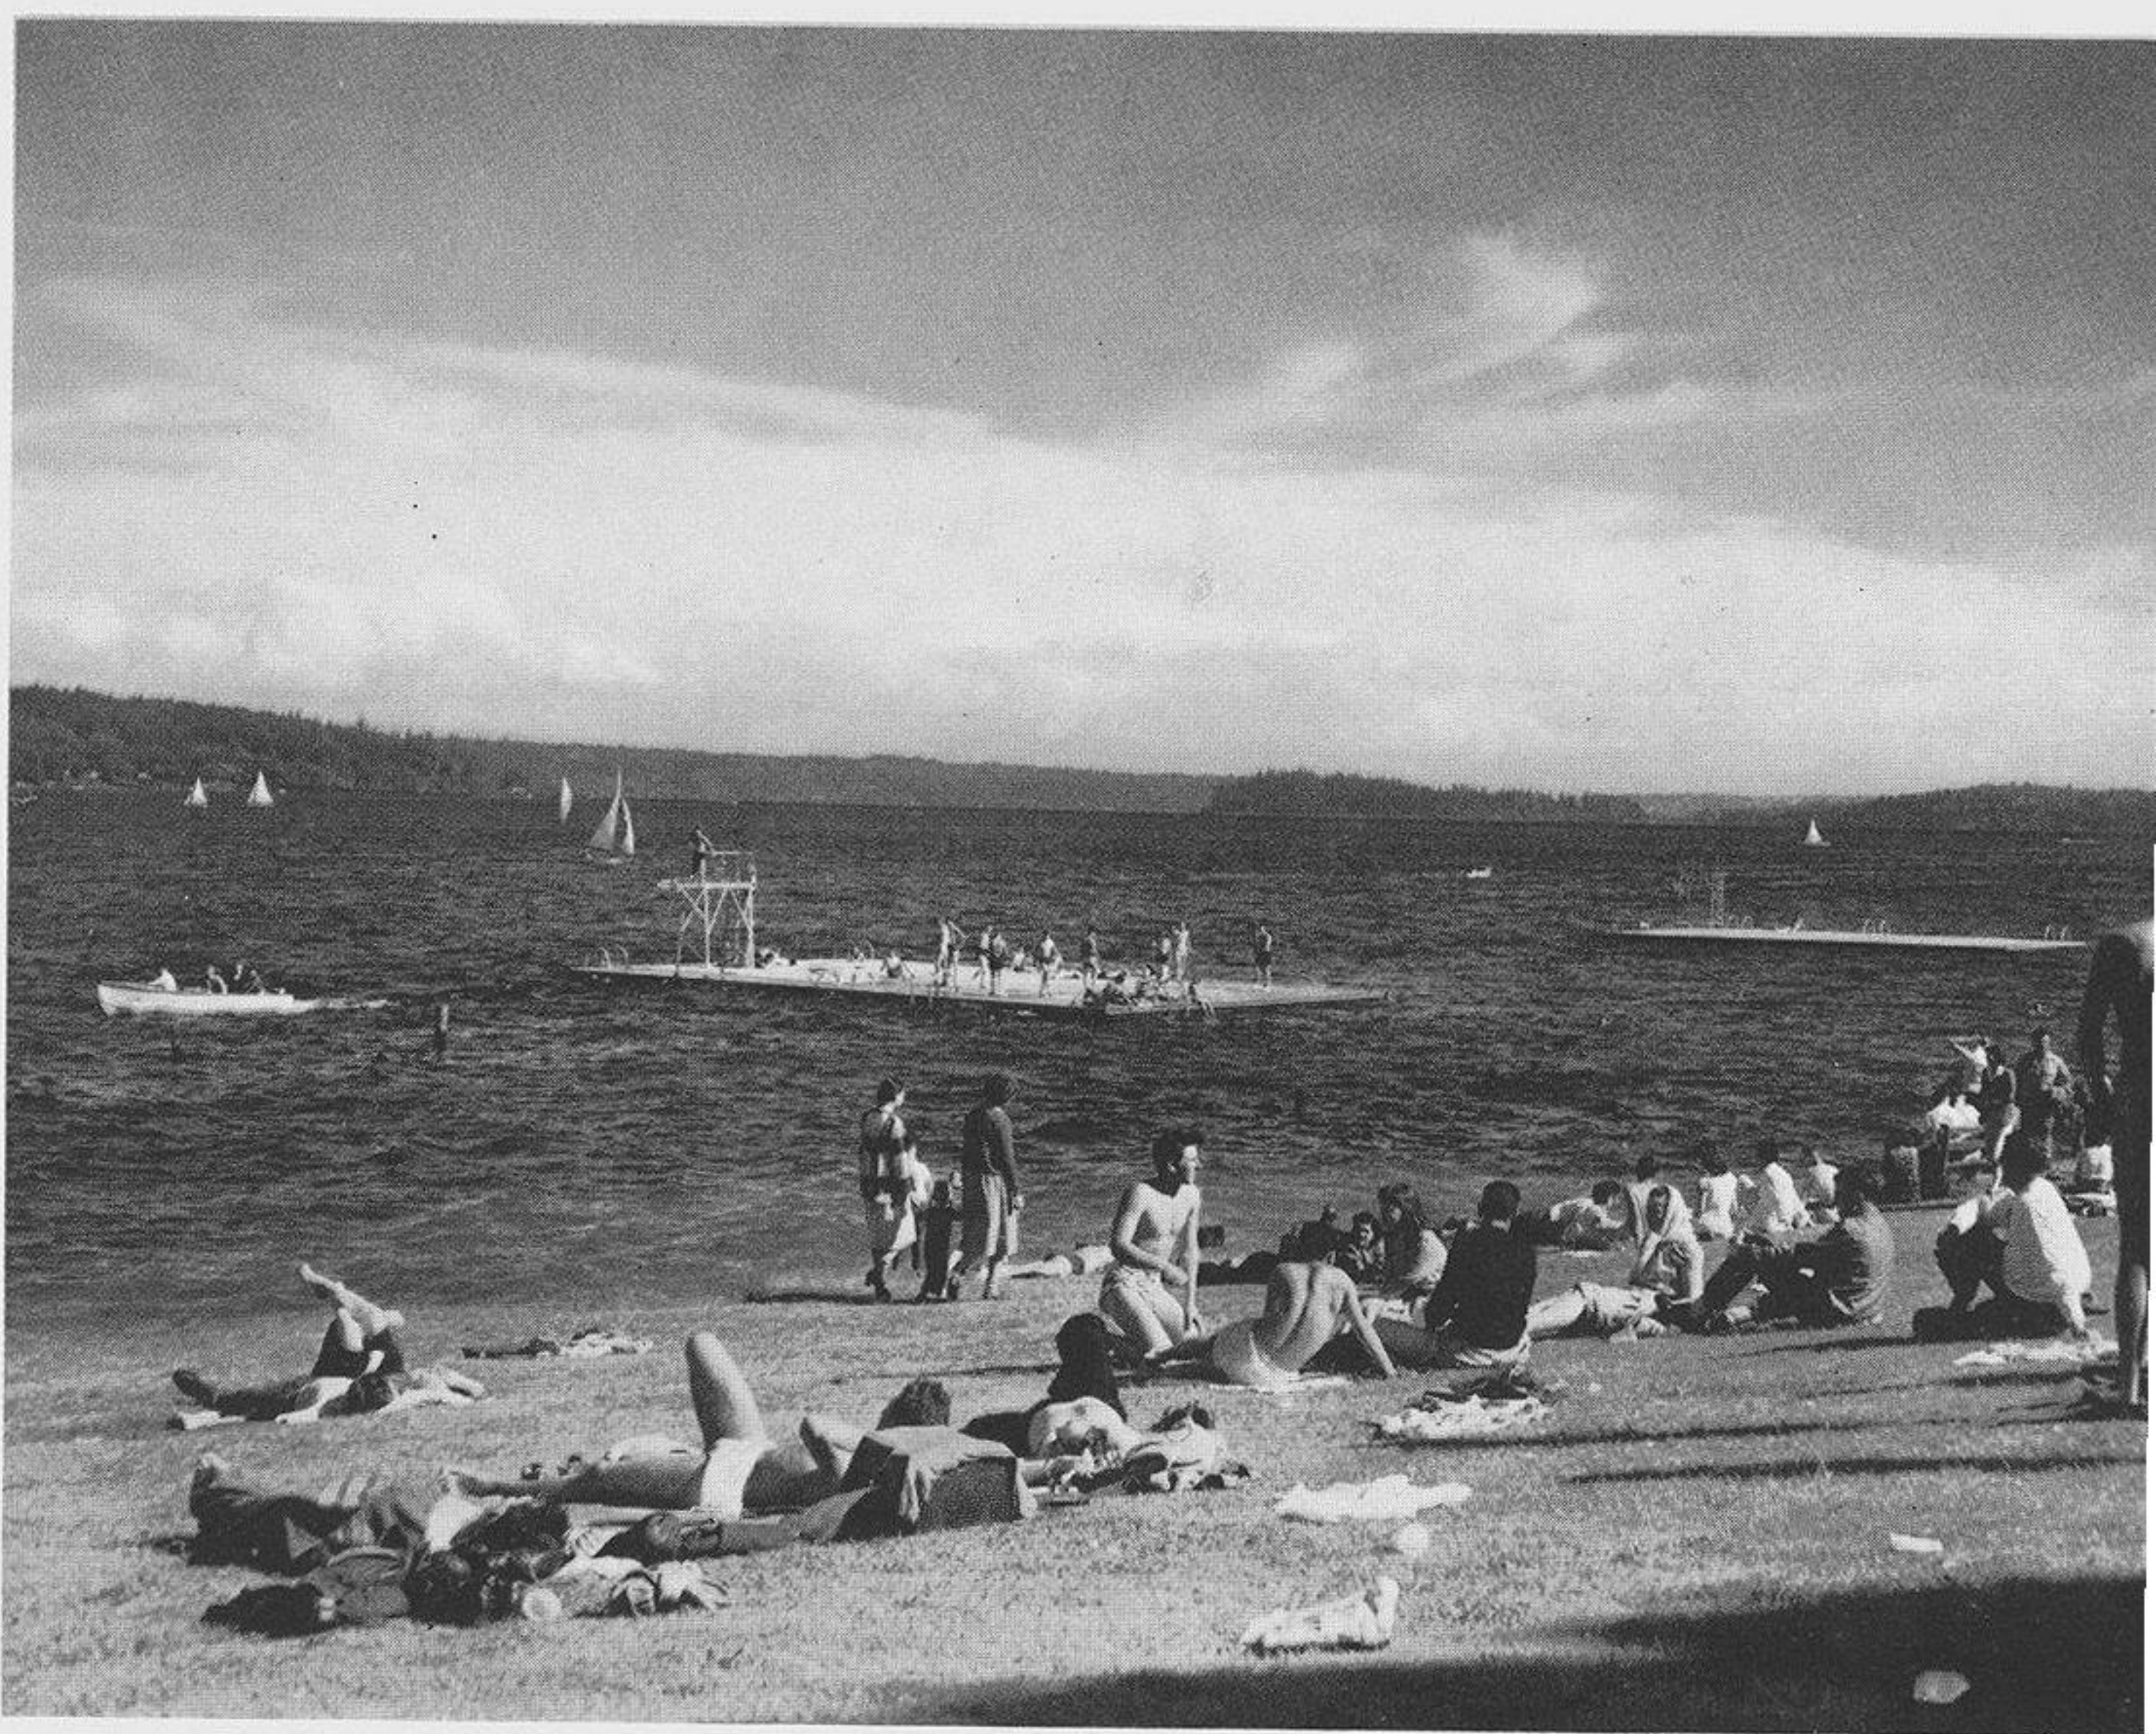

Before

After

The Husky Yacht Club, with its own fleet, gives instruction and sponsors races for University students.

Seniors spend finals week at Madrona Beach drowning their sorrows and themselves.

The Gold Cup, significant of the international hydroplane championship, was won by Stanley Sayres and his Slo-mo-shun on Lake Washington.

Members of the Husky Winter Sports Club get an early start for one of the many ski areas available to University students.

Geometric patterns are made by skiers on Mount Baker, judged by many to have the most beautiful slopes in the Northwest.

1952 marked the opening of the University Ski Area three miles below Stevens. Good use of these facilities was made by ski classes under the Men's and Women's Physical Education departments. Chartered buses carried future skiers to class five Saturdays out of Winter Quarter where they received instruction from Marlys Waller, Buster Campbell, John Woodward, and Karl Stingl.

Water skiing exchanges give some a chance to try the sport, others to kibitz.

With the greatest of ease!

With Seattle in the background, salmon fishermen enjoy their favorite sport in the salt water of Elliott Bay.

A network of rivers in the Seattle area give fishermen a chance to battle the trout. The Skykomish River with Mt. Index rising above it is pictured.

Rated by University students as one of the best ski areas in the northwest, Stevens Pass, boasts a T-bar and six rope tows, overnight accommodations for 50 men and 25 women, a warming hut, and a ski shop for equipment rentals.

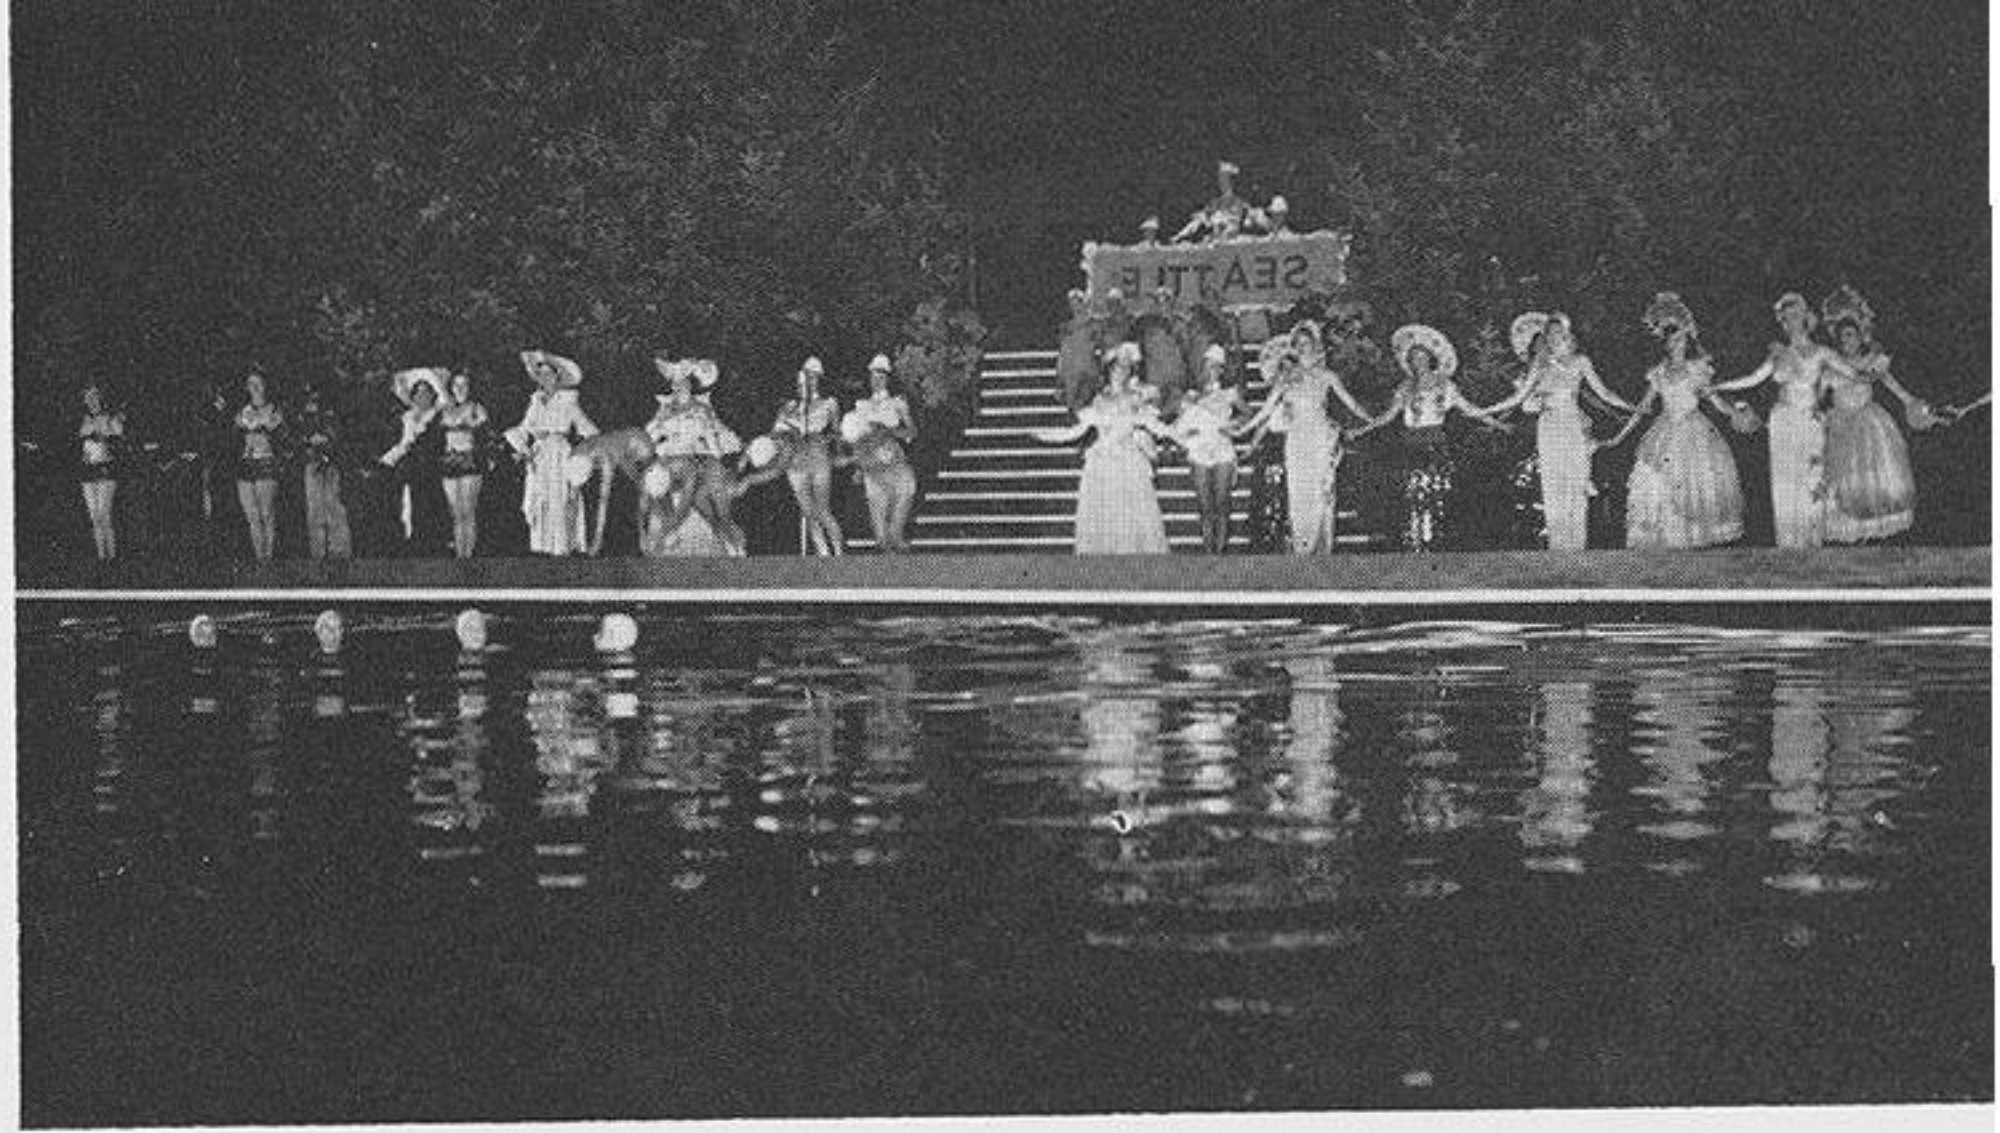

Time out for coffee at the Stevens Pass Ski Lodge.

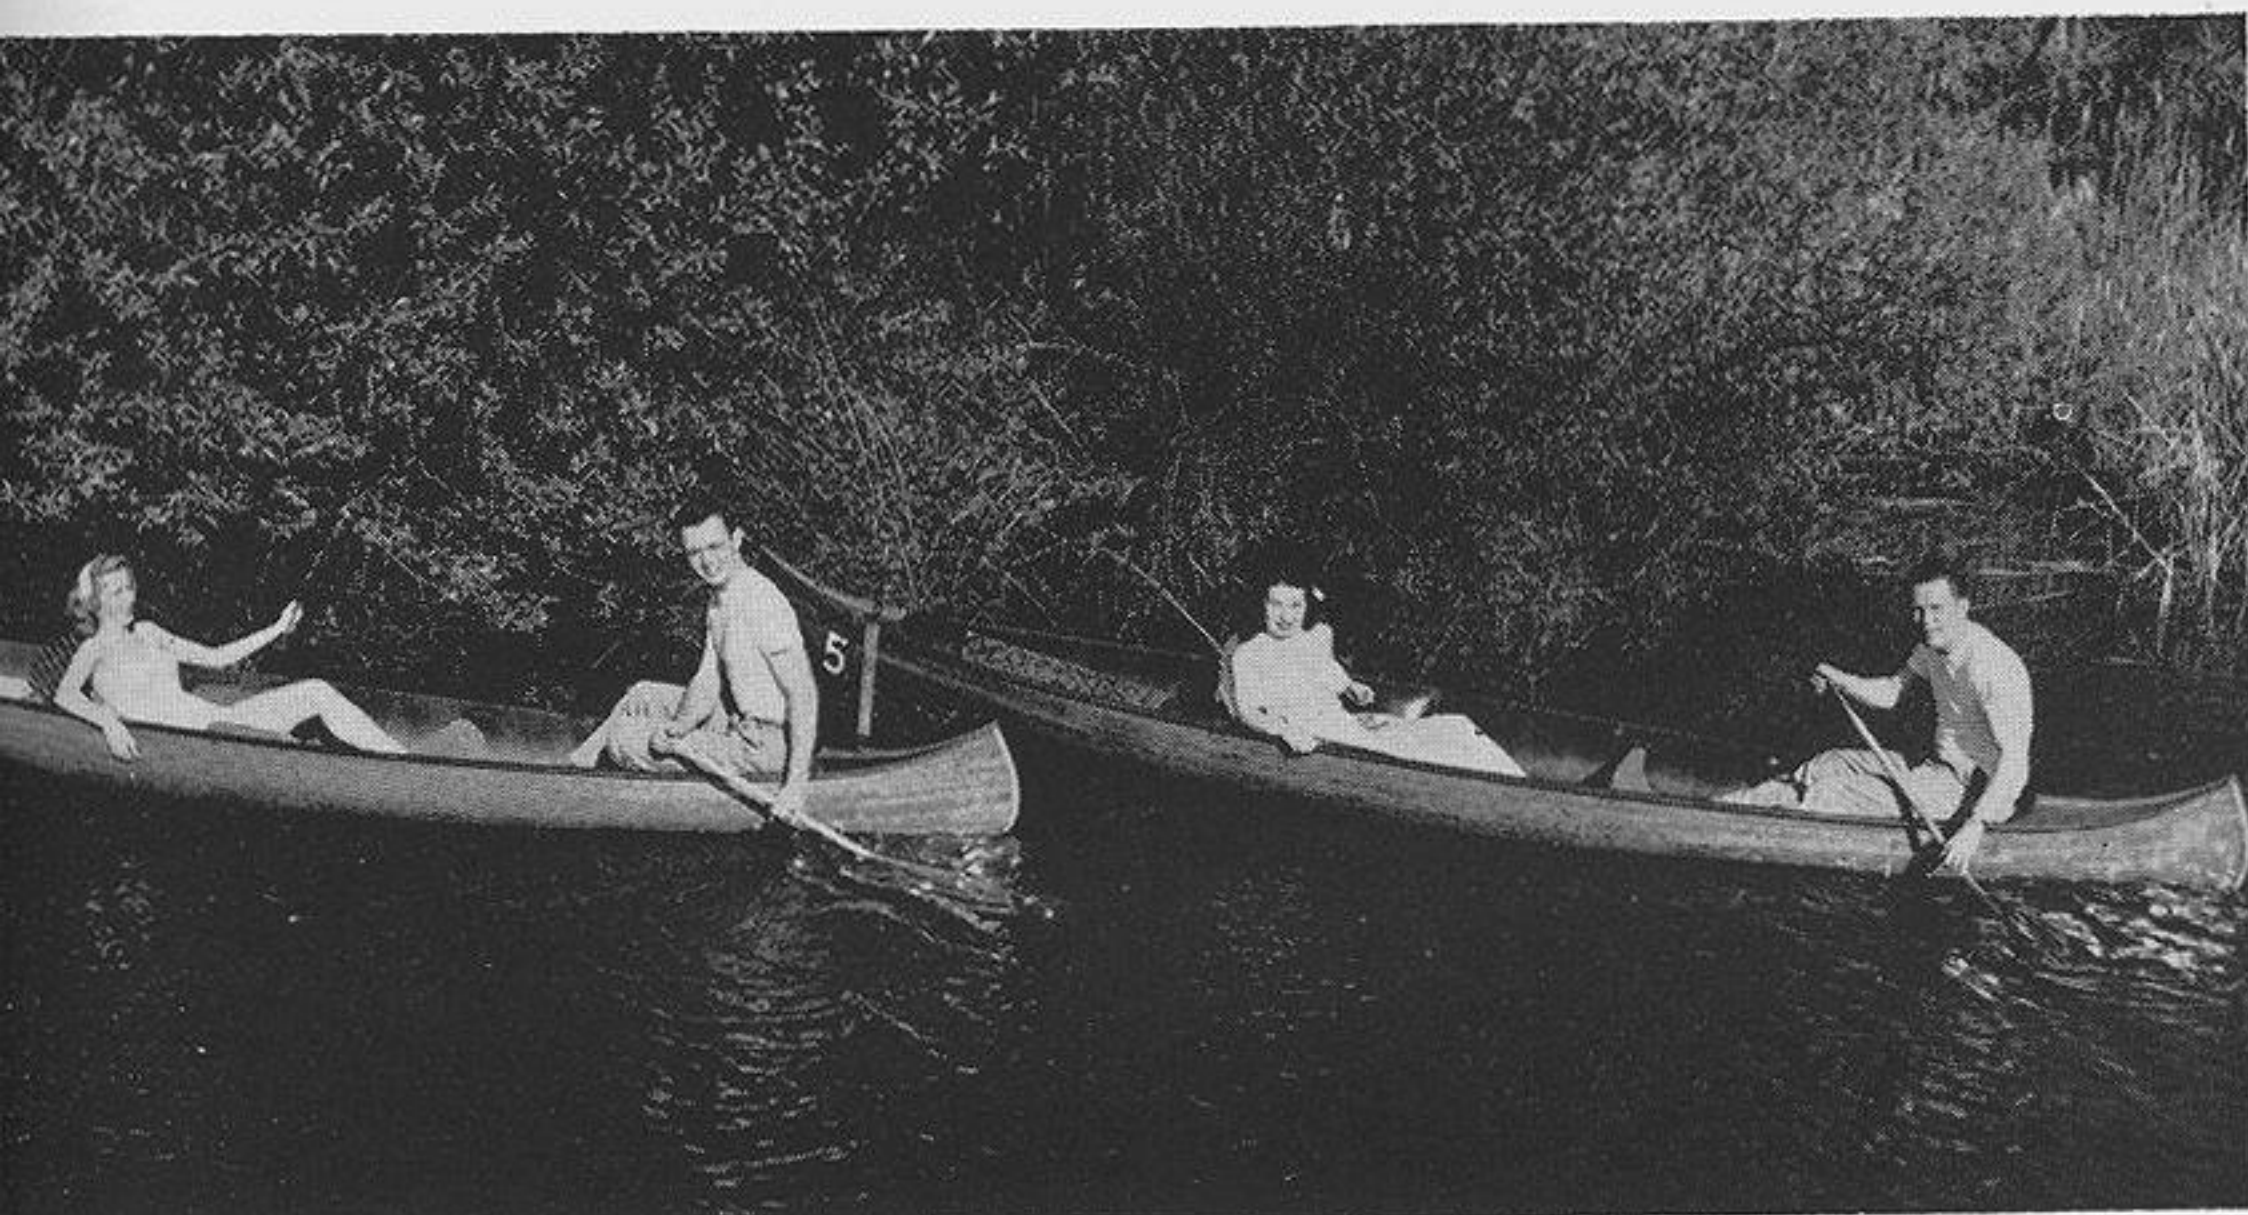

Ski Acres, famed for its ski schools sponsored by the Times and the P.-I., is located one-half mile past the summit of Snoqualmie Pass. Parking space and a chair lift are added attractions.

The Aqua-Follies from Minneapolis was presented in the Green Lake Aquatheater to help Seattle celebrate its centennial anniversary.

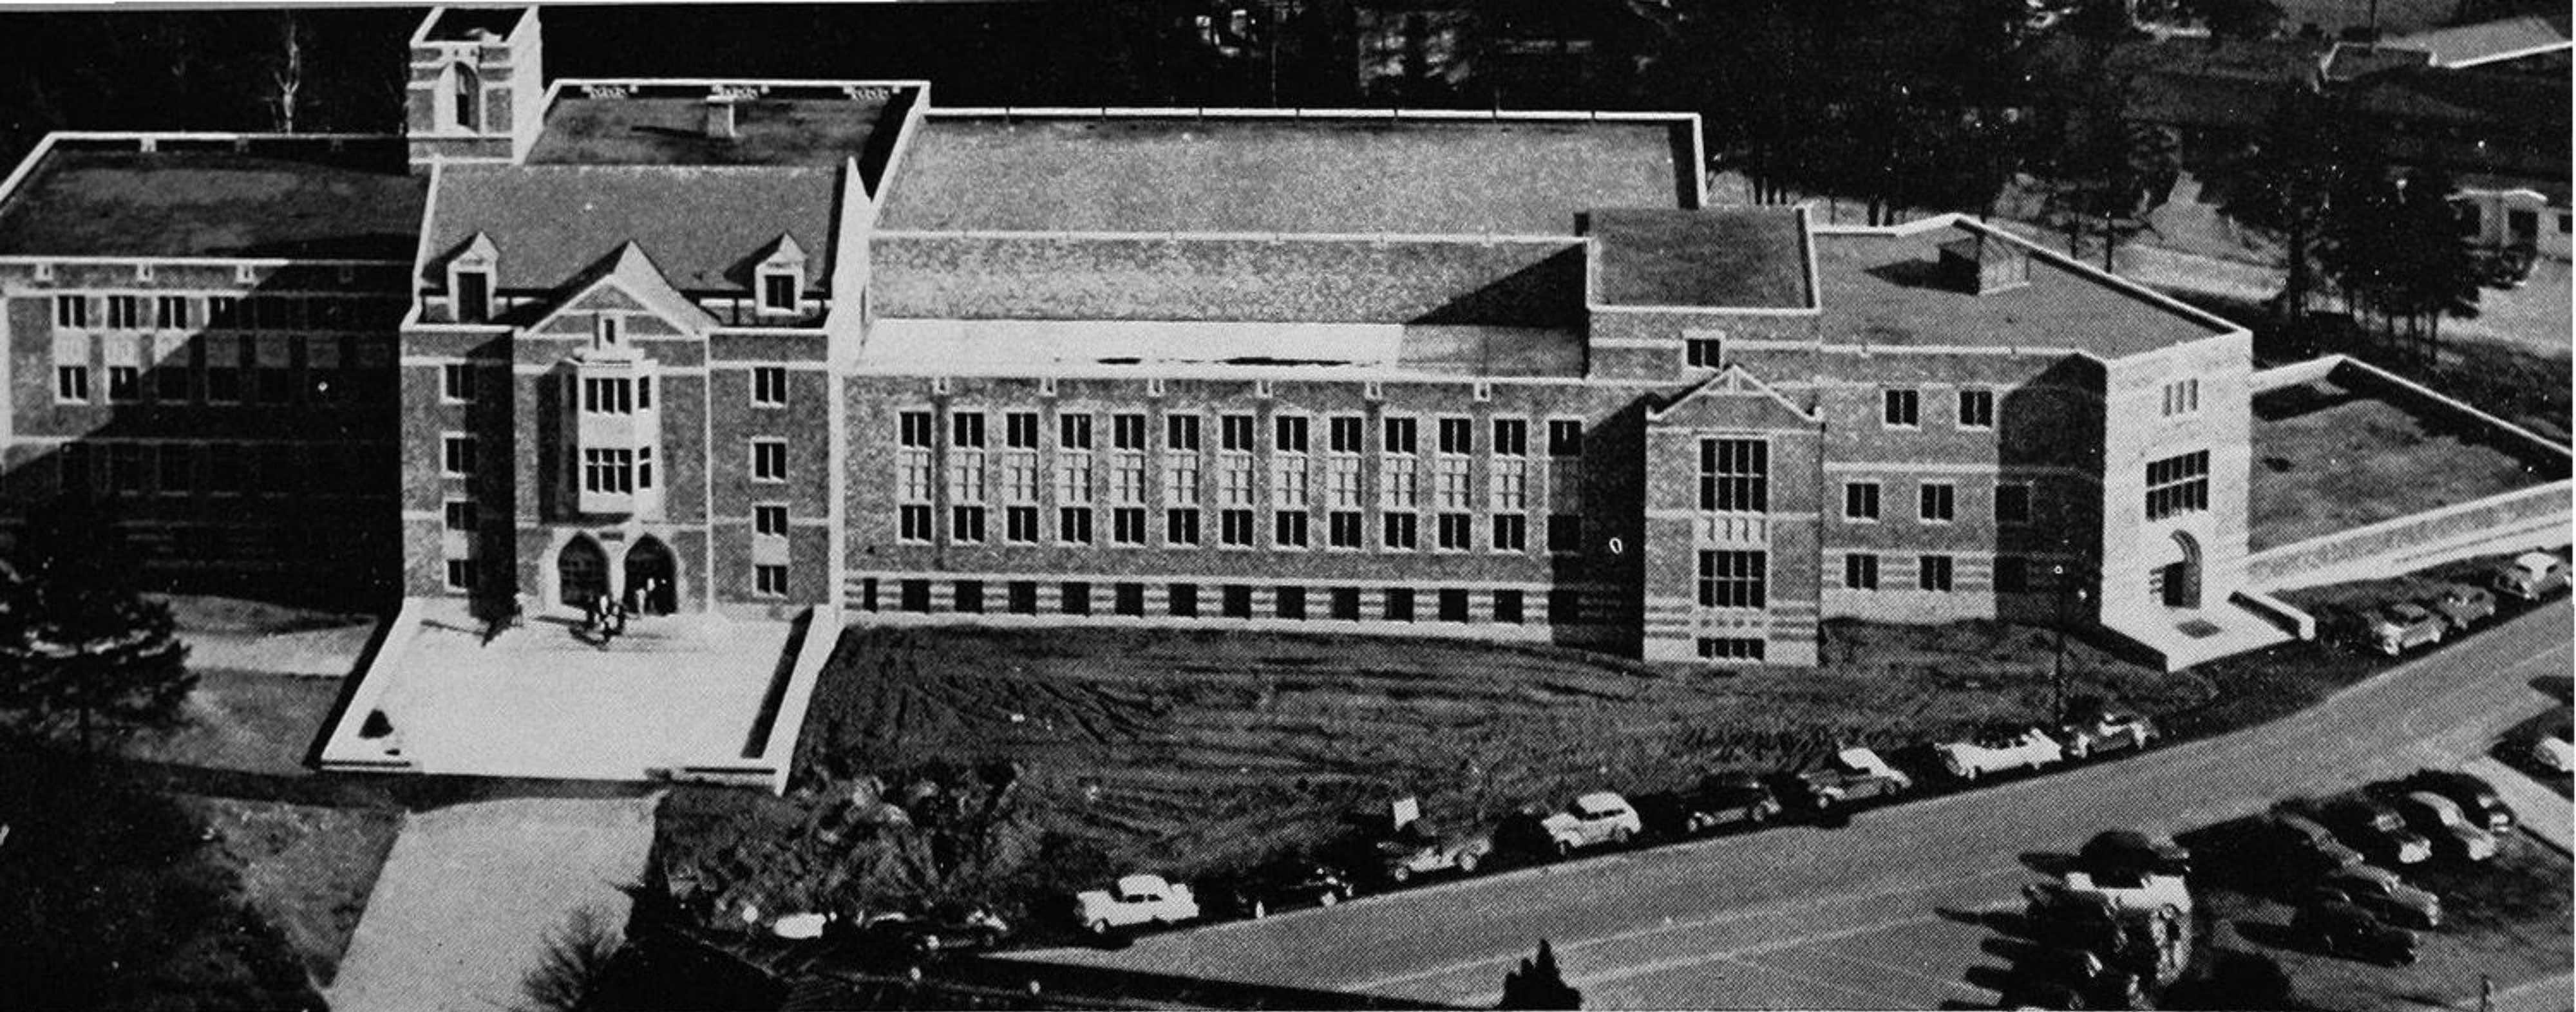

Hey! Watch where you're going. The many inlets and quiet waters of Lake Washington provide canoeing possibilities.

The 261-acre University Arboretum is used for Botany and other trips.

Overlooking Lake Washington, which provides a 26-mile sailing stretch, is the Seattle Tennis Club. Three of the large number of courts are shown here.

Dedicated to the HUB

"The most important single factor in a modern liberal education is the education which students receive from one another."

JAMES B. CONANT, President Harvard University

With this philosophy in mind, students, faculty, and alumni have worked for more than thirty years to give the Associated Students of the University of Washington their "living room" on campus. The year 1952 has seen the completion of the Husky Union Building or HUB as it is known by all. With the addition of 12 bowling alleys, pool, billiards, and ping pong facilities, a ballroom, barber shop, coffee shop, bring-your-own-lunch room, and a post office this year, the HUB offers a complete program of activities with an interest for every student.

The sun-deck with a view of Mt. Rainier and Lake Washington is a good place to go to dance or drink cokes.

Modernistic meeting rooms upstairs are equipped with kitchenettes and some can be divided in two by means of folding doors.

The main lounge on the first floor is a comfortable center of student discussions and informal meetings.

The HUB Coffee Shop, giving strong competition to the Commons since its opening this year, features pick-up service instead of long lines.

The HUB Ballroom has been the scene of four major dances since its completion in February. Testifying to its popularity was the crowd of 1100 couples which turned out for the Varsity Ball.

With a national pool expert-instructor to help celebrate its opening, the pool and billiards room occupies the spare time of boys and girls alike.

Providing a service not many universities have installed, HUB planners included a Barber Shop in the new wing.

The bowling alleys have been used both recreationally and for Physical Education classes this year.

Arthur B. King

Governor's Message

The longer one is away from the University of Washington the more one feels a part of it. It's sort of a home plate. Right now you students are at bat, sizing up the field, waiting for the right pitch that's going to mean success for you and your team.

But once you've connected, once you've gotten that diploma you've trained for long and hard, you don't stop running. You can't afford to. The young fellow who graduates today but stops learning tomorrow is uneducated the day after. Tomorrow's problems require new answers and renewed spiritual strength, and the man who comes up with the right answers is the man who regards his college education as a starting point rather than a finish.

You students are in an enviable position. You have the tradition and compiled knowledge of a great University behind you. You have the driving force of opportunity to make this world a better place to live in behind you, pushing you, challenging you. You have the people of the state behind you, too, for we know that within you lie the latent, potent ideas that are able to conquer the distorted ideas of those who would destroy our freedom.

It may be years from now when you're coming into home stretch, straining for the plate, that you begin to realize fully how important it was you were wide awake when you stood at bat. You'll realize another thing, too. Education gave you the fundamentals of the game, but it took spiritual guidance to play it square. Grantland Rice put it this way:

"For when the One Great Scorer comes to write against your name, He marks—not that you won or lost—but how you played the game."

SECTIONS

Seated, discussing University problems, over which it had jurisdiction since the latter part of fall quarter, is the Executive Committee. This five-man committee with Prof. Harold P. (Dick) Everest as chairman took the place of a president. They are, left to right, Dean Harold E. Wessman, Dean Lloyd S. Woodburne, Dean Gordon D. Marckworth, Prof. Harold P. Everest, Dean Edward L. Turner.

Doctor Allen

Dr. Allen's family as pictured in the summer of 1951: Barbara, 9; Charles A. (Tony), 18; Mrs. Allen; Dorothy, 11; and Raymond B., Jr., 16.

This message will appear some months after I have left the campus to assume the Directorship of the Psychological Strategy Board in Washington, D. C. For this reason it must be a belated and an exceedingly regretful farewell to the students of this great University. It is a difficult thing to leave the kind of associations I have enjoyed with all of you during the last five years.

As I observed at your Christmas Sing last December, however, this is not really a goodbye, for in a very real sense all of us are but a part of a larger company of men and women of goodwill the world over who are as one together in the search for truth and freedom. Certainly, my new duties are deeply concerned with the search for truth and with the struggle for freedom for men everywhere. And, as long as you are dedicated to the ideals of your University, you too will be a part of this noble cause.

The students of this University should take great pride in the part they play in their own preparation for life. Education is a participating process. Learning comes from doing, and the students of this University, through their highly developed system of student government and by the management of their own affairs, gain an education in business and social effectiveness that cannot be duplicated in the classroom. I am proud to have been a part of an institution that has put this principle to work so effectively.

RAYMOND B. ALLEN

The Board of Regents is the governing body of the University. The members, who serve without compensation, are appointed by the Governor for terms of six years each. Left to right: Grant Armstrong, Charles F. Frankland, John L. King, Former President Raymond B. Allen, Thomas Balmer and Winlock W. Miller. Not pictured: Dr. Donald G. Corbett.

Board of Regents

John L. King, PRESIDENT, Seattle: graduated from the University of Washington with an A.B. in 1925 and an M.A. in 1941. Taught school from 1925 to 1937 and served as State High School Supervisor from 1937 to 1941. Member of Board of Directors, Radio Station KIRO, in charge of Public Relations. Term as regent expires in 1952.

Winlock W. Miller, Seattle: Yale graduate; received his LL.B. in 1892. Businessman and financier. A regent almost continuously since 1913, his present term expires in 1953.

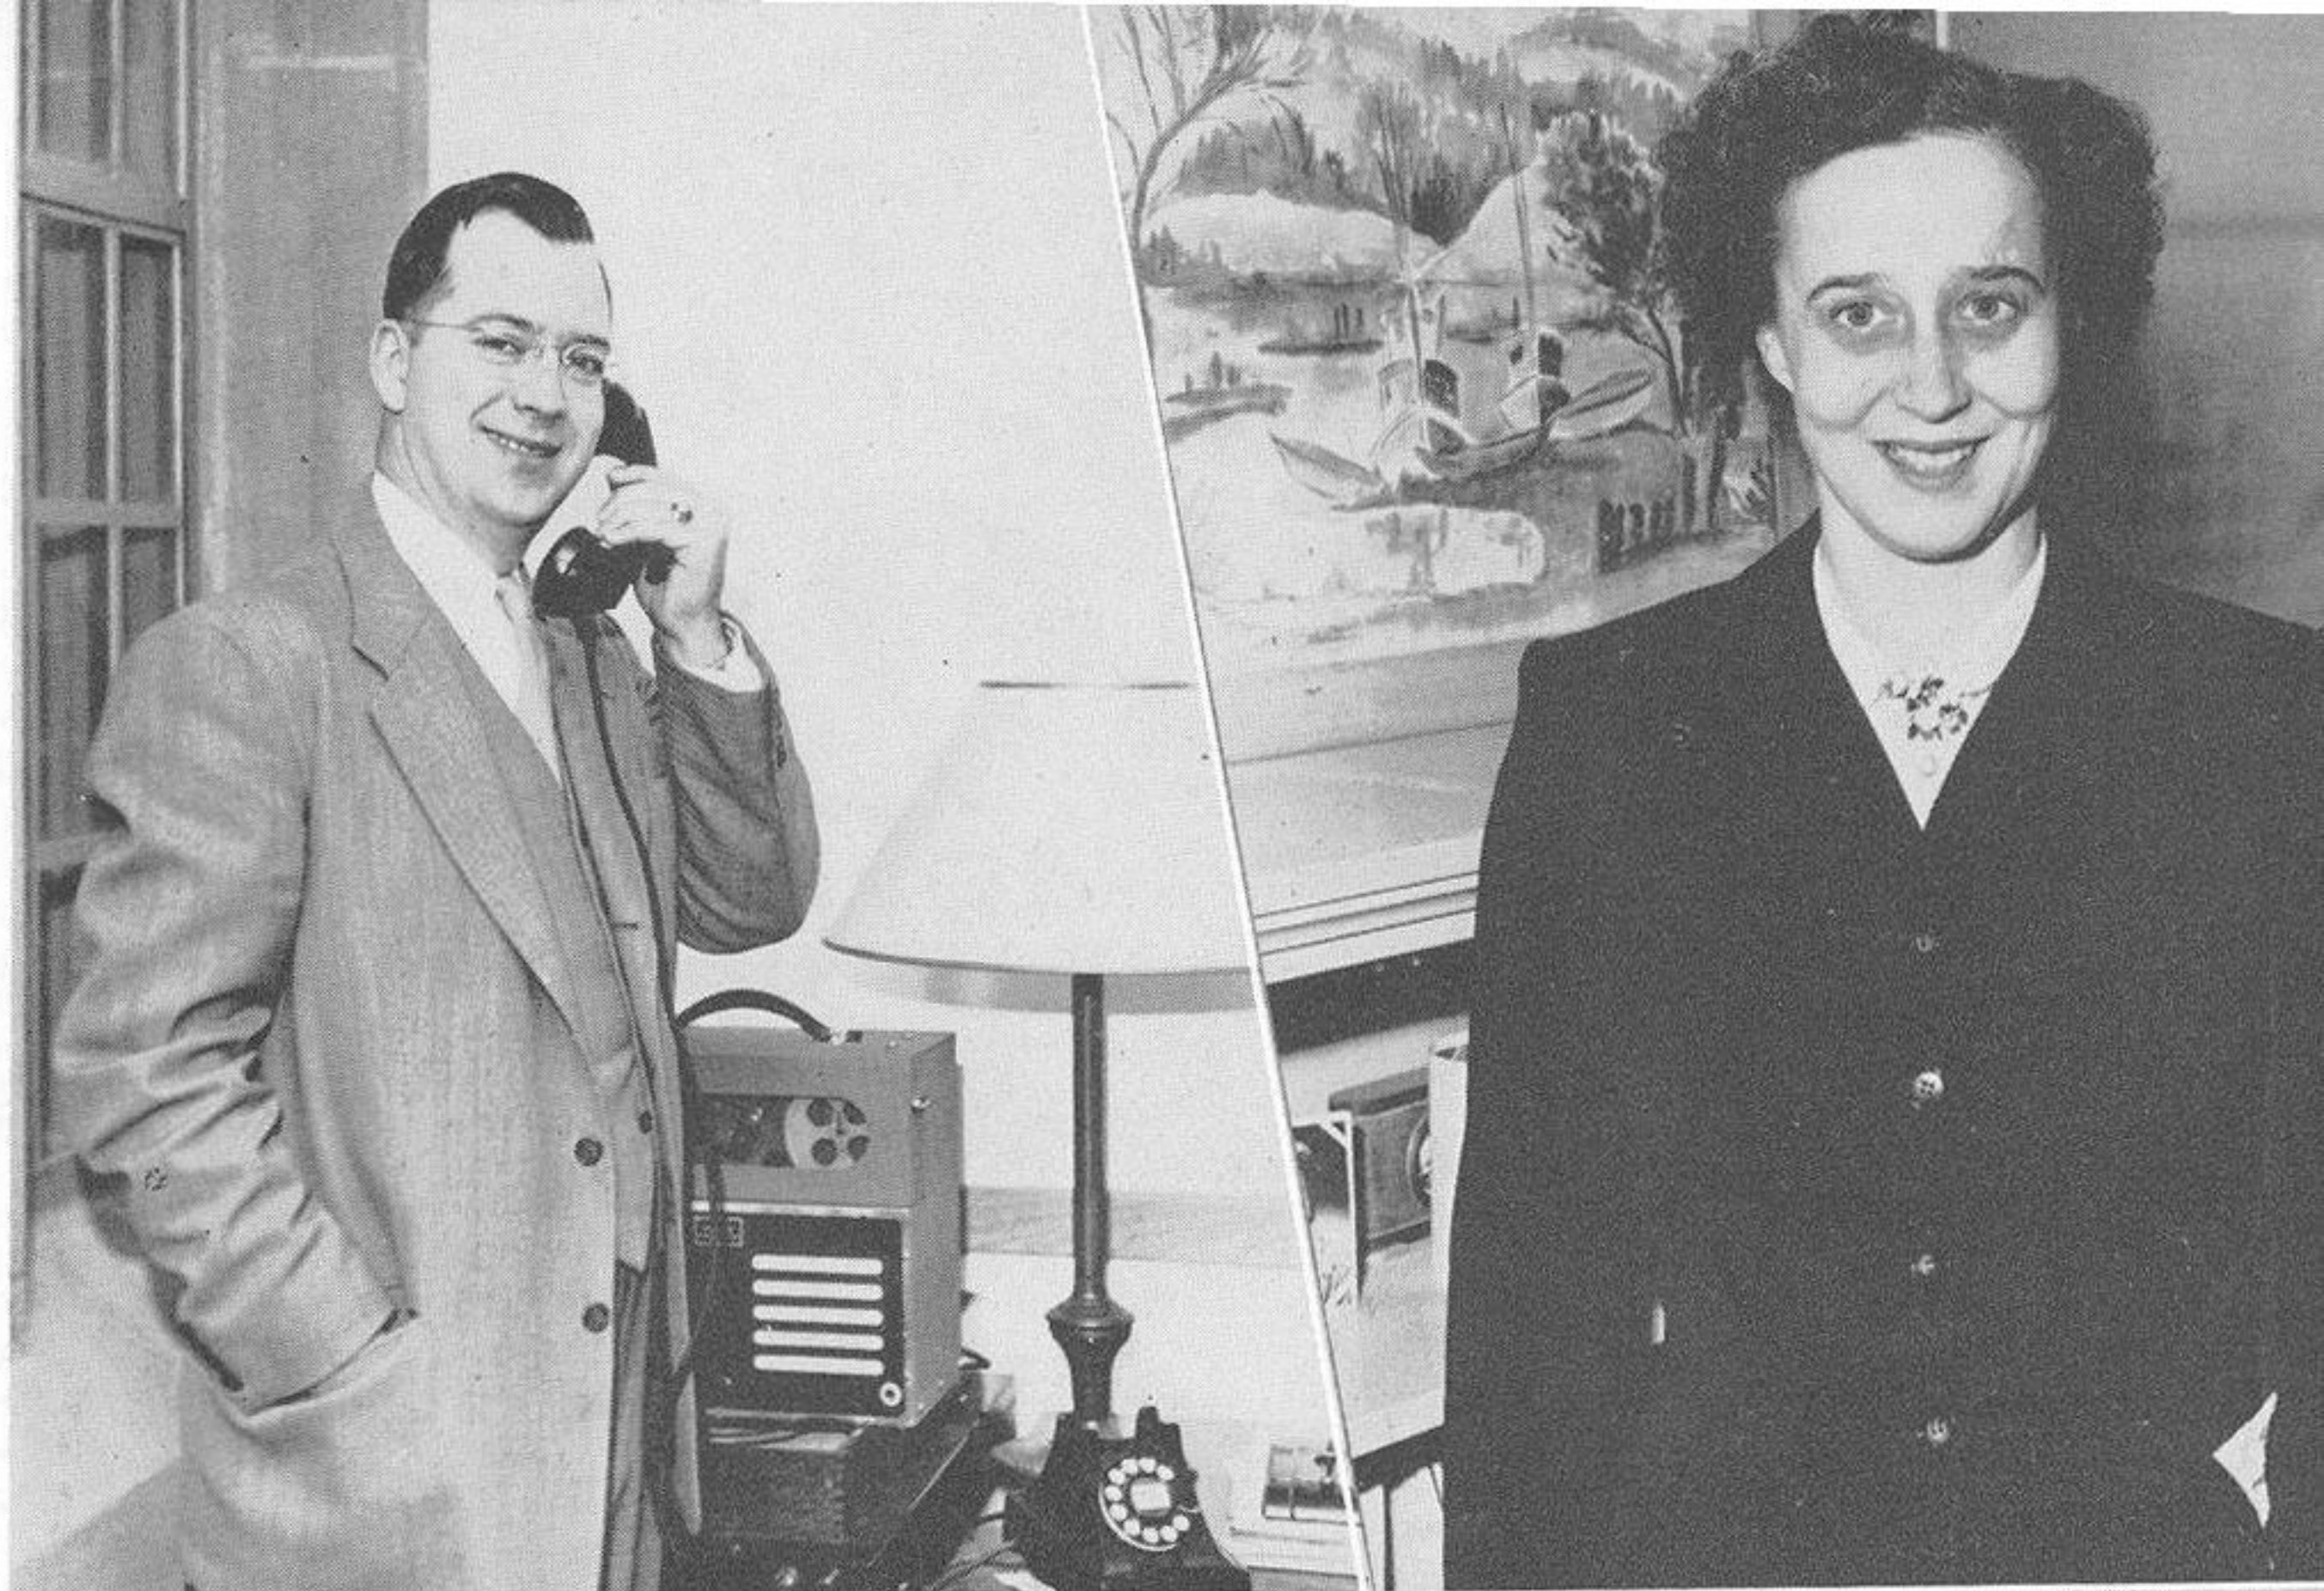

Charles F. Frankland, Seattle: graduate from the University in 1922. Served as Director of University Athletics from 1933 to 1936 and as Acting Comptroller for several months in 1936. President of Pacific National Bank. Term as regent expires in 1957.

Grant Armstrong, Chehalis: University Law School graduate in 1929. Is at present time an attorney in Chehalis. Term as regent expires in 1956.

Thomas Balmer, Seattle: Class of 1909, University of Washington. Now Vice President and Western Counsel for Great Northern Railway Company. Term as regent expires in 1953.

GLEN T. NYGREEN, with a marvelous ability for understanding students and their problems, is the EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR of the Office of Student Affairs.

COUNSELING SUPERVISOR of the Office of Student Affairs is LEE SAUNDERS, who enjoys her work as much as people enjoy working with her.

Relaxing during a busy day in the Office of Student Affairs are the ASSOCIATE COUNSELORS, PAT BOBROW, ROBERT PORTER, and WANDA BROADIE. Pat Bobrow is also Counselor to blind students.

Helping foreign students to feel at home at Washington is the responsibility of JIM DAVIS, FOREIGN STUDENTS' ADVISER.

Responsibility for the many behind-the-scenes duties involved in the administration of a great university is a trust. This trust is readily accepted by the men and women who are separately charged with specific aspects of university administration. A glance at their various titles suggests a little of the major areas of university interest and influence extended by each.

Alumni

CURLY HARRIS, secretary of the Alumni Association, is probably the best known of all the officers since his office is located in the HUB. Curly has been nicknamed "Minuteman of the Alumni," due to his speed in getting things done.

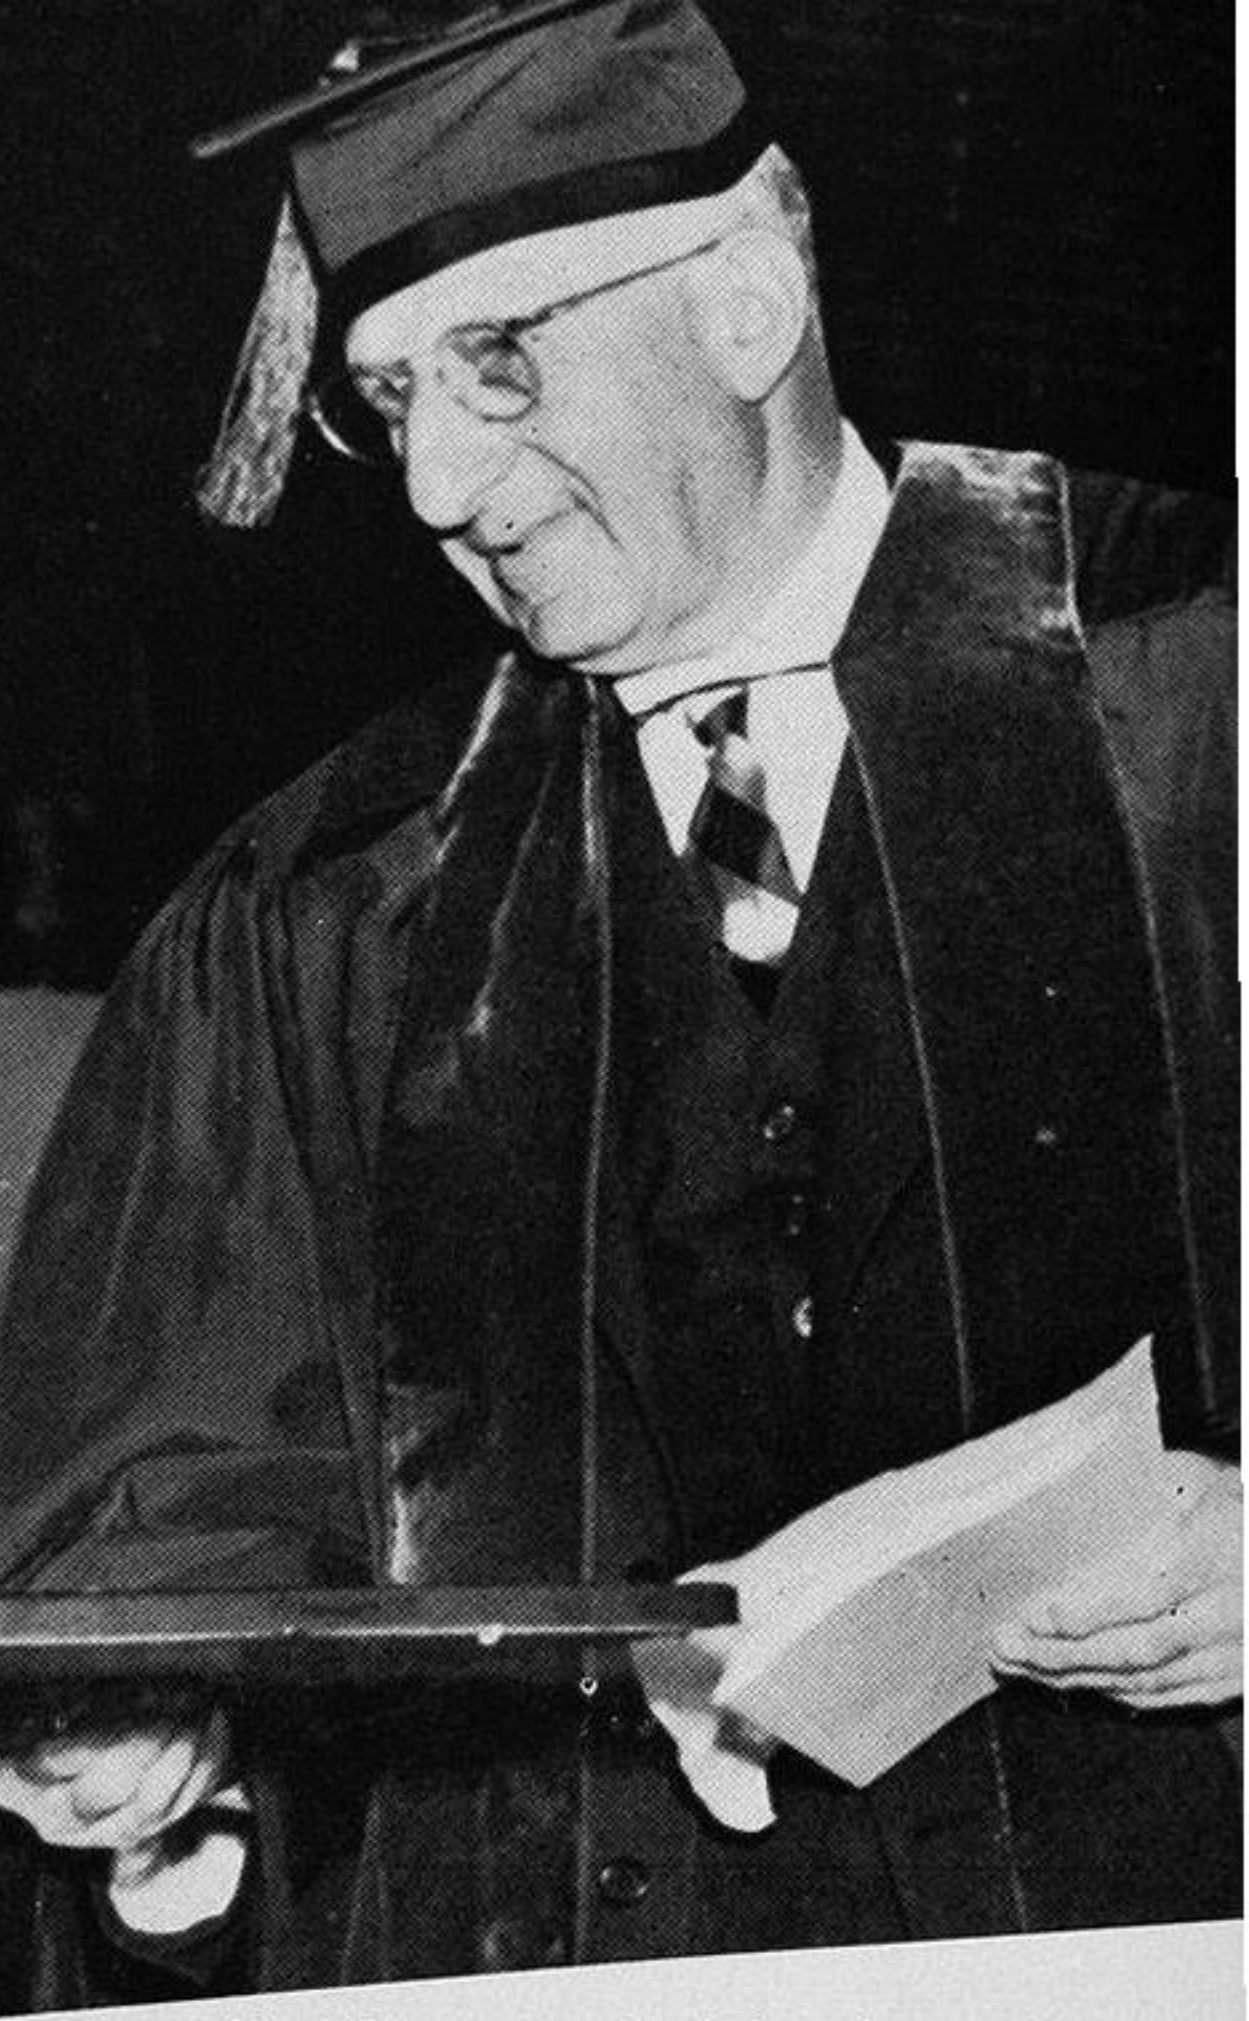

BYRON LANE, as president of the Alumni Association, is responsible for furthering Alumni activities.

MRS. DAYTON DAVIES, adding glamour to the Alumni Board of Trustees as well as acting as vice-president of the association, looks over a quarterly business statement.

TALBOT CARROLL, treasurer, is checking his financial statement before submitting it to the Alumni Board.

Alfred Strauss received the Alumnus Summa Laude Dignatus award at the 1951 commencements, an annual award given to an outstanding alumnus.

The Alumni Association of the University of Washington, having offices on the third floor of the HUB, provides a way for graduates of the University to remain in close contact with the student activities. Membership is not restricted to local alums for some retain membership for years while living in far corners of the nation. This is more indication that Washington's spirit is undaunted by time.

Their own activities include Sunday evening firesides, Homecoming celebrations, and a commencement tea in June honoring graduating seniors.

The "Alumnus," quarterly publication of the alumni association, and the Husky song book is their means of receiving the current news of the campus and campus life and maintaining the strong, progressive spirit, found at Washington.

ROBERT ABEL, also a vice-president of the board, reads over the minutes of the previous meeting to assure that no suggestion or motion goes unchecked.

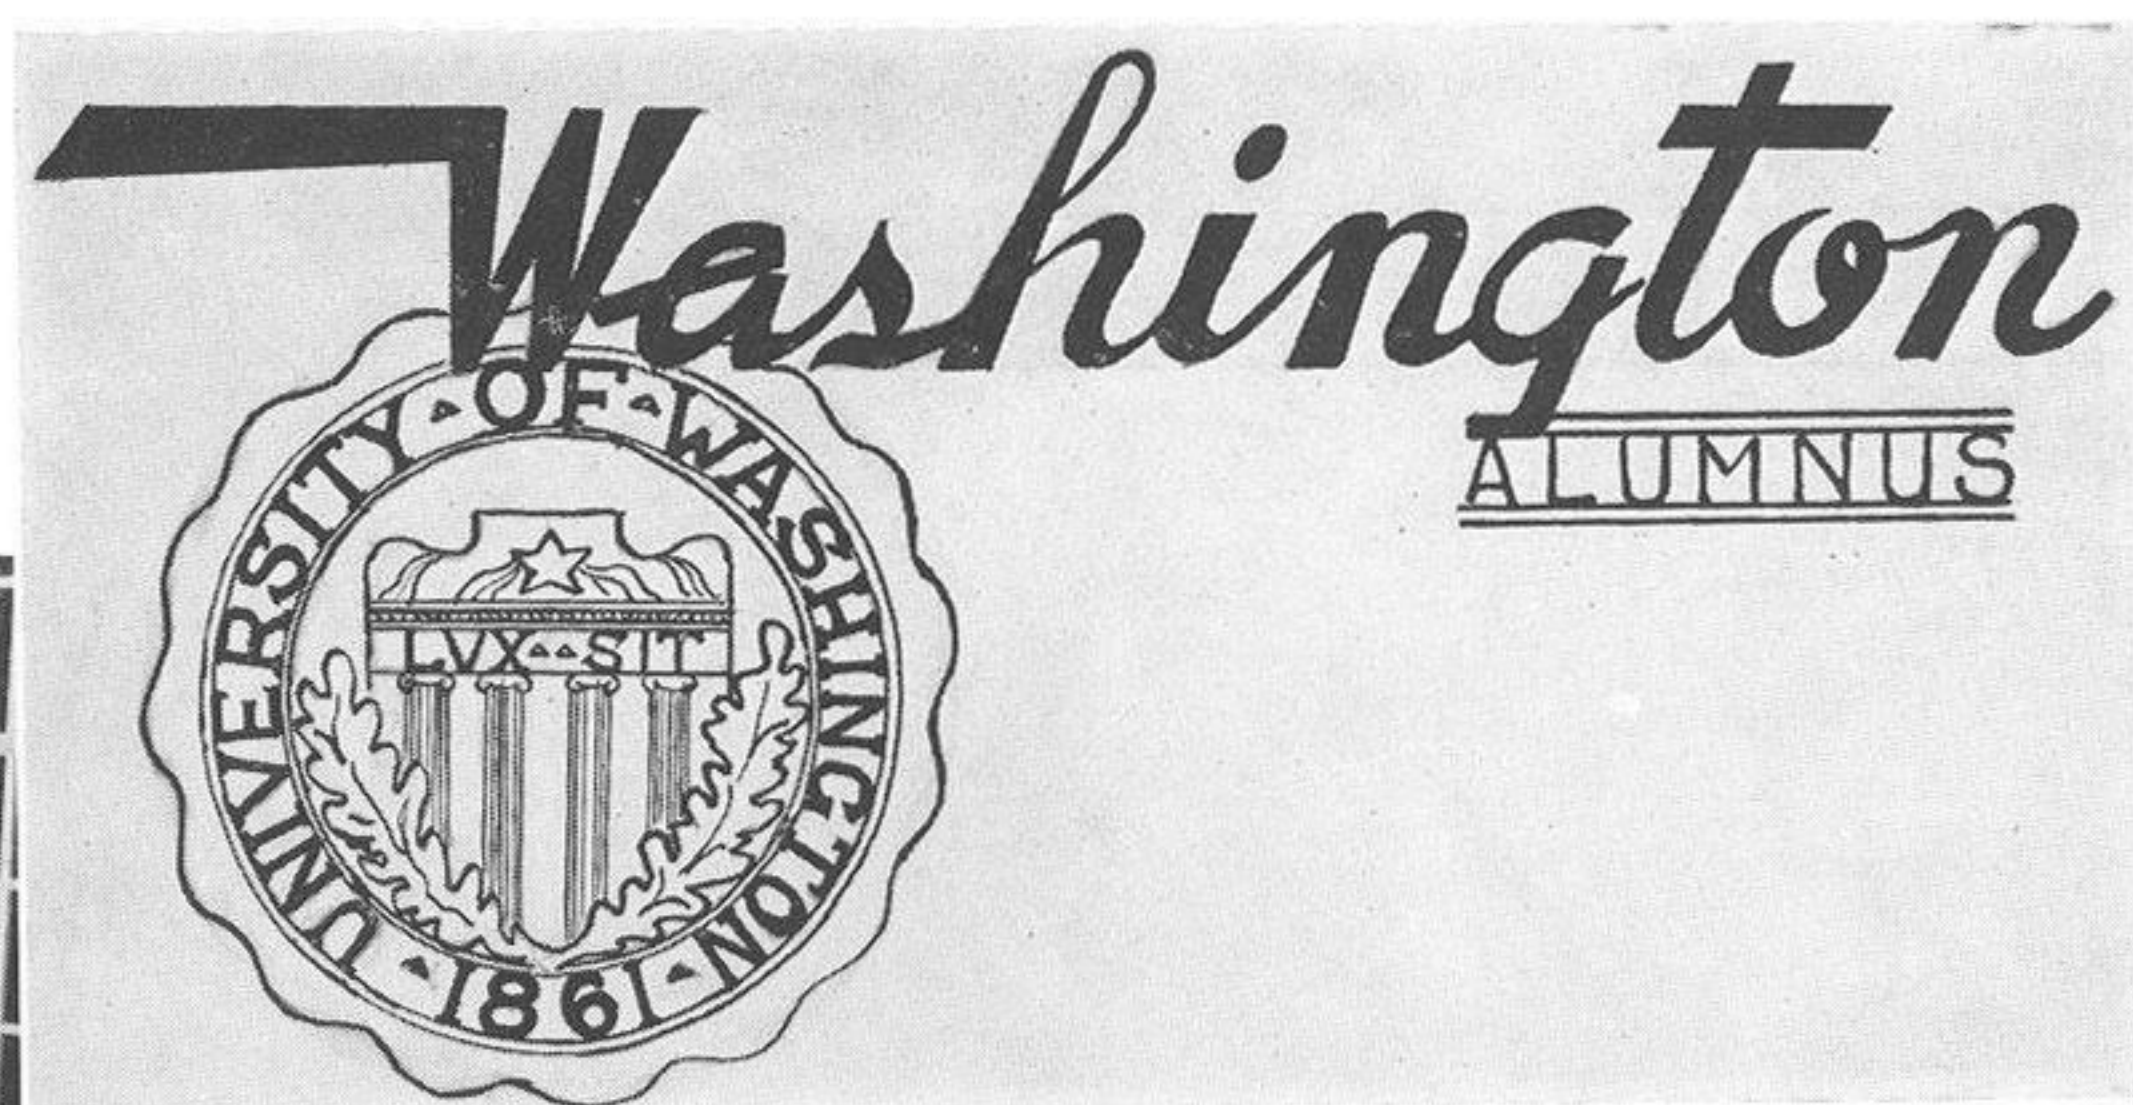

The activities center of the HUB was the setting for the legislative luncheon prior to the WSC-UW game in 1951.

The annual welcoming luncheon for the new Alumni Board of Trustees and their wives was given last summer at the Seattle Tennis Club.

COLLEGE OF FORESTRY

DEAN GORDON D. MARCKWORTH

The College of Forestry, under the leadership of DEAN GORDON D. MARCKWORTH, has been active in research, training leaders, and cooperating with industry and governmental agencies. Located in the heart of one of the outstanding timber producing areas of the world, its graduates readily secure employment in the various fields of timber production, timber harvesting, and timber manufacturing.

Puzzled forestry students are gaining valuable knowledge and practical experience in their field.

FAR EASTERN INSTITUTE

DR. GEORGE E. TAYLOR

The Far Eastern Institute, directed by DR. GEORGE E. TAYLOR, provides opportunity for students to obtain a good background knowledge of Far Eastern countries as well as a thorough command of their languages. Languages offered are Literature in Chinese, Japanese, Russian, Korean and Mongolian. Various social sciences dealing with all Far Eastern countries are also offered in co-operation with other departments.

COLLEGE OF EDUCATION

DEAN FRANCIS F. POWERS

The College of Education, headed by DEAN FRANCIS F. POWERS, has a large enrollment of students training to become teachers, administrators, and educational specialists. Emphasis is laid upon the practical phases of the teacher's work. There are many graduate students working for advanced degrees and doing research on practical problems of teaching and administration.

SCHOOL OF LAW

ACTING DEAN ALFRED HARSCH

The University of Washington School of Law, currently under the leadership of ACTING DEAN ALFRED HARSCH, was founded in 1899. The Law School is on the approved list of the American Bar Association and is a member of the Association of American Law Schools. The school occupies a separate building designed exclusively for law school use. The building contains the largest law school library west of the Mississippi and the tenth largest law school library in the nation.

GRADUATE SCHOOL

DEAN HAROLD W. STOKES

DEAN HAROLD W. STOKES, newly appointed Graduate School director, succeeds Dean Edwin R. Guthrie. The Graduate School, as an organization, is university-wide, and it is responsible for the direction of programs leading to master's and doctor's degrees in almost all divisions of the University. It is also through the Graduate School that many of the extensive basic research activities are carried on.

The College of Engineering, under the direction of Dean Harold E. Wessman, ranks high among engineering schools in this country. It is fully accredited and offers both Bachelors and advanced degrees in aeronautical, ceramic, chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical, metallurgical, and mining engineering. An active research program is carried on by the departments in cooperation with the Engineering Experiment Station. Many special research facilities are available.

Freshman engineers take a common curriculum in the Department of General Engineering, and a comprehensive program in humanities is provided by the Humanistic-Social Studies Division for Engineers. Tremendous need for highly trained engineers and scientists in industrial firms and governmental agencies has increased the emphasis on graduate study and research. This year's enrollment has slightly increased over last year with approximately one thousand five hundred registrations.

Engineering students are observing a test for strength of a piece of Douglas Fir.

OFFICE OF

DEAN AUSTIN GRIMSHAW

The College of Business Administration, the second largest college on the campus, is under the direction of DEAN AUSTIN GRIMSHAW. This college is divided into four separate departments covering all phases of business. The major divisions within these departments are: General Business; Accounting, Finance and Statistics; Marketing, Transportation, and Foreign Trade; and Policy, Personnel Relations and Production.

In addition to these major divisions is the Bureau of Business Research which does research for business and government agencies on request. This service provides reports on topics of current interest to the community and to the school.

Students in the school get a background of business fundamentals, a broad general background of non-business subjects, plus a major field of specialization in one particular aspect of business. Each of the major fields is broken into specialty majors. For example, students in Marketing may elect to specialize in Wholesaling, Retailing, Advertising, or Marketing Research. The faculty is augmented by outside lecturers, and maintains close relationships with local business enterprises, thus keeping abreast of current trends in their fields.

DEAN EDWARD L. TURNER

Educating physicians is big business and more than fills the time of DEAN EDWARD L. TURNER and his faculty of the School of Medicine. Enrollment averages three hundred, with seventy-five in each class. Plans and drawings are now being completed for the first hospital and laboratory increment to the Health Sciences Building, which will eventually house not only the Basic Science departments, as at present, but also the University Teaching and Research Hospital—one goal in helping establish one of America's outstanding medical schools at the University.

DEAN LILLIAN B. PATTERSON

SCHOOL OF NURSING

In addition to directing the basic and post graduate programs in nursing, DEAN LILLIAN B. PATTERSON has been developing a new program in the field of Nursing Service Administration under a grant from the Kellogg Foundation. Research has also been under way in poliomyelitis nursing under a two-year grant from the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis and Cardiac Nursing. These research projects will be reported in the first research journal to be published by the nursing profession.

"Practice makes perfect" is the motto of these student nurses as they try out their "book-learning" upon one another.

ASSISTANT DEAN MARY S. TSCHUDIN

NURSING

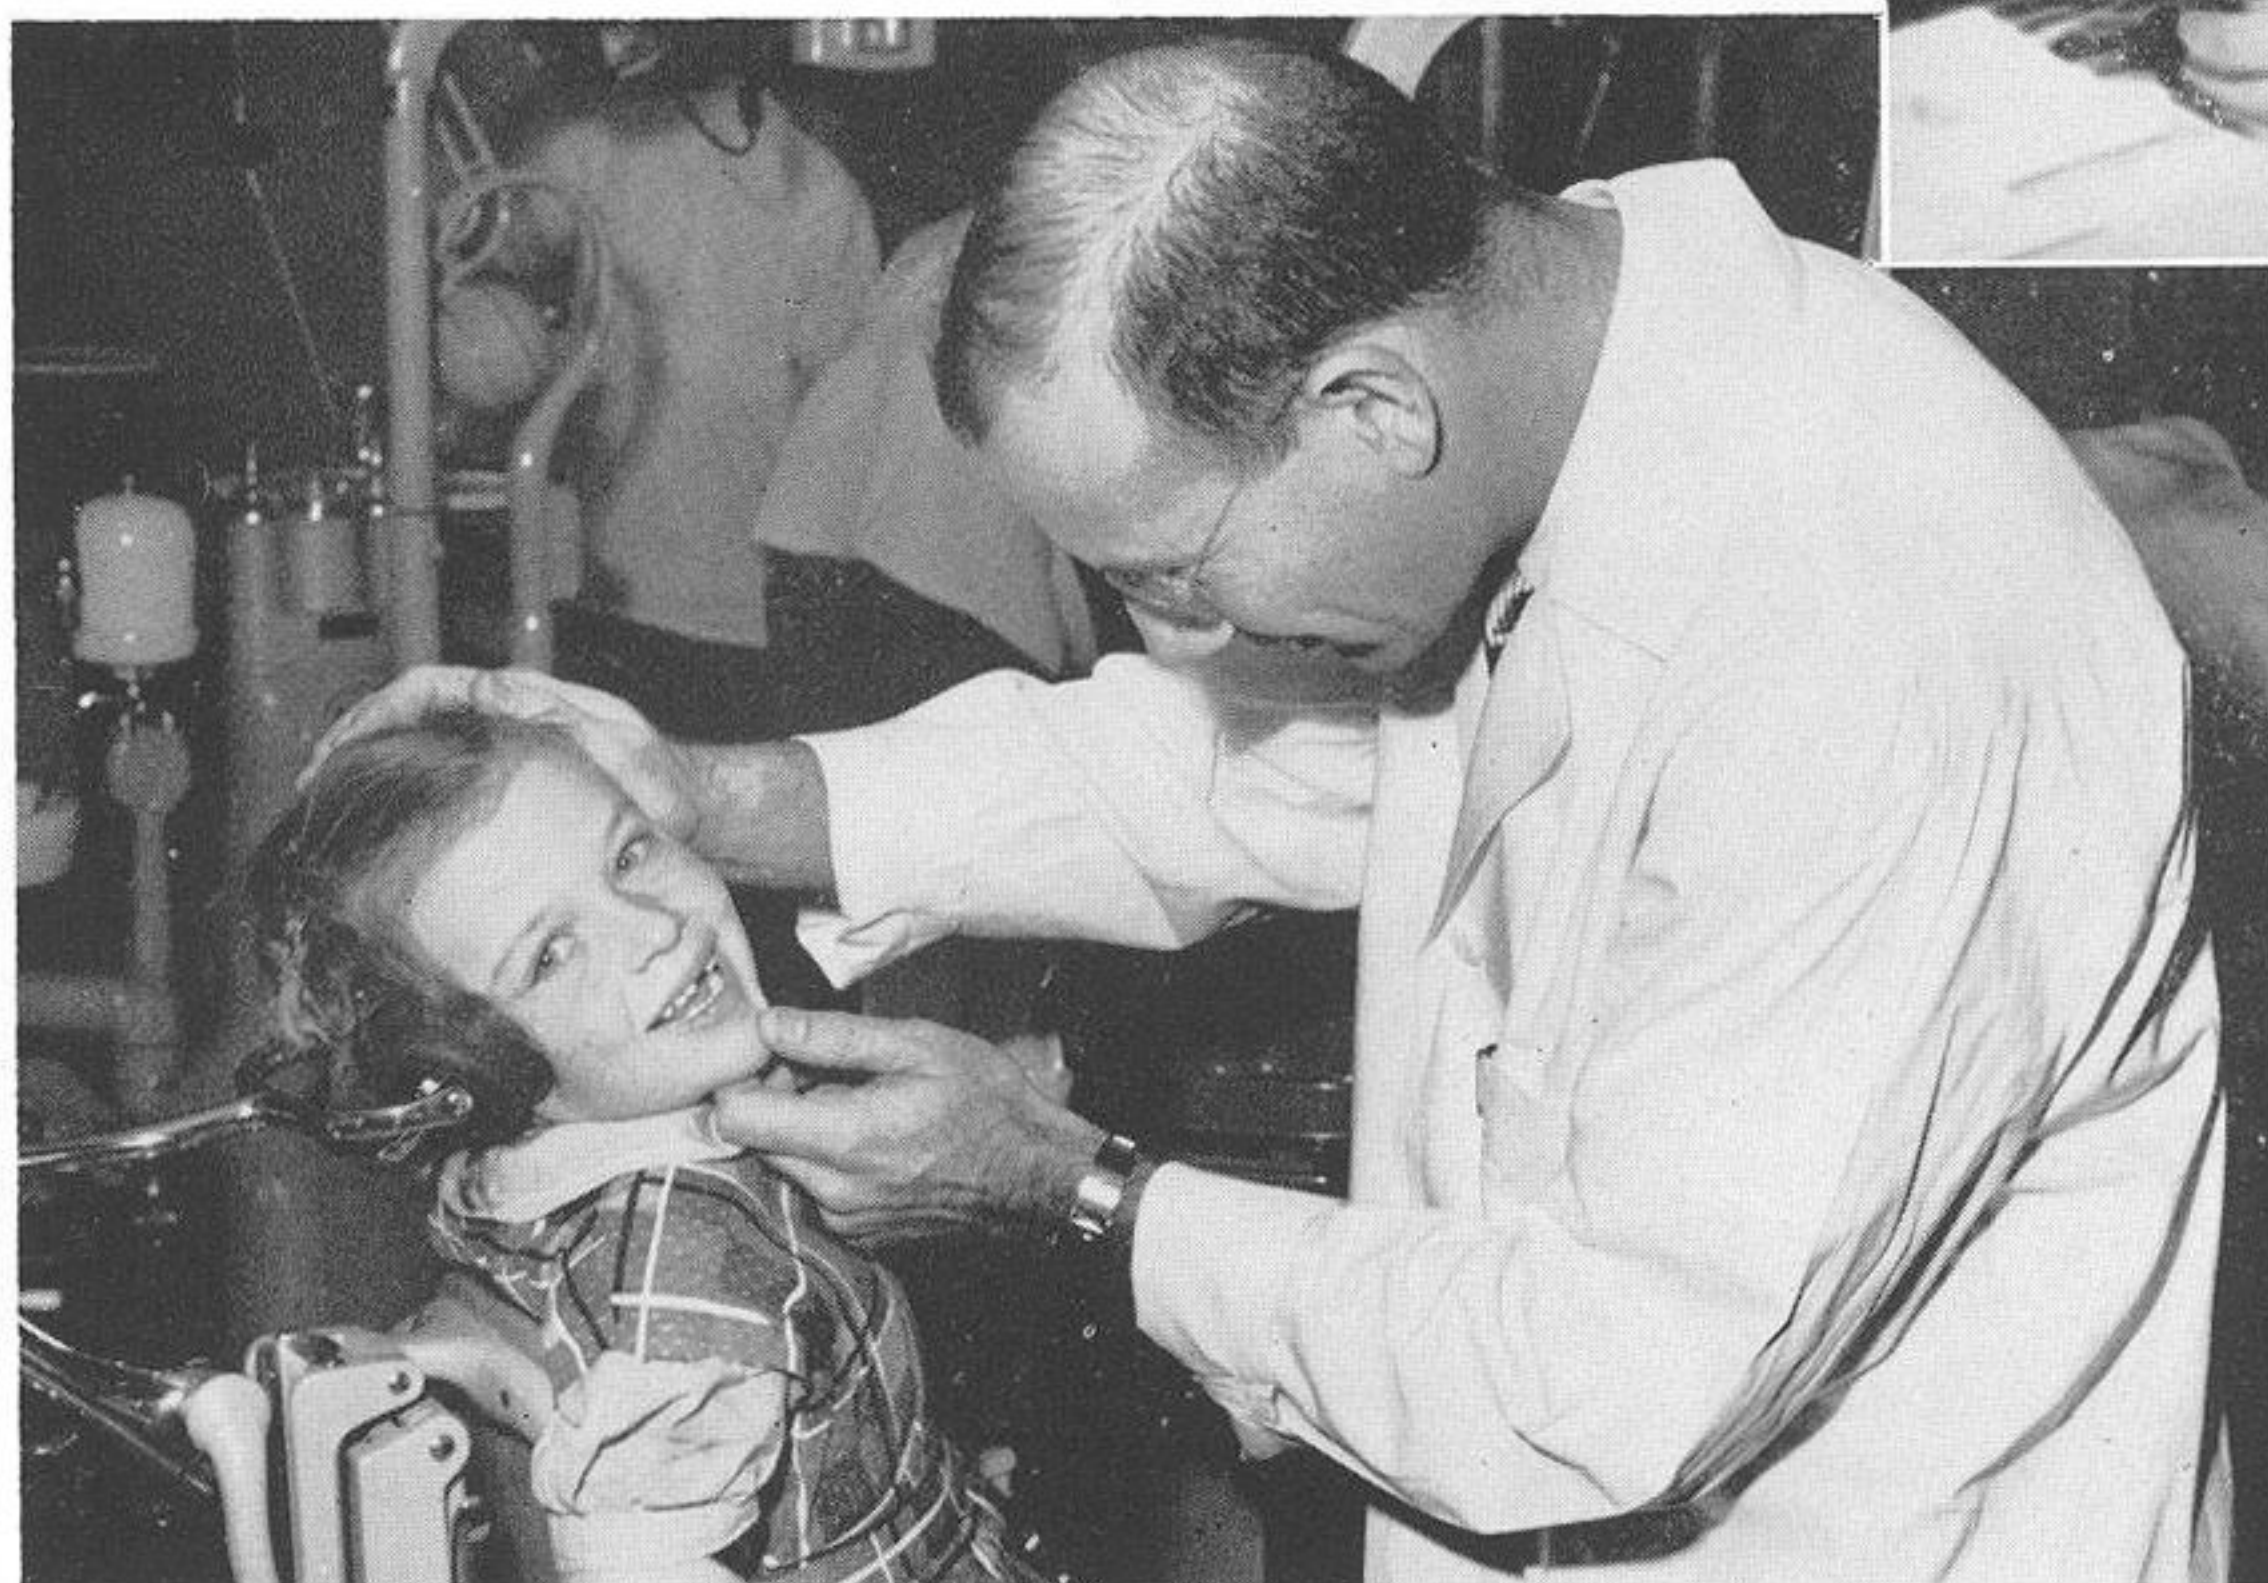

In addition to regular university activities and student advising, ASSISTANT DEAN MARY S. TSCHUDIN has been participating in the work of the National Nursing Accrediting Service as chairman of the Collegiate Board of Review. This service is sponsored by the five national nursing organizations and is responsible for approving all programs in nursing education throughout the United States.

SCHOOL OF DENTISTRY

The School of Dentistry, under the direction of DEAN ERNEST M. JONES, has now completed the expansion of its facilities to accommodate six divisions of training for dentists and allied health workers. A recent addition to undergraduate training has been the formation of a department for the training of Dental Hygienists. Graduate work has been expanded in several of the specialized areas of dentistry in addition to augmented programs in Postgraduate and Refresher Courses.

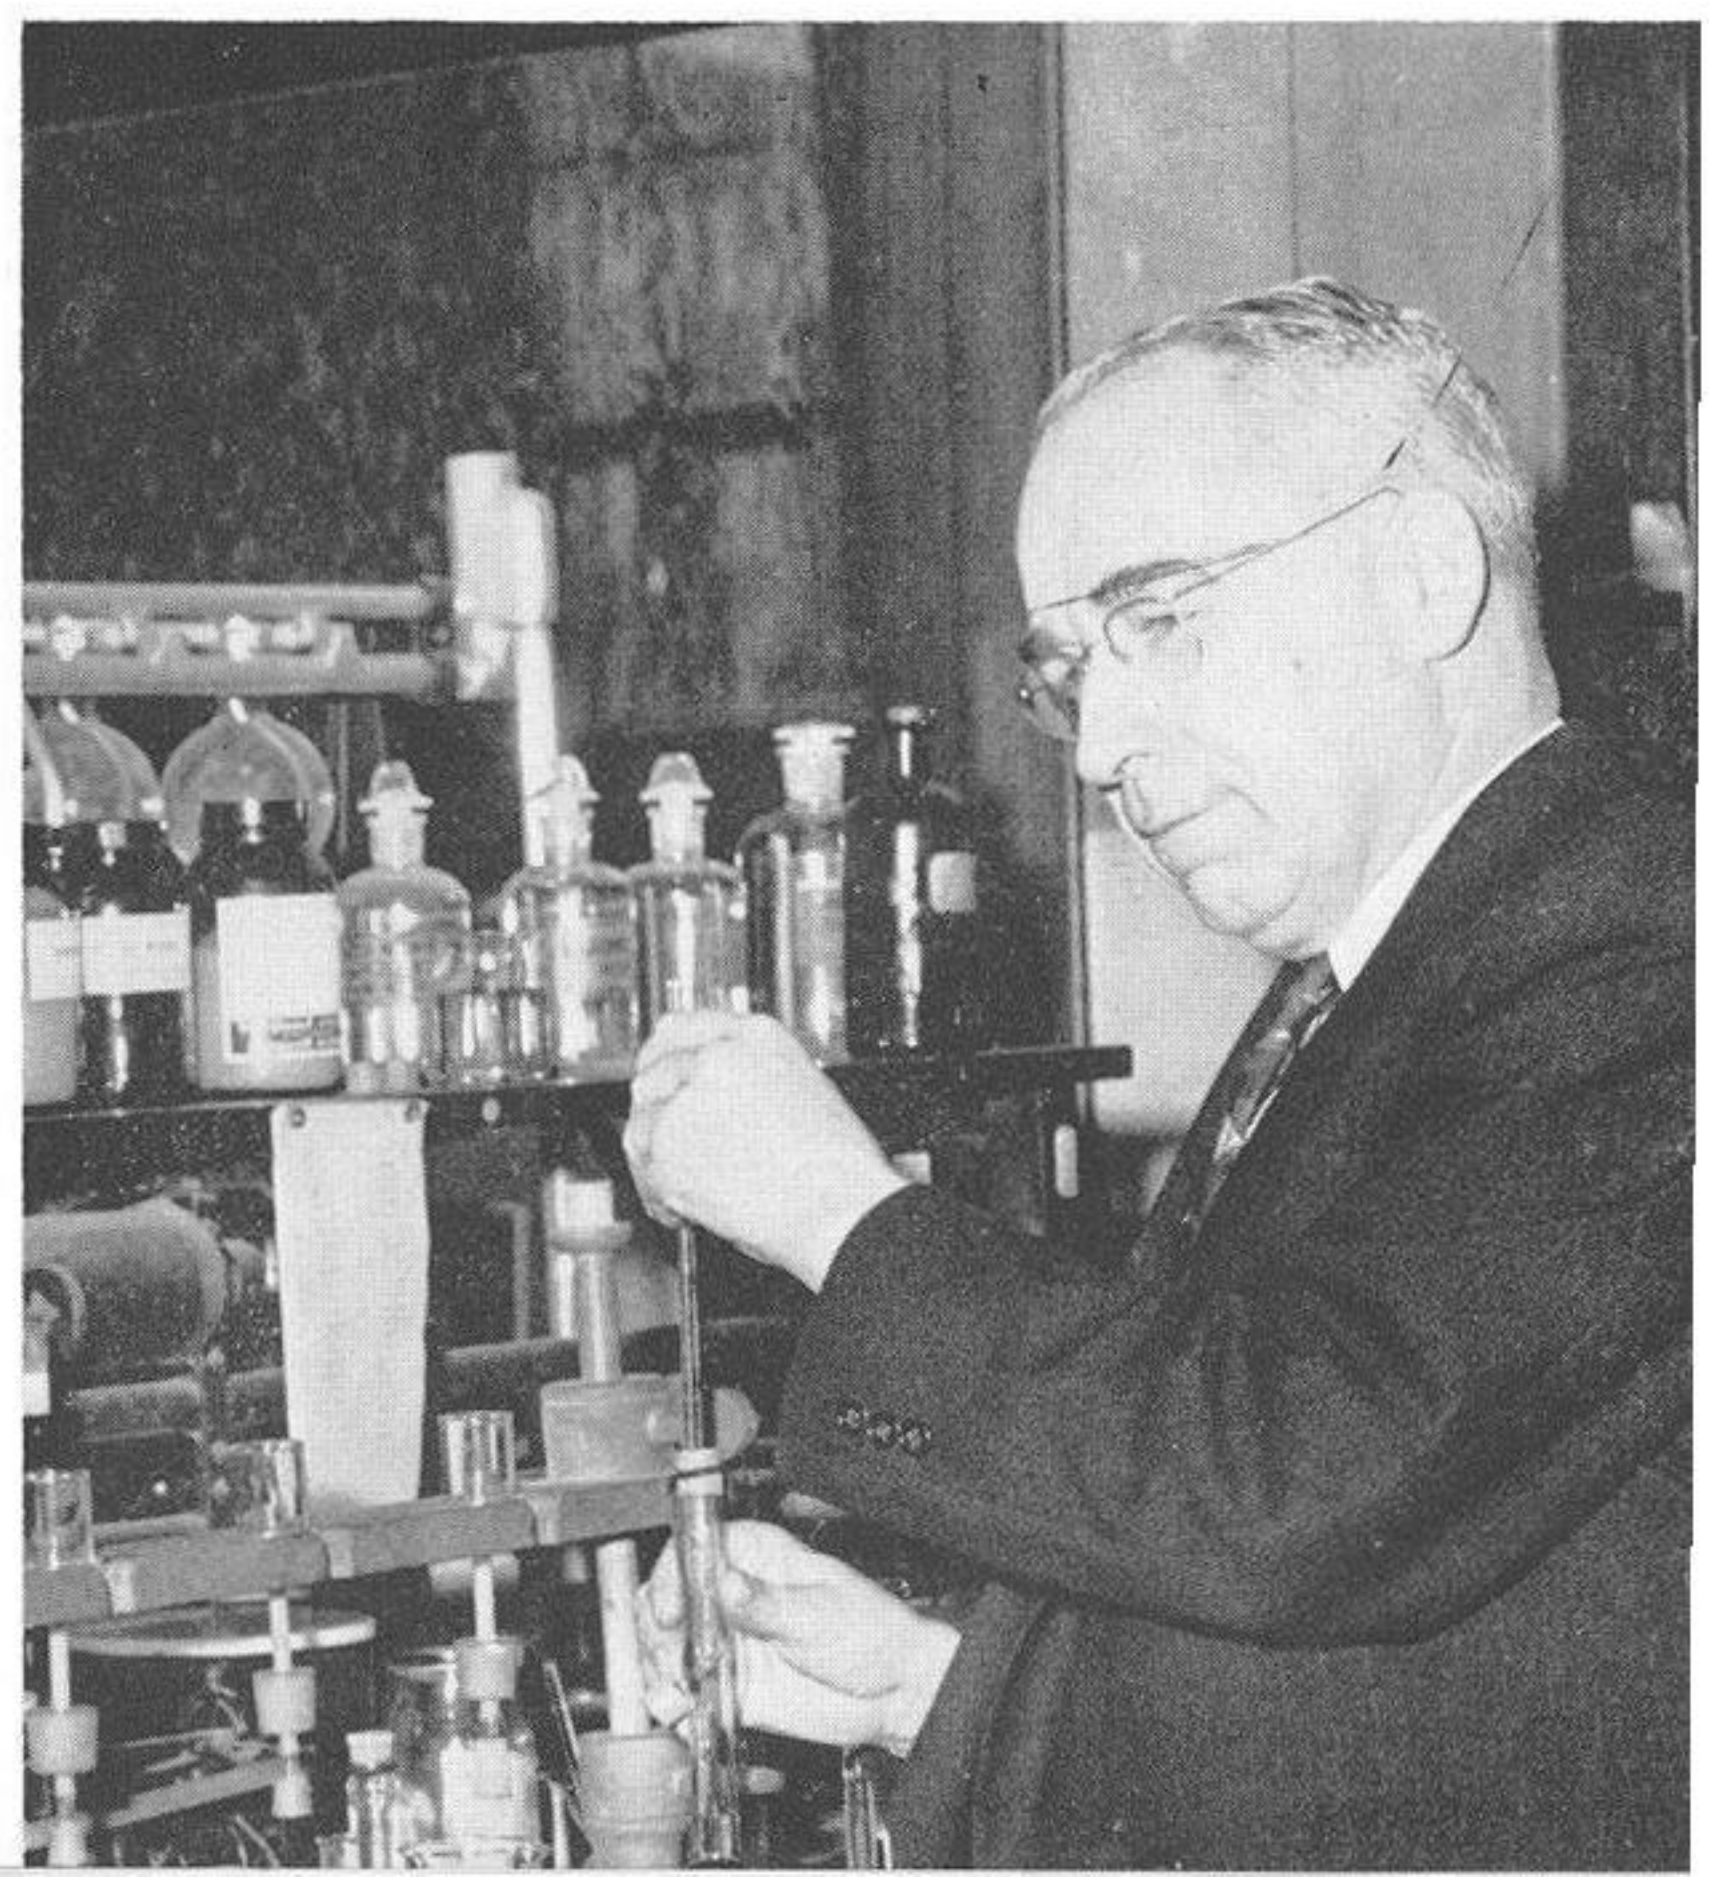

DEAN ERNEST M. JONES

Fear of the dentist no longer seems to hold the threat it once did, as shown by this Dental Clinic patient.

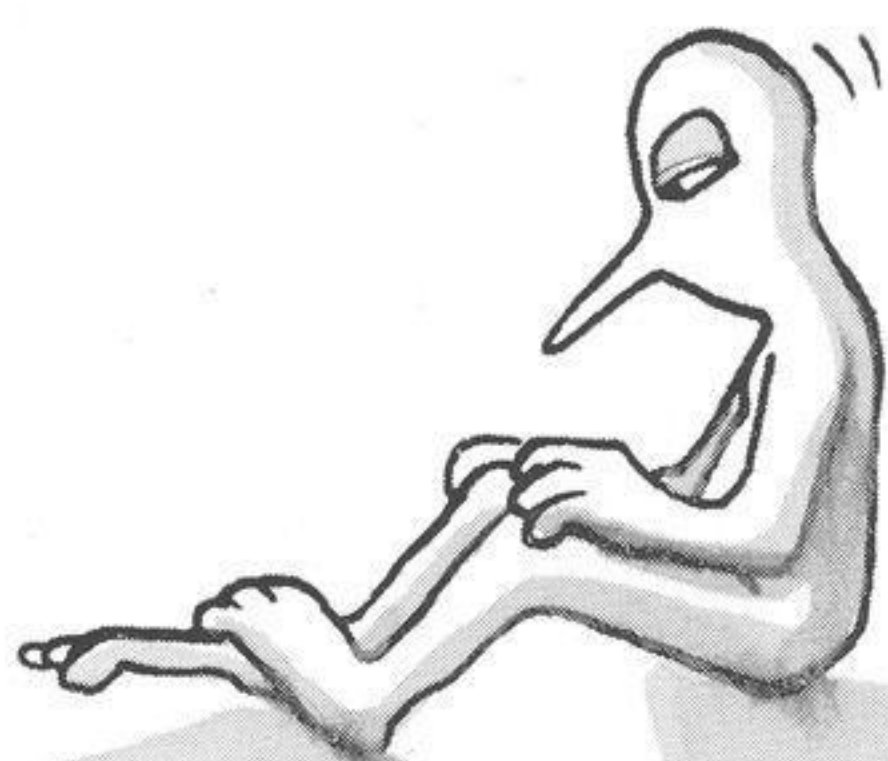

COLLEGE OF PHARMACY

The College of Pharmacy, under the direction of DEAN FOREST J. GOODRICH, is training its students to participate fully in the public health professions. In addition to preparing young men and women for the practice of pharmacy, the college provides opportunities for many graduate students to perform research in the specialized areas of pharmacy. Splendid opportunities are available to these graduates in industry, with governmental agencies and in the various scientific, academic, and professional fields.

The Executive Board of the Graduate Students' Association gets together to discuss and plan the group's activities.

A Senior law student! Curriculum includes trying an actual case in the Condon Hall practice courtroom before a judge of the Superior Court.

Students graduating from the University of Washington School of Law will receive their degrees from one of the most highly regarded professional schools in the nation. Washington's Law School is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, and is approved by the Committee on Legal Education of the American Bar Association. The Condon Hall site of the legal college is a separate building designed exclusively for law school use. The 116,000-volume law library is the largest west of the Mississippi River, and it is the tenth largest in the United States. The integrated student body of the law school is self-governed in many areas. The Student Bar Association administration includes moot court competitions, social functions, service to the Legal Air Bureau in cooperation with the Seattle Bar Association, and the publication of a quarterly legal newspaper.

Swayze, Tom

NANCY LEE files away her college life with a tremendous "back-log." It began with AWS Frosh Standards and ASUW Public Relations and then Soph Leadership Conference secretary. Among other things in her junior year were the AWS treasurer's job and chairman of the ASUW Honor System committee. Nancy completed her service as Mortar Board prexy and secretary to the Bookstore Board of Trustees.

Active "Hi-man" on the Totem Pole of the senior ASUW officers is MARVE "casual" DURHAM, president of the student body. Marve changed his IFC gavel last year to take over the job. Next in line is JOHN "bashful" PIPER who has successfully held down the floor at Organizations Assembly as its chairman and First Veep of the ASUW. Supporting the other two is LOIS "giggles" GUNDERSON who stepped up from junior class secretary to take on the same position in the ASUW.

The two happy faces belong to BARBARA BRACE and DICK MORGAN who have just completed their terms as AWS and AMS presidents respectively. As W-Key treasurer, chairman of the AWS Constitution and By-laws committee, and on AWS Cabinet, Barbara proved her ability. Barb is on the Mortar Board, Totem Club and Pi Sigma Alpha roles. Dick jumped into the top spot in AMS via the vice-presidency. Carrying out his duties at Board Control and attending Oval Club meetings has kept Dick busy.

Though coming to the U late, MURRAY WYLIE got out from behind the "eight-ball" long enough to become a Hubber. He was an Organizations Assembly delegate and on the Steering committee and served a year as vice-chairman of the OA. Murray also belongs to Alpha Kappa Psi (commerce) and Marketing Club and was president of his house and treasurer of the IFC.

KEN HAMMER took over a committee near to every student's heart when he became chairman of the Food Services committee. For extra nourishment during his four years at the U, Ken was chairman of the Operating committee, a member of Tau Beta Pi, Purple Shield, and Sigma Xi. The presidency of Zeta Mu Tau and ASME rounded out Ken's activities diet.

All set for a little outdoor activity is PEGGY MACE who spent long indoor hours as Tye editor. But not all of Peggy's four years were spent in 118 Lewis. She found time for Silver Fishes, Mortar Board, Totem Club, and W-Key. She had a major too, and was named the outstanding girl in the Women's Physical Education department.

Although she is planning to teach kindergarten, DIANNE GELLERMANN performed in a very business-like way as secretary of the Bookstore Board, Business Manager of the AWS Concerts committee and as Panhellenic Relations chairman. Dianne was really rolling when she was awarded the Mortar Board Plaque. She slowed down long enough to become a member of Mortar Board, Totem Club, Sigma Epsilon Sigma, W-Key, and Pi Lambda Theta.

There should be no missing letters in DICK BALE's life. As a polevaulter and member of the Varsity Track team, Dick is entitled to wear the Big "W." Three other big letters in Dick's life were IFC, of which he was vice-president. Purple Shield membership and Oval Club treasurership gave the XYZ to Dick's activities.

The campus activities of CHARMALEE CROHN and DICK WALKER just can't be kept in the shade! Charmalee has just finished her term as Panhellenic president, but she began with Silver Fishes, YWCA Sophomore Council, Totem Club, Board of Control, and AWS Cabinet. Dick prepared for the presidency of IFC by working on the Sophomore Carnival committee, in Purple Shield, and as social chairman for IFC. Oval Club claims him as a member.

BILL KNIGHT has really gotten around in activities. A journalism major, he was Freshman DAILY Editor, later DAILY Sports Editor, and TYEE Sports Editor. Giving politics a whirl, Bill won the AMS Vice-Presidency and served as chairman of the AMS Advisory Board. A member of Sigma Delta Chi and Oval Club, Bill wound up his senior year as chairman of the Hub Dedication committee.

PETE SALMON and CHUCK SHELDON were two standouts on the Husky Swim team during their college days. Pete made quite a splash as a National Intercollegiate Champ, '51, on the All-American Team for three years, and as Varsity Inspirational Award Winner, '51. This premed was a member of Purple Shield, Big W Club, and Oval Club, to name a few. Chuck, always a strong contender, presided over the Husky Swim Club this year. He backstroked into the captaincy of the Varsity Swim team and devoted time to his Oval Club membership. At the end of the year Chuck was chosen to receive the Inspirational Award.

LIBBY GRAVES CHARNLEY was chairman of Mortar Board's Tolo this spring, successfully combining marriage, school, and activities. Libby was prominent in the Y, in Totem Club, and Sigma Epsilon Sigma.

Winning All-Coast recognition as a defensive tackle, JIM O'BRIEN was a stalwart for two years on Howie Odell's varsity football team. He is a member of the Big W Club.

As an electrical engineering major, Del Olson has really kept busy. Del served as chairman of the Engineering Council, was a member of Sigma Xi, Zeta Mu Tau, AIEE-IRE, and was made a member of the Oval Club.

The phone isn't any busier than MARI-BETH "MAC" BALTHASER, Campus Correspondent, TYEE Ski Editor, publicity chairman for the Varsity Ball, and a member of MADEMOISELLE College Board. Pausing for breath, we find "Mac" was a DAILY reporter and feature writer. She covers W-Key, Totem Club, and Theta Sigma Phi meetings in her busy schedule.

Seniors

Former Frosh Council member, DON JOHNSON, went on in his sophomore year to bigger and better things. He put in a term as president of Purple Shield and served on the 1950 Homecoming committee. A member of Oval Club, Don wound up his college career in his usual friendly fashion as President of the Senior Class and a Board of Control member.

RAY LEE has been an activities man since his Freshman year when he was a member of the Frosh Day committee. As a Sophomore, he was elected Treasurer of AMS and trained the Frosh on their day. Ray contributed to school spirit as a member of the Homecoming Committee. This year's Vice-President of the Senior Class co-chaired the AMS-AWS election in '52.

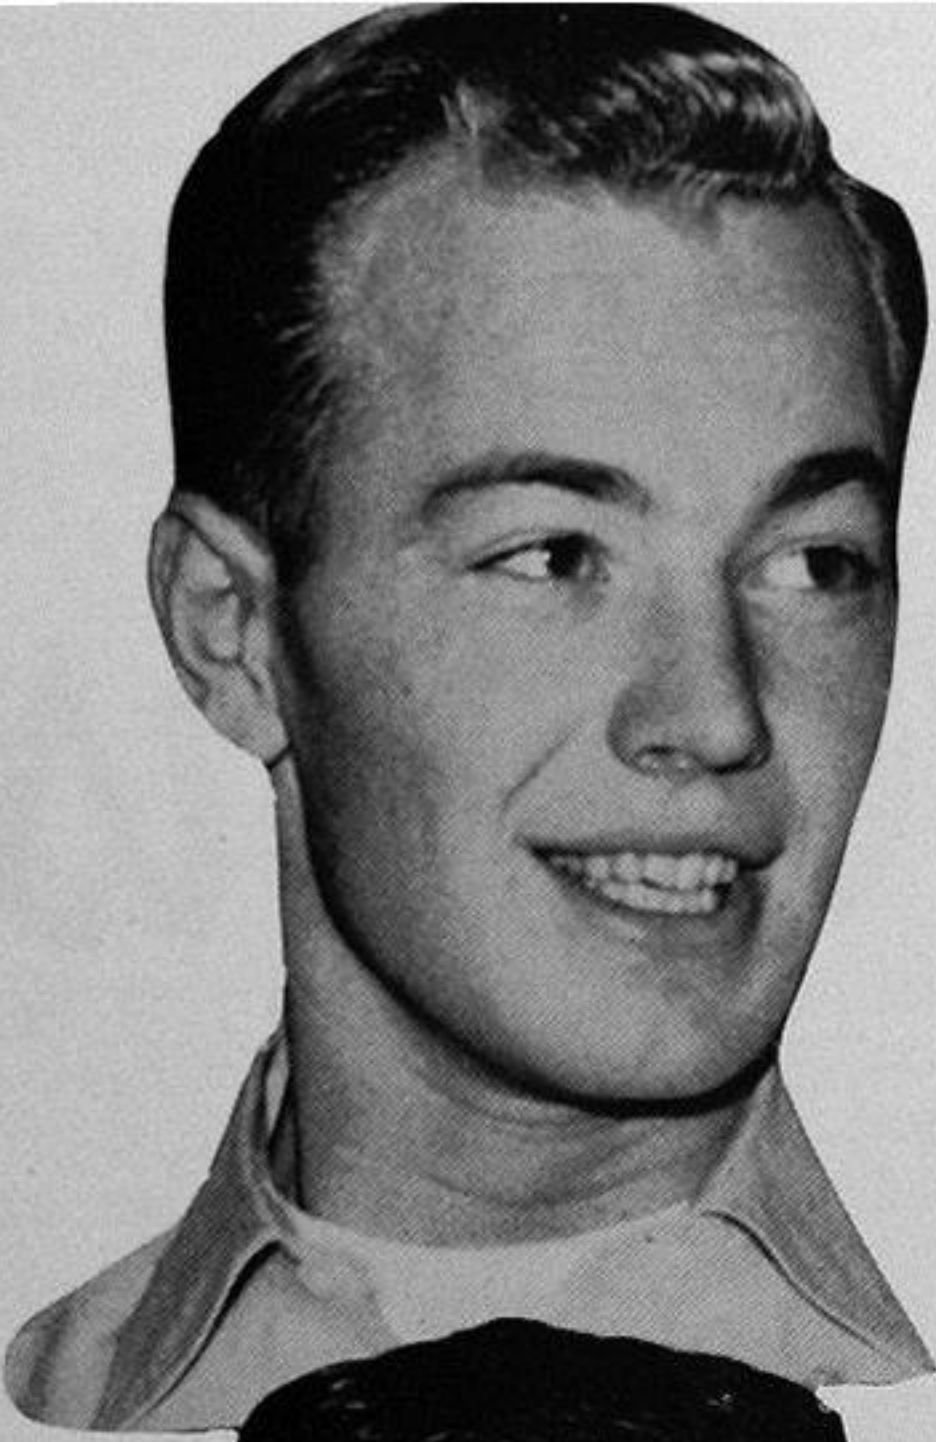

SALLY MORRILL, Senior Class Secretary, has put in many hours on numerous and sundry committees. Chairman of the May Day committee, 1951, Sally's hard work helped make the event a success. She supervised the AWS art committee, worked on ASUW News Bureau and was elected into Totem Club.

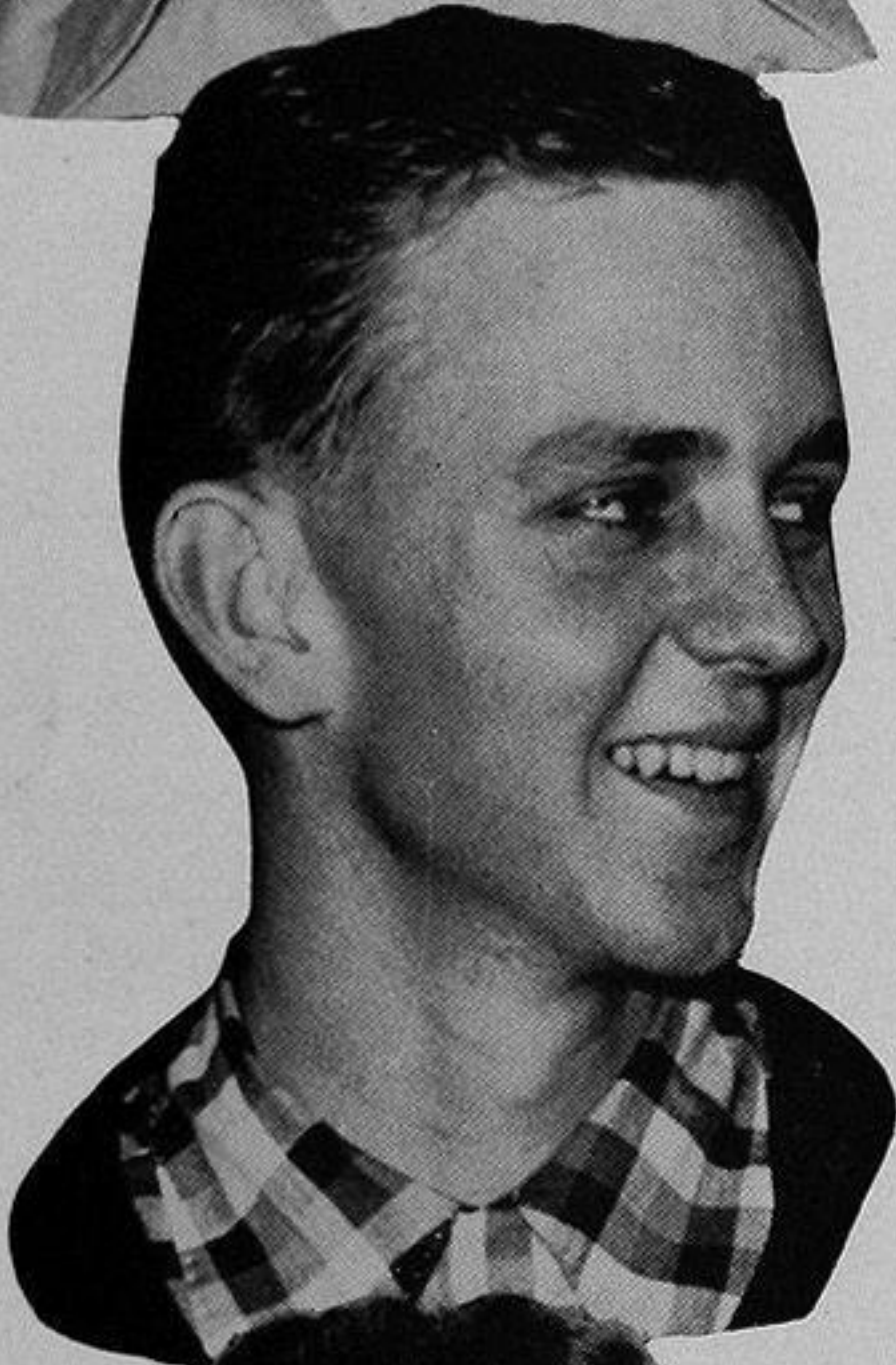

Handling Senior finances was JEAN JENSEN. A Soc. major, Jean practiced human relations on Panhellenic for two years, on the AWS Standards committee, and at Organizations Assembly. She was an active member of Totem Club and Alpha Kappa Delta.

The Class of '52 bowed out of college life with the traditional Ivy planting ceremony during the HUB dedication weekend, the Senior Prom at the Olympic, and Commencement at the Pavilion, the last long line a Senior will stand in. The Seniors leave a campus more beautiful than they found it, a Championship basketball team, and a union building that would be the envy of any campus.

Juniors

Guiding the Junior Class through a busy year, FLOYD McCRACKEN served on Board of Control and as chairman of the Junior Stunt. Lanky Floyd eased into Oval Club, but not before he has worked hard on Sophomore Carnival.

Vice-prexy PETE TOUHY was chairman of the Homecoming Sign committee, Varsity Ball Entertainment, and helped out the frosh as chairman of the Freshman Election Rally.

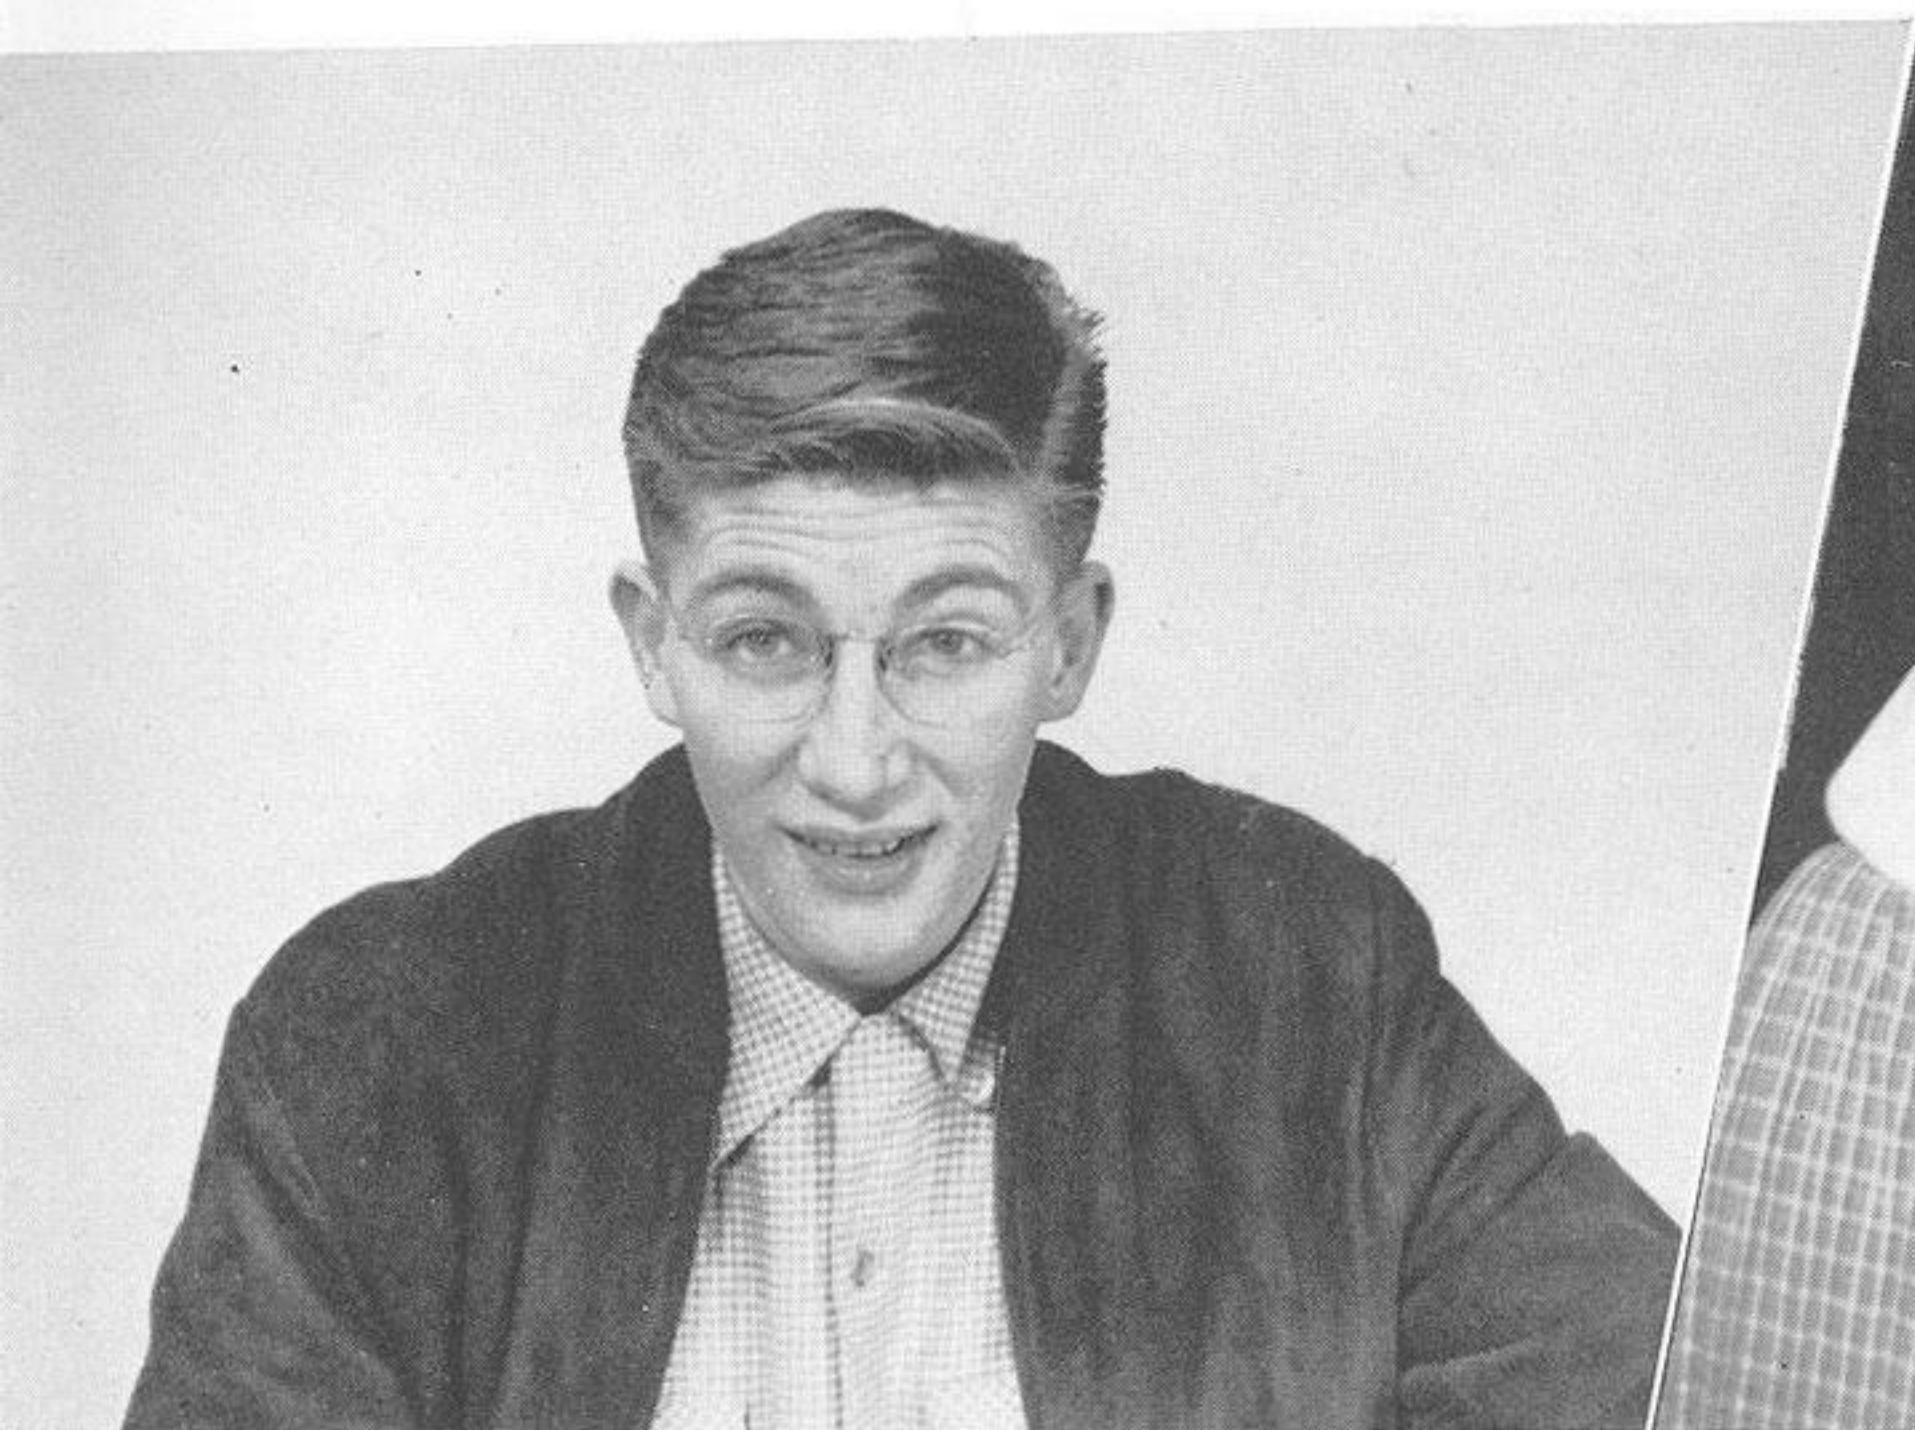

The ideal secretary, LIZ LOVSTED also took notes for the Freshman Class in her initial year. She has worked on the AWS Concerts committee as chairman and W-Key, and was recently elected president of Zeta Phi Eta, speech honorary.

Taking care of the pennies was Rally Song Queen JOYCE McCORKLE. Joyce was also Rally chairman. She is a member of W-Key.

Already for the big year ahead, the Junior Class can look back with pride on its accomplishments during the year gone by. With members in activities, sports, and politics, the juniors are well-equipped to continue the best of Washington traditions and maybe start a few new ones. The Junior Dance featuring Dick Jergens helped break in the new HUB ballroom. More than holding their own on the basketball team, junior players can be counted on to provide thrills next year.

Judging from the smiles, we don't think BARBARA PARK is really serious about cutting BEV BEHAR's hair. Barb was a serious worker at the Y, however, serving on many committees. She was chairman of the Thousand Voice Chorus and a member of W-Key. Bev put in a busy year as president of W-Key. She also found time to work on AWS committees.

BOB STORY is usually seen against a HUB background where he has worked on numerous committees. Bob took care of the Rally for the Homecoming Game.

Here's a playful trio. VAL WHITTAKER, chairman of the Junior Dance and Homecoming Registration; J. V. WILSON, inter-relations counselor of IFC and Purple Shield, and KRISS KODAMA, president of the Women's Rally committee, say that all work and no play, etc . . . and what's more fun than pool in the HUB?

Inspecting the new rugs in the HUB are BILL BOHLIN and DICK SPRAGUE. Bill expended much energy as Yell King, chairman of Junior Song and Stunt, and in Club Encore. Dick found sports taking up his time with letters in football and basketball to his credit. He is a member of the Big W Club and Purple Shield.

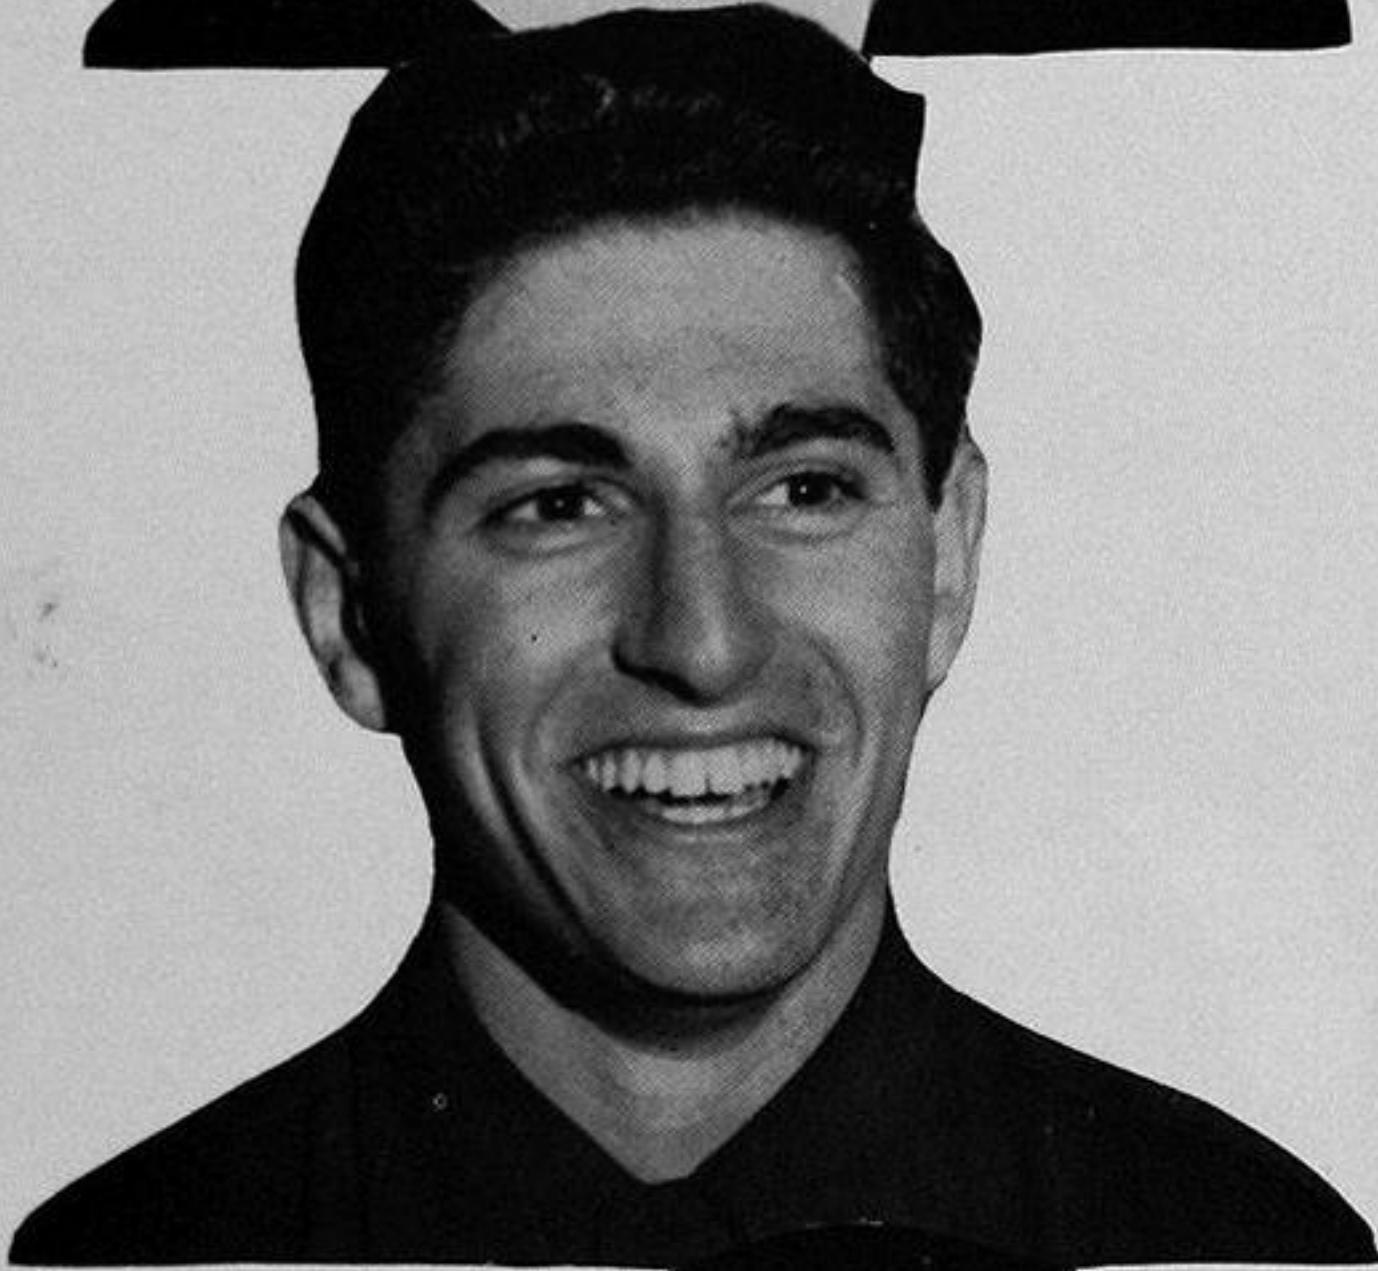

This happy trio has helped show the campus what the Juniors can do. First is JOAN SMITH, assistant relations chairman of Panhellenic. Joan divided her time between TYEE section editor, W-Key member, and AWS Council member. MIKE McCUTCHEN, Oval Club and Big W Club, co-captained the great Husky basketball team. Really adding to the games was Yell Queen, DIANE CUMMINS. She was chairman of the Campus Chest drive and a member of W-Key.

Sophomores

That lad with the friendly grin is Sophomore president, GEORGE HARDING. He got experience as frosh prexy. A member of Board of Control for his second year, George also belongs to Compass and Chart.

Another happy sophomore is FRANK PARKER, the vice-president. Besides taking over when George isn't around, Frank participated in Malamute activities.

KATHY LONG kept minutes for the sophomores. She is a member of W-Key, News Bureau, AWS Concerts committee and the Scholarship Banquet committee.

In addition to her duties as Sophomore treasurer, BETTY MacDONALD worked on various AWS and ASUW committees.

This past year has been crowded with experiences for the Sophomore Class. The assembly for entering frosh was first on the agenda. At Song and Stunt night they walked off with first prize for the best song stunt. This was followed by the Sophomore Leadership conference at the Hub. All of these, plus Sophomore Cabinet at the Y have afforded opportunities for the Class of '54 to learn the important fundamentals of leadership and organization. Sophomore Carnival, even more spectacular than before, brought the year to a very successful close.

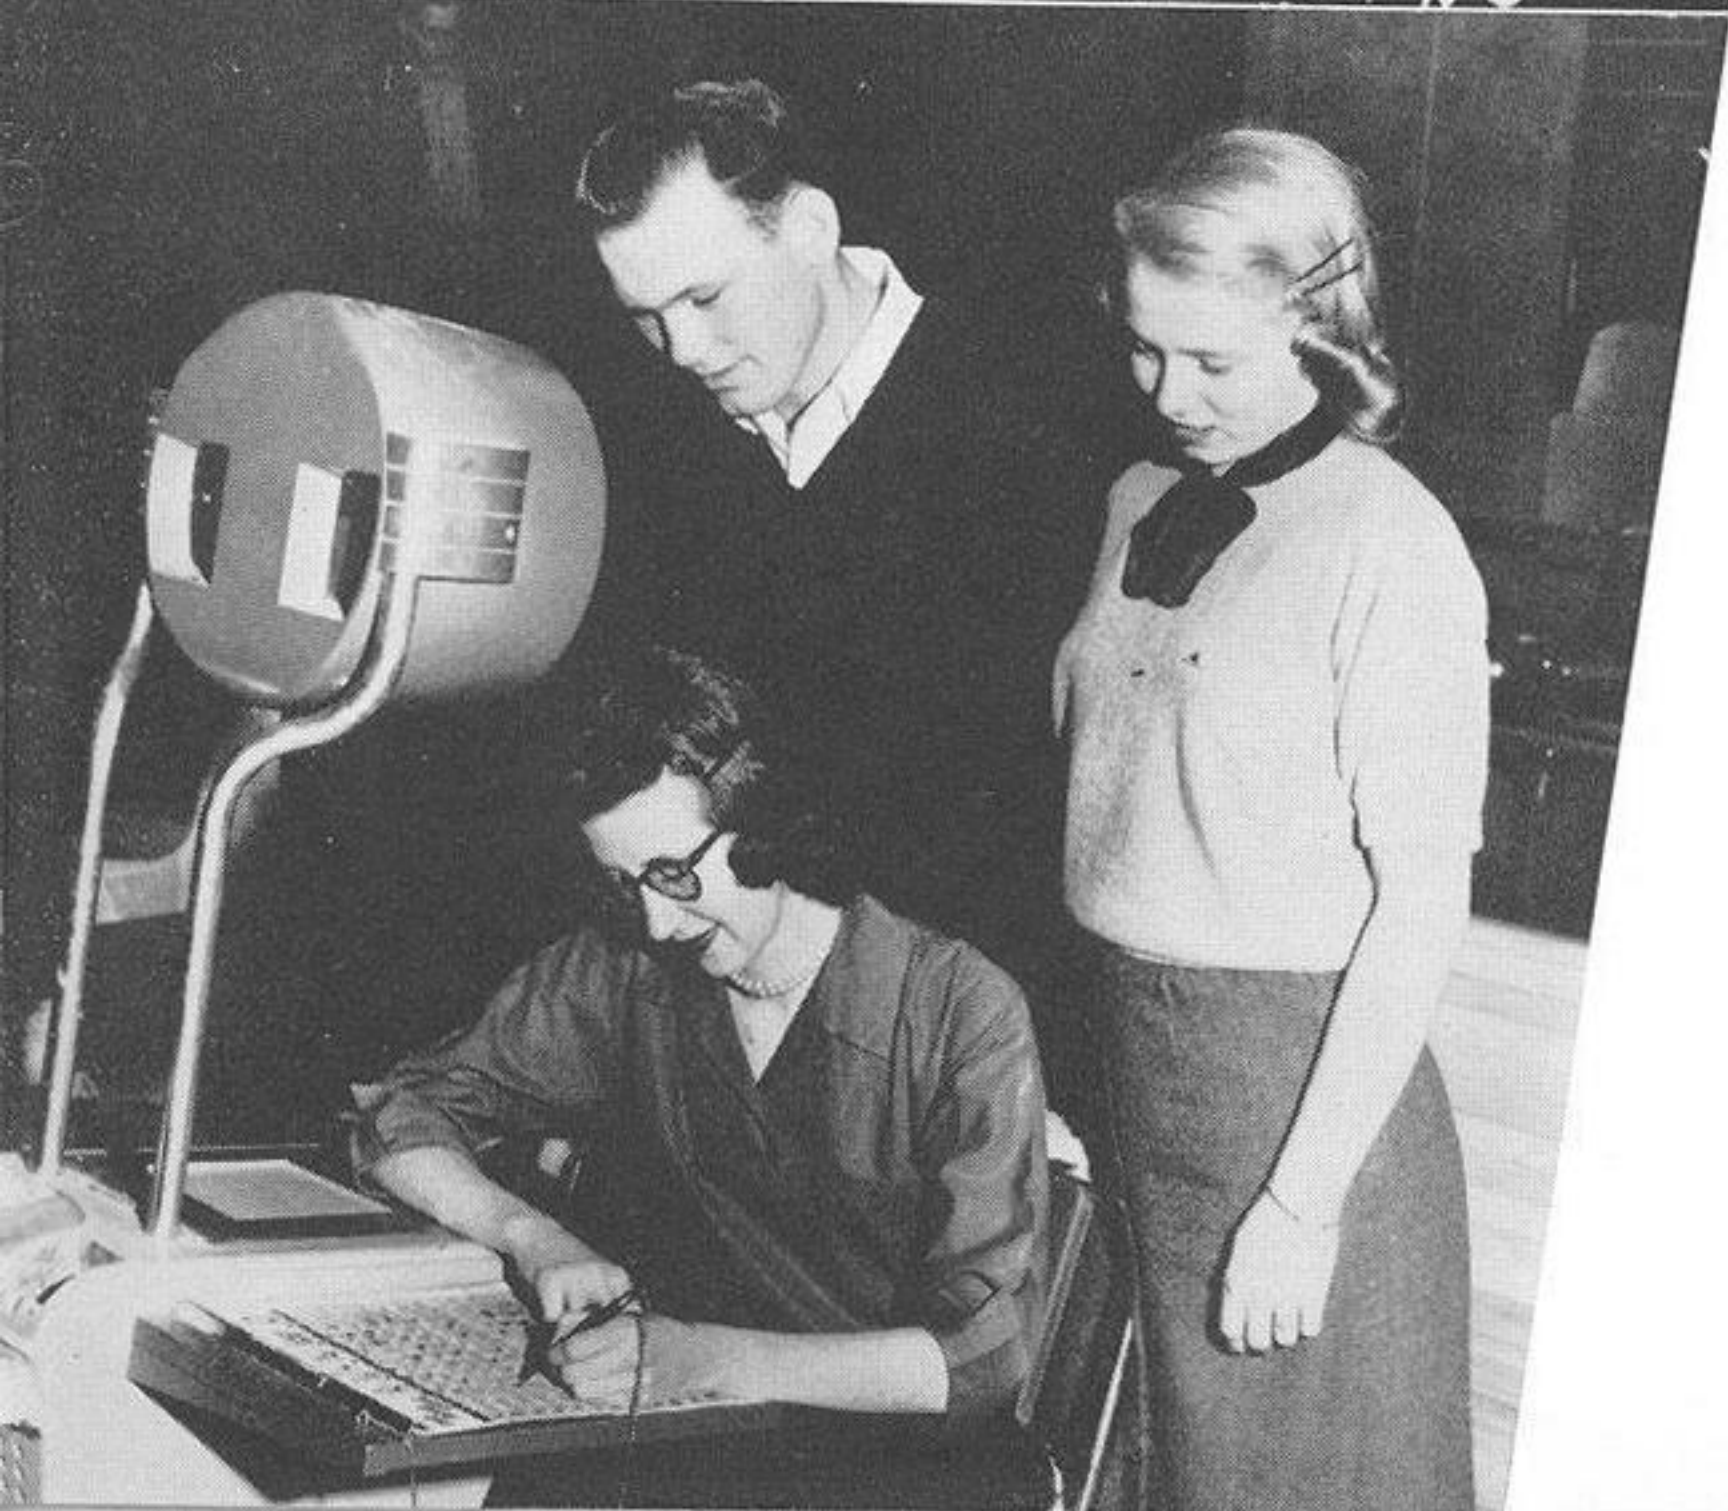

Looks like a friendly game between KAY MILLER, DOM DIRANO and DOUG HANSEN. Kay took care of AWS finances during the year. As if being treasurer of AWS wasn't a big job, Kay was also chairman of AWS Freshman council and a member of W-Key. Dom was publicity chairman for the Varsity Ball, Sophomore Carnival chairman, and publicity chairman for the Campus Chest Drive. Doug worked on the High School Leaders' conference, Sophomore Leaders' conference and Tyee.

JOAN PACKARD, EILEEN GREEN and BUZ BURKELAND are catching a little of Seattle's elusive sunshine. Among the busier Sophs, Joan was program chairman for the AWS concerts, an Activities Bureau member, and a member of the Frosh-Soph Council at the Y. Eileen did a big job as chairman of the Sophomore Leadership conference, secretary of the Campus Chest Drive, and secretary of the Students' Organization committee. Buz put forth for Washington as a member of the Frosh Crew.

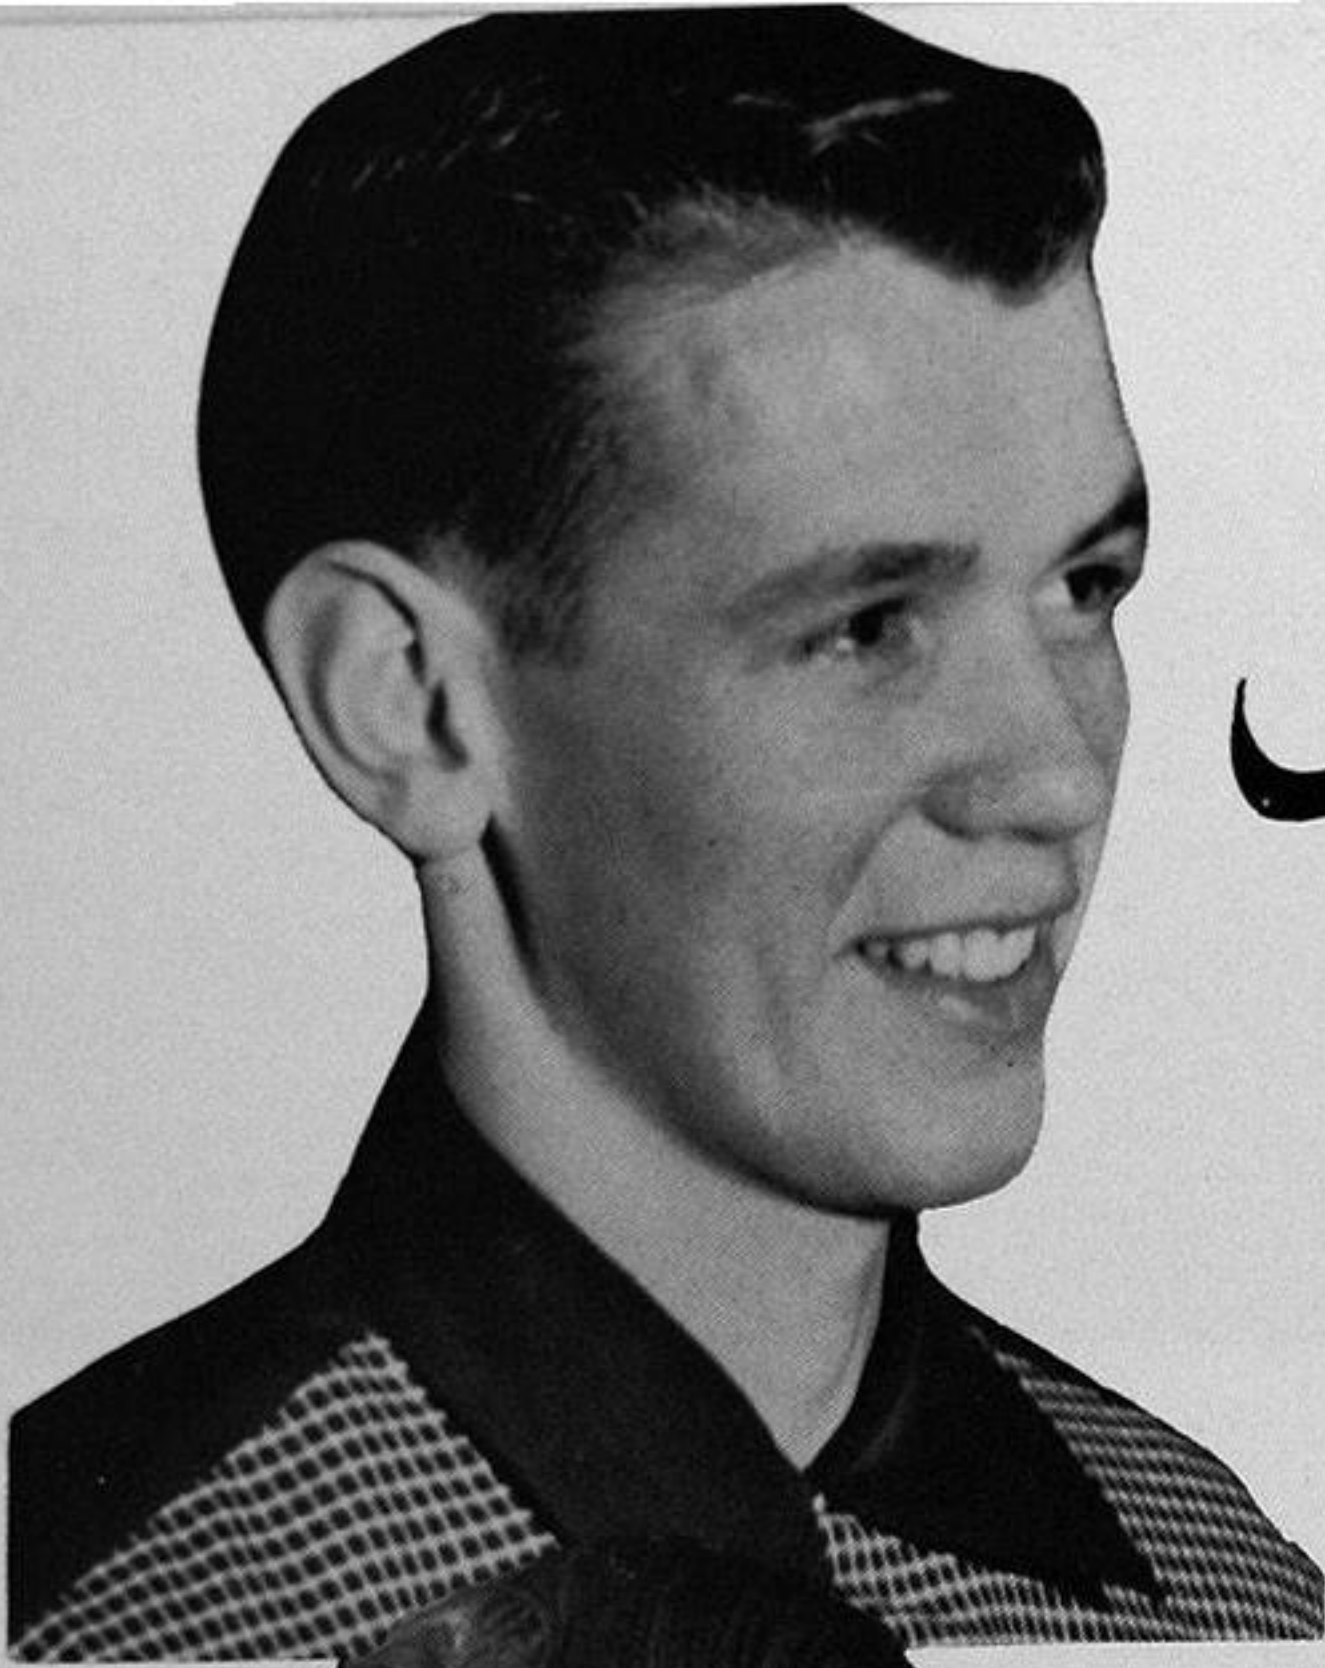

JIM PORTLANCE and PAT NABATA are taking a pause that refreshes. Jim is a member of the Husky Swim Club and a promising free-stylist on the Swim Team. Pat's diversified activities list reads: W-Key secretary, secretary to Program Panel, DAILY classifieds manager and AWS Scholarship Banquet committee.

Comparing bowling scores in the new HUB alleys are JACKIE CLAYPOOL, JIM NOE and MAXINE SOFTKY. Jackie was chairman of the Sophomore Song and Stunt and chairman of the dance for Sophomore Carnival. Jim's name is familiar to football fans and this sophomore promises more good work as a Husky tackle. Maxine was secretary of the Sophomore Song and Stunt. She was co-chairman of AWS House Announcements and a member of AWS council.

Freshmen

Bill Wilson, Alpha Delta Phi, capably took over the top executive position in the Freshman class. Bill has had much experience in the position of President because he has held this office in each of his four classes at Seattle Prep. Besides leading his classes, he found time in high school to win the State Oratorical Contest.

Herb Mead, Theta Chi, in his job of Vice-President, guided the social life of the class. A graduate of Lincoln high school, where he was student body president, Herb was in many activities throughout his high school career. Herb won his numerals on the University of Washington swimming team.

Joyce Hershey has a very business-like air about her as she works on the secretary's minutes. Joyce attended Olympia high school and held many activity positions, including President of Quill and Scroll and editor of the school paper. Joyce is a member of the Delta Gamma sorority.

Laura Leigh Havlina, Gamma Phi Beta and a Roosevelt graduate, is entrusted with the funds of the Freshman class. Laura Leigh's many high school activities included student body secretary; Spurs, girl's activity honorary; and the advisory council.

This is the Class of '55 who will soon be old timers at the University of Washington as they enter their sophomore year. When they put away their green beanies the frosh seemed to put away their "green" ways. The organization of the fifteen member Freshman Advisory council helped their officers decide the many problems that faced them. The frosh were more than pleased when they won first place in Song and Stunt night, but the highlight of the year was Frosh Day. Complete with a tug-of-war, a queen contest, torch parade, and the "Hula Hop" as the finale, the frosh had a chance to show what they could do. This year has been a big one for the freshman and they now have next year to gain more recognition and to add to their list of activities.

Activities have been the center of attraction for, left to right, Kurt Karmin, Ken Erickson, Arlene Van Derveer, and Frank Gustin. Kurt was chairman of Frosh Day dance and on the Activities Bureau committee. Ken was chairman of the Athletic committee for Frosh Day and President of the Freshman Compass and Chart. Arlene was chairman for the Frosh Torch parade, and chairman for the script for the Freshman at Song and Stunt night. Frank has been Master of Ceremonies for the Freshman at Song and Stunt night, and Frosh Day dance.

The climax of Frosh day was the announcing of the Frosh Queen, Ann Smith, who reigns over all Frosh activities. She is affiliated with the Kappa Kappa Gamma sorority.

Heading the big events for the Freshman class this year have been Harriet Kreps, Norm Calvo, and Margot Campbell. Harriet and Margot took charge of Freshman Song and Stunt night. Shirley Bell, not pictured, and Norm were chairmen of Frosh Day.

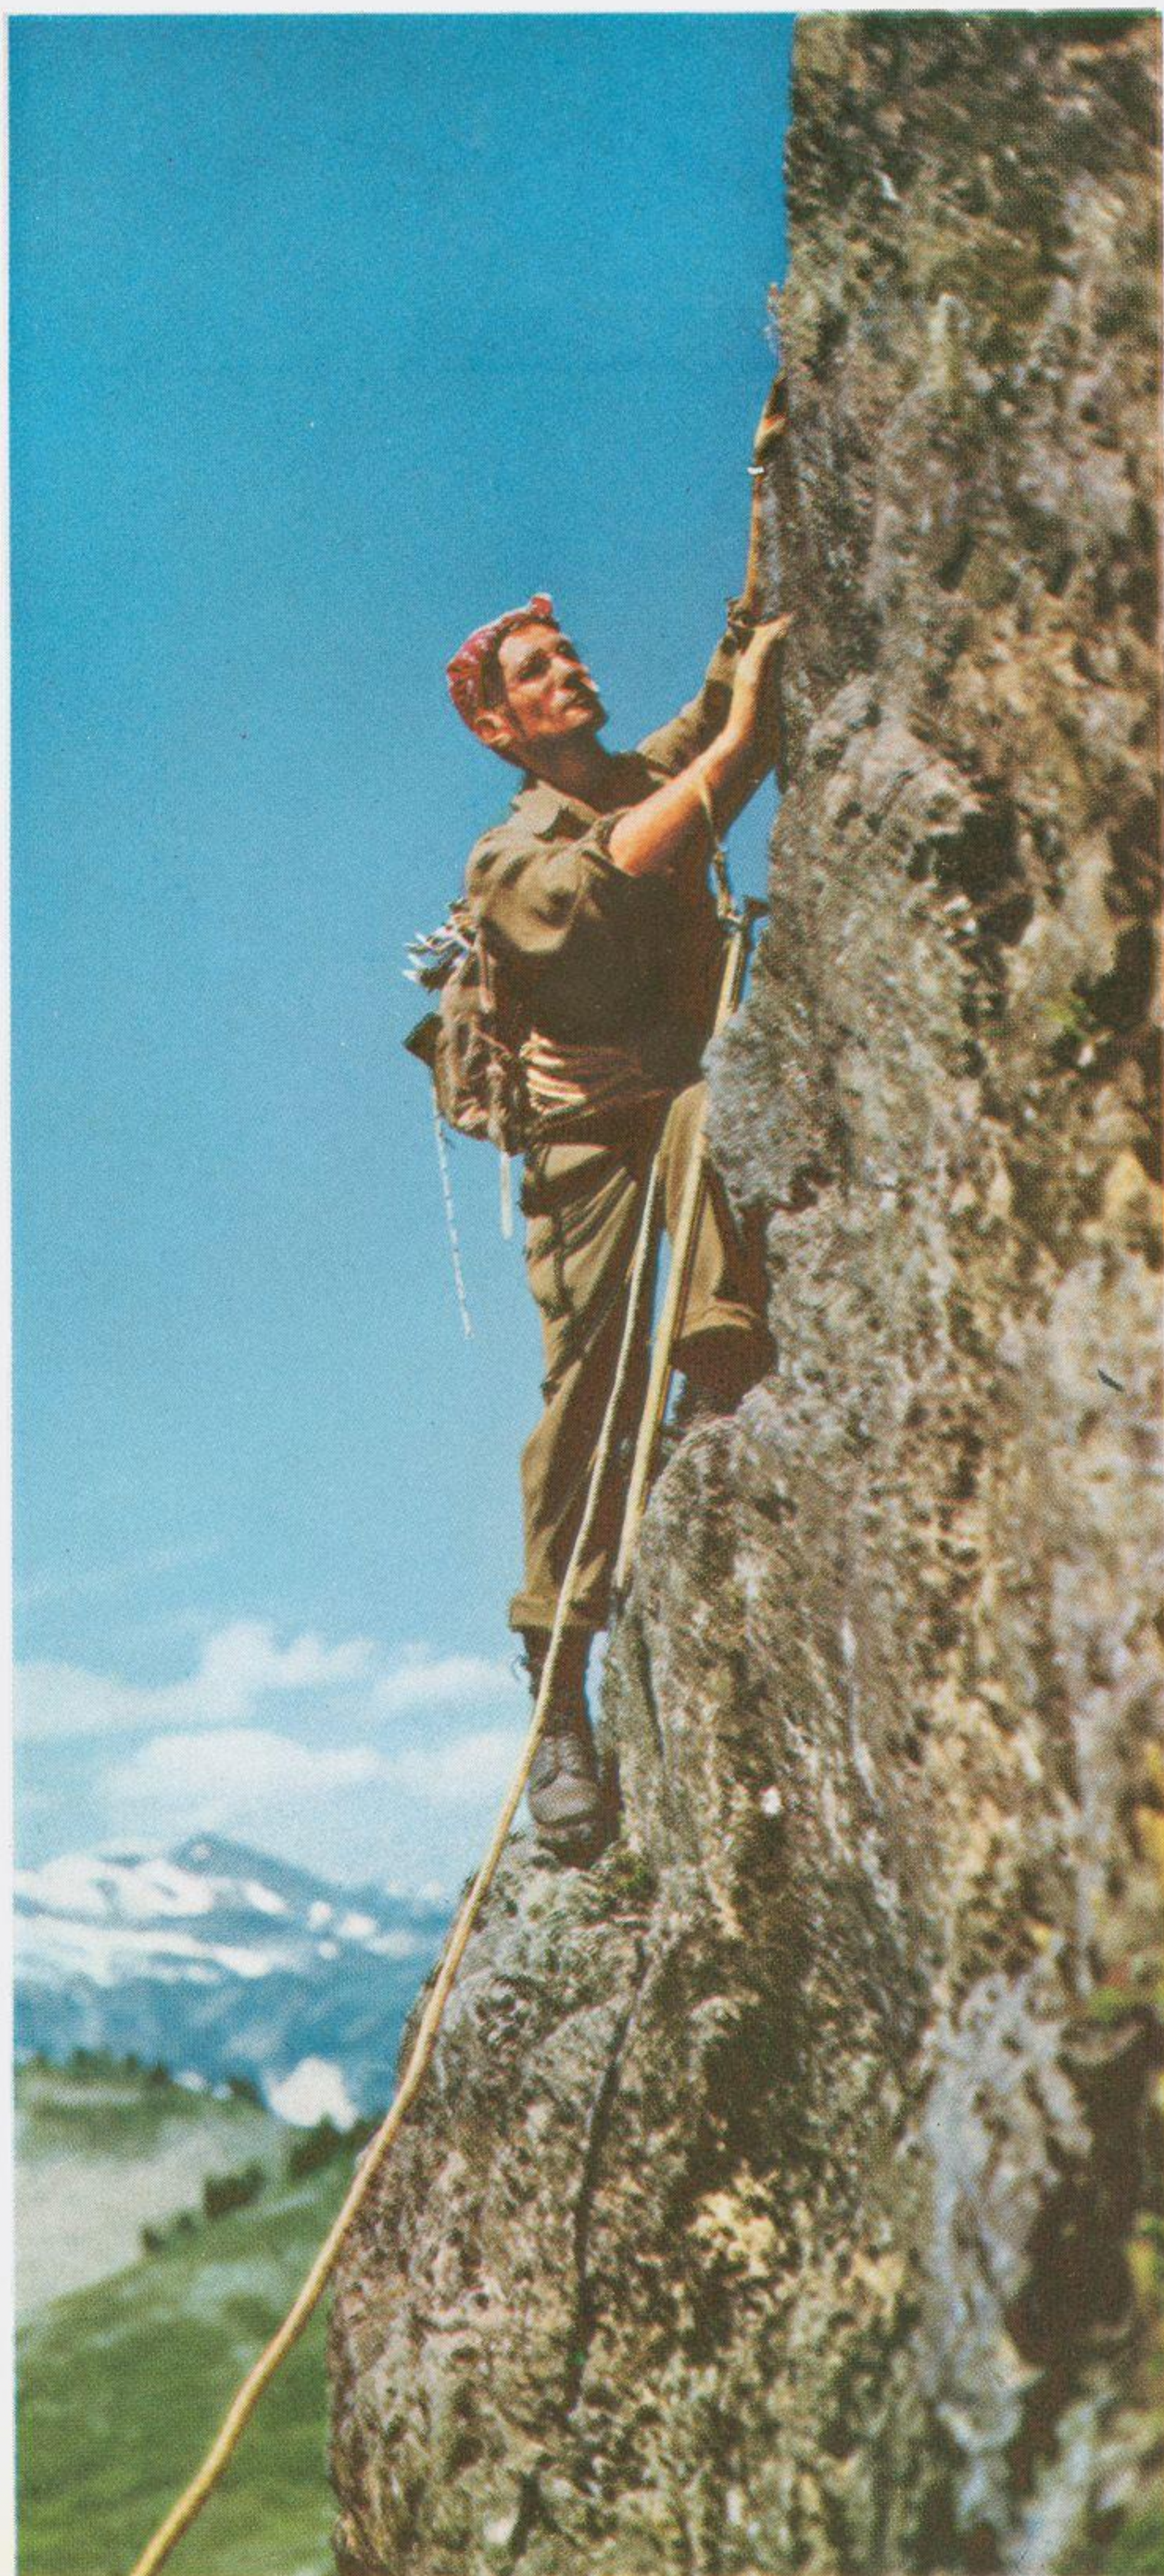

The main function of the Frosh Council, organized this year, is to advise and assist the officers in planning class activities and help decide class problems. They are from left to right: Graham Moleto, Barbara Grell, Phil Skutt, Marion Hendreckson, Herb Mead, Laura Leigh Havlina, Westly Magnison, Jr. (standing), Bill Wilson, Joyce Hershey, Dick Ryan, Jean Roscoe, Kathy Bode, Shirley Chase, and Ted Zylstra.

Outstanding this year in the field of sports are Dick Elliot and Steve Roake. Dick, a graduate of Franklin, has broken the Freshman record in swimming. He was Northwest champion, and went to three national meets. Steve is from Barrington, Illinois, where, in high school, he made the all-American football team. Now he is quarterback of the J.V. football team and is on the J.V. basketball team.

ACTIVITIES

Student Government

ASUW Officers

LOIS GUNDERSON, well-known as W-Key president last year, added to her many interests the job of ASUW secretary, a job performed with customary ease. Besides recording events at the Hub, Lois heads Activities Bureau and is a representative on Board of Control. She claims membership in Totem Club and Mortar Board. Workers at the Hub always welcome the sight of Lois for she is an enthusiastic and eager organizer.

MARV DURHAM, a Seattle boy, can point to a long line of achievements in his past four years at the University. He topped off his activities with election as ASUW president, a job which he has held down with his usual enthusiasm. Marv was Inter-Fraternity Council prexy last year and worked on the IFC Inter-Relations Council. ASUW Discipline Committee has claimed his attention as well as membership in Oval Club. Besides carrying out the manifold tasks of ASUW leadership Marv still finds time to head Board of Control and to do his part on the Finance and Budget Committee. Best remembered will be his ready assent whenever a job was waiting to be done.

JOHN PIPER decided as a frosh not to let any grass grow under his feet, and in past efforts has lived up to that promise to himself. His election as first vice-president completed four years of willing work in ASUW activities. Acting as ASUW prexy when Marv can't make it, John also heads Organizations Assembly, a position earned through energetic work as a delegate last year, and is a Board of Control member.

BEN HAYES, who somehow manages to eat between activities, is this year's capable second vice-president. With real interest in ASUW accomplishments he keeps himself busy with chairmanships of Elections and Legal Interpretations Committee and Program Panel. Ben is on Board of Control and lends his time to the Building and Operation Committee.

Delegates from all campus organizations gather to discuss and vote upon problems and issues which they hold in common. Chairman of Organizations Assembly is John Piper, 1st ASUW Vice-president. This sounding board has heard a variety of discussions this year, among others, the parking problem, the political speaker's ban, and election proceedings. After deciding by vote its stand on an issue, Organizations Assembly recommends its decision to the Board of Control.

Control

Each spring, the outgoing Board of Control joins the incoming Board and the Publications Editors in a house party, last spring held on Whidby Island. Between swimming, eating, playing baseball, eating, square dancing, croquet games, and eating, the old Board members acquaint the new members with problems in the administration of ASUW.

Maybe CHUCK OWENS feels that being Manager of ASUW Activities sometimes puts him behind the eight ball, but as the administrative head of HUB Activities he has helped to make Washington's student government one of the most outstanding in the nation.

JIM OVERLOCK, Assistant Activities Manager, is in charge of the operation of the HUB facilities.

ASUW Program Advisers, MINNIE HARRIS, MABEL McCORMACK, SYLVIA NILSEN and SHIELA McMURRAY are assigned to aid the work of the student committees.

MILDRED GELLERMANN, Administrative Assistant in charge of Program Supervision, coordinates the functions of the advisory staff and the ASUW.

A SUW Advisers

"Yes, it's available." DOROTHY PURCELL handles room reservations for all groups desiring to use HUB facilities.

GENE PIERCE (right), Accountant, and his assistant, RAY COLE, see that ASUW expenditures keep within the budget.

CLYDE ROBINSON takes a minute off from managing ASUW Publications. He looks happy: did someone make a deadline?

New to the administrative staff this year, MARJORIE TIERNAN has planned those fabulous meals that have made HUB banquets a success.

Keeping a tight hold on the ASUW purse strings, Audrey Lindgren, Kathro Kidwell, Harry Cross, chairman; Mildred Gellerman, Harvey Cassill, Charles Owens, Bill Lucks, Clyde Robinson and Donald Wollett of the FINANCE AND BUDGET COMMITTEE prepare the annual budget, recommend additional expenditures, changes in salary and approve admission fees for ASUW affairs.

While the BOOKSTORE is strictly business, a professional-student-faculty board does exist to give the real owners some control of the management. Relaxing over dinner, H. Martin, Chuck Owens, Ruth Ellen Sullivan, Curtis Vail, Nancy Lee, Donald Mackenzie, Lyle Goss, Helen Blackwood and Ken Doty discuss the running of the concern. Not pictured are John Kurtz and E. G. Brown.

A.S.U.W. Committees

Legislative-Administrative

The LEGISLATIVE-ADMINISTRATIVE division of ASUW makes the rules and enforces them; well might this be called the "red tape" department of student government. The powers of the following committees are delegated by the Board of Control to those groups in an effort to spread responsibility among the students.

SOCIAL EVENTS of all student organizations are under the supervision and regulation of Nola Winter, Jeannine Hunter, Marie Sharp, Shirley Caldwell, Kay Fox, Donner Buchet, chairman, and in the second row, Mike Jared, Carolyn Carson, Shirley Mesher.

Art Martin assisted by Stewart Chapman, Leona Saunders, Kenneth M. McCafrey, Richard Crain, Marilyn Low, Mrs. Gellermann, Carol Hobert, Art, Grant Redford, W. D. Lutey, L. A. Sanderman and Dick Knott decide which STUDENT ORGANIZATIONS will or won't be entitled to use the university name and facilities, subject to approval by the faculty committee.

Most people would go to jail for painting up the sidewalks, but in this case it's legal. These students are advertising the Campus Chest Drive.

Committees

Every fall and spring Elections and Legal Interpretations Committee under Ben Hayes goes to work. George Kargianis, Jackie Richter, Muriel Squillace and Ben representing the Law School, ASUW and the students supervise and manage all ASUW elections which is some job if you take your work seriously.

Floyd McCracken, chairman of the ATHLETIC COMMITTEE, Gordy Fisher, Bob O'Conner, F. Hayden Williams, standing, and Bob Hutchinson, Jack Hupp, Harvey Cassill and Dayle Hoagland, seated, collaborate in reviewing athletic budget proposals, supervise athletic awards and encourage student support of inter-collegiate events.

Once you have the money something must be done with it and that is what Sue Jahnke, Marian Pherson, Diane Cummins and Bob Nollan, chairman, look into. As there is only one drive a year CAMPUS CHEST POLICY must decide which agencies shall get funds from this pool.

To save Board of Control Time, CONSTITUTION AND BY-LAWS members Roy Mocerri, chairman; Jean Anderson, secretary; Ben Haynes, Rolfe Becker and John Fery interpret the ASUW constitution and pass on proposed revisions of that organ or the constitutions of any related committee.

Through the cooperation of faculty, alumnae and student members, the BUILDING OPERATING committee annually prepares a budget to provide for the running of the HUB. Headed by Ken Hammer, the money-minded members are: First row: Jeannine Hunter, Chet Mack, Ken Hammer, Sally Hagensick. Back row: J. J. Goodrich, W. E. Rogers, Ben Hayes, Jim Sullivan, Chuck Owens, Gene Pierce. Not pictured: Hank Loss, R. Bronsdon Harris.

The functions of the CONTEST Committee, led by Richard Fox, need no explanation due to the thorough examination conducted this year by the Columns. Not only do members Dorothy Cunningham, Mike Jared, Mabel McCormick, advisor, Richard Fox, Thea Gevers, Ann Van Arsdell and Shirley Ann Wizer pass on contests but also on merchandise and services solicitations on campus.

If you want a PUBLICATIONS official discharged see Donna Bloomer of said committee. Aided by members Ruth Wilson, Ben Watkins, Pete Bement, Bob Ohashi, Clyde Robinson, Joan Smith, Donna Bloomer, Jim Power, Noreen Salvino, Minnie Harris, Dave Wood, Birdie Wilkinson and Marlene Miller, the committee hires as well as fires, in addition to reviewing general policy relating to all campus publications, Barbara Stowe with Tom Davis, Ray Horn, Eilene Risegari, Rob Rogers, Barbara, Luverne Rieke, and Glen Nygreen have the duty of exercising the JUDICIAL power under the ASUW constitution pertinent to elections and the general well-being of the Association. Not pictured: Don Jacobs.

PROGRAM

PROGRAM AREA is that section of ASUW that provides for the cultural and social needs of the students. It is perhaps the most easily understood and most clearly defined of all the ASUW areas, including Music, Dance, Film and Games committees all functioning under the supervision of the Program Panel.

PROGRAM PANEL serves as a coordinating body for the related committees grouped under it in the ASUW structure. Headed by an ASUW officer Ben Hayes, the attending committee chairmen are Barbara Park, Patricia Quinn, Marilyn Dean, Larry Erickson, Wendy Gibbs, Pat Nabata, LeRoy Jorgensen, Ralph Thornton, Mike Tyrone, and Ben.

Students owe thanks to Virginia Ivankovich, Pat McCarthy, Jack Cowger, chairman, and Jeanette Lightle of the Music Program for the general overseeing of the AWS concerts program and the Christmas sing. Aside from such specific duties these students cooperate in providing music for other ASUW program agencies.

One of the committees under Program Panel is LECTURES, FORUMS AND DISCUSSIONS program which seeks through the assistance of its members Sue McPherson, Kay Miller, Sheila McMurray, advisor, Larry Erickson, chairman, Priscilla Prickette, Diana Thorpe, Tom Loftus and Jack Haley to provide a balanced program of oral activity.

COMMITTEES

Blow hard, Marv! The fiftieth anniversary of Board of Control is a big event.

Pat Quinn, chairman, and Dorothy Dils, Ed Gruger, Anita Luvera, Connie Lu, Ruth Geissmar, Roland Kumasaka, Leonie Miller and George Meshke promote better understanding by foreign students of the American way of life through the services and programs offered by the INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEE.

New responsibilities attending the opening of the HUB Games area add to the duties of Barbara Park, as GAMES chairman, in coordinating and maintaining an active program. Assisting her are Joan Backand, John Ogden, Marilyn Wagstaff, Marilyn Lowe, Terry Mullin, Jo Anne Tallman, Lloyd Alton, Lew Walker, and Brian Comstock.

Keeping within the allotted budget for movies and avoiding duplications of presentations among ASUW agencies keep FILM Committee members, Leroy Jargensen, chairman, Barbara Zerback, Larry Henderson, and Ed Atherton busy. Not pictured: Delores Cowden, Joy Jackson, Jane Snebley, Jeanne McKinstry, Janet Barker, Ed Hogan.

PROGRAM SUB-COMMITTEES

In a nutshell the task of the FIRESIDE DISCUSSION group is to arrange informal discussions on various subjects between faculty and students. Arranging this informality is Audrey Catren depending on Ida Fessler, Doris Turner, Audrey, Joan Luckner, Sallie Sue Hurd, Miss Dorthalee Horne, William Phillips, Richard Ball and Dick Huber for assistance.

Sue McPherson and Mrs. Catherine Root, Jim Glann, Susie, Ed Rakeman, Kay Smith, Marjorie Whitman, Professor N. W. Comish and Mr. Michael Hogan are not concerned with providing entertainment, as many expect at ASSEMBLIES, but rather with supplementing the academic courses on campus.

Until this year MIXERS were sponsored through Dance committee. Perhaps because of improved facilities in the HUB for dances a separate committee has been formed. Led by Virginia Haldeman, Virginia, Donna Schorzman, secretary, Pat Hatton, Ida Fessler, Jimmie Arrington, Audrey Catren, Kay Hardy, Eric Fonkalsrud, Les Wilson and Joyce Jenness are drumming up increased interest in these events.

Not an informal discussion, nor a lecture, but a CAMPUS FORUM is the ambition of this group. Searching for participants who represent the student interests and come from campus are Major D. P. Miller, Jack Haley, chairman, Miss Catherine E. Vavra, Mr. K. M. McCaffree, Mike Dunn, Lloyd Alton, Rod Dimoff, Joan Francis, Eleanor Corthell and Georgia Bigelow. Not pictured with this group are Leone Johnson, Myra Utness, Dr. Oliver Nelson, Mr. W. L. Garrison, Nola Winter, Art Ford, and Jackie Trullinger.

SERVICE COMMITTEES

Committee members on Activities Bureau help other students enter ASUW, AMS, and AWS activities. This personnel service receives applications from aspiring "wheels" and makes recommendations to committee chairman. Seen working on their latest problem are, left to right, ASUW Program Advisor Sylvia Nilsen, Chairman Lois Gunderson, Rita-jean Hartung, Bob Story, Ray Lundy, Ronda Barnard, Donna Knudson, Marilyn Lockwood, Rita Tappe, Shirley Miller.

Seeking the best workers for ASUW committees, this group interviews candidates for various activity posts. In their spare time the Interviewers Committee makes recommendations based on meetings with interested prospects. Seen here are Mike Tyrone, Jeanette Barger, Lou Clarke, Bob Osborn, Ray Lundy, chairman.

Formerly known as Activities Pool, this new Freshman Pool is interested in freshmen only. Keeping their eyes on promising frosh and making recommendations to committees for short-term jobs are the plans of these members. Front: Marie Odland, Vernice Hanberg, Chairman Marilyn Lockwood, Irene Hutchinson, Maralyn Frame, Ann Smith. Back: Mike Jared, Jerry Ramey, Lyle Kirkby.

Services committees are the backbone of ASUW affairs and the unsung heroes of the HUB. Providing the backbone are the committees under Activities Bureau—Activities Pool, Interviewers, Clerical—that place students in the ASUW program.

While being responsible for no legislation, policy or definite program, the remaining groups perform general services for the other ASUW committees and the students.

These people on the Clerical Staff are some of the busiest at the HUB. They do the clerical work behind the functioning of Activities Bureau, which includes a complete record of all participants in HUB activities. Here's the staff in one of its quieter moments:

These girls, Ronda Barnard, chairman, Mabel McCormick, JoEllen McComb, Joanne Williams and Mary Kauffman are only a handful of the great number of volunteer SECRETARIES who take minutes at the ASUW committee meetings.

Supervising the ASUW Blood bank, cooperating with the physical education departments and providing publicity for the compulsory x-rays for students are some of the more specific duties of Eugene Brim, Dave Stephans, chairman, Jan Keller, Eric Fonkalsrud, Bill Ellis, Walt Brewer, Mabel McCormick, Ken Williams, Dr. B. C. Houghton of HEALTH SERVICES COMMITTEE. Not pictured are Walt Kondo, Dick Neal, Jacque Mayo.

Realizing that a place to sleep improves any delegate's visit to the campus CONFERENCE HOUSING COMMITTEE, Donna Prevost, Nancy Thompson, Windy Hurlbut, and Chairman Barbara Black figure where to put the visitors. Not pictured are Dick Crain, Ken Erickson, Barbara Zerbach and Joan Smith.

Working in conjunction with a faculty committee Bob Lewis, Phyllis Graham, Bernadine Berry, Sam McJunkin, and Donna Fries, chairman, promote SCHOLARSHIP, keep records on all those students granted scholarships and appoint those that are not assigned to a particular group.

A great way of meeting people is by serving as a Receptionist. Ask Margie Gill, Georgia Cooper, Sylvia Whitman, Helen Zobrist, Eileen Green, Jackie Claypool and Shirley Goggins, chairman, for they are the girls always on duty in the HUB offices giving information and keeping the ball rolling while their bosses have coffee.

Serving as public relations personnel for ASUW is the general function of Daisy Beech, Mary Pat Tross, Gladly Paulson, Evona Harford, Clarence Anderson, Wendy Gibbs, chairman, Joe Smith, Minnie Harris, advisor, Dick Van Ee, Peggy Davison, Janet Pearson, Barbara Lewis, standing, and seated Gloria Wahlgren, Gail Gibbs, Penny Pigott, Myrna Utness, Clara Sender, Pat Fortin, Marikate Tarbill. More specifically, The NEWS BUREAU publicity chairmen for ASUW committees, send news releases to home town papers, publish HUBBUB, the HUB organ, keep a scrapbook on ASUW activities and newspapers in the HUB lounge.

One of the very few ASUW committees that function the year around is CAMPUS GUIDES. Tours are planned during the summer while Sallie Hurd, Doris Turner and Marianne Michaels in the first row and Peggy Lawton, chairman, Joe Smith, Vera Erickson, Mary Pat Tross and Laurie Sullivan take care of tours during the school year.

Down in the catacombs under the HUB this committee did their duty organizing the Student Directory sale.

RESEARCH-EDUCATION COMMITTEES

EDUCATION-RESEARCH is the broadest, most elastic, of the divisions of ASUW. The committees under this head tackle any educational problem that arises. As these people have no set program they may at times have much on the agenda and at other times very little. An example of their work, and their most recent activity, was the setting up of a general education curriculum.

It's a mixer. It's at Hutchinson. It's an elimination dance. The prize is an autographed football. What else can be said?

After the flurry caused by the new regime this year just about everyone on campus knows what duties Susan Keaton, Elaine Ryan, Pat Lee, Bob Arkell, Joanne Williams, John Robertson, Bob Doty, Chuck Cravens and Bill Durfee, chairman of the PARKING COMMITTEE have to perform. Whether campus parking problems were 'solved and alleviated' this year or not is a moot question.

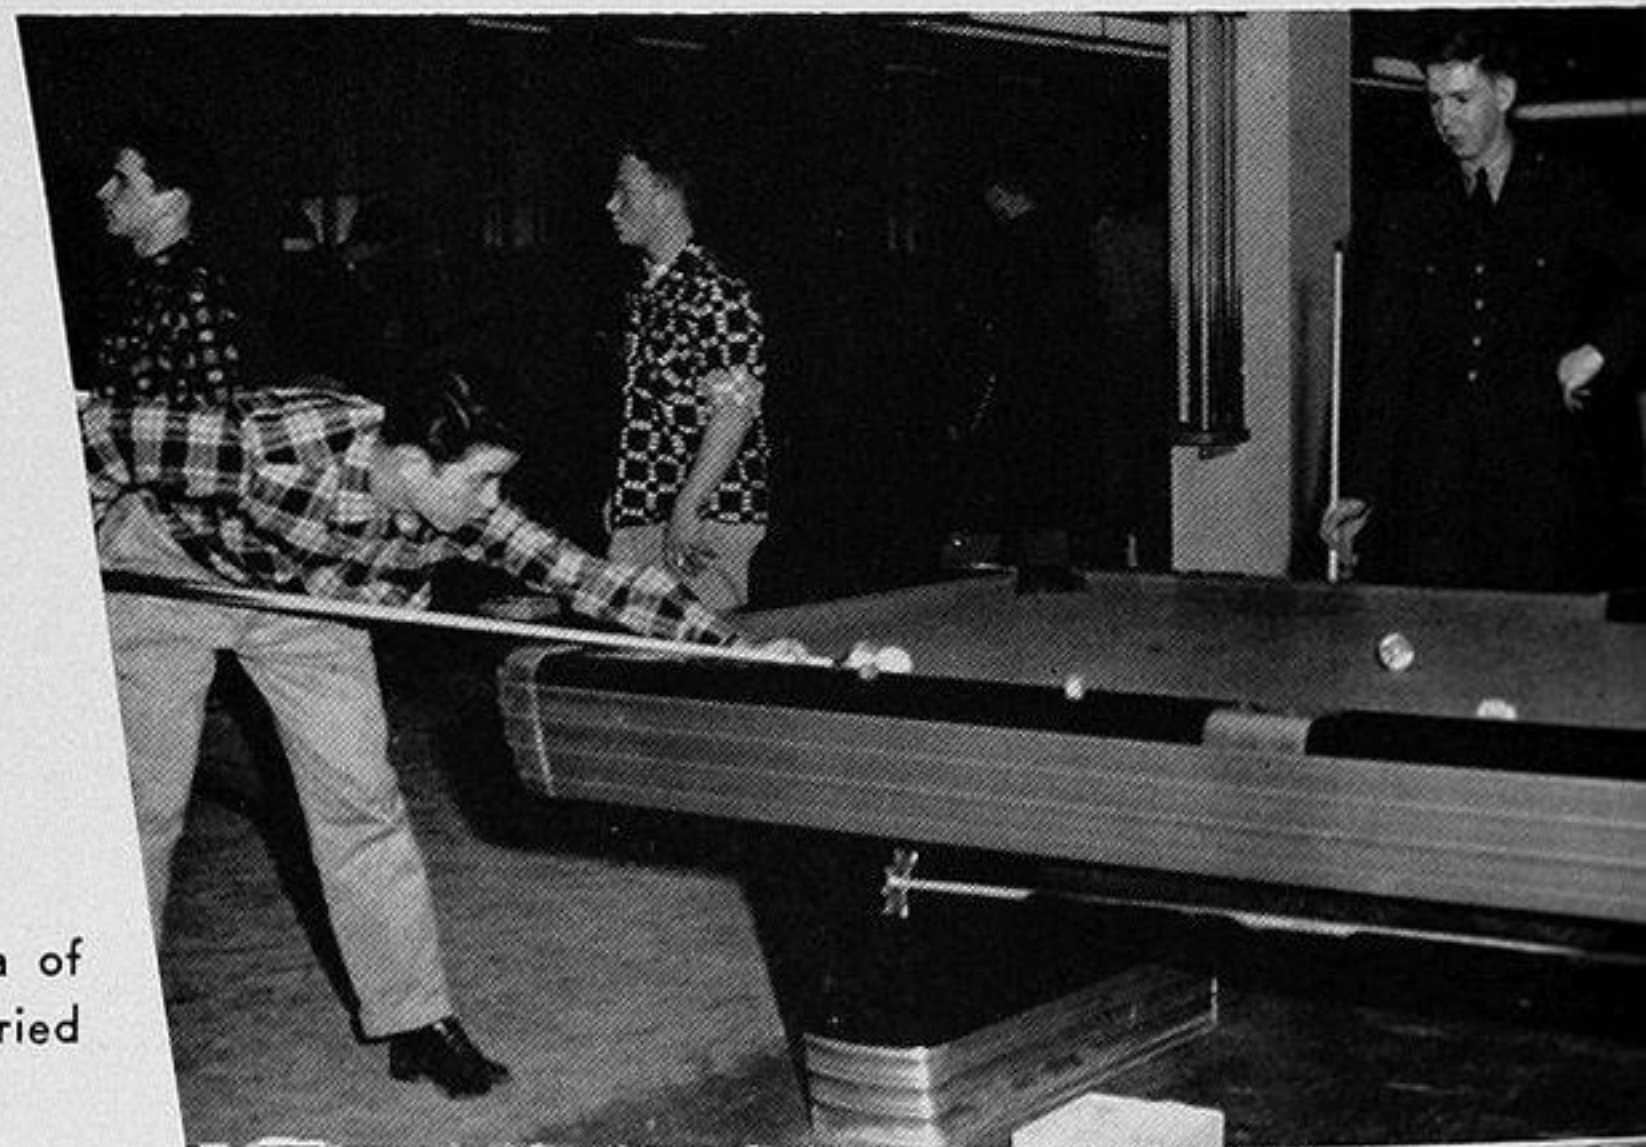

Many students come to the University each year for the first time not knowing the campus and very few of the students. WELCOME WEEK, held each fall, attempts to acquaint these students with their new school. Kay Miller, Maxine Softky, Alice Morse, Virginia Brown, Diane Cummins, chairman, Dave Novak, Rita Tappe, Dick Reinhardt, Nan Knudsen, Bev Behar, Bob Kuebler and Peggy Lawton worked out the 1951 program.

Attempting to pass on the vast knowledge our advanced years have gained us, the University holds each year a HIGH SCHOOL LEADERS CONFERENCE. This year Ray Lundy, Doug Hansen, Rita Tappe, Dick Crain, Ann Hawkins, chairman, Nan Knudsen and Barbara Black introduced these younger leaders to the inner workings of the school.

HUB RECREATION

In the first few days that the new Games area of the HUB was open many interested students tried out the new equipment.

Getting the "word" from a true expert, Charlie Peterson, this group took advantage of his free advice on the art of billiards. Peterson's presence was an added attraction at the area opening.

AWS Officers

Coordination of all women's campus activities is the job of the Associated Women Students, an integral part of the ASUW. This active group provides opportunities for all interested women students to serve the University through social, cultural, and educational means, and in this way helps them to develop new friendships. Throughout the year, AWS committees work on projects such as the annual Scholarship Banquet and the Spring Style Show. Joint AWS-AMS projects are the Vocational Conference, May Day, Faculty-Student Relations and the Art committee. The AWS "Music at the Meany" concerts bring famous artists to the campus each year. The coveted positions on AWS council mean invitations to the house party which concludes the year's program. AWS officers this year were Barbara Brace, Robin Chittenden, Sue Scherner, Peggy Baugh, and Joanne Torney.

BARBARA BRACE culminated three years of leadership in campus activities with her election to president of AWS. Barbara served as chairman of the Constitution and By-Laws Committee of AWS prior to her election, and was awarded the outstanding senior woman plaque by AWS this year. This Mortar Board counts as her greatest thrill the honor of being one of Seattle's "I Am an American Day" speakers.

AWS secretaries ROBIN CHITTENDEN and PEGGY BAUGH keep the minutes and correspondence in apple-pie order. Corresponding secretary Robin served on the Handbook Committee and was frosh YWCA prexy prior to her election. Peggy, AWS recording secretary, worked on the Big Sister Committee. She was awarded the Mortar Board Plaque for the outstanding sophomore girl.

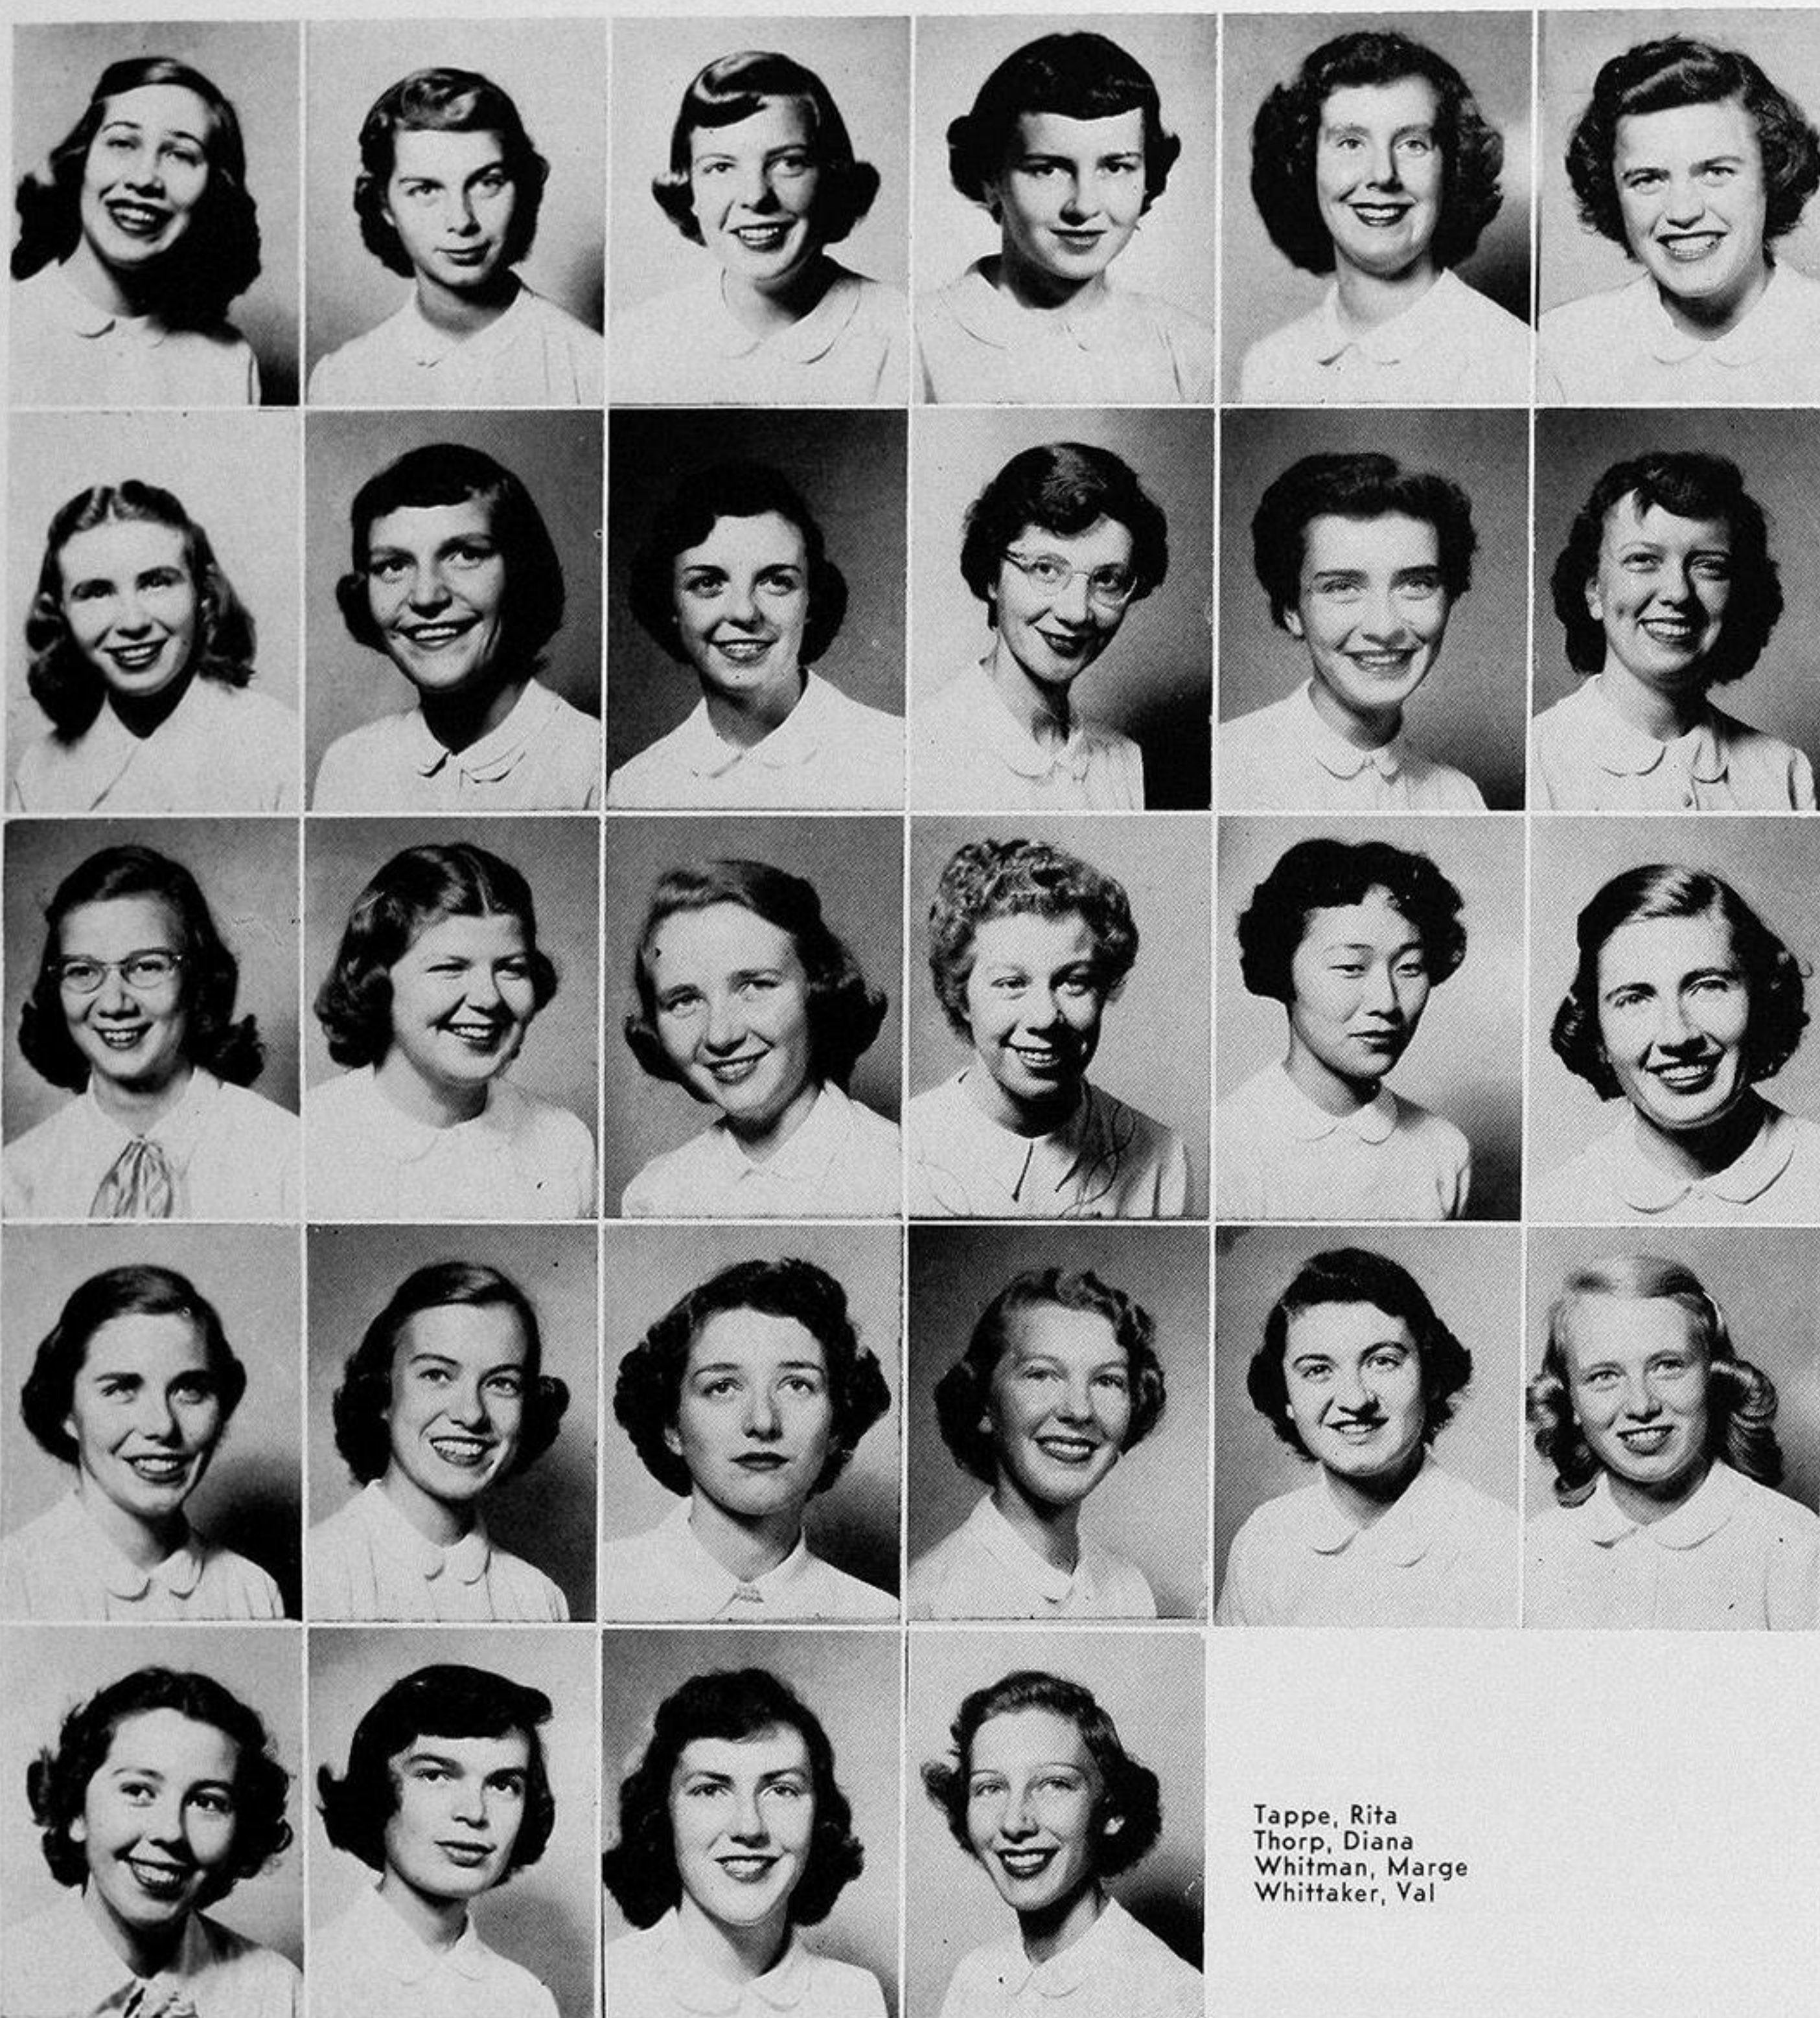

A full schedule of activities kept SUE SCHERNER busy even before she took over her duties as AWS vice-president. Sue was chairman of the AWS Concerts Committee last year and was tapped for Mortar Board at the end of her junior year.

AWS finances are under the care of efficient JOANNE TORNEY who worked on the Father-Daughter Banquet Committee before her election as treasurer. With Joanne is SYLVIA NILSEN, ASUW advisor for AWS.

AWS leadership is centered in three executive bodies, Council, Cabinet, and the officers. Chairmen and assistant chairmen of standing committees form the council, which is presided over by president, Barbara Brace; vice-president, Sue Scherner; secretaries, Robin Chittenden and Peggy Baugh; and treasurer, Joanne Torney. The Council meets every two weeks, when the Committee chairmen report their functions, asking for suggestions from the Council as a discussing body, thus determining the program and policy of AWS.

The AWS Cabinet meets at least once a quarter to discuss problems and matters which concern all women students. Representatives and presidents of major organizations are (front row) Robin Chittenden, Barbara Brace, Sue Scherner, Peggy Baugh, Shirley Wilkerson, Donna Bloomer, Audrey Lindgren; (back row) Mickey Durnan, Beverly Behar, Helen Bucher, and Nancy Lee.

A.W.S. Committees

Another of the three executive divisions is the AWS Cabinet, which consists of presidents or representatives of all women's groups on campus. The Cabinet meets at least once a quarter to discuss problems and matters of concern to university women. The committees, however, are the determining factor in a successful organization. It is their duty to conduct their meetings with harmony and with consideration for AWS policies.

Besides keeping the constitution and by-laws up to date, the Constitution and By-laws Committee requests changes to the Executive Board, interprets the constitution, and conducts special constitutional voting. Joan Smith, chairman; Ardith Arndt, Charlene Friedman, and Bernadine Berry.

Working with the ASUW Activities Bureau, the AWS Activities Committee meets with house representatives, promotes women's activities, recommends and records the placement of members, Joan Packard, Rita Tappe, chairman; Deidre Augustine, Eileen Green, Laurie Euchner and Peggy Allen.

Editing, coordinating and presenting announcements of current activities to organized living groups is the function of the House Announcements Committee, which includes Marilyn Krekow, Kathy Helwig, chairman; Maxine Softky, assistant chairman; Helen Zobrist, and Sally Sue Hurd.

The Freshman Council, freshman representatives from the organized women's houses, discuss standards and opportunities for freshmen. (First row) Judy Cameron, Sally Parrish, president; Jean Ross, assistant chairman; Kay Miller, chairman; (second row) Jean Wallach, Jean Glendinning, Aliceon McInrow, Shirley Shafer, Doris Turner, Charlene Friedman, Naomi Kohen, Jackie Tjossem, Lois Williamson, Mildred Brown, (standing) Joy Moran, Judy Hawkins, Anita Luvera, Hope Glasscock, and Mary Weaver.

The Community Service committee, Elaine Carman, Evelyn Ketzlach, Jean Rue, Doreen Brackett, chairman; Hazel Gates, Patty Pigott, and Shirley Campbell, places volunteers for community service projects, and arranges interviews for Girl Scouts, Campfire recruits, etc.

Planning the annual Scholarship Banquet to honor outstanding women on campus, was the Scholarship Banquet Committee's task. (Seated) Kathy Long, Sue McPherson, Jean McDonald, chairman; Liz Myers, Peggins Newgard, (standing) Arlene Benson, Pat Nabata, and Wendy Gibbs.

The Election Banquet jointly plans and puts on an annual AMS-AWS election banquet on election day. Peggy Ballard, Bill Baird, Mary Pat Tross, and chairman, Hazel Gates. Not pictured are co-chairman, Al Nelson; Donna Lou Webster, Ed Atherton, and Judy Hillis.

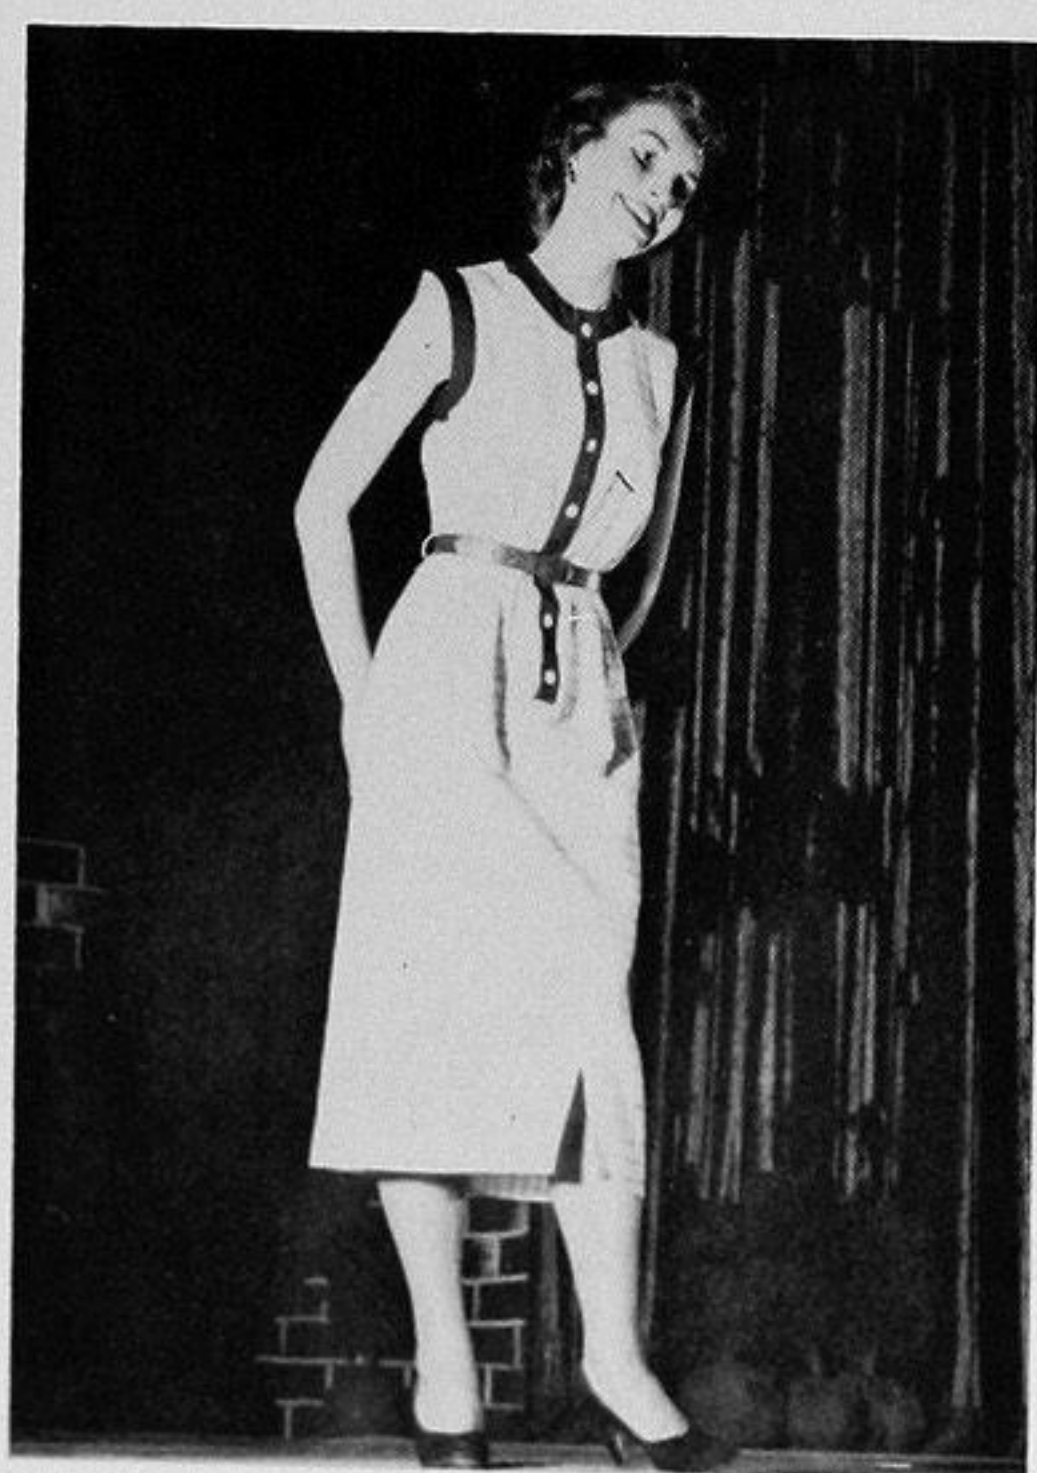

Choosing fashion boards for local department stores is the main function of the AWS Fashion Board. Pat Lee, Laurel Stevenson, Barbara Smith, chairman; Marilyn Lockwood, Liz Jollie, and Violet Michael.

The Big Sister committee works out a big sister program to help interest girls in campus activities. Liz Jollie, Barbara Bryce, Jackie Steffan, Liz Myers, chairman; Ida Fessler, and Shirley McCarter.

Modeling spring apparel for the annual Spring Style Show sponsored by AWS and AMS is Laurel Stevenson.

Decorating the HUB for holidays and special occasions are Gordy Iles, co-chairman; Sheila Southard, Val Whittaker, co-chairman; Tom Kirkland, and Don Worlund, members of the HUB Decorations Committee.

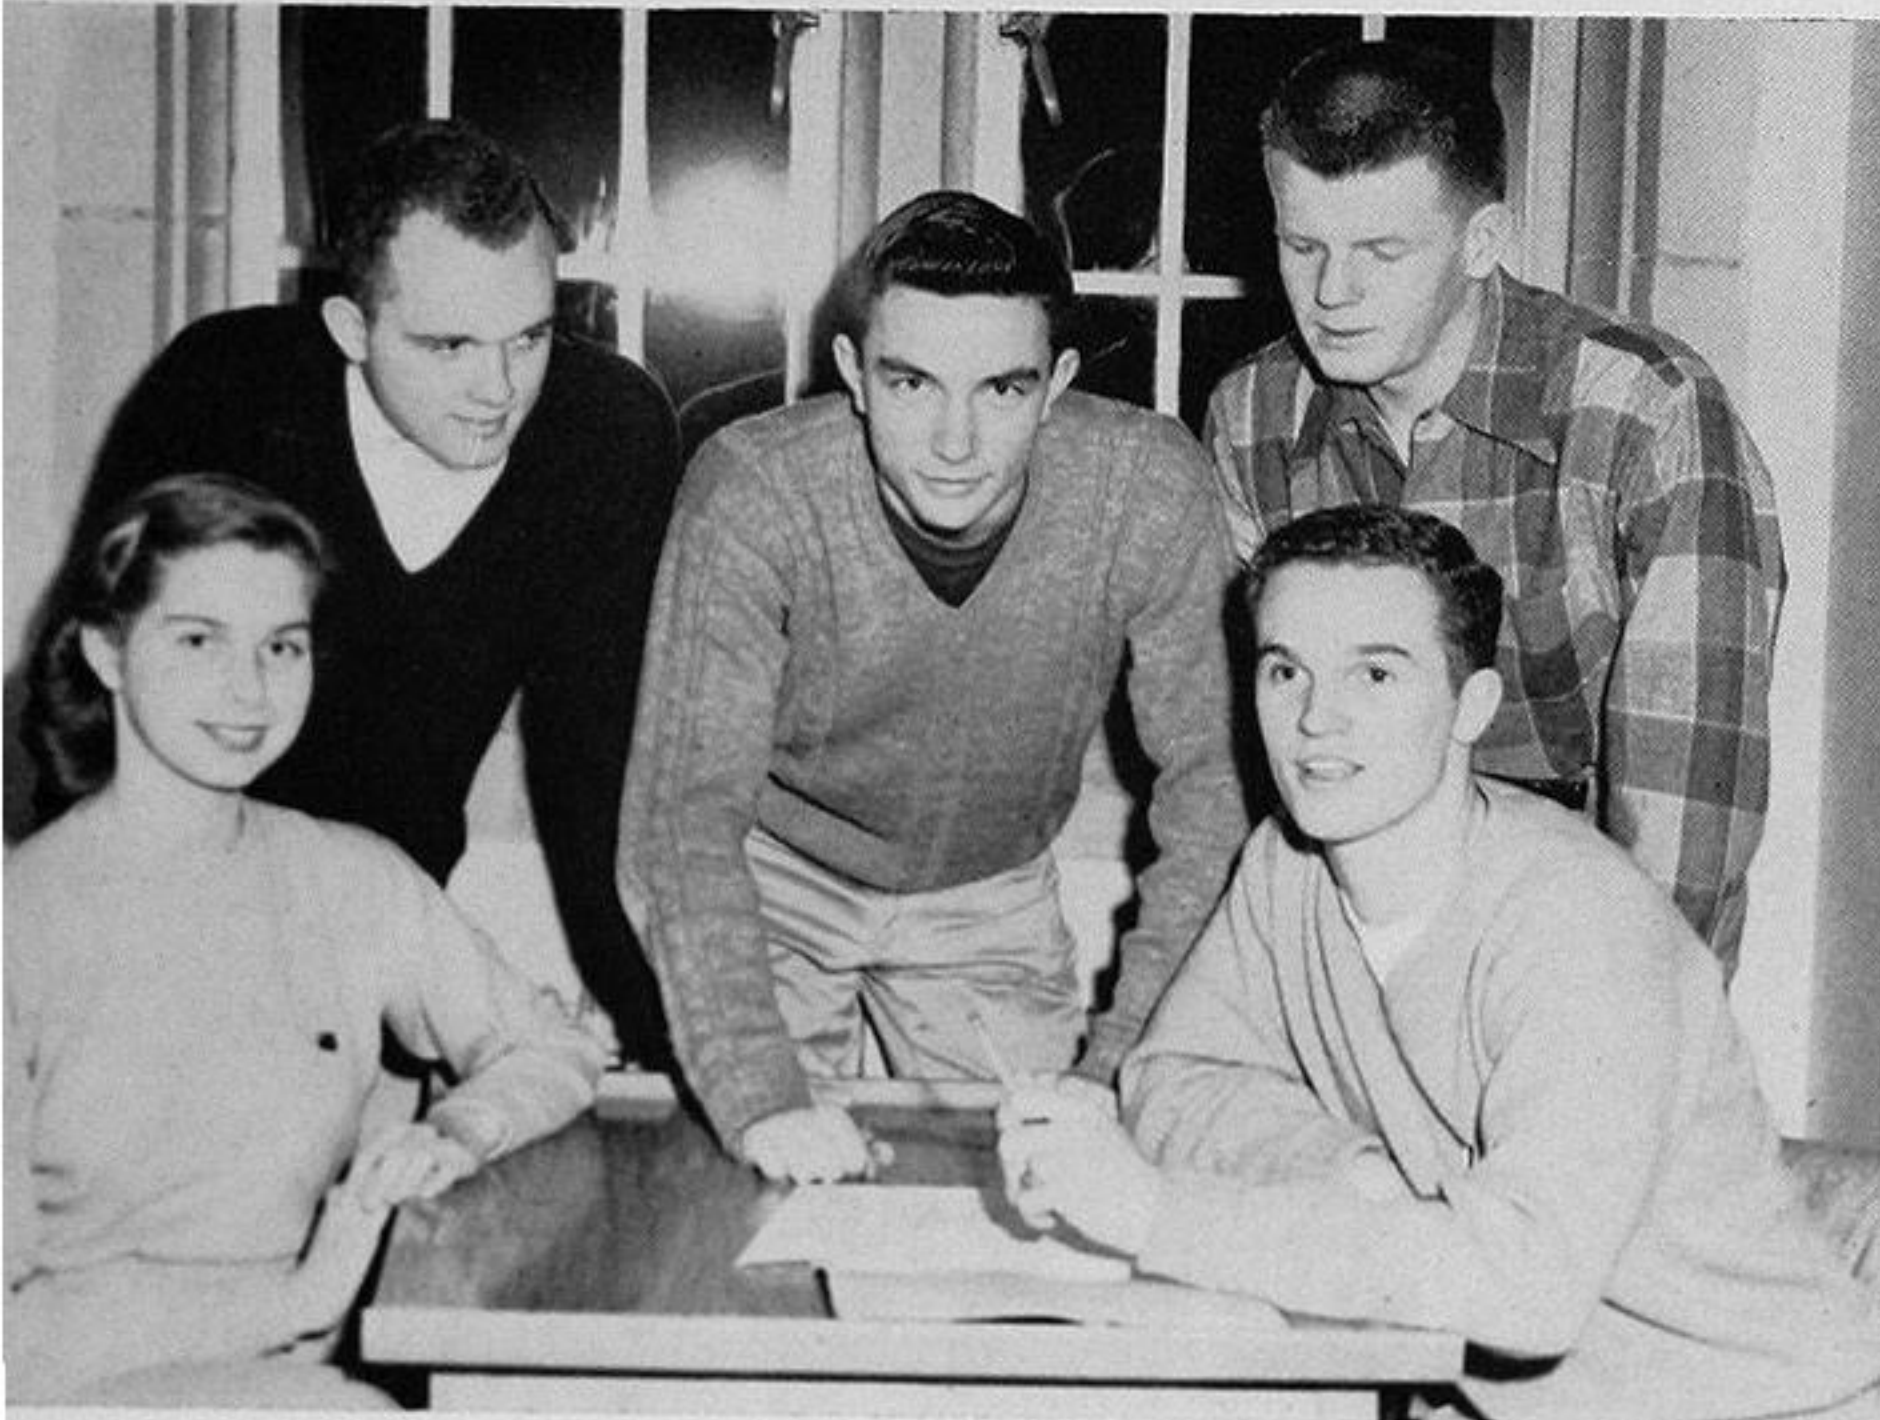

The Style Show committee plans and presents the annual Style Show in the spring. Frank Graham, Pat Lee, and Mike Jared, co-chairmen; Sue Weaver, and Ron Gordon are pictured.

Together, the AWS and AMS have utilized their talents on committees which operate most successfully through a mixed group. Co-chairmen led the committees in their functions. This arrangement pertains to the following committees: Hub Decoration, Style Show, Vocational Conference, May Day, Social Events, Art, Elections, and Student-Faculty.

Drawing up plans which arrange successful social functions is the duty of the Social Events Committee. Betsy Bird, co-chairman; Byron Dodge, Chuck Graham, Bill Reed, Ralph Holt, chairman.

The Art Committee handles all requests for art work and posters which are requested from campus organizations. (Front row) Laverne Fenton, Virginia Brown, chairman; Anita Mainwaring, assistant chairman; and Anita Betz, assistant chairman, (back row) Ida Fessler, Mimi Shanks, Carole Berger, Marion MacFarlane, Mary LaRue, Anita Smith, Jackie Tjossem, Pat Toole, Joanne Wahlstrom, and Rayda Pomroy. The AMS section of the Art Committee is not pictured. Chairman, Pat Riney; Ray Turner, Lloyd Benjamin, Tom Costich, Tom Richey, Roger Felton and Al Painter.

Joint Committees

Planning May Day in the spring is the function of the May Day committee, Larry Erickson, co-chairman, Jackie Richter, Margie Whitman, and Gordy Iles.

The Student Faculty Committee sponsors a program designed to have students and faculty meet in an informal out-of-class gathering, and helps promote departmental activities. (Front row) Frank Williston, Diana Thorp, chairman; Barbara Ferguson, (back row) John Clise, W. Joseph Smith, Albert L. Franzke, Deirdre Augustine, Fred Brown, and Richard York. Not pictured are Liz Kefauver, Jackie Trullinger, C. A. Mills, Kathy Tynes, Bob Massey, co-chairman, Bev Harrison, Dick York, Mary Ann Clark and Dr. Max Lovin.

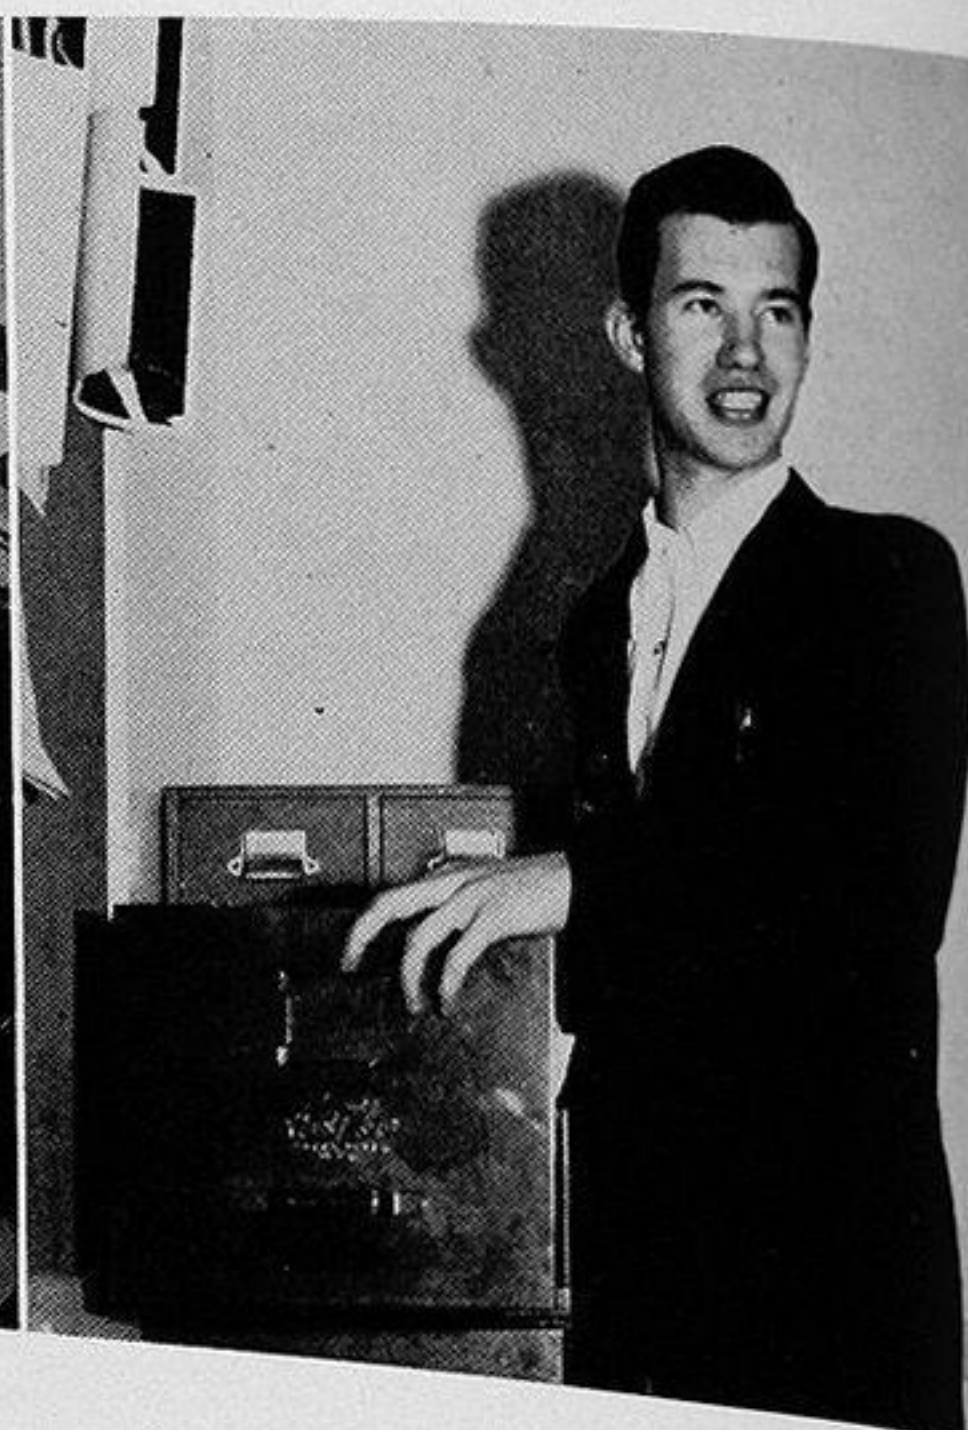

President DICK MORGAN has lived and slept AMS since he was a frosh, serving as secretary to the board, corresponding secretary, and vice-president before taking over the top office. He sits in on board of control meetings as the AMS representative and has his thumb in numerous campus activities.

AMS Officers

Treasurer JOHN KURTZ kept a tight hold on the strings of the AMS moneybags but managed to find time to take over the Campus day chairmanship fall quarter.

Keeping the AMS committee wheels rolling is vice-president BILL KNIGHT. He wields a wicked gavel at advisory board meetings, heads the AMS public relations program, and takes the president's place when he has to go to the dentist.

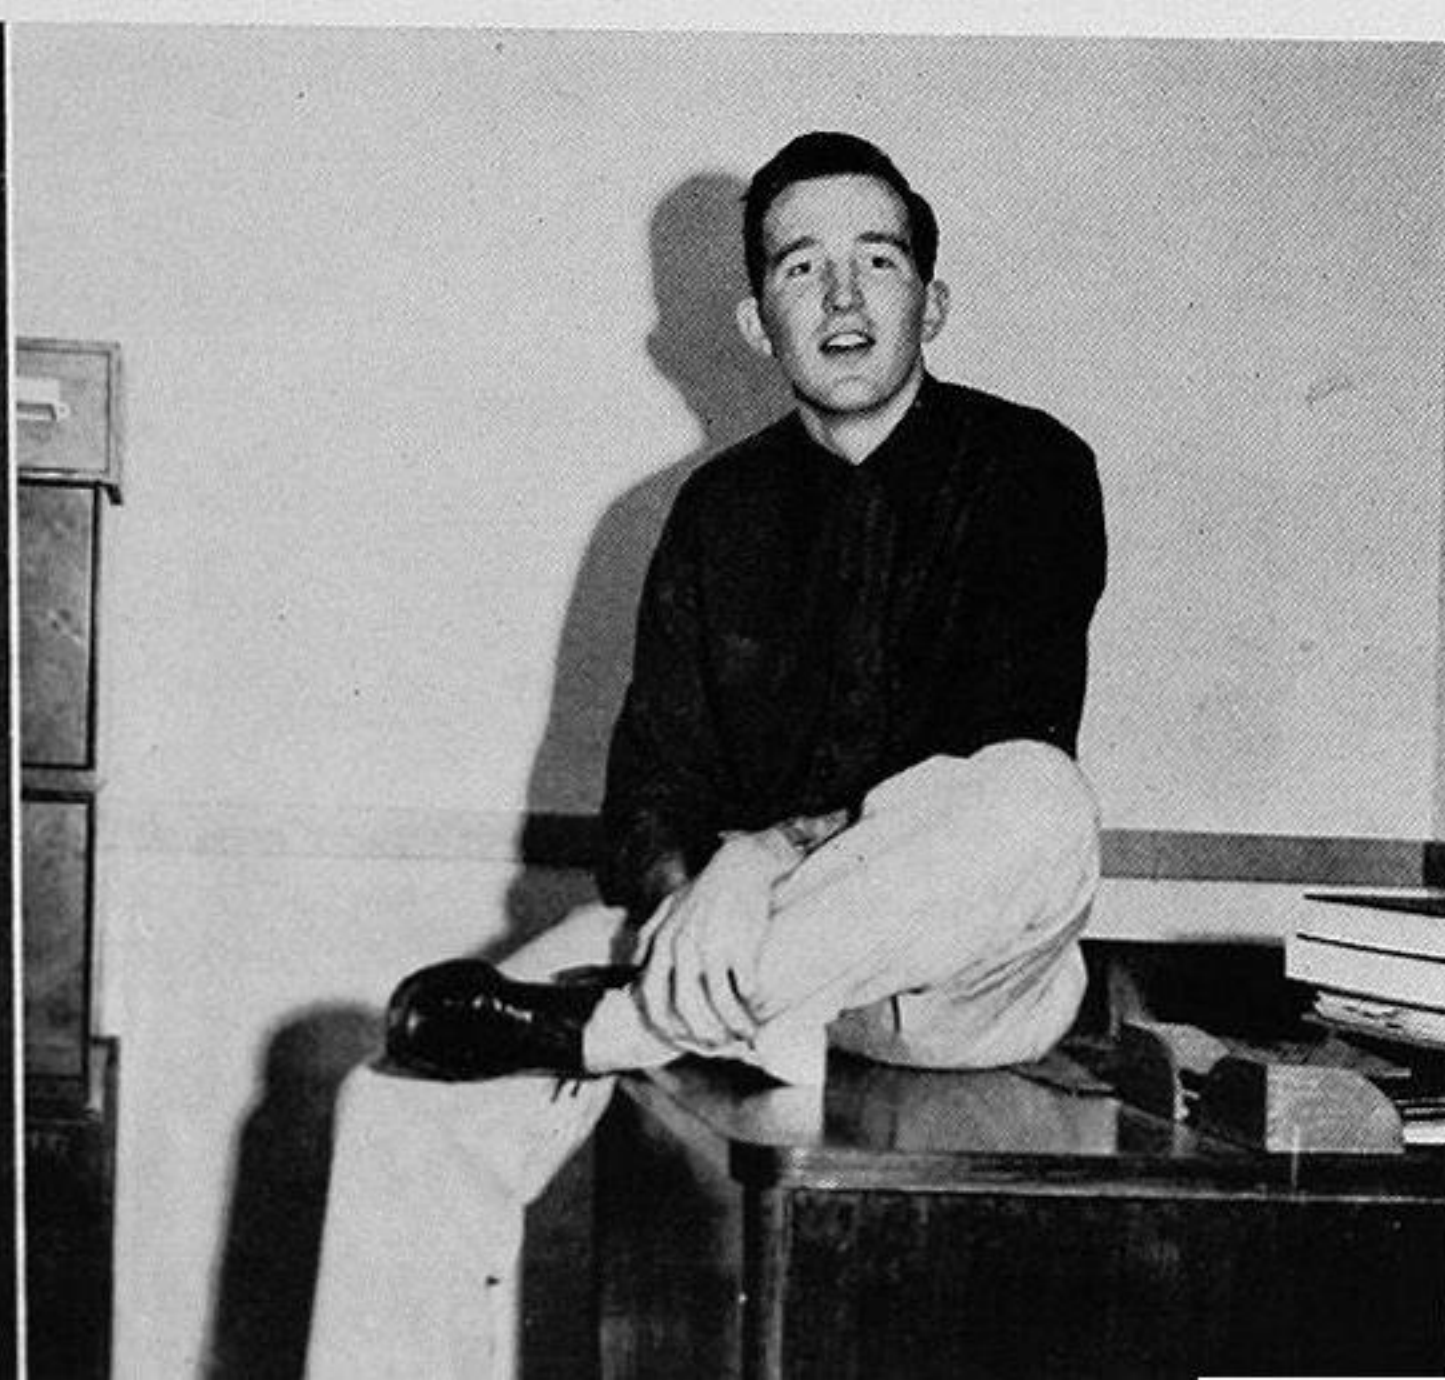

Since its beginning seven years ago, the AMS has developed into one of the leading organizations on campus. It is composed of all men students enrolled at the University and is designed to furnish a program of activities expressly for men.

Intramural sports sponsored by AMS furnish team and individual competition in a wide variety of sports satisfying the need for competitive physical activity for those who do not participate in inter-collegiate athletics.

Virtually every living group on campus participates and trophies are awarded to winners. Bowling tournaments will be held in the HUB with the opening of the new alleys there.

The AMS-sponsored Fistfest in the spring is one of the big events of the year. Our leading boxers vie for superiority before the largest audiences drawn by any University event.

AMS, with its rapid expansion, is making an ever increasing contribution to its part in the ASUW.

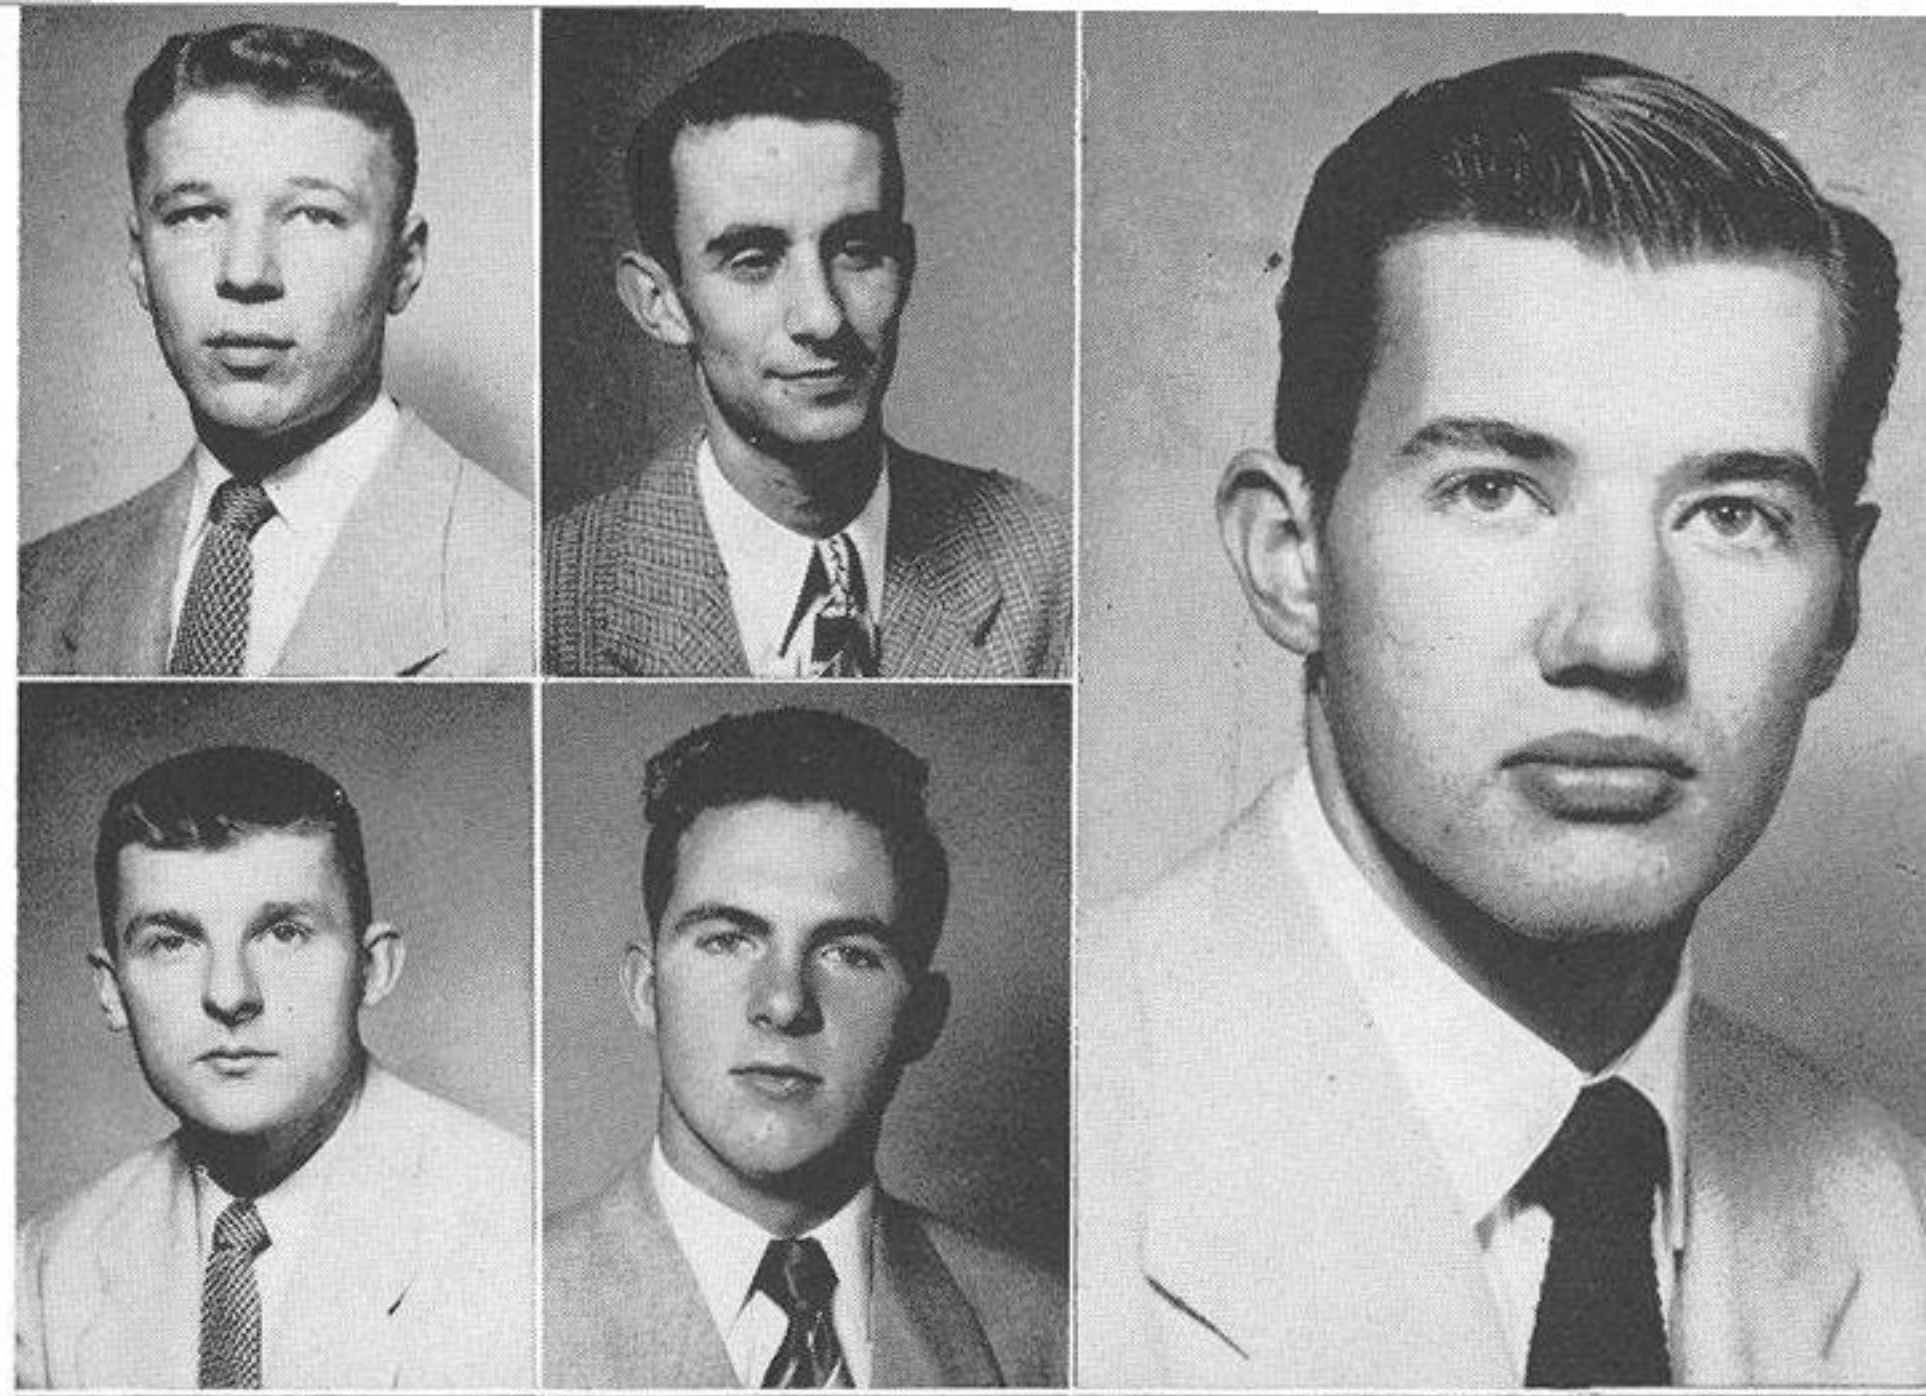

Secretary HANK EDMUNDS played an active role in AMS activities despite a heavy load of pre-med scholastic work.

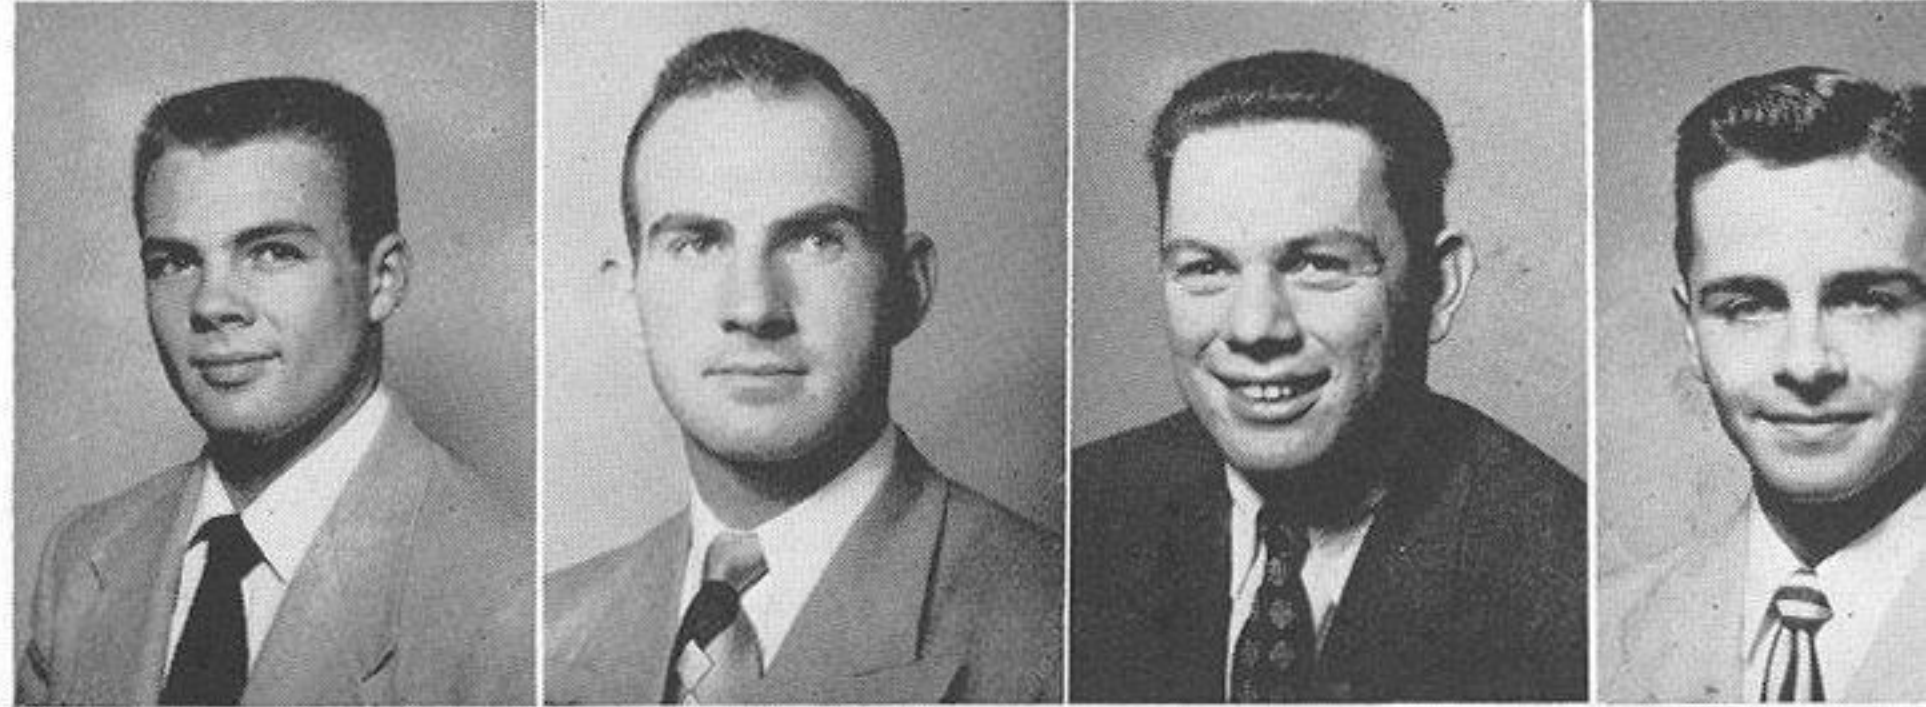

Law student AL (Curly) AUSTIN, board member at large, kept meetings in a lively state of affairs and provided a deciding ballot in close votes.

ADVISORY BOARD

Jim Wynn, secretary to the Board, also holds down the position of secretary to the Board of Directors of AMS officers.

To stimulate more interest and participation in AMS activities is the purpose of the Advisory Board. Under the Chairmanship of AMS Vice-President Bill Knight, the board is composed of all committee chairmen and representatives.

Meeting regularly throughout the school year, the group has been a sounding board to the AMS officers who make up the board of directors. Committee heads thus have the opportunity to suggest new fields of expansion for AMS activities and are able to discuss common problems in carrying out their respective jobs.

AMS Committees

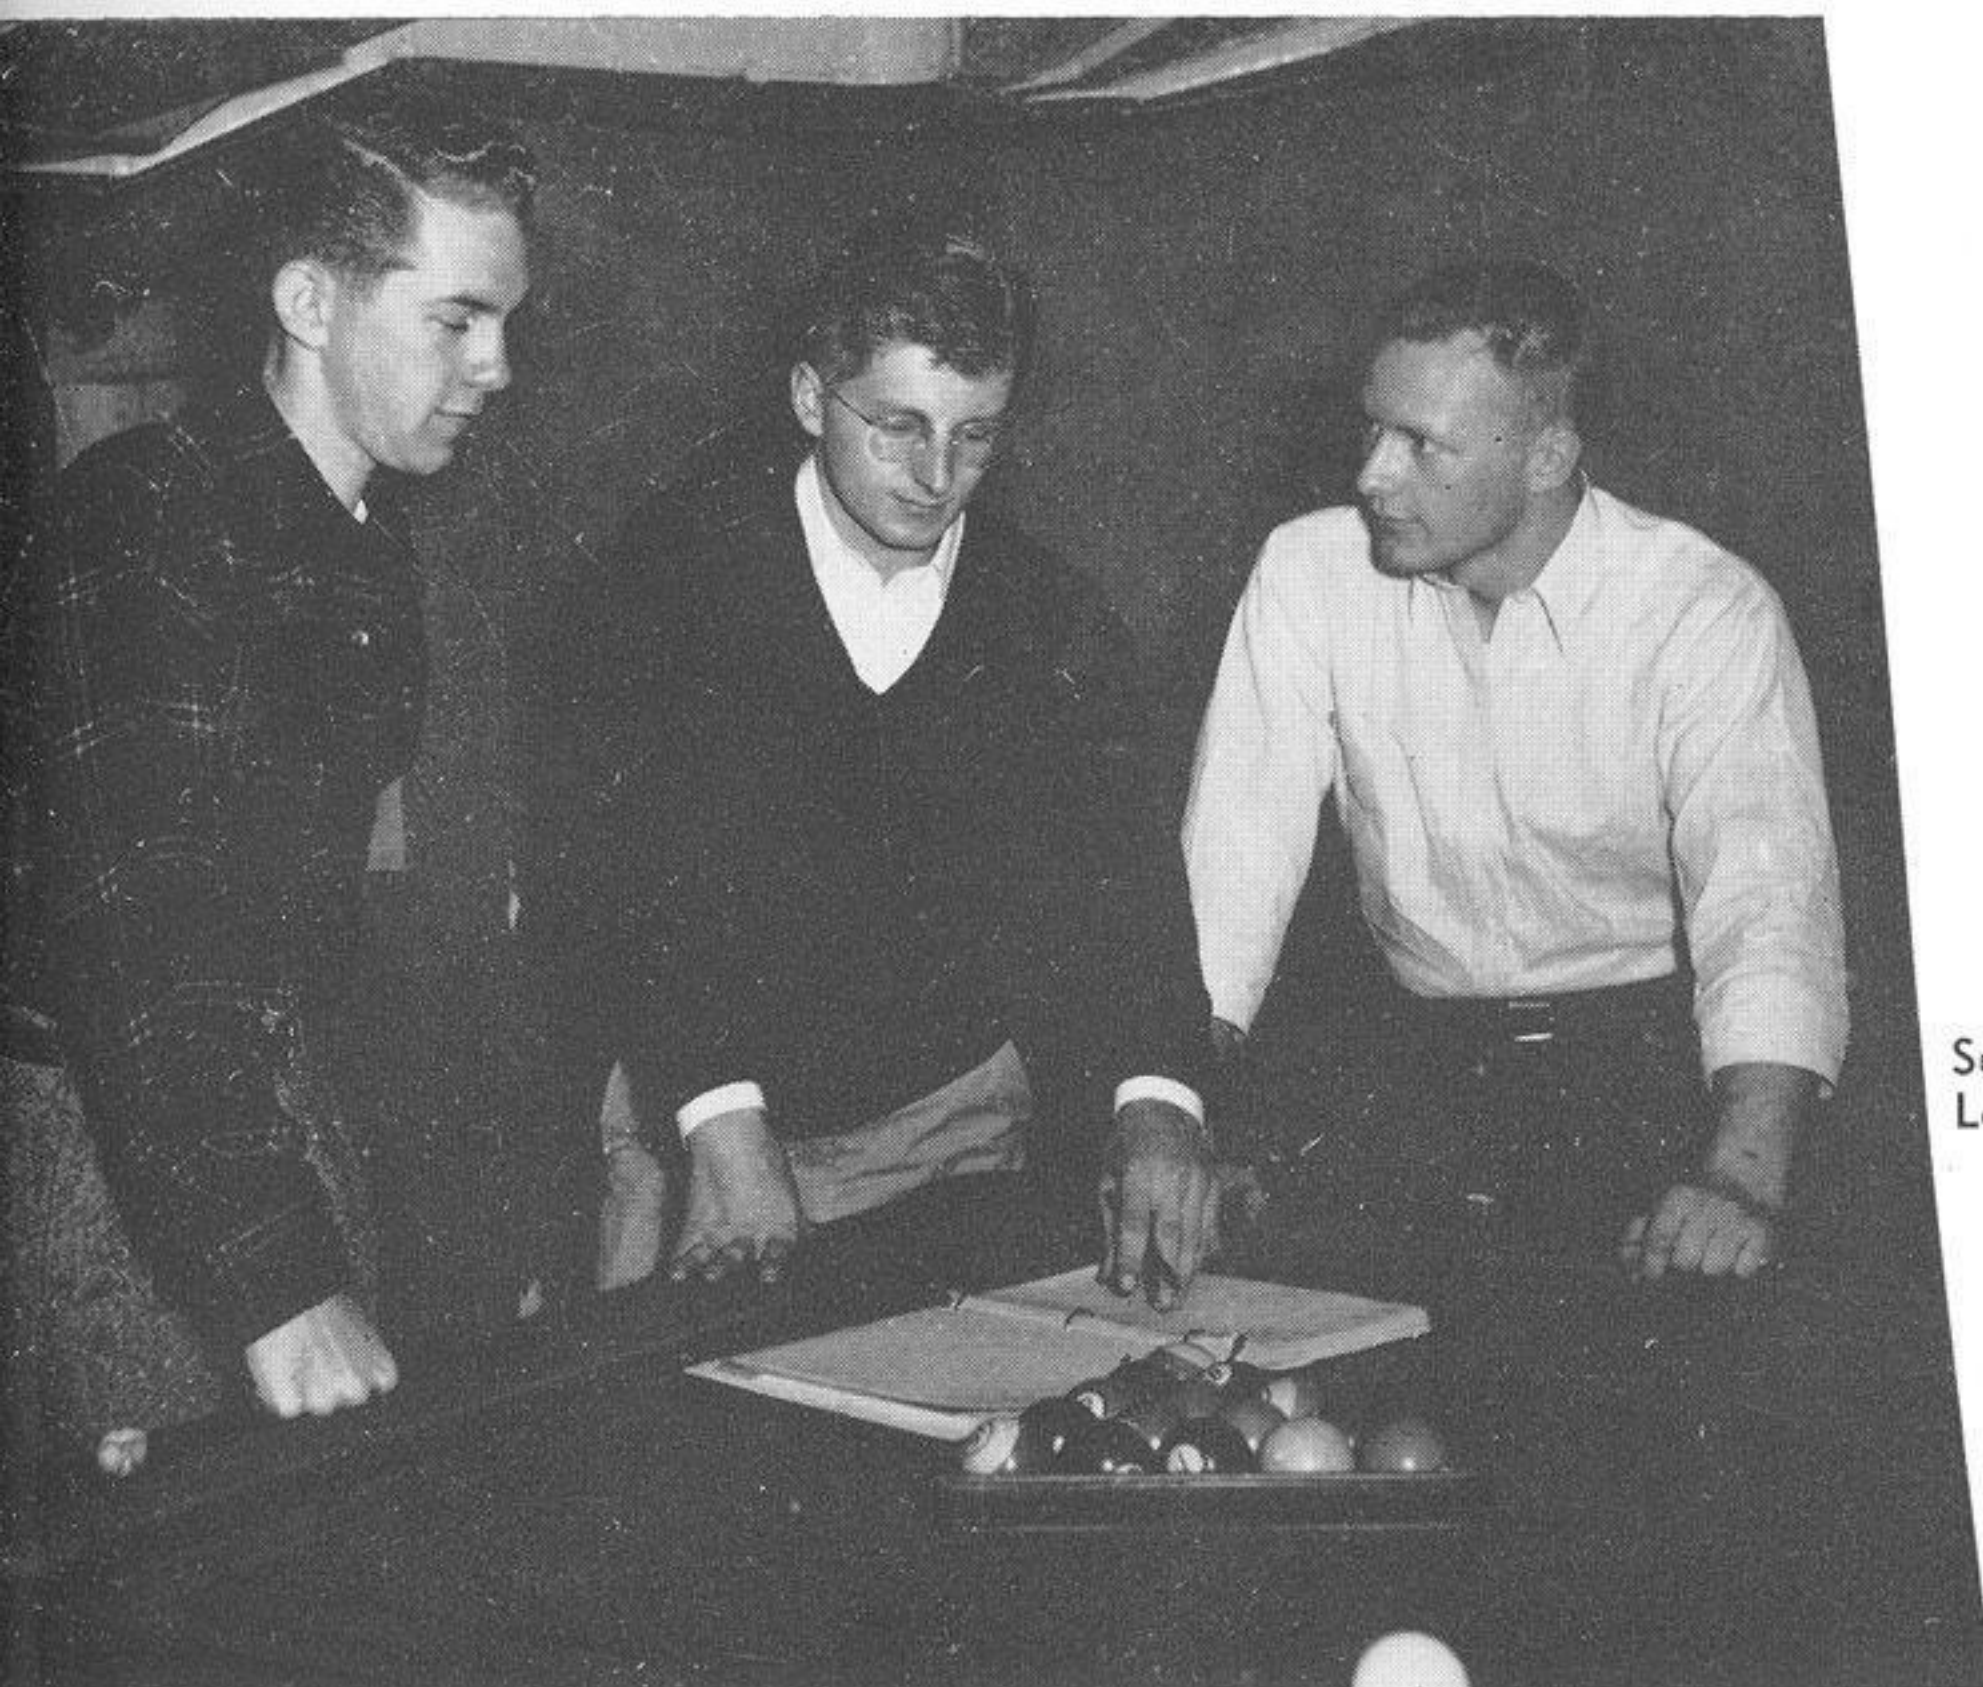

Al McMillan, Chairman; Ed Bland, and Marty McDougal are members of the Sports Movies Committee. They arranged showings of the Husky games.

Ken Wherry and his committee of Bill Reed, Paul Teel, and Von Gundlach were in charge of the AMS athletic program.

A very successful Fistfest was planned by the Fistfest Committee consisting of Rick Adams, Chairman; Chuck Magnuson, Publicity; Marilyn Wagstaff, Secretary; and Dick Allen, Al Nelson, and Frank Gustin.

Seasonal Activities

A near capacity crowd watched the House of Allen, faculty baseball team, and the Hub Heidelbergs in action May Day afternoon. Dr. Raymond B. Allen, umpire, had some pretty tough decisions to make; the teams were so evenly matched that the final result was a tie ballgame.

May Day

Marv Durham, ASUW president, and Lois Gunderson, ASUW secretary, crown the royal pair with daffodils and iris. The coronation ceremony climaxed a noon parade through Greek row.

Noontime festivities included a pie-eating contest. Alan Warnick eating for Zeta Beta Tau pushed his way through an apple pie faster than any other contestant, and was awarded the pie-tin medal.

Pansy Breakfast

Each year in the middle of May chapter members of Delta Delta Delta hold a breakfast to honor senior women. Highlights of the breakfast are the presentation of two Tri Delta scholarships and the pansy ring ceremony. Each married or engaged senior steps through the ring made by the chapter members from thousands of pansies, lower left. Chairman Carol Schreuder, below, is one of the first introduced.

Tolo

Timmie Raport, President of Mortar Board, Gail Zener, and Diane Whitam, chairman of the dance, are satisfied with the effect.

The Mortar Board Tolo is a traditional event, a turn about where girl-takes-boy, and where pledges are formally introduced. Both pledges and actives pitched in to make the elaborate decorations for last year's Tolo. The foil marshes and the swamp-like atmosphere carried through the theme "swampfire" and completely transformed the Civic Auditorium.

Last year's All-University Song Fest, jointly sponsored by Rally Girls and Malamutes, was held in the open air theater between the Music and Art buildings. Judged on interpretation, tone, technique, and general effect, four of the fourteen competing groups were chosen winners. Blaine Hall received the trophy for the small ensemble division, while Wesley Club received the award for mixed groups. Zeta Tau Alpha and Compass and Chart won the Women's and Men's groups respectively.

Sophomore

The Hec Edmundson Pavilion was overflowing the night of the Sophomore Carnival—forty booths, a giant merry-go-round, test-your-skill games, and thousands of spectators. Following the carnival activities was a dance—a new addition to the annual affair. In the dance intermission the trophy winners were announced. The judges decided that first place honors would go to Delta Delta Delta and Psi Upsilon, Alpha Xi Delta, and Sigma Nu.

Carnival

"Out of Mind," a psychologist's dream, was the theme of the Silver Fish-Husky Swim Clubs' 1951 show. The spectacle took place in the Men's Pool, double-diving being a highlight. The duet featured Ina and Peter Salmon; in the quartet were Dick Simmons, Bob Miller, Lila Argo, and Lillian Hope.

Recognition Banquet

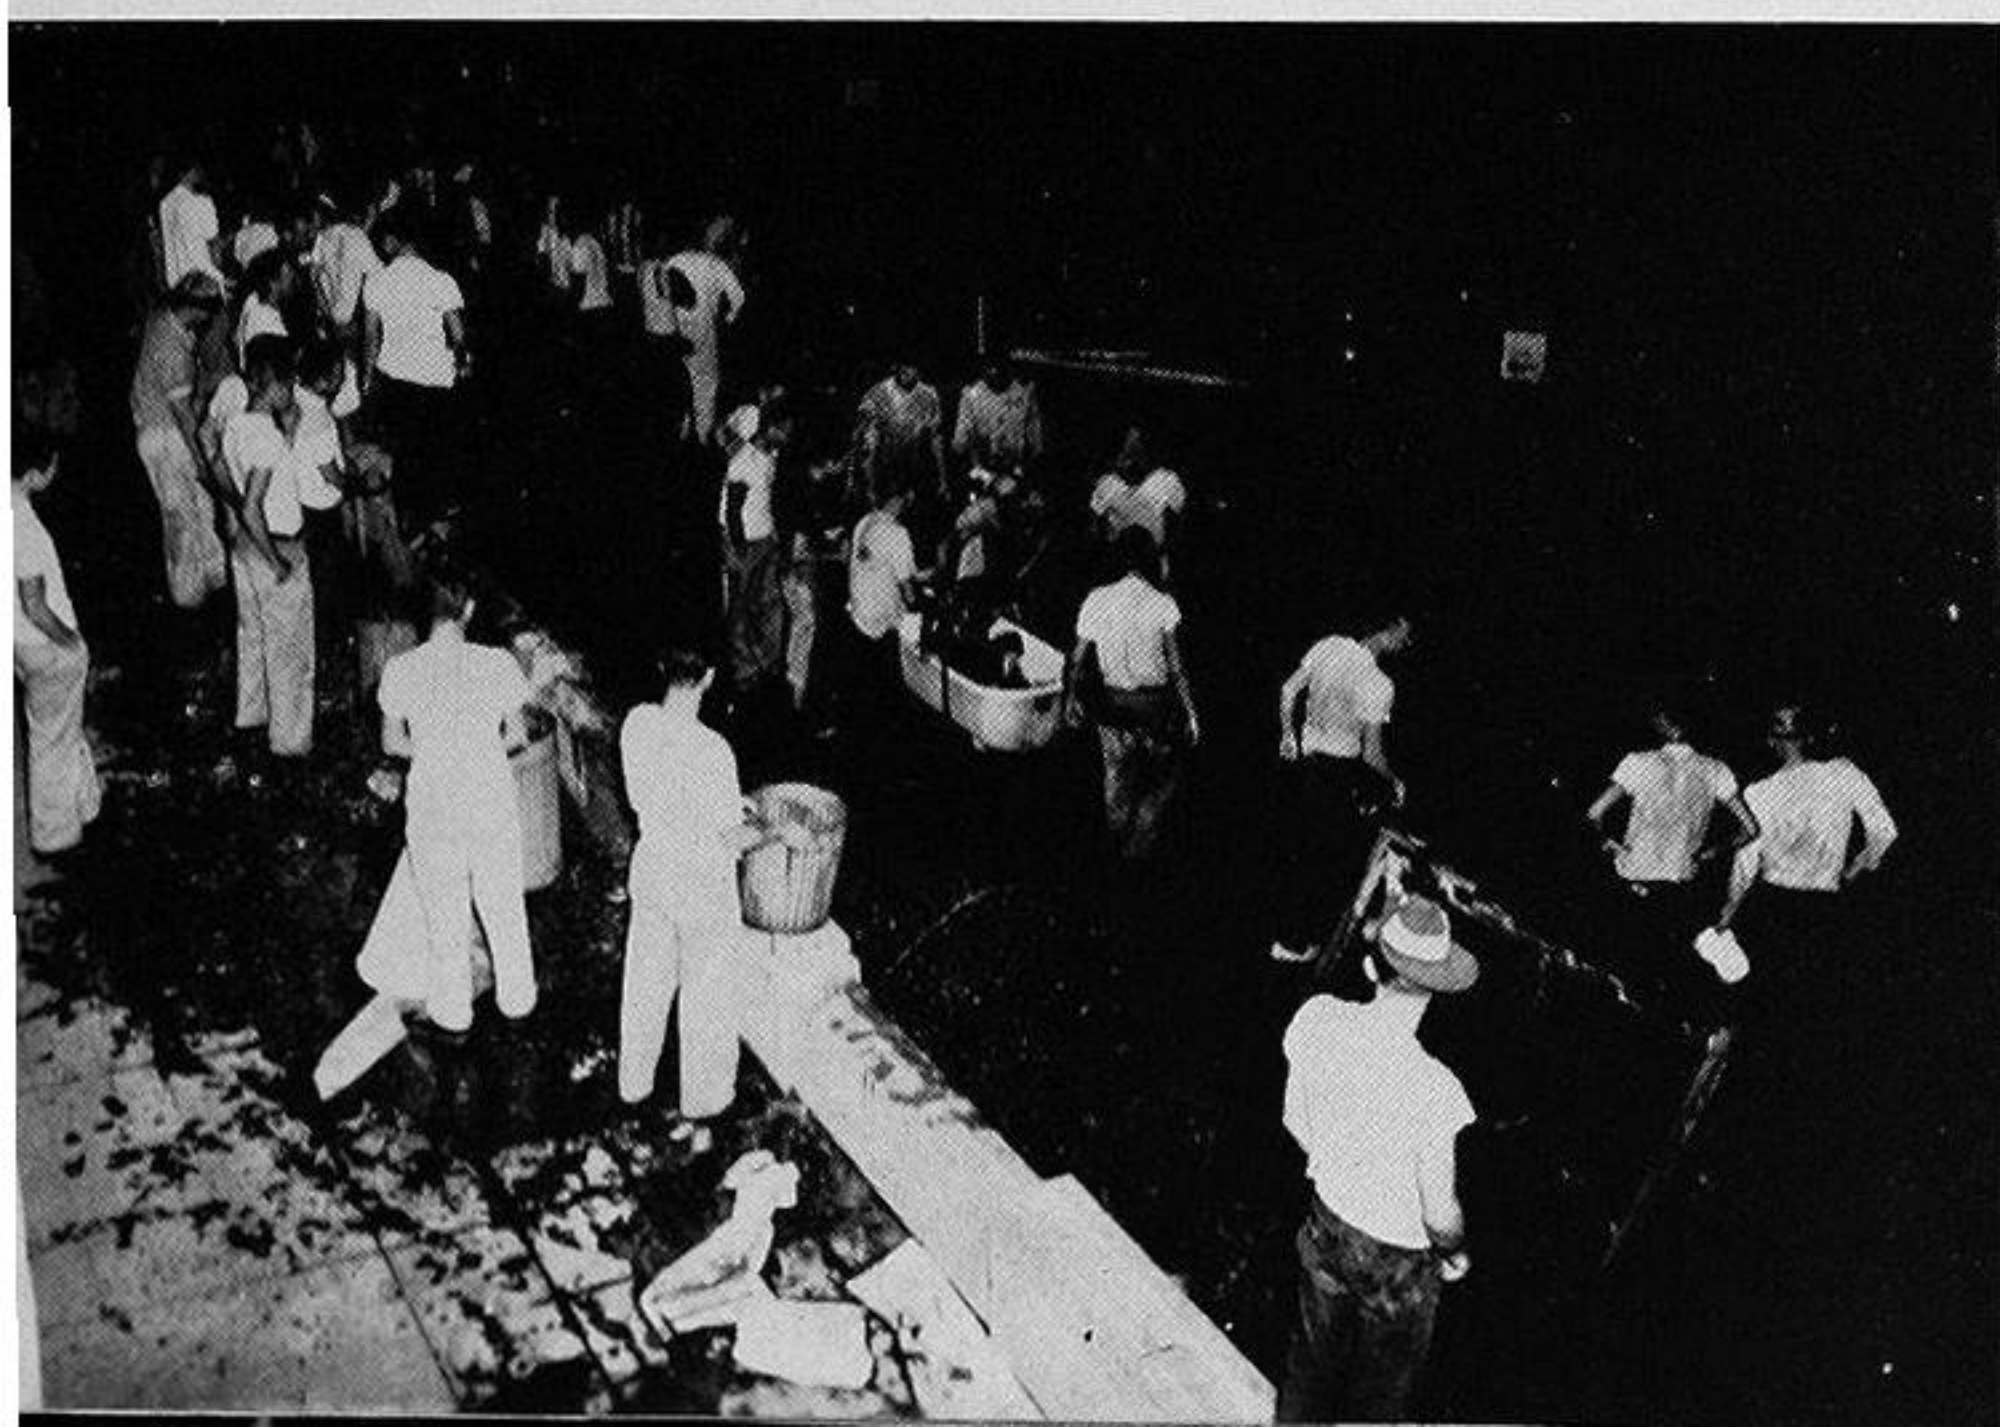

First of its kind on our campus, the Recognition Banquet honored two hundred students who had done consistent work in University activities, without receiving sufficient merit. Fifty guests chosen for their outstanding work received scrolls of merit. Four of these are pictured above: Tom Loftus, toastmaster at the banquet, Ritajean Hartung, Virginia Brown, and Bob Koski. The committee members are: standing — Roy Jorgenson, Ray Lundy, Dick Luther, and Stanley Fernyhough, chairman. Seated — Wendy Gibbs, Ruth Ellen Sullivan, and Joanne Torney.

SAE We Hate Women

"All girls are pigs" said the SAEs devoting a whole week in Spring Quarter to "hating women." They showed their contempt by their sloppy appearance (no shaving allowed), by dunking any unfortunate girl who might near their premises in a tub of water, and by general scorn.

The girls were not the only ones punished, however, for those weak brothers who could not maintain unfriendly relations with the opposite sex were thrown in the stocks.

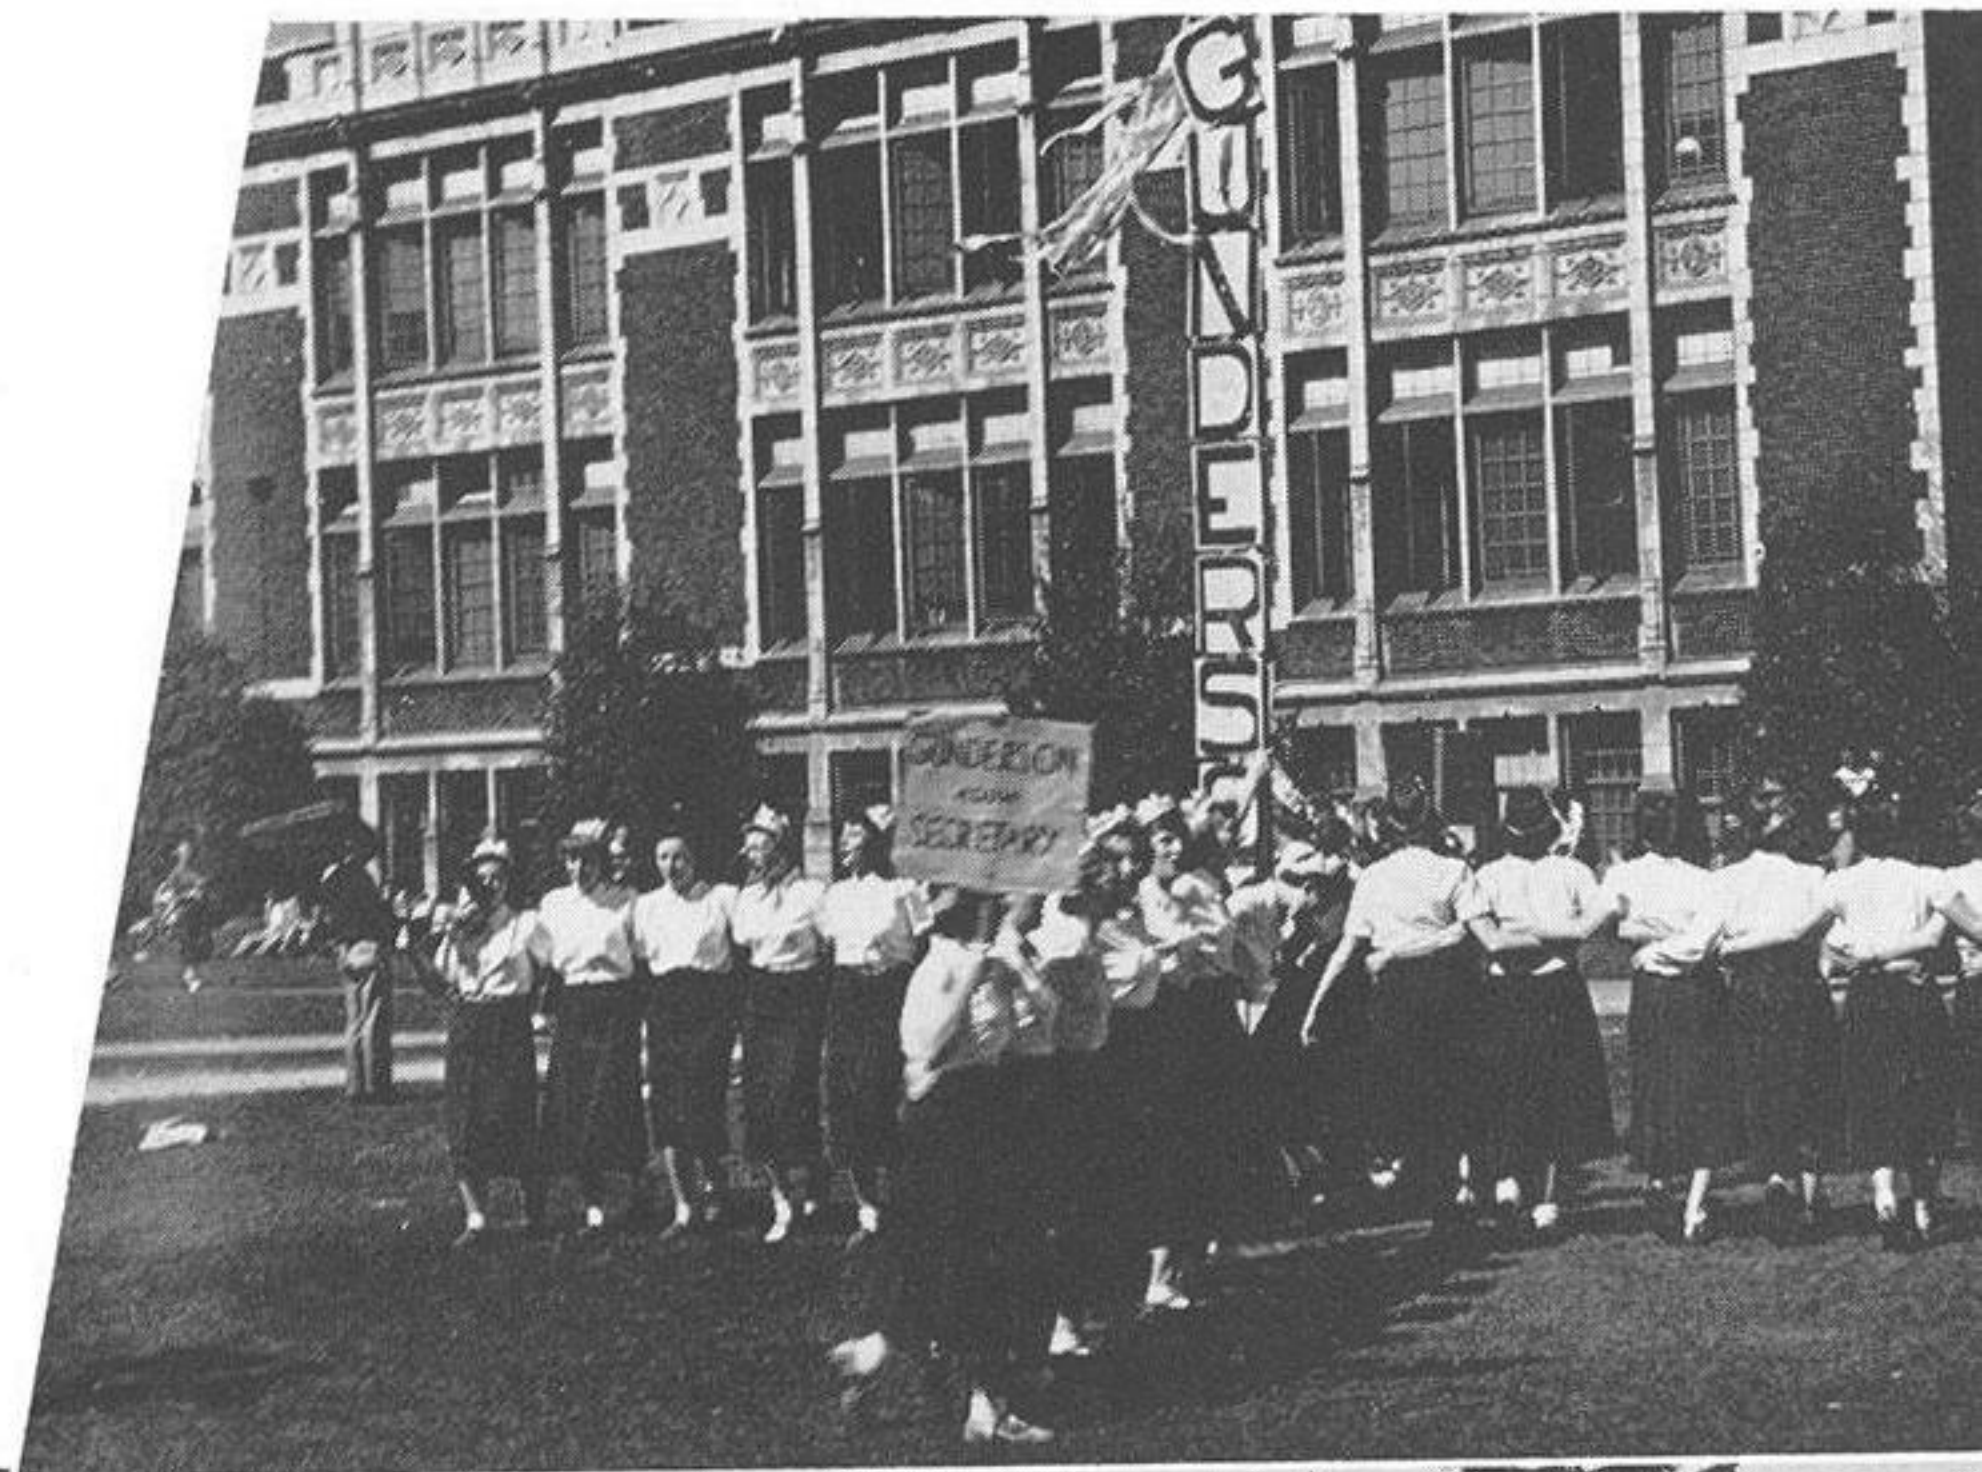

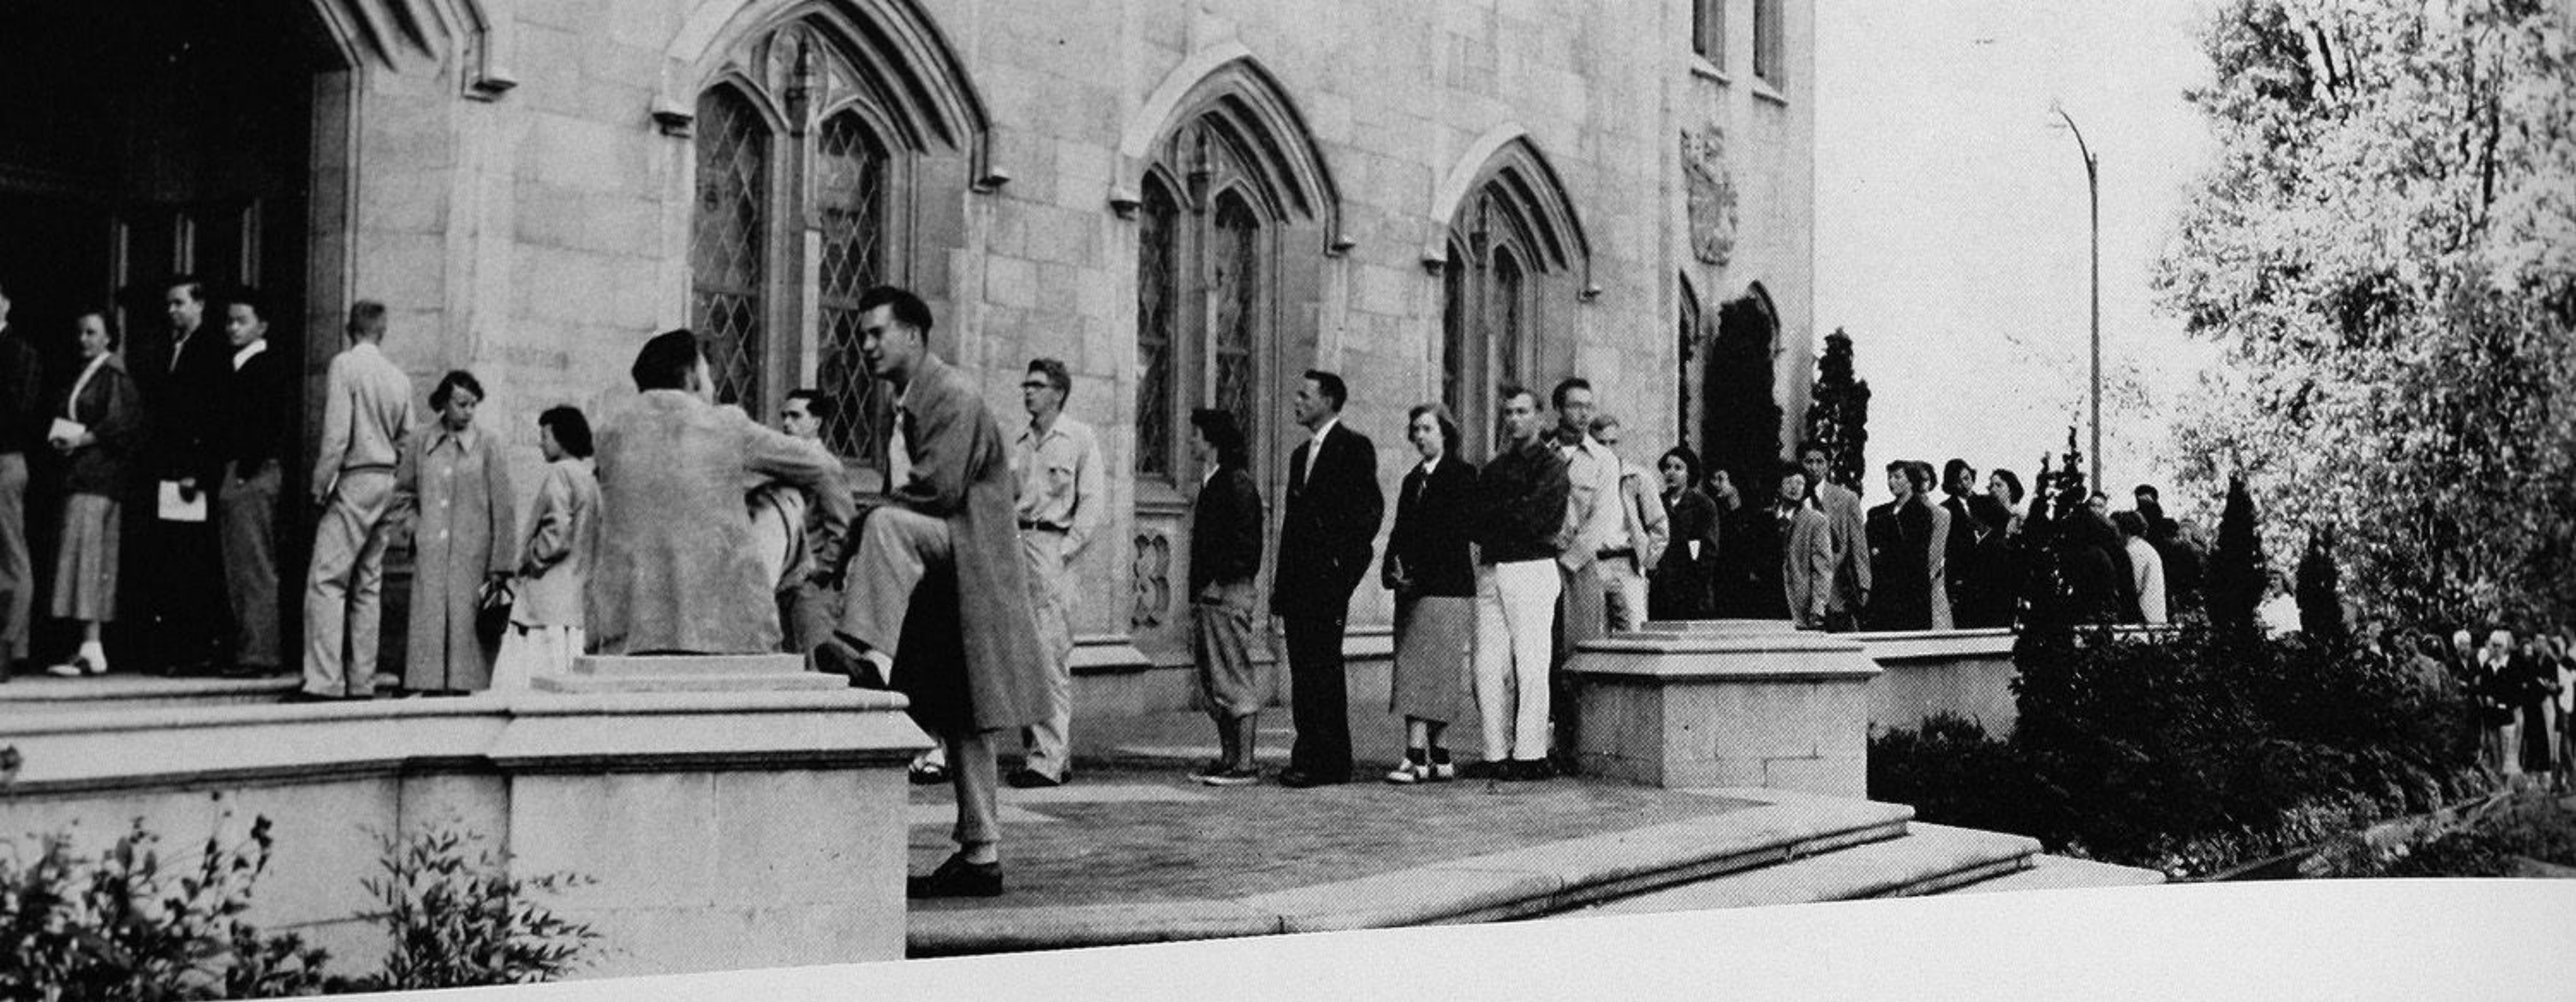

Caps and gowns were not part of the election. Mortar Board pledges were also tapped during this busy week.

Elections

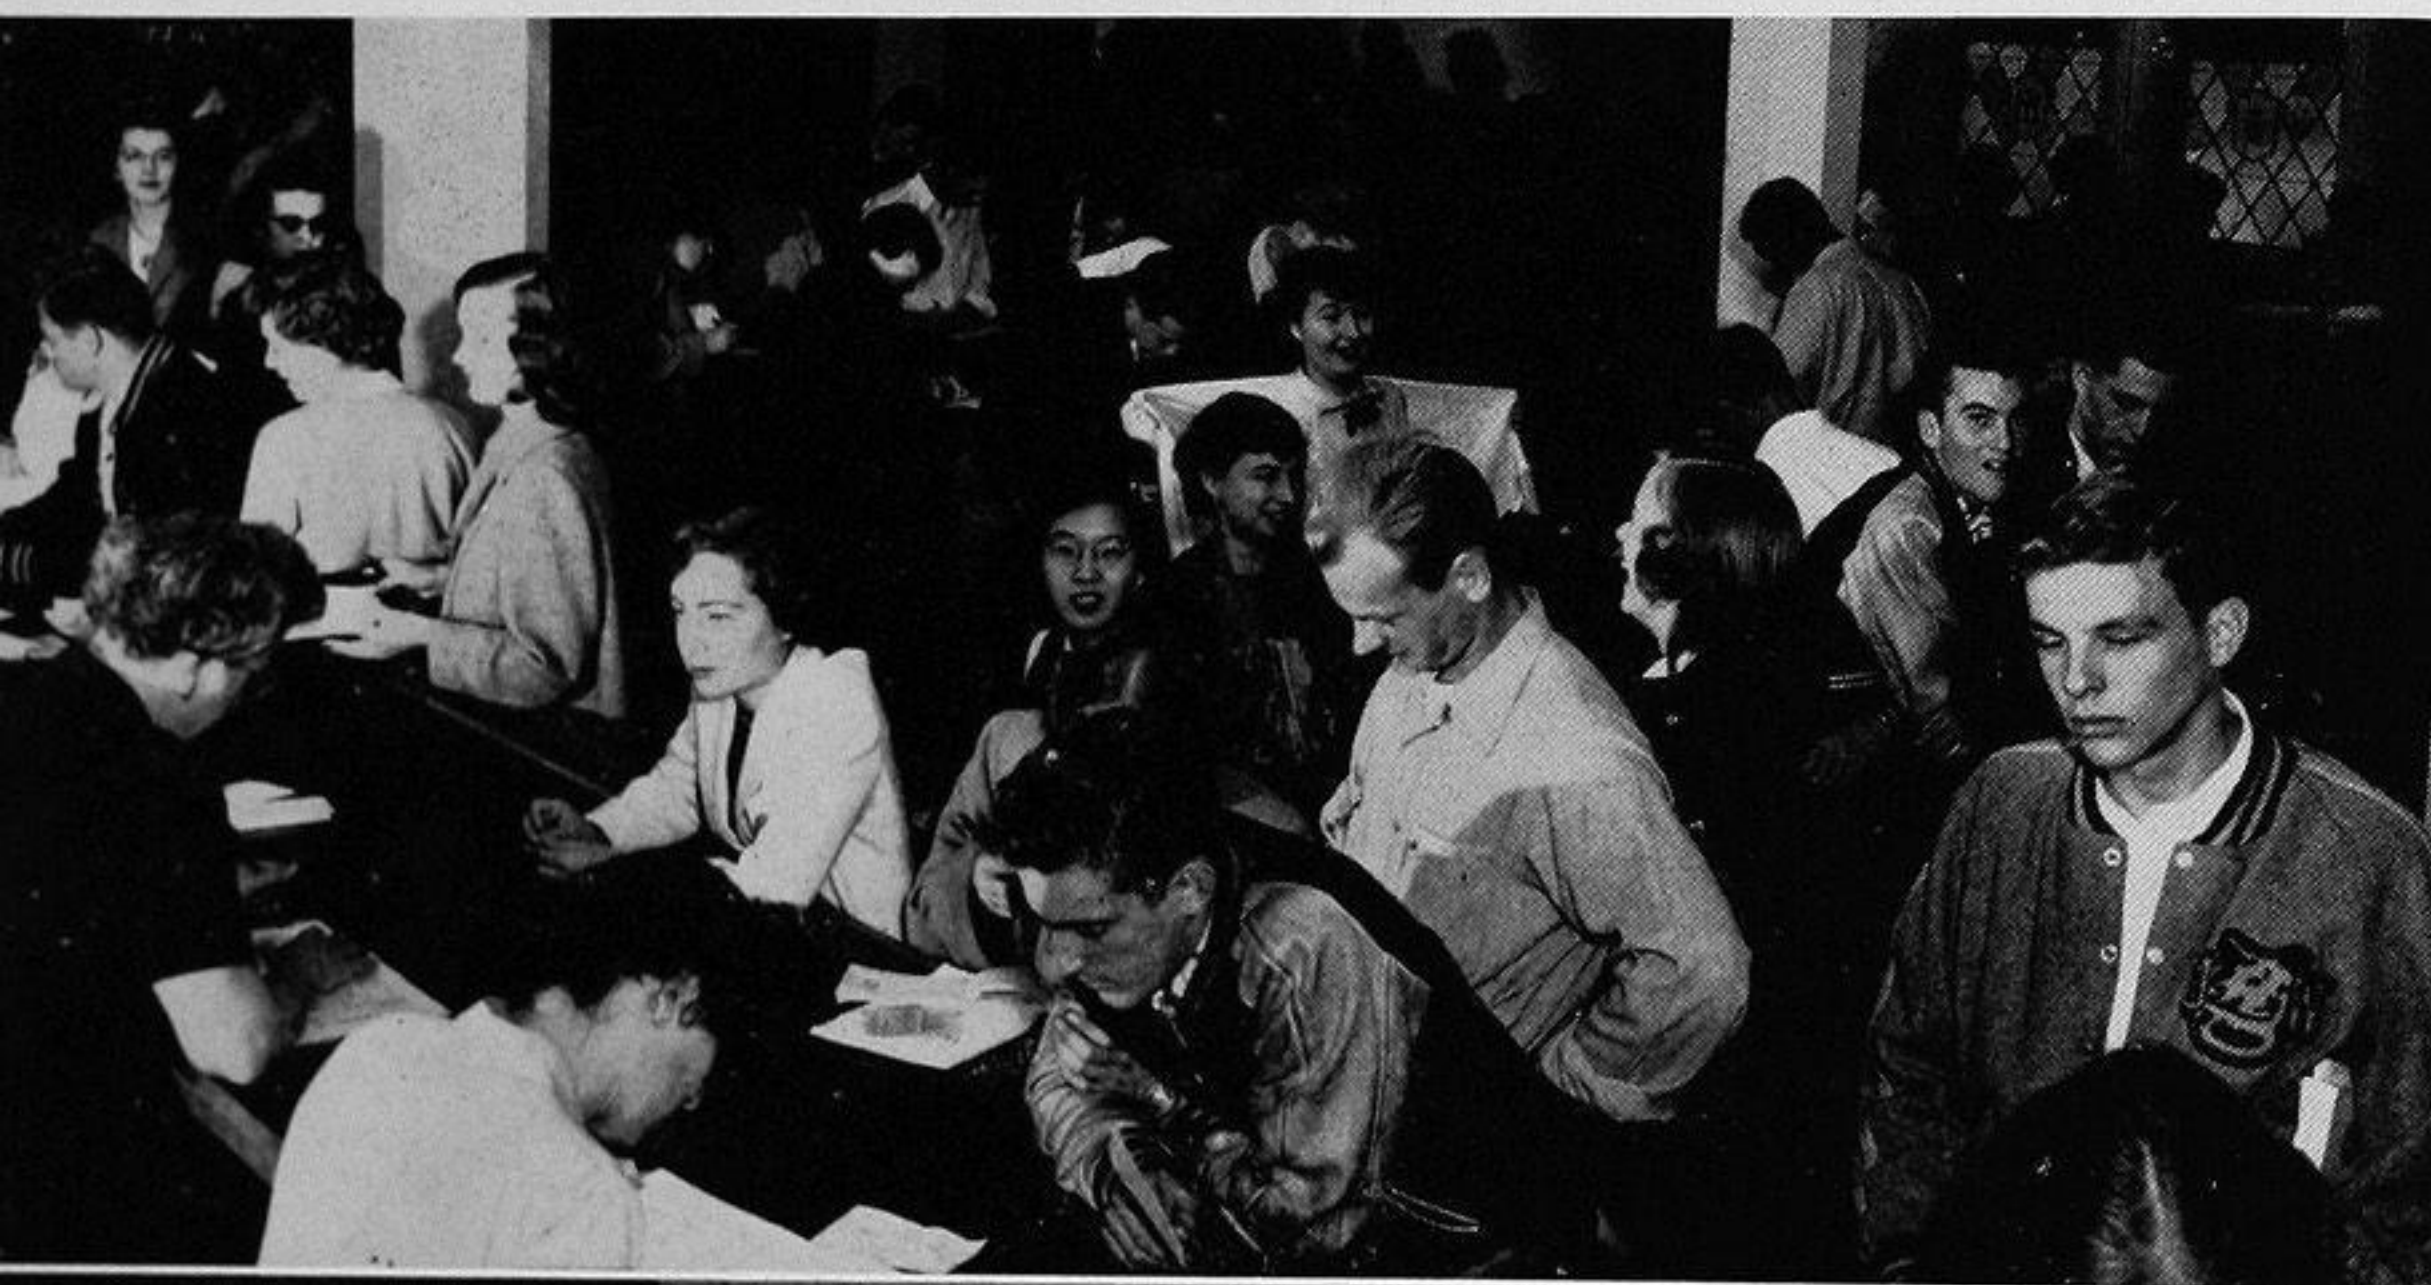

Elections take the campus spotlight soon after the beginning of spring quarter. Loud signs, spontaneous parades, songs, and chants all lend gaiety and confusion to the campaigns. Taking advantage of the warm spring days, campaigners roller-skate, twirl batons, dance, and sing in the Quad.

The line outside the administration building forms at the crack of dawn on the first day of fall registration.

Parking Lot

Early last fall steam shovels and bull dozers quickly transformed the wooded area on 17th N.E. and 45th into a new parking lot. Although many students were enthusiastic about the new arrangement, no one shall forget the "parking problem" issue. One of the satisfied ones is the campus policeman; he not only has a new brick shelter, but a snappy new uniform as well.

Frosh Elections

Highlight of Fall Quarter—Frosh elections. This rally was the climax of three days of heated campaigning.

Campus Day

No, not forestry majors, but eager students clearing a parking area at the Old Chimes Tower site.

Seventeenth Avenue was a scene of fevered activity. Here Lois Gunderson, Marian MacFarlane, Marianne Merritt, and Janice Merritt rake leaves.

Faculty and students turn out in a revival of Campus Day, originated in 1904. Raking, sweeping, chopping, digging—everyone pitches into cleaning and polishing the campus. Here Campus Day royalty, Queen Laura Crowell and King William Lutey, do their share.

Garb Day

Forestry students, all sporting jeans, plaid shirts, and a 3-weeks' growth of beard, took over on November 1 for their annual Garb Day. The day's activities included tree-climbing, double-bucking, and chopping contests, and lastly the log rolling competition on Frosh Pond. This event was highlighted by two coeds who entered to "call the foresters' bluff." At the Foresters' Brawl that evening Fred Michelotti was named King of Garb Day. King Michelotti had more points than any other forestry major in the day's contests.

The Theta Chi Quartet is spotlighted between acts with its rendition of "Undecided."

Christmas Sing

Students crept away from their books and preparations for finals long enough to join the faculty for the Christmas Sing. The traditional program, held in the Quad Wednesday afternoon, included the Navy Glee Club, the story of the birth of Christ told by Bill Hamilton, and group singing accompanied by a sextet and the chimes.

Busy putting up green and silver trees to form the backdrop for the Christmas Sing are members of the committee: Bill Hamilton, Derek Burleson, Joan Luckner, Karen Russel, Arlene Thompson, Jane Piper, Paul Close, Kathy Bode, general chairman, Kathy Bryant, and Bob Leghorn.

Highlight of the program was President Allen's farewell message to students and faculty. The address was his official goodbye before assuming his new governmental position.

Joining in the Christmas spirit Mortar Board members Kathy Oliver, Jean McDonald, Audrey Lindgren, Pat Quinn and Barbara Brace sell candy canes to Jim Hennes. Proceeds from sale are used to provide Mortar Board scholarships.

Blood Drive

The donating of blood was an all-campus effort to serve our country. The drive, built around the donations of ROTC students, was supported by the rest of the student body and faculty as well. President Allen, before leaving for his new duties in Washington, D. C., was a willing donor. The capacity of the University's mobile unit is 350 pints a day. Donations are encouraged by generous offers of coffee and donuts to each donor. The much-needed blood is flown to wounded soldiers in Korea.

Ring Dance

Hi-point of the Navy ROTC social season is the Compass and Chart annual Ring Dance. Crowning of the NROTC Queen is the climax of the dance which is steeped in tradition dating from Class Ring Day at Annapolis.

Queen Jean Ross was presented the "royal scroll" by staff officers.

The dinner-dance was held at the Inglewood Golf and Country Club this year.

Architect's Ball

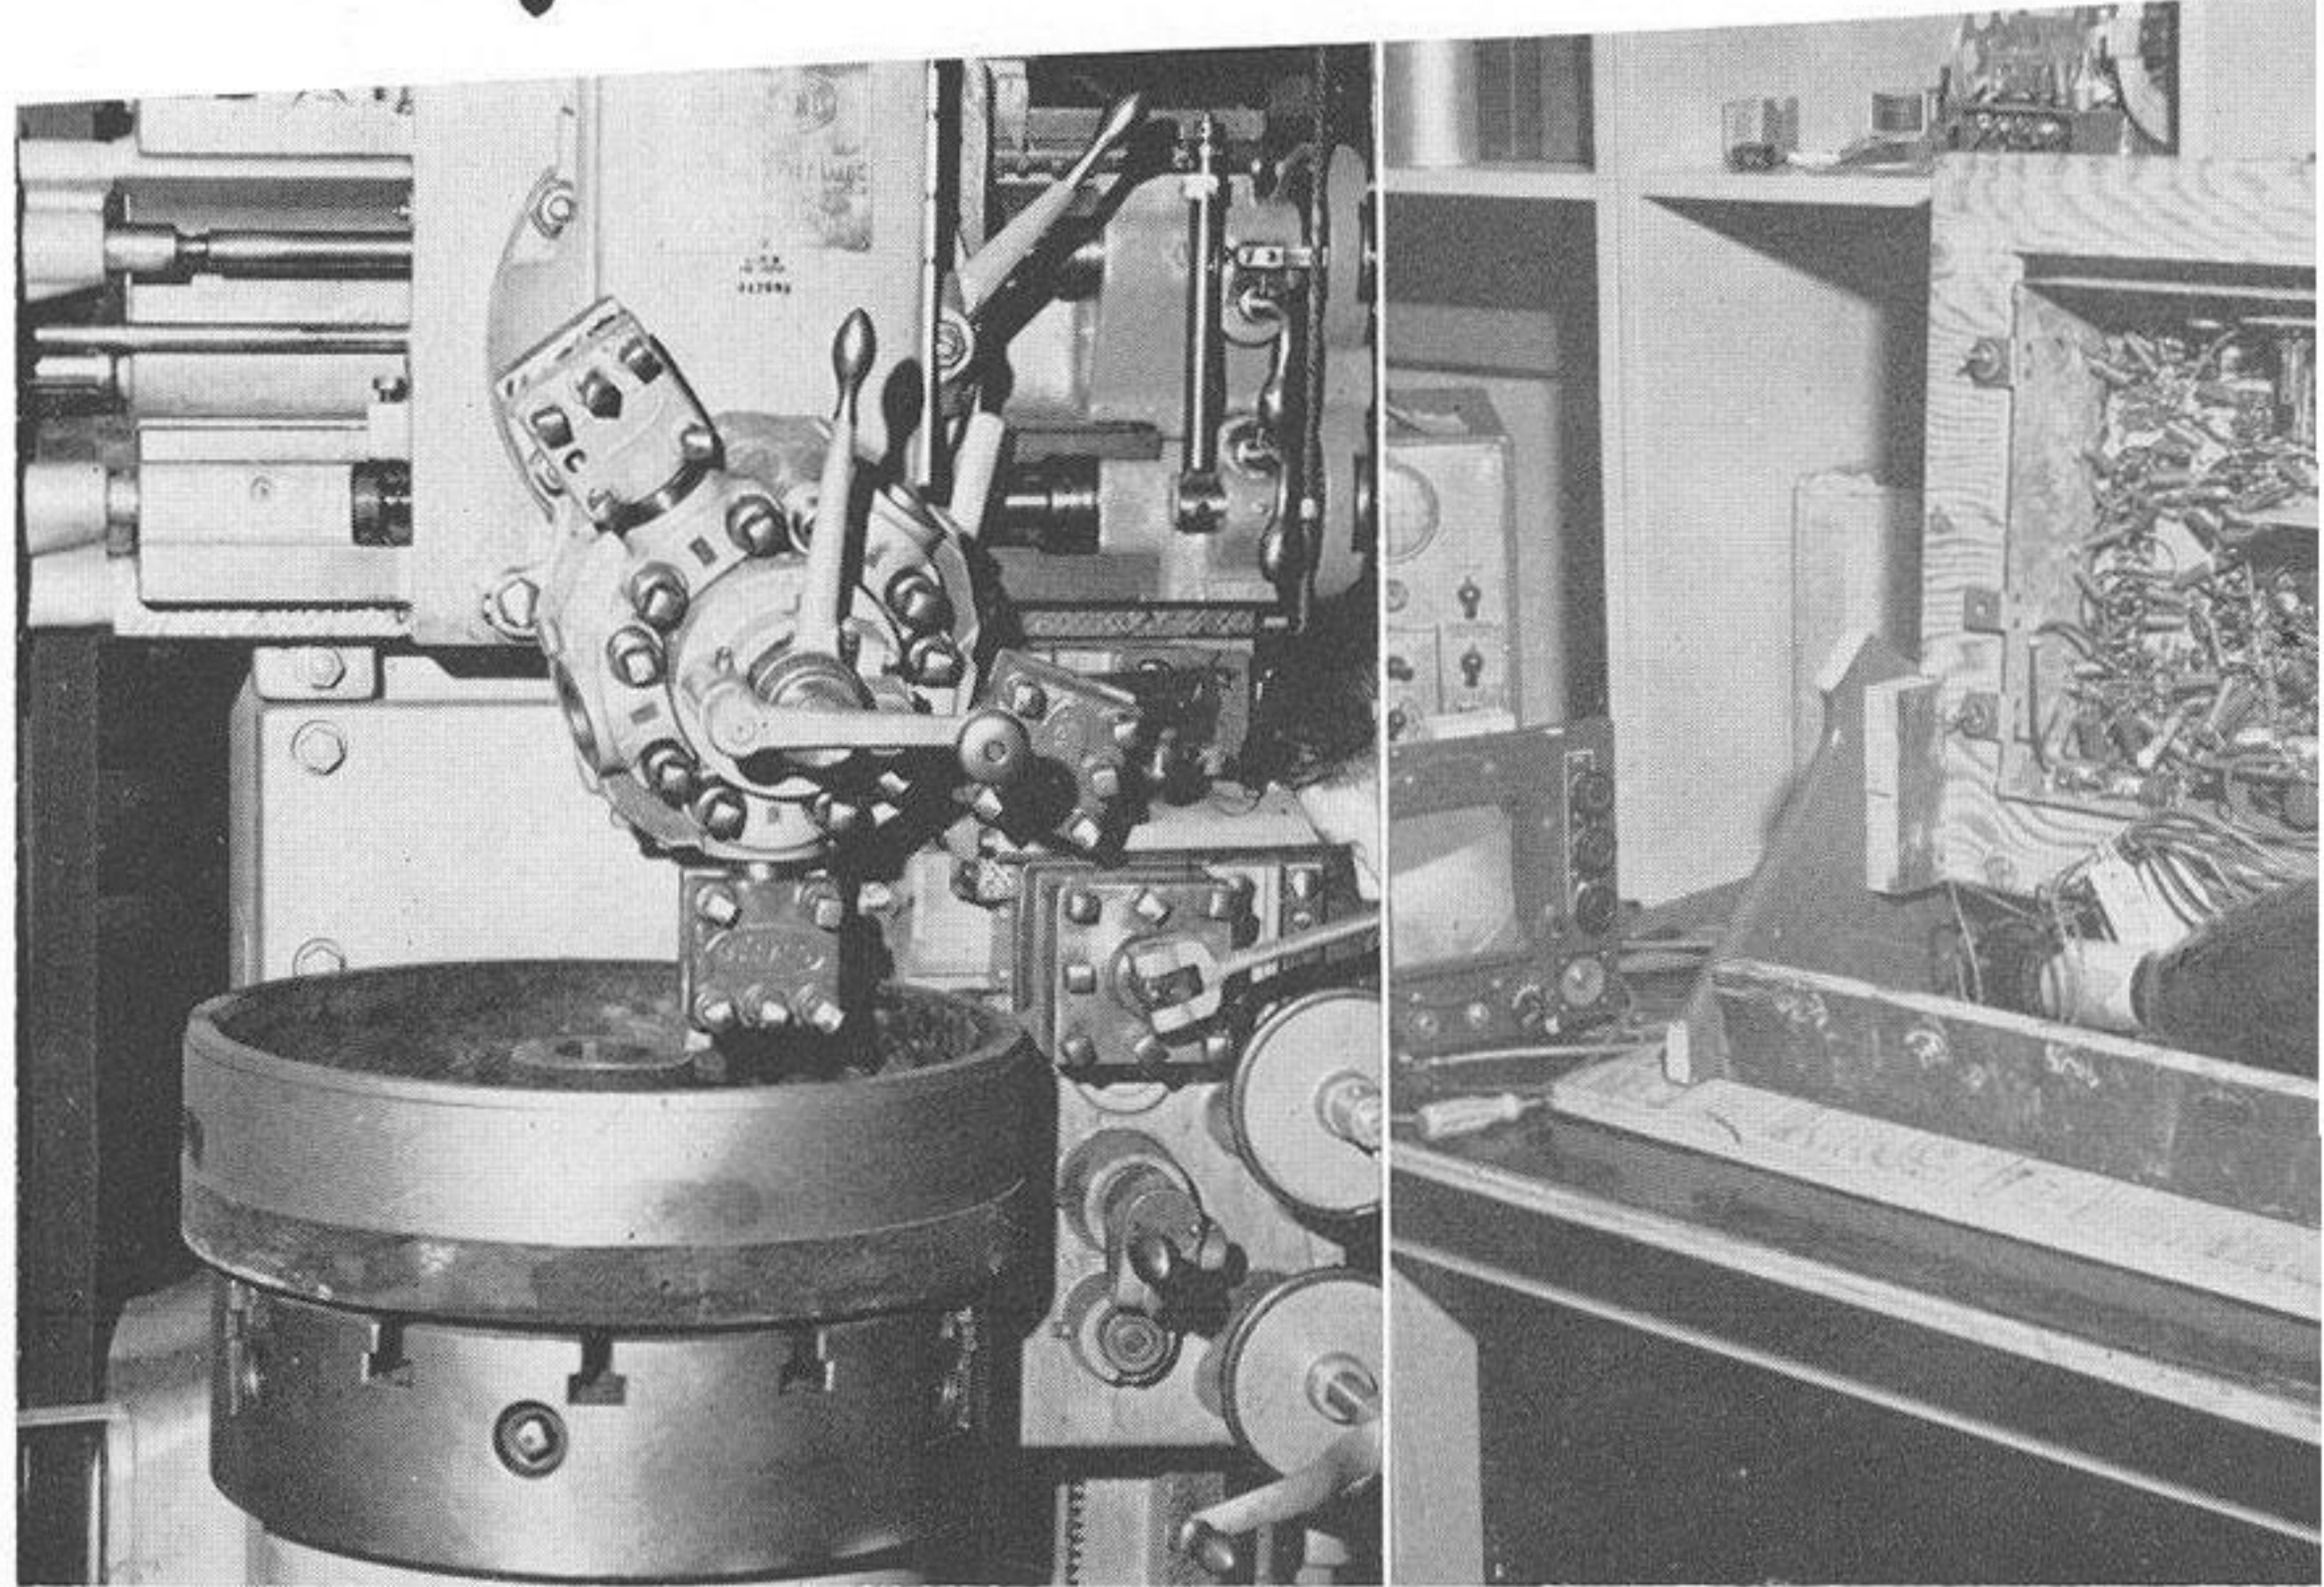

The annual Architect's Ball, sponsored by the Atelier Club, was held in traditional fashion this year. "Forbidden Fantasy," the theme, is inadequate to describe this affair. Though costumes were original, judges decided that Bill Phipps and his date were unique and awarded them the prize. Richard Bouillon was chairman of the dance which was held again this year at the Inglewood Country club.

Engineers Open House

Engineering students plan during Winter Quarter for their biennial Open House. 30,000 visitors attended the show, scheduled for April 4 and 5. The Open House, completely student planned and operated, featured displays by each of the nine engineering divisions, with a trophy for the best exhibit. The chemical engineers attempted to keep the trophy which they won in 1950, but they had heavy competition—the mechanical engineers are a modernized Stanley Steamer, and the aeronautical engineers gave a wind tunnel test to a student-designed aircraft. The electrical engineers won the trophy, however, for their over-all presentation in the Electrical Engineering Building.

Cultural Events

Although it is the largest vocal group, the University Singers is found on television, radio and in many other informal performances. Climaxing a successful year was the annual Winter Concert, in which Dr. Chapple combined orchestra and chorus.

Music

Perhaps the most authentically traditional music group is the Madrigal Singers, which performs music of the 16th century on. Miss Helen Hall, director, has them singing around the table in the early madrigal custom.

Many new music groups, organized by students, have come into existence in the past year. This one was originated by Danny Moe, a graduate student in conducting.

Music and non-music majors alike enjoy the activities of A Cappella Choir. During the past few years, Prof. Lawrence's group has become widely known throughout the city for its many appearances at group meetings, on radio and in concert. It is the largest unaccompanied choral group on campus, numbering about forty among its members.

Acquisition of an imported harpsichord for the music department early in the fall of 1951 gave promise of even greater achievements throughout the school year—a promise which was easily fulfilled. Although the climax of the year came with the annual Christmas Concert, it was the less traditional which contributed to the success of 1951-52 as a music year.

Presentation of the work of a faculty member, Professor Verrall, in the opera workshop, formation of new music groups among the students themselves, and radio and television performances were some of the accomplishments which indicated the ever-broadening scope of musical activities. Despite a heavy extra-curricular schedule, Dr. Stanley Chapple directed the entire year with confidence and success.

Prof. "Chuck" Lawrence, director of the A Cappella Choir and the Men's Glee Club, in his favorite directing position.

The men have it to themselves at last! Unhindered by female competition, the Men's Glee Club has been one of the most popular and publicized groups on the campus. In the spring of 1951 they were sponsored by a local group on a tour through Alaska. The past year has been accented by many local appearances, several in conjunction with the A Cappella Choir.

Activities shown on these pages are only a small part of the complete instrumental program. Behind the scenes, students and faculty are constantly participating in informal recitals, open to anyone who is interested in good music. Classes in piano and brass, woodwind or string instruments are offered and required of many music majors. Graduates of these classes may participate in an "experimental" orchestra. Each year initiates new faculty or student groups, which, though temporary, add a great deal to the life of the department.

Faculty members join with students in the Sinfonietta, or "little symphony." Despite limitations on practice time, the Sinfonietta appeared on the "Making Music Series" and in concert many times during the year.

The more "serious" band instrumentalists find the Concert Band a good place to satisfy their "frustrations." Directed by Mr. Welke, it has not only performed in concert but often provided musicians for smaller groups.

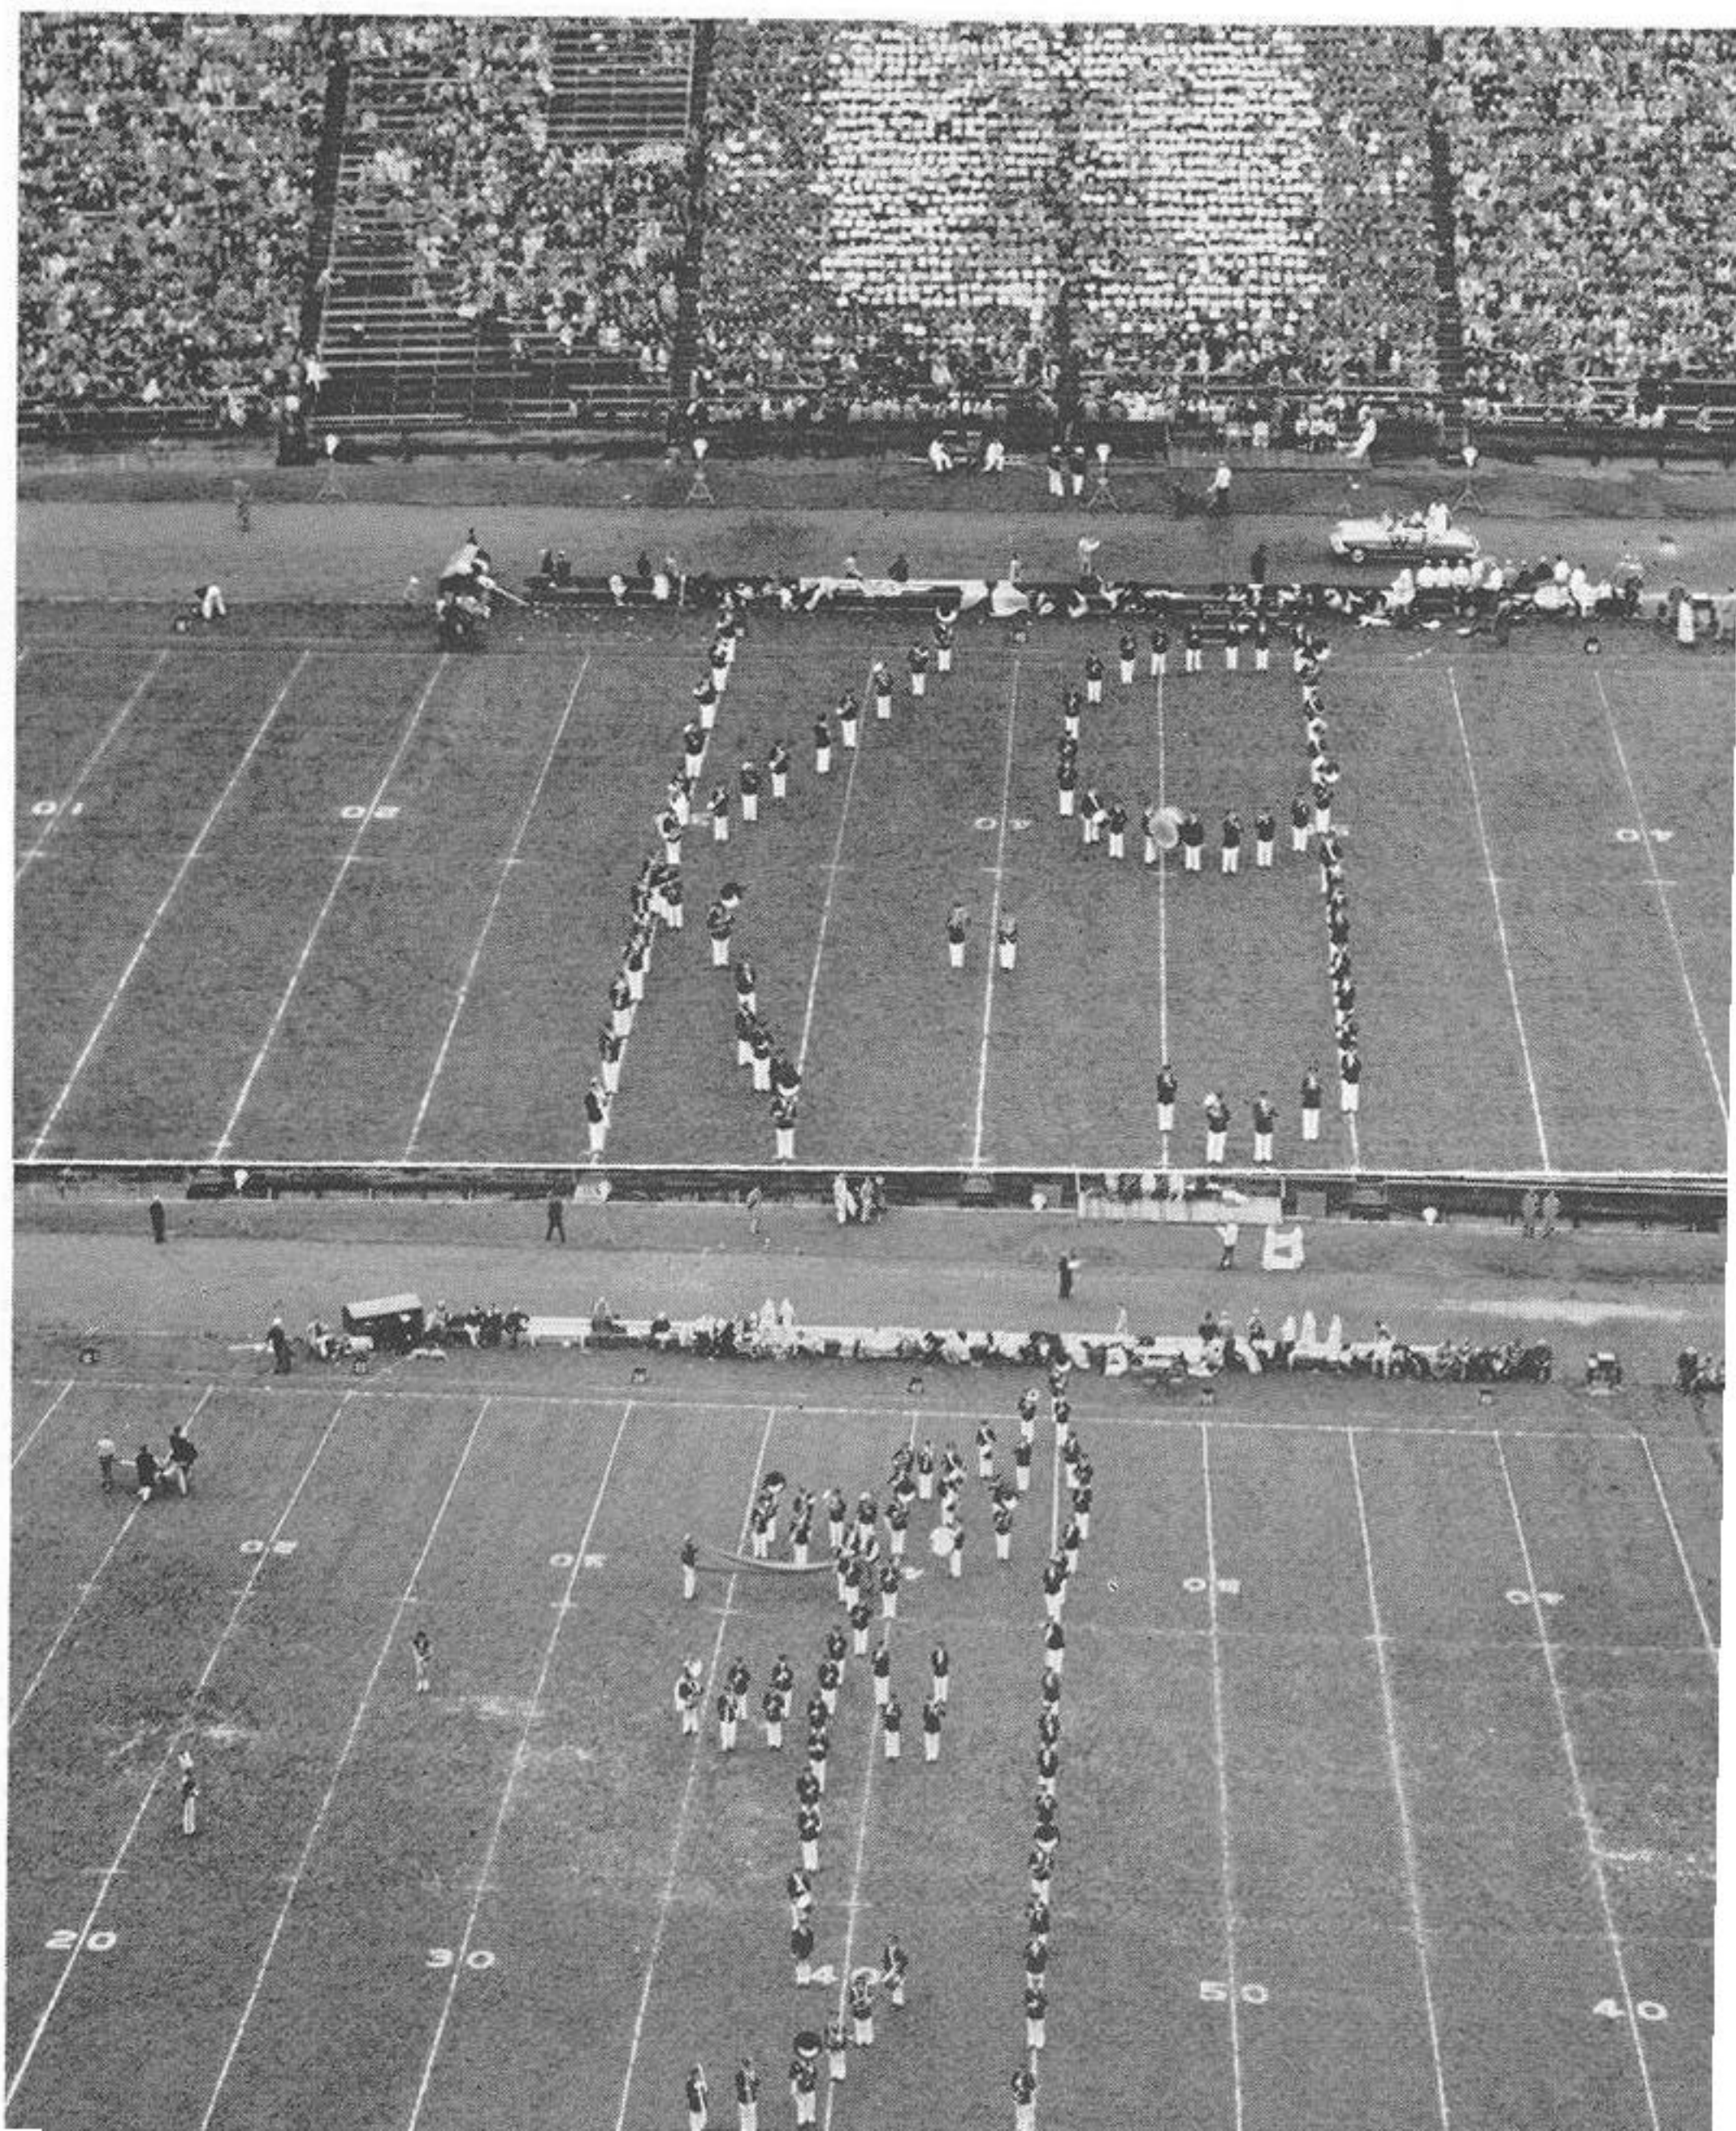

Prof. Walter Welke is the man behind the baton at all football games, as well as the head of all band and related instrumental activities.

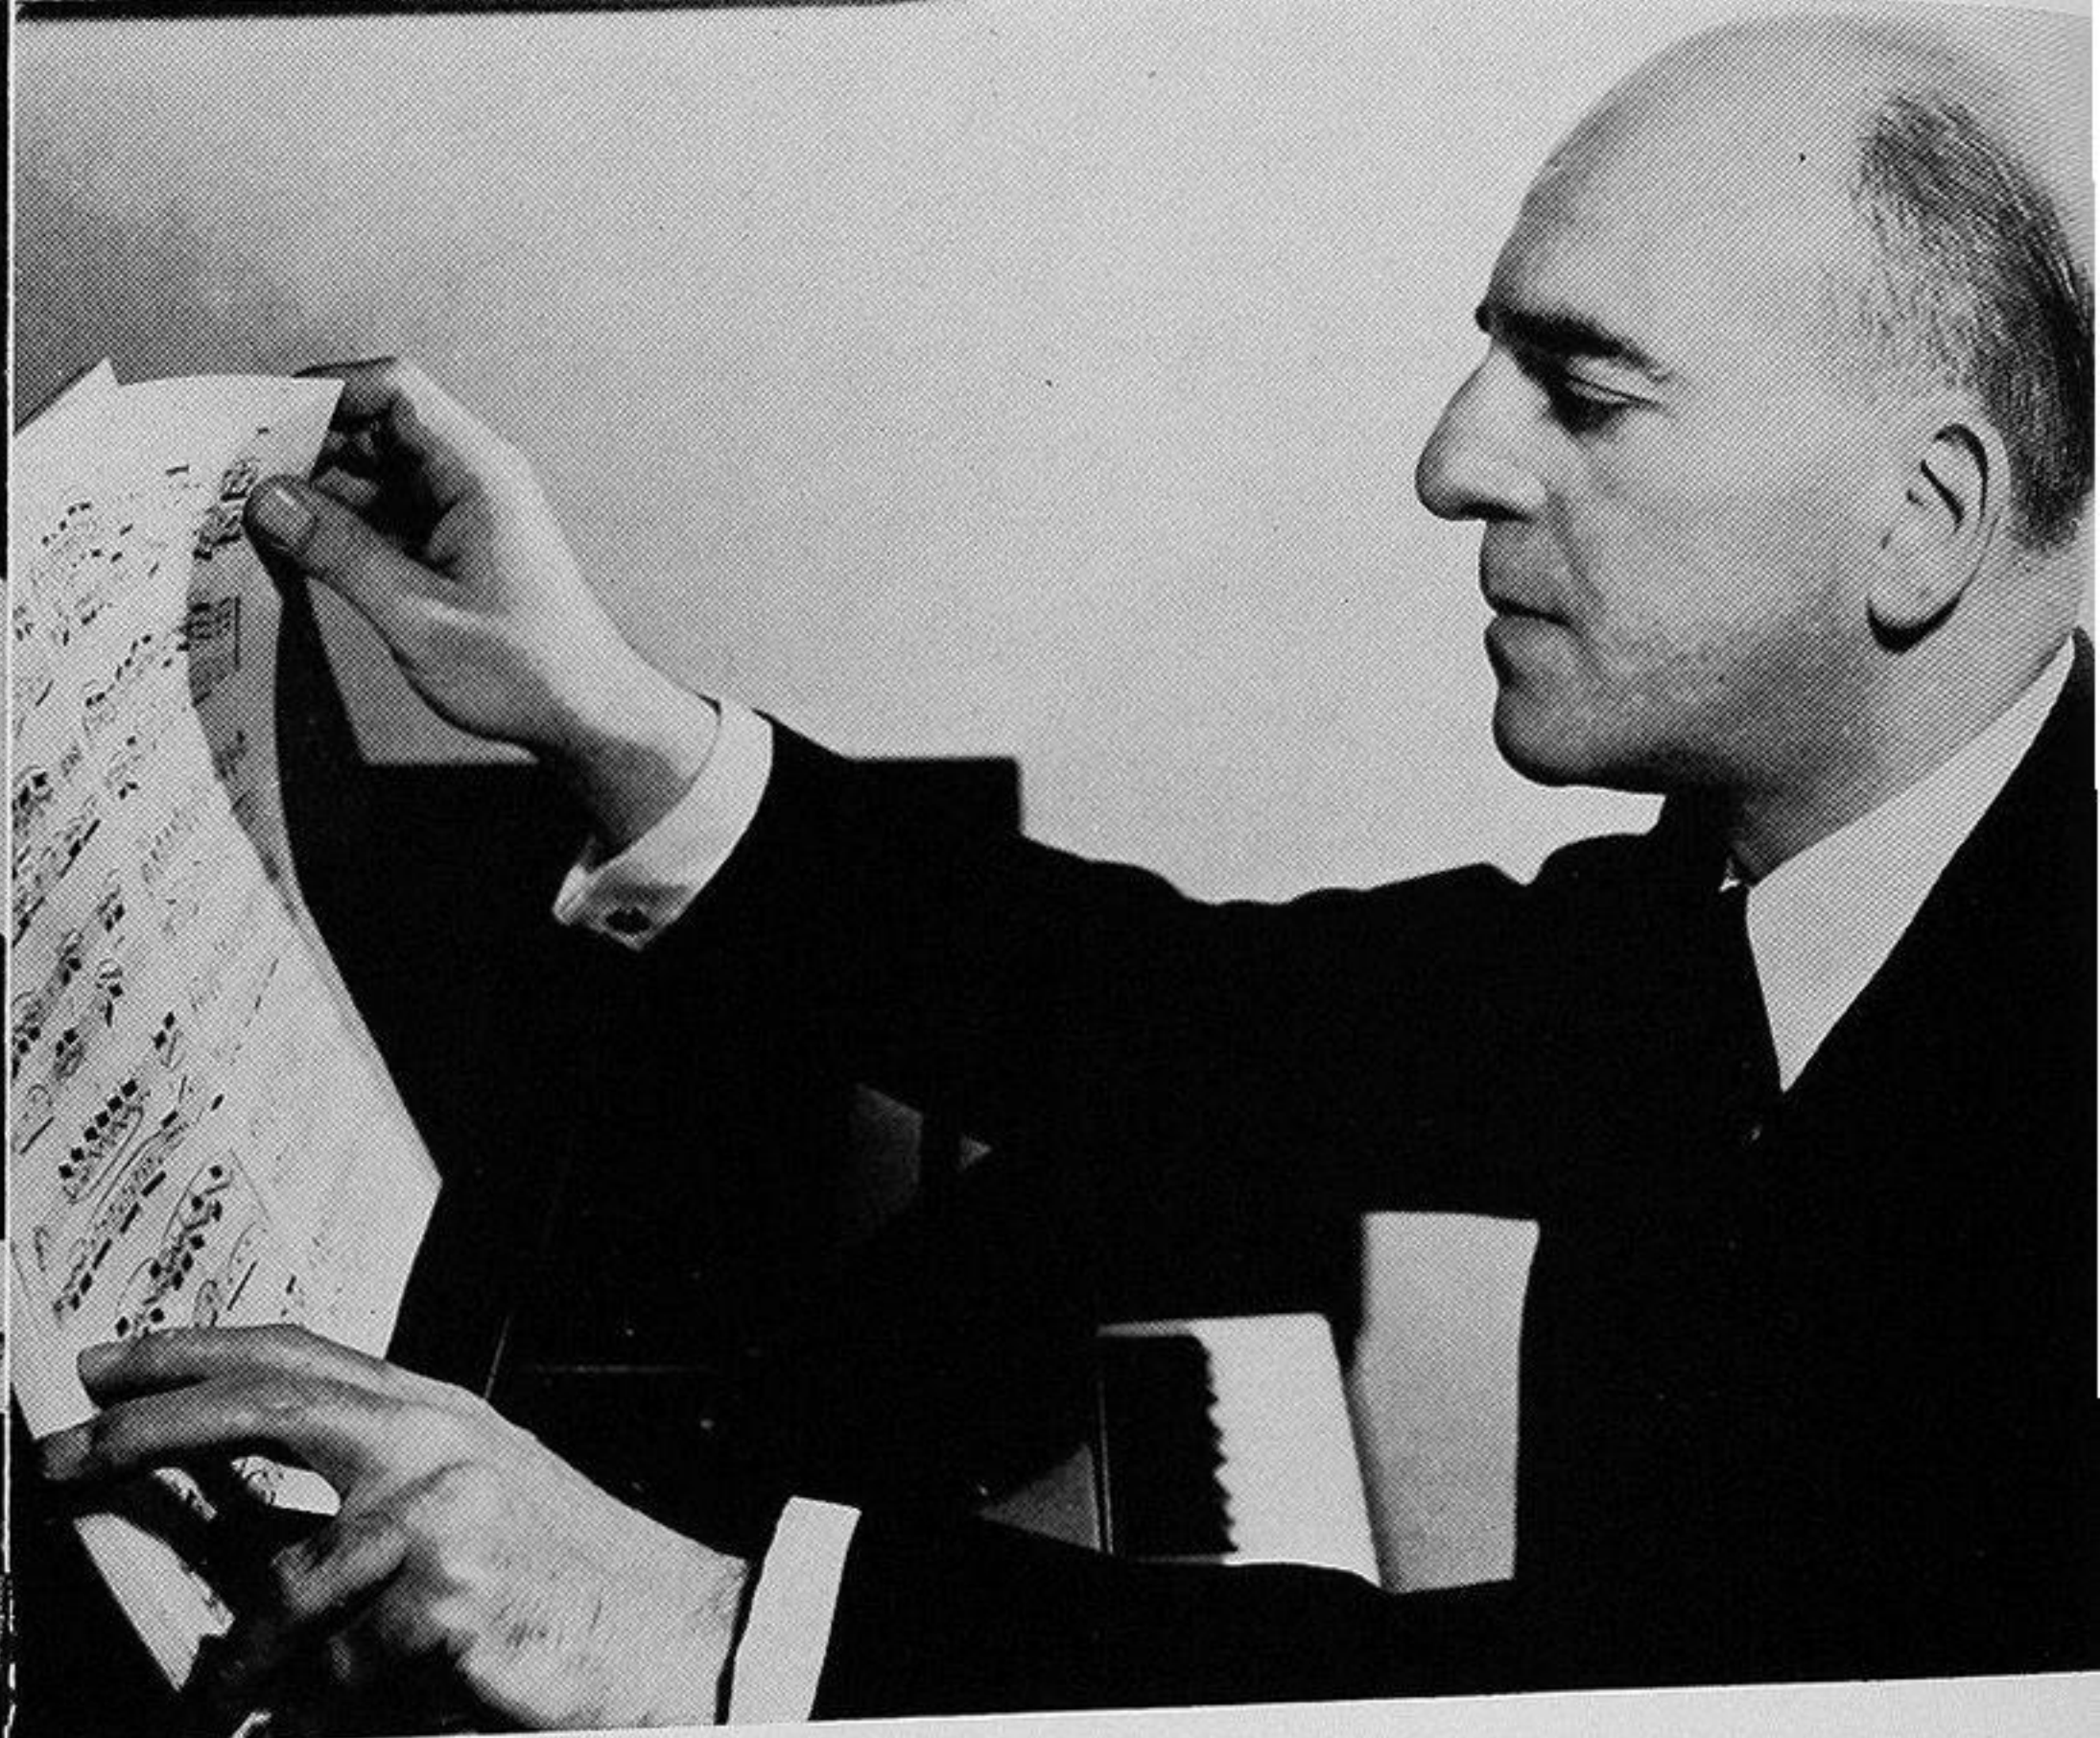

Open to students of all departments, the University Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Dr. Chapple became a well unified group, demonstrating its success in concert and in the well-known "Making Music" series. Approximately fifty students are members.

Throughout the football season, the marching band was a colorful addition to the halftime entertainment. An unusually successful feature was the story of "Little Mal, the Maladjusted Malamute," told by Al Brevik, with the aid of the band and card section.

Concert Season

The AWS Concerts Committee devoted its program this year to a "parade of pianists" for the Music at Meany Series. Solomon, critically acclaimed as one of the world's finest pianists, opened the series with his January 15th recital. In addition to his gracious manner, Solomon's fine technique and sensitive touch captivated his audience. On March 31st, the unique First Piano Quartet performed before a capacity crowd with the wizardry and coordination that have made them nationally famous.

Opera Season

Within the five years since its conception, the Opera Workshop has become a meeting place for students and faculty of the music department, presenting masterpieces of light opera on a small budget. Directed by Dr. Chapple, the workshop this year performed two comic operas on the same bill: Pergolesi's "La Serva Padrona" and Menotti's "The Telephone," a modern opera with English libretto.

Even more outstanding was the world-premiere performance of Professor Verall's opera, "The Cowherd and the Skymaiden." Based on a Chinese legend, the opera offered opportunity for unusually colorful scenery and lighting effects by the drama department.

Joyce Weeks

Joyce Weeks seems to prefer the telephone to her future fiance, Don Thulean, in Menotti's "The Telephone."

Don Thulean

Phyllis Graham uses the deaf-mute, Alfred Wheeler, in winning over her employer, Professor August Werner, in Pergolesi's subtle comedy opera, "La Serva Padrona."

Radio

January 14, 1952, marked the occasion of the first broadcast of the University's Station KUOW, climaxing 18 years of radio on the University campus. The new FM station, originating from Radio Hall, provides valuable experience for Communications majors as well as bringing unique programs to Seattle listeners. News casts, cultural talks and unusual, semi-classical and high-brow music are among the variety of programs given in the first five months of the station's existence.

A group of budding thespians emote over the KUOW microphone. Besides "live" broadcasts, KUOW's membership in the National Association of Educational Broadcasters entitles the station to use tape recordings of programs of high cultural value.

Owen Eloranta, Hal Johnson and Nancy Bender work busily on radio scripts.

Most of KUOW's programs originate in the control room, where Chuck Mahaffy, Al Roberts and Owen Eloranta are preparing a tape recording for rebroadcast.

Checking KUOW's already extensive collection of records are Bill Hevly and John Clarke. After all, what's a radio station without a disk jockey show?

Drama

Playhouse Theater

Newest of the University's three theatres, THE PLAYHOUSE was first opened in 1930 as the Seattle Repertory Theatre under the direction of Mr. and Mrs. Burton James. Purchased by the University in December of 1950, the theatre was re-decorated and equipped with the most modern stage-lighting equipment for its formal opening as The Playhouse, November 15, 1951.

The theatre completes a trio of University theatres envisioned in 1931 by the School of Drama's Executive Director, Glen Hughes. This long range program provided for the establishment of three theatres, each with unique physical characteristics and a distinctive artistic policy. The Playhouse will provide a home for unusual programs of an artistic nature and on its stage will be presented classic and modern plays of exceptional aesthetic and intellectual distinction, operas produced in collaboration with the School of Music, original manuscript plays presented under the sponsorship of Tryout Theatre, Inc., and plays for children, sponsored by Seattle Junior Programs.

PENTHOUSE THEATER

MR. ANGEL—Marilyn Armstrong, Peter Montgomery.

THE CURIOUS SAVAGE—Top to bottom: William Culpepper, Jean Scharfenberg, Joan Loye, Mary Macdonald, John Hinds.

MODESTY—Schyler Williams, Lucille Badda, Earl Kelly.

PEG O' MY HEART—Joegil Krogh, Peter Montgomery.

Most unique of the University theatres, the Penthouse Theatre is the first theatre ever designed and built for the presentation of drawing room plays in circus style. The theatre was a climax of eight years' successful experience in arena type theatre which began in the penthouse of the Edmond Meany Hotel in 1932. This season marks twenty years of this popular form of theatre for University audiences.

SHOWBOAT THEATER

Oldest of the University's theatres and a familiar campus landmark, The Showboat Theatre is in many respects a model theatre in a marine setting. Though it resembles its nautical namesake in external appearance, its interior boasts such modern stage facilities as a revolving stage floor for rapid scene changes and an electronic remote control lighting system.

THE WINSLOW BOY—Jean Jory, Gerald Jacobs.
THE STING IN THE TAIL—Dusty Reeds, John Reeds.

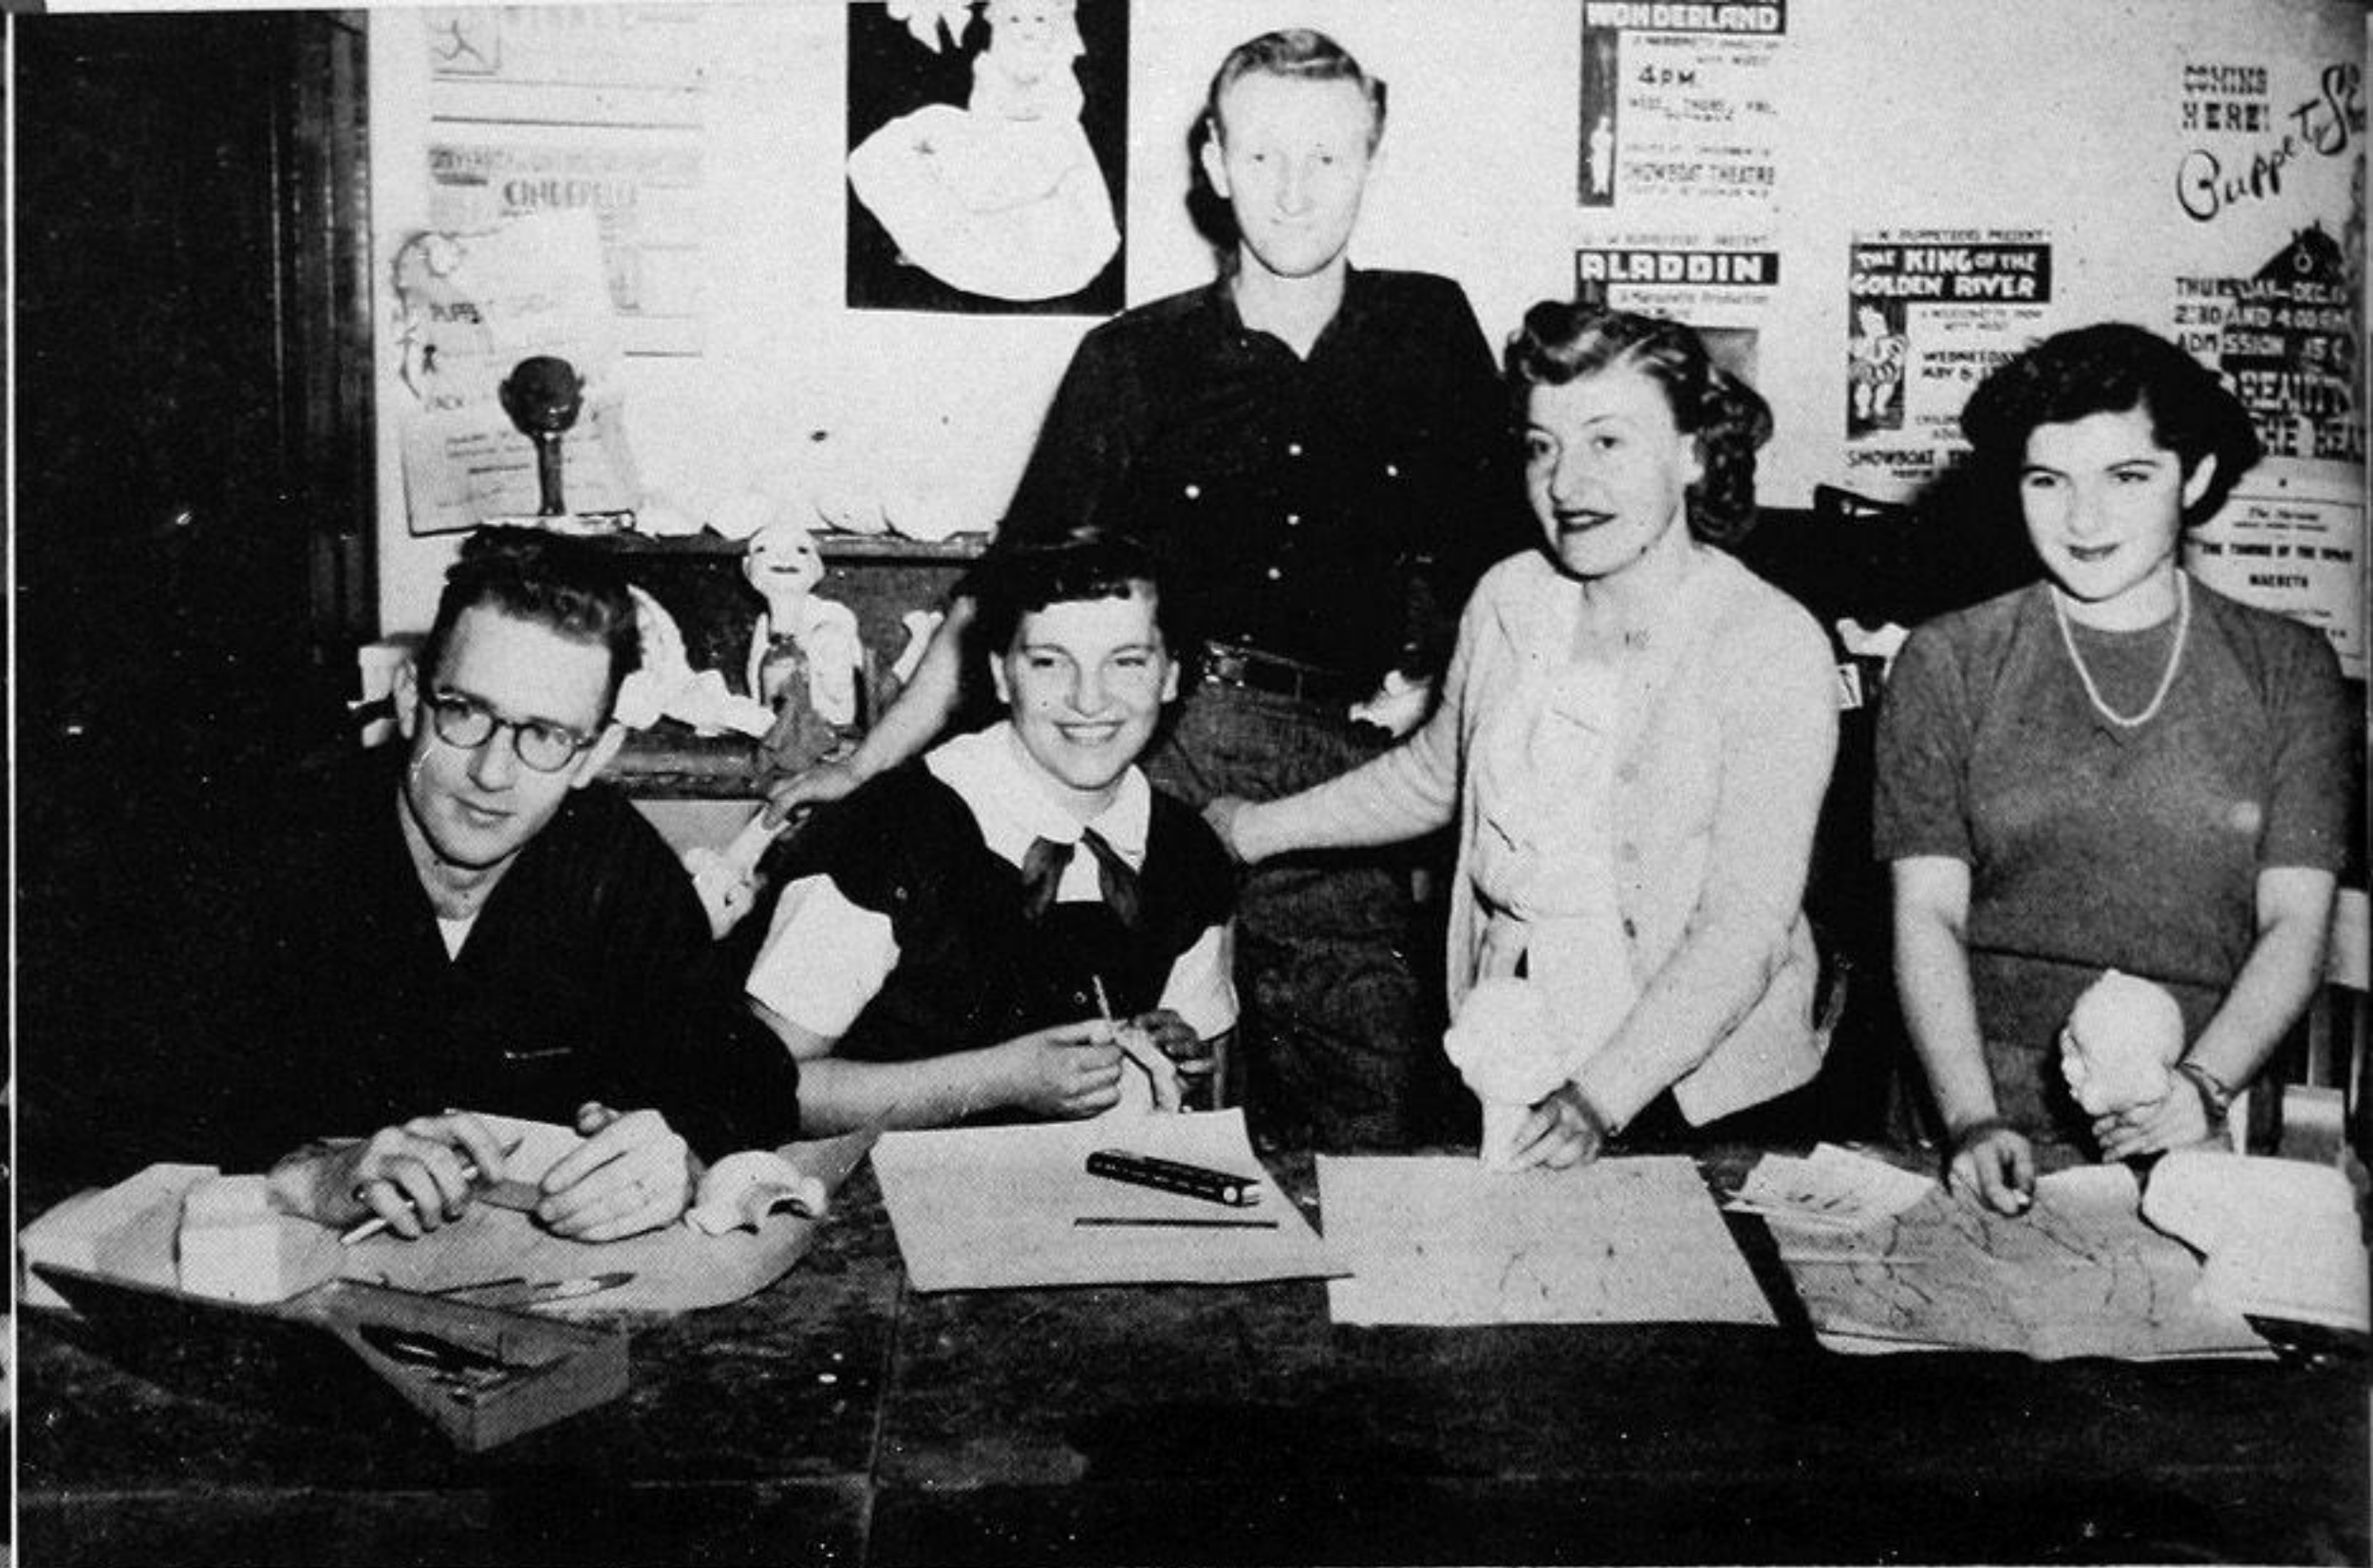

DAMASK CHEEK—Natalie Coffin, Dorlis Steidley, Theodore LaBarr, Mary Fosket, Robert Culp.

BON VOYAGE—Gerald Jacobs, Natalie Coffin, Robert Culp.

Long a national leader in a comprehensive program of theatre for children, the University of Washington took another step forward this year with the Extension Service's creation of a division known as "Junior Theatre." This program, under the direction of Ruth Prins, offers primary and high school students classes in formal theatre, radio and television.

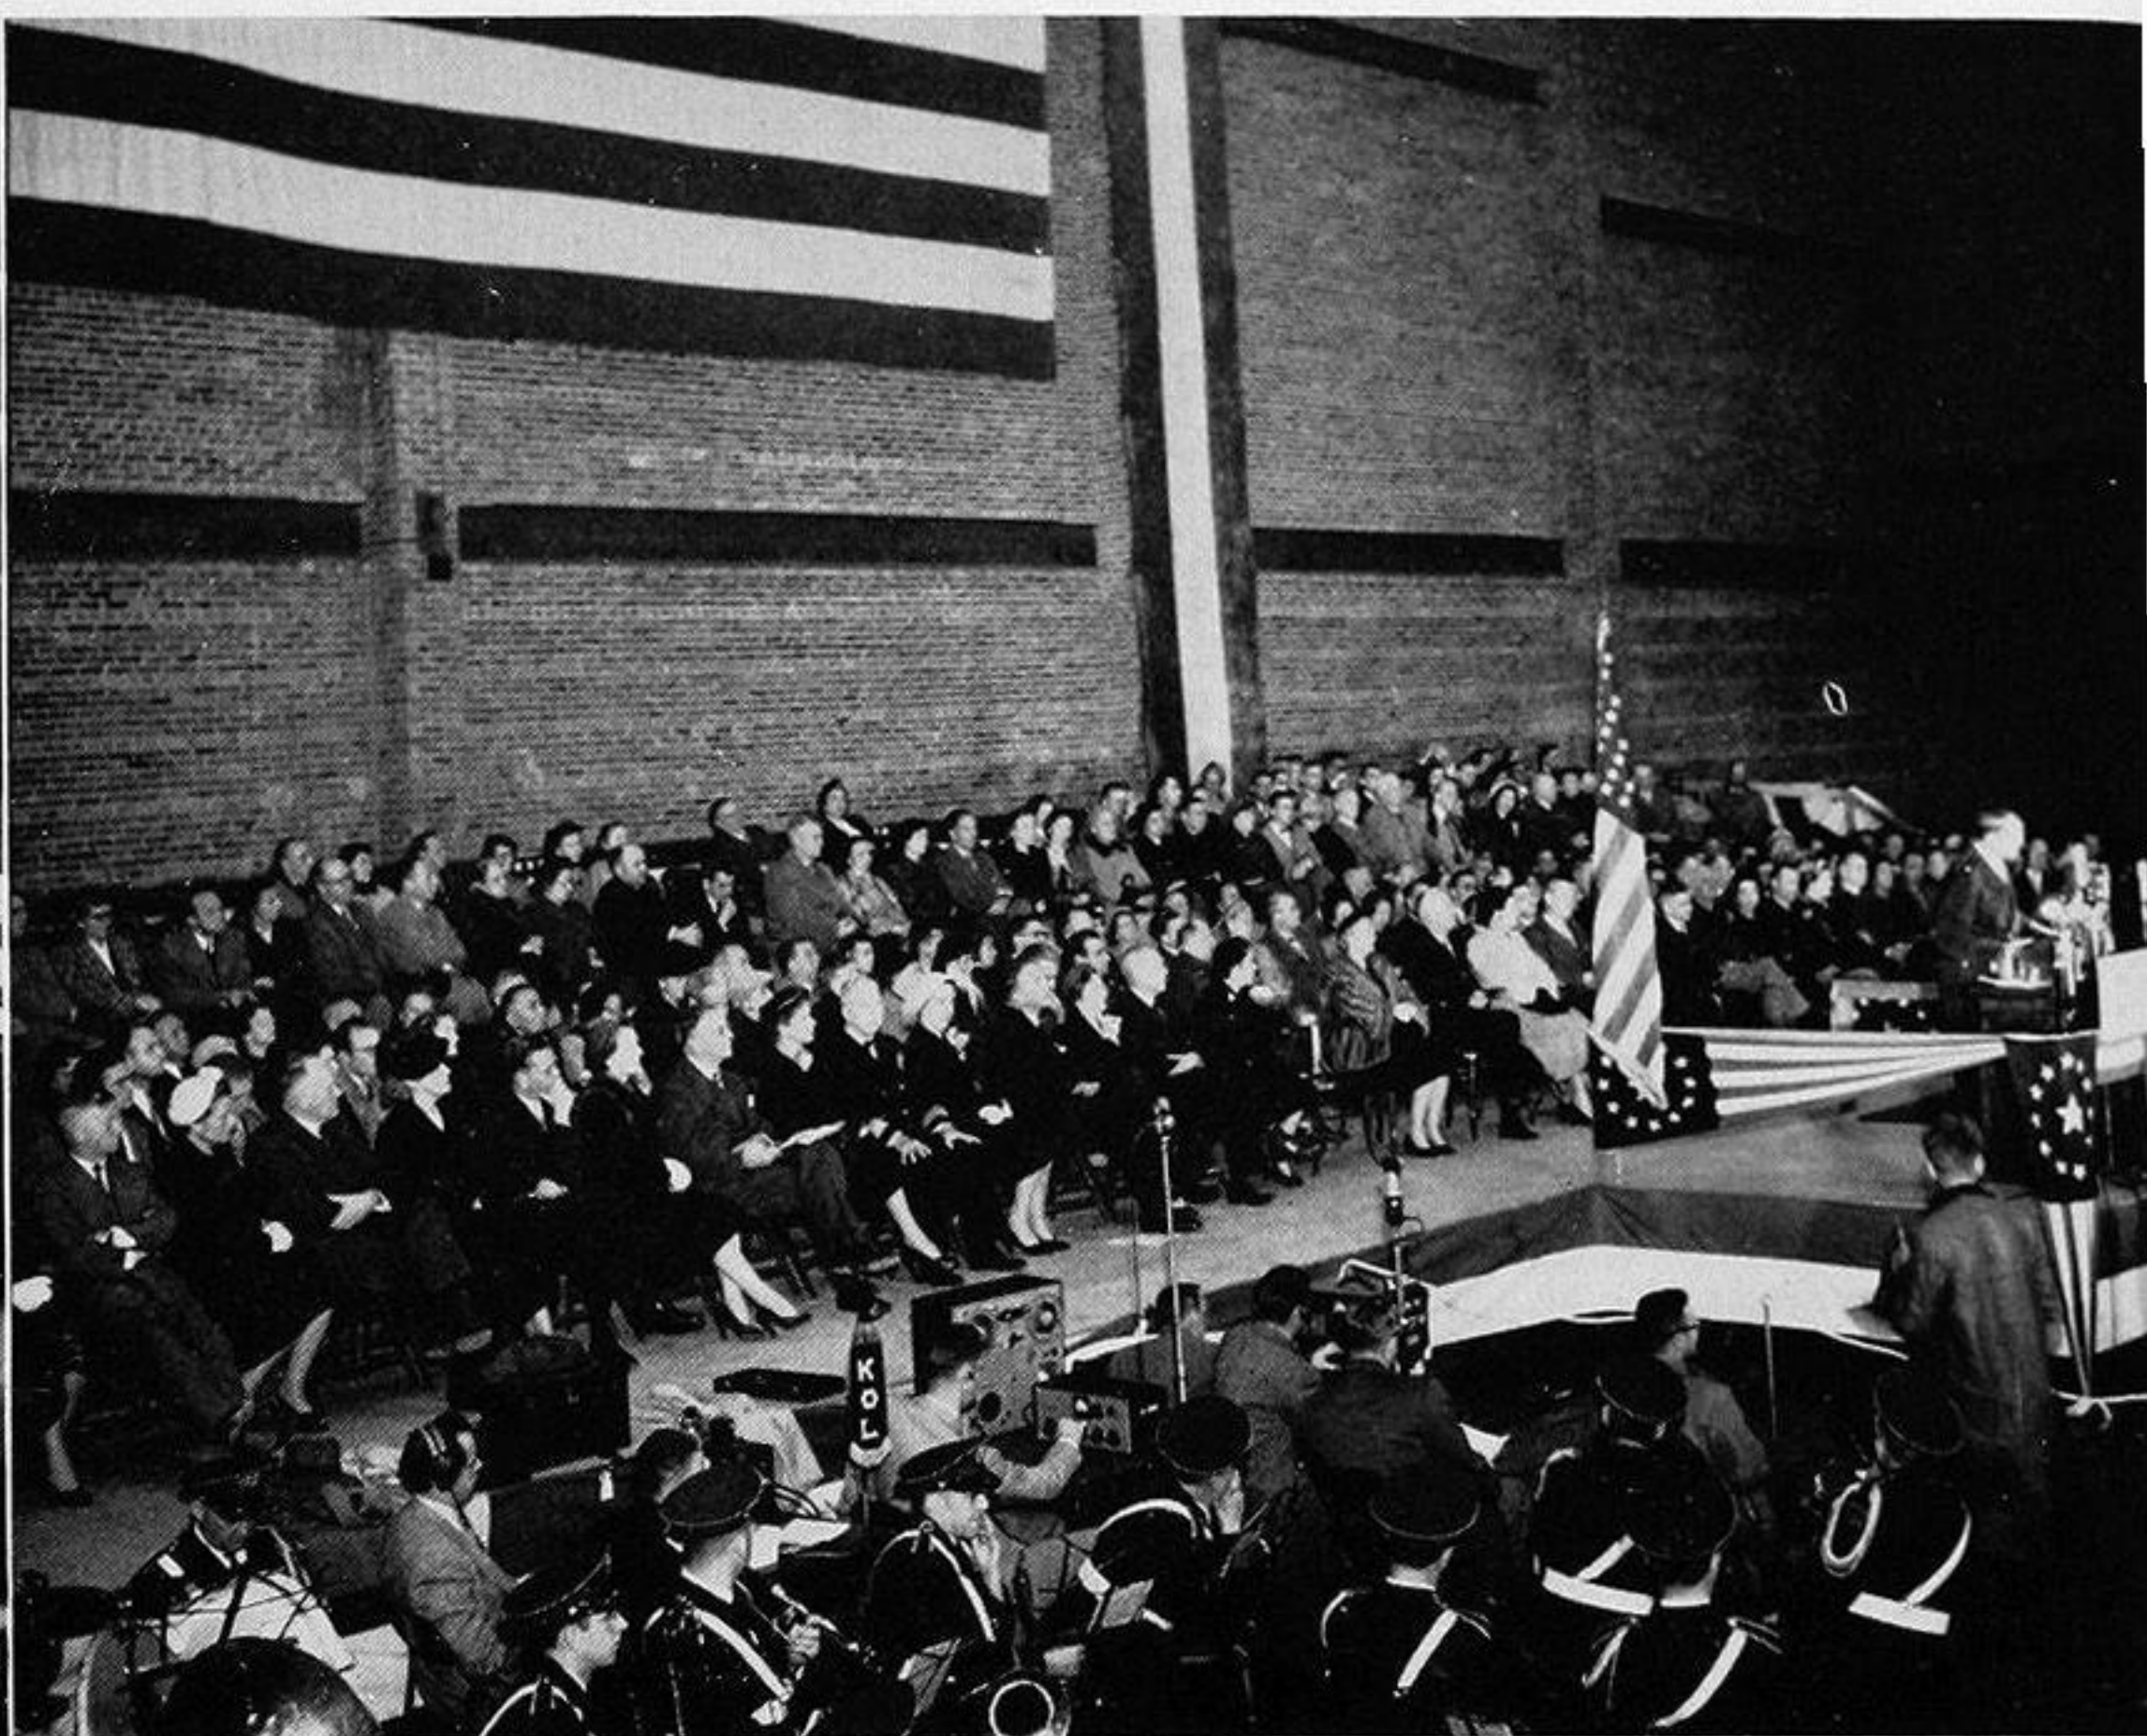

Locally, the School of Drama, in cooperation with Junior Programs, Inc., produces a series of plays for children at the Playhouse Theatre. The series, entitled "Children's Theatre," is under the direction of Kenneth Carr. Also for local children, students of the puppetry division of the School of Drama give puppet shows for school and church groups.

Under the direction of Agnes Haaga, the creative dramatics division has taken informal theatre to thousands of Washington children, and has trained students to serve as instructors in creative dramatics in many foreign countries.

Because of the Board of Regents' political speaker's ban, General Douglas MacArthur's speech on Nov. 13 in the Hec Edmundson pavilion, which opened Seattle's Centennial celebration festivities, caused much controversy on this campus. General MacArthur said little about Seattle, but a lot against the present Democratic administration, and much in support of Senator Taft's Republican campaign.

Sponsored by the YWCA Forums committee, Senator Robert A. Taft spoke to a capacity crowd at Eagleson Hall on Feb. 12. He seemed to be confident of winning the G.O.P. nomination for the forthcoming elections; and he asserted that the Republican's policy of free competition of ideas would mean increased opportunities for both working men and farmers.

Lectures

World-famous scholars and lecturers are obtained to speak on campus through the efforts of the Institute of International Affairs, which was formed under Dr. Raymond B. Allen in 1947. The present director is Dr. Charles E. Martin. Its purpose is to bring people who are well informed on international affairs into direct contact with University students and faculty.

Informal talks by University professors were given throughout the year, by means of Thursday Noon Specials and Fireside Chats. Such notables as Angelo Pellegrini of the English department, who has written several books, Dr. Stanley Chapple, Director of the School of Music, and Dean Harold Stoke, the Dean of the Graduate School, participated in these events.

Dr. Josephine Junge, on Feb. 28, brilliantly discussed "Complex Formation in Immunochemical Reactions (Light Scattering Ultracentrifuge and Enzymic Inactivation Studies)" at the Health Sciences building.

Norman Thomas, former socialist candidate for president of the United States, spoke here on Feb. 16. He stated, among other things, that religion is no cure-all for world problems today.

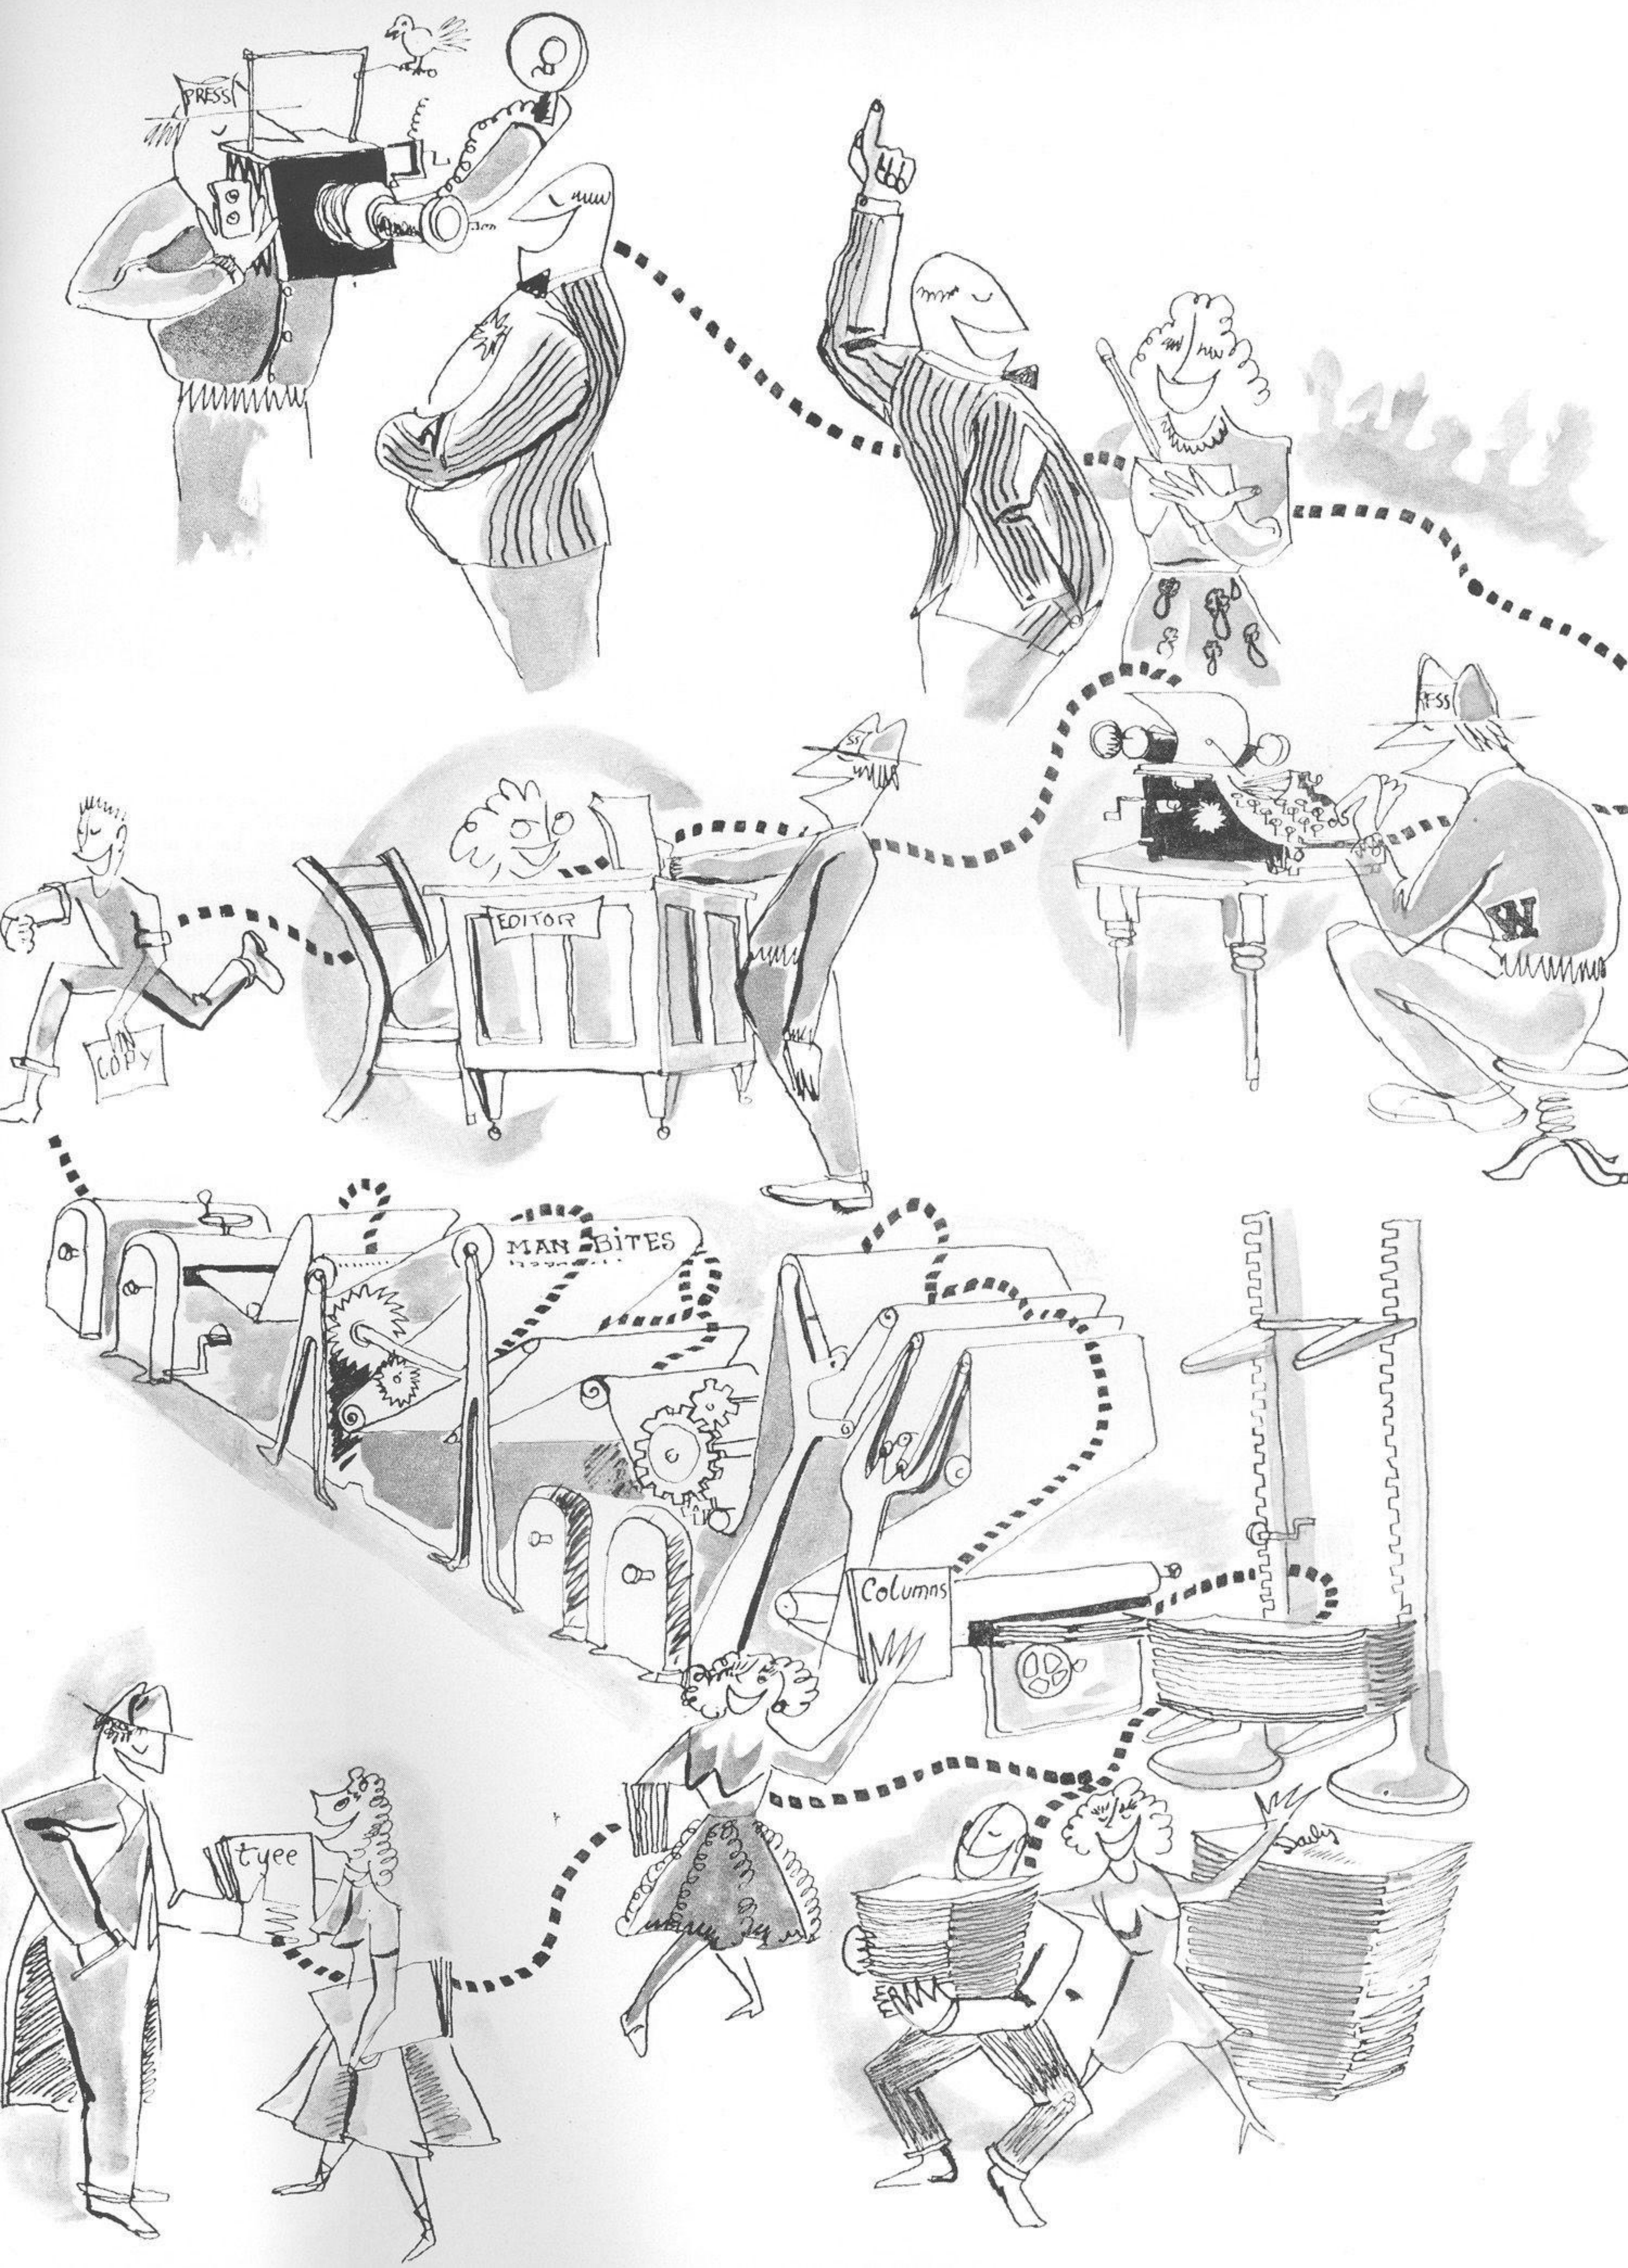

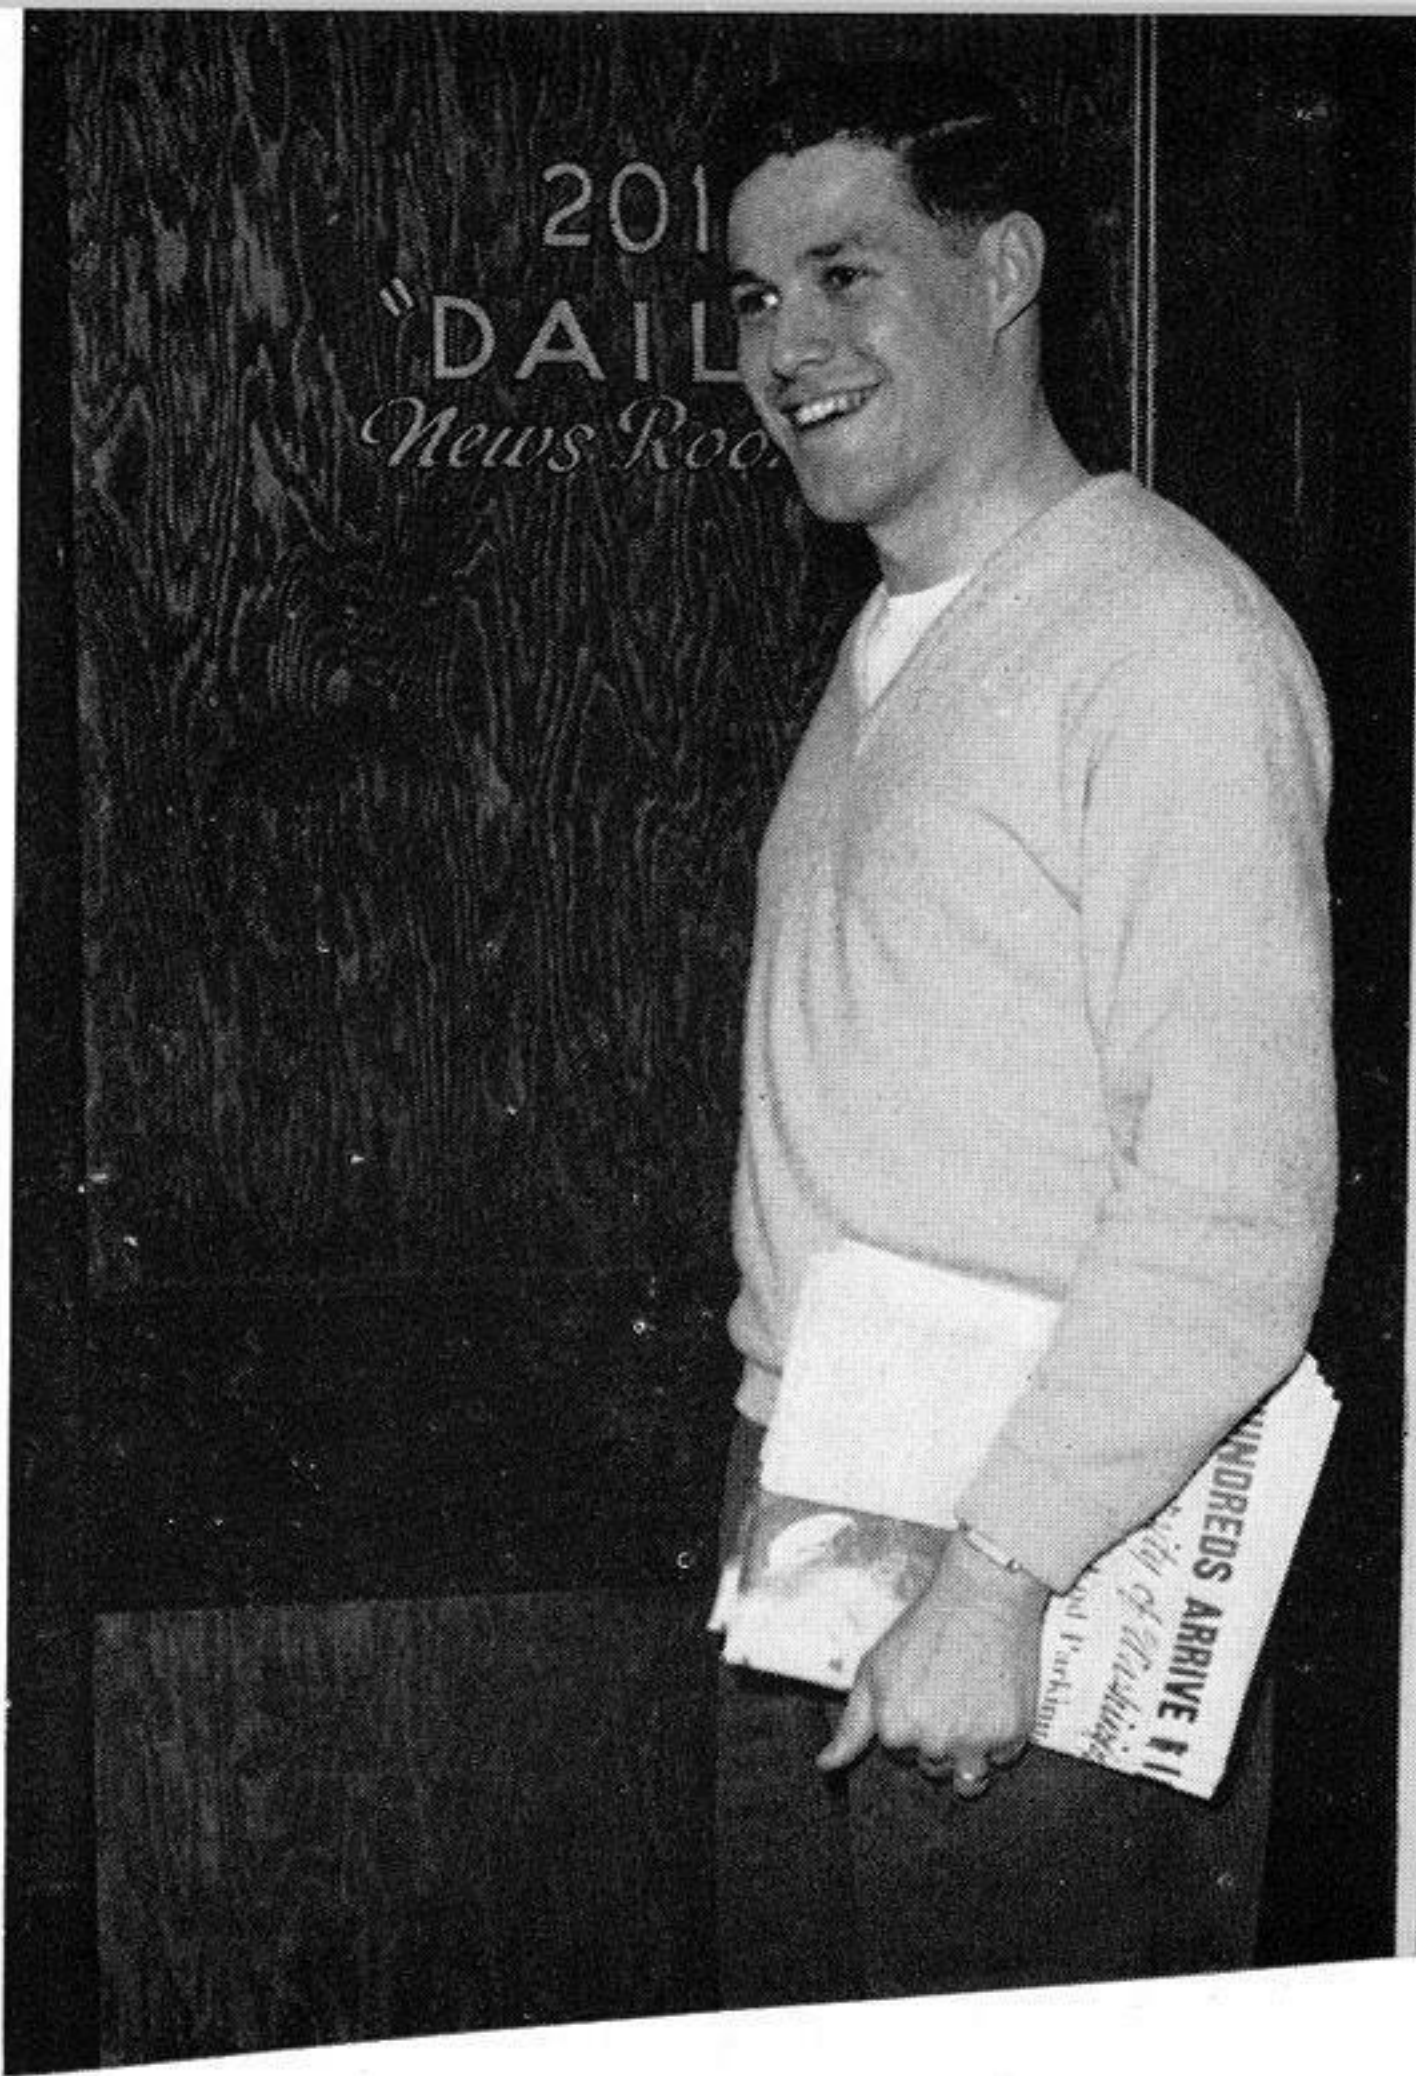

The Y's Effective Citizenship committee sponsored such local speakers as Pomeroy and Devin, and Henry Jackson, Congressman from the second congressional district, who is pictured here.

Michael Howe of England Francis Charbonnier of France, acting as Council President, and Vartan Bedjanian of Iran, discuss the "Iranian Oil Crisis" for the campus observance of United Nations day, which was sponsored by the ASUW International committee.

Publications

Starting out as ASUW political reporter and serving as chairman of the ASUW News Bureau prepared DAVE WOOD for the Daily EDITORSHIP the first half of this year. Dave, a senior, hasn't "time on his hands" but instead, a "girl in his arms"—a baby girl, that is, who was born to them in August.

No time out for coffee here! Between EDITING the Daily the second half of the year and writing sports news for the P.-I., BILL JURY was kept pretty busy. Serving as President of Sigma Delta Chi, National Journalism Fraternity, Bill proves to be a promising future journalist.

Daily Editorial

A loyal newspaper woman, TINA BRAND resigned her position as President of Austin Hall to devote more time to the Daily, serving as ASSOCIATE EDITOR for the first half of the year. Tina's many hours of work spent each day in Lewis Hall brought her an outstanding achievement award for 1951.

Free lance writing tops the aspirations of this journalist, but MIKE SPELLMAN's position as ASSOCIATE EDITOR took up most of his spare time the second half of the year. Mike was also selected for an outstanding achievement award in 1951 for his work on the Daily.

Getting ready for a "busy day at the office" has been an everyday occurrence with George Astel for the last nine years. As present advisor to the DAILY staff he likes to recall the days he edited the Daily back in '21.

"The Eyes and Ears of the Campus, alias THE DAILY, was brought to you four times a week, Tuesday through Friday, at your favorite pick-up spot on campus. News coverage ranged from world affairs to the latest pinnings on Greek Row, and student opinion was voiced through pertinent "Letters to the Editors" column. The atmosphere of the Daily news room was always one of bustling activity as J. J.'s hustled to meet the 5:30 deadline. Professor George B. Astel ("Mr. A.") was general overseer, always on hand to offer needed advice and keep things running on schedule. Sometimes staff members found the Daily work somewhat of a grind, but the J. J.'s kept in mind the good experience, which many plan to relate to future work after graduation.

Working on the Daily staff for at least one quarter gives all J.J.'s good experience in the journalism field. Running clockwise are the FALL QUARTER J.J.'s, including Jack Rogoway, Tom Koenninger, Jim Power, Maureen Callaghan, Cal Bosch, Ken Kraft, Hal Newsom, Dick Harris, Mary Brunz, Joanne Sussman, Catherine Neckas and Wayne Jacobi, center.

Known around the Daily office as "Mac," Maribeth Balthaser is reader and grader for Mr. "A." A member of the Daily editorial staff and the A.S.U.W. Publications committee in '50-'51, "Mac" now writes a weekly campus column for the Seattle P.-I.

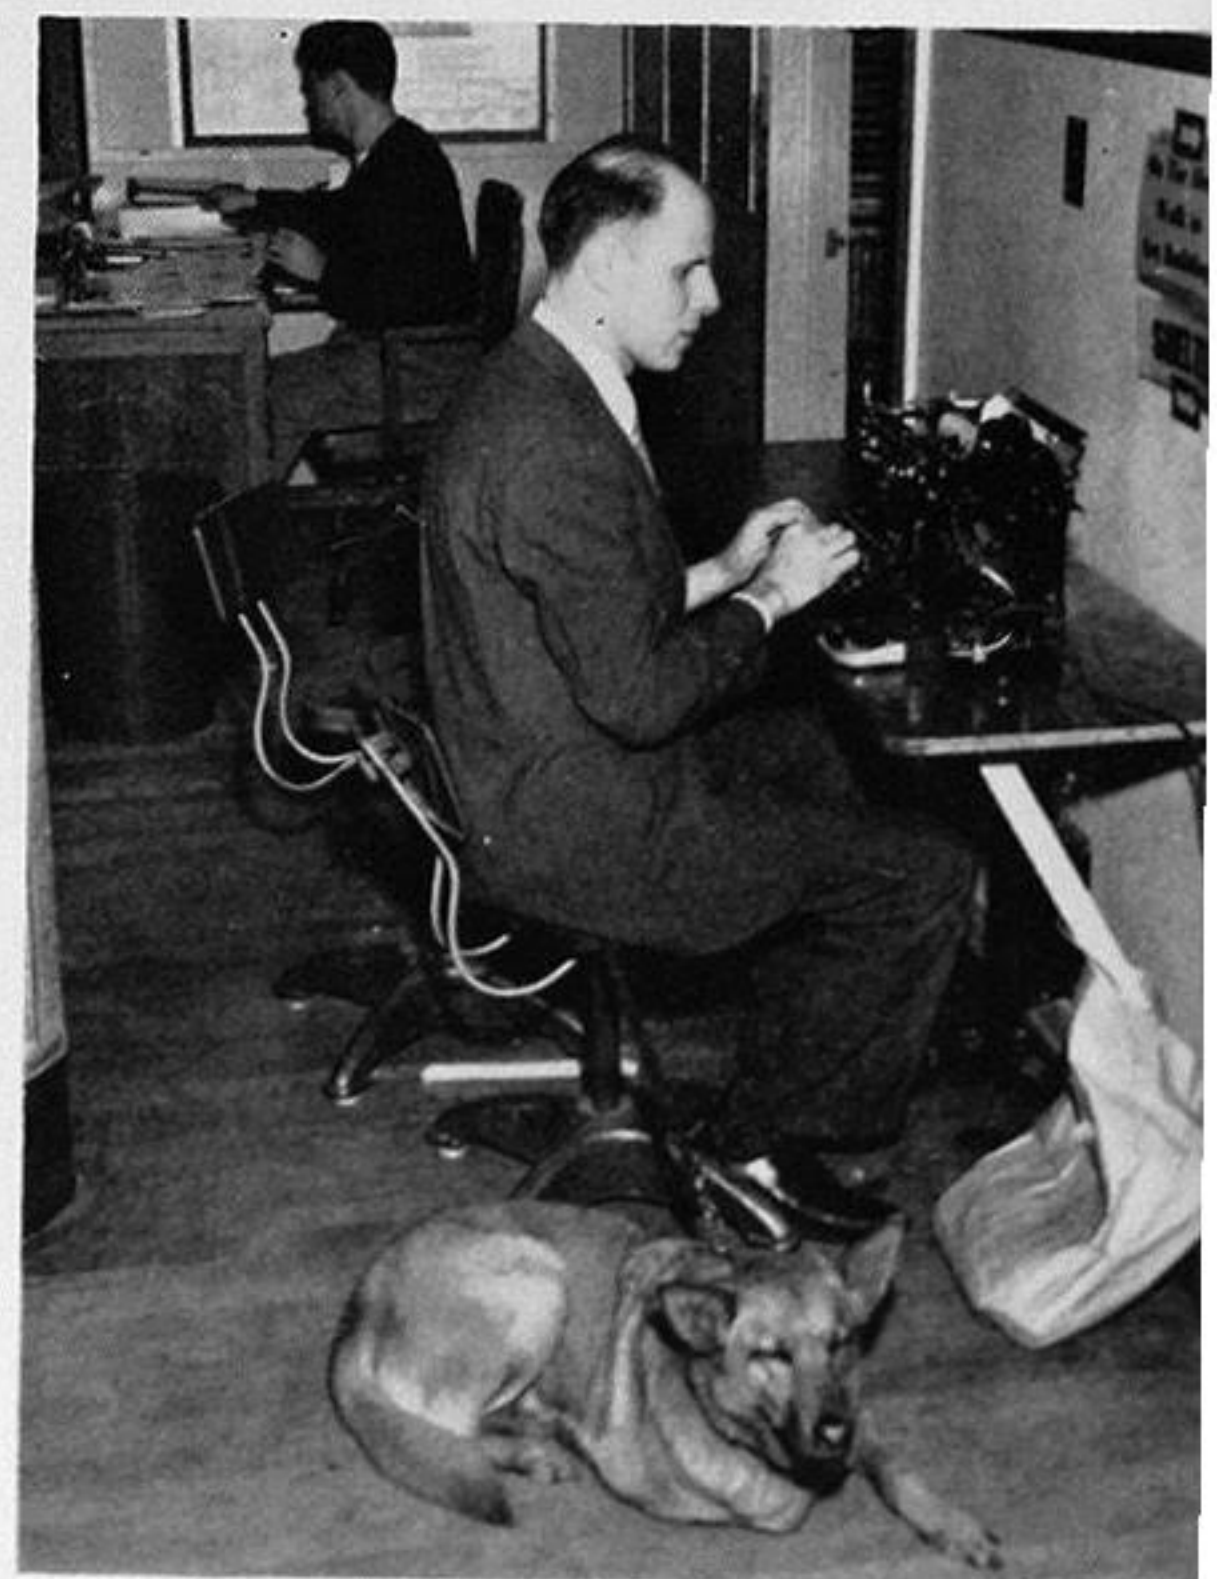

Hoping to get some good scoops on the football scores are the Fall Quarter DAILY SPORTS WRITERS, including Hal Newsom, Fred Delkin, Fred Cichy, Bill Knight and Ken Kraft.

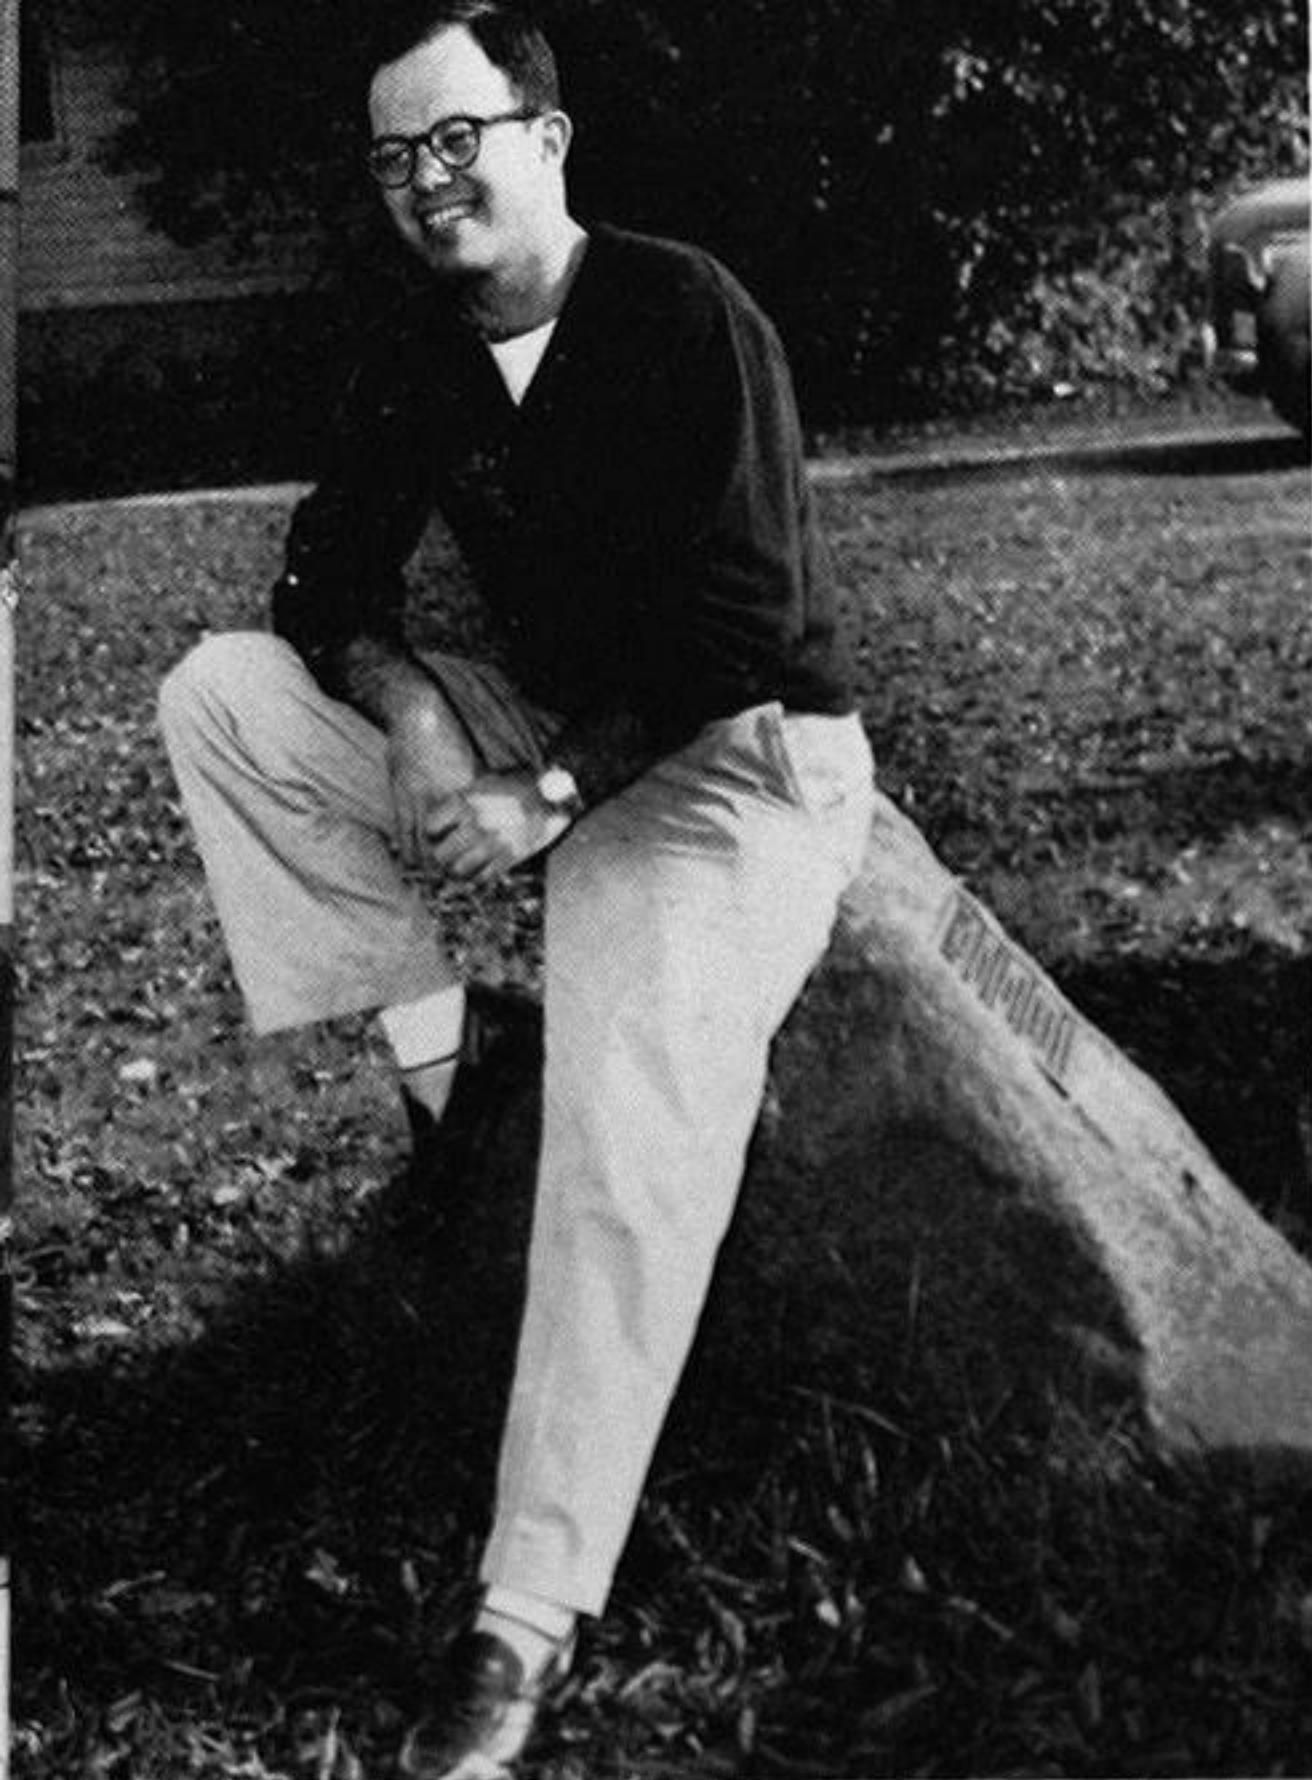

The Winter Quarter SPORTS STAFF, Leo Carlson, Mike Dederer and Joe Holmes, get together to discuss the basketball results.

Mel Gellemore and his seeing-eye dog came regularly to Lewis Hall where Mel gained practical experience which will help him reach his ambition to be a re-writer for a Seattle paper. He received his M.A. here at the University in 1947 in creative writing.

DAILY ADVERTISING MANAGER, MONTE SOLKOVER, was assigned to cover the Journalism faculty-student baseball game last Spring quarter, but returned without a story claiming he could not write an impartial article because they were all his close friends. He said they would understand. Monte was also a contributor to Columns in '50, '51 and '52.

Also serving as DAILY AD MANAGER during Fall and Spring quarters, RUTH TRUSCOTT was kept pretty busy as promotion manager of the Columns, President of Pi Alpha Sigma and a member of Theta Sigma Phi, Journalism Honorary. Much of Ruth's success in journalism was gained through experience by working for a year in a New York Publishing House in '49.

Selling ads for the Daily and serving as Publicity Chairman for A.W.S. Concerts in her junior year, gave NOREEN SALVINO plenty of practical experience before filling the position of BUSINESS MANAGER for the Daily. Treasurer of Pi Alpha Epsilon, advertising honorary, is another of Noreen's activities.

DAILY BUSINESS

Being one of the largest classified ad departments among college newspapers, the Daily Business Staff works completely apart from the Editorial Staff. It is under the direction of the A.S.U.W. Publications Committee and its activities include selling advertising, making up ads, and placing national advertising. Although the business office is run for the profit of the Daily, it provides opportunities of training for journalism majors, especially those in the advertising sequence.

The DAILY OFFICE STAFF, including (clockwise) Peggy Davison, Signe Holm, Molly Rehm, Chairman Pat Nabata and Virginia Hill, has the job of sending out papers to advertisers, typing out classified ads and filing.

Returning with one of the hundreds of the panels which flowed through the Tyee office all year, PEGGY MACE, Tyee Editor, pauses for breath. Starting out as office girl in her freshman year, Peggy worked up through the ASUW Section Assistant and Activities Division Editor to the position behind the Editor's desk.

"Recreation in the Pacific Northwest" skipped through the pages of the 1952 Tyee as Peggy Mace cleverly combined her major in Recreation with the time consuming job of editing the Tyee. Recreational activities such as skiing, boating, swimming, and fishing were emphasized in the art work and the various divisions in relation to the University. Of course the editor can't do all the work alone, so a large staff was appointed to add to the general confusion of things. But after many headaches, much figuring, meeting and not meeting deadlines, the 1952 Tyee emerged complete. Filling some of the important positions on the staff were Bill Knight, Sports Editor; Joan Smith, Activities Editor; Laurel Lund, Organizations Editor; and Joyce Foster, Personnel Editor.

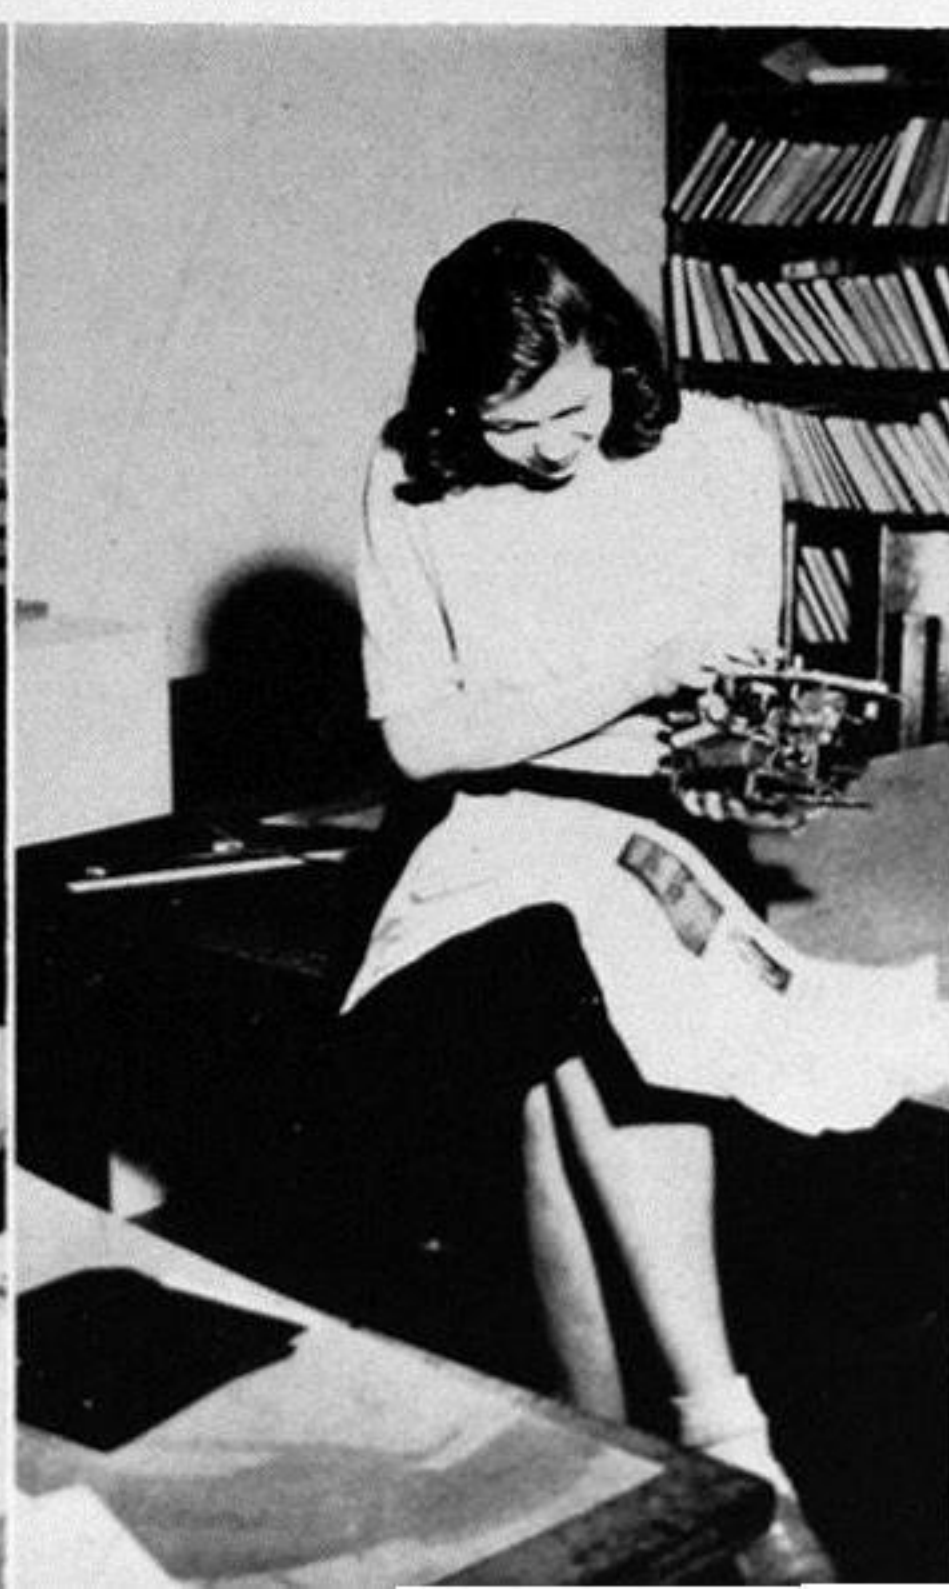

TYEE EDITORIAL

Art Editor, DAVE STARR, gained experience for his Tyee work by editing his high school annual in his senior year and serving as art editor in his junior year. Dave invented the bewildered figure on the Personnel and Sports Section pages.

WILL PARKER, another of the Tyee art editors, served as art director of the Brochure Committee for the Art Department last year and is a member of Grapha Techna, art honorary. Will did the Activities and Organizations Section pages.

Tyee Art Editor, JOY JACKSON, is applying her creative talent to the broken-down radio in the Tyee office, in hopes of relieving it of its useless condition. Joy, a Commercial Art major, is a member of Pi Alpha Sigma, and also a member of the YWCA Cabinet. The hand-lettered heads were done by Joy.

ART HANSEN certainly lives up to his first name, because after two years of art work for the Tyee, much can be credited to his creative ability; as one of the four art editors of the Tyee, and assigned to the job of designing the cover, Art had a good opportunity to apply this talent.

ACTIVITIES DIVISION

These AWS, AMS and ASUW Section Editors look over old Tyees for helpful ideas. They are Joan Jacobson, Editor RAYDA POMROY, AWS; Editor DON PEARL, AMS; Editor MARILYN MacDONALD and Sharon Montgomery, ASUW.

This busy gal, pictured at the right, is really "up in the air," working out one of the problems that confront an ACTIVITIES DIVISION EDITOR. Besides devoting time to the Tye, JOAN SMITH was chairman of the AWS Constitution Committee, Panhellenic Asst. Relations Chairman, and a member of Sigma Epsilon Sigma, scholastic honorary.

PERSONNEL DIVISION EDITOR JOYCE FOSTER, takes a break in her busy schedule. Her second year of Tye work, Joyce has also been active on the House Announcements Committee, the ASUW Red Cross Committee, and has served as assistant chairman for the YWCA Special Projects Committee.

PERSONNEL DIVISION

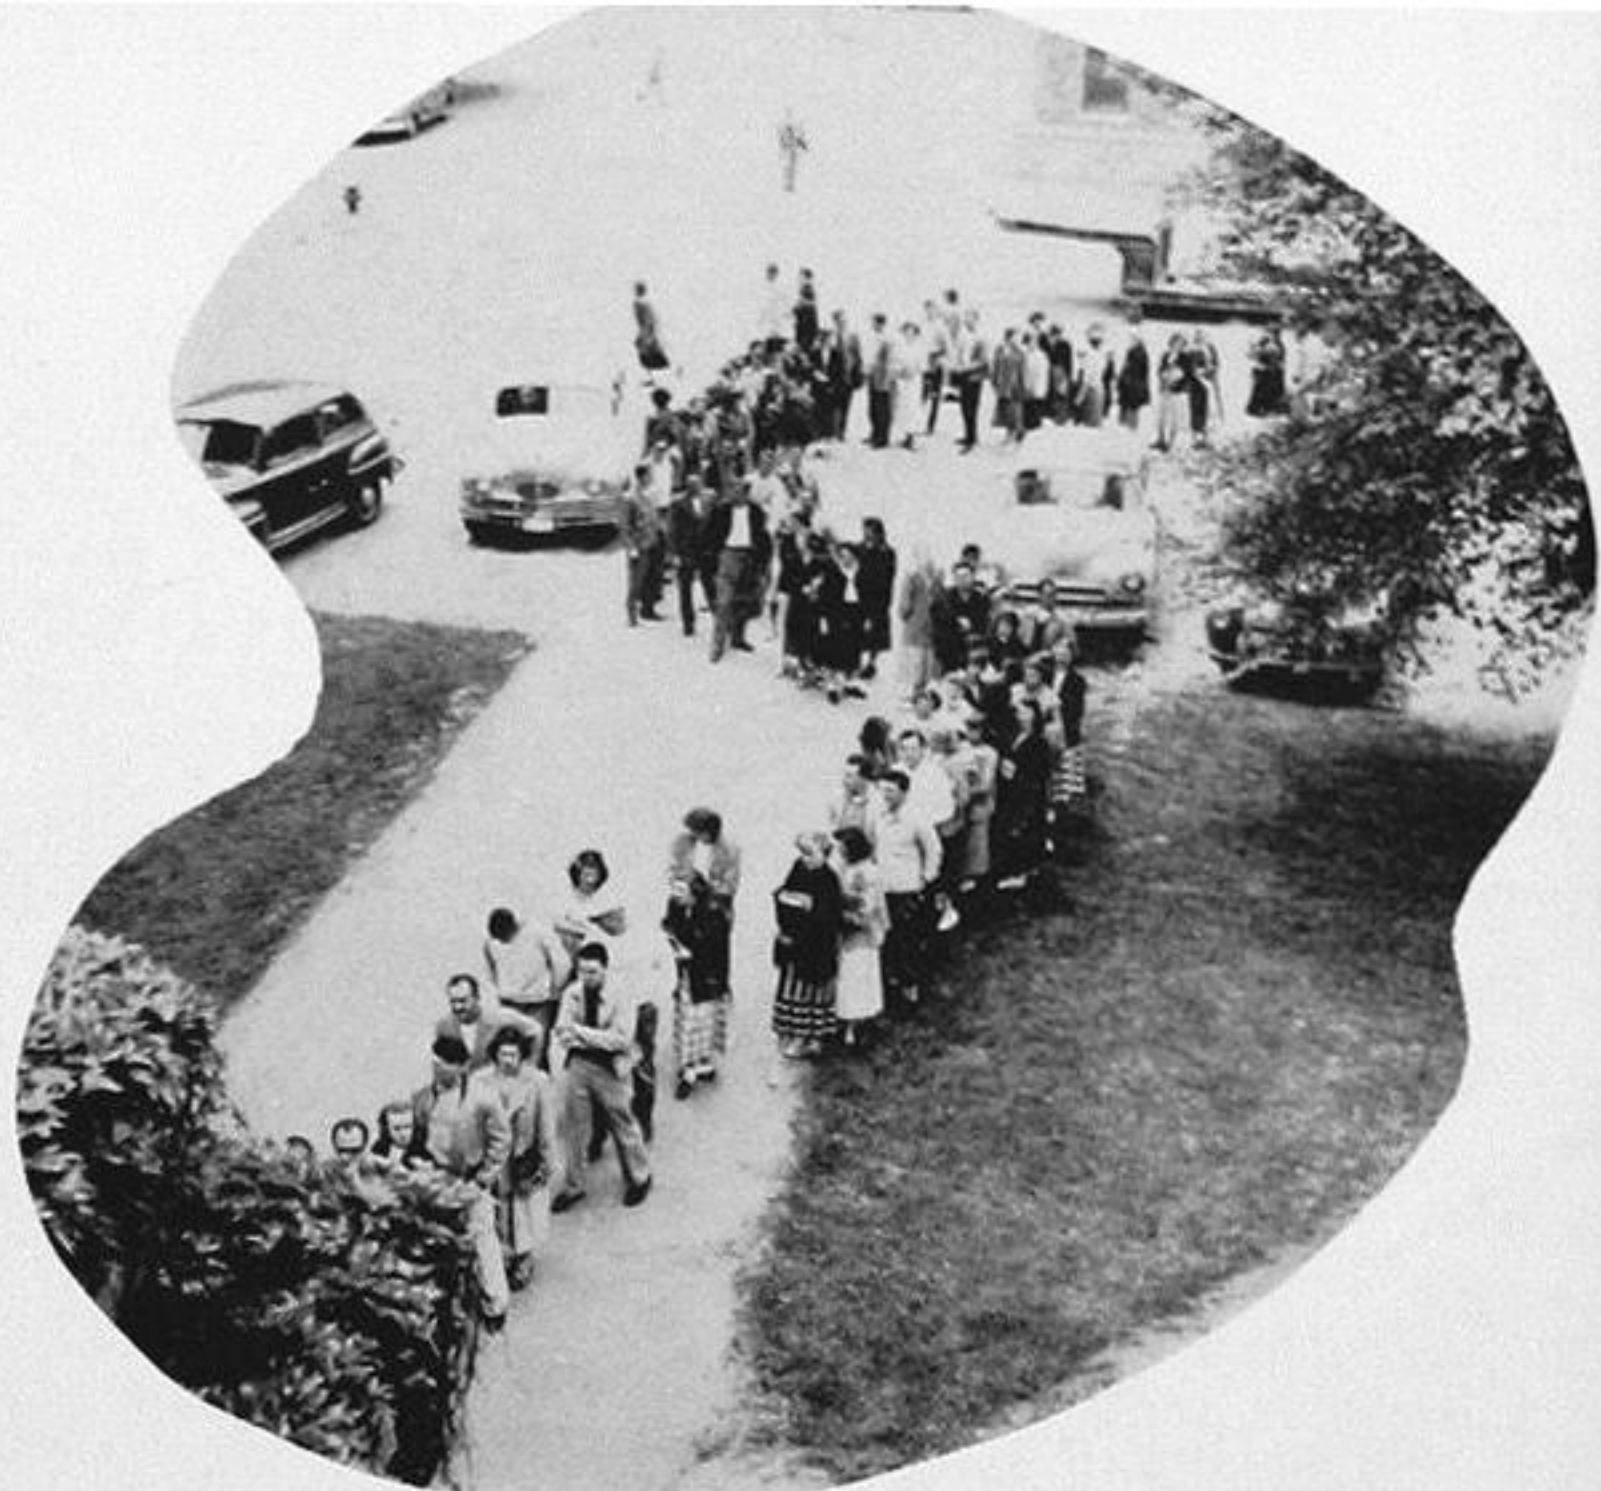

Some of the editors of the Schools and Colleges section of the PERSONNEL DIVISION include Co-Editors Ann Davis and ELAINE KIRTLAND; the Administration includes Jean Anderson and Jim Bergeron; not pictured is NANCY LYON, editor.

A flashing smile like this from BILL KNIGHT, Sports Division Editor, can mean only one of two things—the sports section is well under way, or a notice for dismissal has been issued. Bill has been active in journalism as Sports Editor of the Daily fall quarter of '51, and is a member of Sigma Delta Chi, Professional Journalism Fraternity. He is vice-president of AMS and a member of Oval Club.

No, it isn't a sections line, but close to it. These "loyal" Washingtonians are anxiously waiting for their Tyees.

SPORTS DIVISION

Glancing over some of the past Tye sports sections are BOB ROSS (seated) and WARREN MILLER, Track; JIM HENNES, Crew.

With a feeling of relief after completing a few more pages for the Tye, "MAC" BALTHASER, Skiing; DON BOLAN and JACK WARNICK, Intramurals, take a break for coffee.

ISABEL HENLEY, Women's Sports and PAUL TYCHSEN, Minor Sport's Assistant, discuss the difficulties encountered in getting people together for pictures.

Enjoying a little of this Washington sunshine are RAY TURNER, Golf, and TED VAN DYK, Minor Sports.

ORGANIZATIONS DIVISION

Sitting on old Tyees has a certain inspirational effect on LAUREL LUND, Organizations Division Editor. Besides spending a good deal of her time in the Tye office, Laurel is a member of the Daily staff, the Daily ad staff, a contributor to Columns and Vice-President of Pi Alpha Sigma, Women's Advertising Honorary.

Some of the more tedious jobs on the Tye are handled by the Layouts and Lists Staff, comprised of Gerry Carlson, Jackie Tjossen, Barbara Lewis and Helen Corl. Not pictured is Anita Mainwaring.

These Tye Office gals don't often get an opportunity to look over the past annuals, because the filing of endless names really keeps them busy. Seated are Manager Florabel Key, Suzanne Stout and Shirley McCarter; standing are Carole Good, Virginia Hill and Jackie Tjossen.

Some more of the Tye Office girls who left the hard labor of filing to take time out for a picture are Nancy Mace, Joanne Walstrom, Eleanor Baker; (top) Olive Lee and Joan Luckner.

Donna May Walley and Mary Pat Tross work over a layout of Presidents Informals for the Living Groups Section.

Checking the bulletin board for deadline notices are Betty Ackerman and Peggins Newgard, who are in charge of the Pin-cuts.

Last year's editor really gave his fellow-workers in the Tye office a surprise when his "hidden talent" was revealed in a number of dramatic productions at the Showboat. But MIKE ENGLISH managed to squeeze in time serving as Business Manager during the first part of the year. Mike's previous experience in the Tye included Sports Editor in 1950, and Editor-in-Chief in 1951.

Assuming the duties of Tye Business Manager the second half of the year, JIM POWER found plenty of opportunity to exercise his organizational ability. Jim's many journalistic activities include: Daily Business Manager in '51, Daily staff, Publications Committee and President of Alpha Delta Sigma.

For just a freshman, MARALLYN FRAME has served her University through many activities. Besides being a member of various committees, such as AWS Concerts, ASUW Activities Pool and the Frosh dance, Marilyn combined her major, Advertising, with the job of Tye Office Manager.

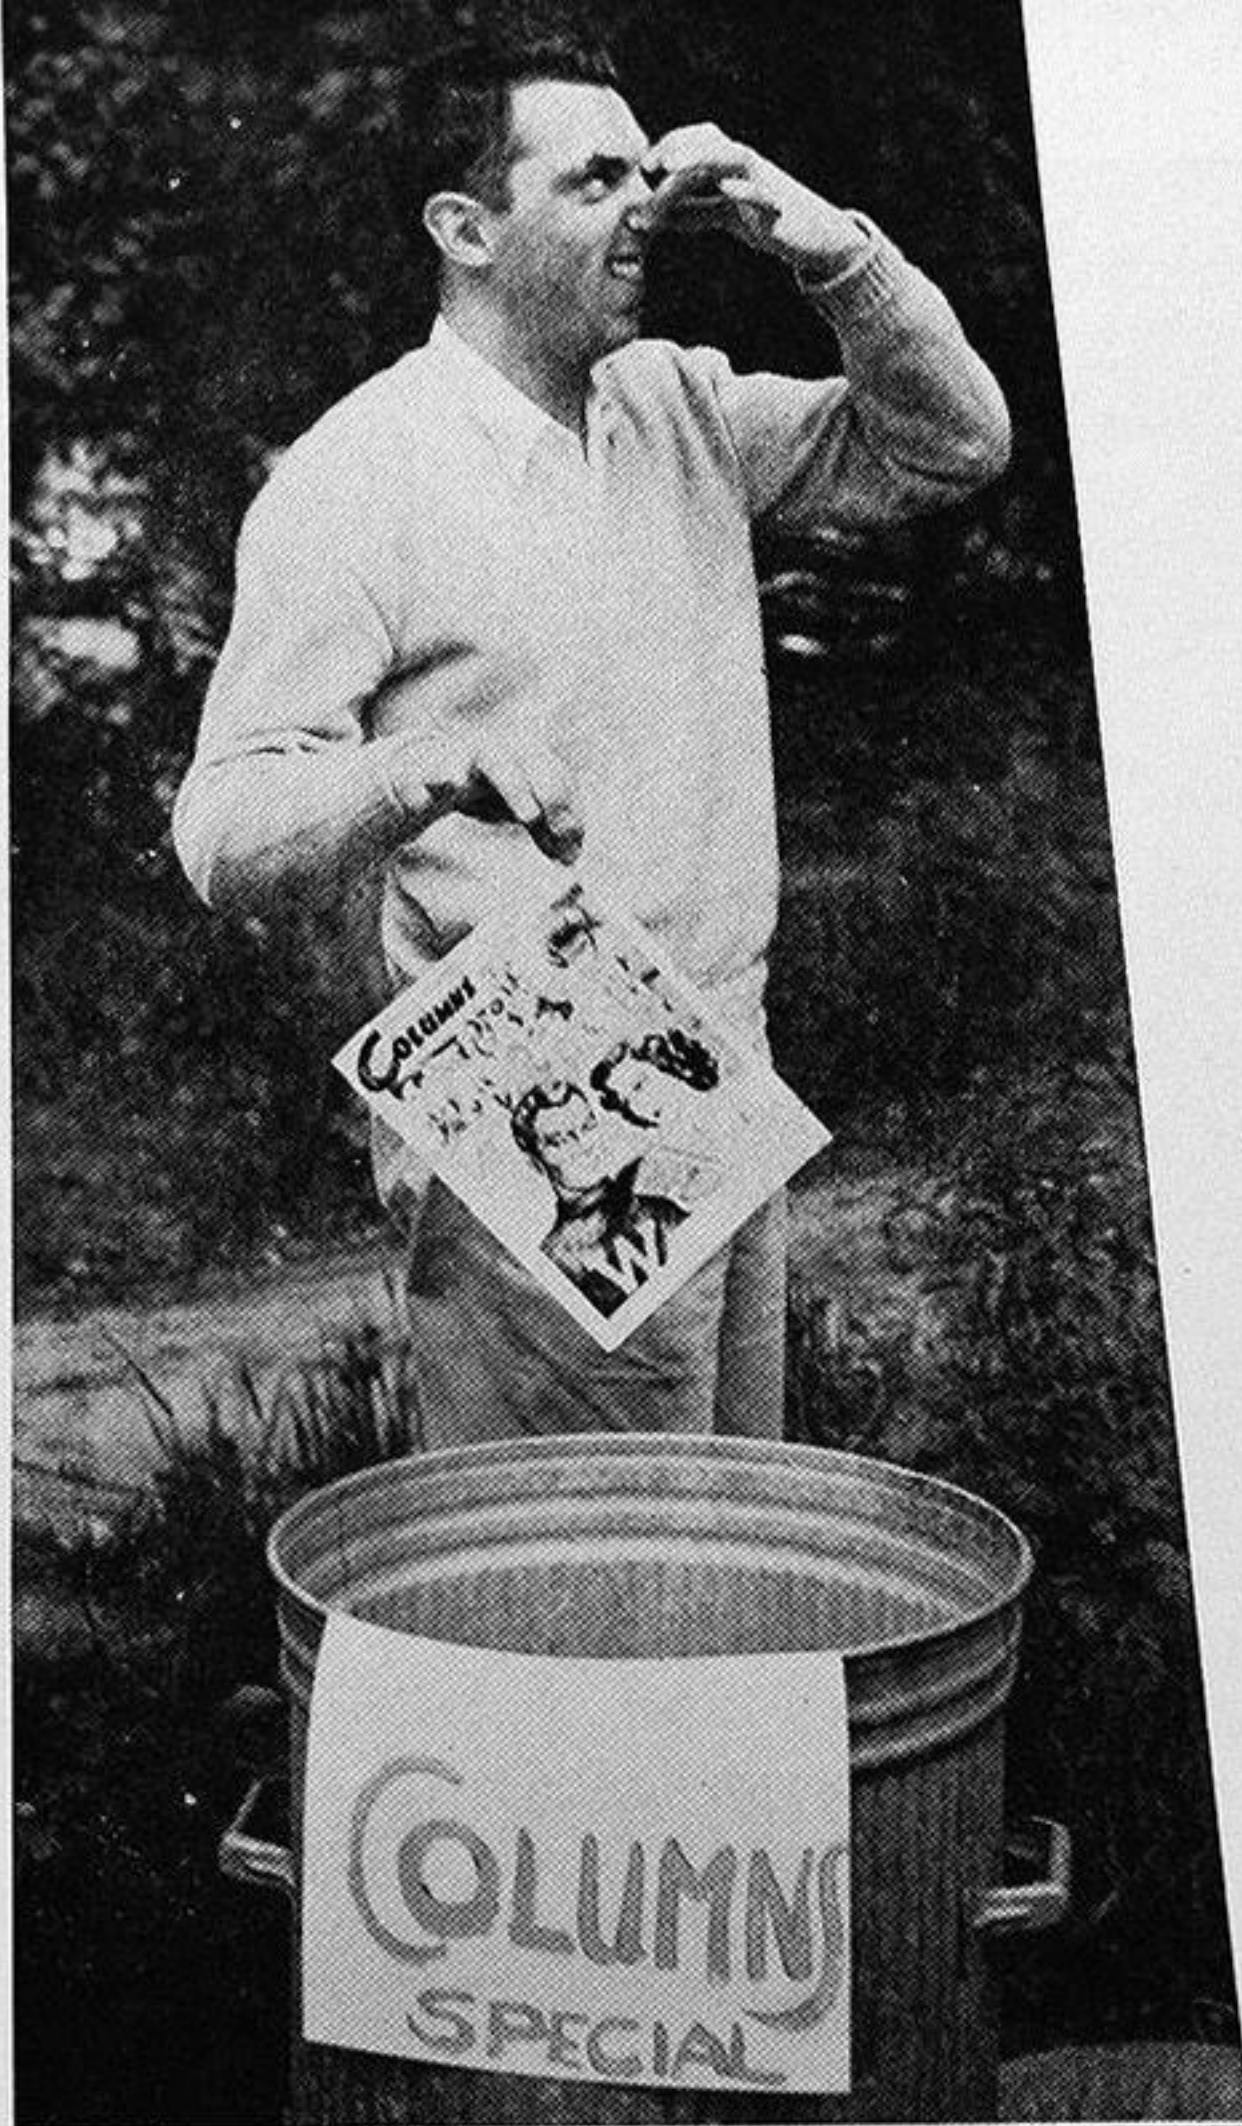

TYEE BUSINESS

Again the past Tye Editor was promoted to the office of Business Manager. Such was the case of Mike English, last year's Tye Editor, who took over the Business Manager's position at the beginning of this year. Mike got the ball rolling in the Business Department by selling pages in the Tye to all organized houses and organizations on campus. At midyear, Business Managerial duties were assumed by Jim Power, who stepped right into the swing of things and got advertising space sold in record time. The ad staff that accomplished this feat included Mike Mignacco, Grant Angle, Merwyn Lodwig, Lou Ann Johnson, and Maralyn Frame. A lot can be credited to Maralyn, who organized the office staff and really kept things running smoothly. The final undertaking of the year was the compilation of the index found in the back of the Tye.

Part of the Business Staff, including Angie Trucano, Ellen Ross, Jane Trojan, Lou Ann Johnson and Shirley Moore, show how it can be done—efficiency, that is. Even though this life isn't as glorious as it may look, everyone has a good time, because there are plenty of people to talk to while slaving away.

Escaping from the confusion and confinement of the Tye Business Office, these members of the Office Staff enjoy a breath of fresh air. Seated are Shirley Wizer, Dianne Link, Lynn Bovik, Marian Ashe and Donah Lee Hougat.

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON COLUMNS

As in past years, the campus magazine carried its usual number of stimulating (?) stories, jokes and advertisements. JIM BOYNTON carried out EDITORIAL duties with finesse. FRANK CHESLEY, GEORGE LOWE and MARLENE MILLER faithfully served as ASSOCIATE Editors; BUD ERICKSON was ART Editor and MARIANNE MERRITT was CIRCULATION MANAGER. Business was handled by JOHN DYSART Fall quarer, with BEN WATKINS assuming charge Winter and Spring quarters.

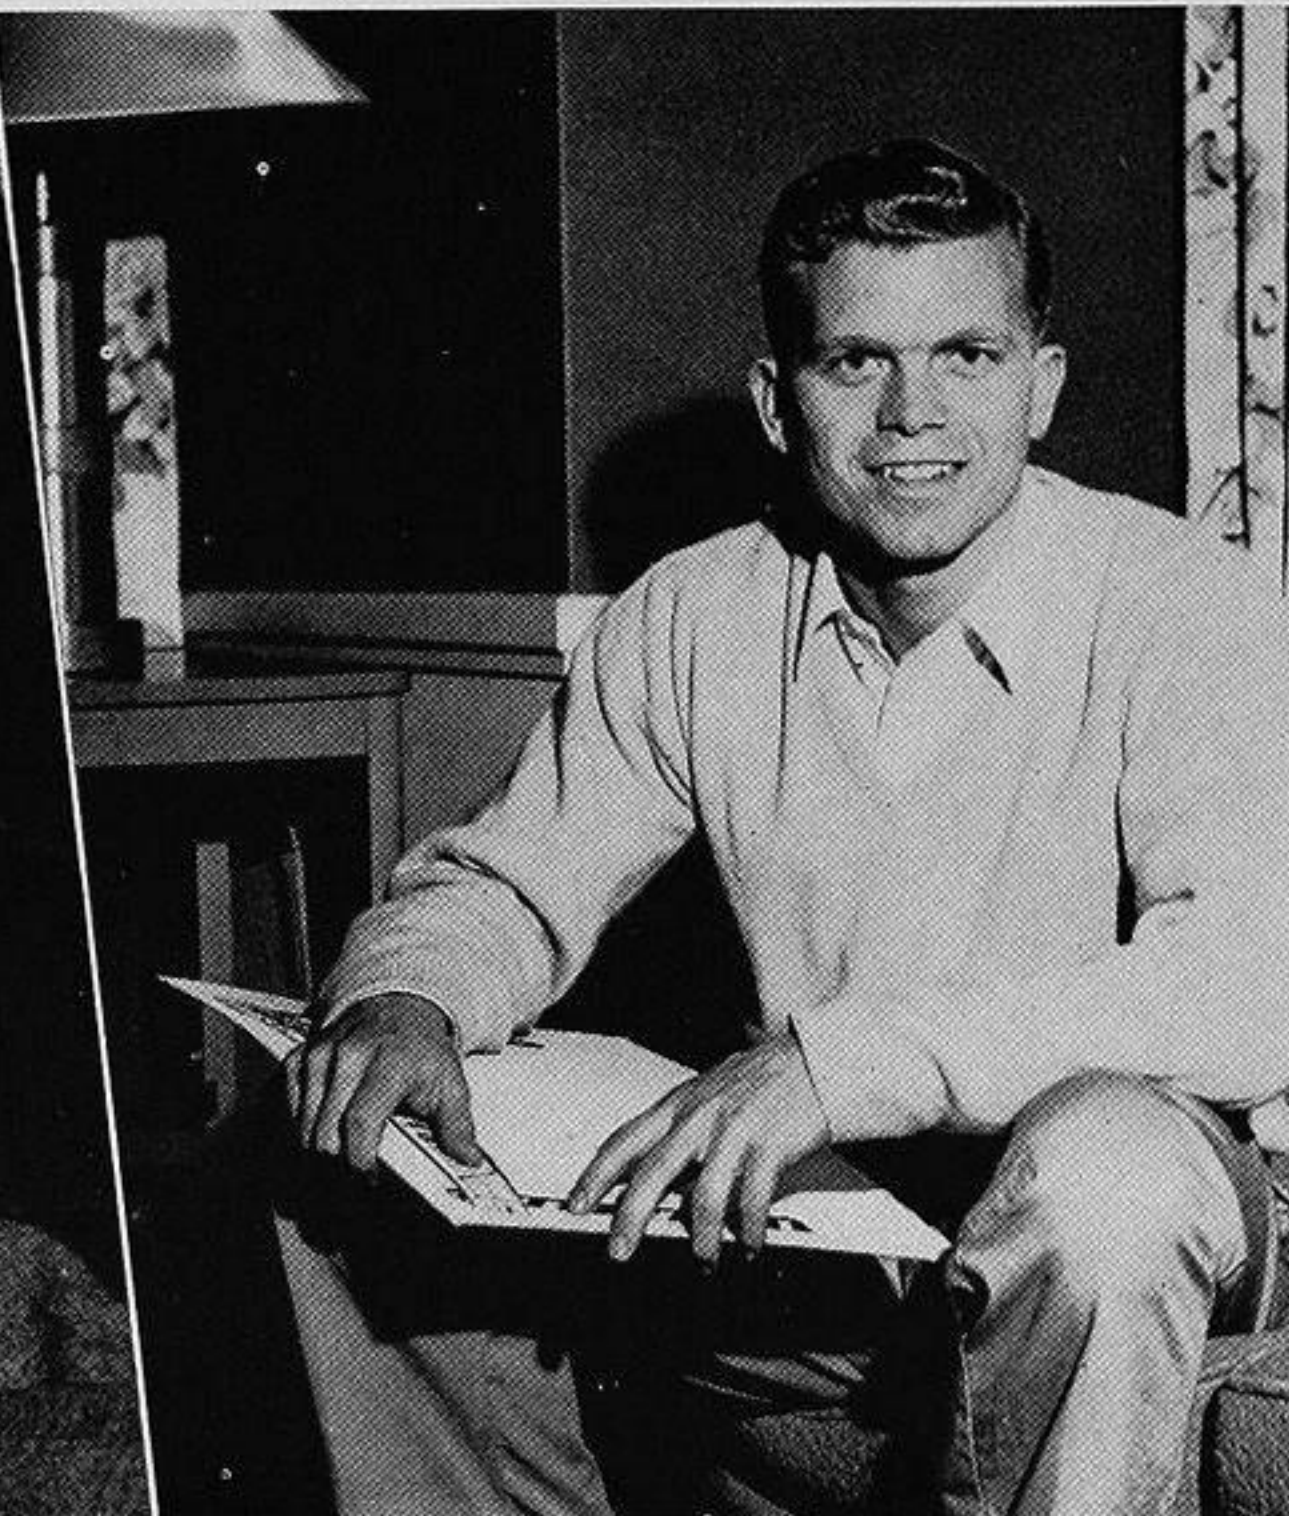

"Filing away" the latest edition of Columns, EDITOR, JIM BOYNTON admits he carries a chip on his shoulder—"That's why I'm Editor!" Jim, now a senior and married, gained experience reporting for the Daily and contributing to Columns as a Junior in Journalism.

Caught in the act of storing away comment for the Columns, MARLENE MILLER decides to resort to the Tye for more informative news for awhile. Serving as ASSOCIATE Editor during Fall Quarter didn't stop Marlene from assuming the duties as President of the Radio and TV Guild and membership in Zeta Phi Eta and Totem Club.

By cutting telephone wires, FRANK CHESLEY is meeting his frustration of not being able to achieve his life ambition, namely that of selling Columns. However, serving as one of the Columns' ASSOCIATE Editors as well as continuing to contribute copy, left Frank with little time for such exhibitions.

A senior in Architecture, BUD ERICKSON lent his artistic talent to Columns as this year's ART Editor. Last year he also served on the Art Staff as well as being a contributor. Here Bud reflects the dignity often found among Columns workers.

These Columns Contributors, Bill Jury, Ralph Holmstead, Monte Solkover and some joker's feet (whose girl made him a pair of argyles) are having a good old-fashioned conflag on the Columns' pin-ups. Not pictured are Ed Baker and Gene Hufeisen.

Surveying some potential Columns art material with a critical eye are Ray Jensen and Jack Brown, members of the Columns ART Staff. Not pictured is Geoff Relf.

COLUMNS EDITORIAL

Caught at the annual Publications Banquet in May of '51 are Jim Boynton, Marlene Miller, Mr. Brier, Columns Advisor (any resemblance between Brier and "Major Hoople" is purely coincidental), George Lowe and Bob McCain.

Lost in the madness of artistic creation, Don Farnam, Engineering major, works feverishly over the drawing for the Columns' Chest Guessing Contest—he won too.

COLUMNS BUSINESS

Occupying the least glamorous position behind a publication is the Business Staff. When the latest edition is hot off the press the writer receives the glory, but without the smooth functioning of a business staff behind him, even his most inspired efforts would be in vain. And so we find the hard working Columns business staff unnoticed behind the more creative journalistic activities. A competent group of Advertising Representatives trudge the Ave. each month selling ads to merchants and businessmen; a Circulation Manager spends much time and effort overseeing the sale of Columns and trying to think up better ways to promote sales. And the final word on business matters is given by the Business Manager, who carries the load of responsibilities involved in the business of Columns.

JOHN DYSART isn't trying to get out of work by hiding his typewriter . . . he's really going to pawn it to help support his wife and daughter. Managing the business end of the Daily for '49-'50 qualified this ex-marine for the position of Columns BUSINESS MANAGER fall quarter. John is also a member of Alpha Delta Sigma, Advertising Honorary.

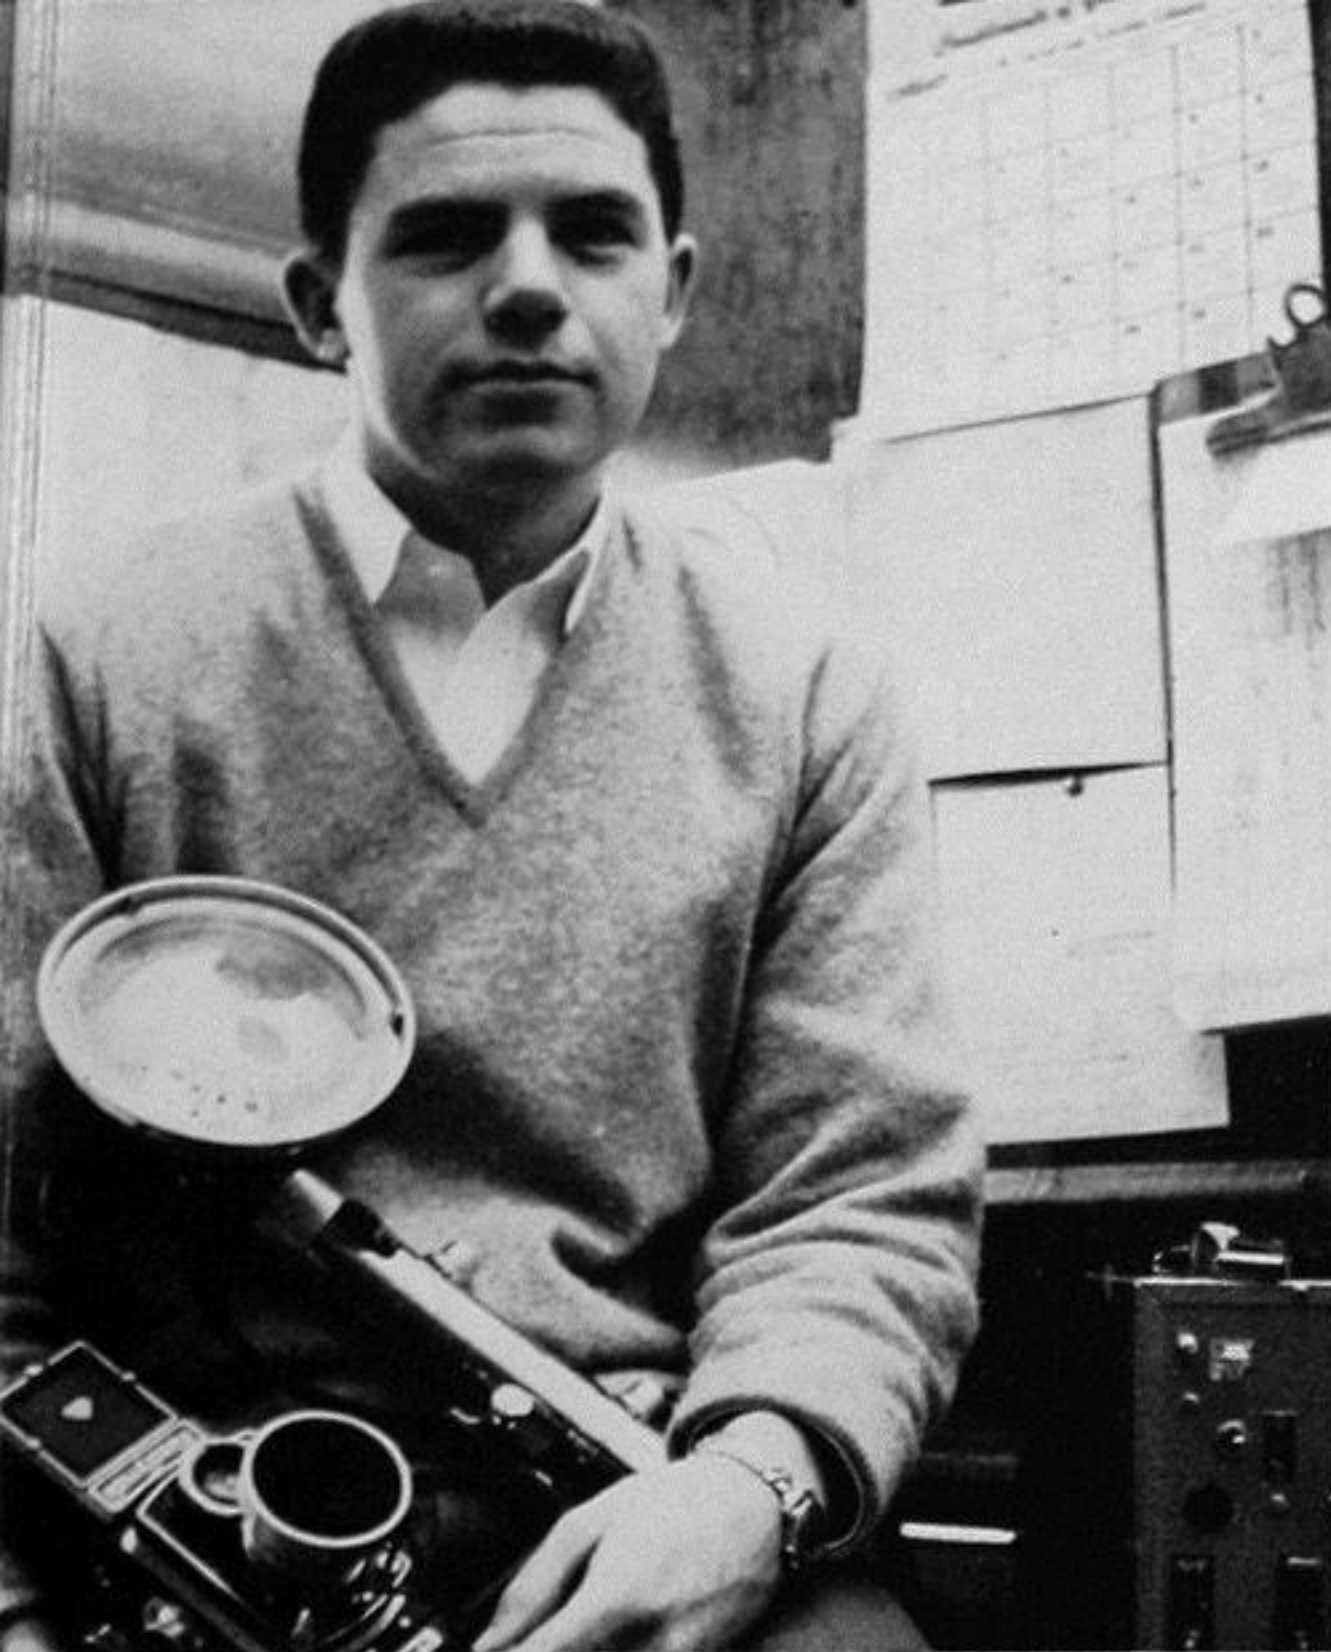

A BUSINESS MANAGER has to count more than money . . . just ask BEN WATKINS, who took over the job for winter and spring quarters. During fall quarter, Ben was an advertising representative for Columns and pledged Alpha Delta Sigma also. A student in the School of Pharmacy, he plans to combine advertising and pharmacy in post-graduate work.

CIRCULATION MANAGER, MARIANNE MERRITT, feels she spends so much time in Lewis Hall she "may as well bring a cot and coffee pot and start boarding." Last year Marianne devoted her time to editing a section for the Tye. This busy gal also served on the Homecoming Committee and worked on the script for Song and Stunt Night.

Dick Harris, Maureen Callaghan and Birdie Wilkinson, winter quarter ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES, discuss the possibilities of acquiring new ideas on selling ads.

The fall quarter ADVERTISING REPRESENTATIVES, including Dick Luther, Janet Johnson, Ben Watkins, Jerry Harris and Jack Ehrig, aren't really as frustrated as they appear to be . . . they just like the jokes.

A.S.U.W.

Through rain, hail, sleet, snow, and the usual spring mud, ASUW photographers transverse the campus, capturing scenes of typical college life in the lenses of their cameras. Although their work is professional, each one of these "camera fiends" does it for his own enjoyment, always experimenting with the latest inventions in the photographic fields in hopes of improving his pictures.

The efficient staff of photographers manages to do all the photographic work for the Daily, the Tyee and the Columns, and although it may at times involve some pretty close scheduling of pictures, the staff always manages to "put out" at the right time. The work is divided fairly evenly so that everyone gets equal experience in field, studio, and darkroom work.

Bill Staley is Chief-of-Staff and Tom Cohen is his assistant, with Don Schaefer, Don Erickson, George August, Carroll Gilbertson, Roger Knoop, Paul Thomas and Sandy McAusland comprising the rest of the staff. Their adviser is "Corny" Root. These busy photographers are relieved of much routine office work by two secretaries, Margie Walsh and Kelly Martin, who file negatives and log reports, and sometimes come in handy as drawer cleaners and floor sweepers.

Chief-of-Staff Bill Staley received most of his training in photography when he served as aerial photographer in the U. S. Navy. Bill specializes in multiple flash.

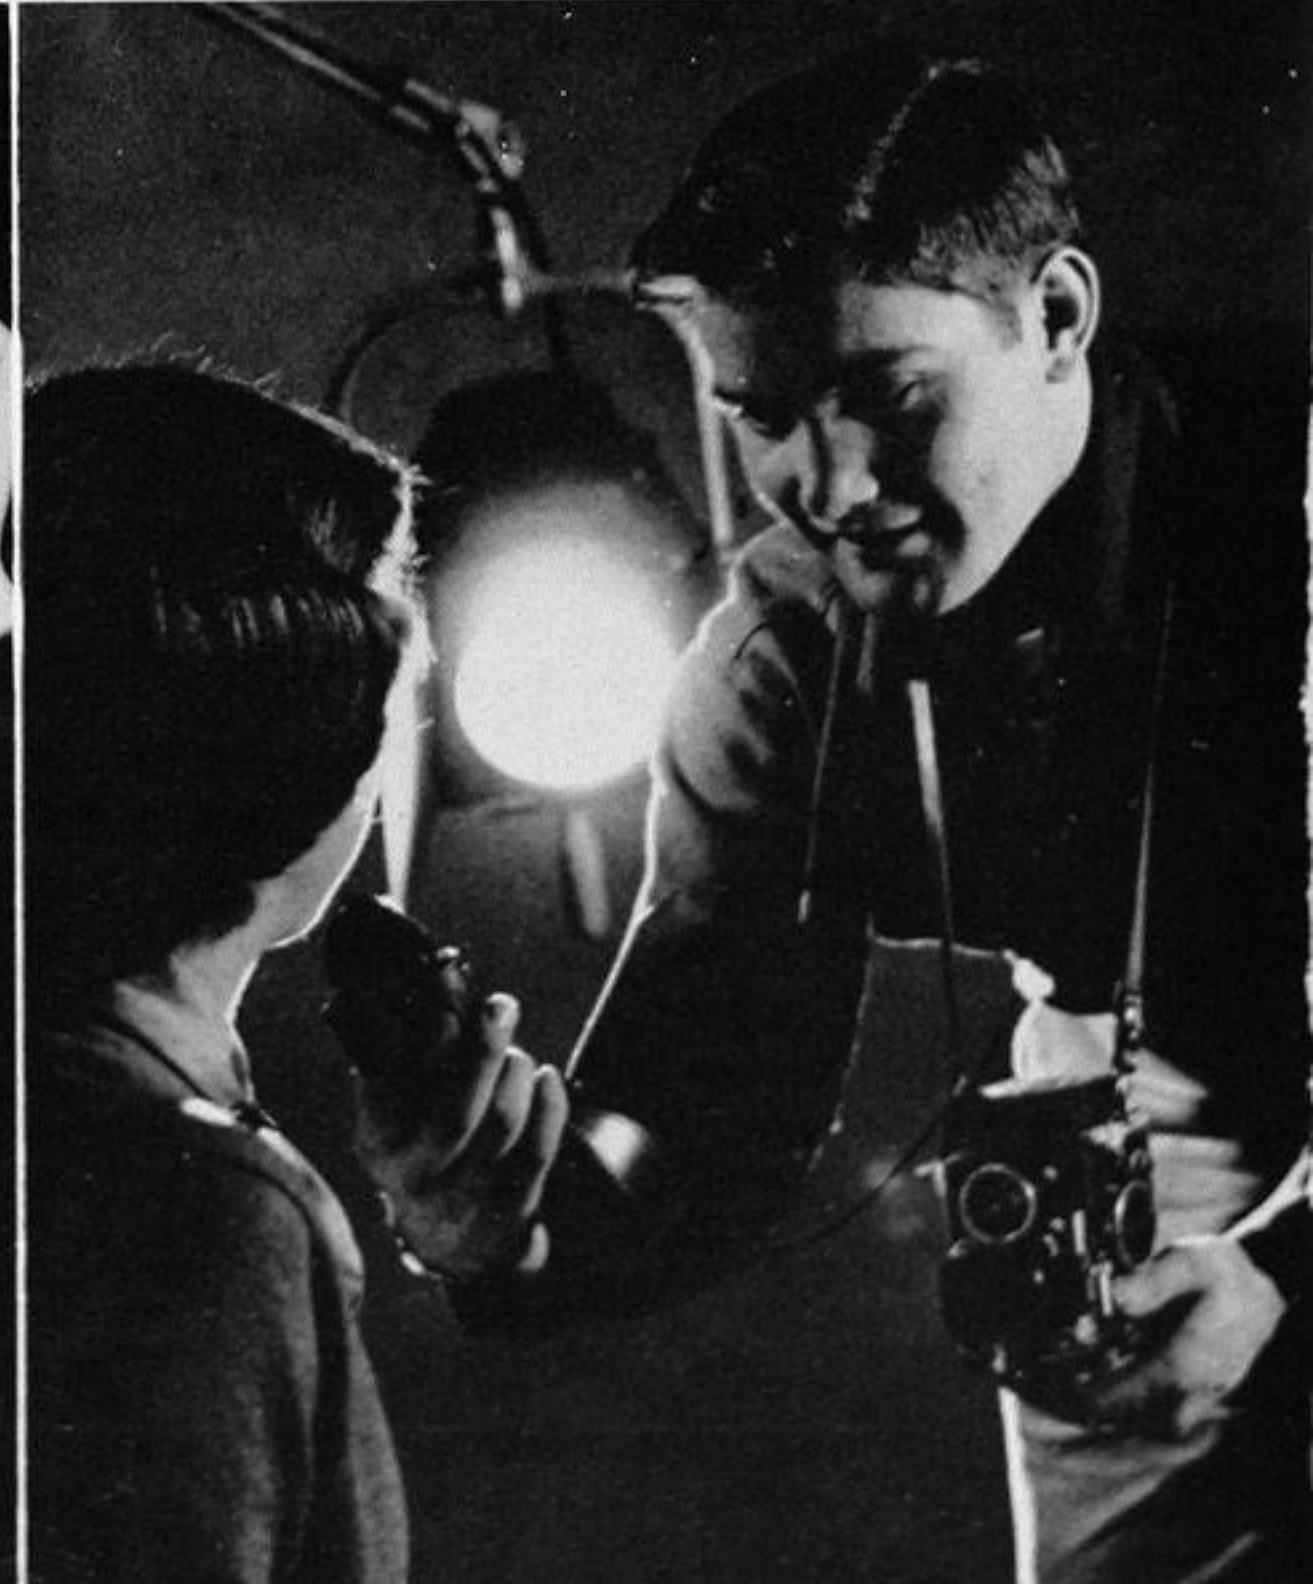

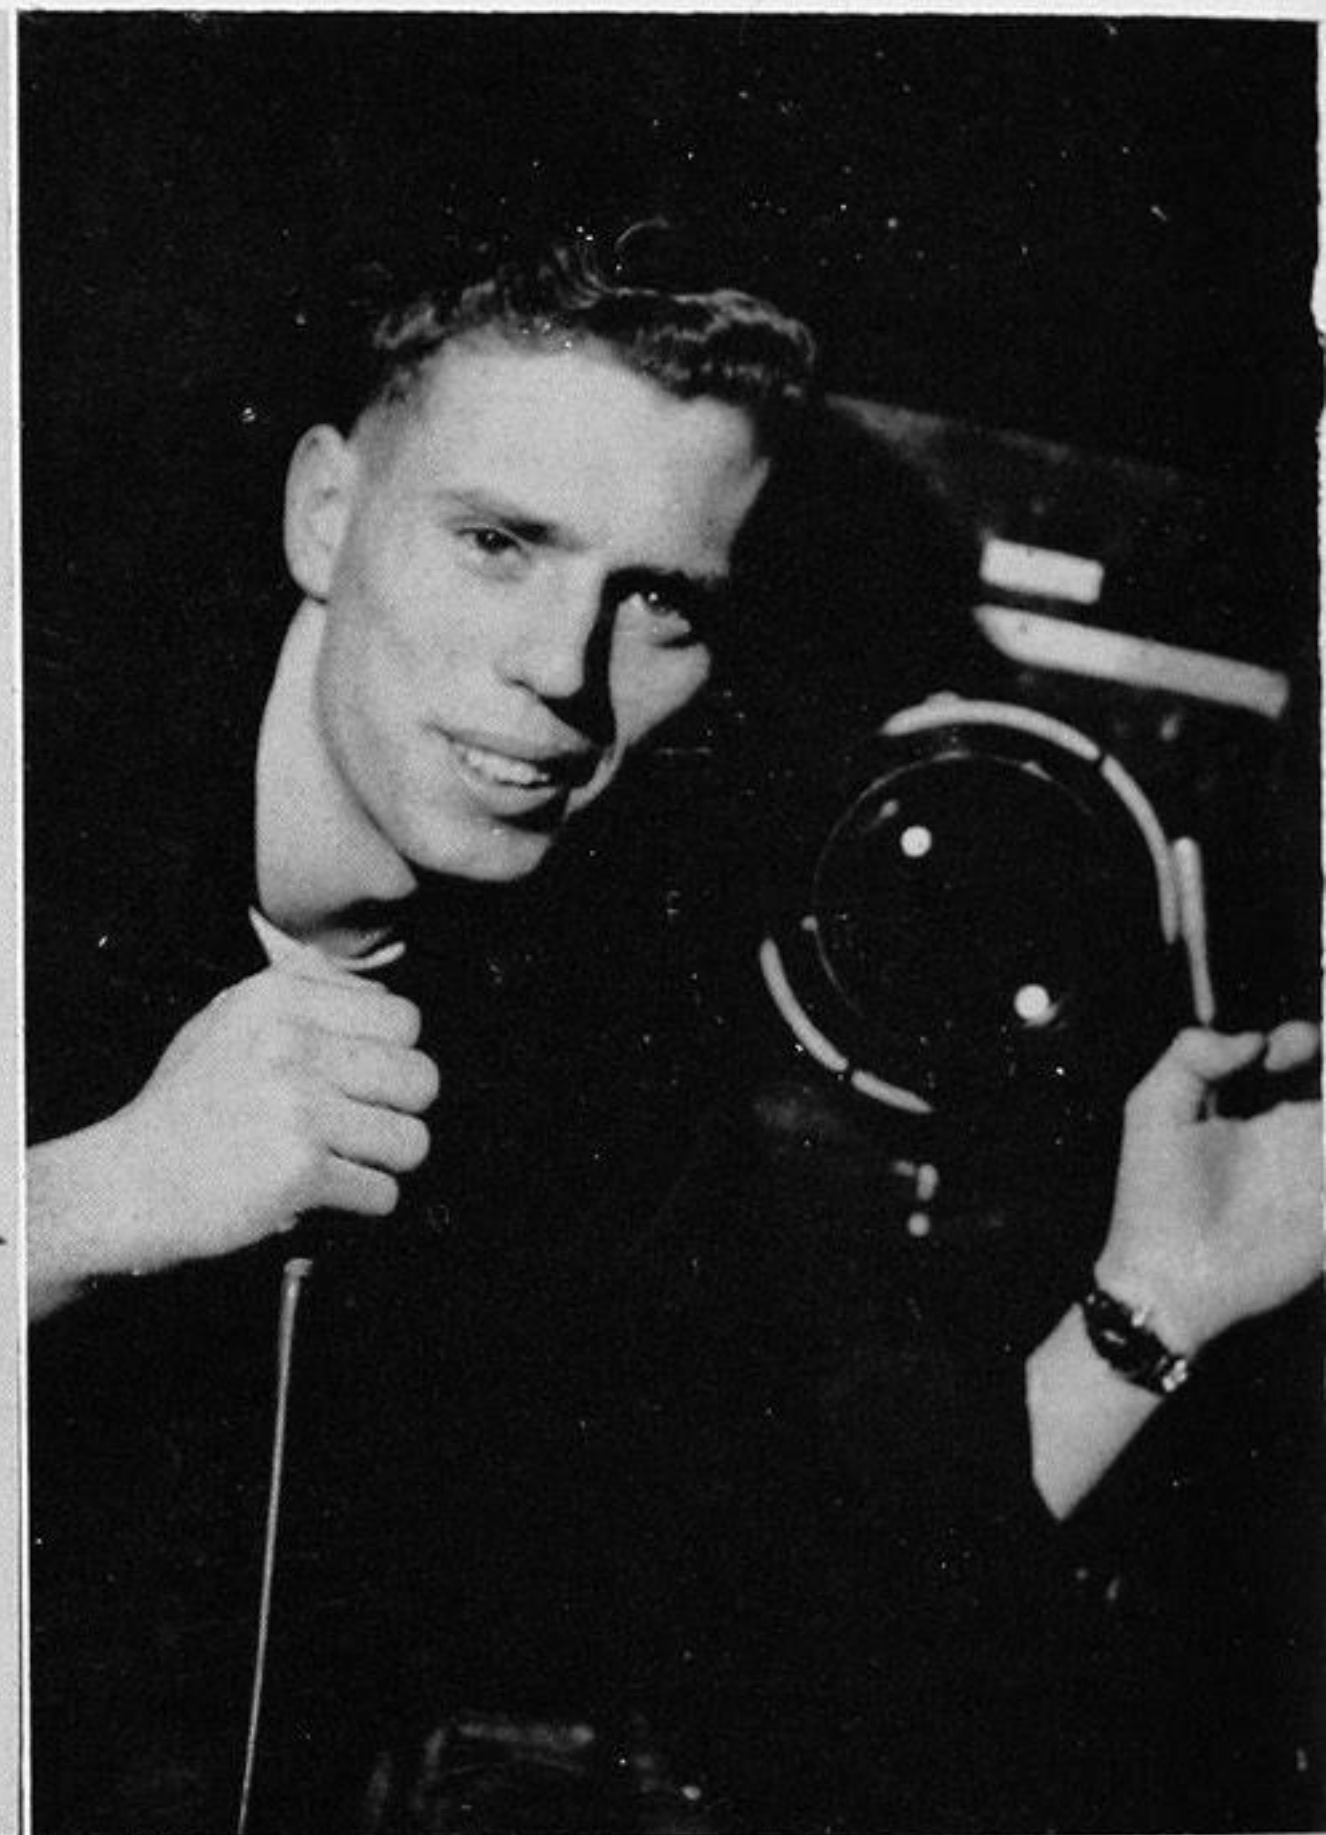

A Junior in Engineering, Carroll Gilbertson, strangely enough, spends much of his time on upper-campus. This is his second year as all-round staff member in the photo lab.

Formerly a staff photographer at Renton High, Frosh Don Erickson plans to apply this experience in his future years at college.

George August, who hails from Chicago and is a Graduate Student in B.A., has started to operate his own photo business; he hopes to develop it more in the future.

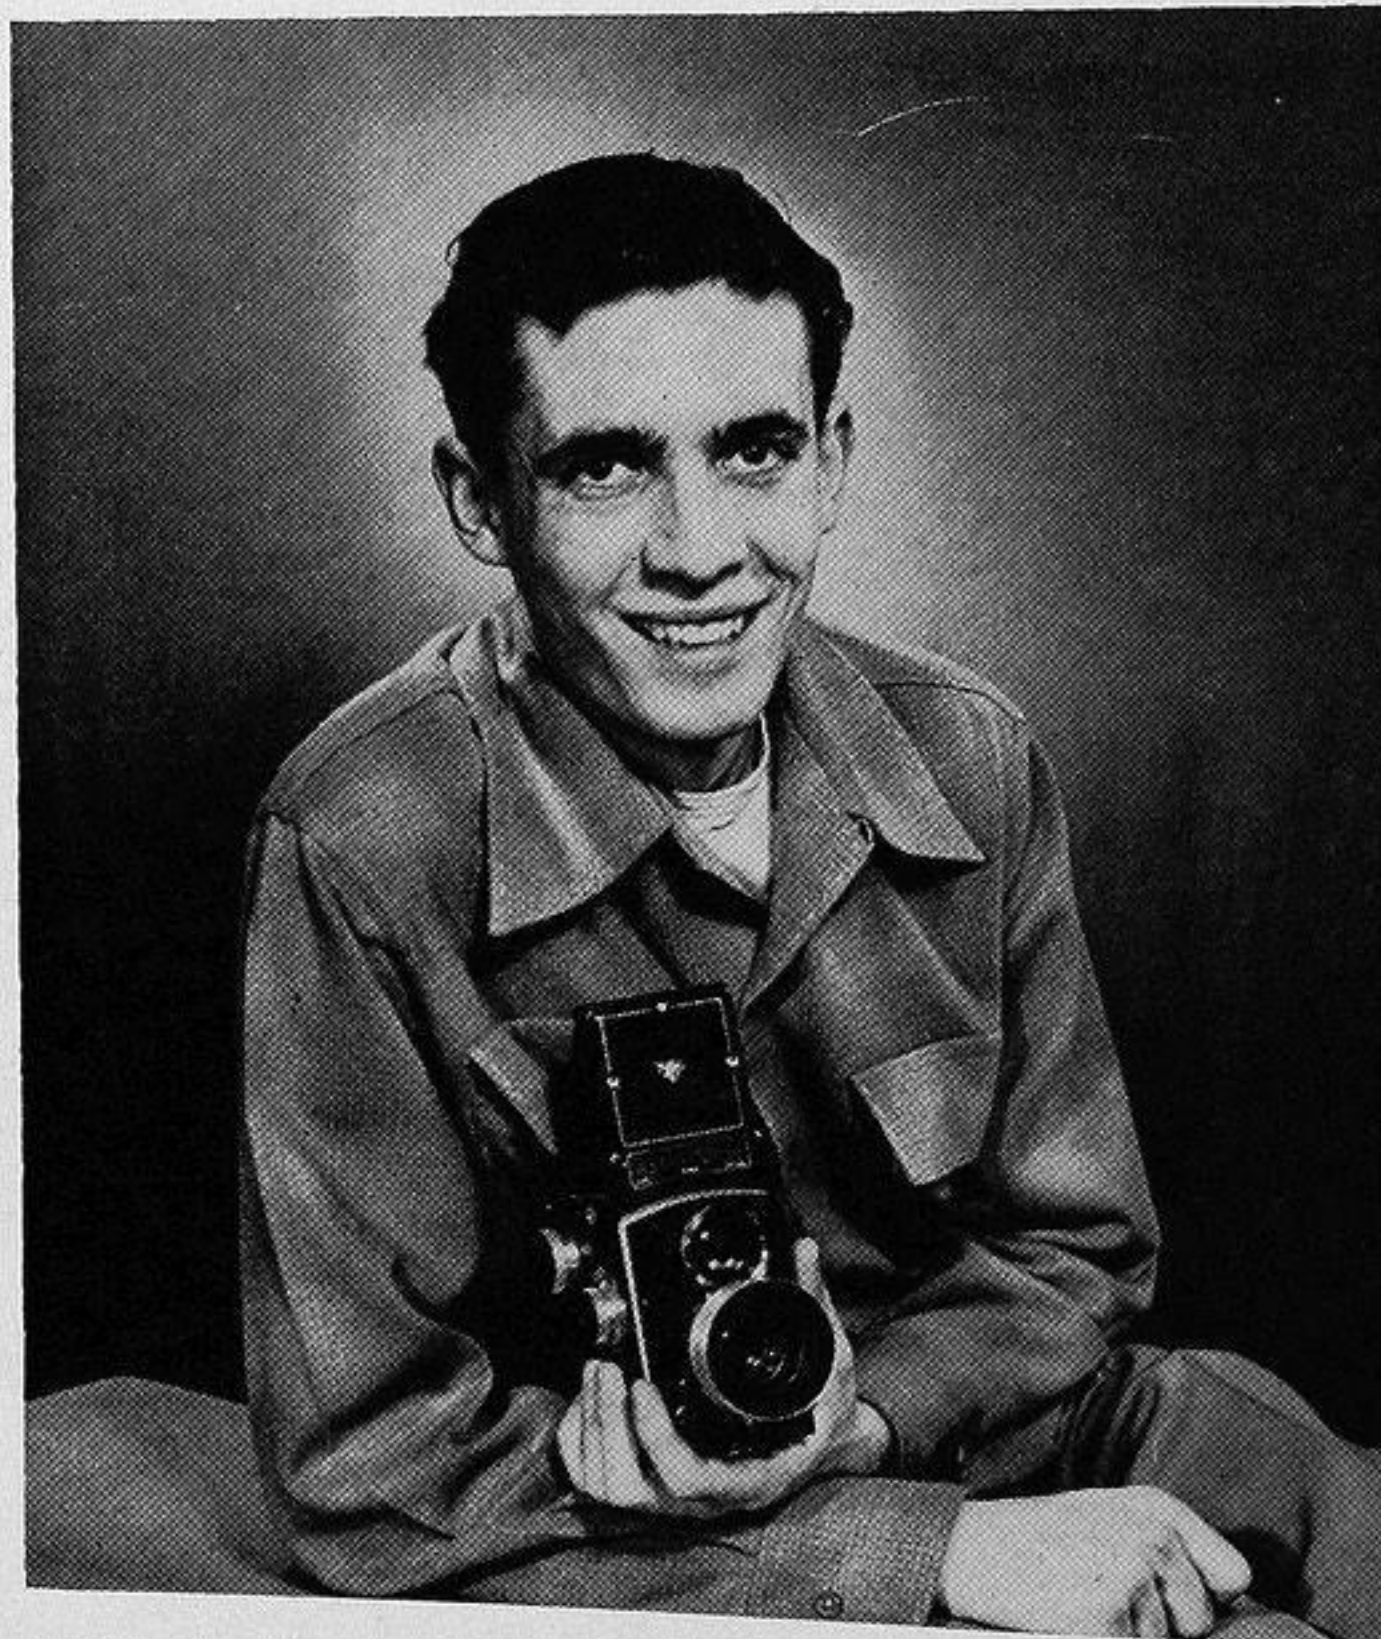

Sandy McAusland is a Junior in Mechanical Engineering, and as a former U. S. Marine for several years, he learned the basic principles of photography.

A B.A. major, Paul Thomas has proved himself to be a promising photographer. Paul plans to go into photography work after graduation, but he hasn't yet decided what to do with his B.A. degree.

Photographers

Assistant Chief-of-Staff and a junior in Physics, Tom Cohen specializes in Daily work and fashion shot. Tom transferred from Gonzaga where he was Public Relations Photographer.

Director of the Photo Lab, Cornelius Root, better known as "Corny," has been active in journalism for many years. Several of his more interesting jobs included publishing a newspaper from 1932-49, and flying a plane as a commercial pilot.

Don Schaefer is a senior in Forestry and has been a photographer at the U for two years. After glancing through the Queens' section in the Texas annual, Don wished that he could have devoted at least a year to "photography" down South.

Roger Knoop, a junior majoring in Contemporary Civilization, transferred from Western Washington where he was staff photographer.

SPORTS

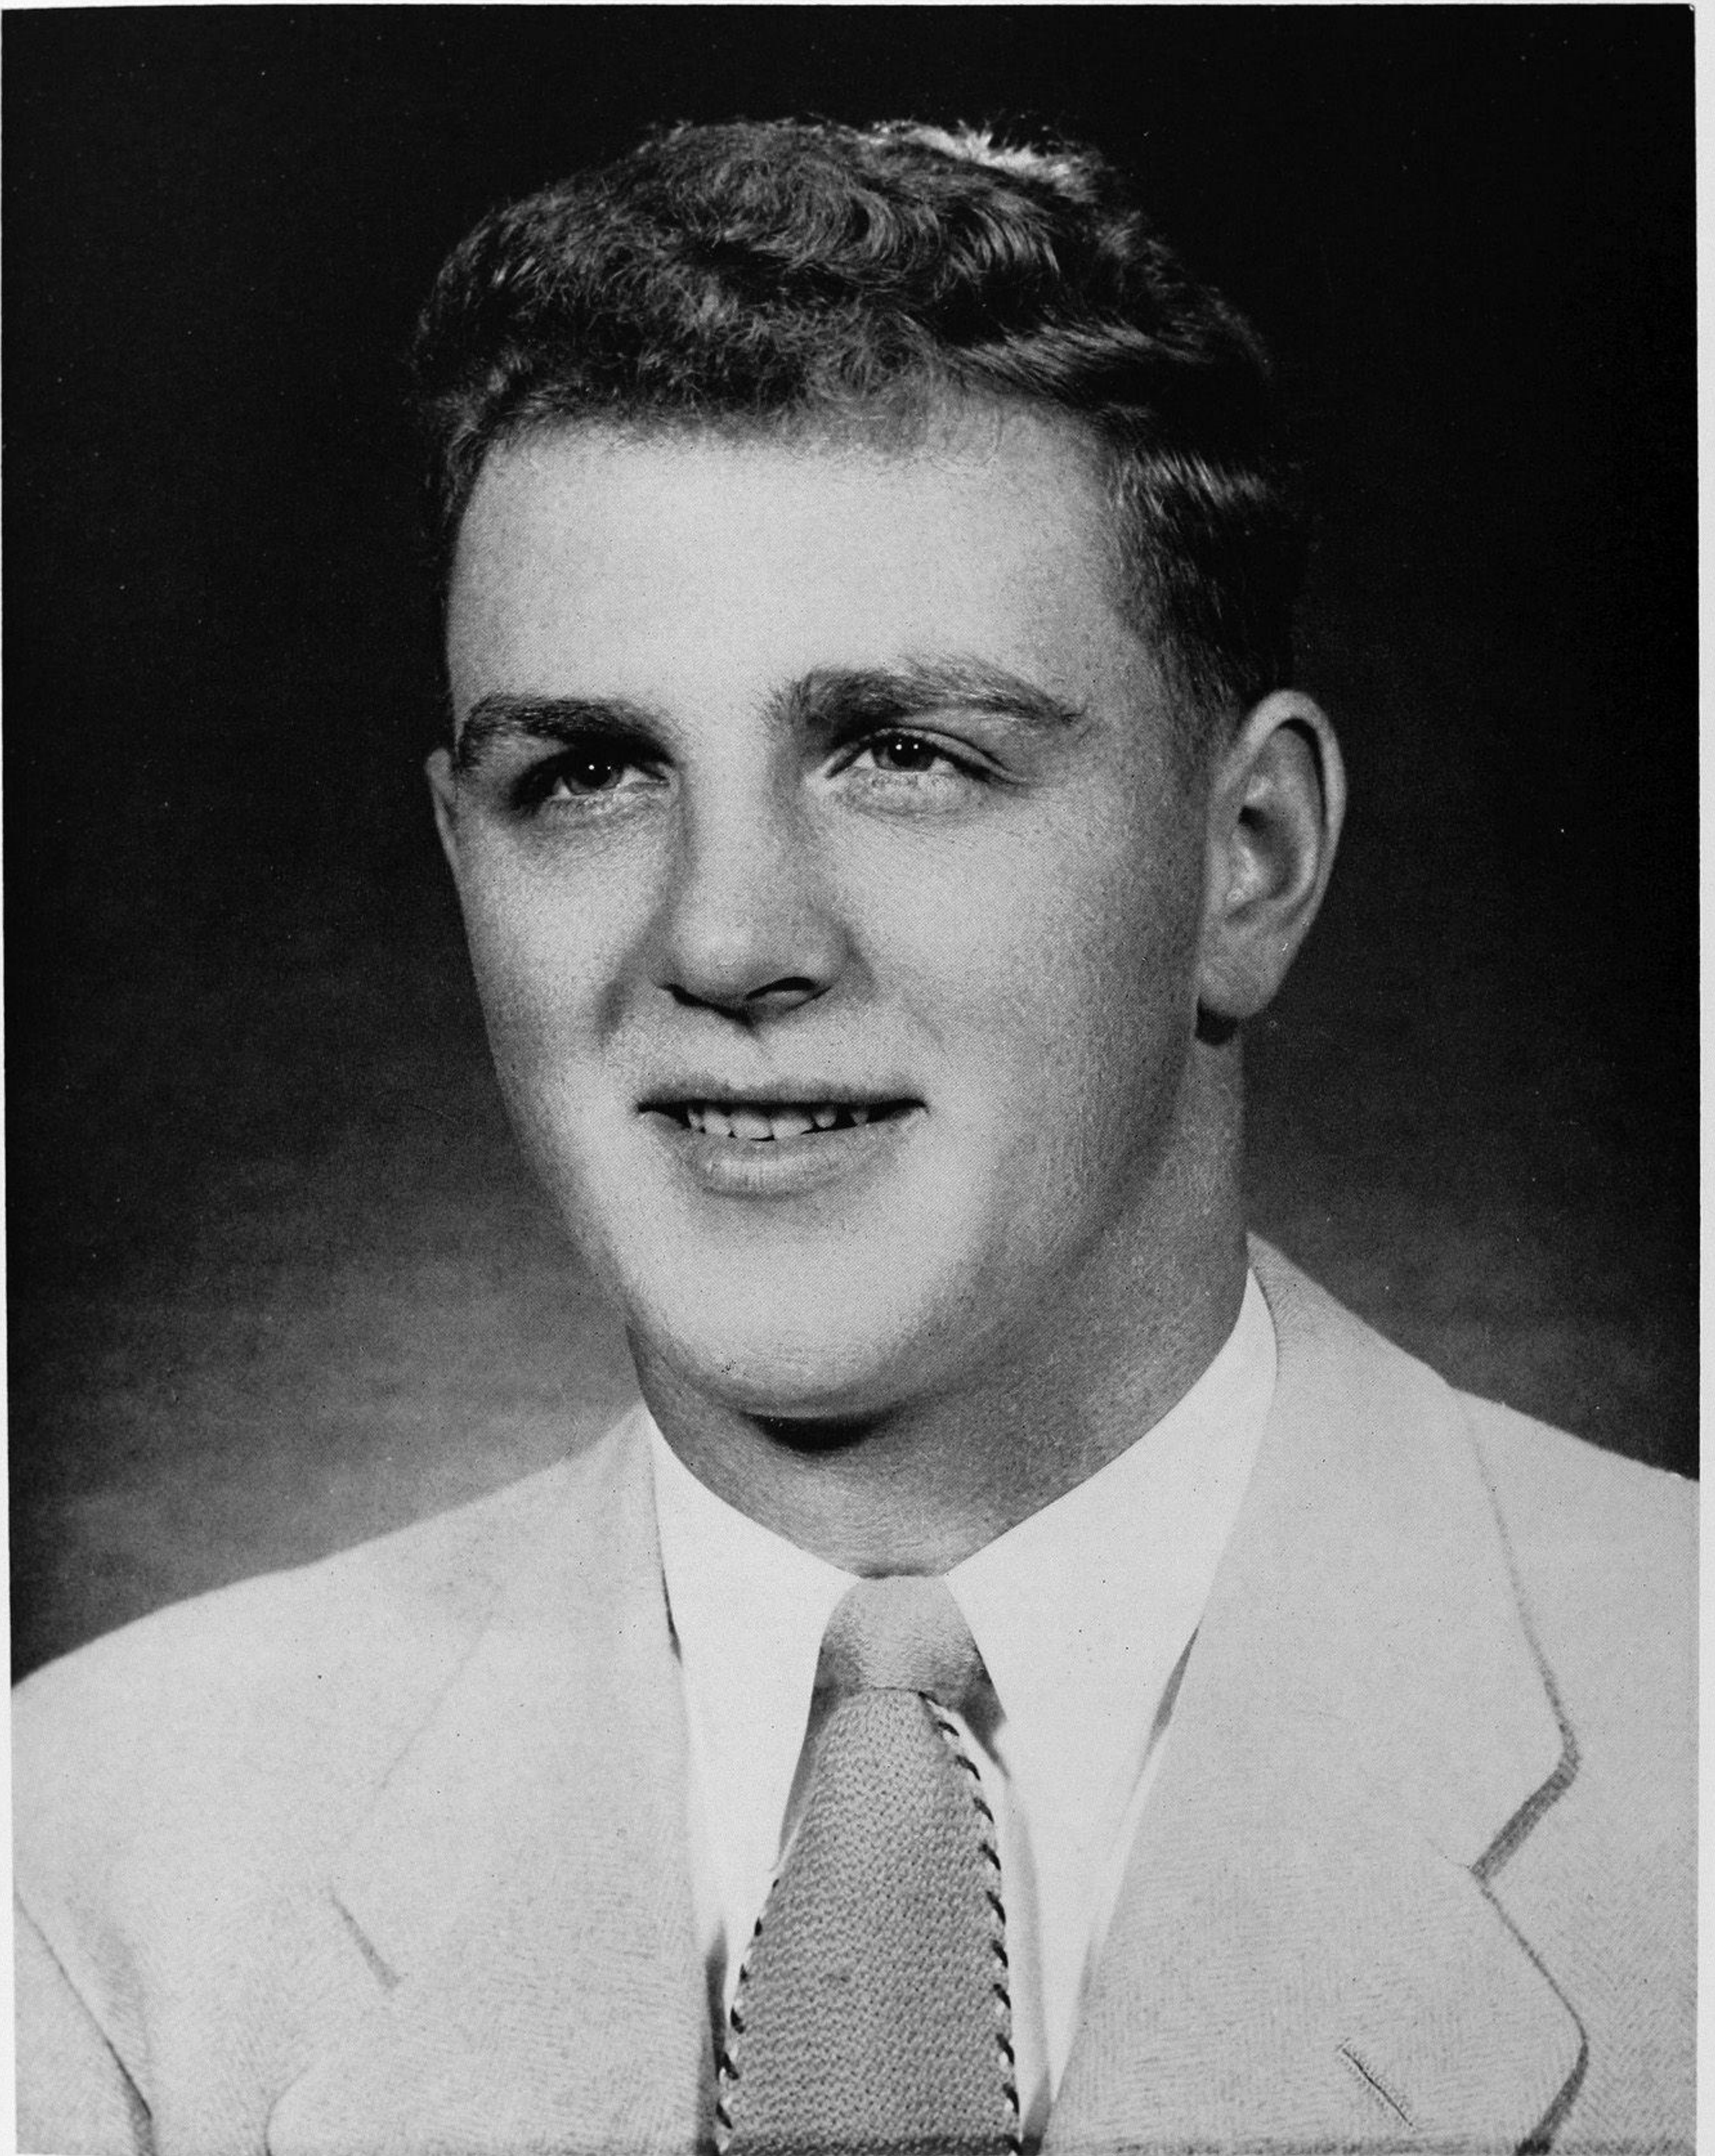

The Athletic Section . . . in Memoriam to

GEORGE R. "BUD" WAISS

(DECEMBER 19, 1929-JULY 23, 1951)

"A born leader of men . . . an inspiration to all who knew him. An athlete who was more than an oarsman. . . . A sparkplug and a driving spirit in everything he did. He will live in the hearts of Washingtonians for a long time."

ALVIN M. ULBRICKSON, SR.

Washington's modern athletic plant, including the pavilion, stadium and shell house, makes the perfect picture with beautiful Lake Washington in the background.

ATHLETIC DEPARTMENT

The man behind the Huskies' rise to fame in national athletic circles is HARVEY CASSILL, hard working director of athletics.

Helping publicize UW athletes is BERT ROSE, head of the athletic news service.

Accountant ROBERT STEINER and Administrative Assistant CHUCK BECHTOL take a breather at JOHN'S by the pavilion.

DAYLE HOAGLUND, Administrative Assistant, and IVAN TRAVIS, Ticket Manager, help keep things running smoothly in the department.

Whooping it up for the Huskies are yell leaders BILL BOHLIN, NANCY LYDON, BOB CONNELL, King TOM CHRISTIE, Queen DIANE CUMMINS, MARTY NUDELMAN, NANCY SMITH and BOB JOHNSTON.

CHEER LEADERS

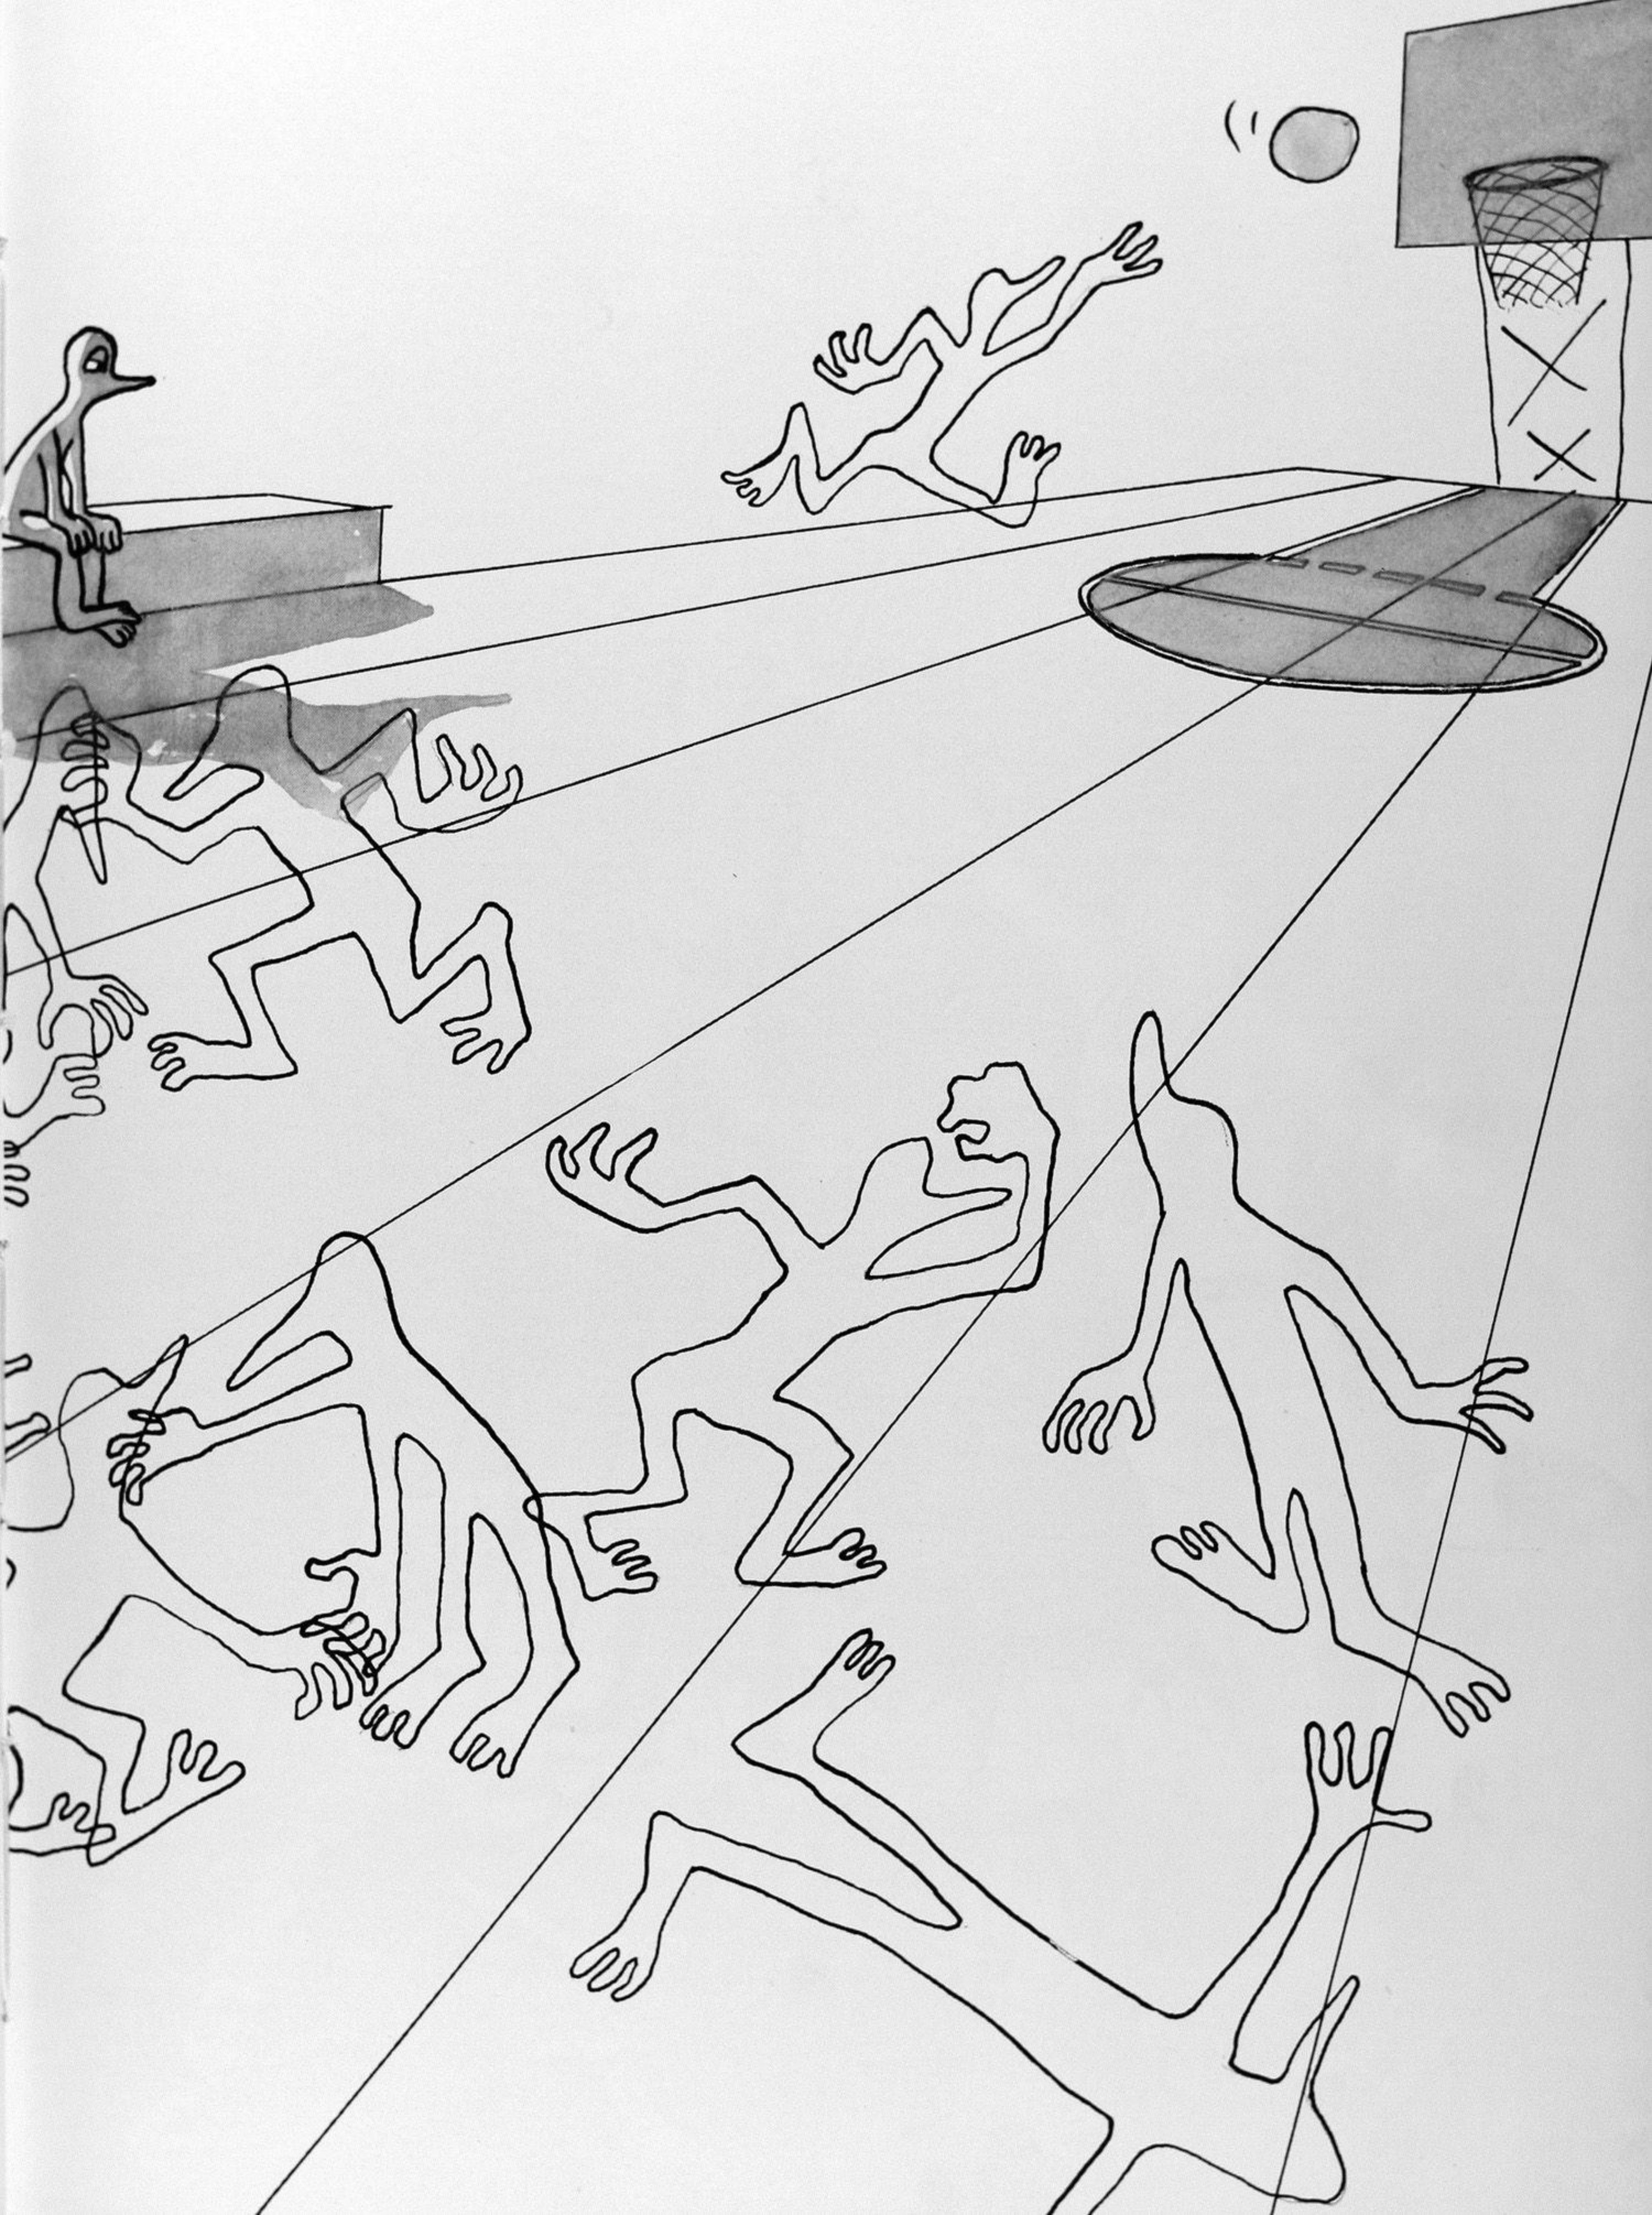

Yell King TOM CHRISTIE, powered by a pair of seemingly unexhaustible lungs, kept Husky spirit at a high pitch during the athletic year. Queen DIANE CUMMINS, not only in title, held up the feminine end in proper fashion and more than made up for football disappointments.

COACH WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON
"TIPPY" DYE

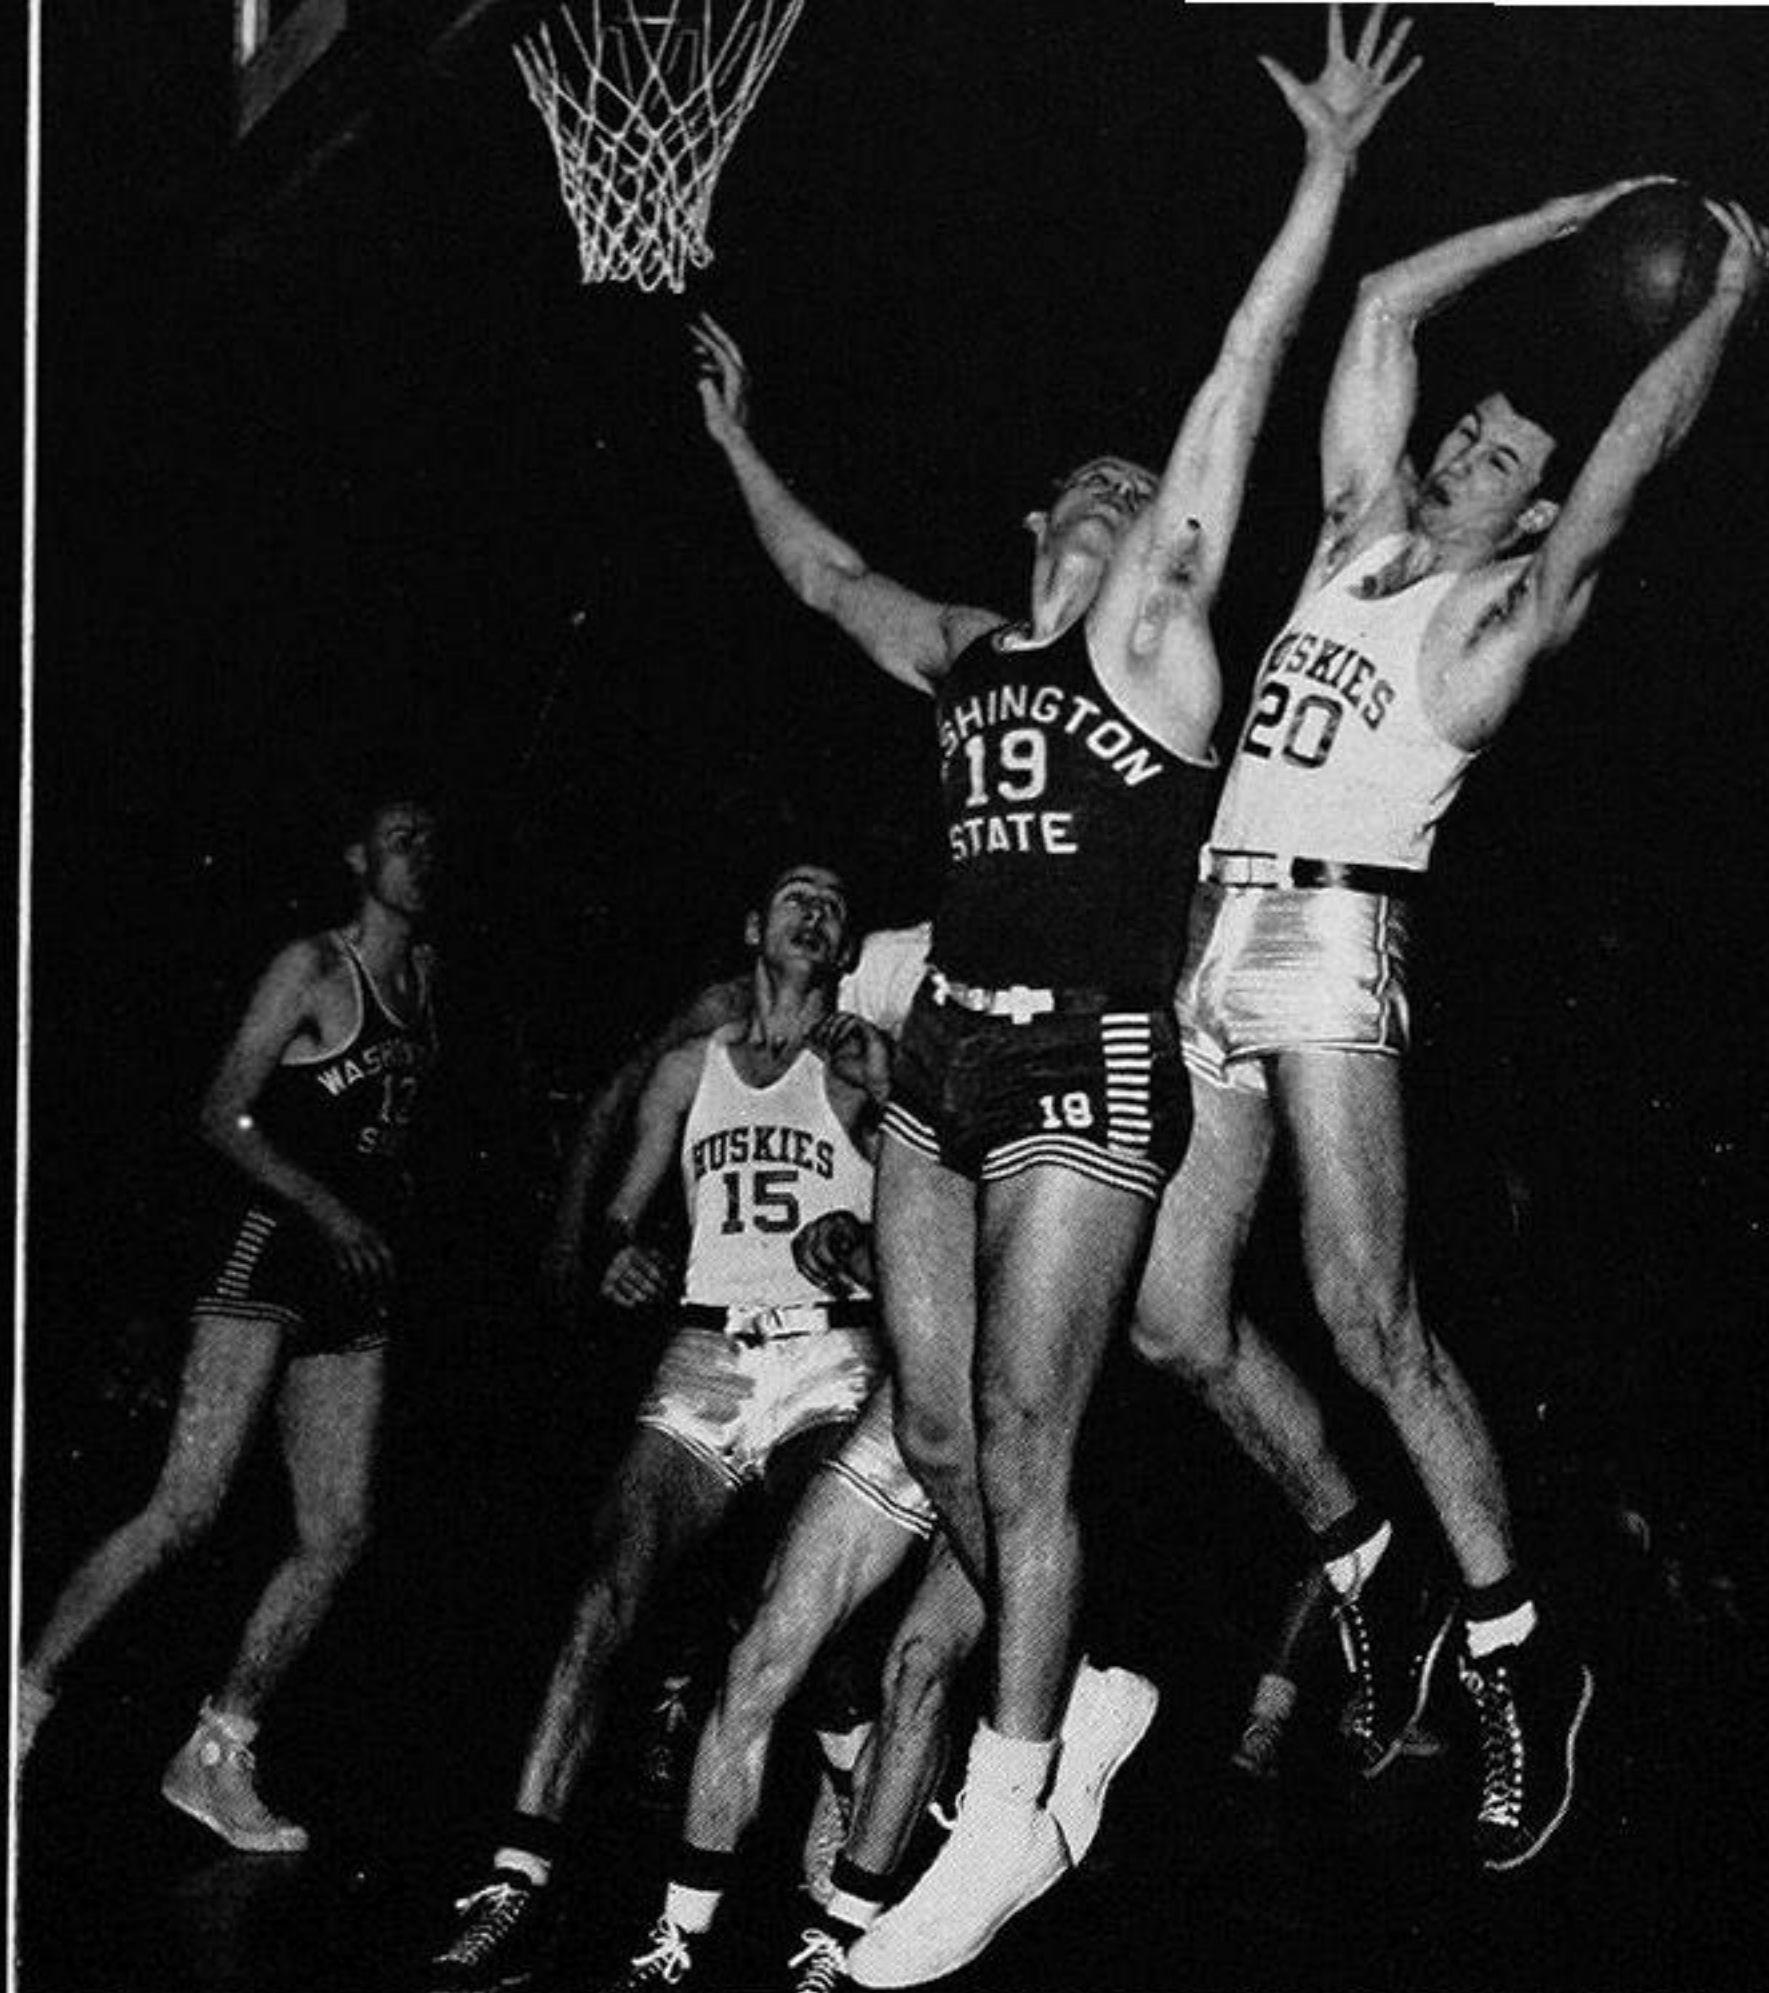

The University of Washington Huskies are the 1952 Northern Division Basketball Champions, but it would be hard to find a Husky player or fan who is very excited over that fact. Coach Tippy Dye molded a squad that ranked among the top ten teams in the nation all season, and showed strong prospects of representing the West in the National Collegiate Athletic Association playoffs. The Huskies lost but four games in twenty-eight at the end of the regular season, but in the Coast playoffs against UCLA in the Bruin gym they dropped the odd game in a two-out-of-three series. The California team then proceeded to lose both games in the NCAA regional playoffs in Corvallis. It was the second successive time that the Northern Division Champion traveled to the UCLA gymnasium with powerful teams only to come home on the short end of the scores. In 1950 WSC lost two straight to an underdog Bruin five.

Through the gloom of disappointment, however, Husky followers look forward to next season when again the prospects will be exceedingly bright. Washington loses two men to graduation—All-Coast Frank Guisness and Duane Enochs. Although the loss will undoubtedly be felt, such players as Bob Houbregs, Mike McCutchen, Joe Cipriano, and Doug McClary will be back.

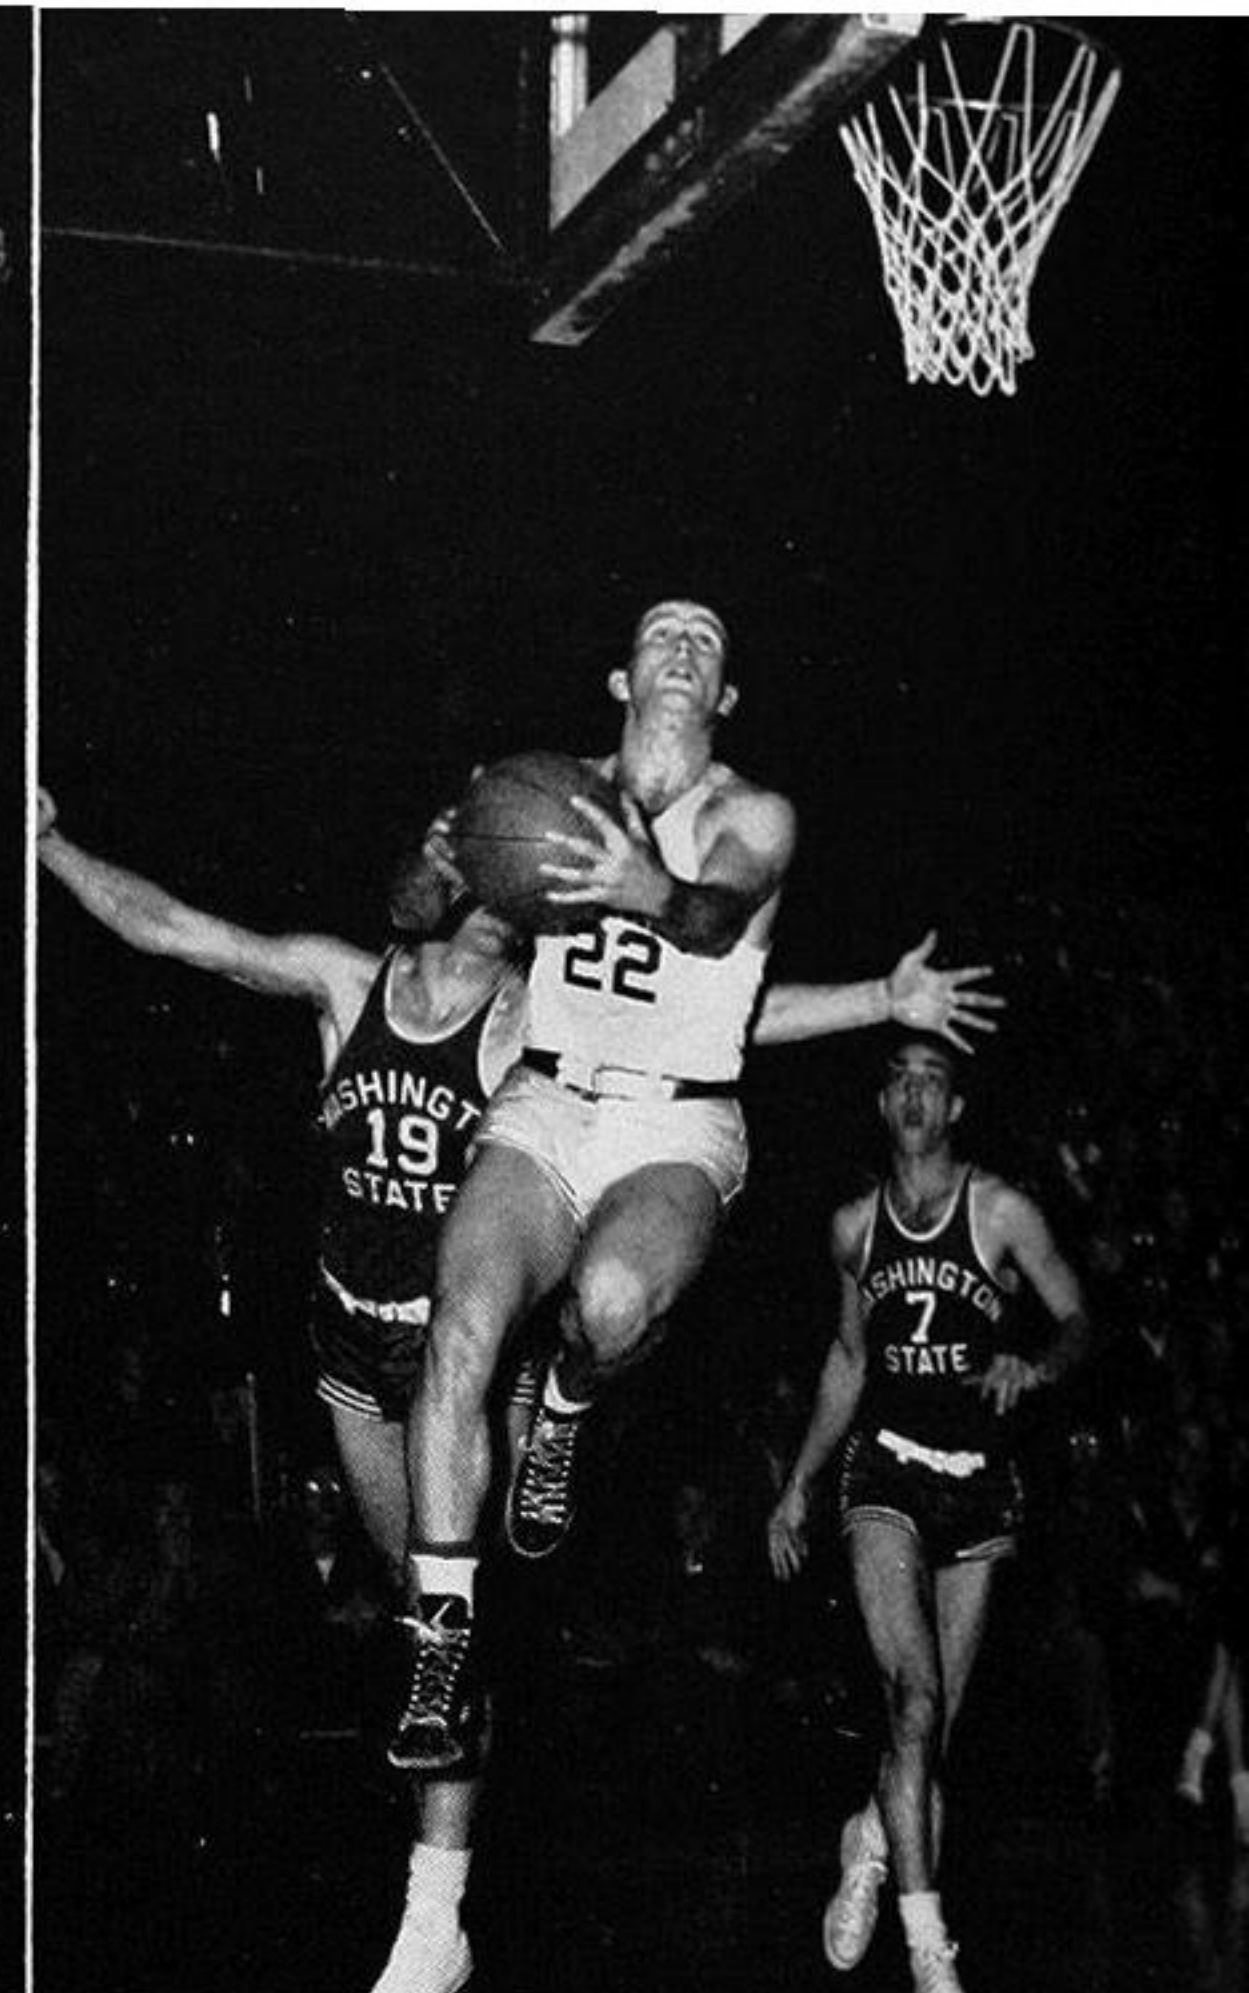

DICK SPRAGUE—Junior Forward

SPRAGUE clears the boards for the Huskies.

MIKE McCUTCHEN scores on a behind-the-backboard lay-in.

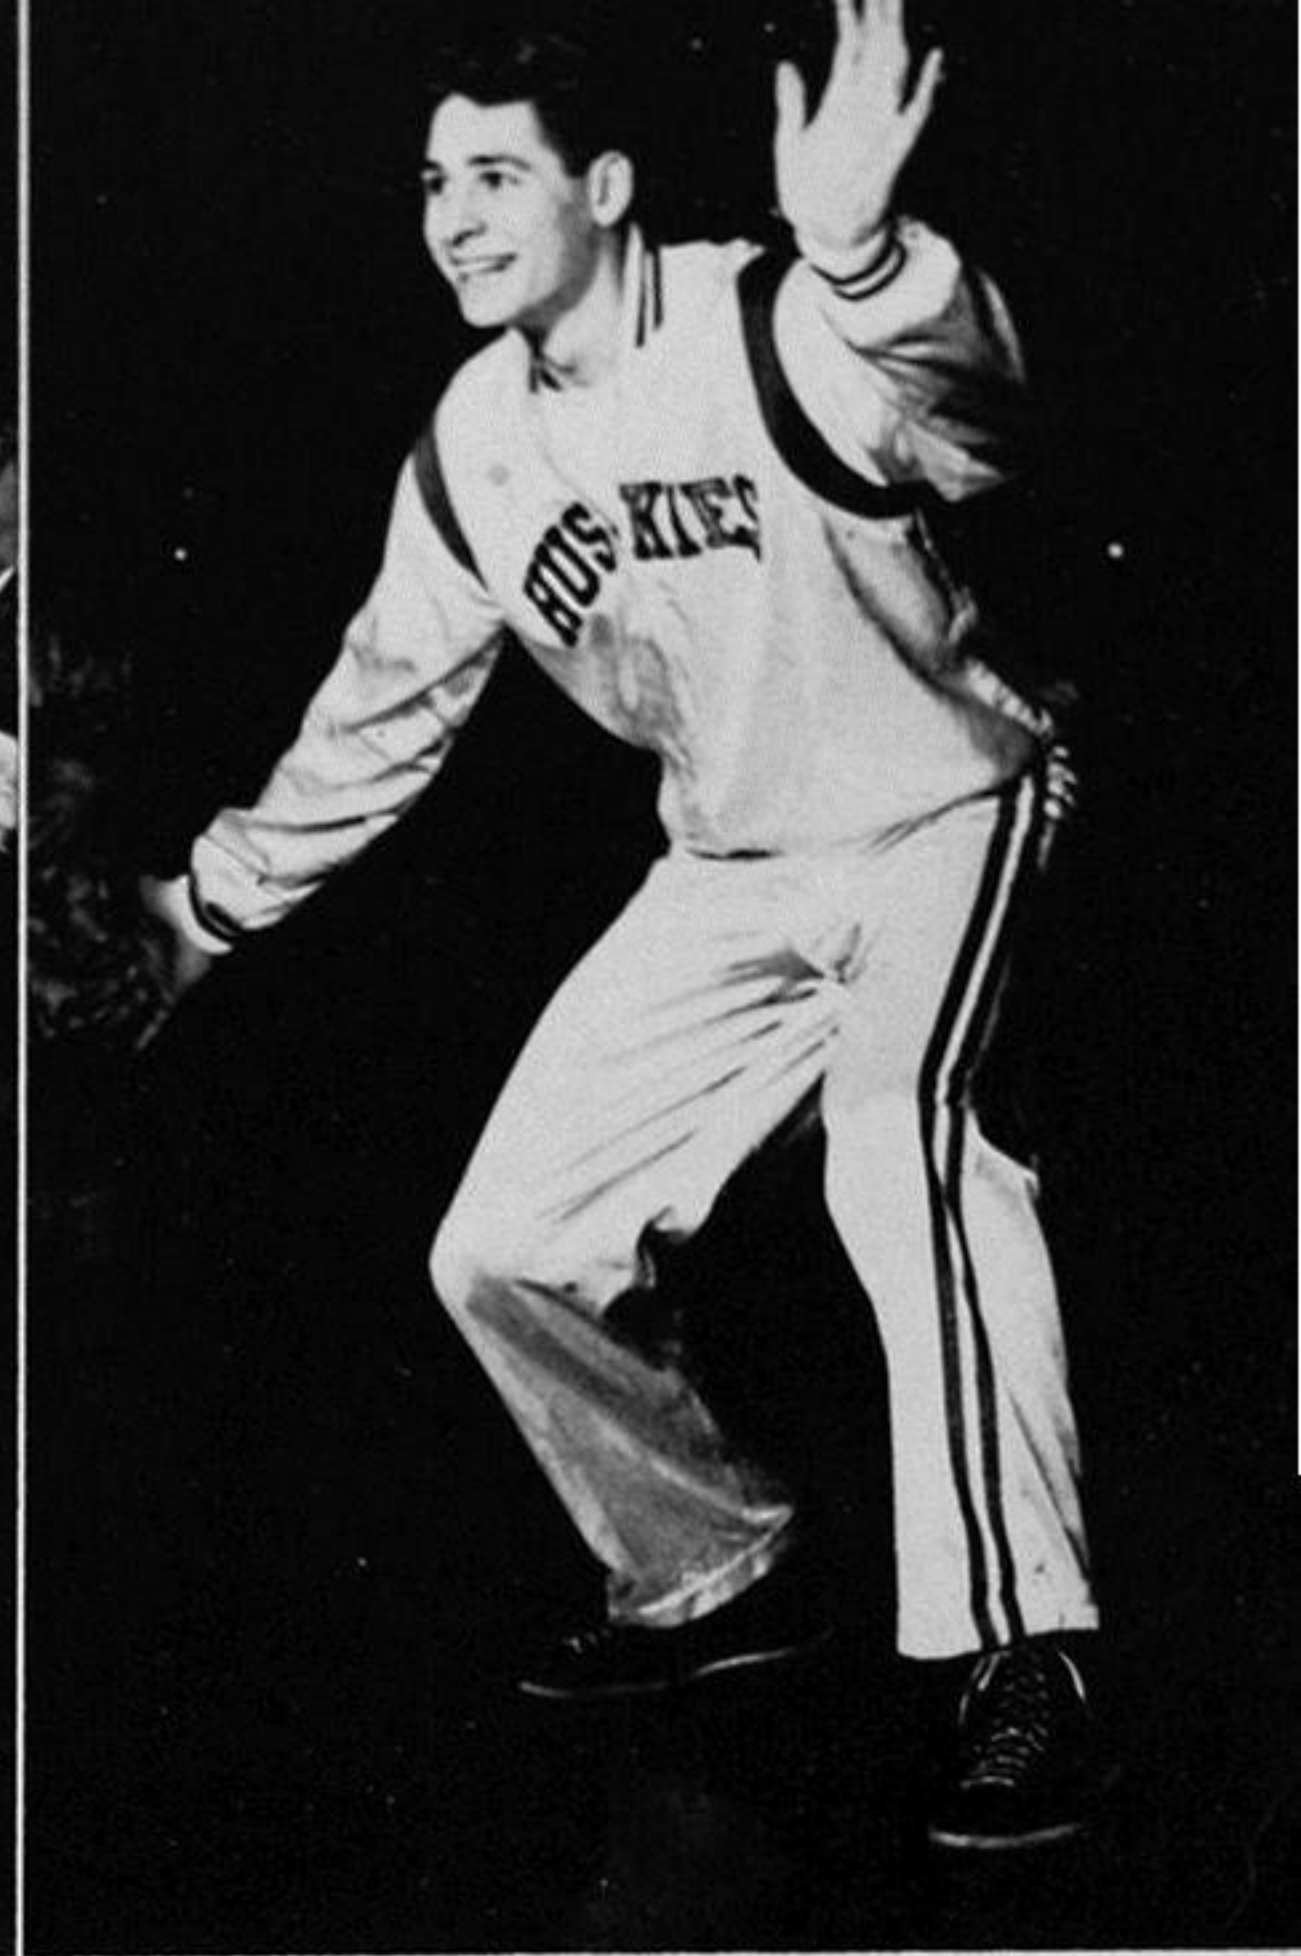

BOB HOUBREGS casts off with his famous hook shot that accounted for many of the points that led him to his second successive Northern Division scoring crown.

The Pullman jinx is still very much alive as evidenced by the loss suffered by the men of Tippy Dye at the hands of an underdog Cougar five. The Huskies simply did not play at their usual level, and WSC took advantage of the situation and bopped Washington 56-50. The fellas roared back the next night in more normal fashion, walloping the country boys 67-43. Bob Houbregs led the basket attack with 34 points for the two games.

In a king's X series, after Washington had won the championship, the Huskies scored heavily to win two more by scores of 75-37 and 82-51. Coach Dye used substitutes freely, but then the score mounted even faster as nearly everyone got into the scoring column.

DEAN PARSONS—Freshman Center

In the first conference game of the season against the highly rated Vandals, the Huskies fell before excellent shooting and precision floor play 56-51—the first defeat suffered at home by the Huskies under Coach Tippy Dye. It was near the end of this contest that Bob Houbregs injured his heel, causing the ace scorer to be sidelined for several games.

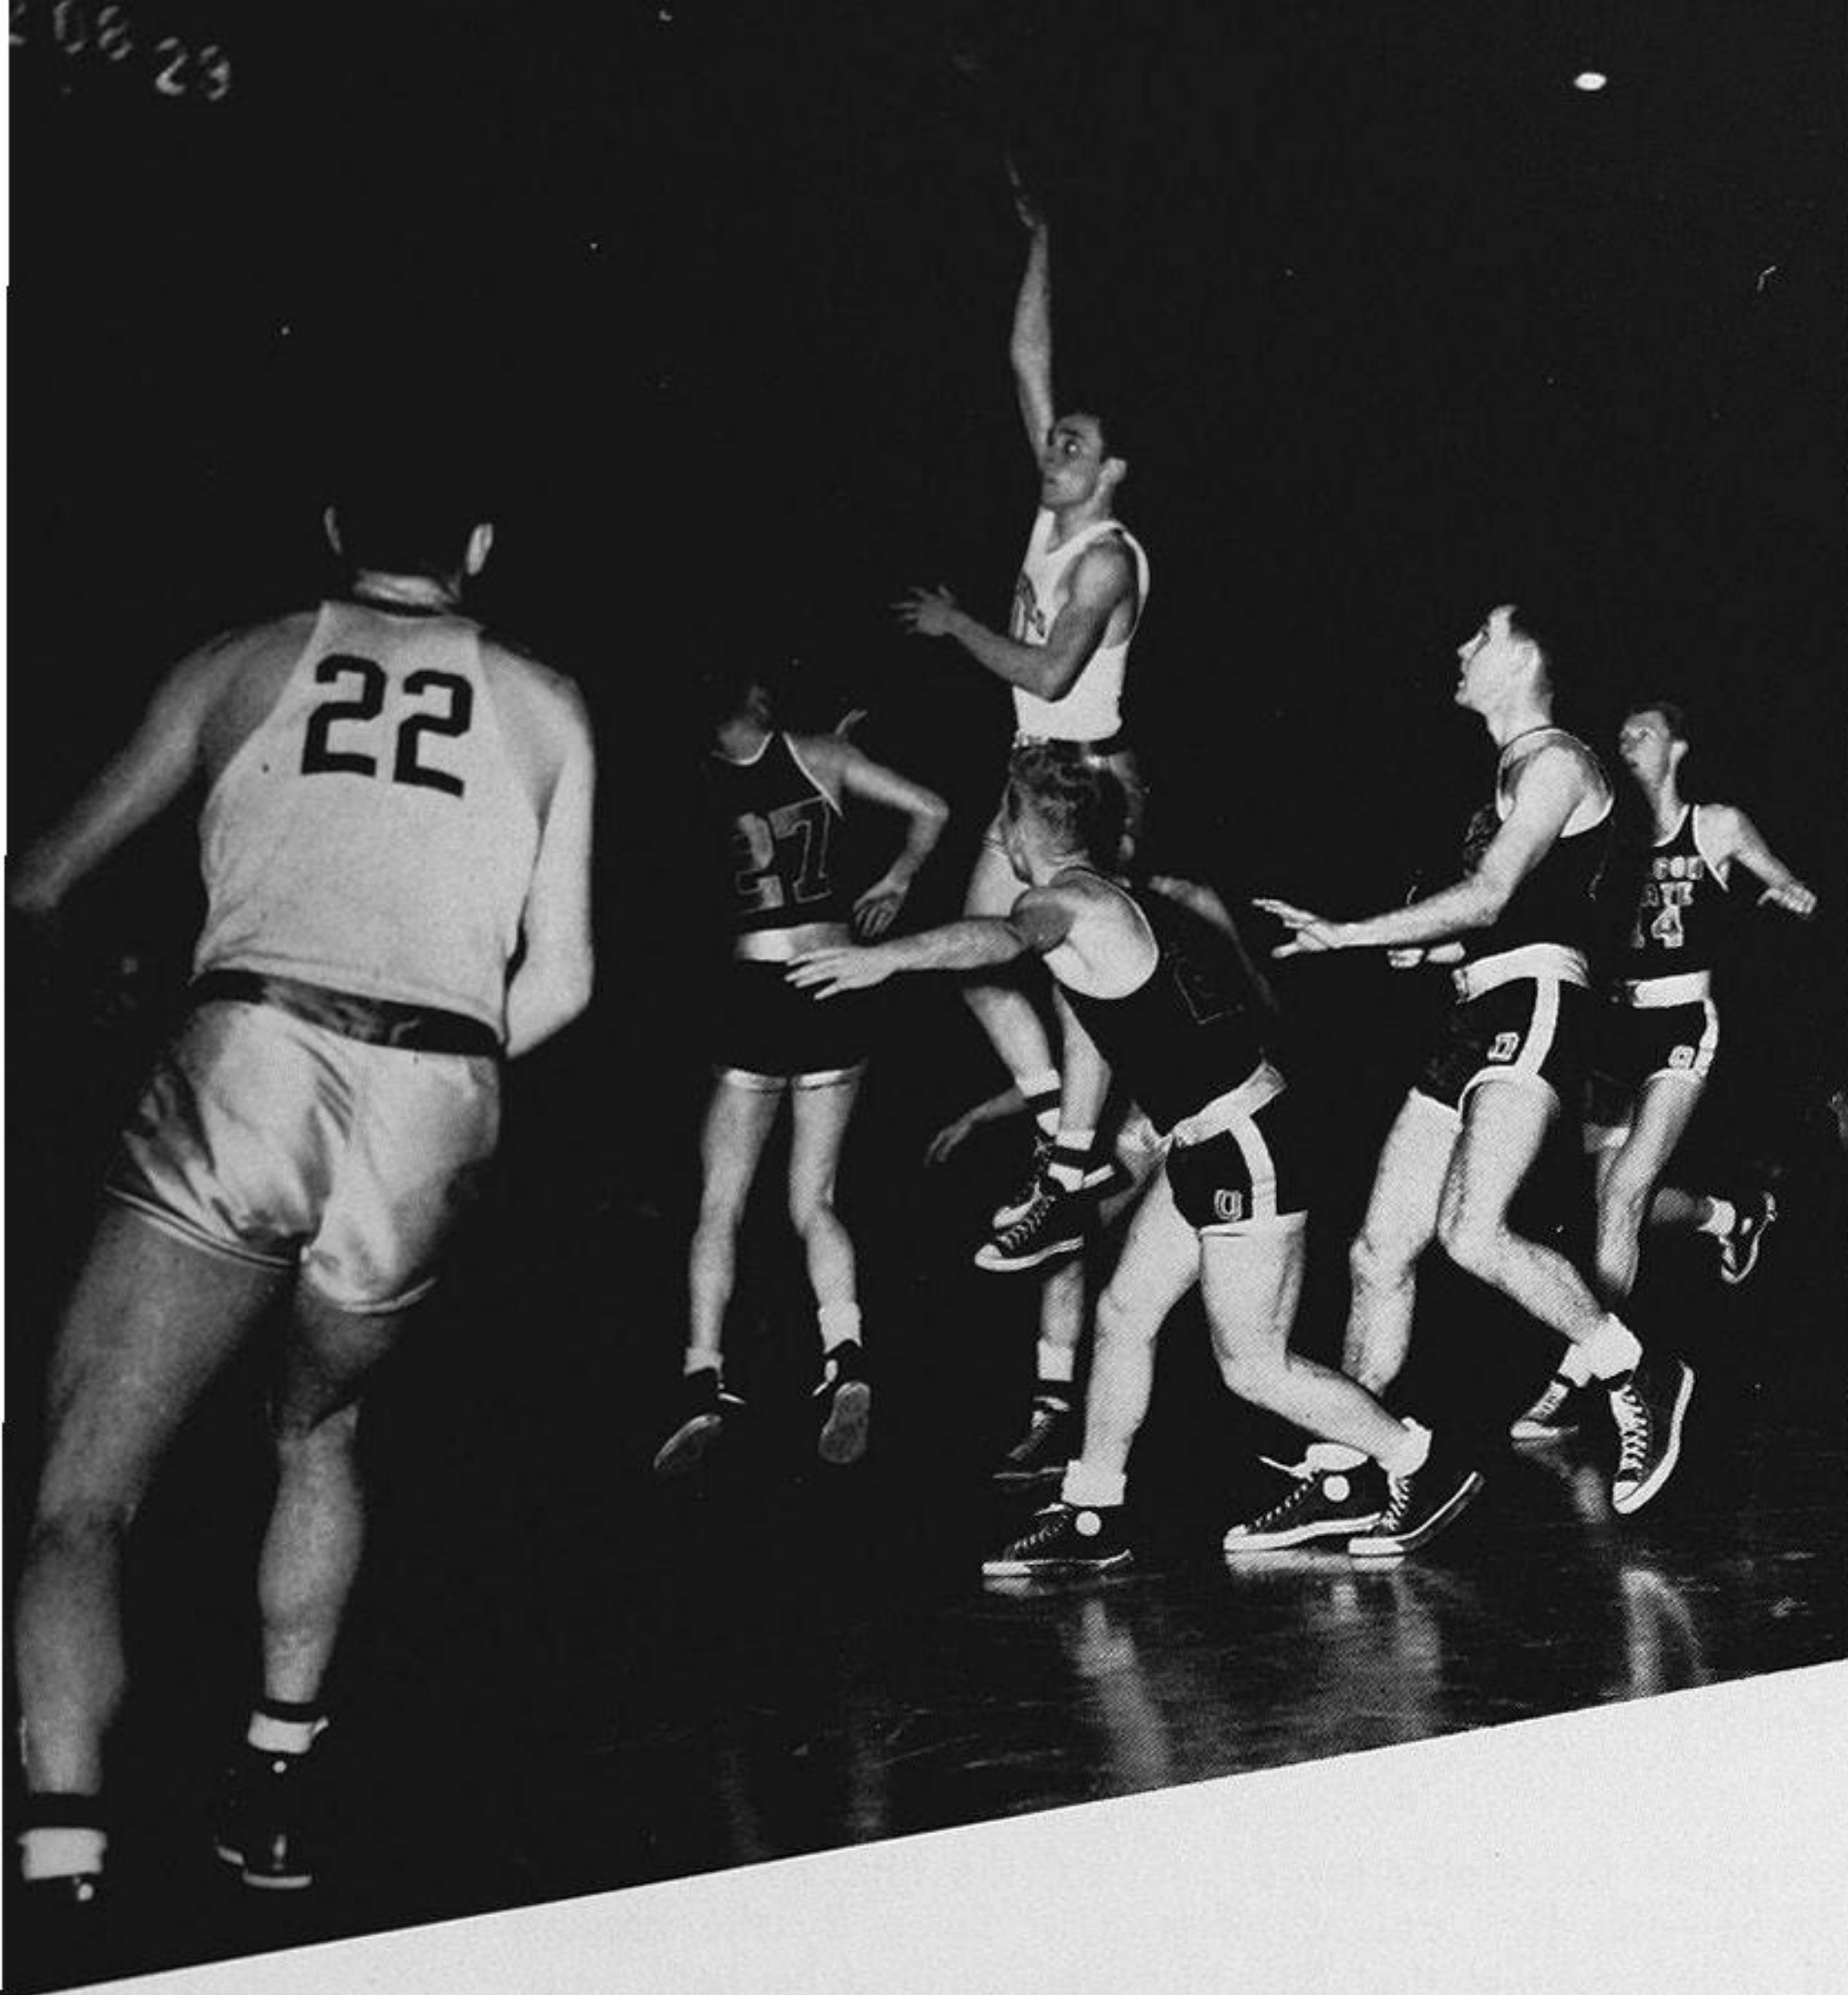

The home forces came back with a vengeance the next night, however, and blanketed the Idaho club under a full court pressing defense for almost the entire evening, ending on the high end of a 61-42 score. Frank Guisness and Joe Cipriano played brilliantly, scoring 21 and 18 points respectively, more than making up for the absence of Houbregs.

Later in the season Washington traveled to Moscow and wrapped up the Northern Division Championship by twice overwhelming the second place Idahoans, 79-64 and 75-66. Houbregs, back in action and at his season's peak, scored 26 points each night, followed by Guisness with 38 for the two games. The Moscow series was marred somewhat by rough tactics on the part of an Idaho player.

Minus the services of tall Bob Houbregs, the Huskies headed for a dangerous assignment in tangling with the potential Beavers at Corvallis. But the other tall boys, Duane Enochs and Doug McClary, took over masterfully in leading Washington to victory in two slow-down ball control games by scores of 46-37 and 49-41. McClary was high first night with 11 points followed by Enochs with 10. Duane was high Saturday night with 13.

The Huskies completed the series sweep a few weeks later in Edmundson Pavilion when they stormed through the badly outclassed Beavers 69-56 and 54-37. Frank Guisness led the victors Friday night with 20 points, while Houbregs, back in uniform, put 30 points through the net on the second night.

Washington's renowned defense stole the show from the offense when the Oregon Ducks visited Seattle for their first meetings of the 1952 campaign. Oregon scored but 75 points in the two contests, while the Huskies were collecting 138. The scores were 74-36 and 64-39. The Ducks were completely outclassed in every department, including their specialty, rebounds. Frank Guisness and Duane Enochs led the scorers with 36 and 26 points respectively for the two-game series.

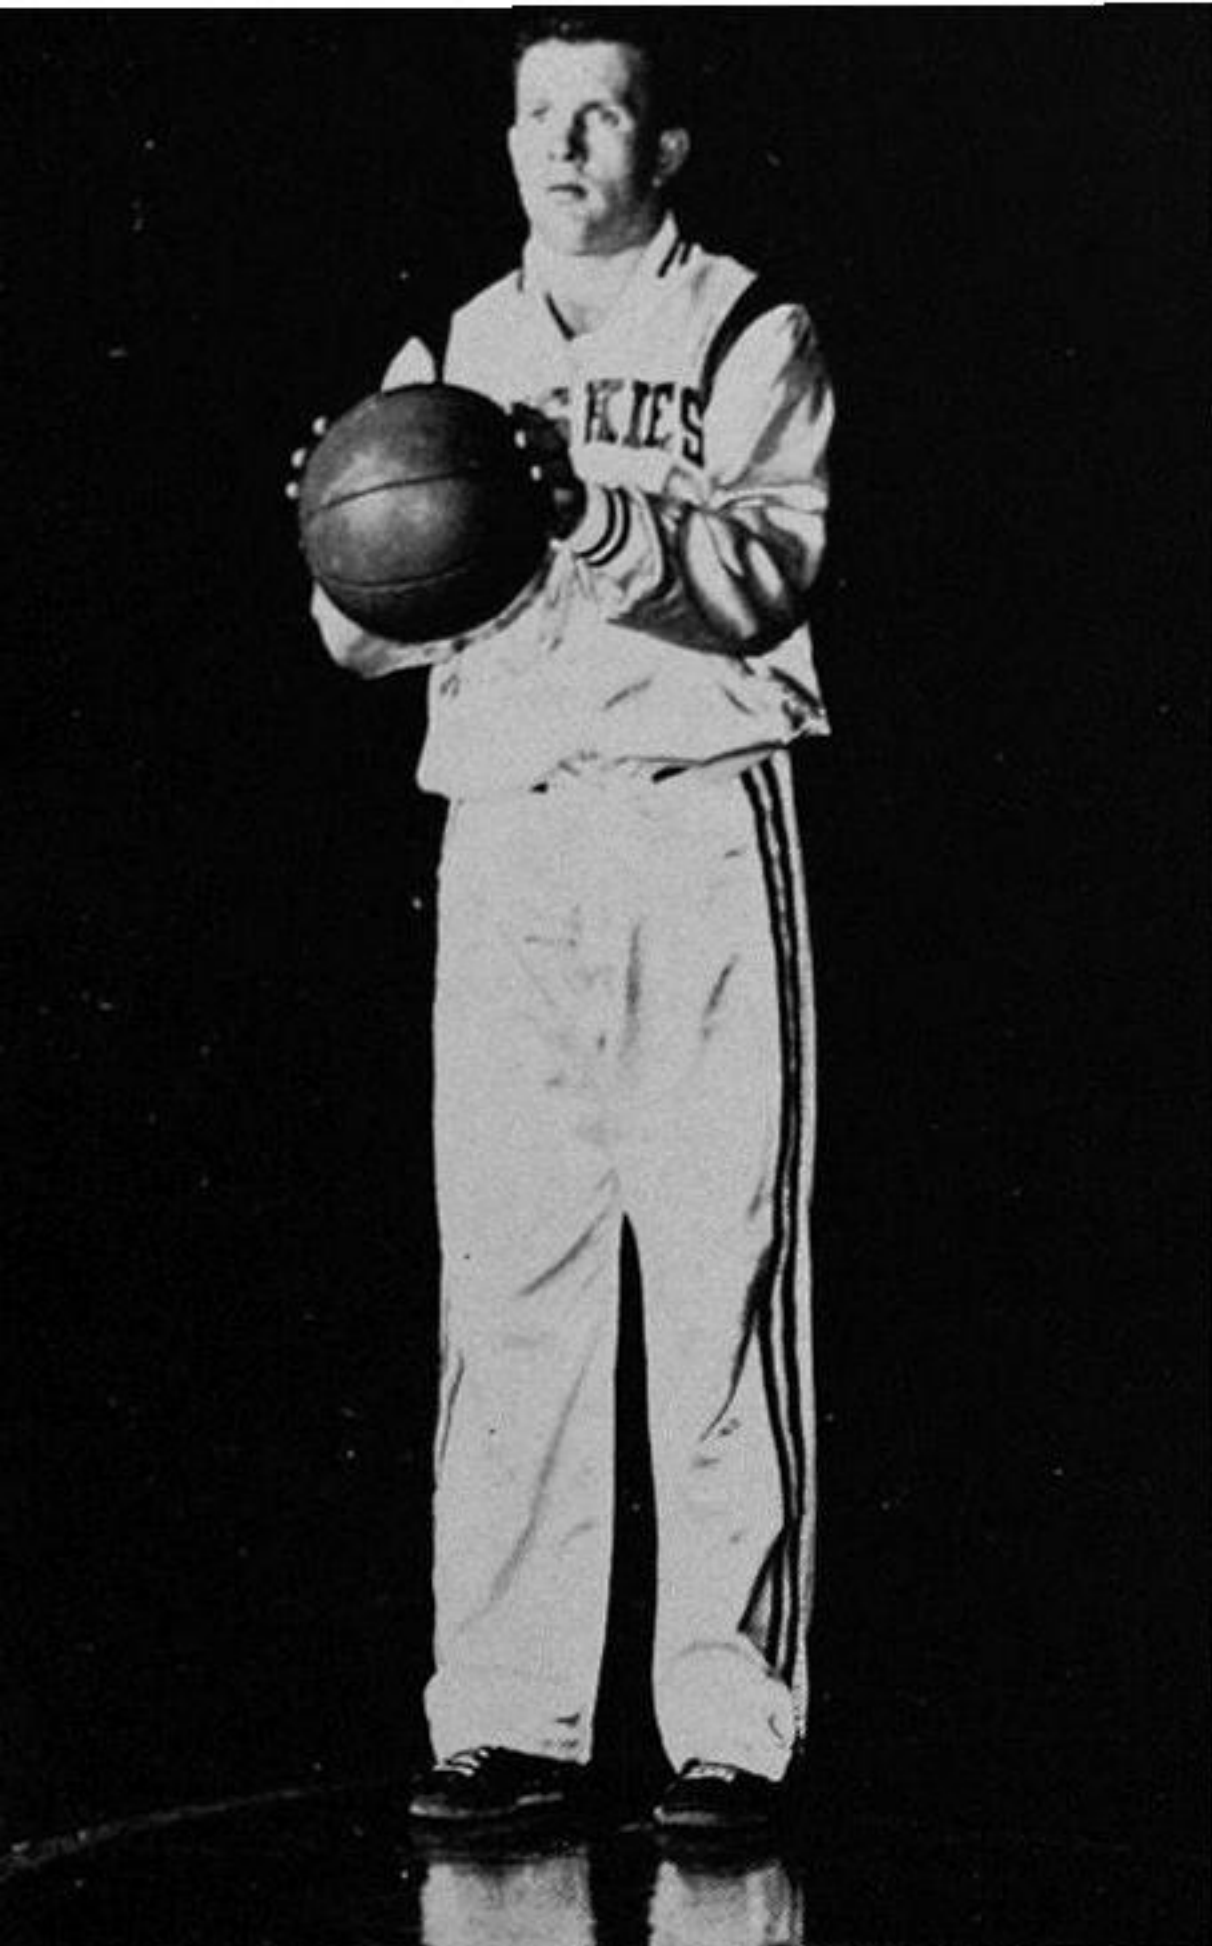

Washington added two more important victories to their string at Eugene by scores of 71-63 and 63-57. Bob Houbregs increased the tempo of his attack on the conference scoring record by placing 30 points after his name the first night, and 28 on the second night.

All-American BOB HOUBREGS tips the ball back in the basket against Northwestern.

The University of Washington's 1952 basketball team lost its first game of the season to Utah 62-61 after an impressive pre-season buildup, but the Huskies bounced back and went through the remaining pre-conference games true to form, winning nine in a row. In the longest basketball road trip in UW history, the Huskies swept four games from California, St. Louis, and Minnesota.

The closest game of the season was an overtime victory over California, 52-50. Will Elliott led the scoring with one point—a free throw in the last seconds of the game, bringing Washington up to a tie and forcing the overtime period.

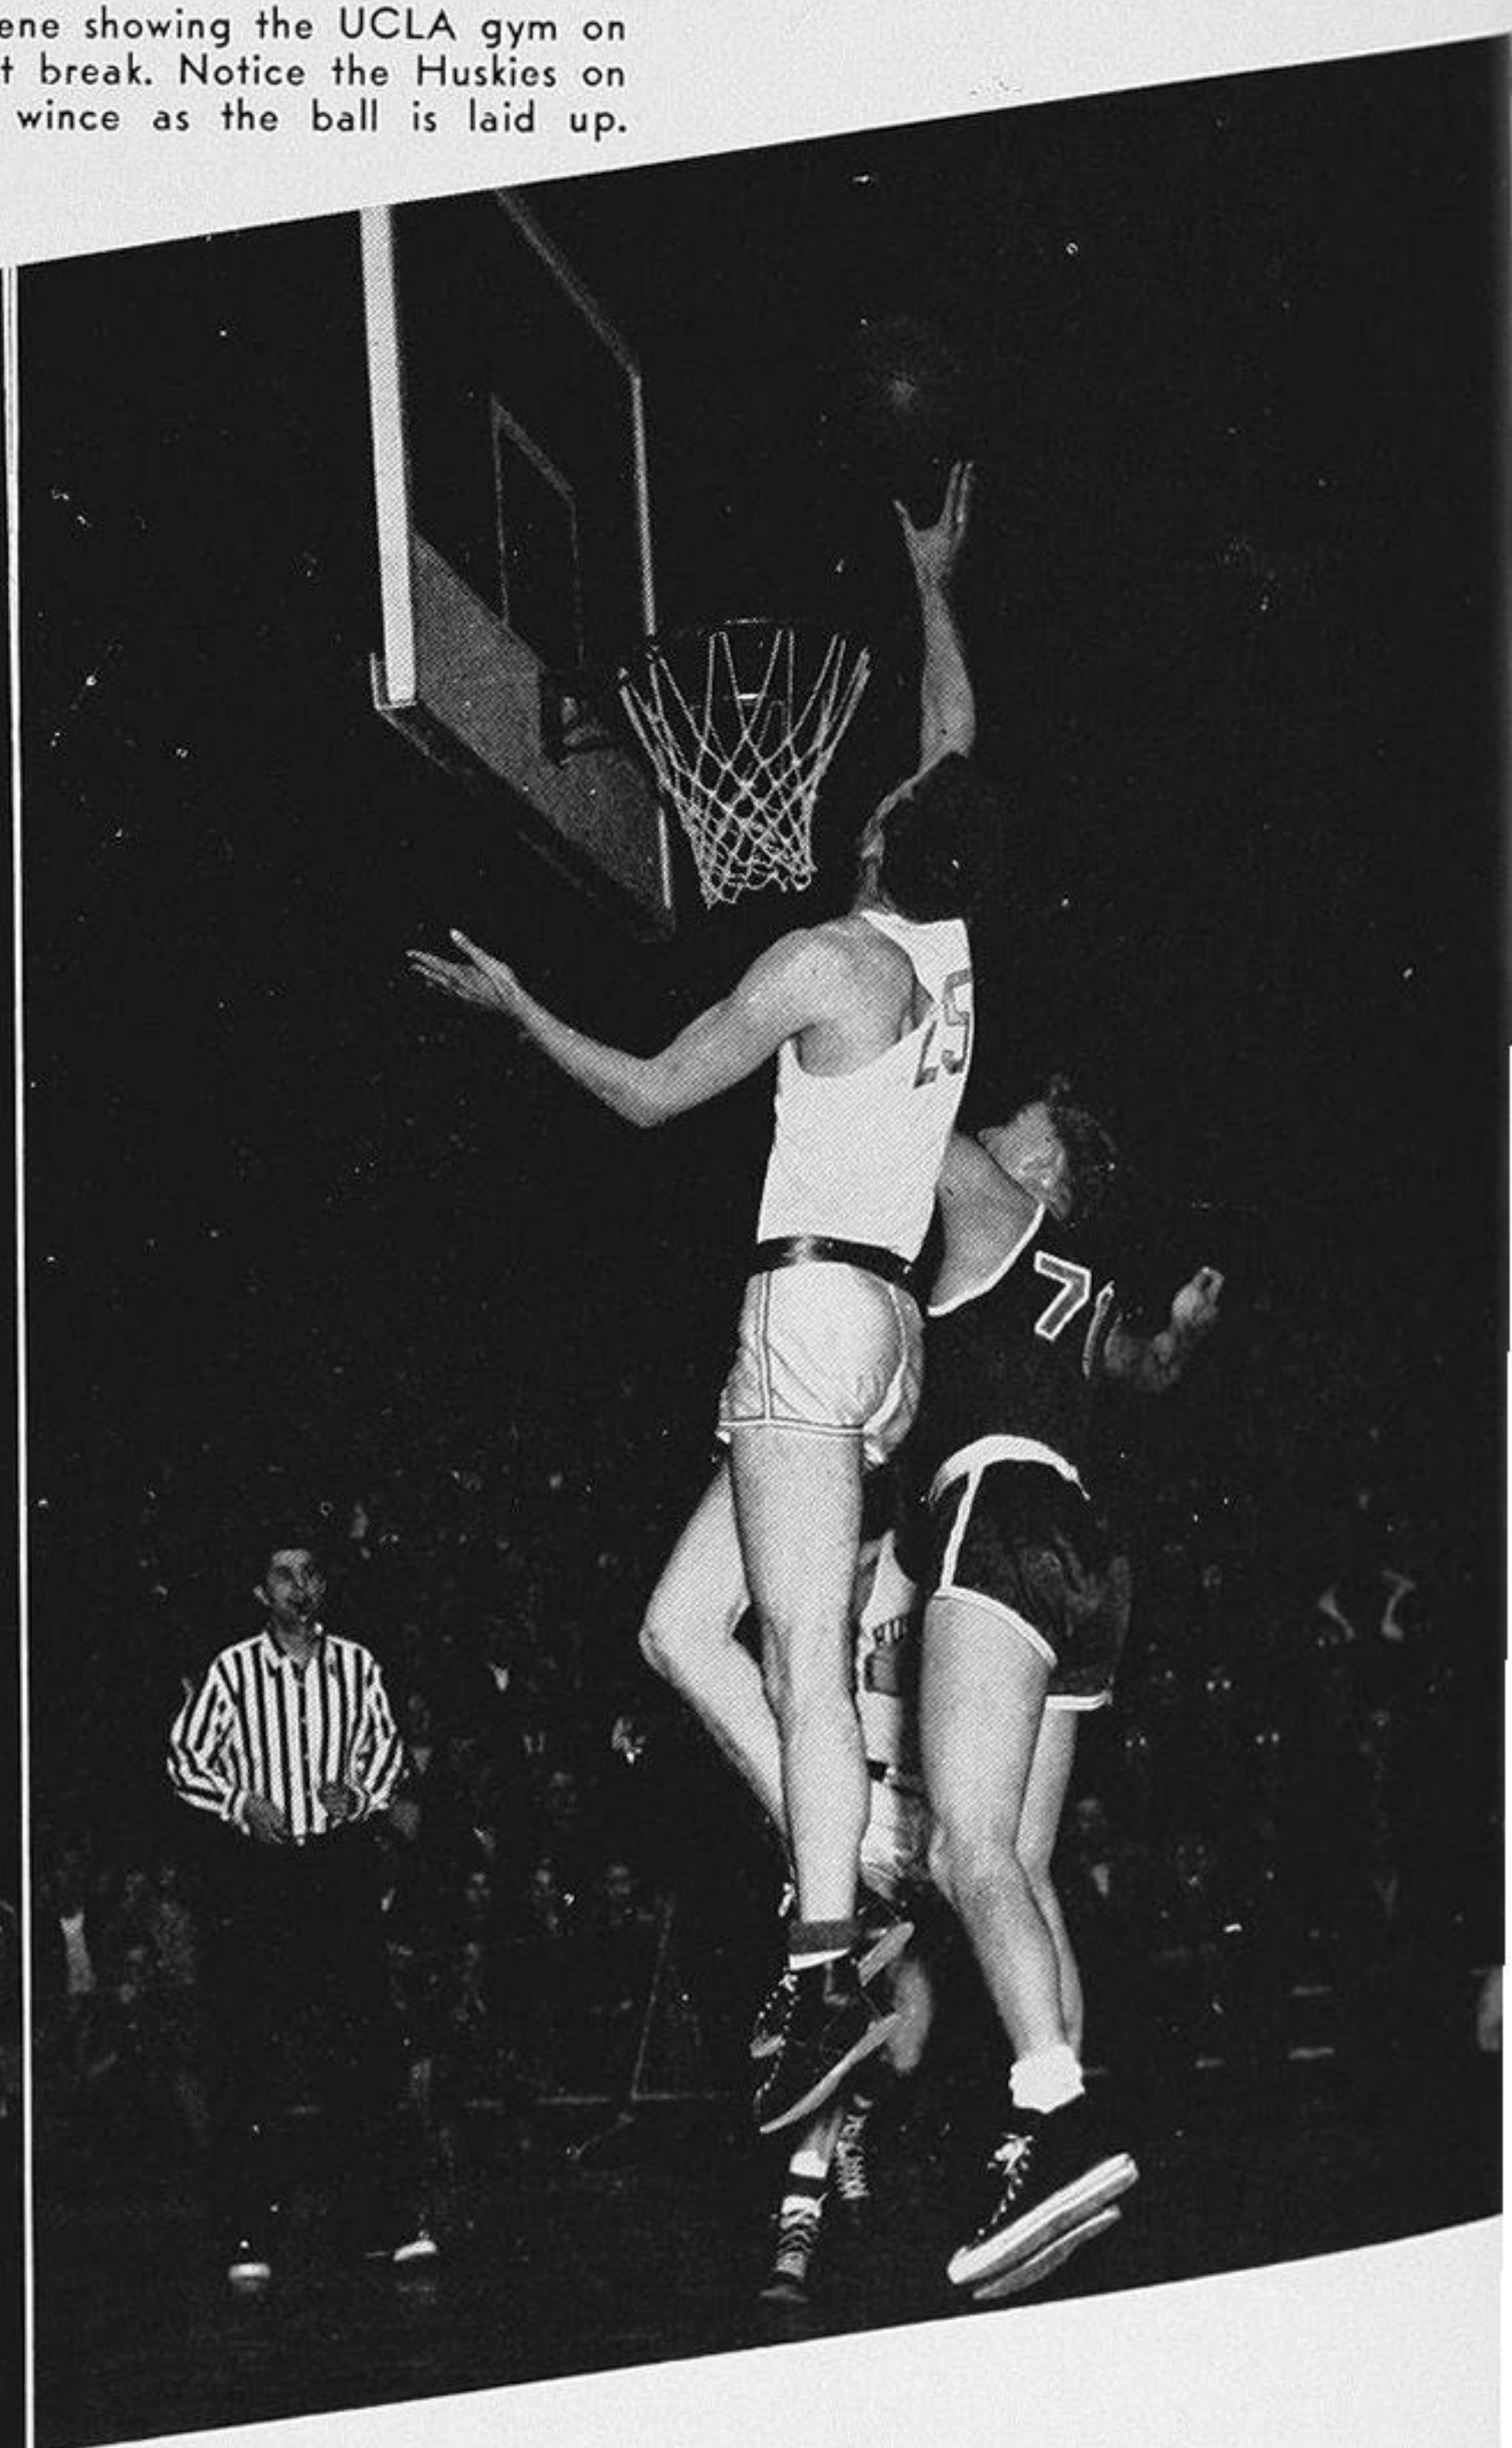

During Christmas vacation WSC and the UW met and defeated two representatives of the Big Ten, Ohio State and Northwestern, in two double headers, trading opponents on succeeding nights. Later in the schedule the Huskies split with the Skyline Champions, Wyoming, 52-50 and 45-55.

NCAA FINALS

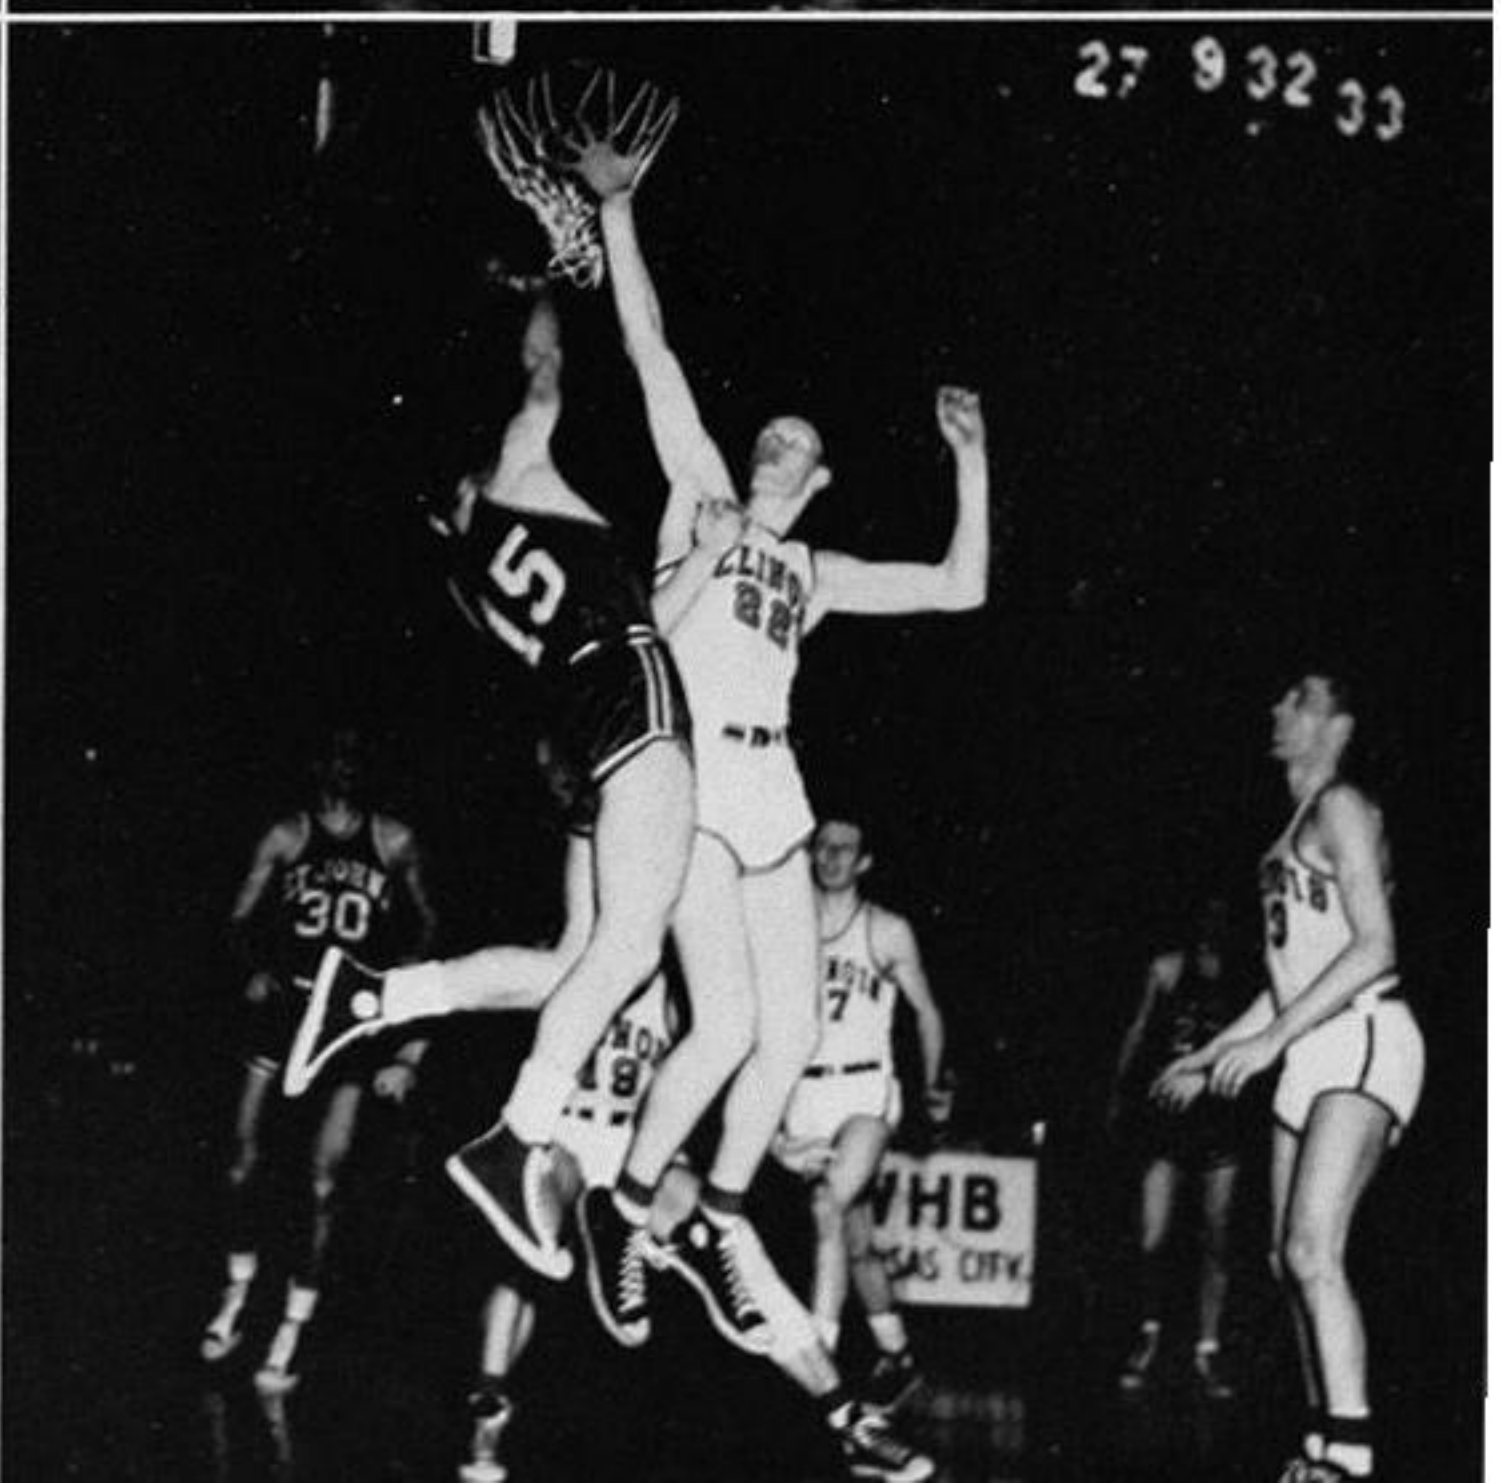

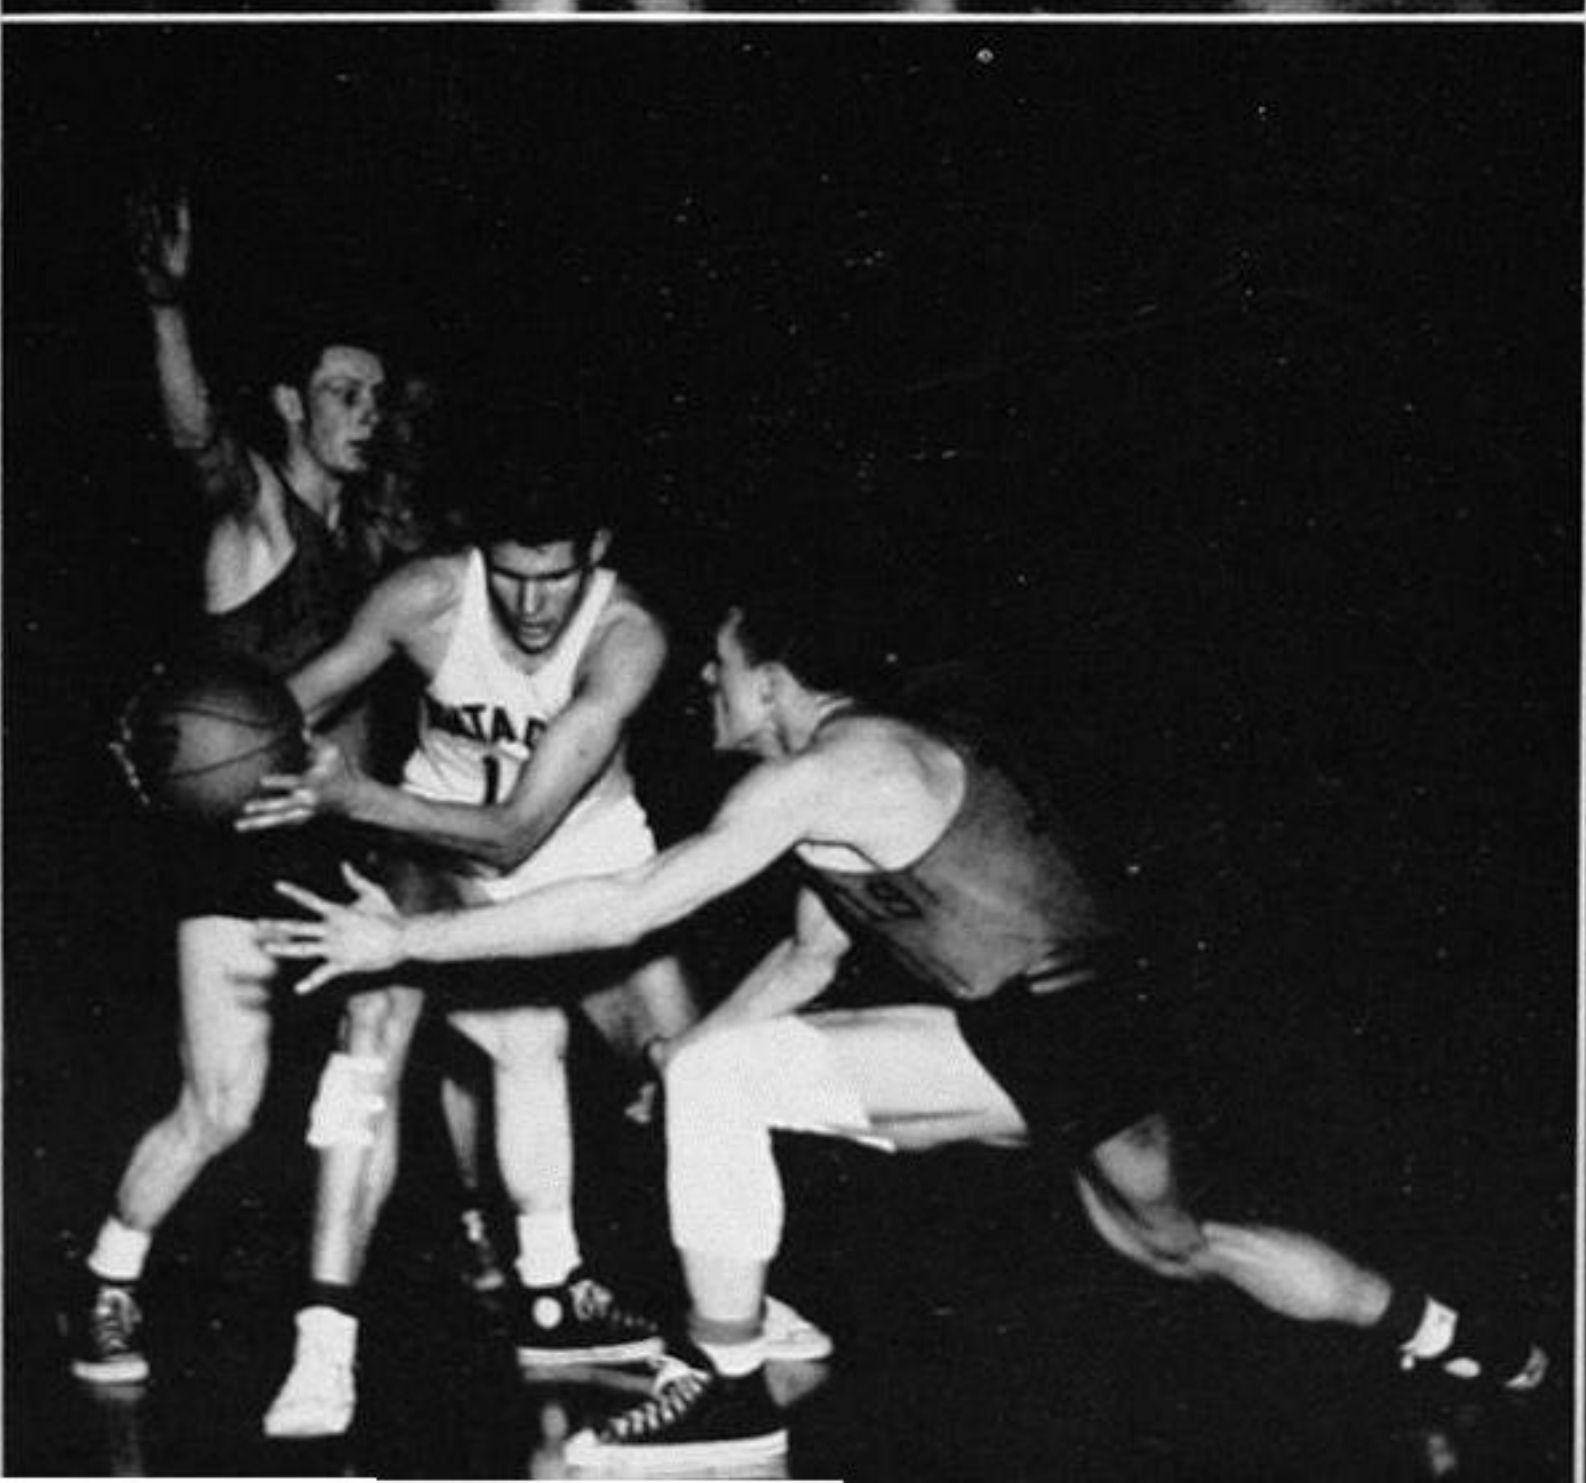

Kansas, led by unstoppable Clyde Lovellette, won the NCAA title at Edmondson pavilion over a driving St. John's team, 80 to 63. Ron McGilvery (15) the spearhead of St. John's attack goes in past the basket for a fast bit of action. At the top right, the great Lovellette jumps high for a two-pointer in the final playoff game.

The Kansas squad gained the finals by walking away from the Cinderella champions of the Pacific Coast, Santa Clara, 74 to 44. The Broncs double up on the Jayhawk pivot ace (16) as the all-American point-maker tries to get loose for a shot. Clyde Follmer (33) of Illinois goes up for a leaping two-hander in the 67-64 Illini win over Santa Clara in the preliminary game of the second night of the playoffs.

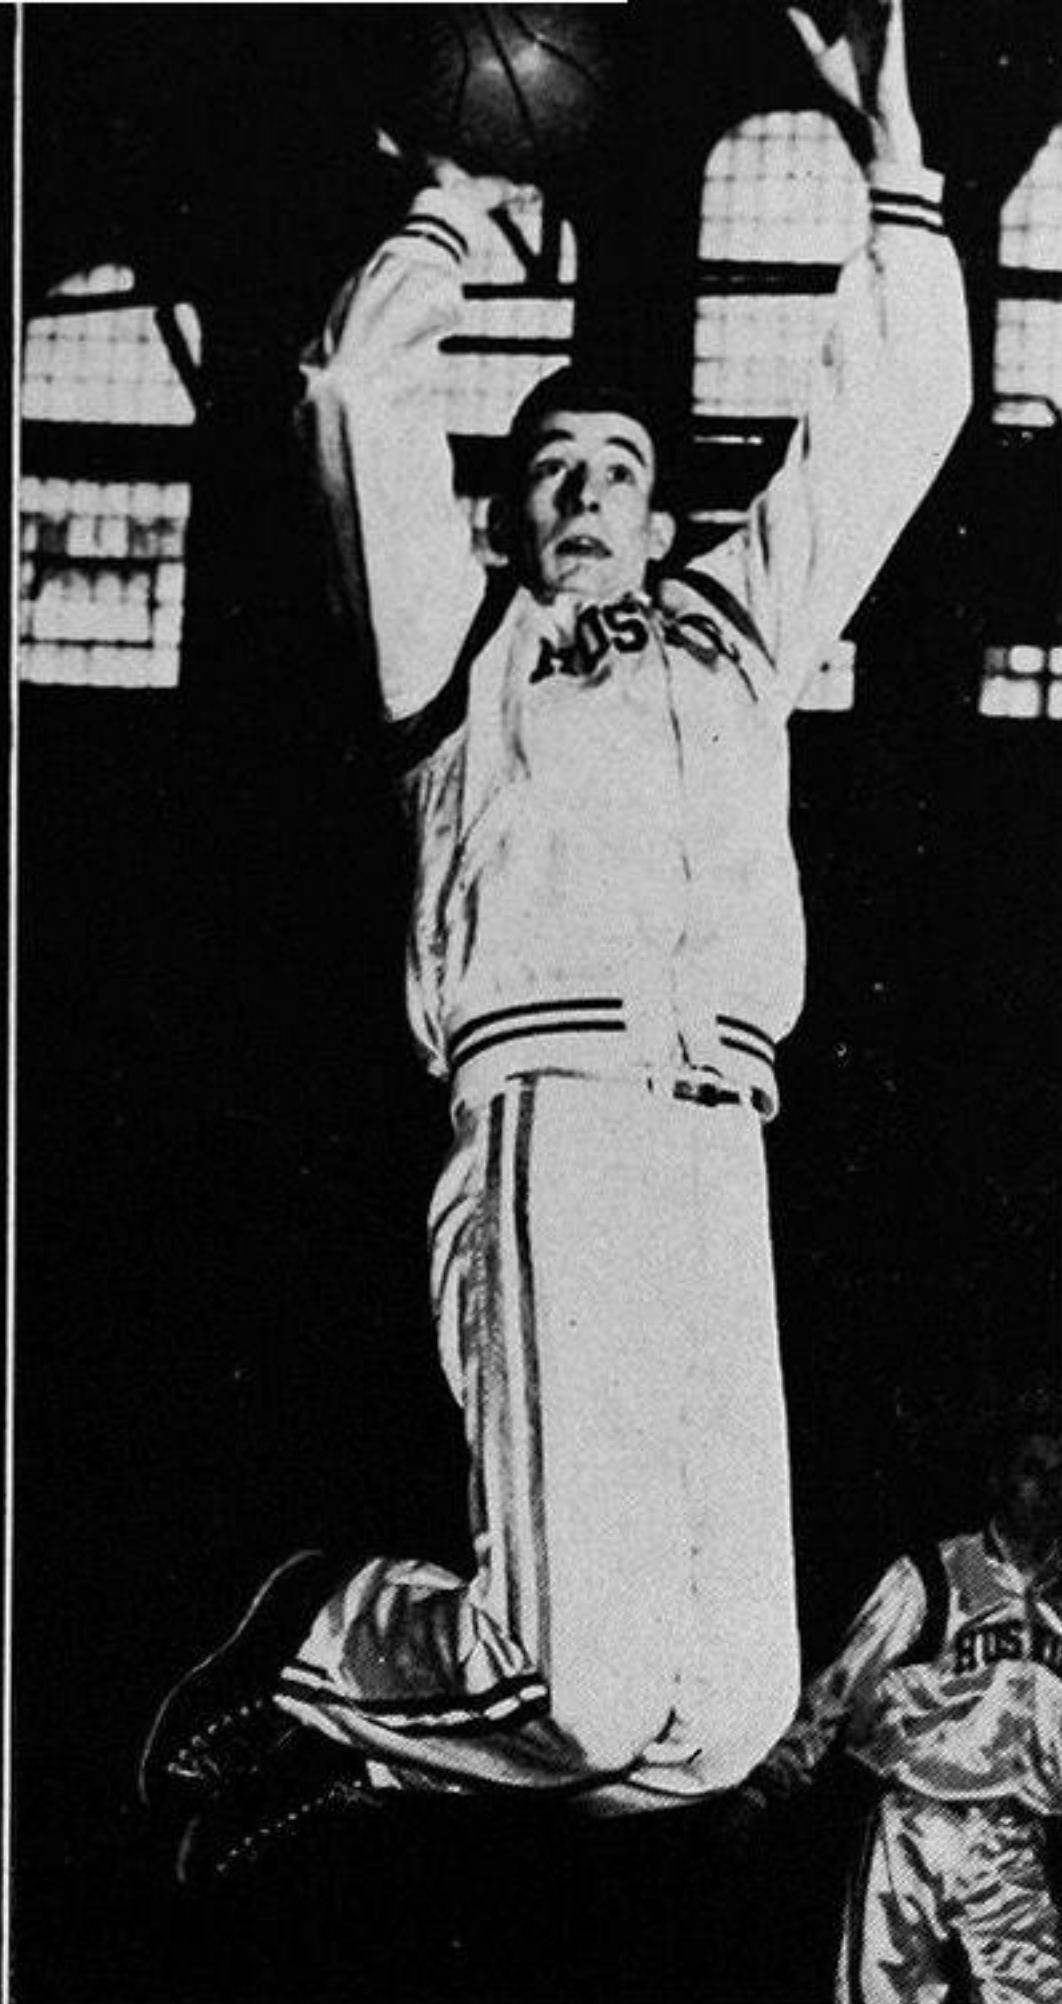

St. John's upset the experts to move into the finals by dumping Illinois, 61 to 59, in the closest of the four contests. Ron McGilvery (15) passes back out to Bob Zawoluk (30), St. John's all-American, at the far right. A pair of Illinois performers team up on an unidentified Santa Clara player in the third place playoff game.

The University of Washington basketball team earned for themselves much credit as a team, but also as individuals, many of the players gathered more laurels.

Bob Houbregs was chosen to the All-Northern Division team, to the All-Coast team, and also to many national All-American second teams. For the second consecutive year he led the Northern Division scorers, and was not far from the record in spite of missing several games with an injured heel. Bob counted 251 points in conference play, and the record is 265, set by another Husky, Jack Nichols, in 1948. Houbregs is a junior and will probably better his already impressive record next season.

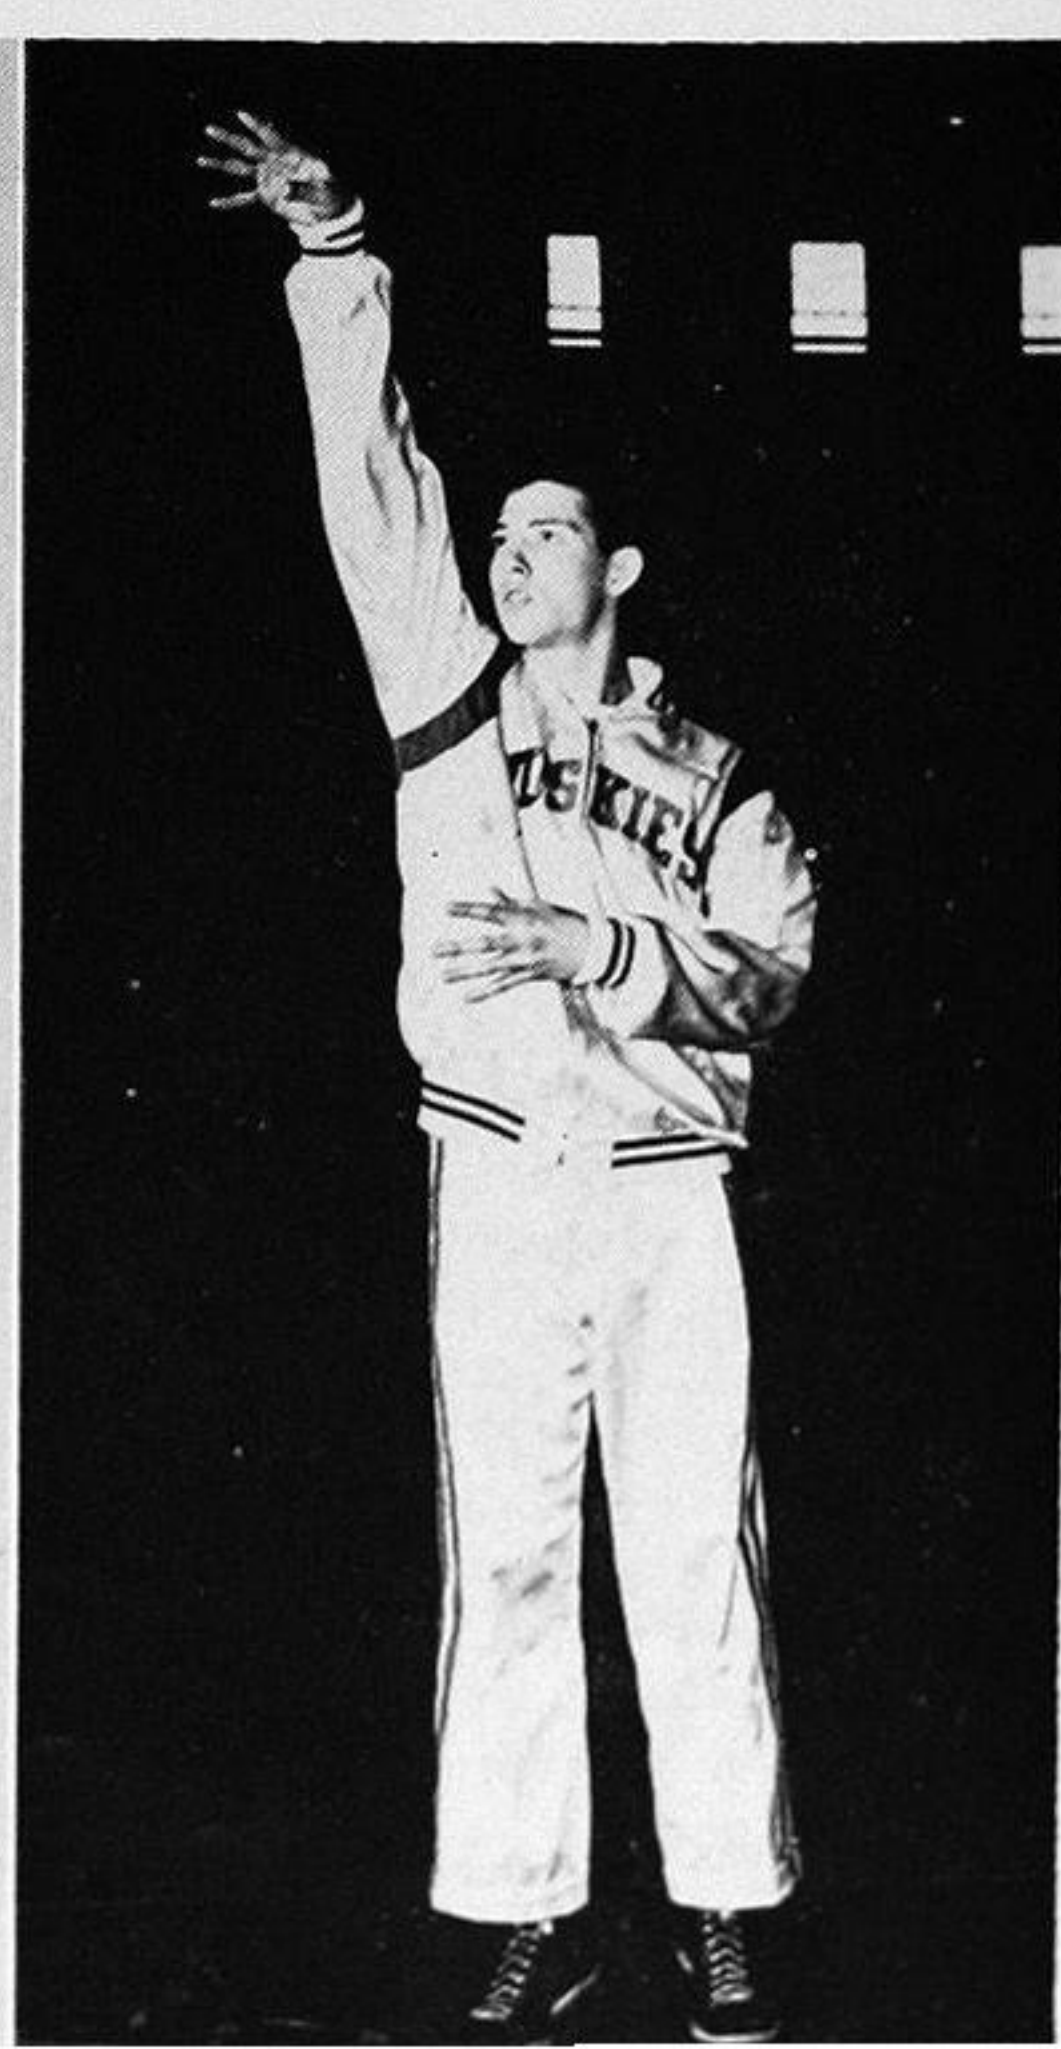

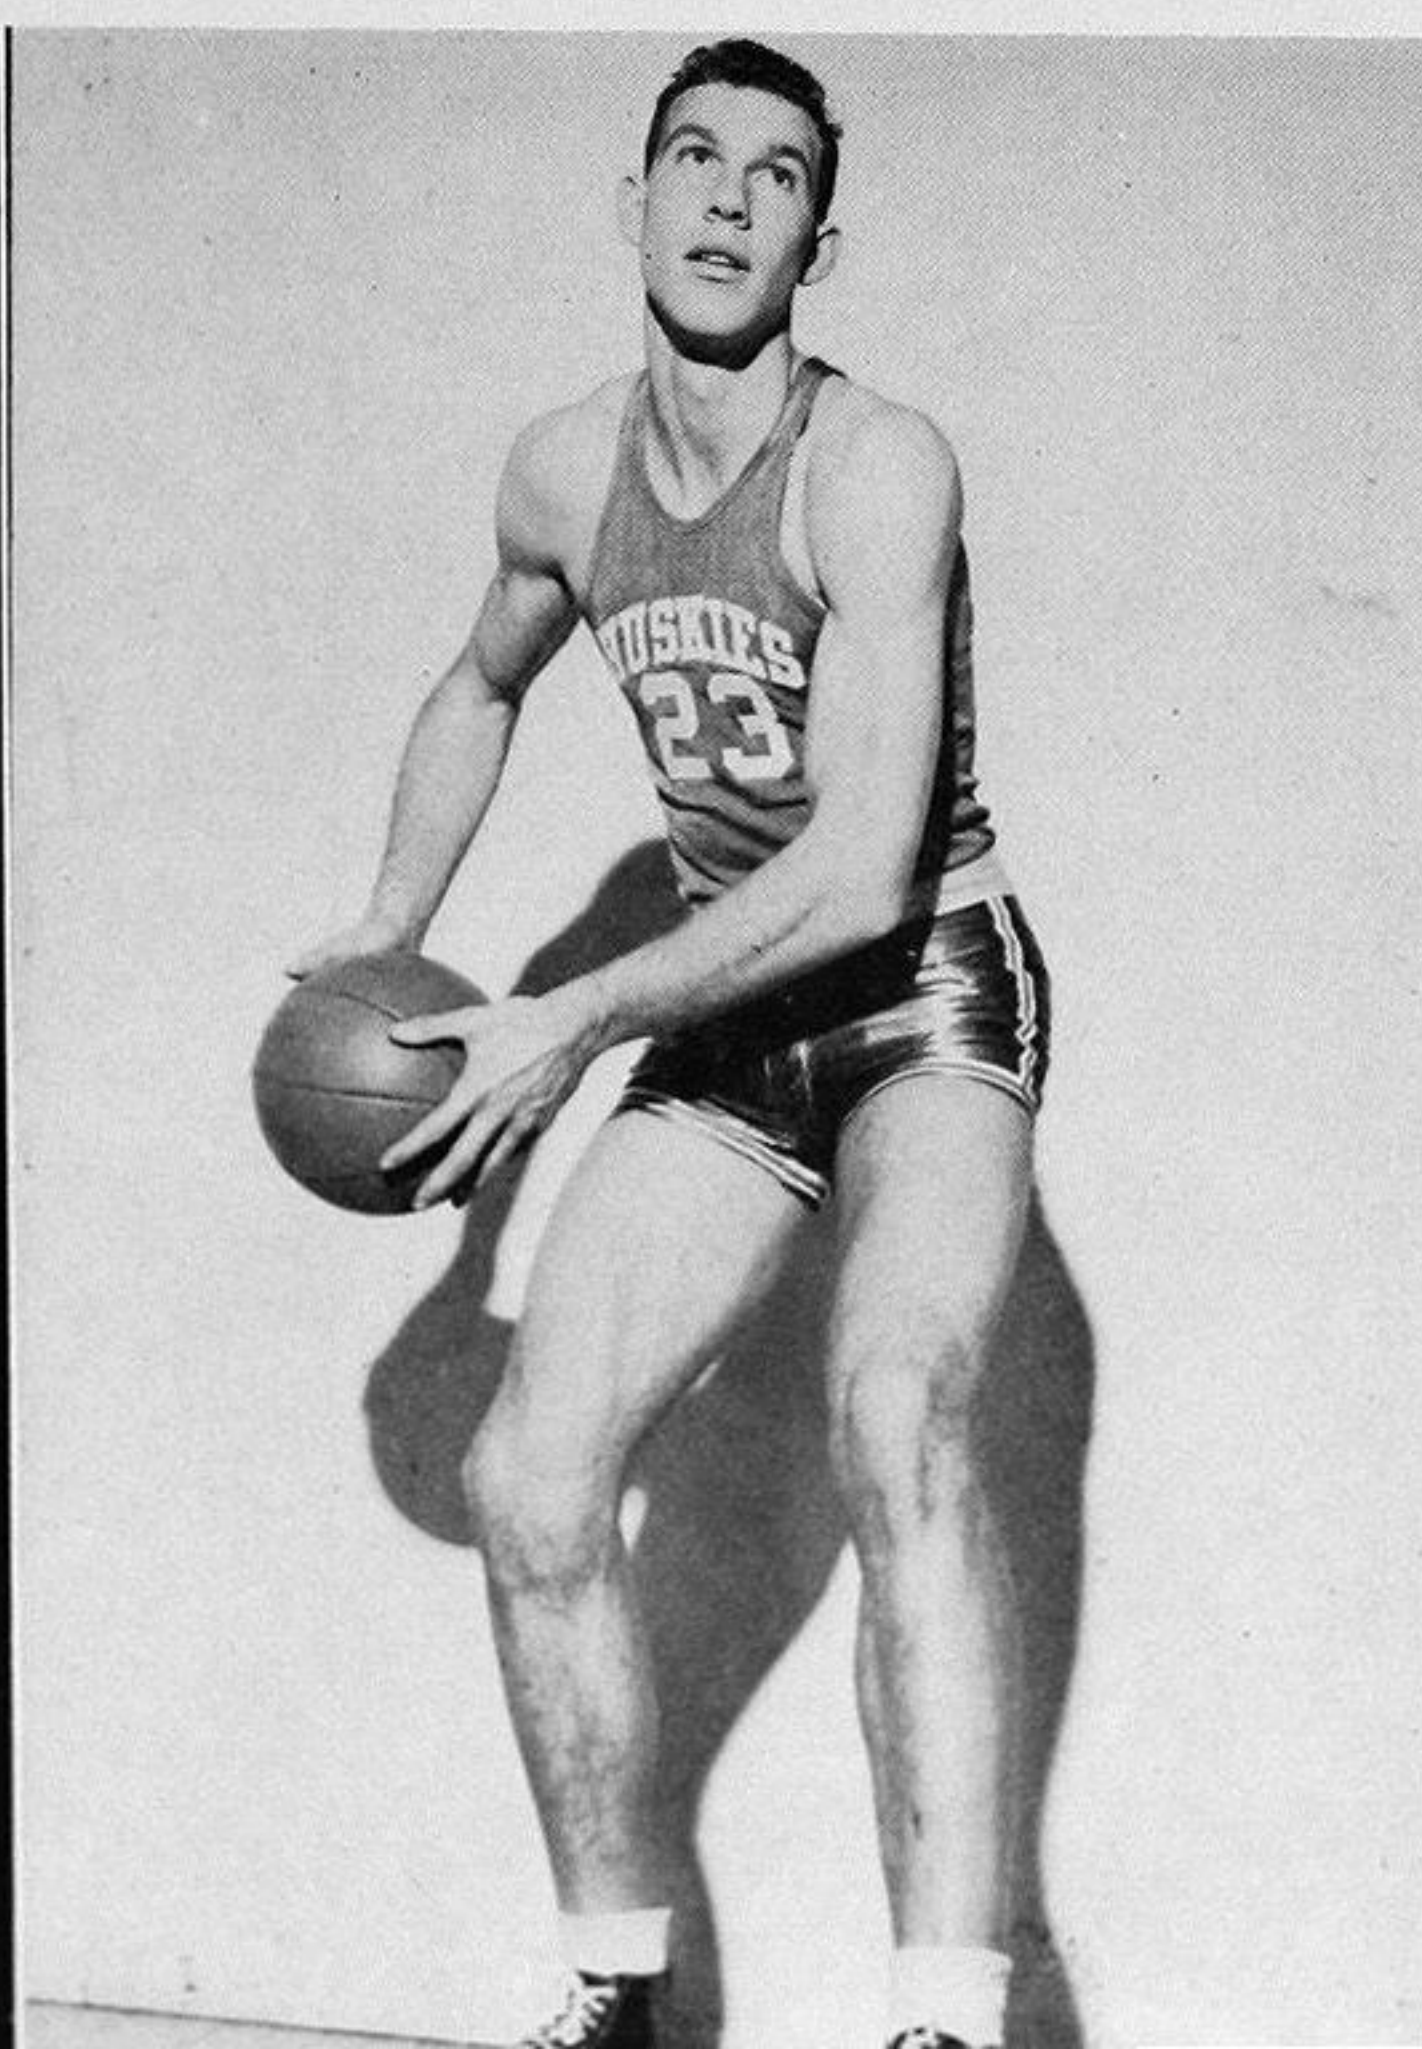

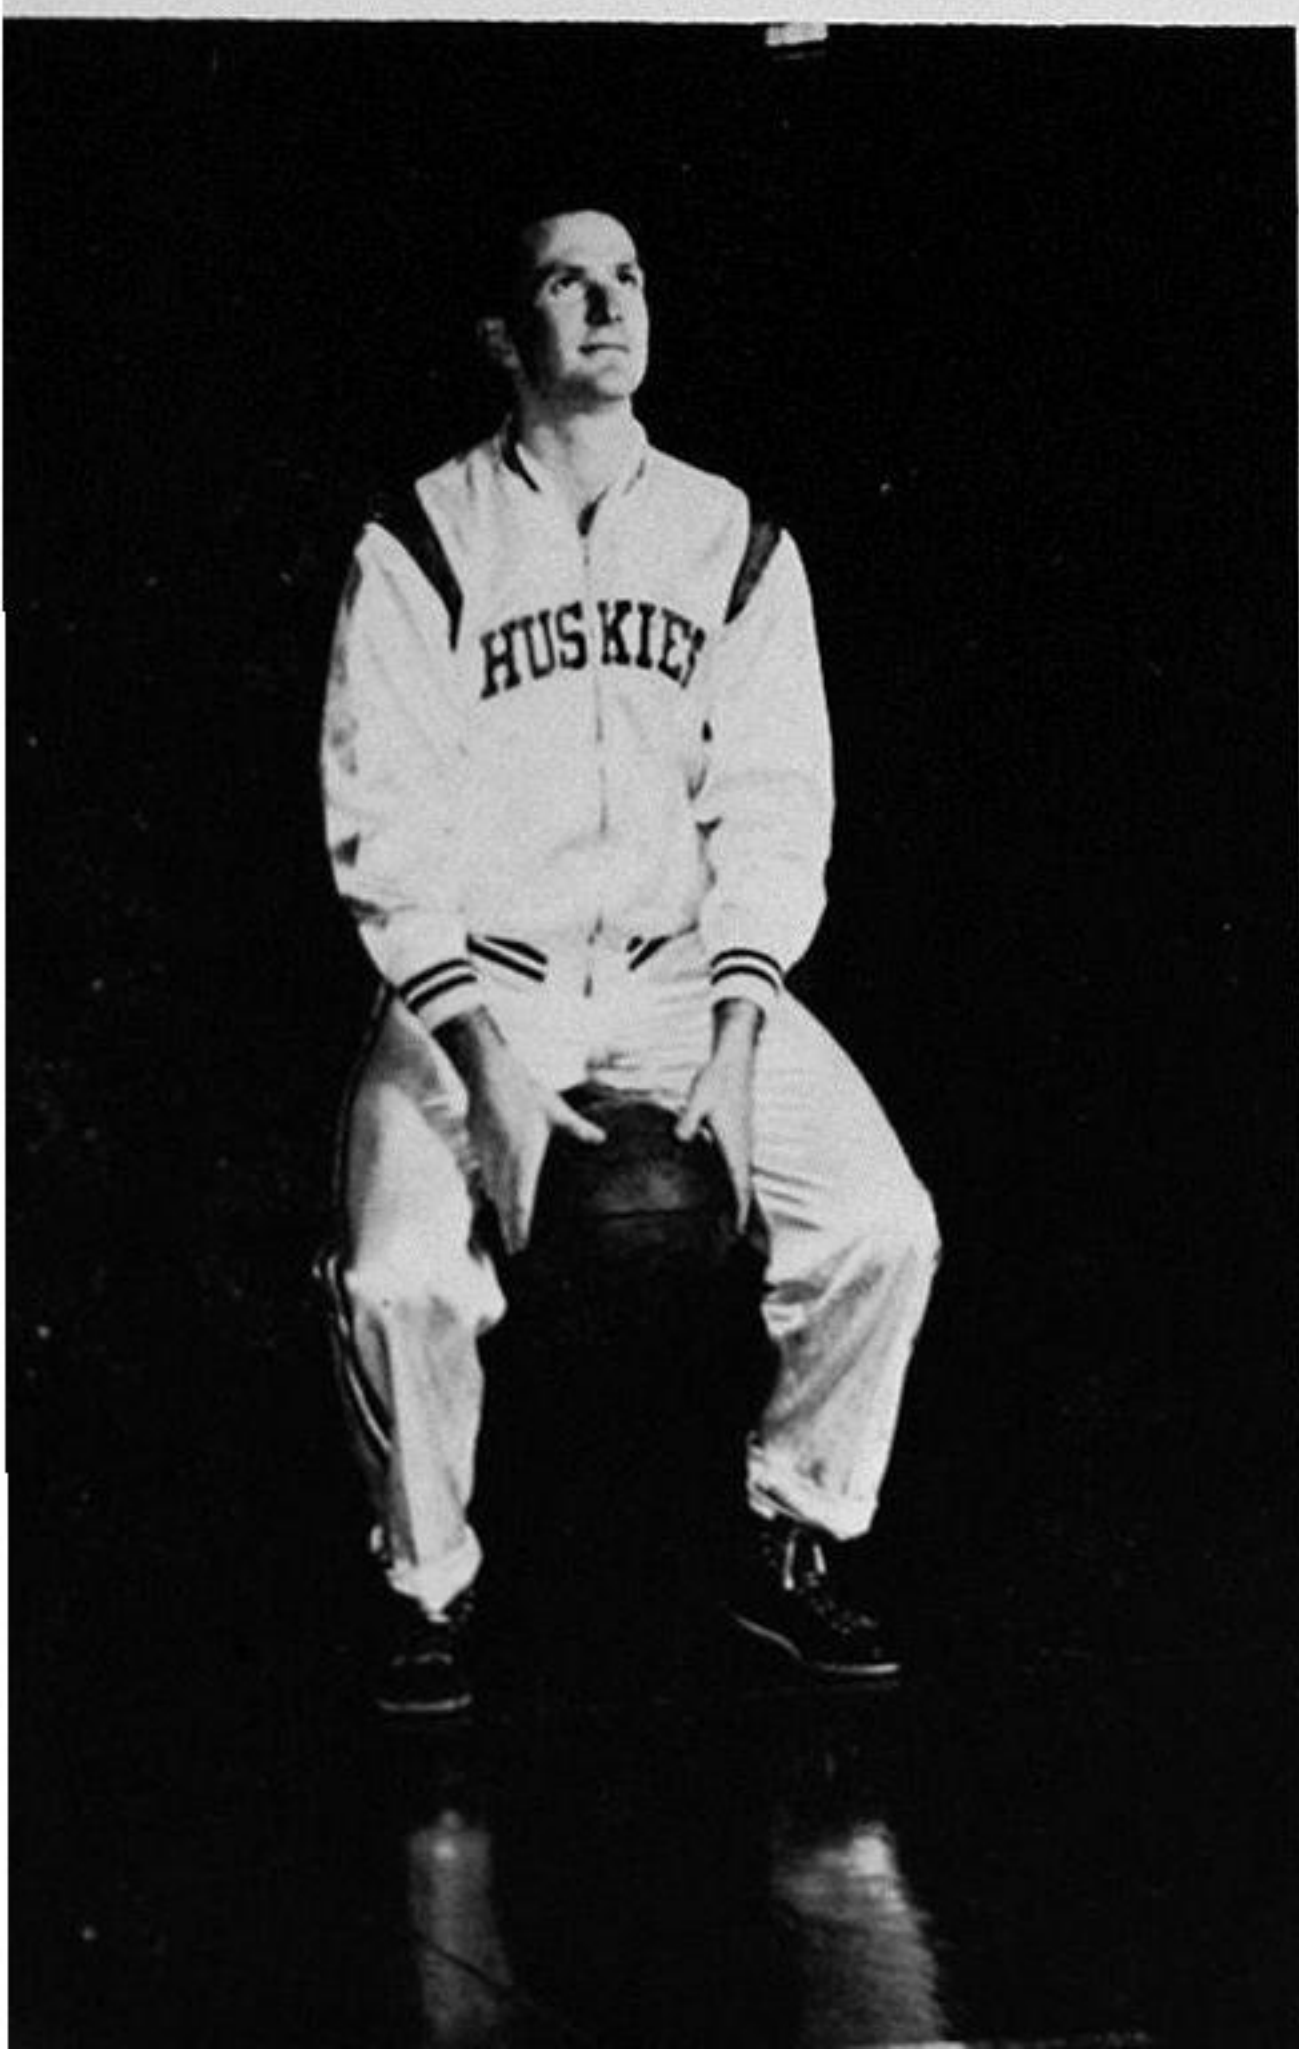

Frank Guisness, the only graduating starter, compiled a most impressive bit of basketball during his four years at the University. A three-year letterman, Frank has been picked on Coast Conference All-Star teams all three years. Twice he has finished second to Houbregs in scoring, and he is undoubtedly one of the best defensive players ever to come out of Washington. In this, his senior year, Frank was elected co-captain along with Mike McCutchen.

Duane Enochs, the other graduating senior, and the sixth man on the club, was elected inspirational player by his teammates. Enochs is also a three letter man, and has an enviable record to his name.

The Husky Junior Varsity, composed of both freshmen and sophomores, completed a very successful season under coaches Bill Morris and Duane Berentson, winning 14 and losing 4. The JV's were somewhat handicapped in their preliminary game performances preceding the varsity games, because several of the games were cut short due to a curfew imposed to prepare the floor for the next game. Two of their close losses came under such circumstances. Next season some of these players will be stepping up, and wearing the white warm-ups with their name on the back.

Head Coach HOWIE ODELL guided the Huskies through the 1951 season which proved a disappointment to even the most pessimistic UW grid fans.

MORRIS "RED" BADGRO tutored the Washington end forces as a popular member of the coaching staff.

1951 FOOTBALL

HOWIE ODELL, J. NEIL "SKIP" STAHLEY, backfield coach; REG ROOT, line coach, and JIMMY DeANGELIS, line coach, are all key members of the Washington football board of strategy.

JOHNNY CHERBERG coached the UW Jayvees to an undefeated season to add to an already impressive win-loss record.

PERRY MOSS, backfield coach, resigned his Washington job to take a backfield coaching post at Louisiana State University.

HUSKIES . . . 55
GRIZZLIES . . . 7

There were no signs that the loss of Don Heinrich would hurt the Huskies in the season to come. Sam Mitchell and Dean Rockey guided the UW team to a rout over a completely outclassed Grizzly. Montana was held to three first downs and a net 20 yards rushing. With Hugh McElhenny and Bill Earley sparking the ground attack and Mitchell and Rockey passing effectively, Howie Odell's Huskies Rose Bowl hopes remained high. The Purple and Gold scored almost at will with the only obvious offensive weakness being the lack of a conversion kicker.

Quarterback SAM MITCHELL picks up a nice piece of yardage against Montana in the UW season's opener.

DAROLD TALLEY played his final year in a Husky uniform at a defensive end post.

BILL ALBRECHT was a regular defensive back and saw considerable action on offense.

FRED RUDNICK showed rapid improvement as a Husky lineman and returns for 1952 action.

TED HOLZKNECHT captained the 1951 Huskies and was a key man in the middle of the defensive line.

GOPHERS 20

Although far surpassing the Gophers in the statistic department, the Huskies were extended to the final minutes of play to eke out a narrow victory. Marching deep into Minnesota territory late in the fourth quarter, the Huskies took the lead and final victory on a bootleg pass from Dean Rockey to McElhenny. One of the Washington scores came on a 56-yard dash from scrimmage by McElhenny. Sam Mitchell won the job of regular Husky quarterback by completing 19 passes, an all-time Washington record. A surprise play came when tackle Dean Chambers tallied a conversion.

DOUG McCLARY was a top pass receiver after winning a starting end berth.

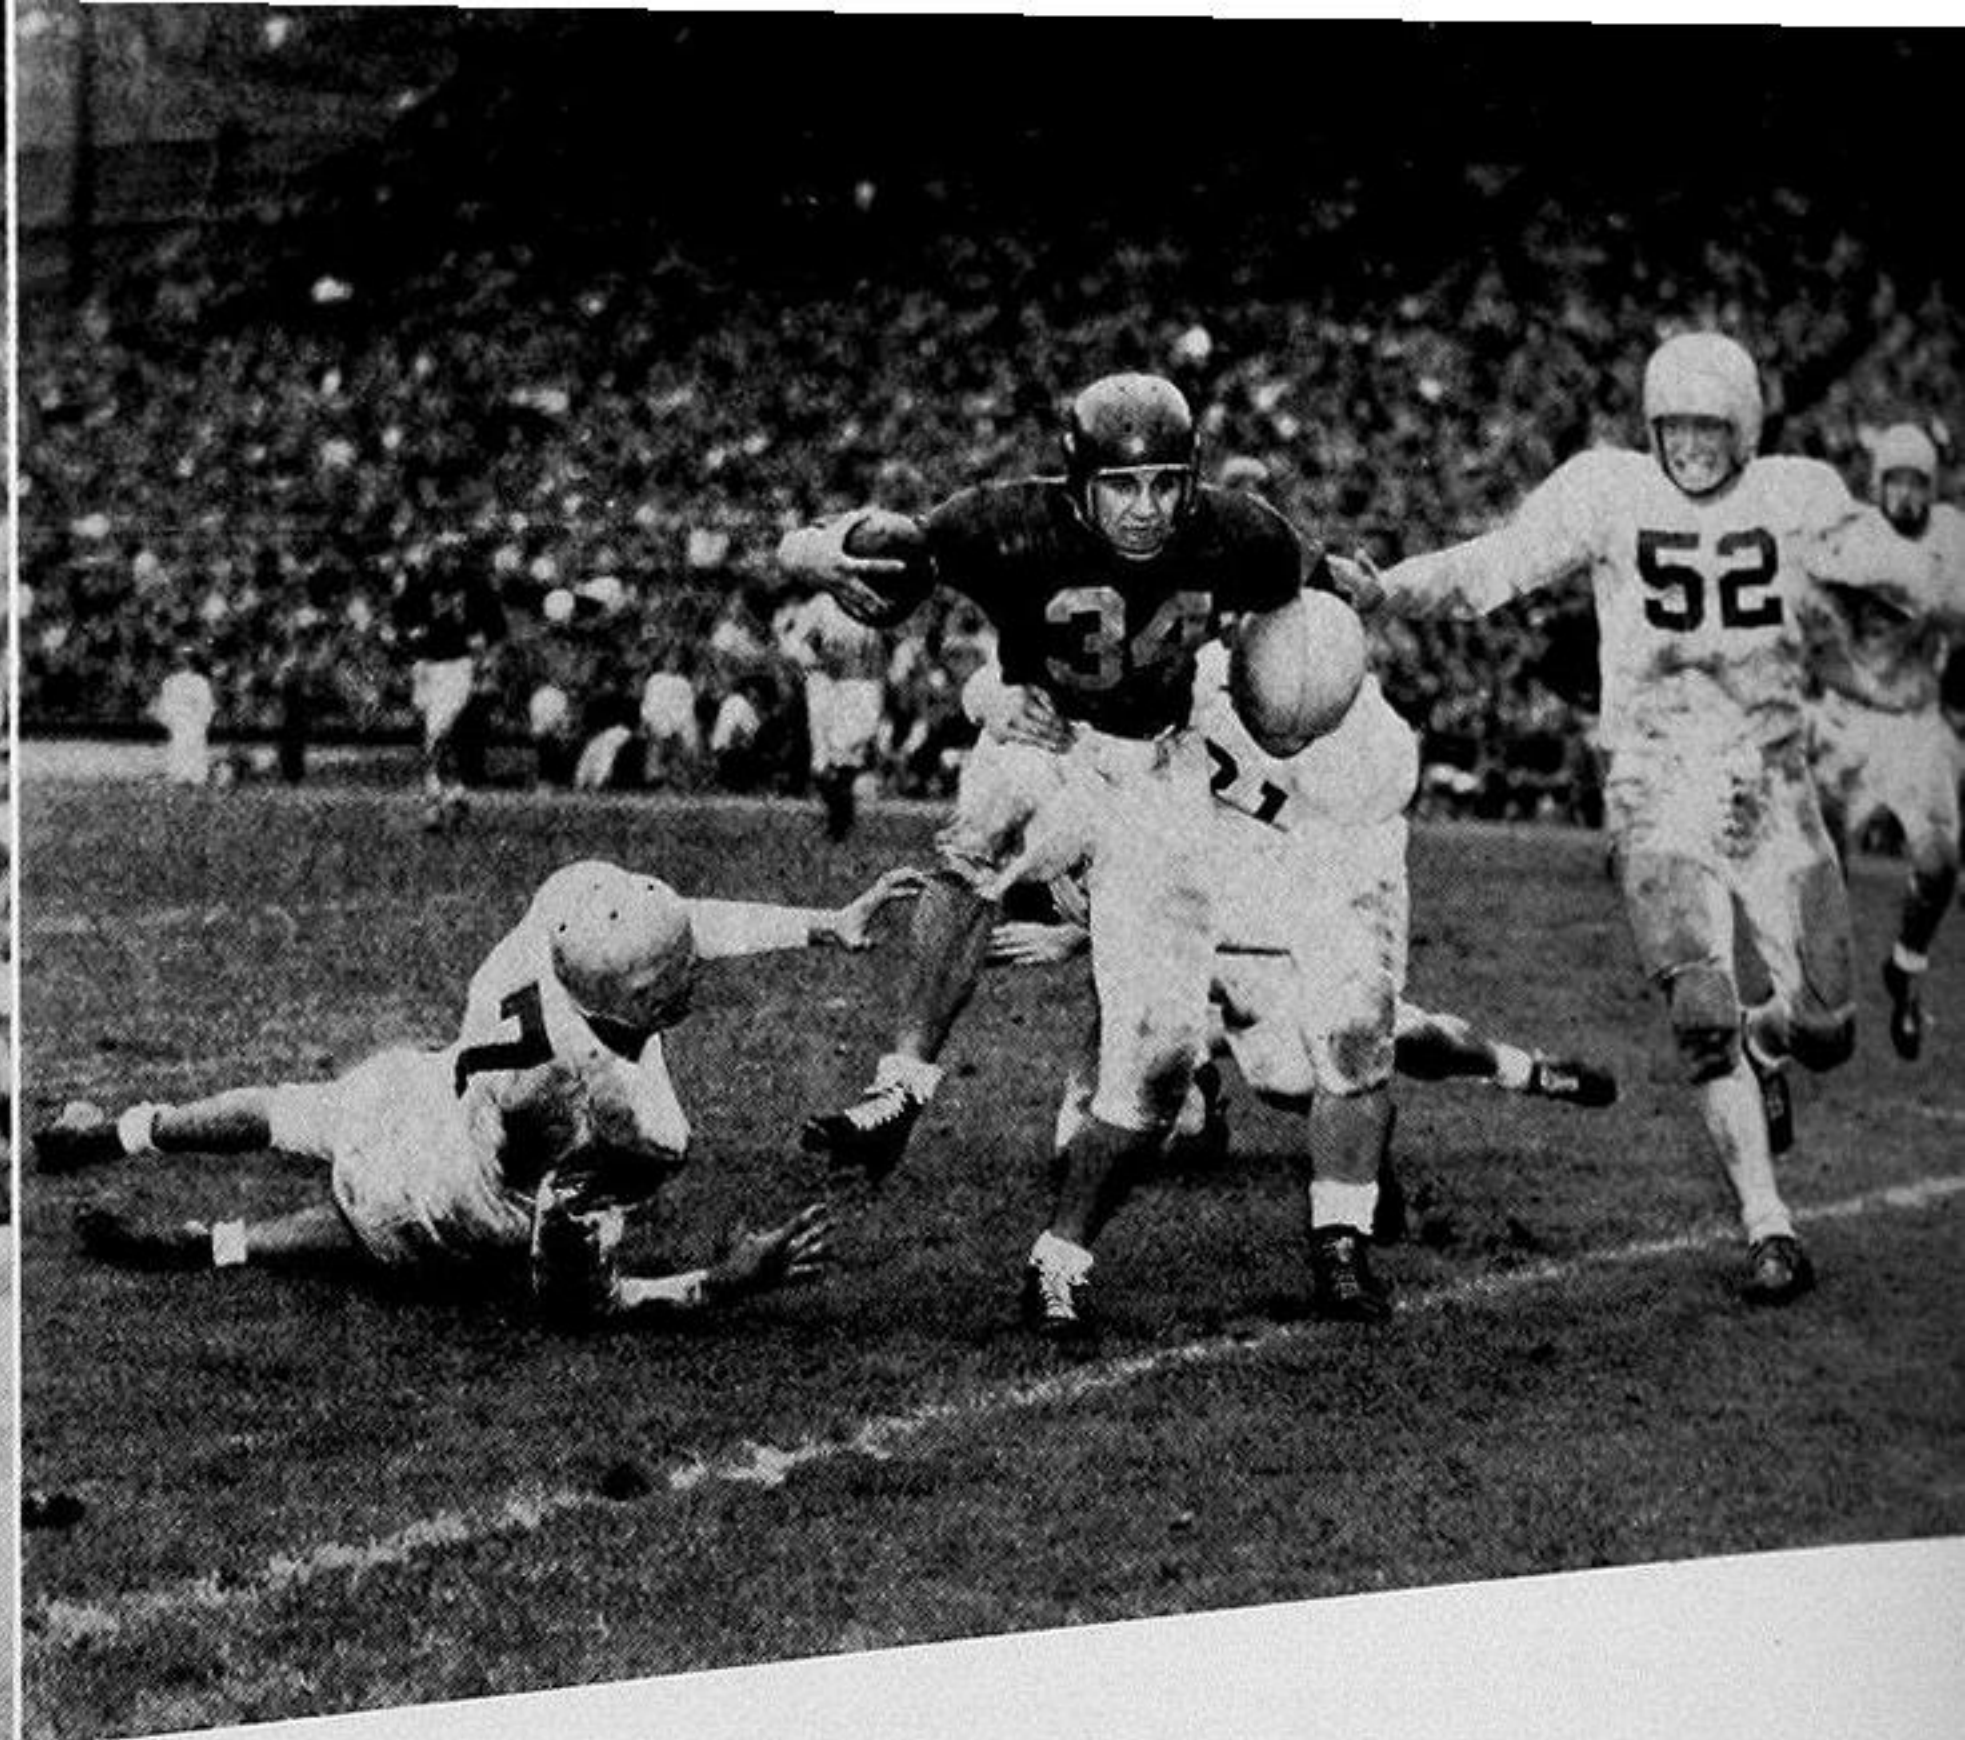

VERN LINDSKOG moved into the starting offensive center position on the UW eleven.

CLYDE SEILER saw plenty of action as a lineman for the 1951 football Huskies.

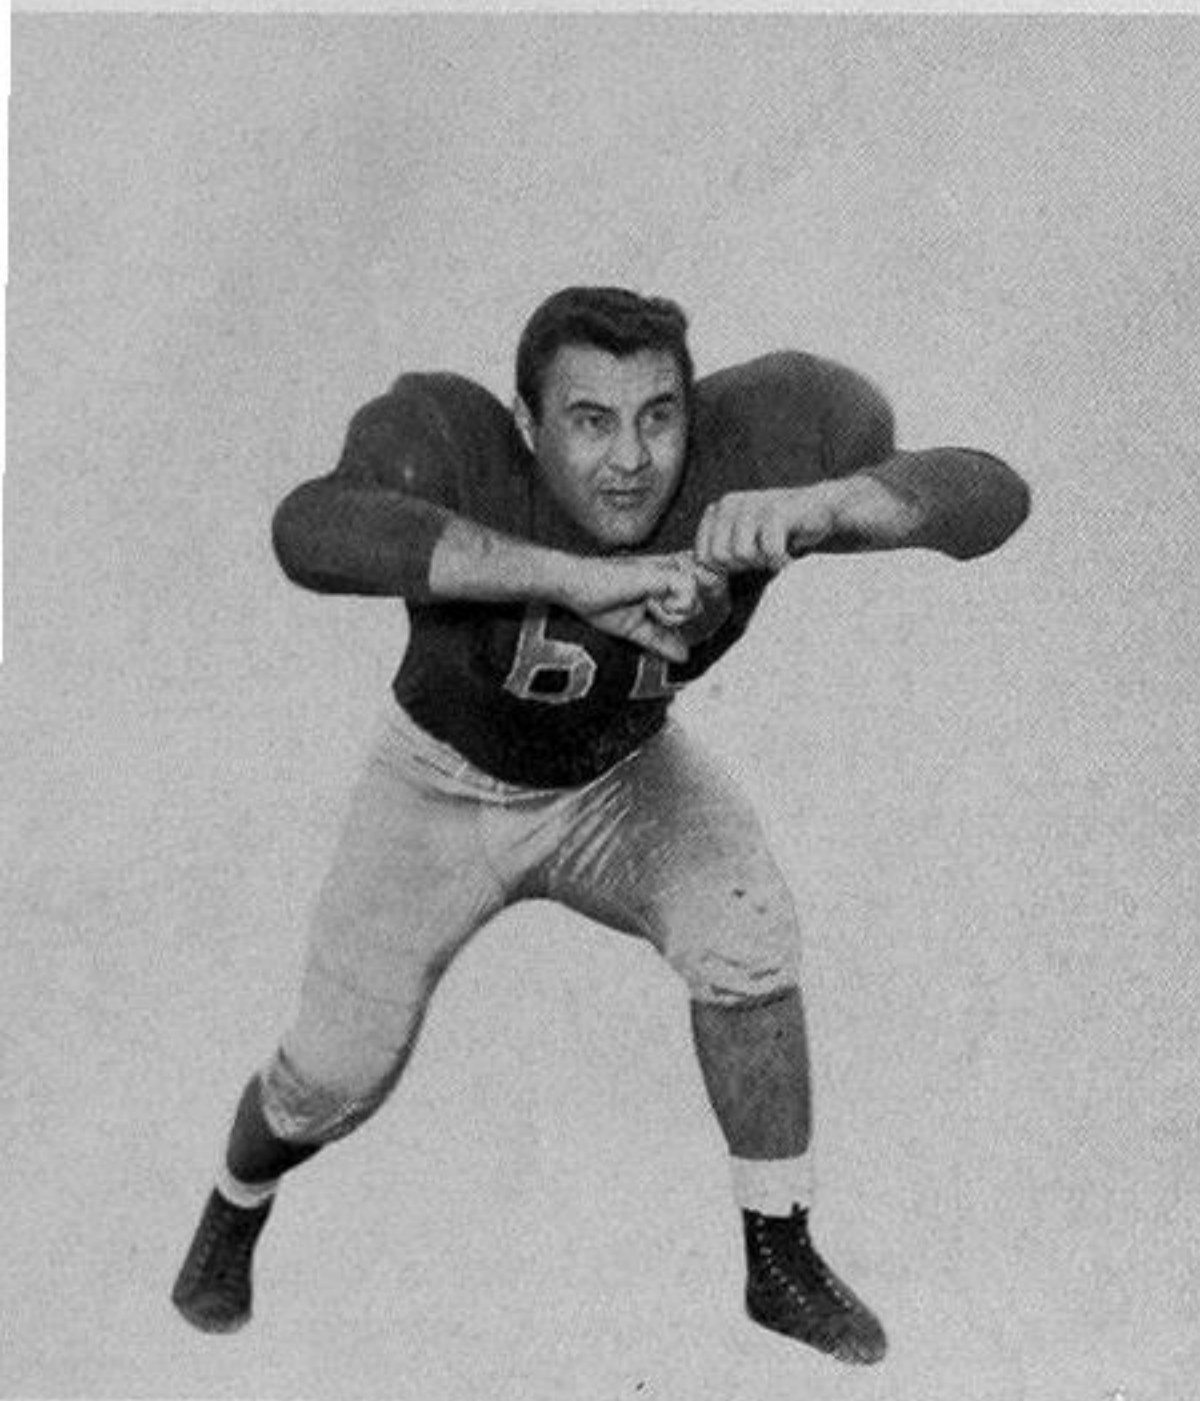

PHIL GILLIS was a dependable end performer, winning his second varsity letter.

Occupants of the Washington bench played tense roles during the season as typified by the Illinois game. The injured SAM MITCHELL (wearing jacket in the center) looks on helplessly.

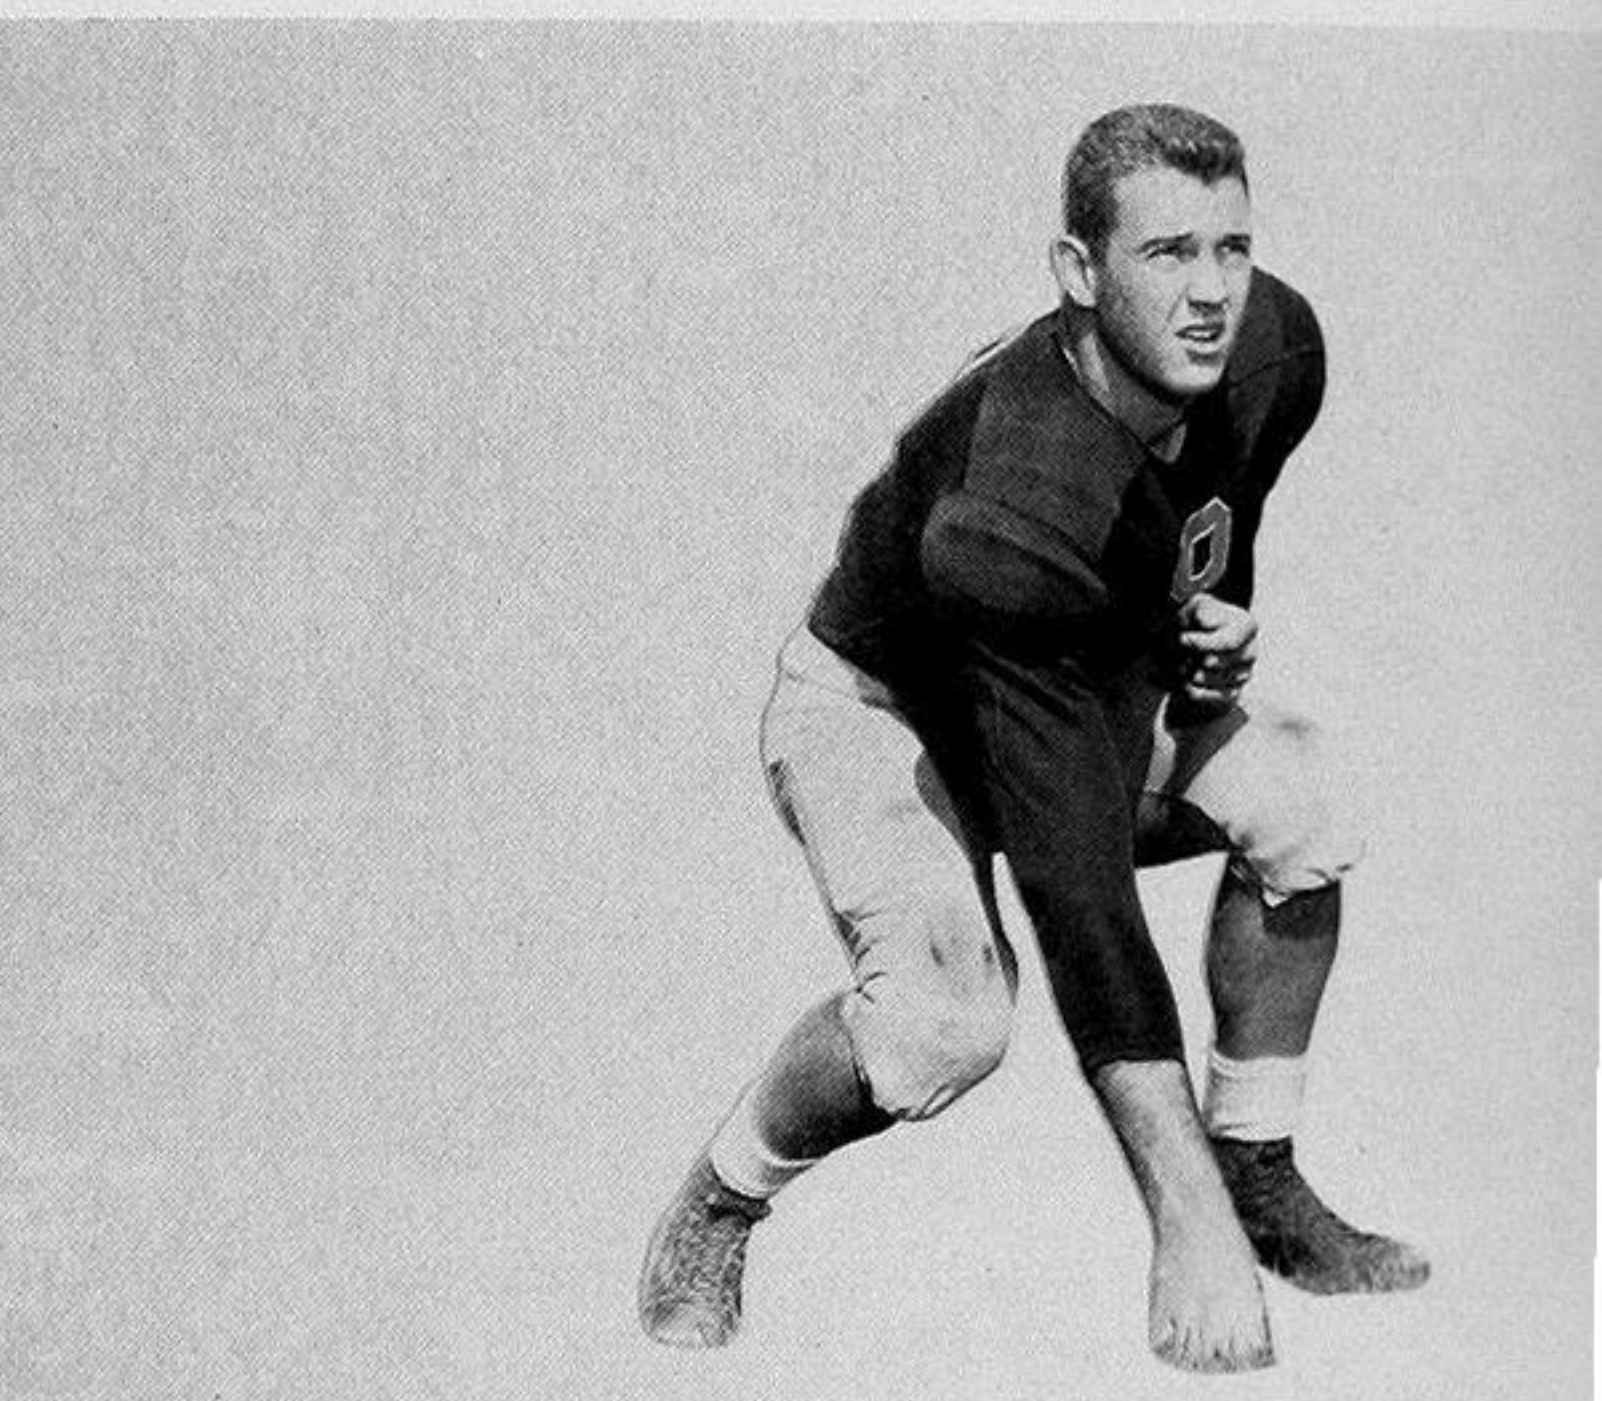

DICK SANDBERG (41) moves in for the tackle (left), and DAROLD TALLEY (7), JACK NUGENT (31) and JIM NOE (52) stop the Ducks in another play (right).

BRIEN ZUREK played a regular offensive guard position for the second year.

GEORGE BLACK, offensive end, won considerable acclaim as a soph pass receiver.

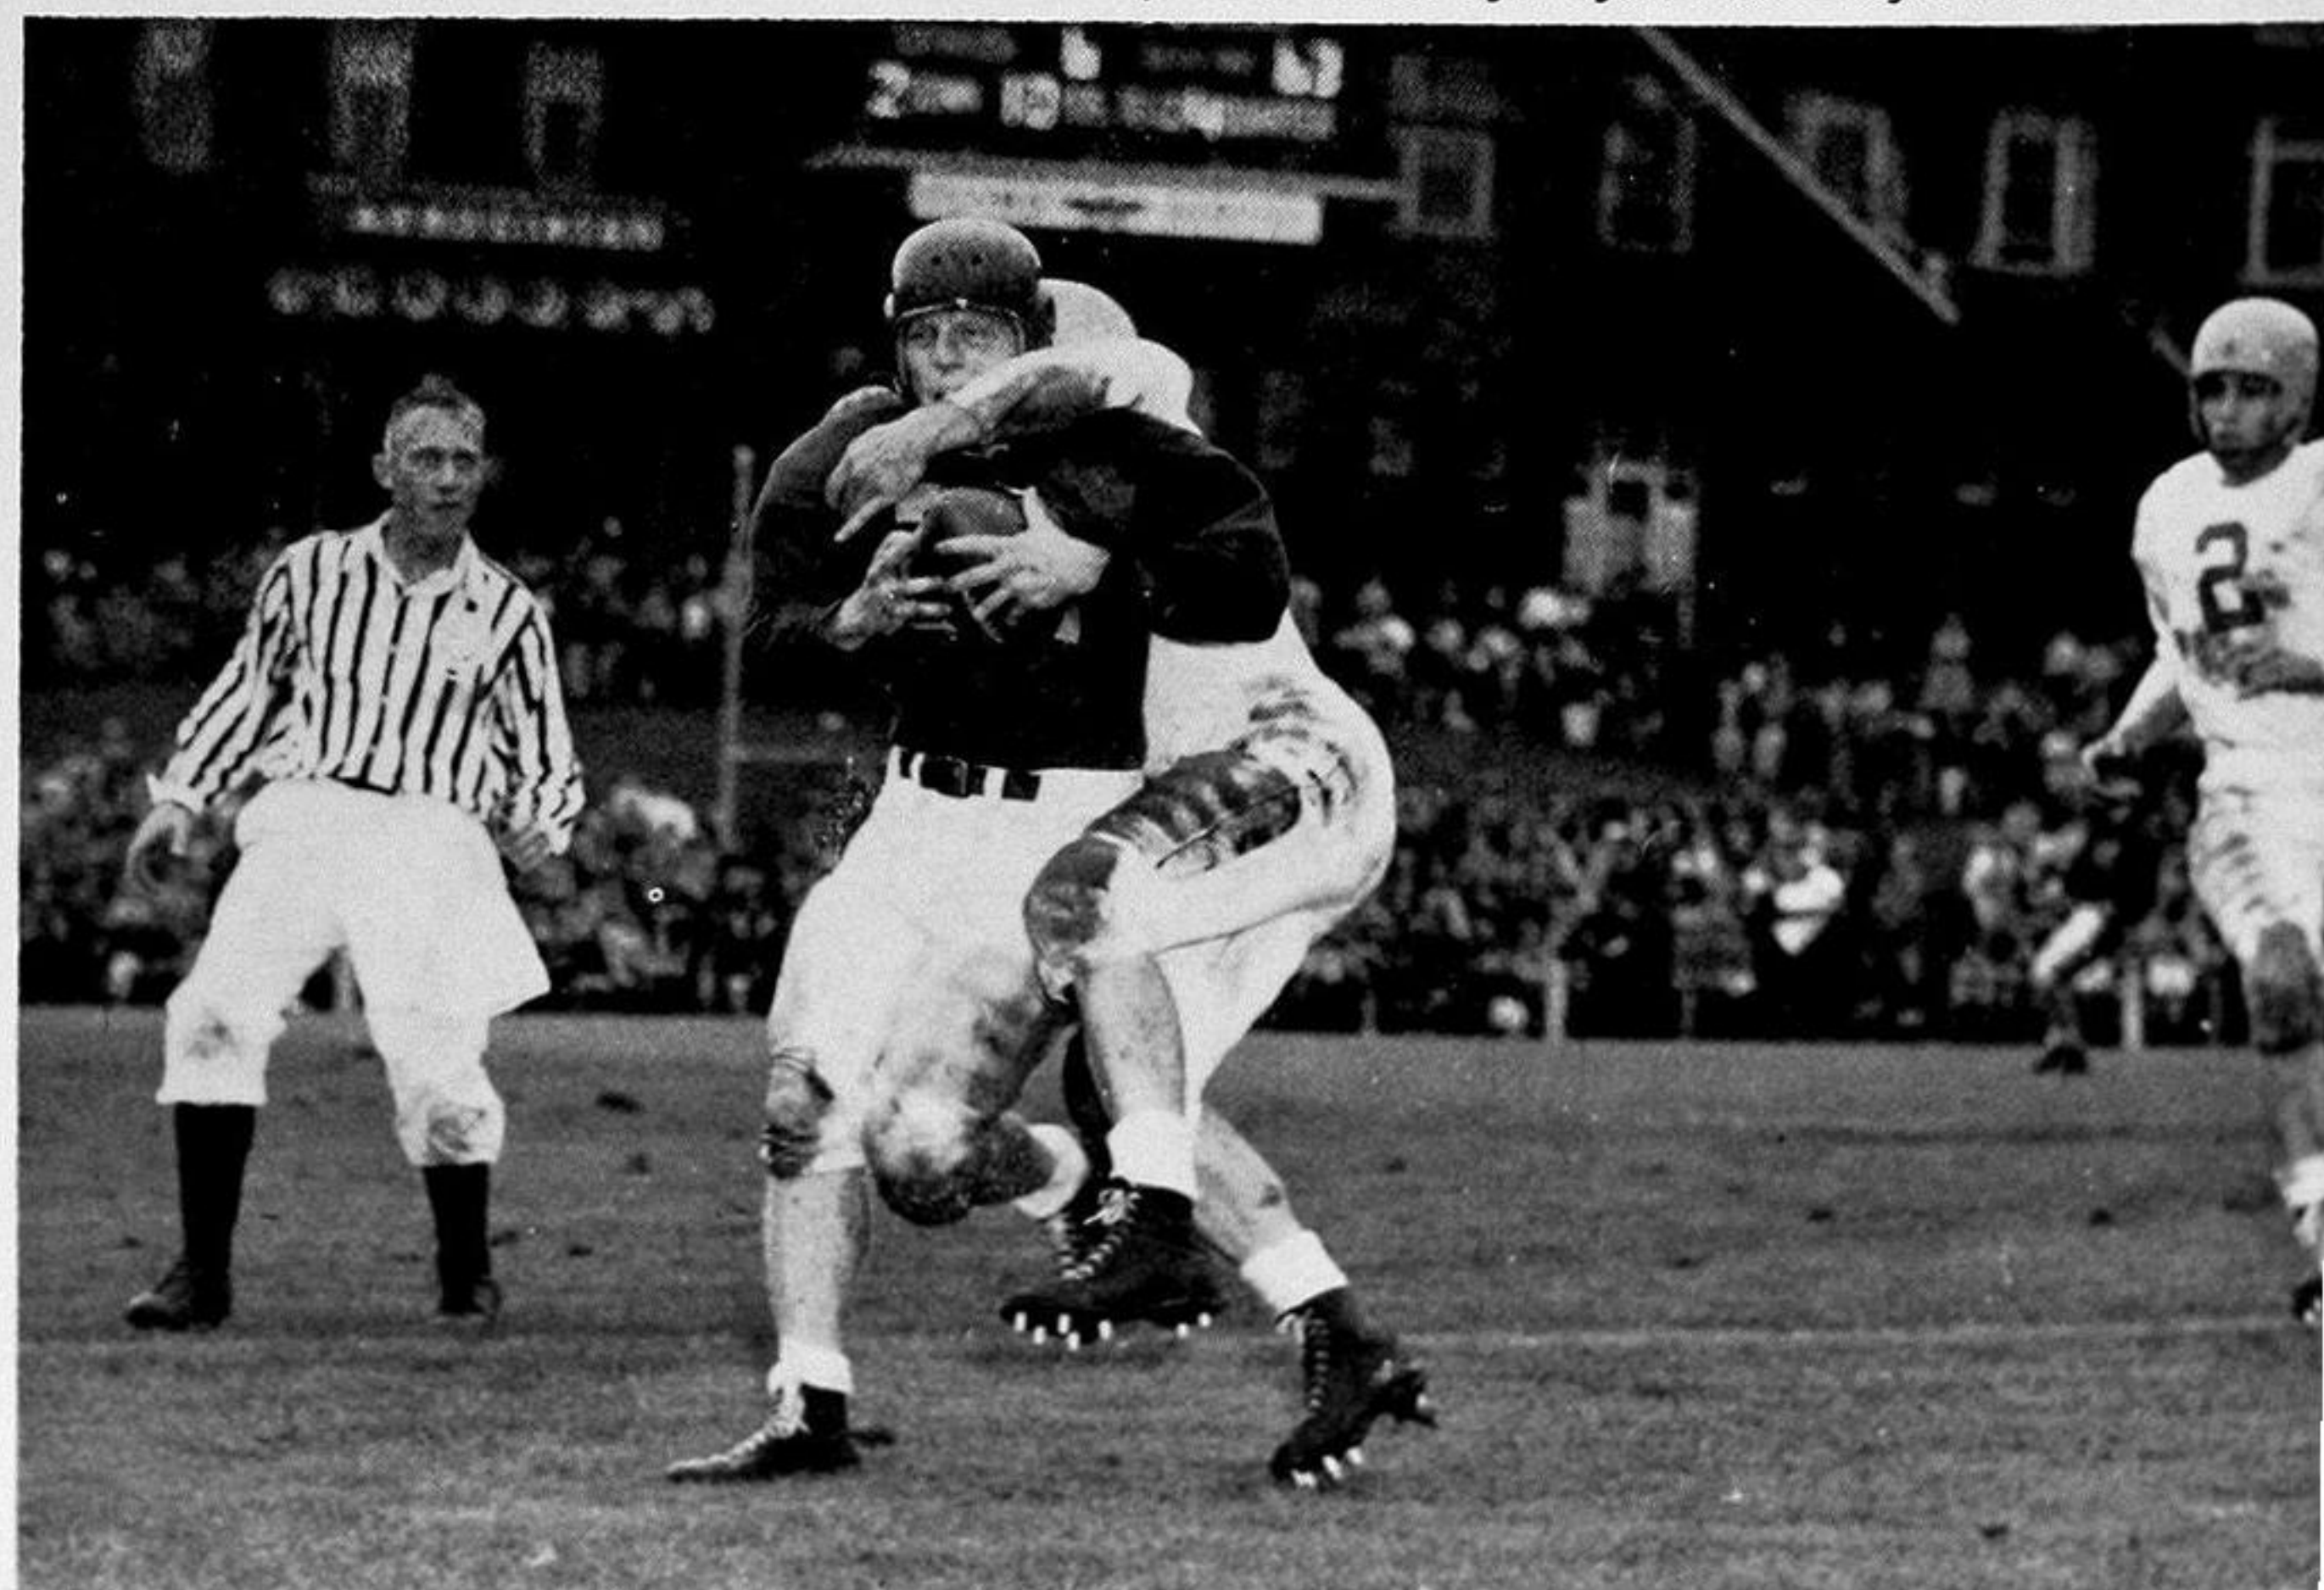

FRANK LARIZA shined as a fleet footed full-back

HUSKIES . . . 63

DUCKS 6

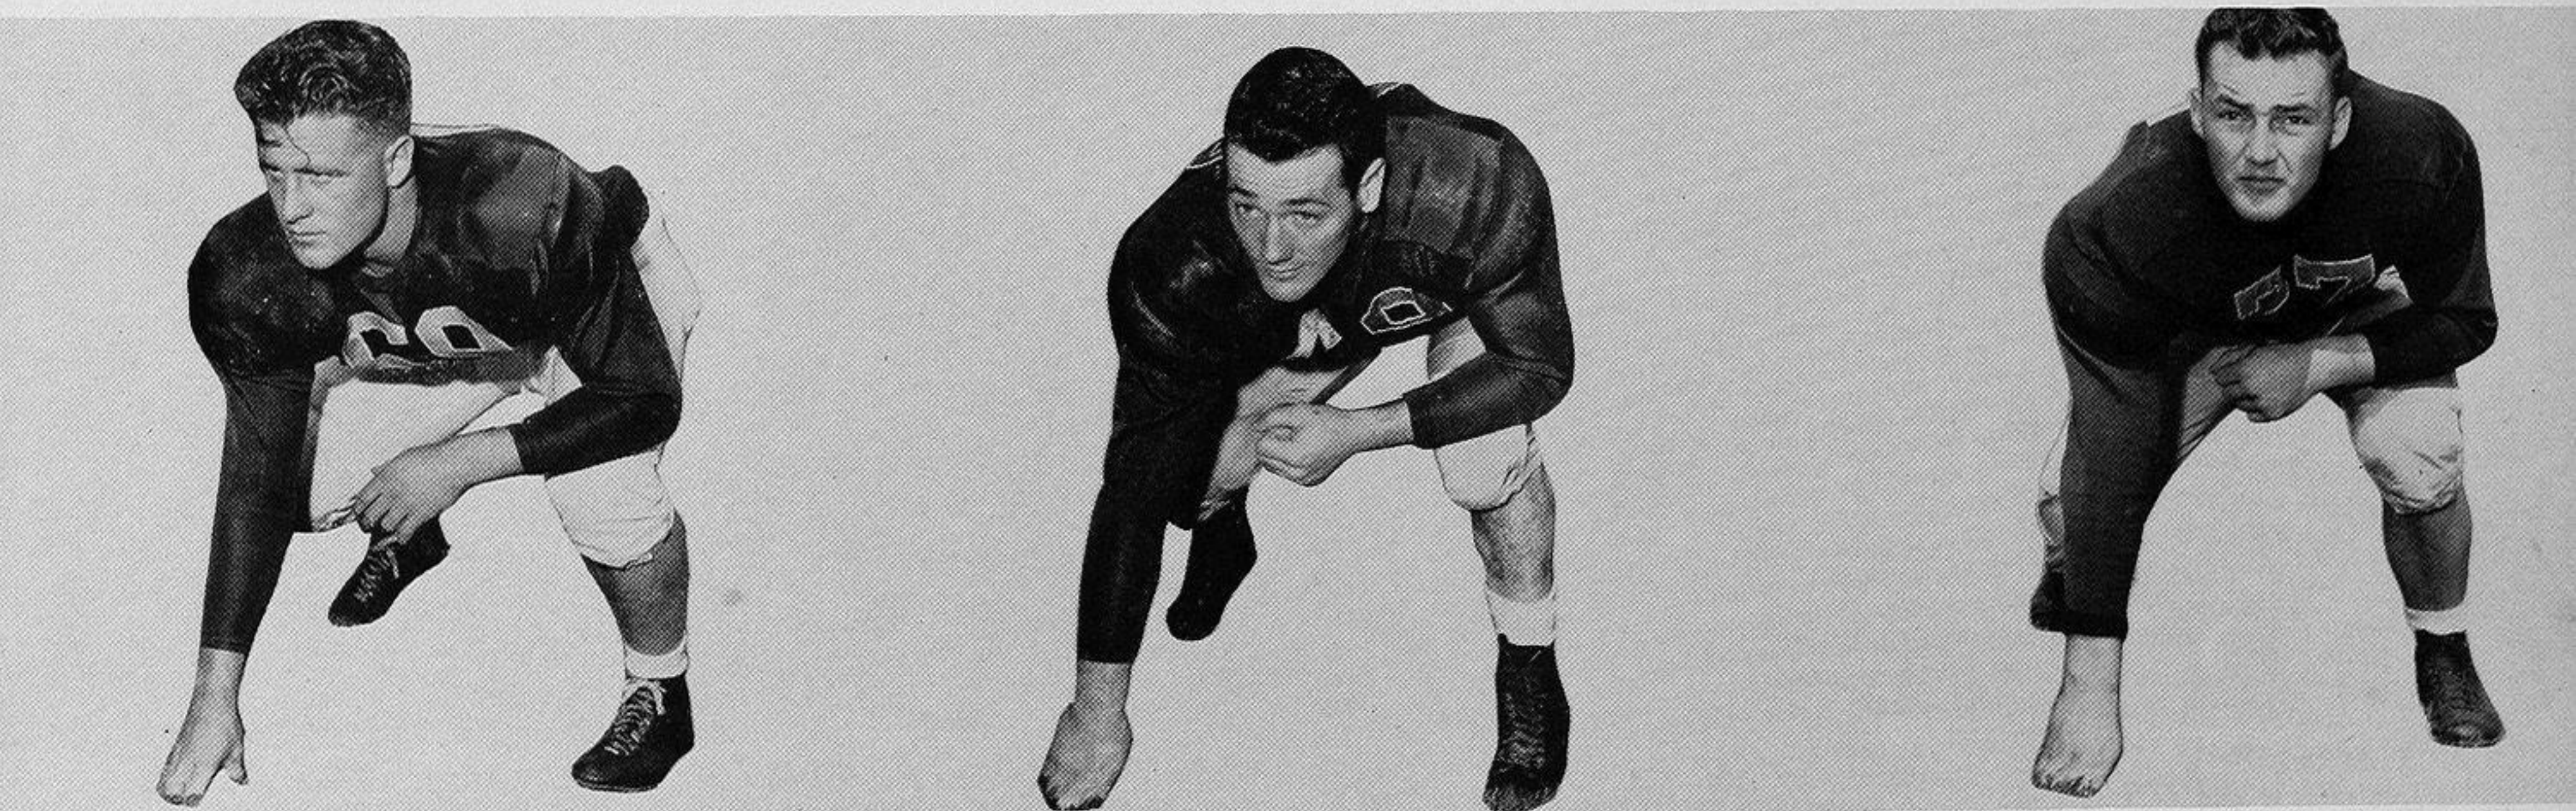

The Huskies completely outclassed the Ducks in their opening conference game to rack up victory number three. Hugh McElhenny booted nine straight conversion attempts and rolled up a rushing average of 15 yards per carry. He had one 64-yard scoring jaunt nullified by a penalty. Bill Albrecht went 65 yards to paydirt for the fifth Husky score while substitute Jack Nugent raced 70 yards for the final tally of the day. Oregon discovered a new passing threat in the form of freshman George Shaw who showed signs of a great football future.

JIM WARSINSKI (2) closes in as an unidentified Husky tackler holds tight against the Oregon back.

HUGH McELHENNY dodges a USC tackler on the start of his fourth-quarter, 100-yard touchdown dash.

GENE NORTON started out as a back but switched to the line to end his grid career.

JIM WILEY won all-coast acclaim as a junior and senior as a standout Husky linebacker.

STAN KUCINSKAS won his first varsity letter as a sophomore on the UW defensive platoon.

Husky BILL ALBRECHT fails on a fourth down touchdown plunge against the Trojans.

HUSKIES . . . 13

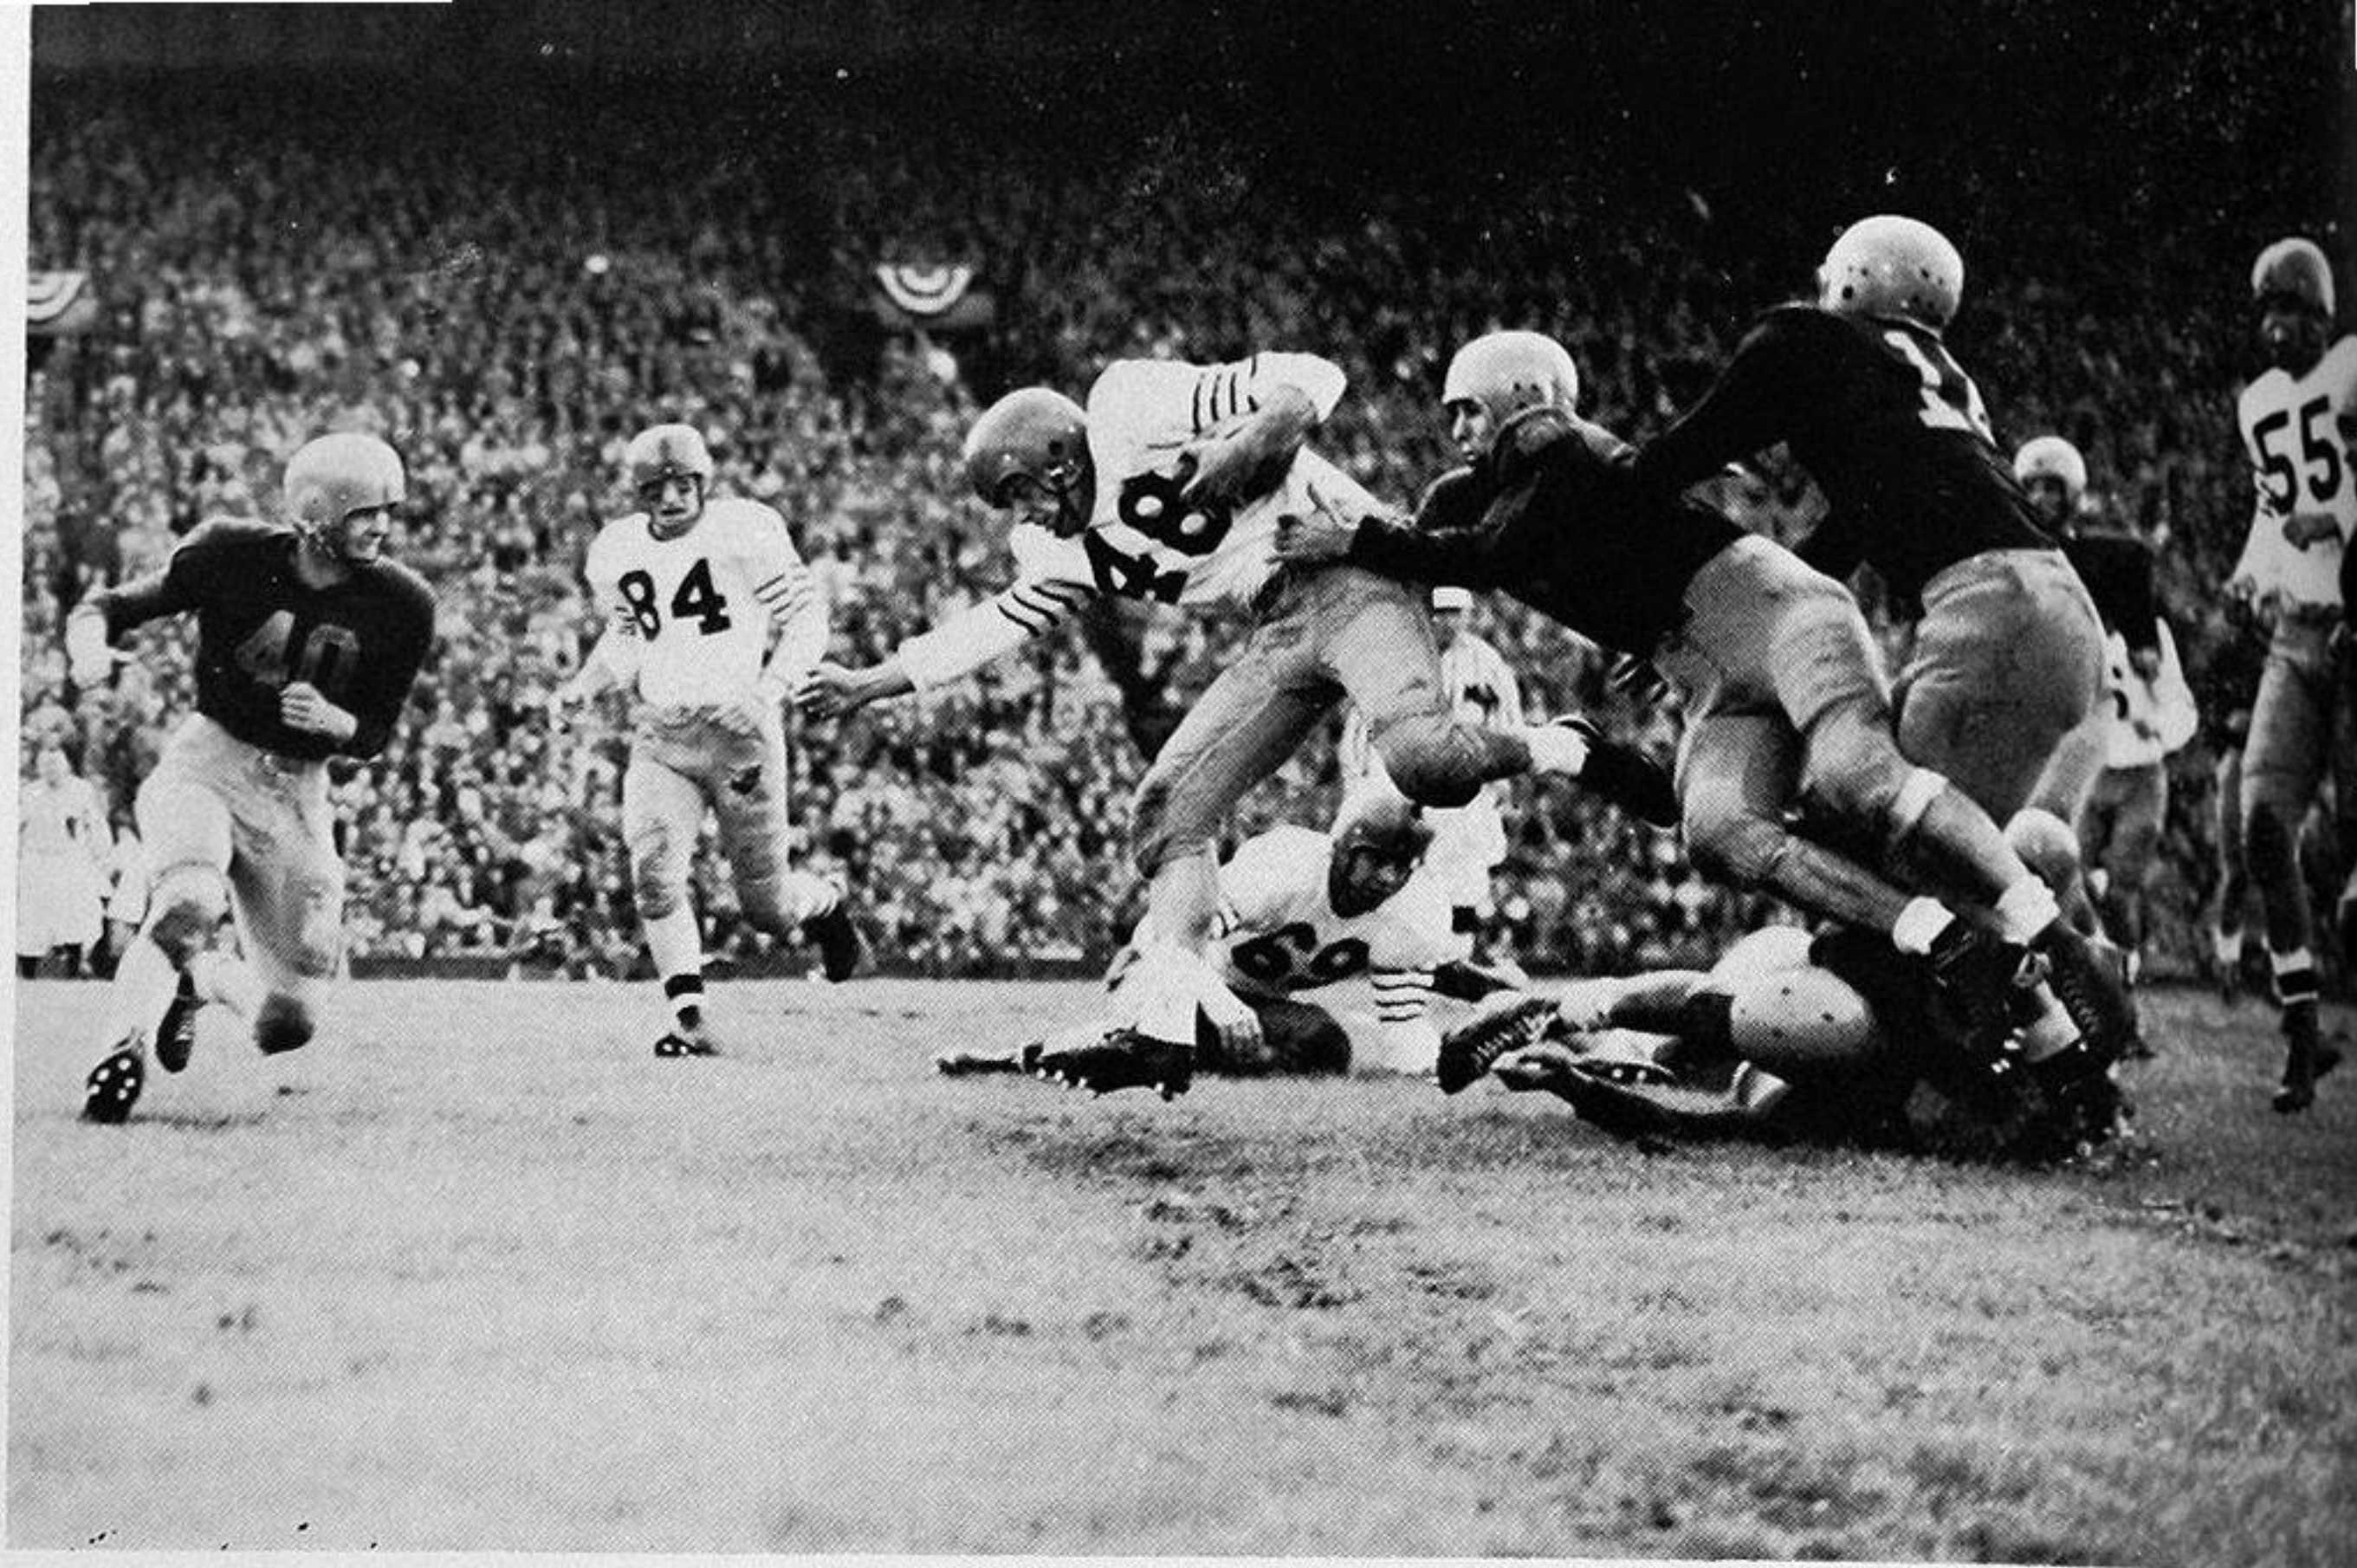

TROJANS . . . 20

Undefeated thus far in 1951 play, the Huskies fell before the bonecrushing attack of Pat Cannamela and his Trojan team mates. After taking care of UW stars Dick Sprague and Sam Mitchell—injured after the play had stopped—the Men of Troy went on to win by a touchdown. The Trojans were penalized 102 yards. The highlights of the contest for Husky fans came in the third quarter when Hugh McElhenny took a kick in his own end zone and went 100 yards for a score. Lineback Jim Wiley sparked on defense for Washington.

HUSKIES . . . 20

ILLINI 27

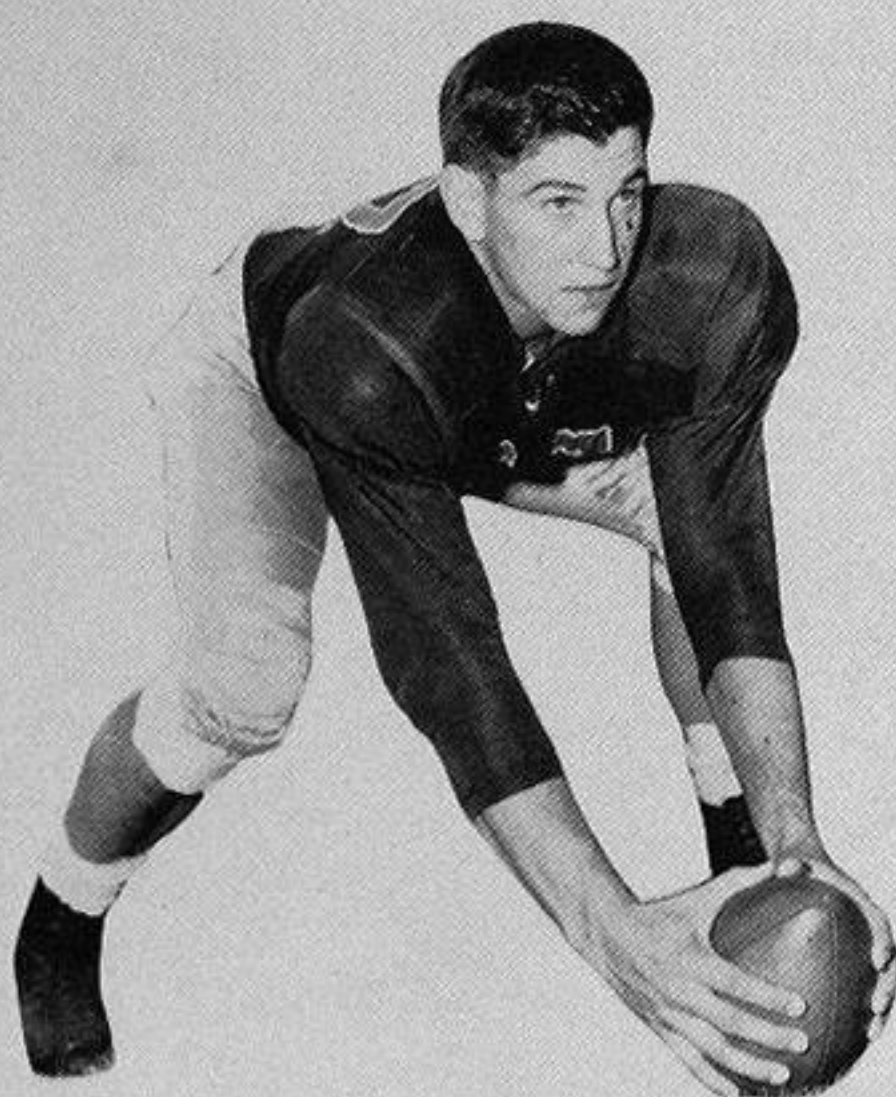

Out for victory after the close loss to USC, the Huskies couldn't meet the all round strength of the Big Ten champions to be and lost another game by a single touchdown in the final quarter. The passing of Tom O'Connell and the running of Dick Ratlovits and All-American candidate Johnny Karras sparked the Illini to the winning touchdown with less than three minutes to go in the fourth quarter. Highlights of the contest were a 61-yard run by Dean Rockey and a paydirt play for 77 yards from Sam Mitchell to Hugh McElhenny. In a freak play, Mitchell was caught by two tacklers but threw the ball back over his head for a completed pass.

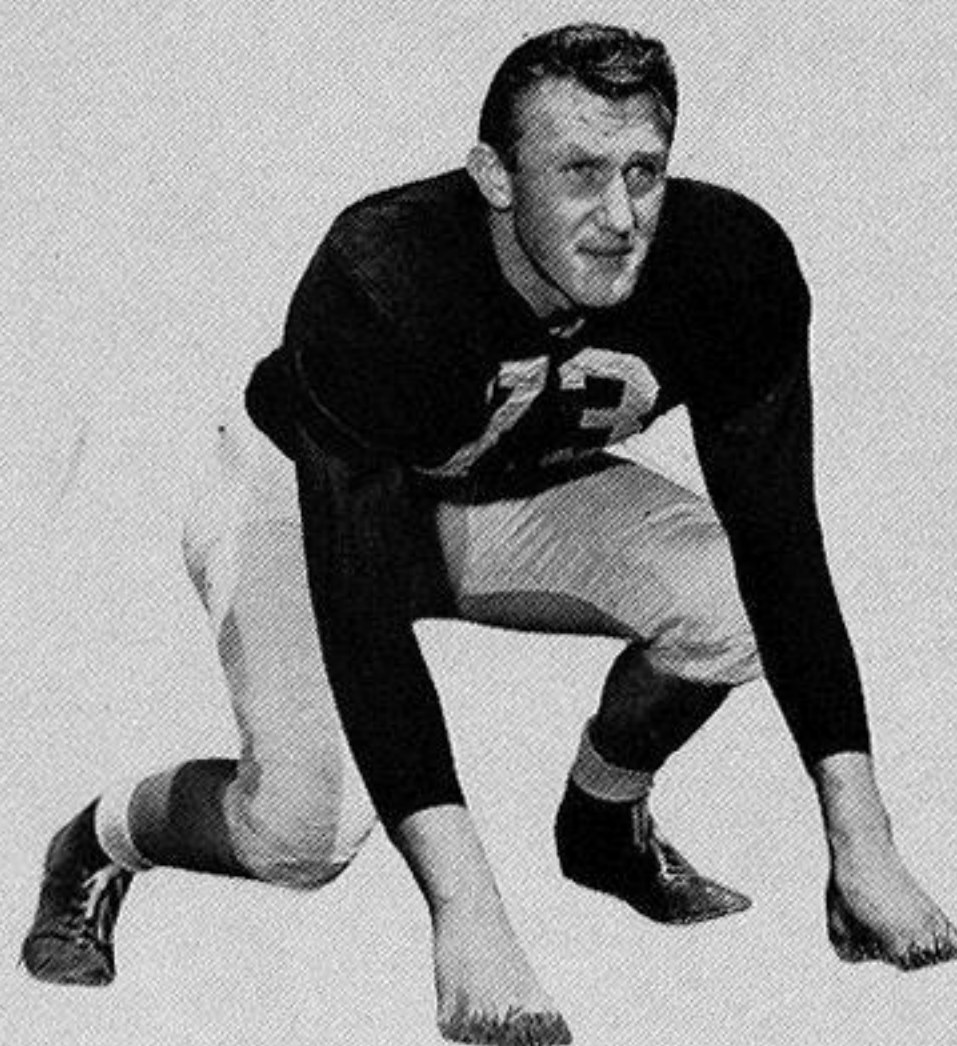

JOHNNY KARRAS (48) of Illinois bulls through the line with two Huskies holding on.

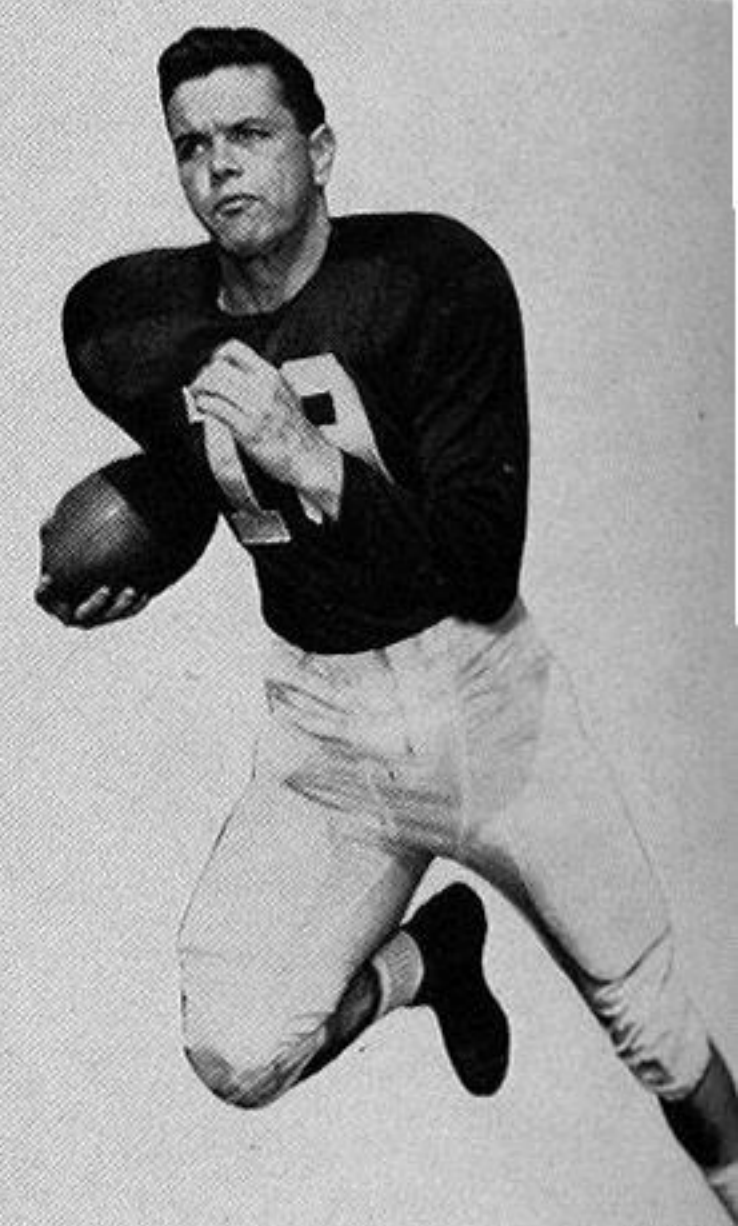

DICK SPRAGUE played regularly on offense and defense and was elected 1952 captain.

MILT BOHART won a varsity "W" as a sophomore center and figures in UW future plans.

LOUIE YOURKOWSKI played iron man duty as a tackle to garner his second varsity letter.

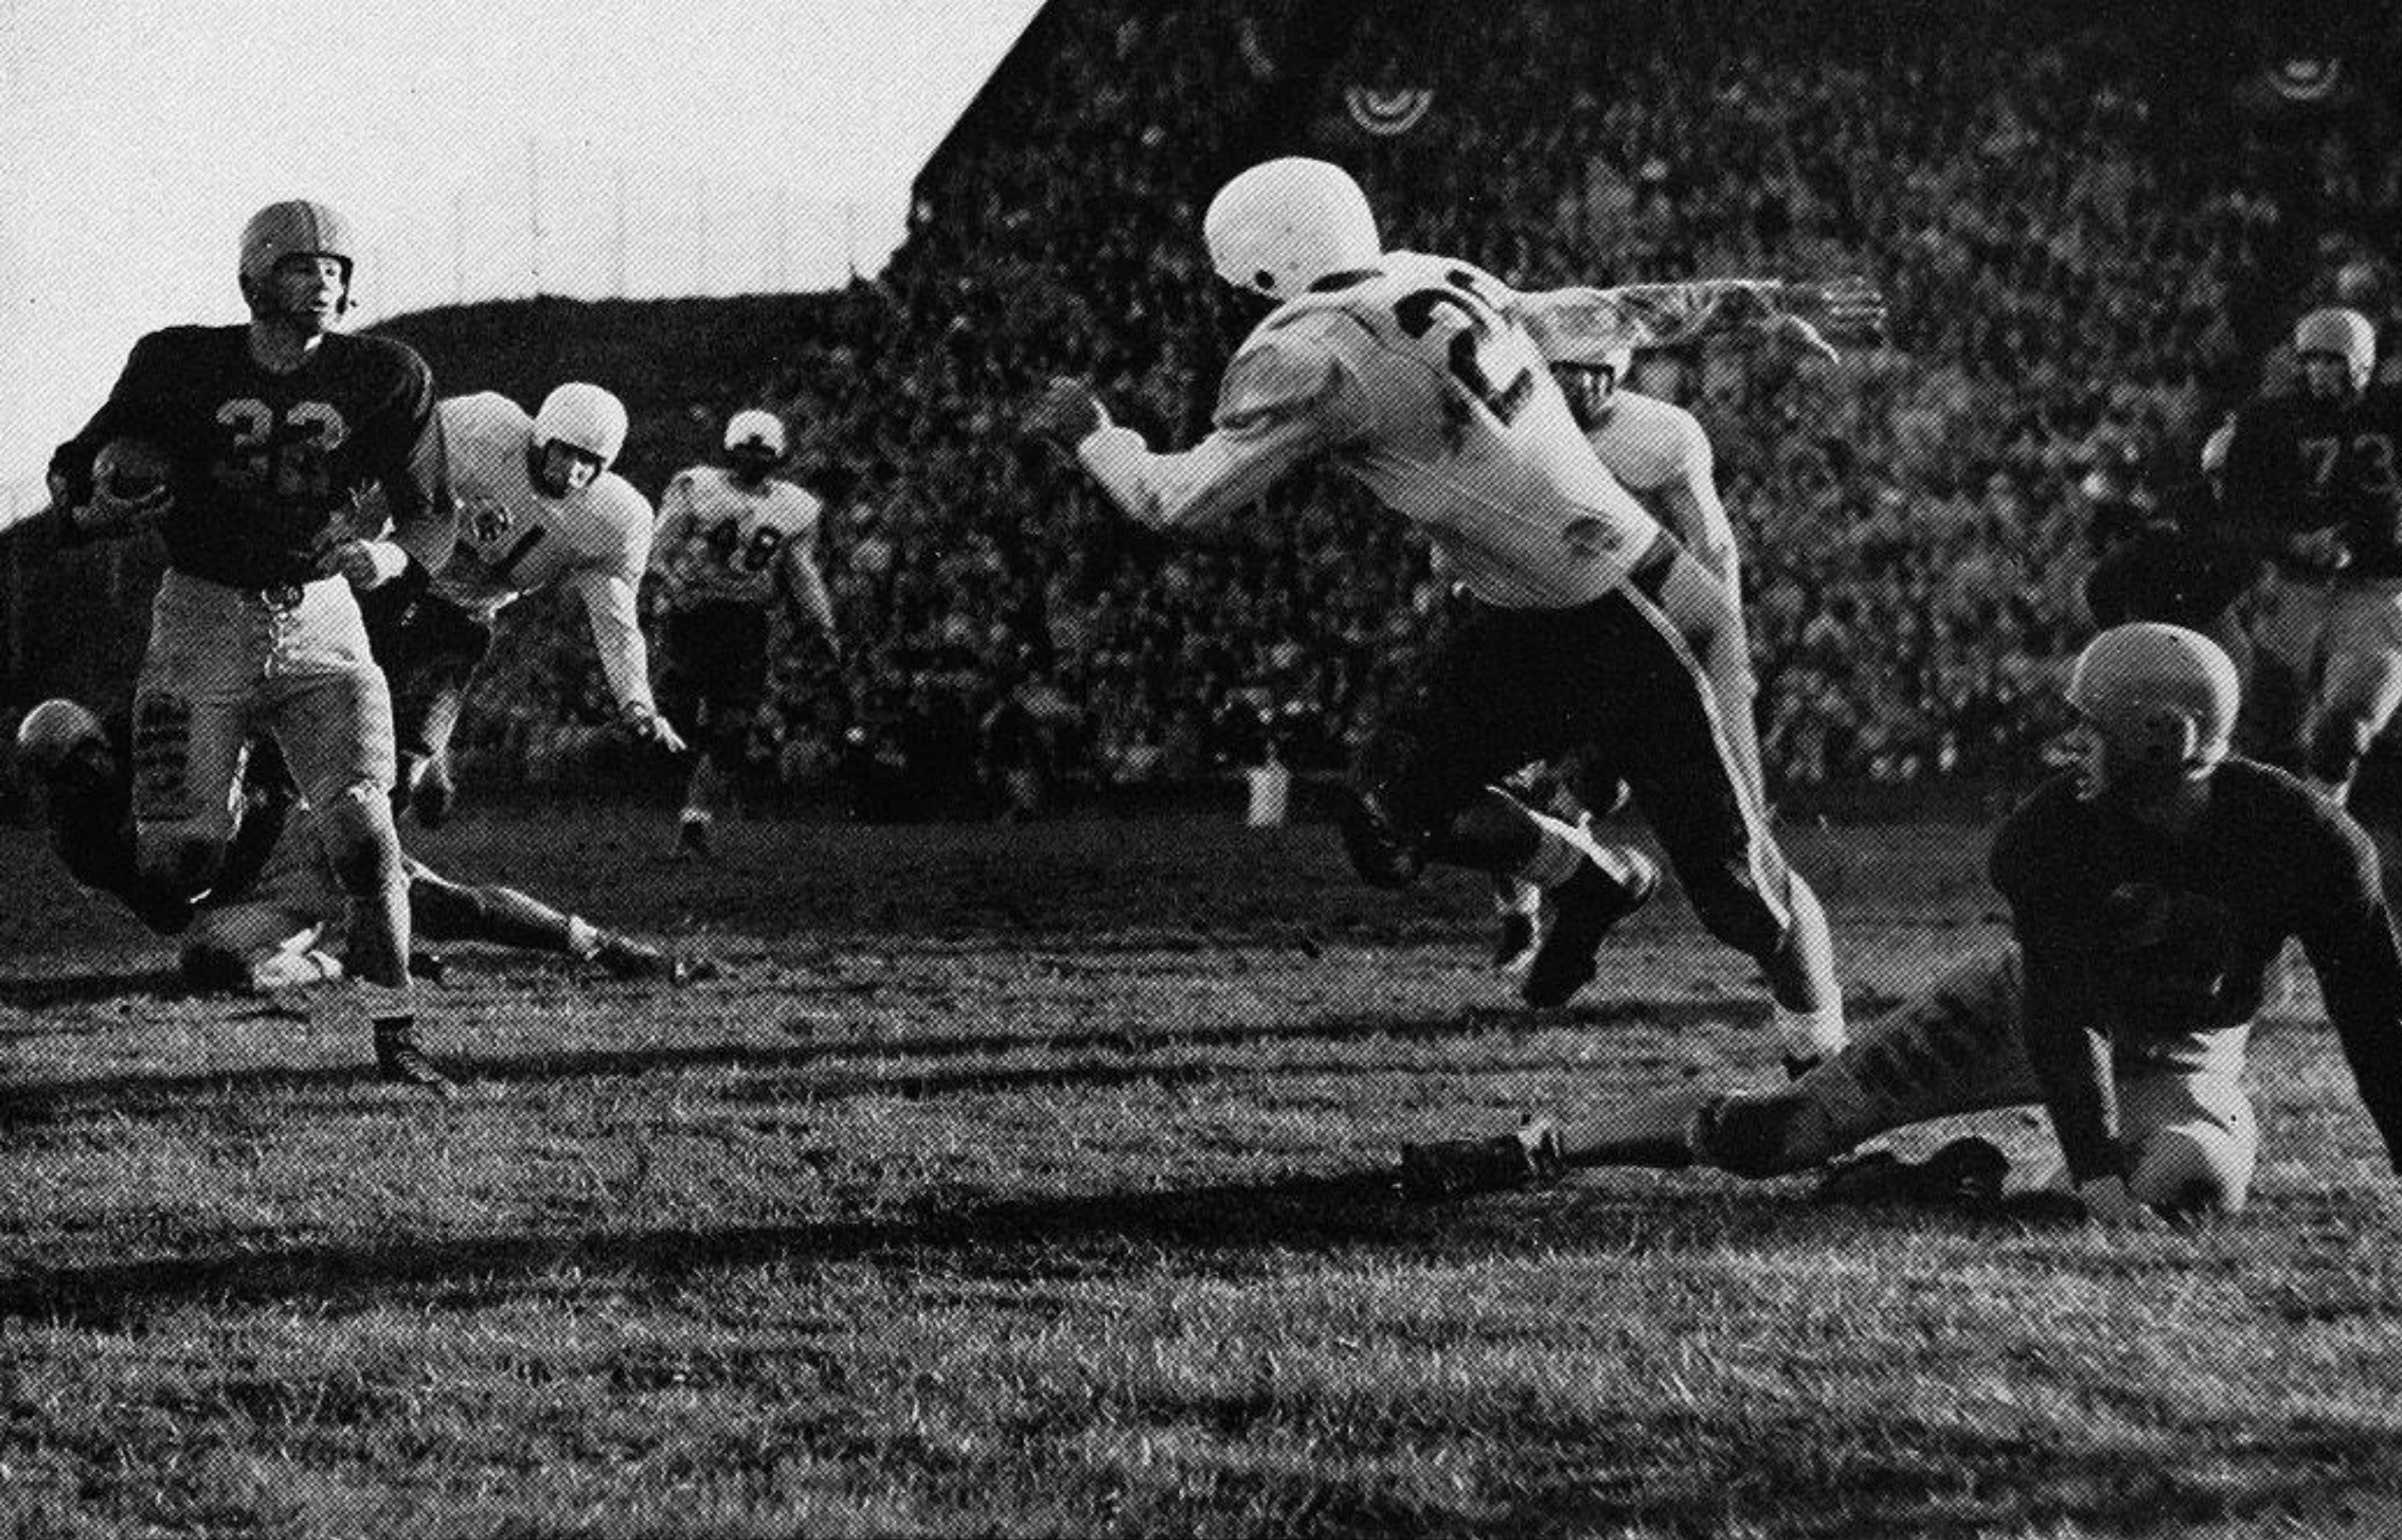

BILL EARLEY starred as a regular offensive halfback and a consistent pass receiving threat.

CHUCK BOERIO (52) and HERB NEATHERY (45) stop a UW pass play (left). TED HOLZKNECHT (66) moves in on JOHNNY KARRAS (right).

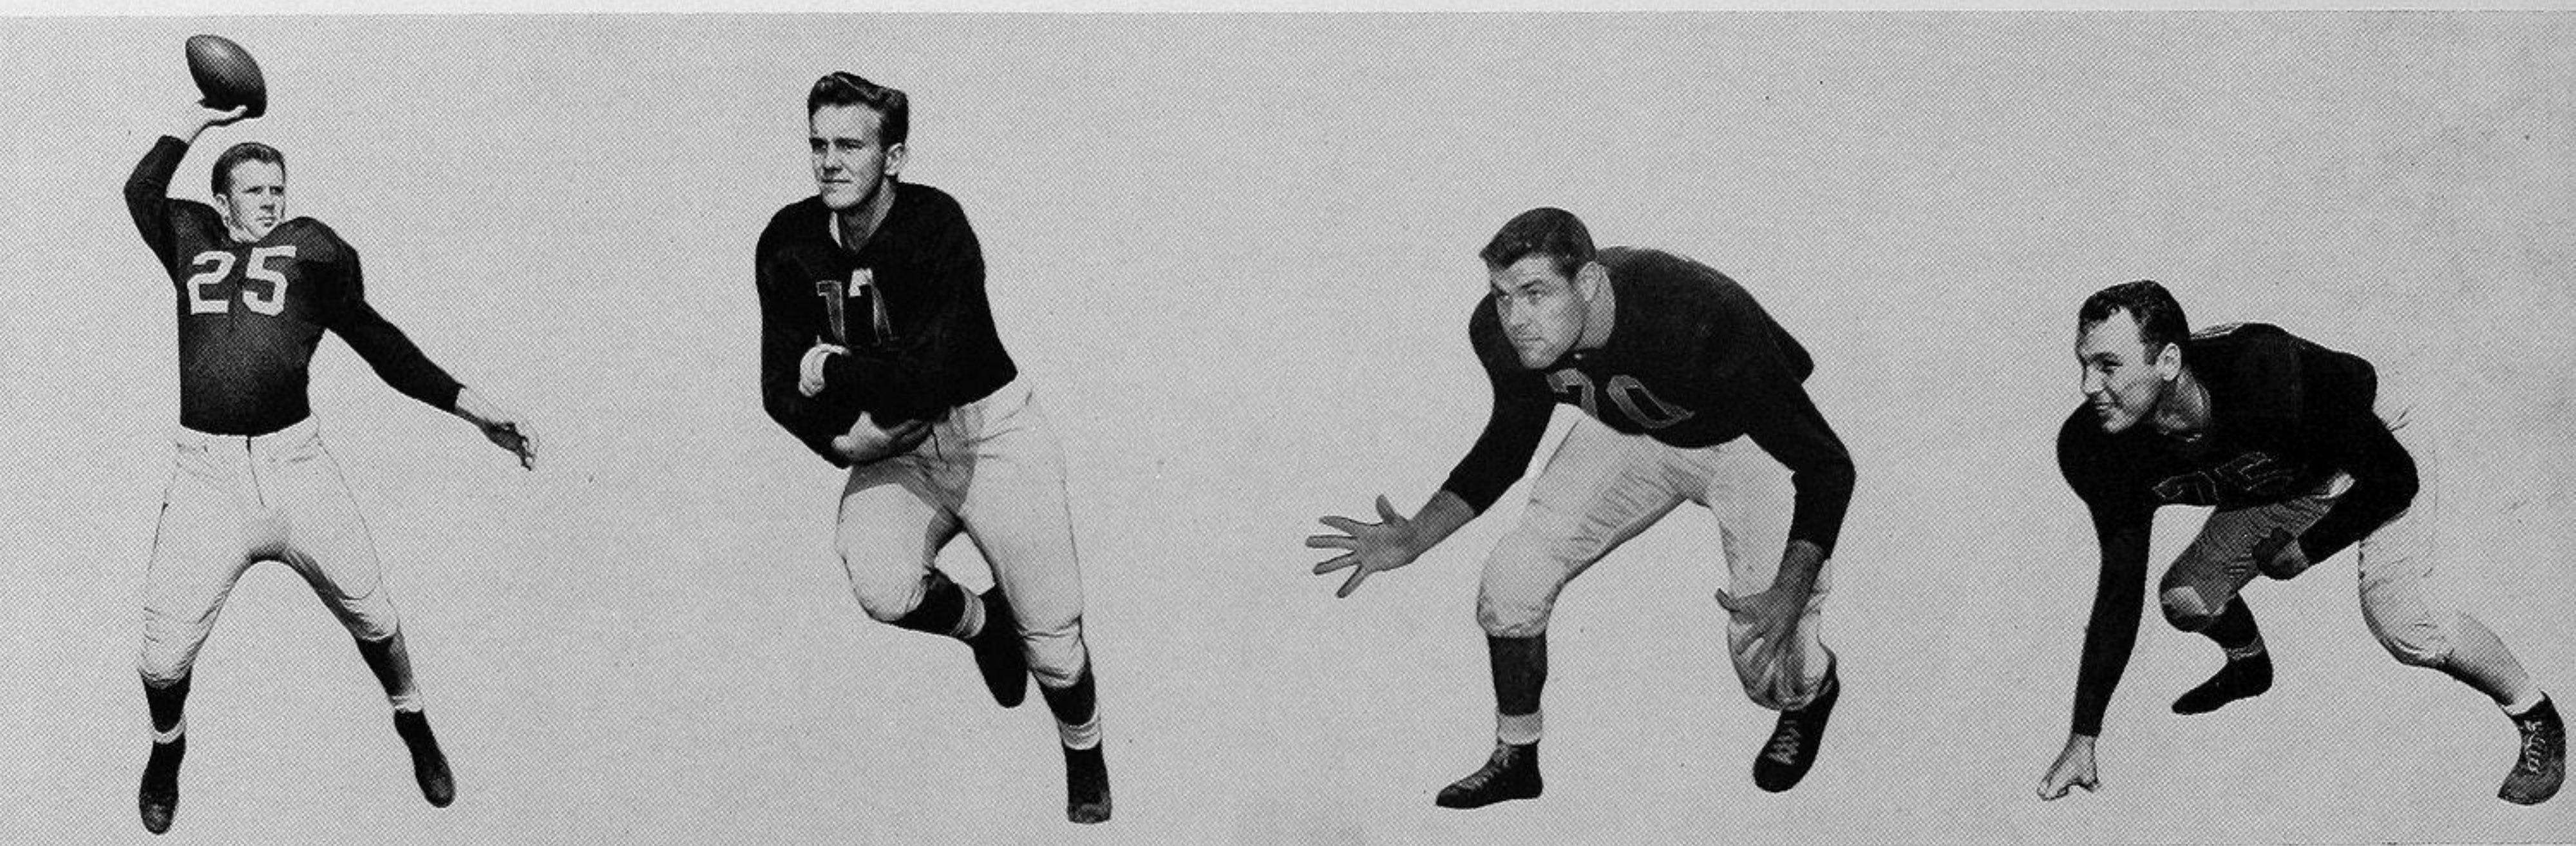

HUGH McELHENNY breaks loose against Stanford with DEAN ROCKEY (23) looking on.

HUSKIES . . . 13 STANFORD . . 20

The grads who came back in hopes of seeing a Washington victory left the stadium disappointed as Rose Bowl bound Stanford won another close victory. The passing of a vastly improved Gary Kerkorian and the all-round play of All-American Bill McColl proved too much for the Huskies. McElhenny had the fans on their feet with a 69-yard touchdown gallop. But the men from Palo Alto came back in the closing minutes of the game to remain in the lead of one of the most surprising Coast Conference races in recent years.

SAM MITCHELL won his second varsity letter as the leading passer and regular quarterback.

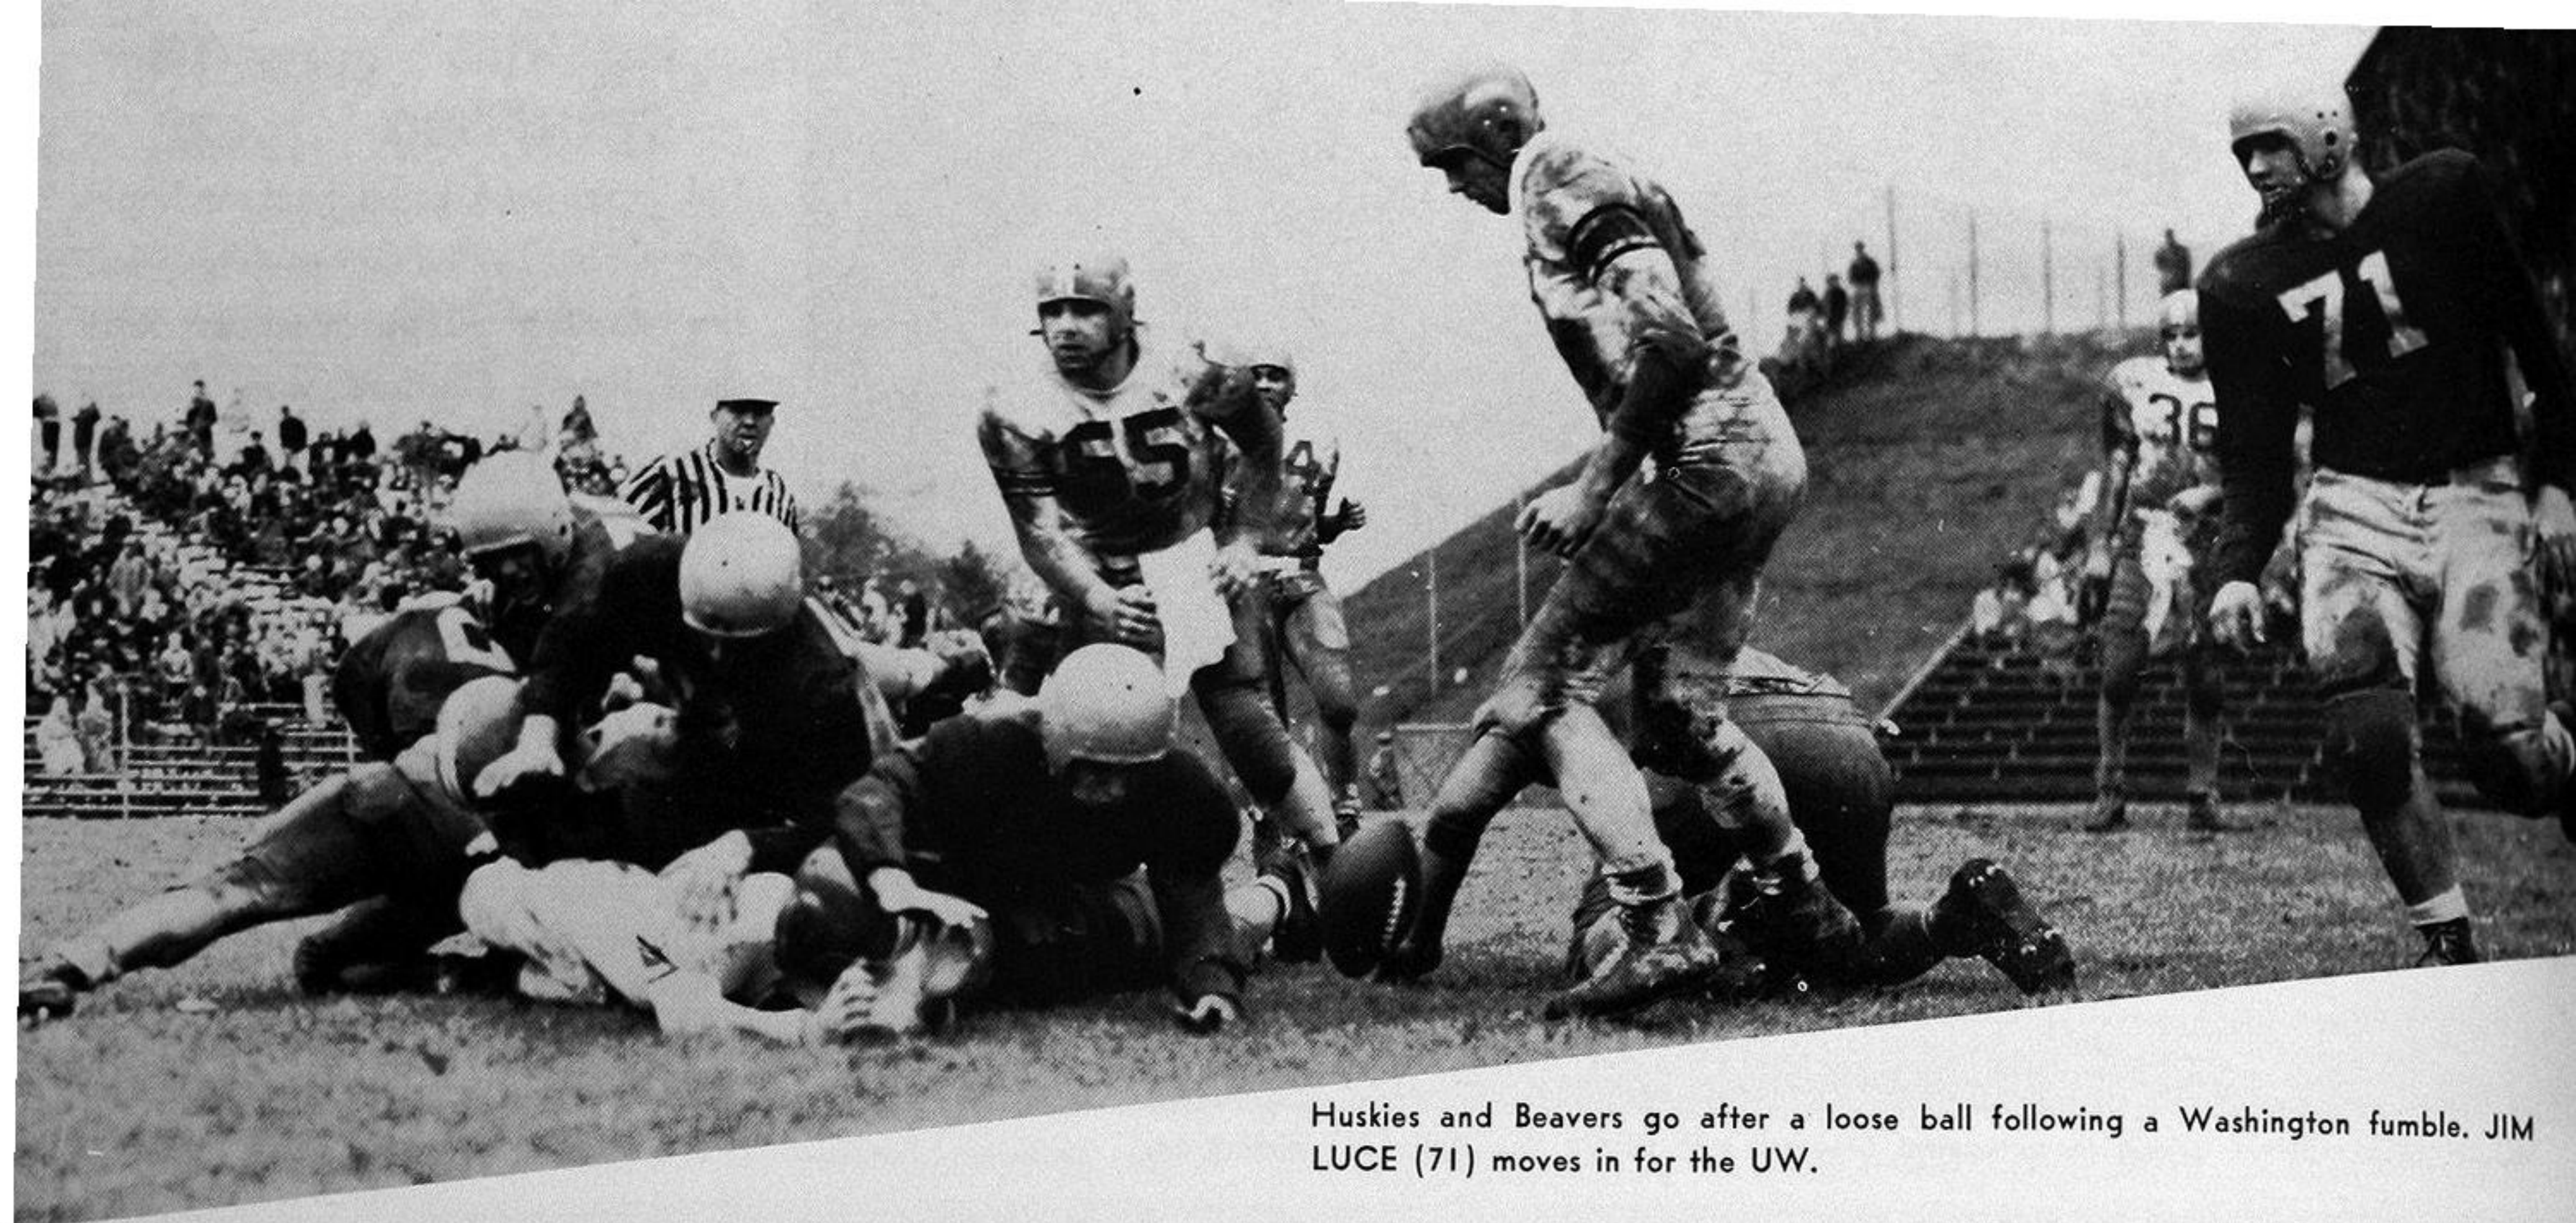

ERNIA FURNIA saw action in the Husky backfield to win his varsity award.

JIM MANGAN was a top defensive tackle in his second year of varsity competition.

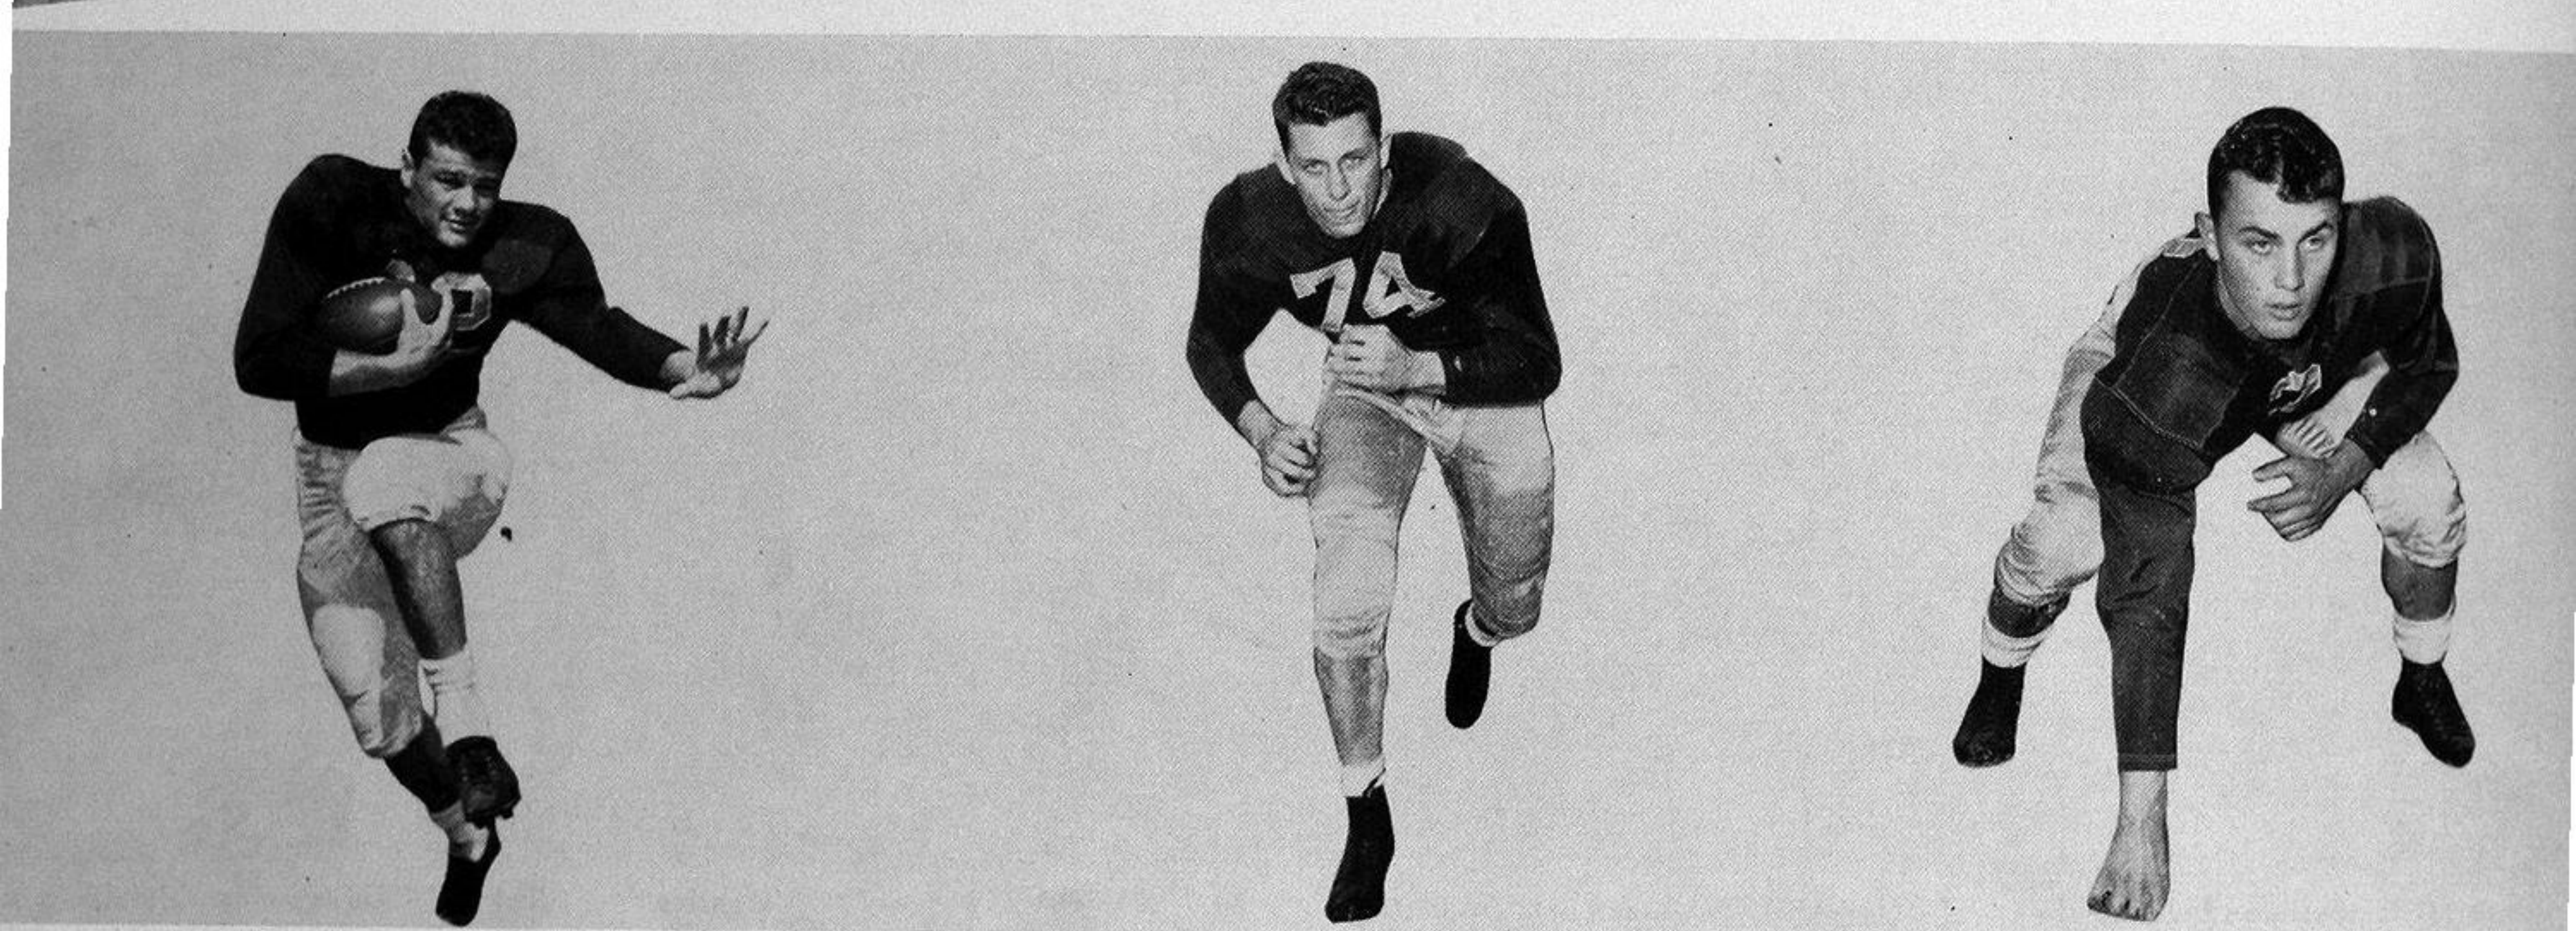

JIM O'BRIEN won considerable post season acclaim for his play as a defensive tackle.

Stanford's BILL MCCOLL gets ready to take a pass with Huskies BILL ALBRECHT (40), DICK SPRAGUE (39), and DAROLD TALLEY (7) in on the play.

Huskies and Beavers go after a loose ball following a Washington fumble. JIM LUCE (71) moves in for the UW.

HUGH McELHENNY was the individual stand-out of the UW team, making the AP All-American team.

DEAN CHAMBERS played standout football as a sophomore and looms as a top tackle prospect.

JIM WARSINSKI won his varsity letter as a sophomore and also figures in future UW plans.

DICK SPRAGUE (39) skirts past two OSC tacklers, one bright spot of a gloomy afternoon.

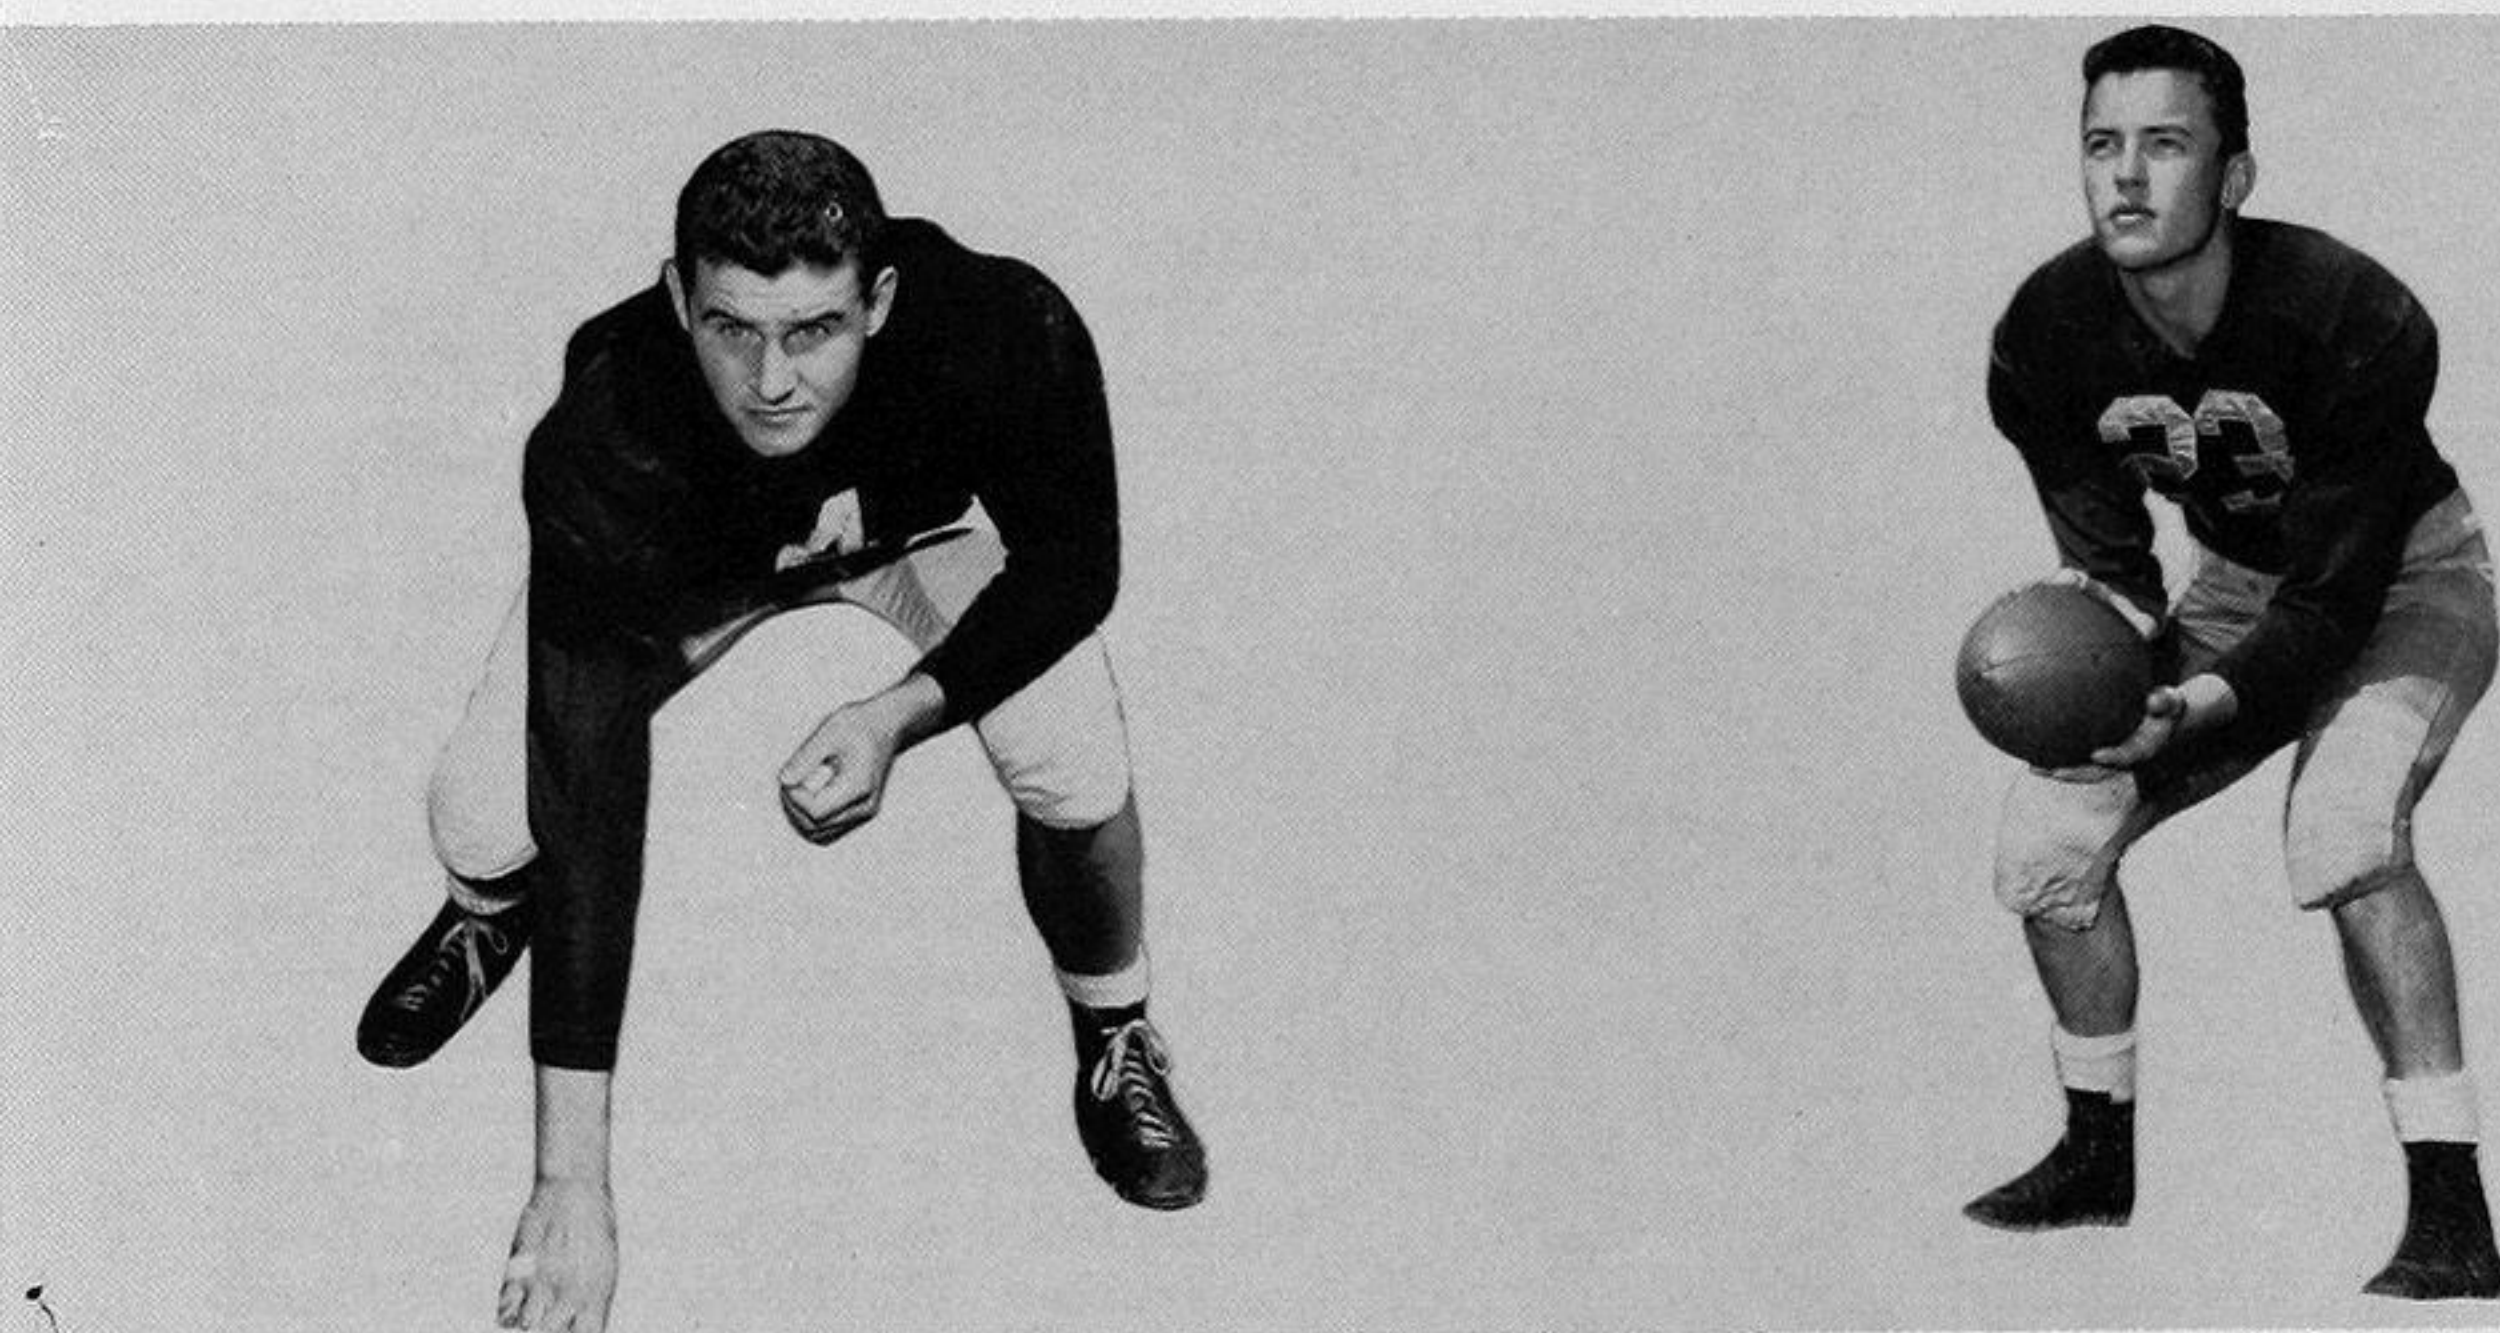

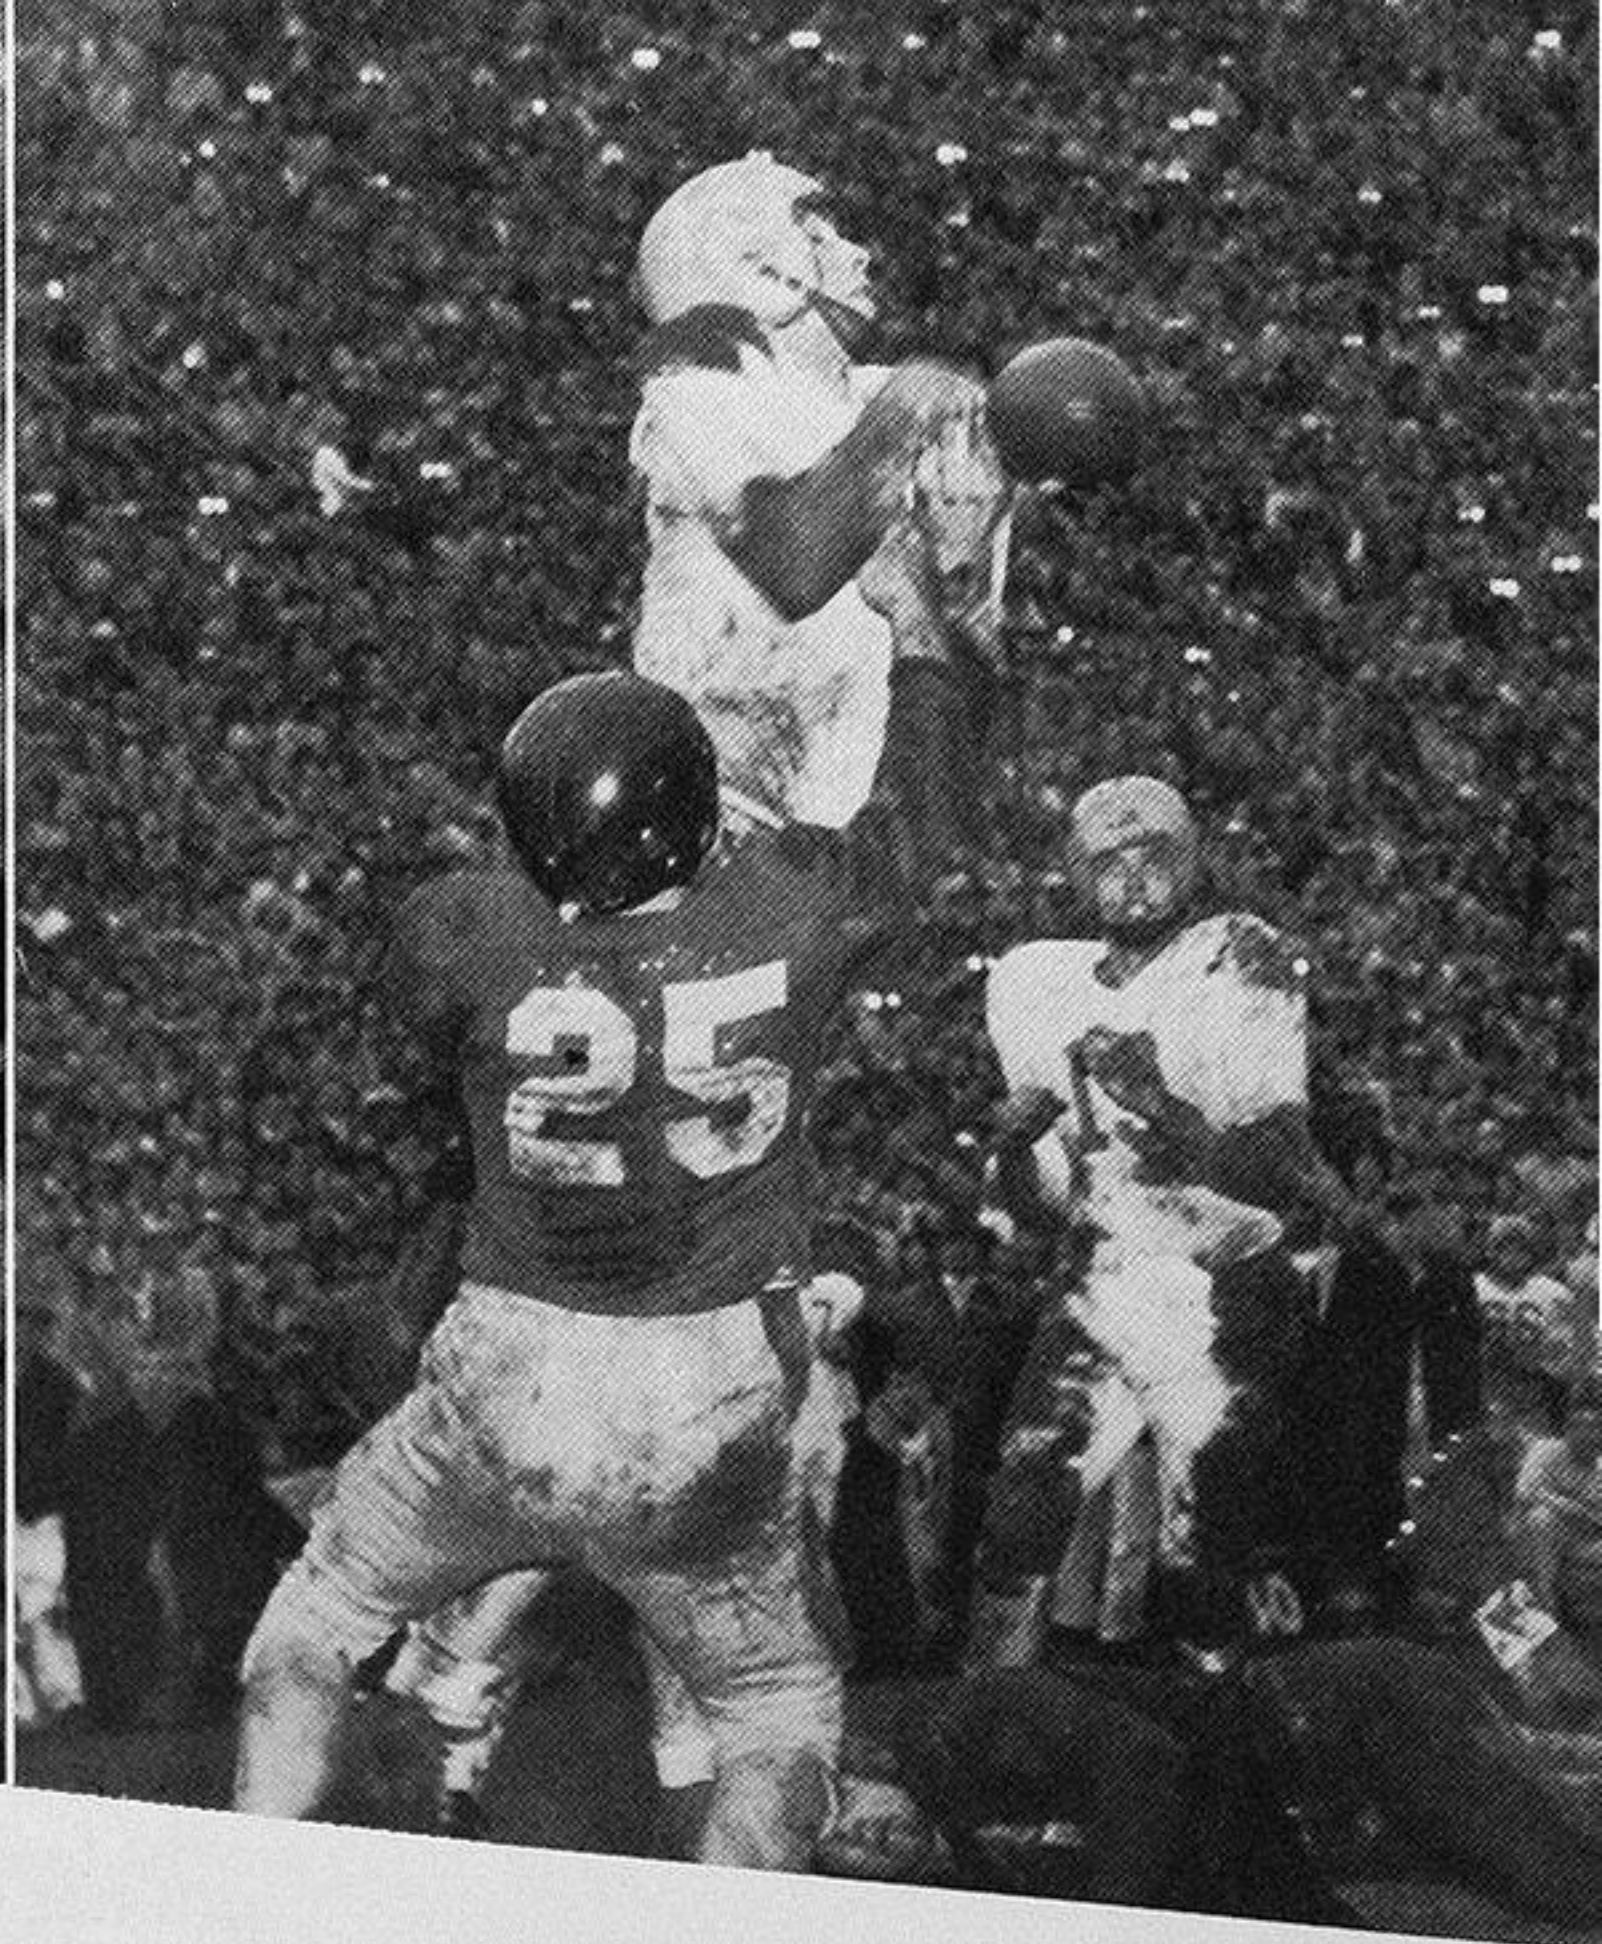

HUSKIES . . . 14
BEAVERS . . . 40

Suffering their worst defeat in recent years, the Huskies were humiliated by a surprising Oregon State team. While Sam Baker and his OSC team couldn't do anything wrong, the Purple and Gold could do little right. The Huskies drove inside of the OSC ten-yard line twice but couldn't score. Hugh McElhenny's touchdown streak was stopped at eight games. With both Sam Mitchell and Dean Rockey on the injured list, Arne Bergh did most of the UW signal calling. Bill Albrecht made a nice catch of a McElhenny pass for one Husky score.

HUGH McELHENNY (32 carries for seven yards against the Bears (left).
DOUG McCLARY leaps high through the rain and mud to catch a Mitchell pass.

TRACY KING moved into a starting left end berth and took over kickoff chores for the UW.

DEAN ROCKEY saw considerable action as a passer and signal caller as a sophomore.

DUANE WARDLOW, another sophomore, showed standout promise in his play at tackle.

DICK SPRAGUE (39) returns Cal's second half opening kickoff. HUGH McELHENNY leads the way.

HUSKIES . . . 28
BEARS 37

Displaying a great comeback after the OSC game, the Huskies out-downed the Bears 17 to 11 and out-gained them statistically 406 yards to 381. It was McElhenny once again for the Huskies, this time to the tune of 22 points scored and a 65-yard touchdown run. Dick Sprague got into the picture with a 56-yard kickoff run-back. Besides playing as a stalwart on both offense and defense, Cal star Les Richter booted a crucial second half field goal. As usual, Jim O'Brien played a bangup defensive game at tackle for Washington.

HUSKIES . . 20
BRUINS . . . 20

Hugh McElhenny showed Southern California sports fans why he should be All-American by scoring all of the Husky points on three touchdowns and a pair of conversions. In the Los Angeles Coliseum, McElhenny rambled for 48 yards and one touchdown and picked a pass Bill Earley bobbled out of the air and dashed 25 yards more for another score. In his day's work, Hugh Mac broke the all-time UW scoring record of 14 touchdowns with a total of 16. The statistics were practically even as total yardage figures showed UCLA with 352 and Washington with 345. The Uclans had 16 first downs to the Huskies' 15.

WSC backfield ace BUD ROFFLER scores against the Huskies in a line plunge. CLYDE SEILER (78) and JIM NOE (52) of Washington and HAL LOKOVSEK (80) DON STEINBRUNNER (84) and BY BAILEY (5) are in on the play.

COUGARS . . 27

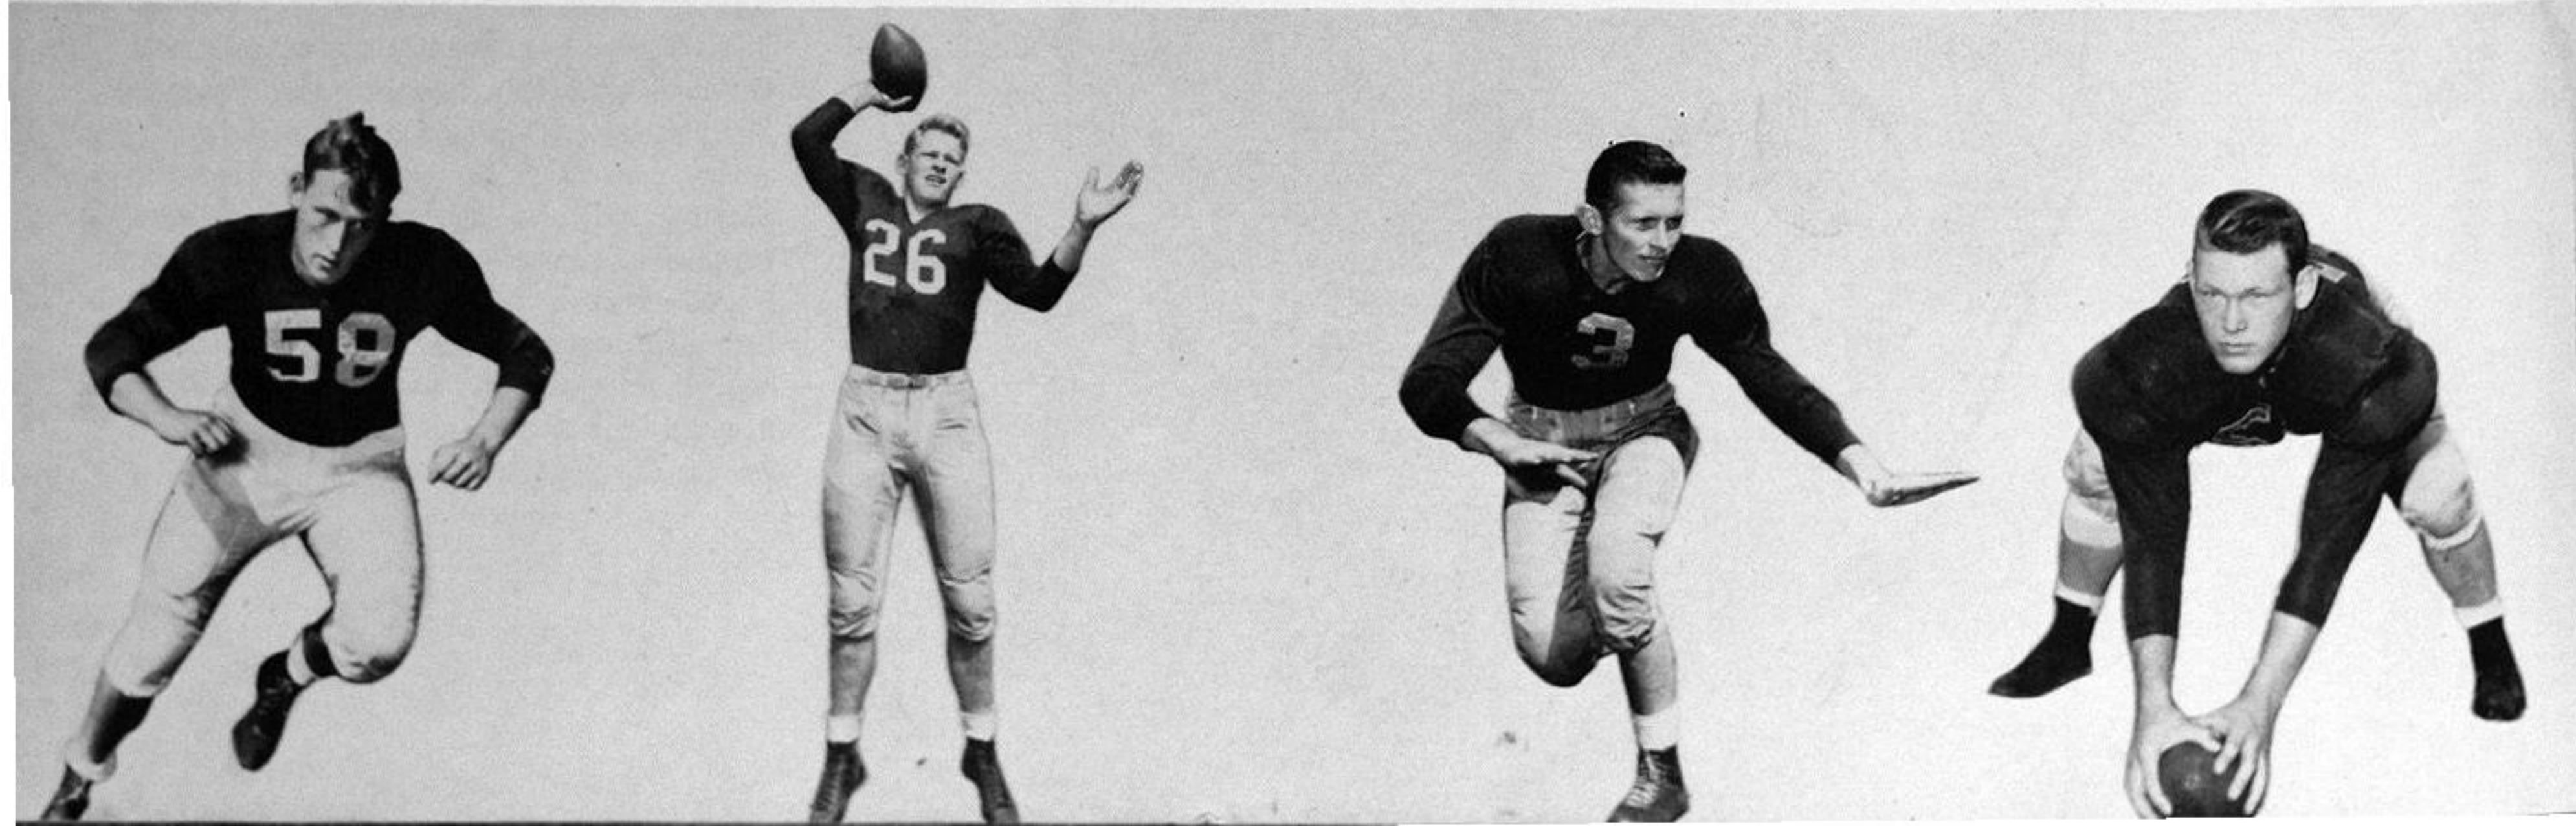

In the traditional battle for the mythical championship of the state of Washington, the Cougars got revenge for the drubbing handed them a year previous. The Huskies were outgained in all departments of play and actually lost the game on three unsuccessful conversion attempts, two of the kicks being blocked and a pass play failing. Washington rooters were on their feet for a 50-yard gallop by halfback Bill Earley and a 51-yard jaunt by McElhenny. Backfield star Bud Roffler played one of the best games of his career for WSC and ends Don Steinbrunner and Ed Barker lived up to advance notices.

LARRY SMITH saw considerable duty in the Husky line and seeks his second "W" in the 1952 season.

ARNE BERGH, reserve quarterback, played most of the OSC game to win his varsity award.

NEIL BOYD played stellar ball as a defensive end in his final season in the UW uniform.

JIM NOE received a varsity letter in his sophomore year and returns for more action in 1952.

Here is the before and after of the first Washington defeat of the season when the Huskies dropped a hard fought heartbreaker at the hands of USC. The Purple and Gold followers weren't so happy either.

CREW

The smooth stroking crews of Coach Al Ulbrickson from out of the west again proved their superiority in the spring of 1951. Winning a sweep from the Golden Bears of California in Seattle, the Huskies were able to pull out two seconds and a first in the Inter-Collegiate Rowing Regatta at Marietta, Ohio. On May 12, the tall men from Washington met the California crew on wind-blown Lake Washington and came away with three impressive victories. The varsity, stroked by Roger Baird and coxed by Tren Griffin, were able to get open water on their southern neighbors in less than three minutes, and were never headed again. The Huskies won the two and three-fourths mile race by two lengths in the time of 15:38.8. The jayvees, after trailing the Bears most of the way, pulled out in front with a quarter mile left to go and finished a length and three-fourths out in front going away. Rowing on smoother water, the JV's, stroked by Doug Putnam and coxed by Art Griffin, were able to best the varsity time by winning in 15:29.0.

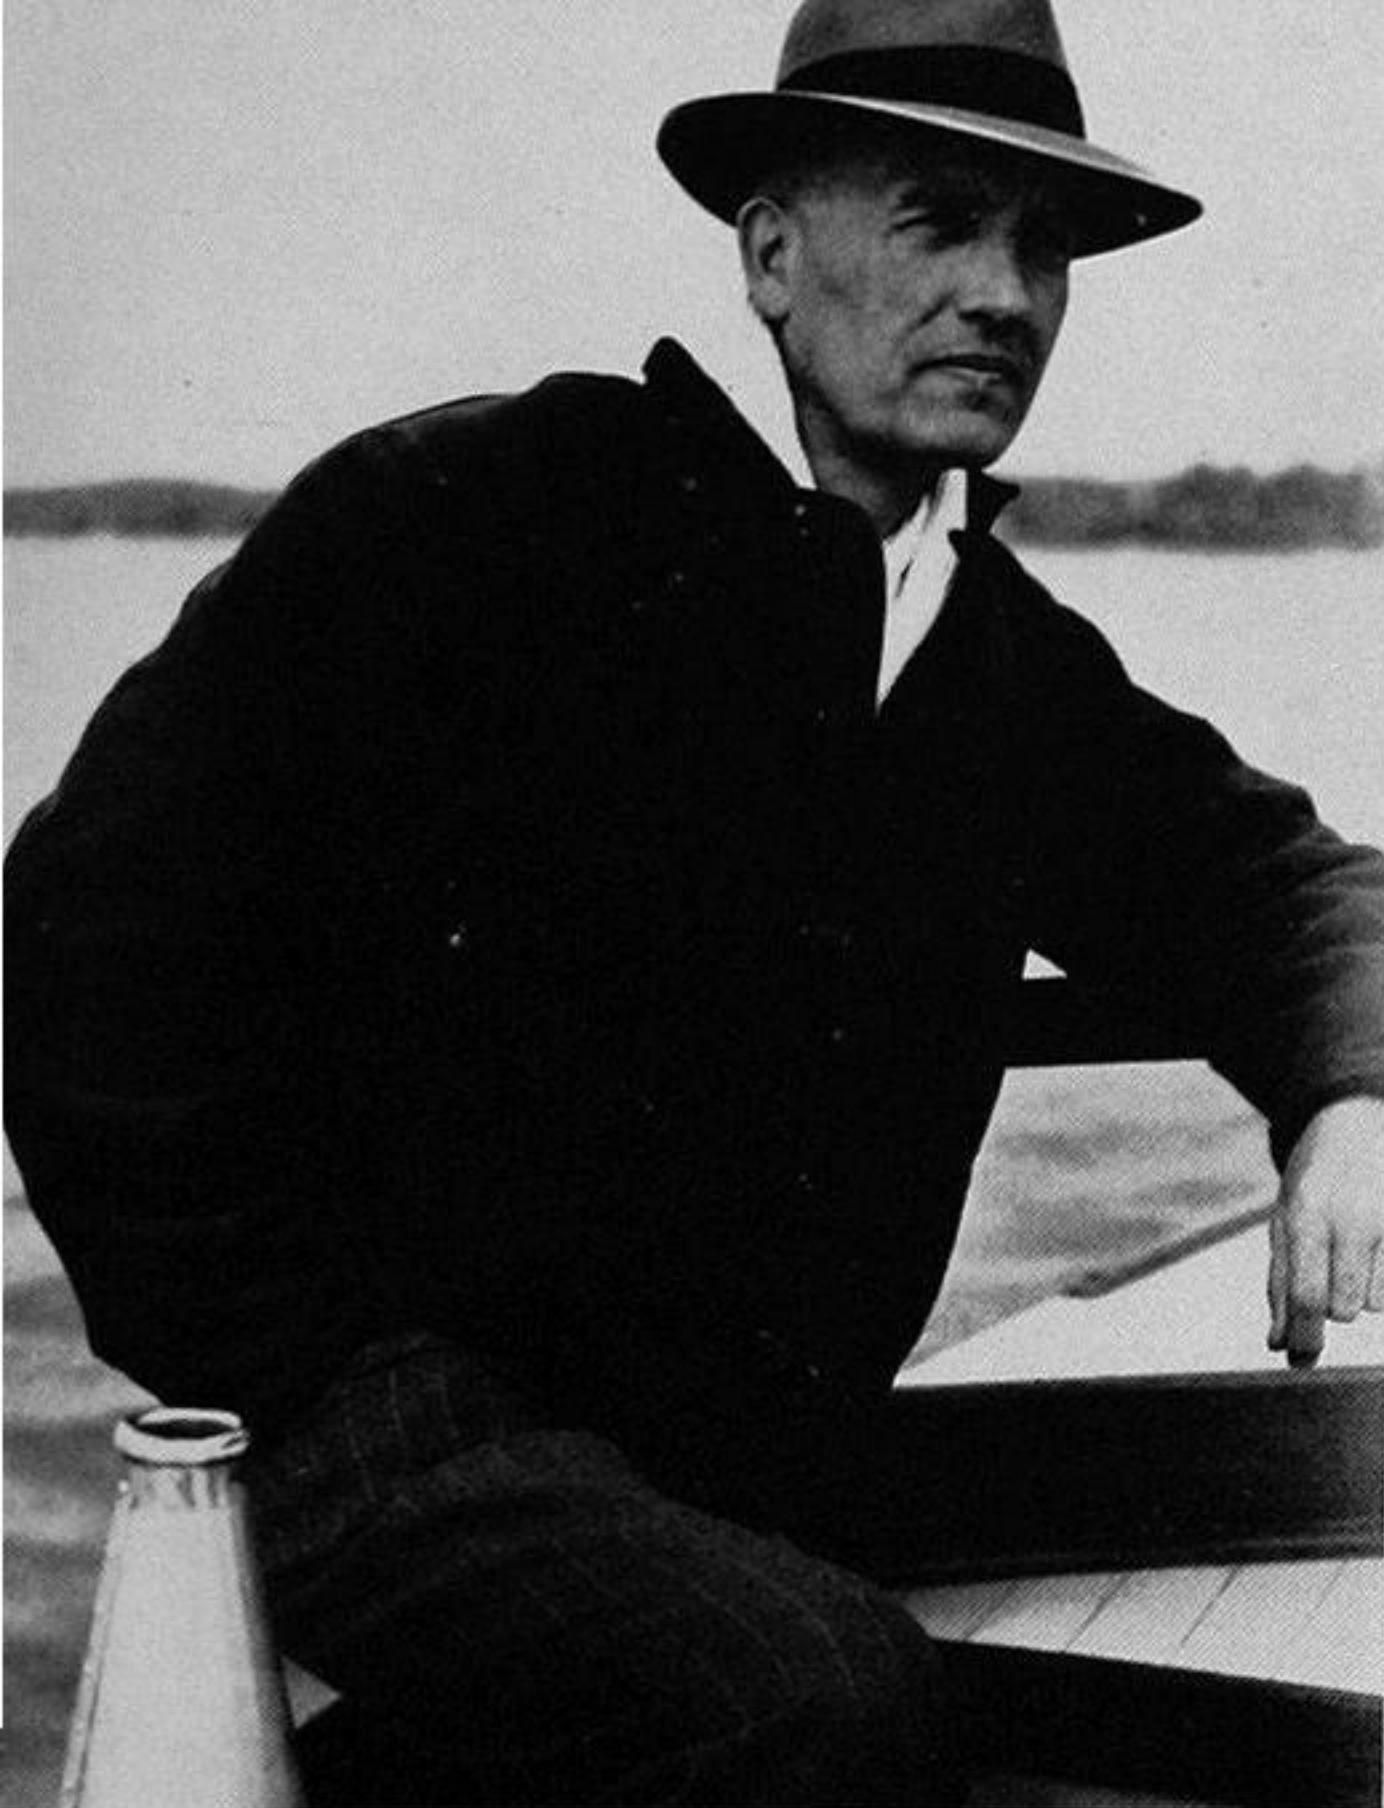

Back on the turbulent Ohio River, flood conditions for the second straight year forced the varsity and junior varsity races to be shortened to two miles. In the varsity race, the shortened course and an inspired Wisconsin crew proved too much for the Huskies. Rowing with the same boat that took Cal's measure back home, the Huskies opened up a slight lead only to fall behind the Badgers at the mile mark. Despite a valiant effort at the finish by Washington, the Badgers were able to finish out in front by two lengths. In the jayvee race, after close jockeying for the lead between Cornell, Washington, and California, the Huskies went out in front at the mile and a half mark only to lose to the Bears in the last 200 yards by the very narrow margin of fifteen feet.

VARSITY CREW

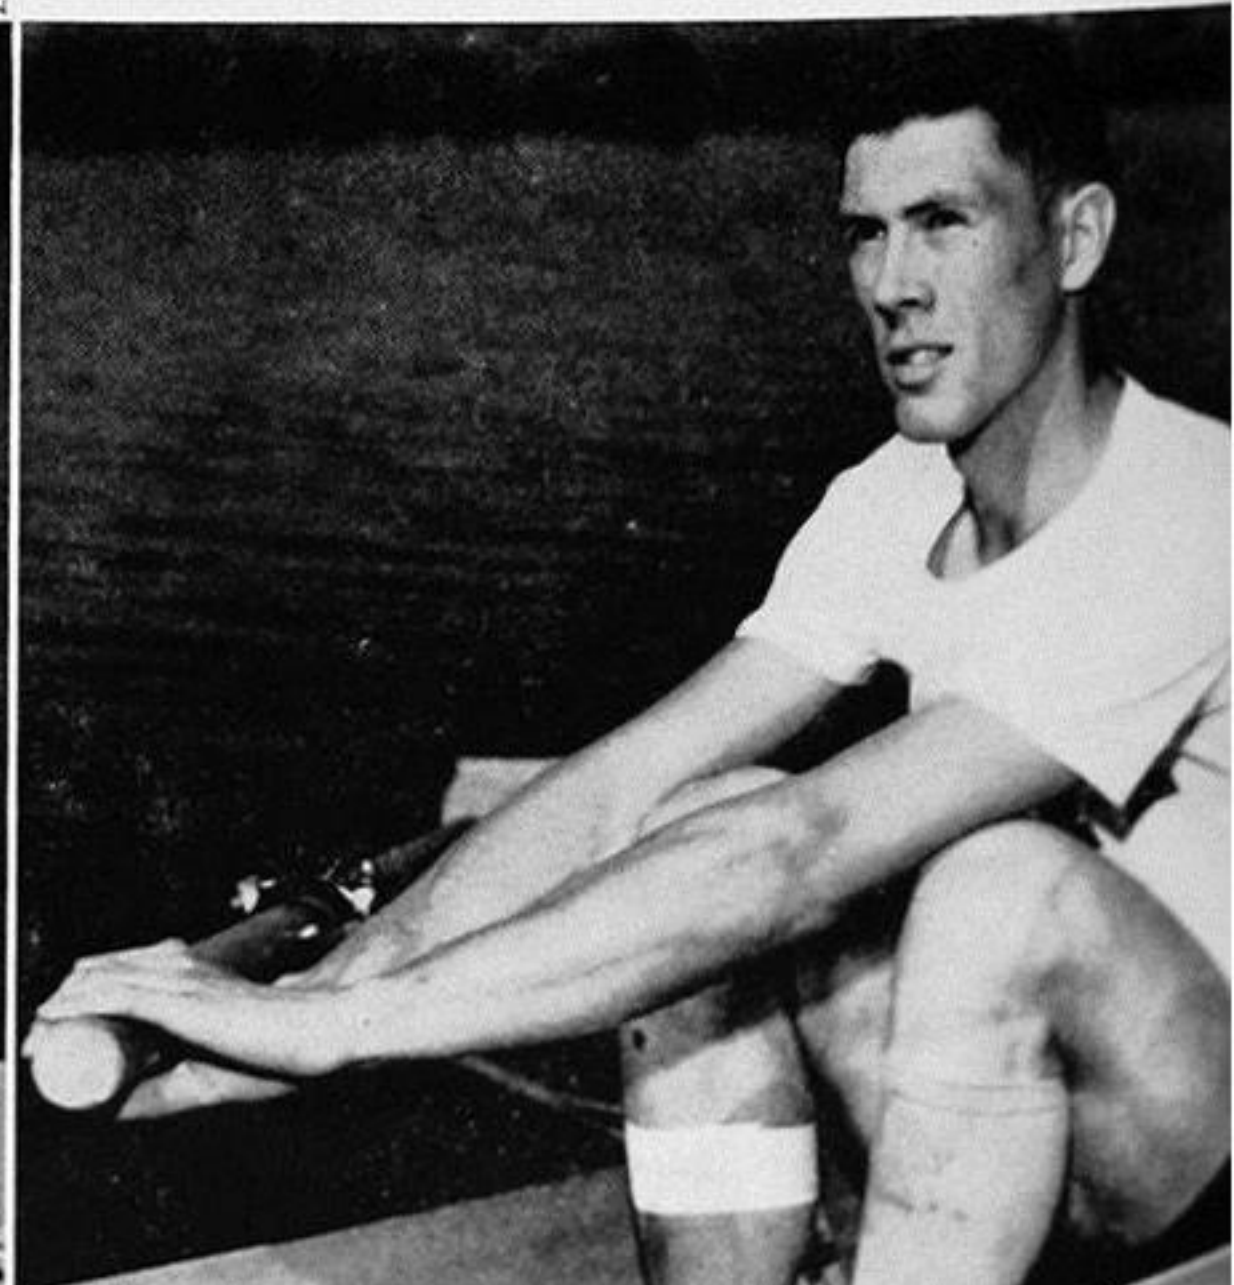

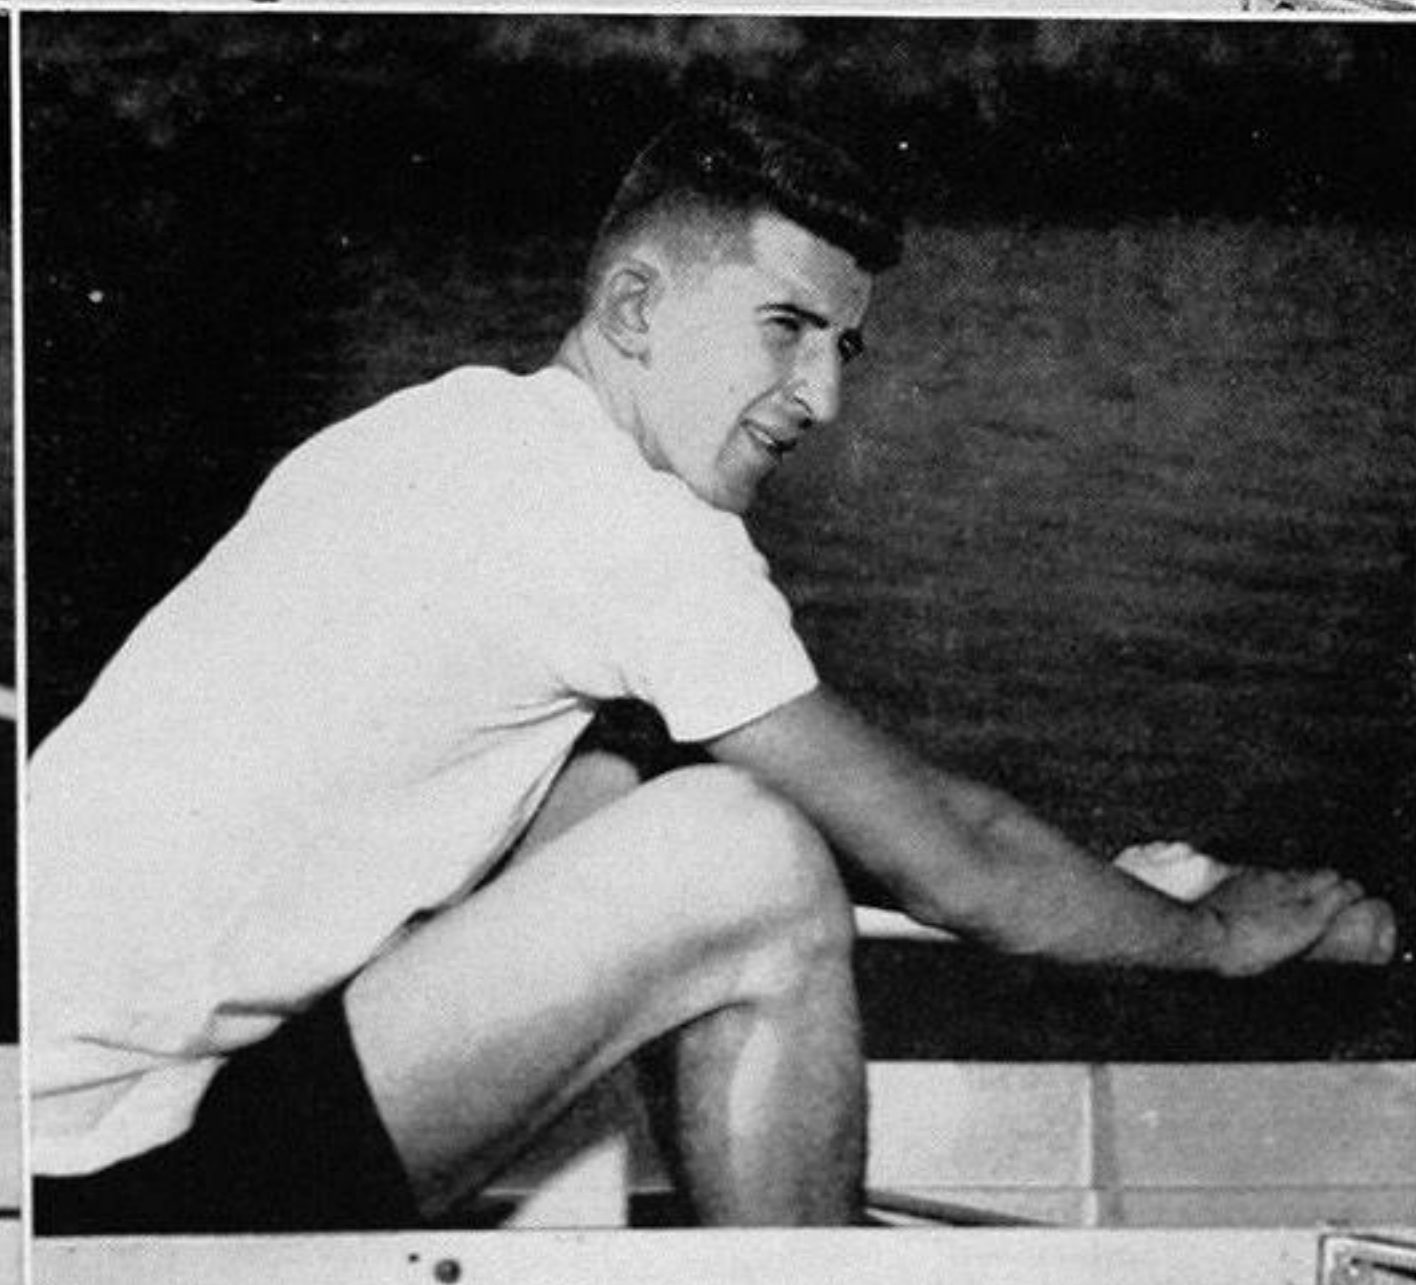

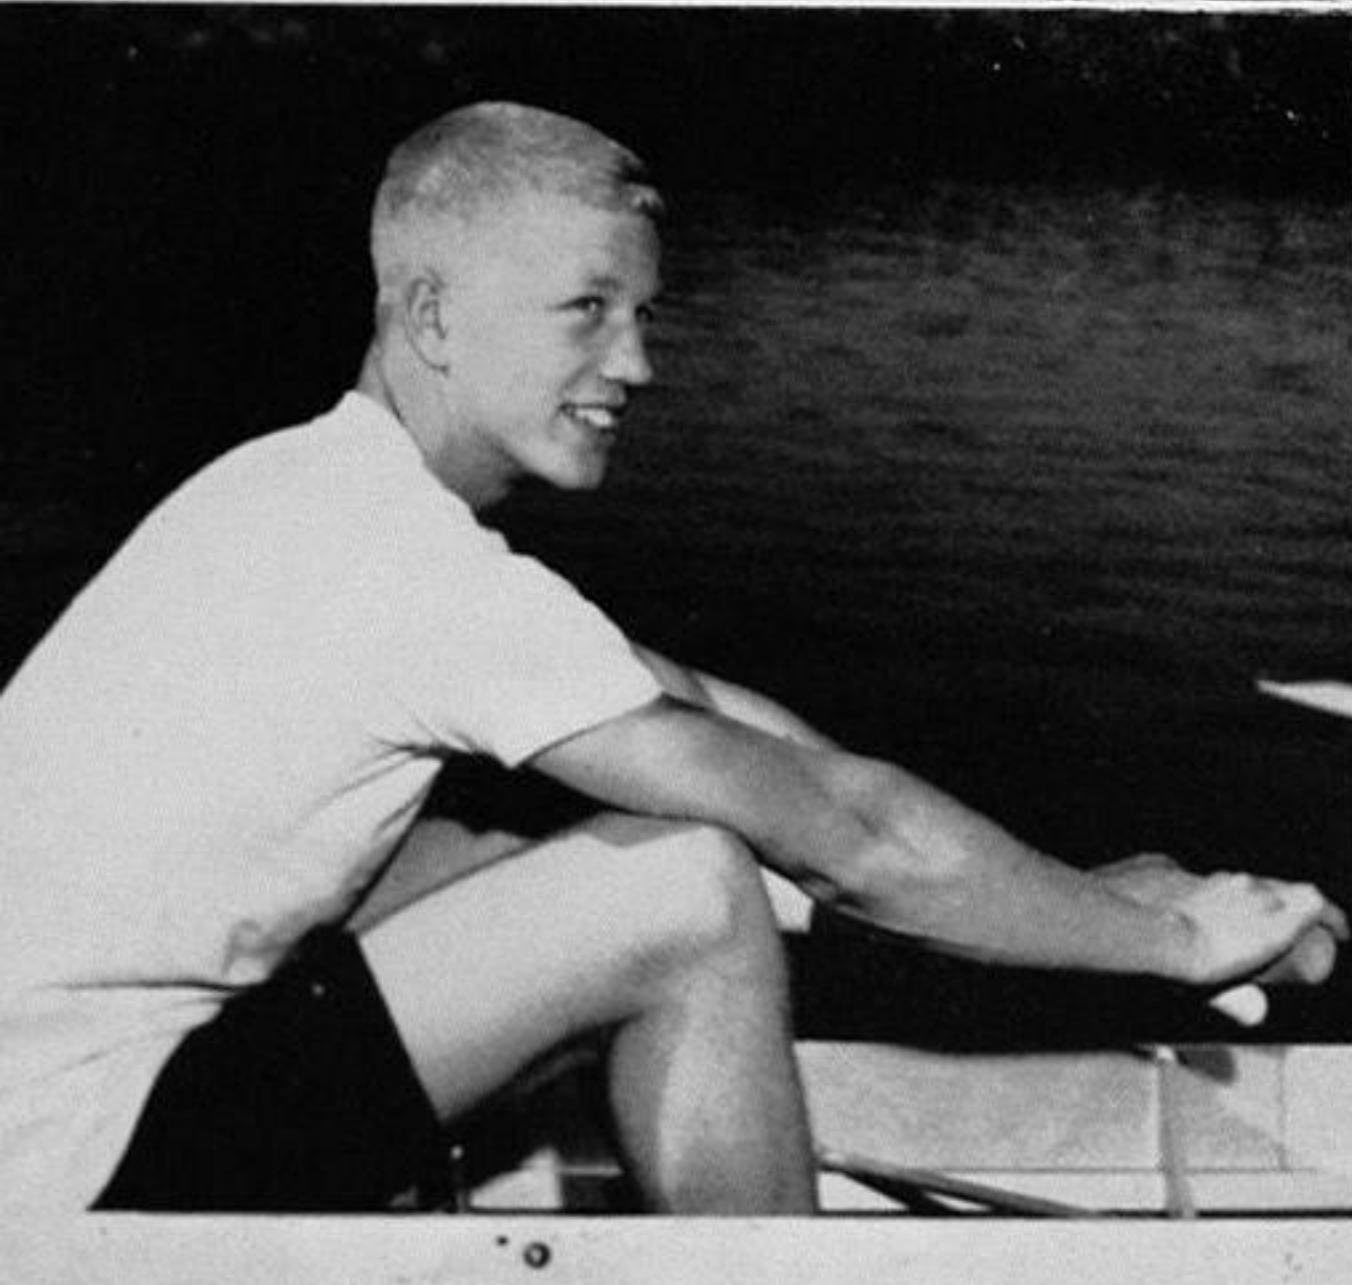

With the last of the four-year lettermen gone, varsity coach Al Ulbrickson was still able to put together an experienced group of men for the 1951 season. There were but two seniors in the boat—stroke Roger Baird, and number two man and Captain Ken Walters. Two sophomores—Bill Cameron and Jim Callaghan—were able to boost themselves straight from the 1950 victorious frosh to the varsity. The rest of the boat—Joe McIntyre, Al Ulbrickson Jr., Carl Lovstad, and Jack Fletcher—were all juniors. Coxswain Tren Griffin, like his brother Art at the jayvee tiller, is going into graduate medical school and so saw his last year as helmsman.

The JV crew saw several shifts of the seatings made during the 1951 season, with four boys being moved in between the California and Marietta regattas. The victorious JV boat that rowed to victory over the Bears on Lake Washington had but one senior in it—stroke Doug Putnam. There were two sophomores—Dick Wahlstrom and Dave Nielsen—while the rest of the boat—Phil Horrocks, Warren Helgersen, Dick Jordan, George Waiss, and Howie Kellogg—were juniors. The boating for the Marietta race saw three sophomores—Matt Leanderson, Erv Johnson, and Eric Fonkalsrud—and junior Gene Anderson replacing Putnam, Helgersen, Kellogg and Nielsen respectively. With fourteen out of the first 22 men back and two boats up from the championship frosh, the outlook for the 1952 season seems fairly bright.

FROSH CREW

Coach Stan Pocock's Husky yearlings, during the 1951 season, extended their amazing win streak to thirteen consecutive victories over a ten-year period. The frosh took the measure of both the California and Stanford frosh during the season, and won the coveted Marietta race. After trailing the Stanford frosh for half the distance on Lake Washington, the Husky Pups forged ahead at the mile mark. Stroked by Roland Camfield and with Bob Witter at the helm, the Pups were never threatened after that and won going away at two and one-half lengths. Guy Harper, stroke, and Gordon Hardy broke into the lineup for the trip back east to Marietta. There, the swamping of the Navy plebes forced the Freshman race to be postponed until the end of the day. Then when they finally started, the Princeton crew swamped, nearly taking Washington with it. MIT ran very strong in the early going, and with a quarter of a mile left, the Huskies were the only other crew in contention. The Pups were forced to take the stroke up to the unusually high beat of 40 strokes a minute before they were able to pull passed MIT. Twenty yards from the finish, Washington went into the lead, and they won by a quarter length still pulling away. Despite a somewhat smaller than usual turnout, Coach Pocock was able to put together a boat that averaged 6' 2½" in height and 184 pounds in weight.

The lightweight crew displays their regret over the ceasing of lightweight activities; they are STU BARKER, RON WALKER, TOM THIES, JERRY ROGERS, JIM RUTTNER, LEE ELMQUIST, BILL GROSS, and BILL HEIKINEN (JACK RUSS, not shown, was also a regular).

It was with regret that the lightweight crewmen watched the 1951 season come to an end, for it saw the last of the Washington lightweight crews take to the water. Rising expenses and limited turnouts forced the athletic department to cease lightweight crew activities. Under Coach Chuck Moriarity, the Husky crews swept to five victories over Oregon State and the Vancouver Rowing Club during the 1951 season. Washington first met the OSC varsity on the Willamette and came through to win by two lengths. The lightweights later repeated with a three and one-half length edge over the OSC Beavers on Lake Washington. A preliminary race the same day found the second boat coming in behind the second Husky frosh boat, with the OSC junior varsity third. Another day of racing on placid Lake Washington found the first lightweight boat stroking to a six-length victory over the Vancouver Rowing Club. Races earlier the same day found the second lightweight shell pulling out to a five-length win over the Vancouver JV; and the Husky four-oared boat defeating their Canadian opponents by four lengths.

For the eleventh straight year, Washington's four-oared shell without cox won the Henley Mile in the Canadian International Regatta at Kelowna, B.C. Shown at right are the oarsmen: stroke, STU BARKER; TOM THIES; ERIC FONKALS-RUD; and bow, CHARLES WYNN. WYNN, rowing with a Canadian boy, also won the doubles championship.

Tabbed as favorites to cop their first Northern Division championship in 19 years, the Husky diamondmen stumbled in the home stretch and finished a disappointing third. The Huskies wound up the conference season with ten wins and six losses behind Oregon State and runnerup Washington State.

Bright stars of the season were Bob Peterson, who pitched four straight ND wins, including a no-run, no-hit masterpiece against Idaho; Jim Morrison, peppery first baseman who won the 1952 captaincy, and the Washington outfield of Tom Absher, Gordy Rodland and Larry Herns, the best in the league.

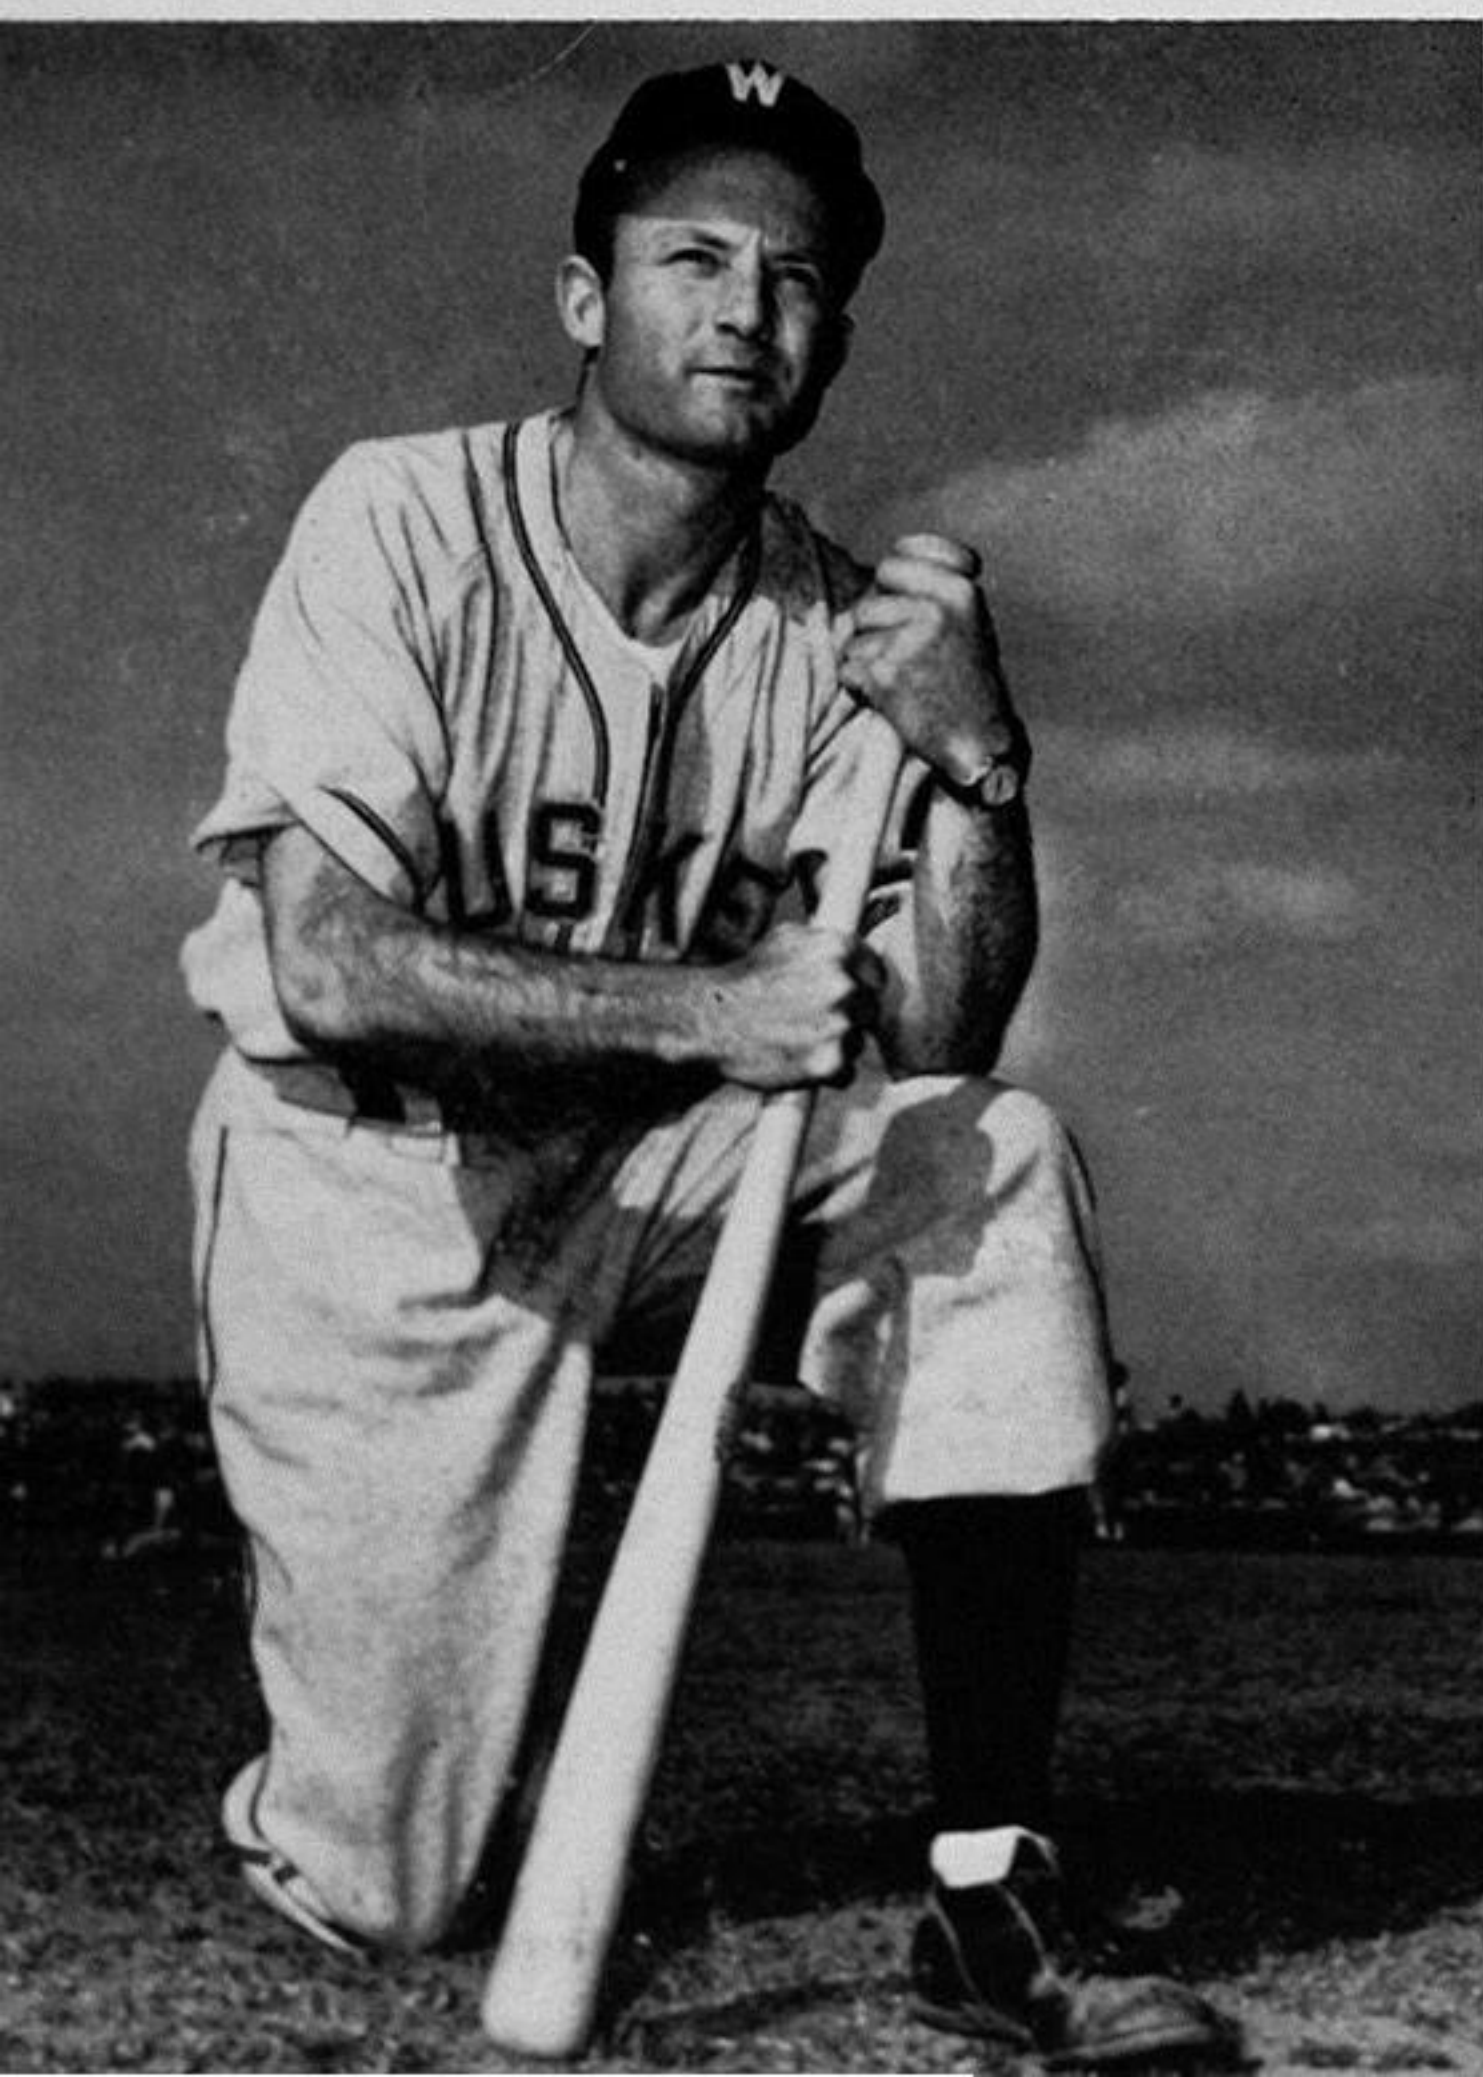

In an attempt to insert more punch into his infield, Coach Warren Tappin shifted regular catcher Sam Mitchell to shortstop and inserted improving Dave Lewis behind the plate. The mid-season move proved successful but the Husky pitching staff didn't hold up under the late season pressure.

Varsity manager was Bill Bailey.

Coach WARREN TAPPIN led the Huskies to third place in the Northern Division standings.

BOB MOEN captained the diamondmen and southpawed three wins during the 1951 season.

Versatile SAM MITCHELL, hard-hitting catcher who was switched to shortstop in mid-season, bangs out a hit in a 1951 conference game.

Husky heavy hitters shown above are GORDY RODLAND, GENE NORTON, BOB HOUBREGS, DON HANSLER and LORNE HURLBUT.

GEORGE WIDENFELT is shown going over the high-jump bar as he captured second place in the NCAA meet, held in the UW Stadium last spring.

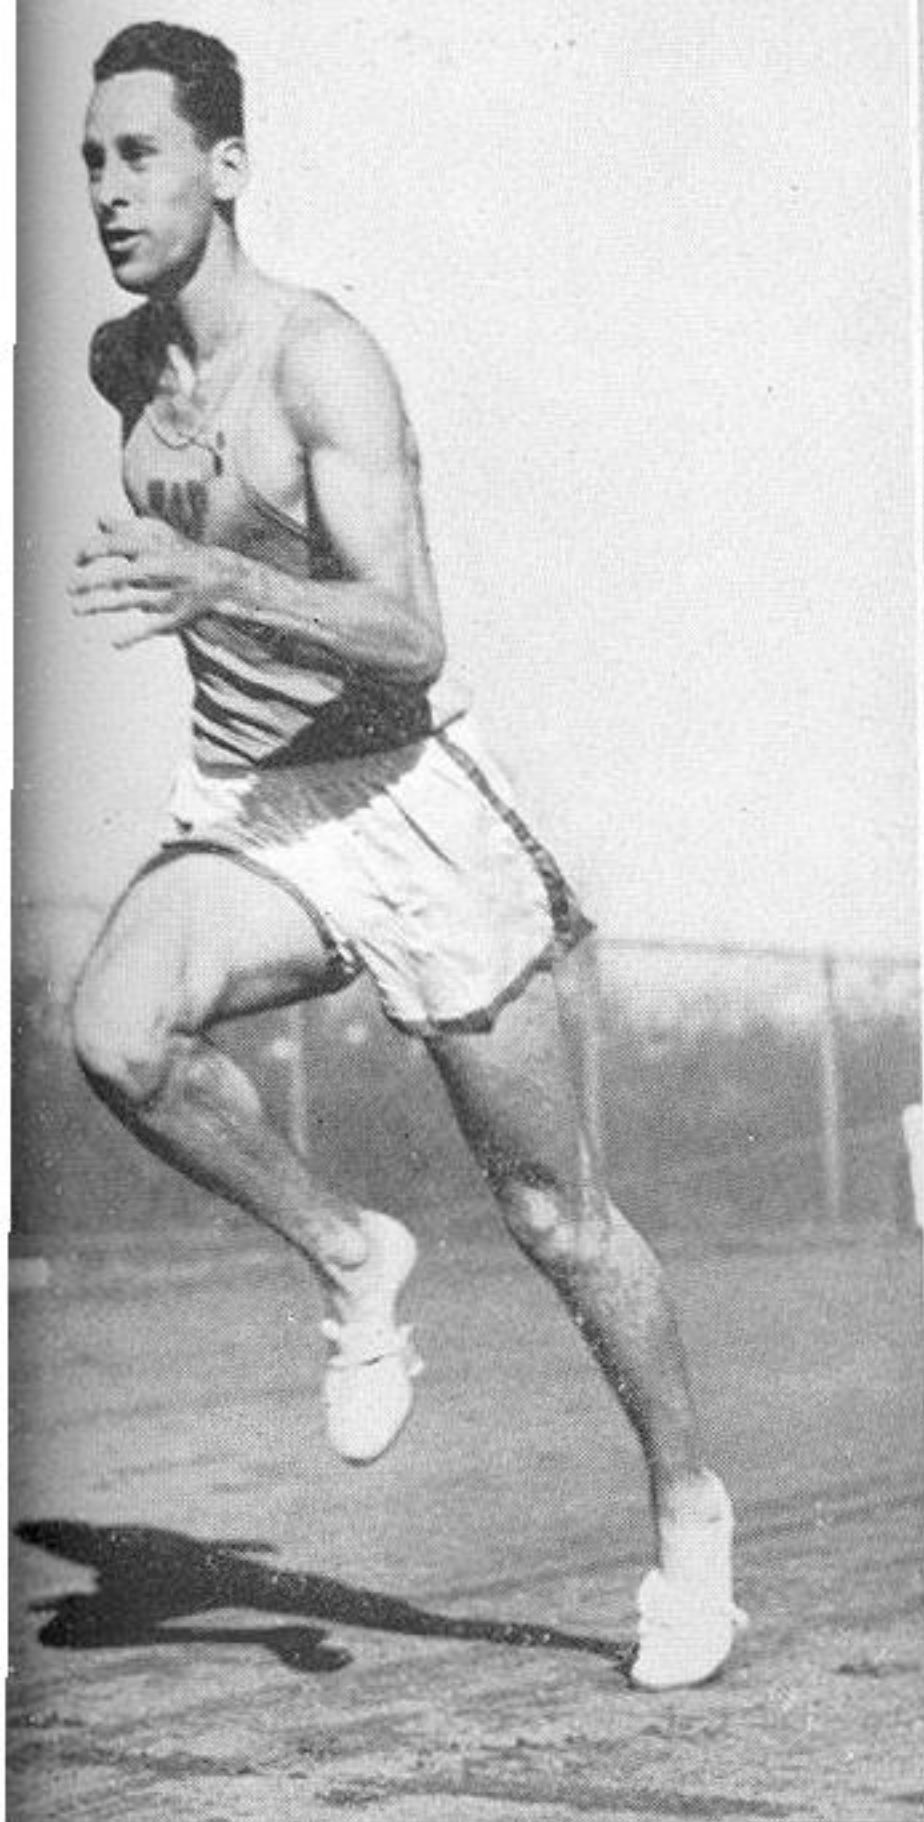

1951 TRACK

The Huskies' hurdling duo of PETE STEWARD and CAPTAIN JOHN DONALDSON consistently ran one-two in both hurdle events, and finished second and third in team scoring.

COACH HEC EDMUNDSON guided the unexpectedly strong Husky cinderdusters to a 3-1 record in Northern Division competition.

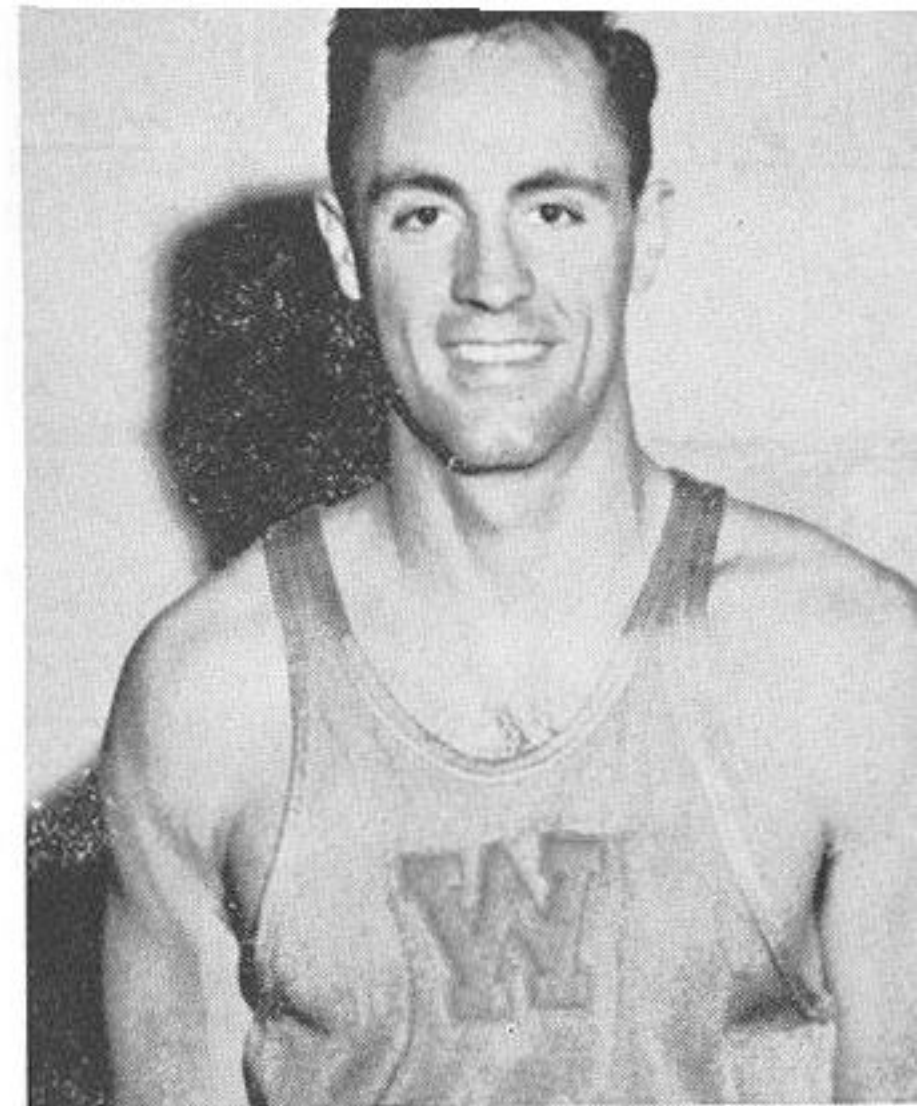

Quarter-miler PETEE DUFOUR consistently racked up first and seconds in his first year at Washington.

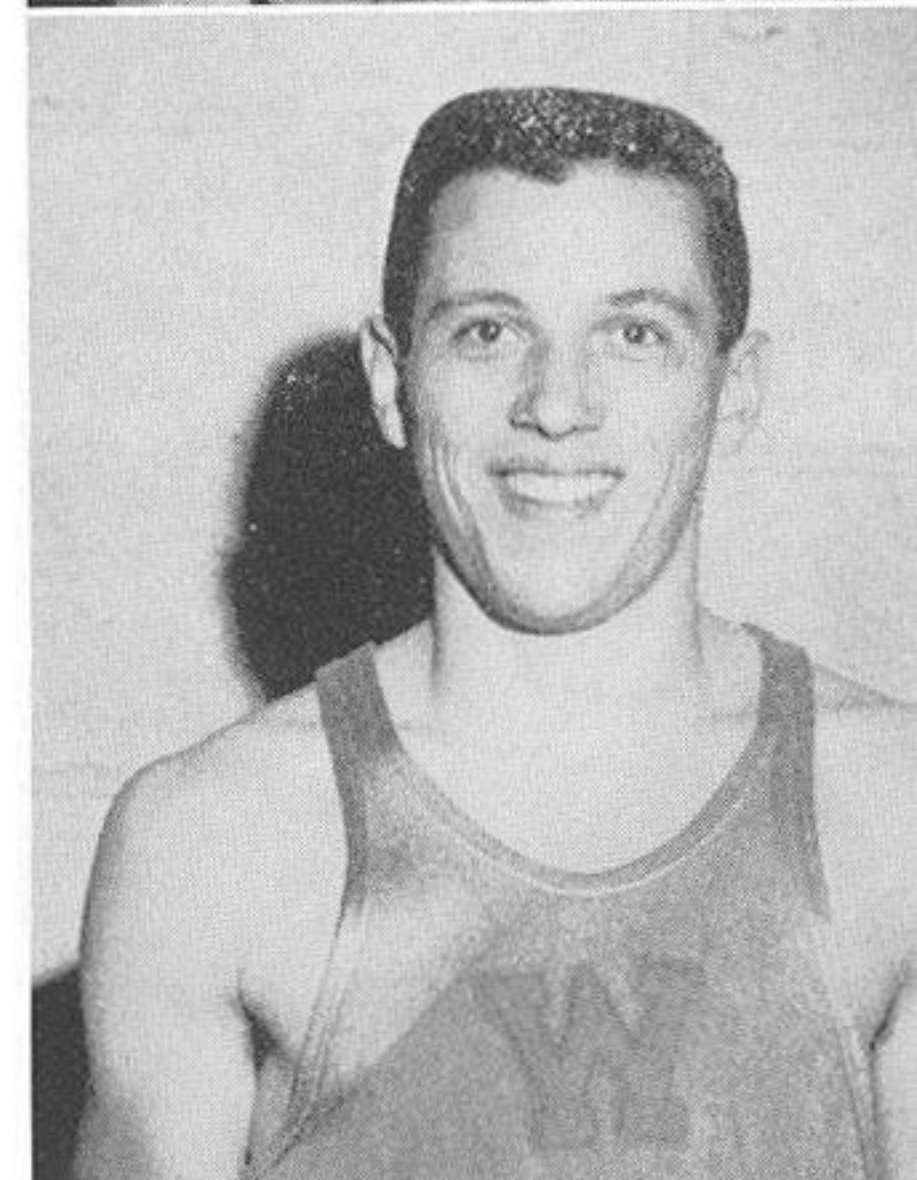

BILL RICHARDS helped Washington capture the two-mile event in every Northern Division meet.

Veteran PAUL McCONKEY, a senior letterman, once again was a valuable asset in the broad-jump division.

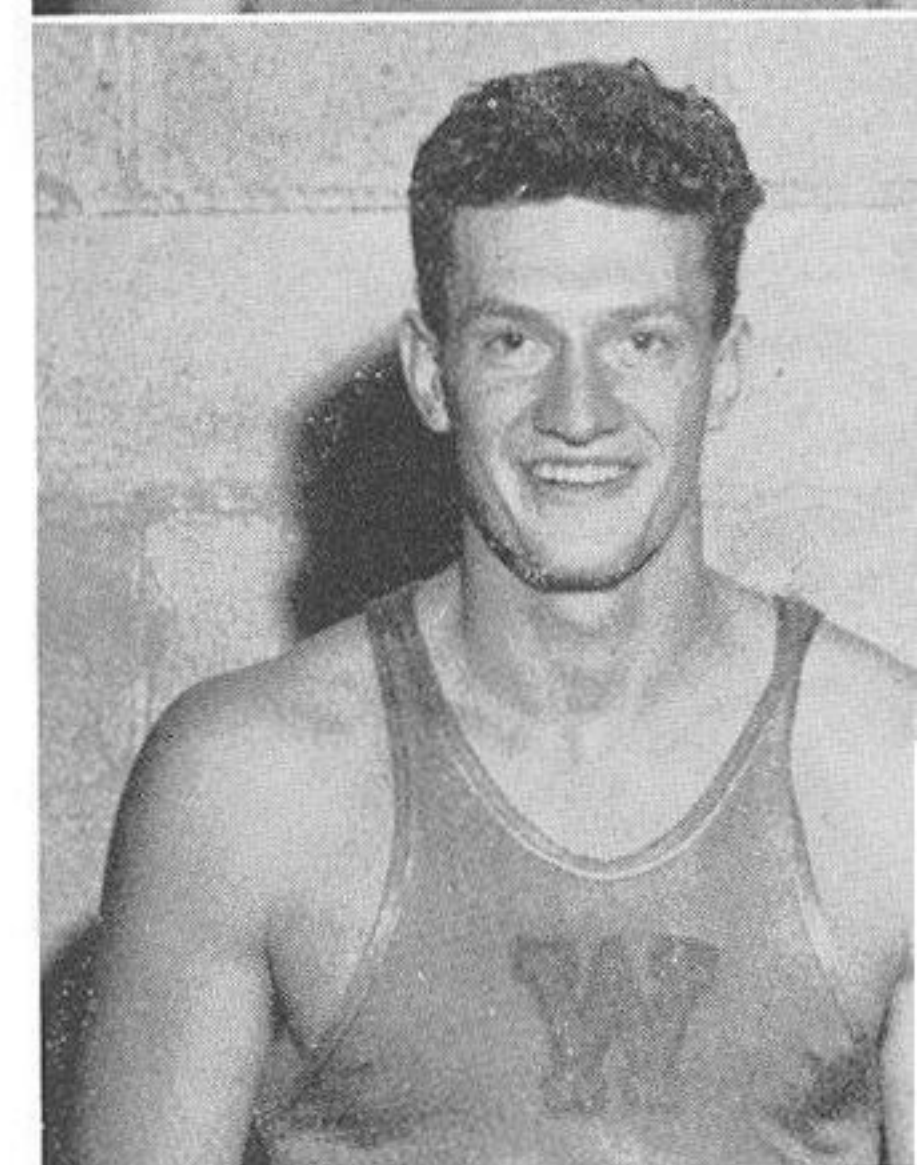

EVERETT SOUTHWICK showed much promise as a sophomore dash man.

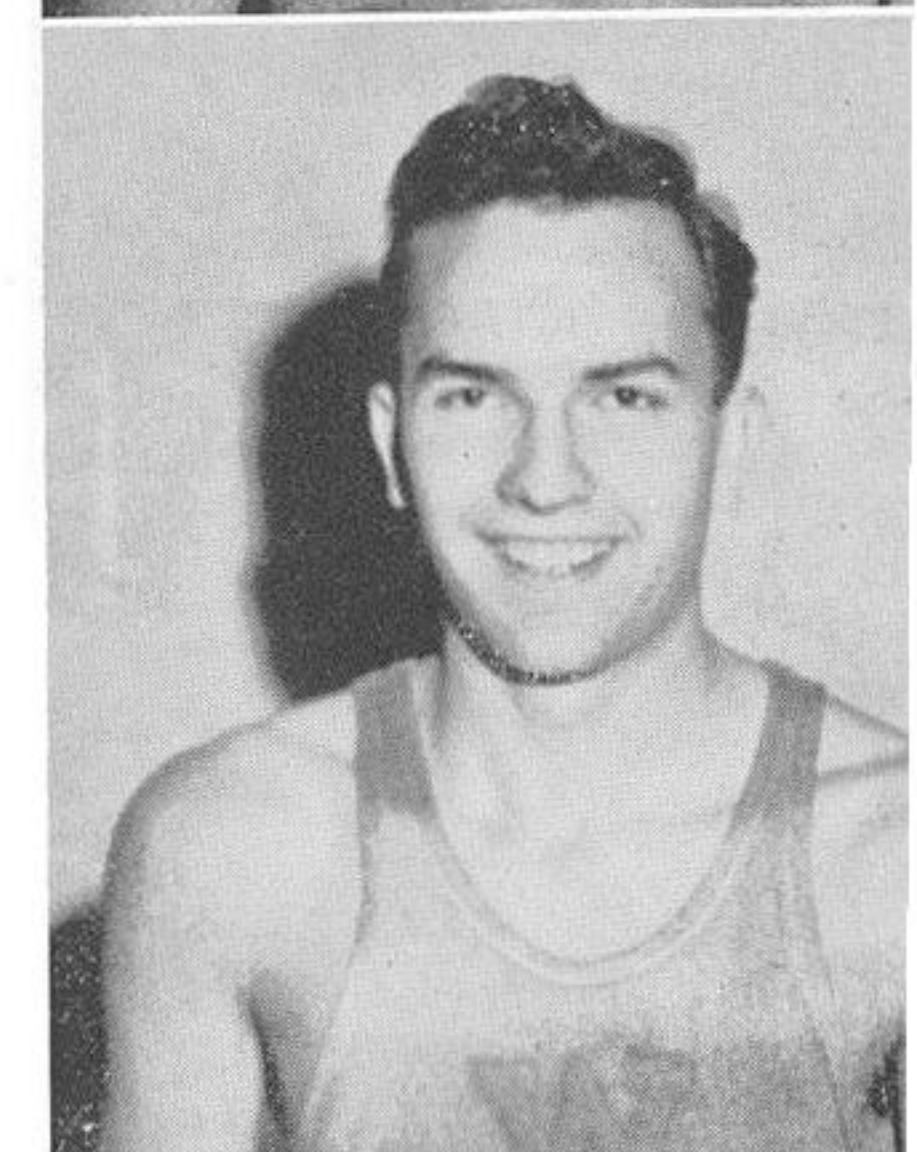

Versatile GEORGE WIDENFELT led the Huskies in scoring with 63½ points.

Sophomore ROD VANDERHOOF gave the Huskies a big boost in the distance department.

DICK LOUDON was a handy middle-distance man for the Purple and Gold.

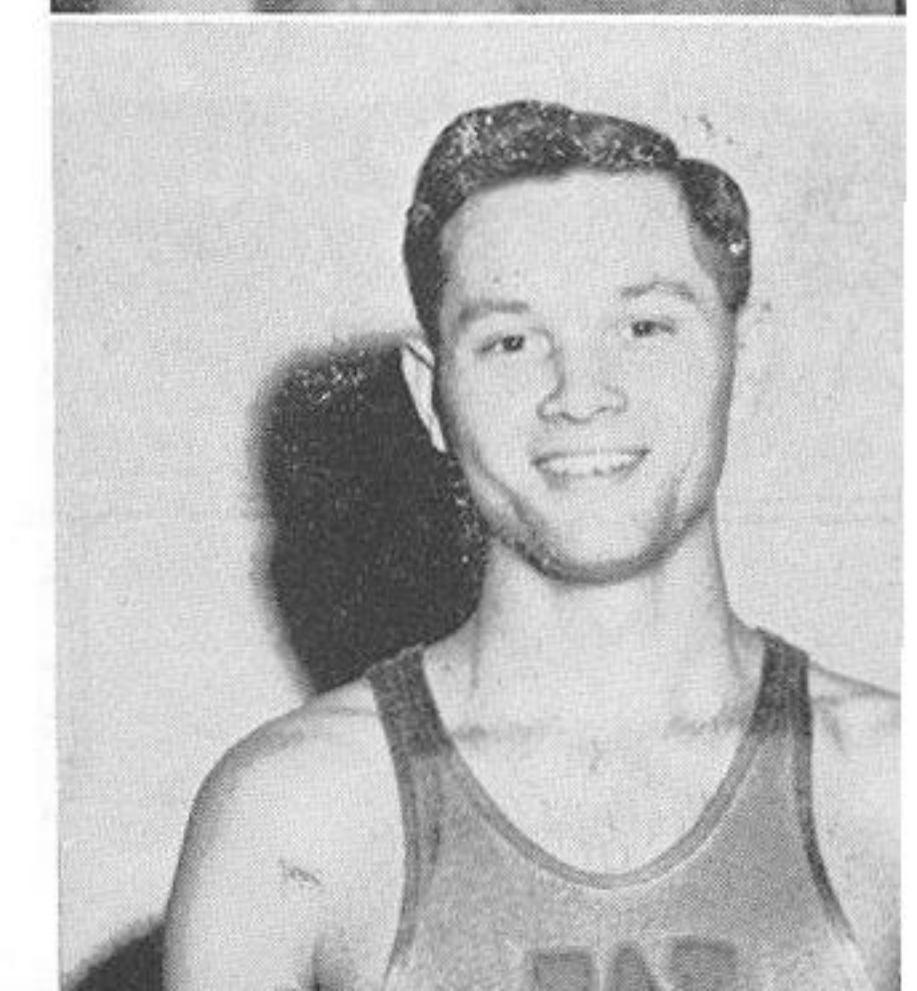

Senior managerial positions were filled by KEN ANDERSON, senior manager, JAY ALLISON, senior freshman manager. Junior managers were TODD DRUMMOND and STEVE LEWIS.

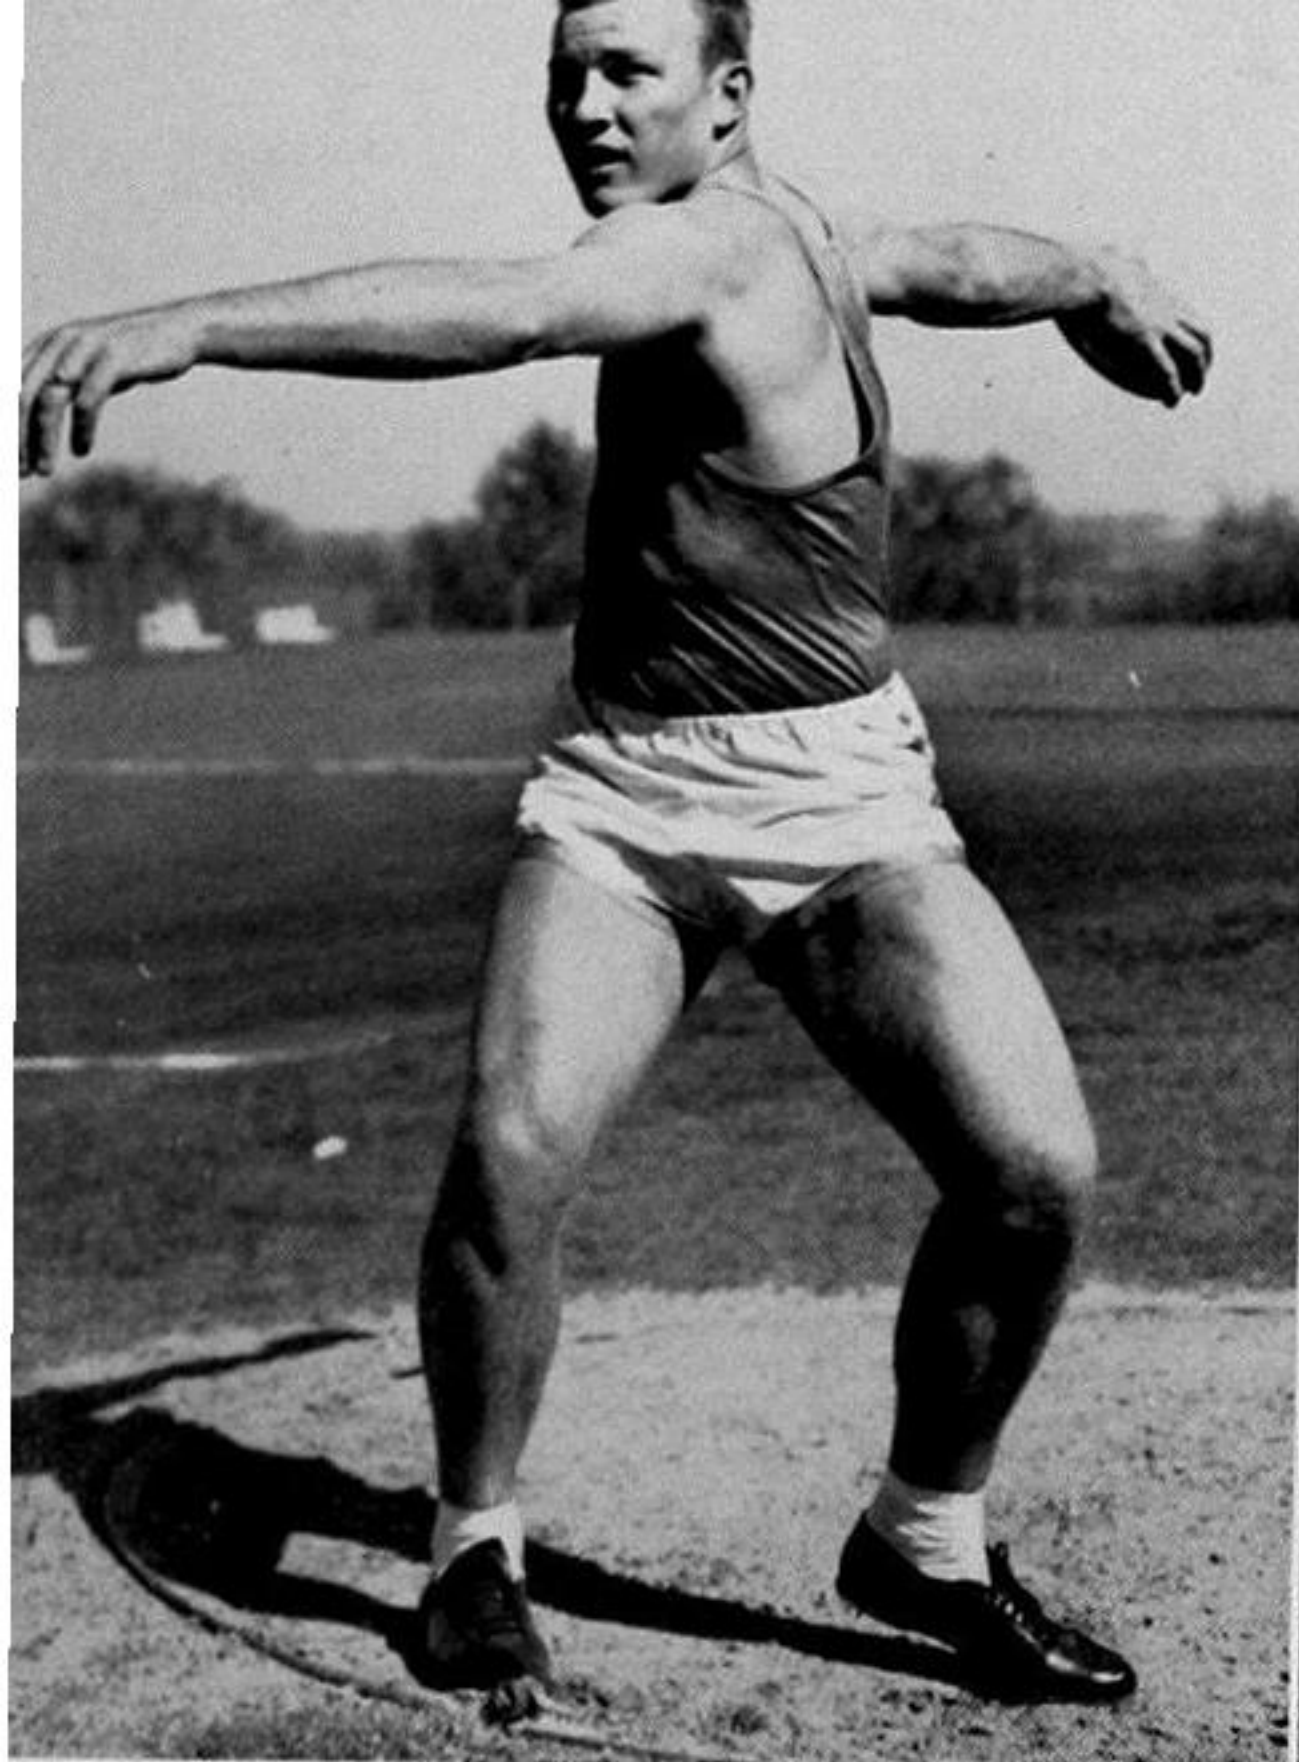

Although not expected to show much power, Washington's 1951 tracksters upset most pre-season forecasts by showing surprising strength in winning three out of four Northern Division meets during a season which was further brightened by the brilliant individual performances of George Widenfelt. In addition to jumping 6 feet 6 inches for second place in the NCAA high-jump, the former Swedish decathlon champion competed in the discus, broad jump, high jump and mile relay. He racked up 63½ points in pacing the Huskies' surge.

Gathering many of their points in the hurdles, half-mile, and two-mile events, Coach Hec Edmundson's cinderdusters overpowered three straight Northern Division opponents — Oregon, Oregon State, and Idaho—before succumbing to the talent-laden Washington State Cougars. The Purple and Gold forces also dropped an inter-division meet to the California Golden Bears, although the Californians' margin of victory was slight.

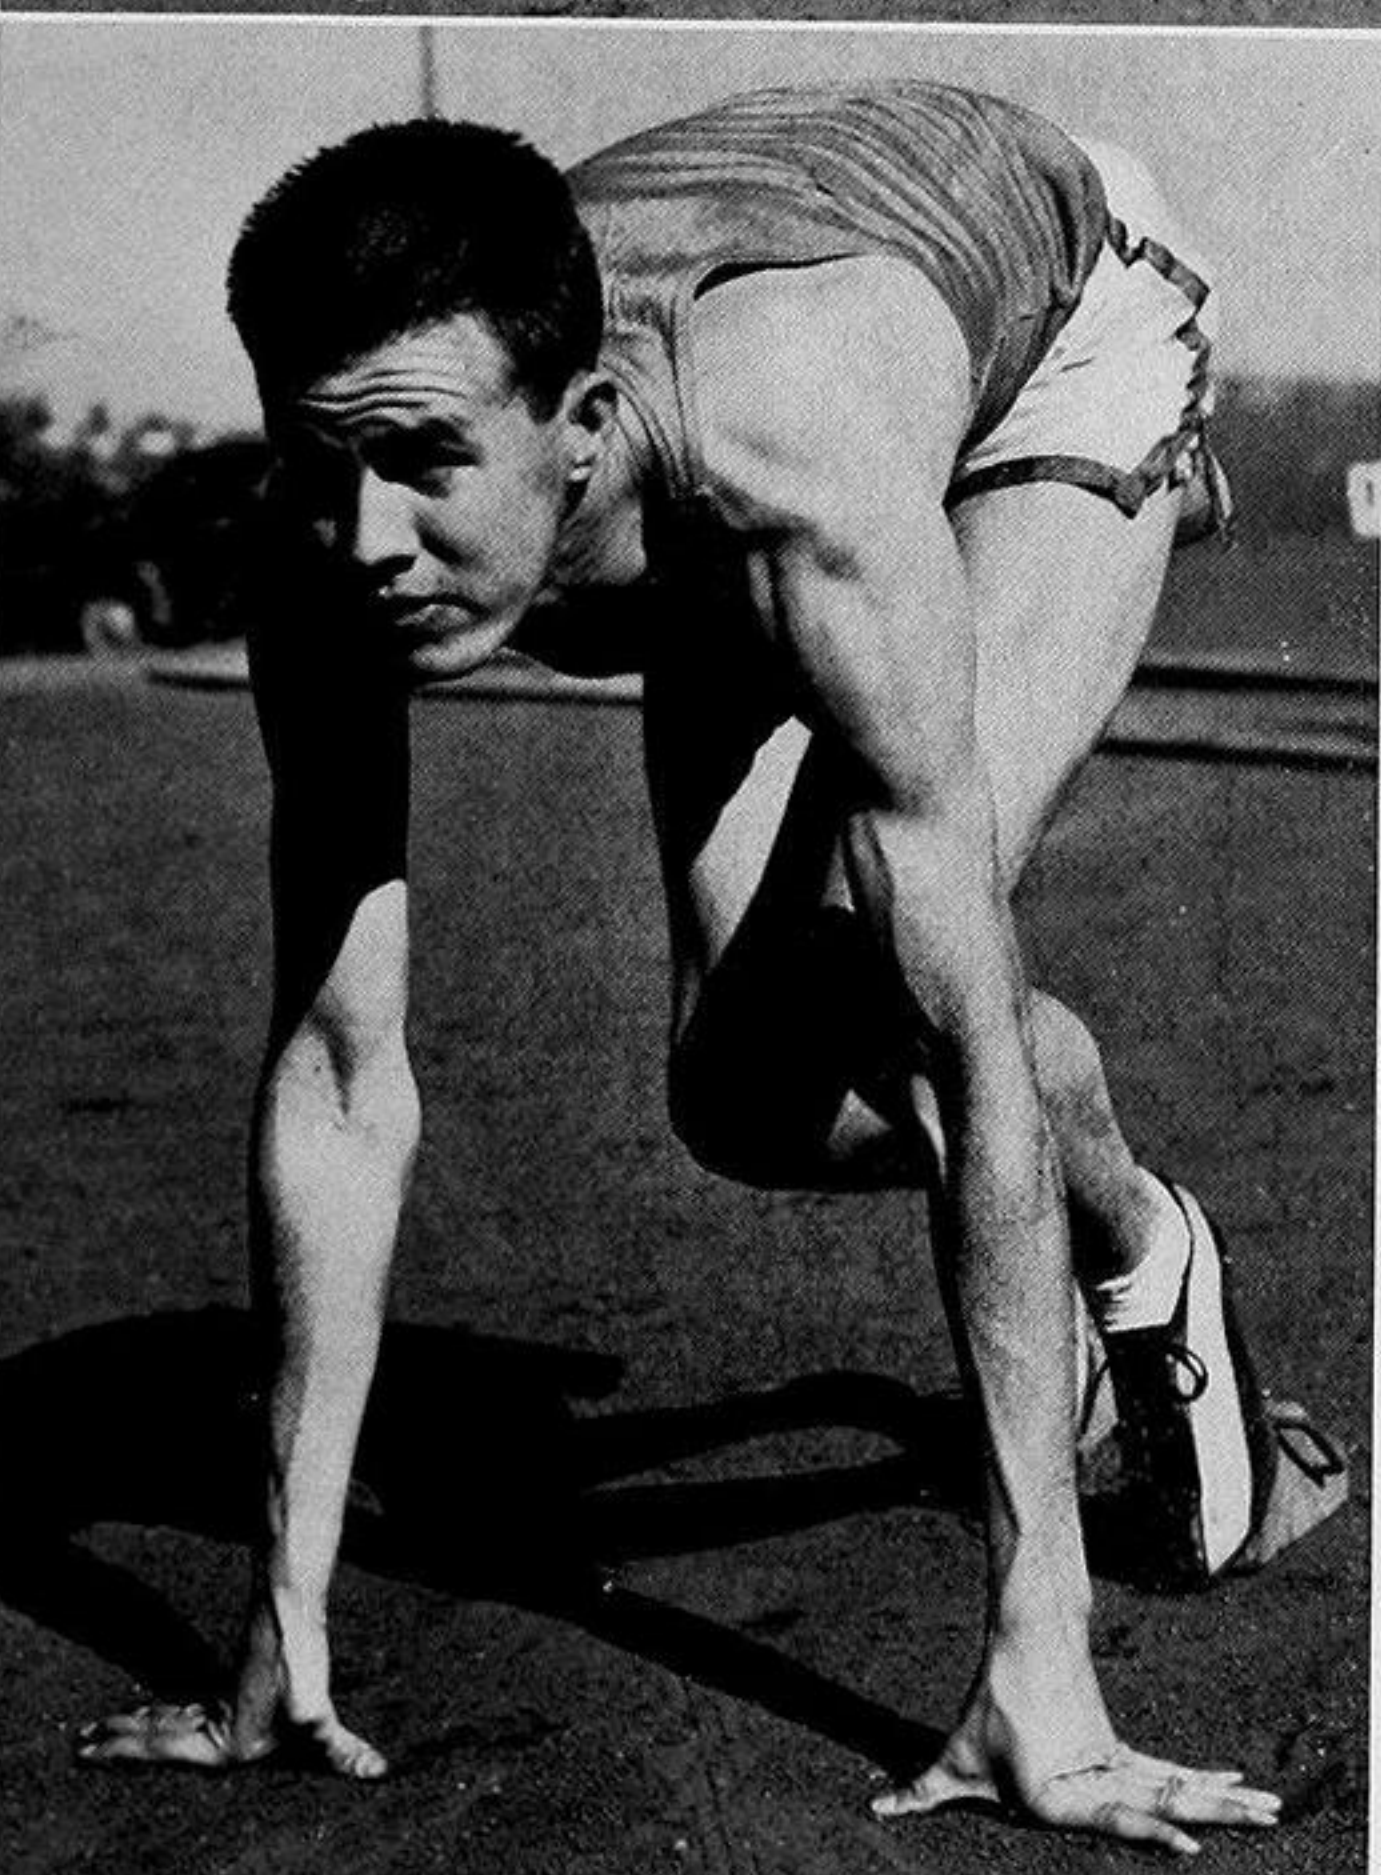

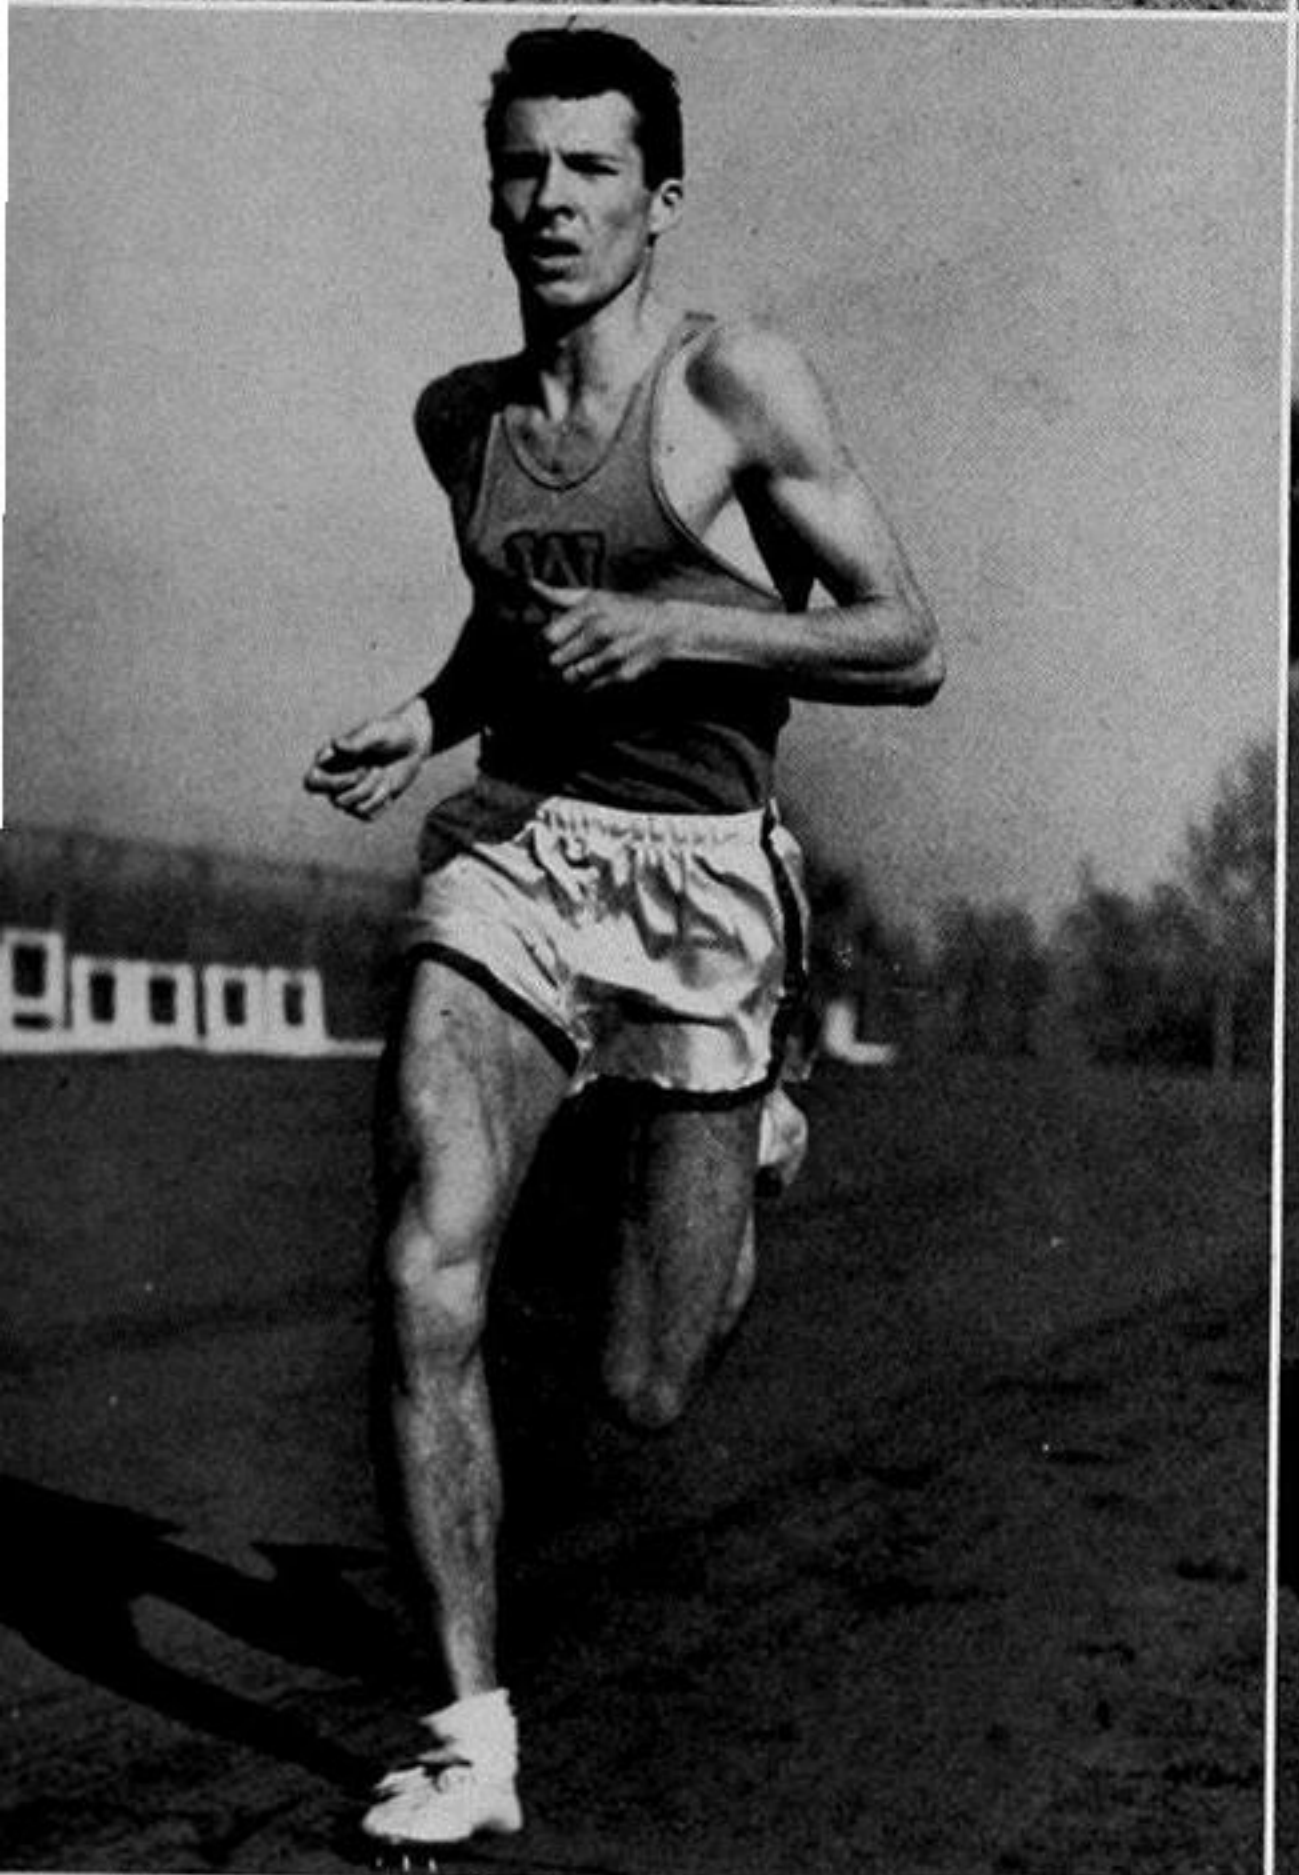

Consistent in the point-getting department, beside Widenfelt, was the hurdling duo of Captain John Donaldson and Pete Steward. The talented timber-toppers repeatedly dominated the hurdles events, finishing one-two in all regular season meets, in addition to qualifying for the NCAA meet, which was held in the UW Stadium. They followed Widenfelt in the scoring parade, tallying 46 and 51, respectively. Other Husky reliables were Ken Morgan, who captured the half-mile four times before competing in the NCAA, and Bill Richards and George Abbey, who alternated as two-mile winners.

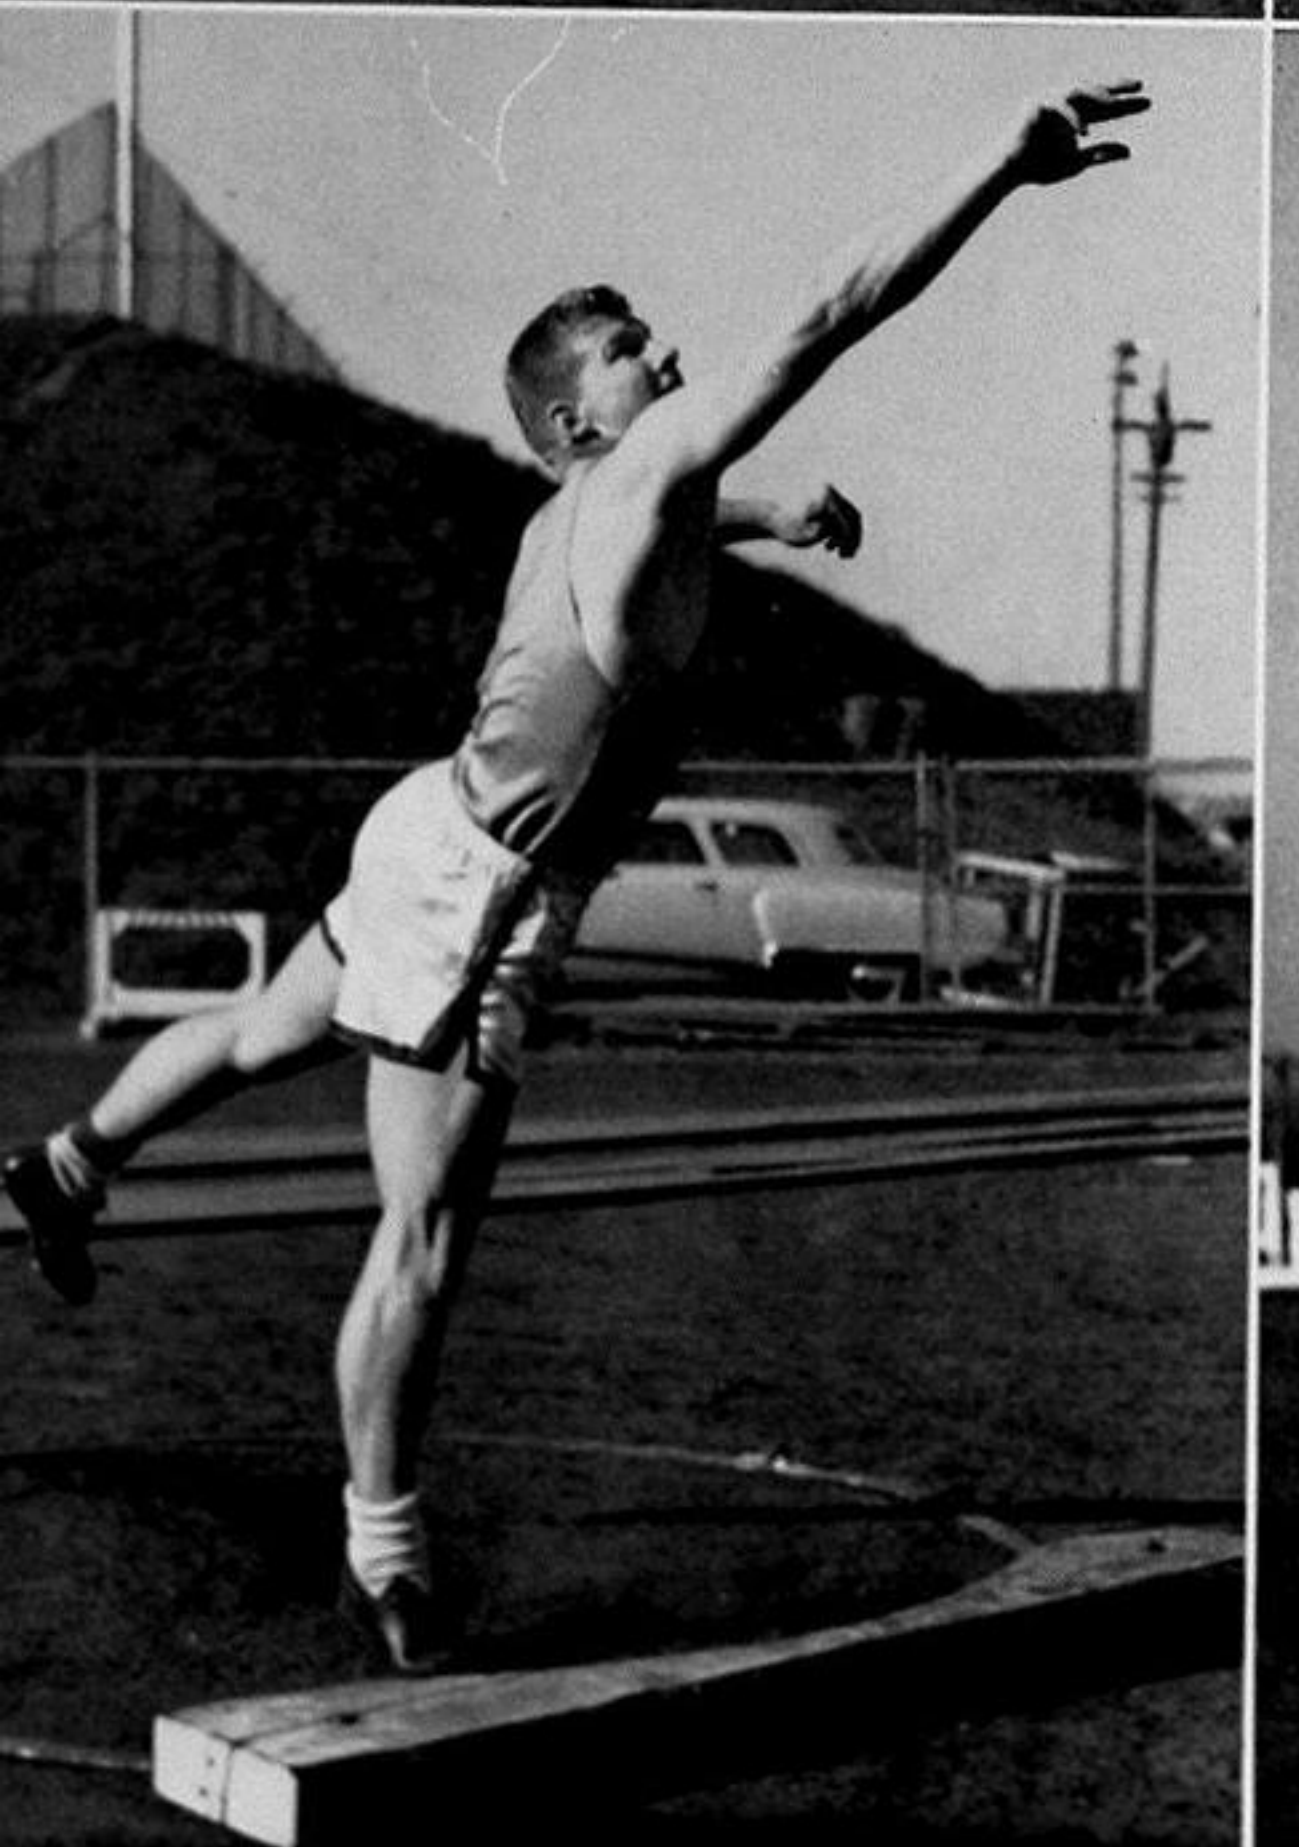

The Huskies' top shot-putter, LORAN PERRY, was a valuable point-winner.

A soph speed-merchant, BOB HUTCHISON, carried the Husky banner in the sprint events.

Comprising half of Washington's potent two-mile combination was senior GEORGE ABBEY.

Providing unexpected power in the 880 was KEN MORGAN, who racked up four firsts.

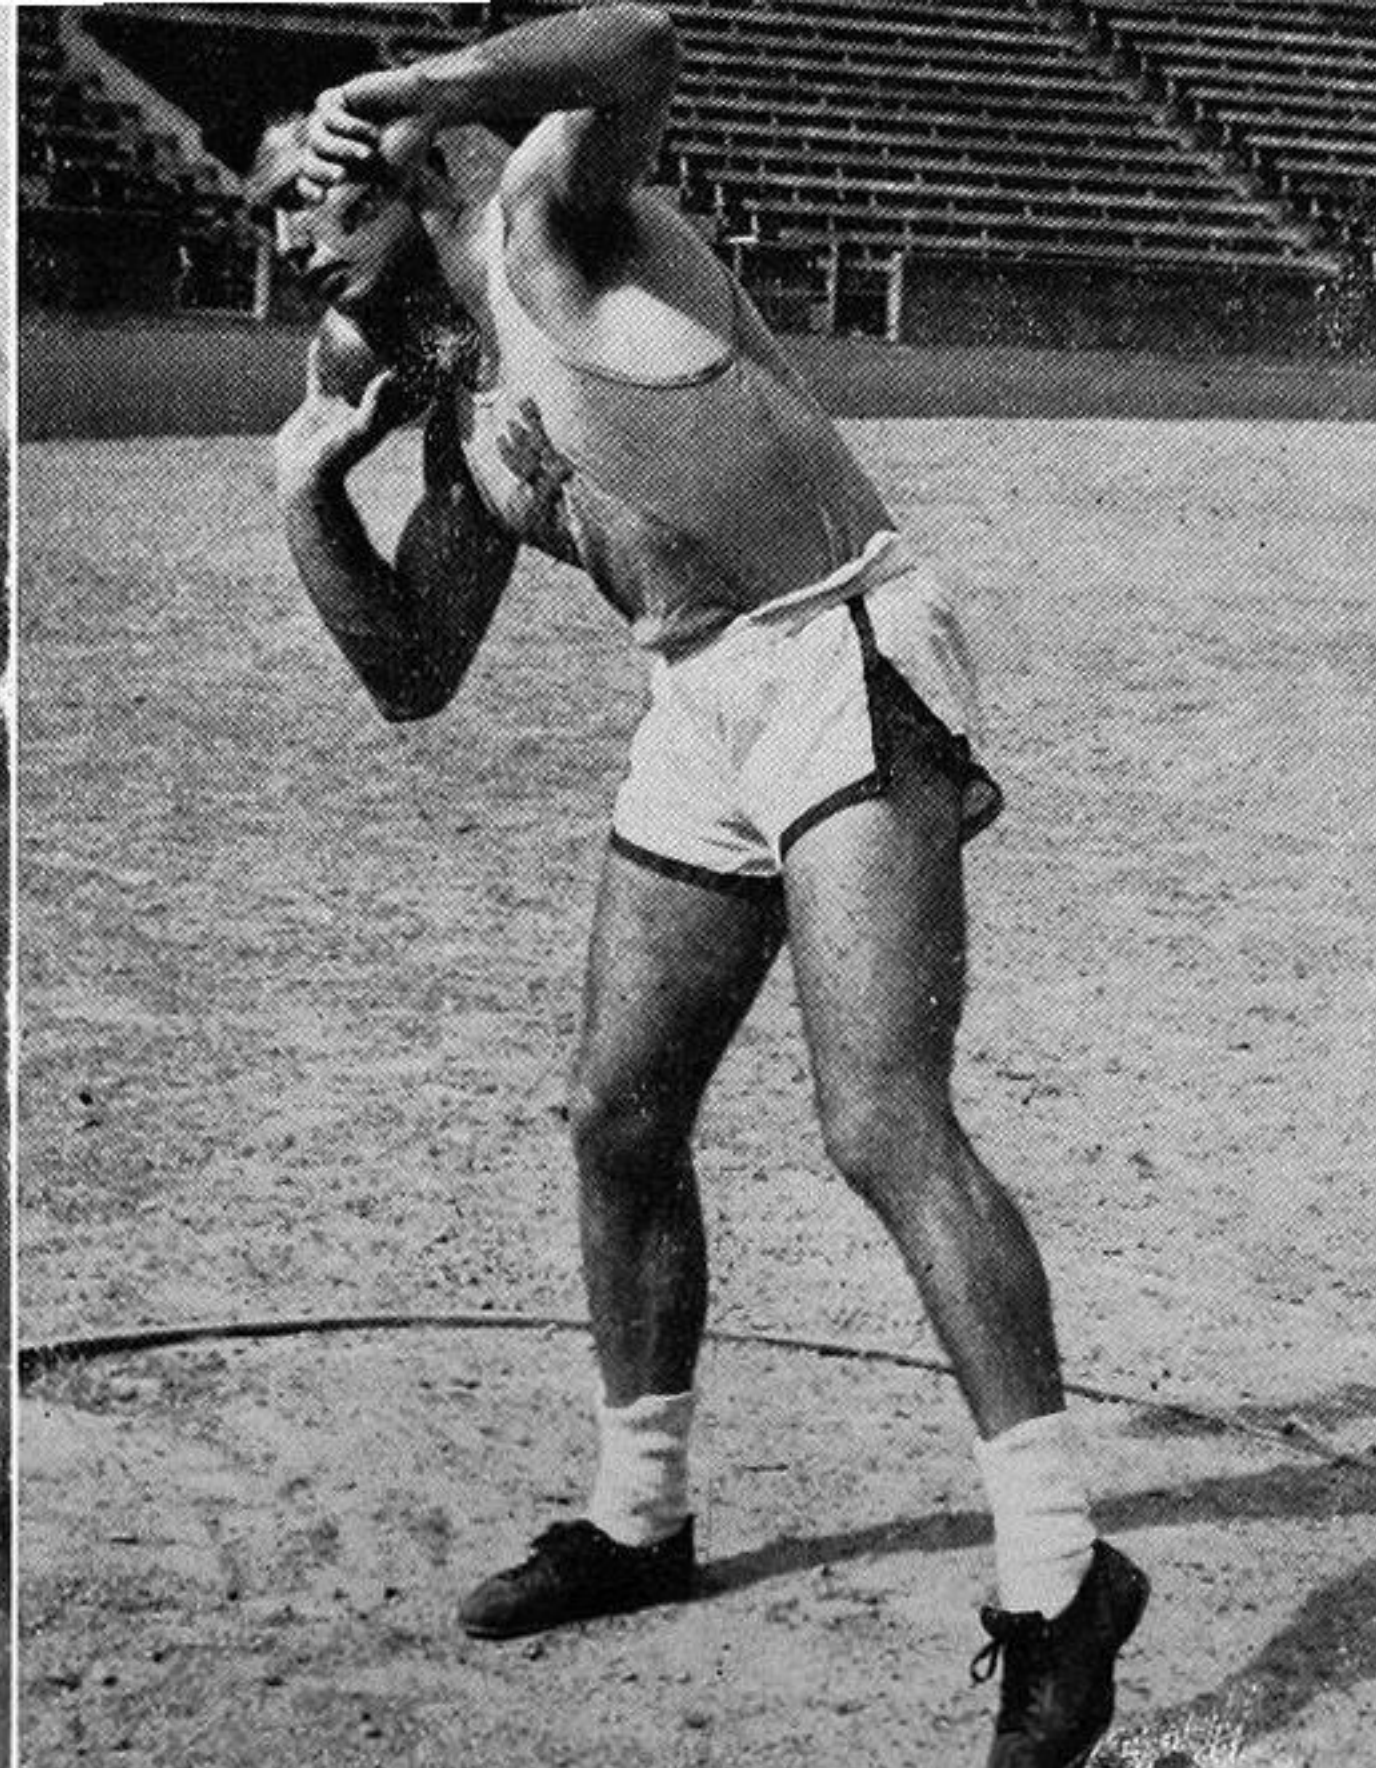

Husky grid Captain TED HOLZKNECHT bolstered Washington shot-put strength.

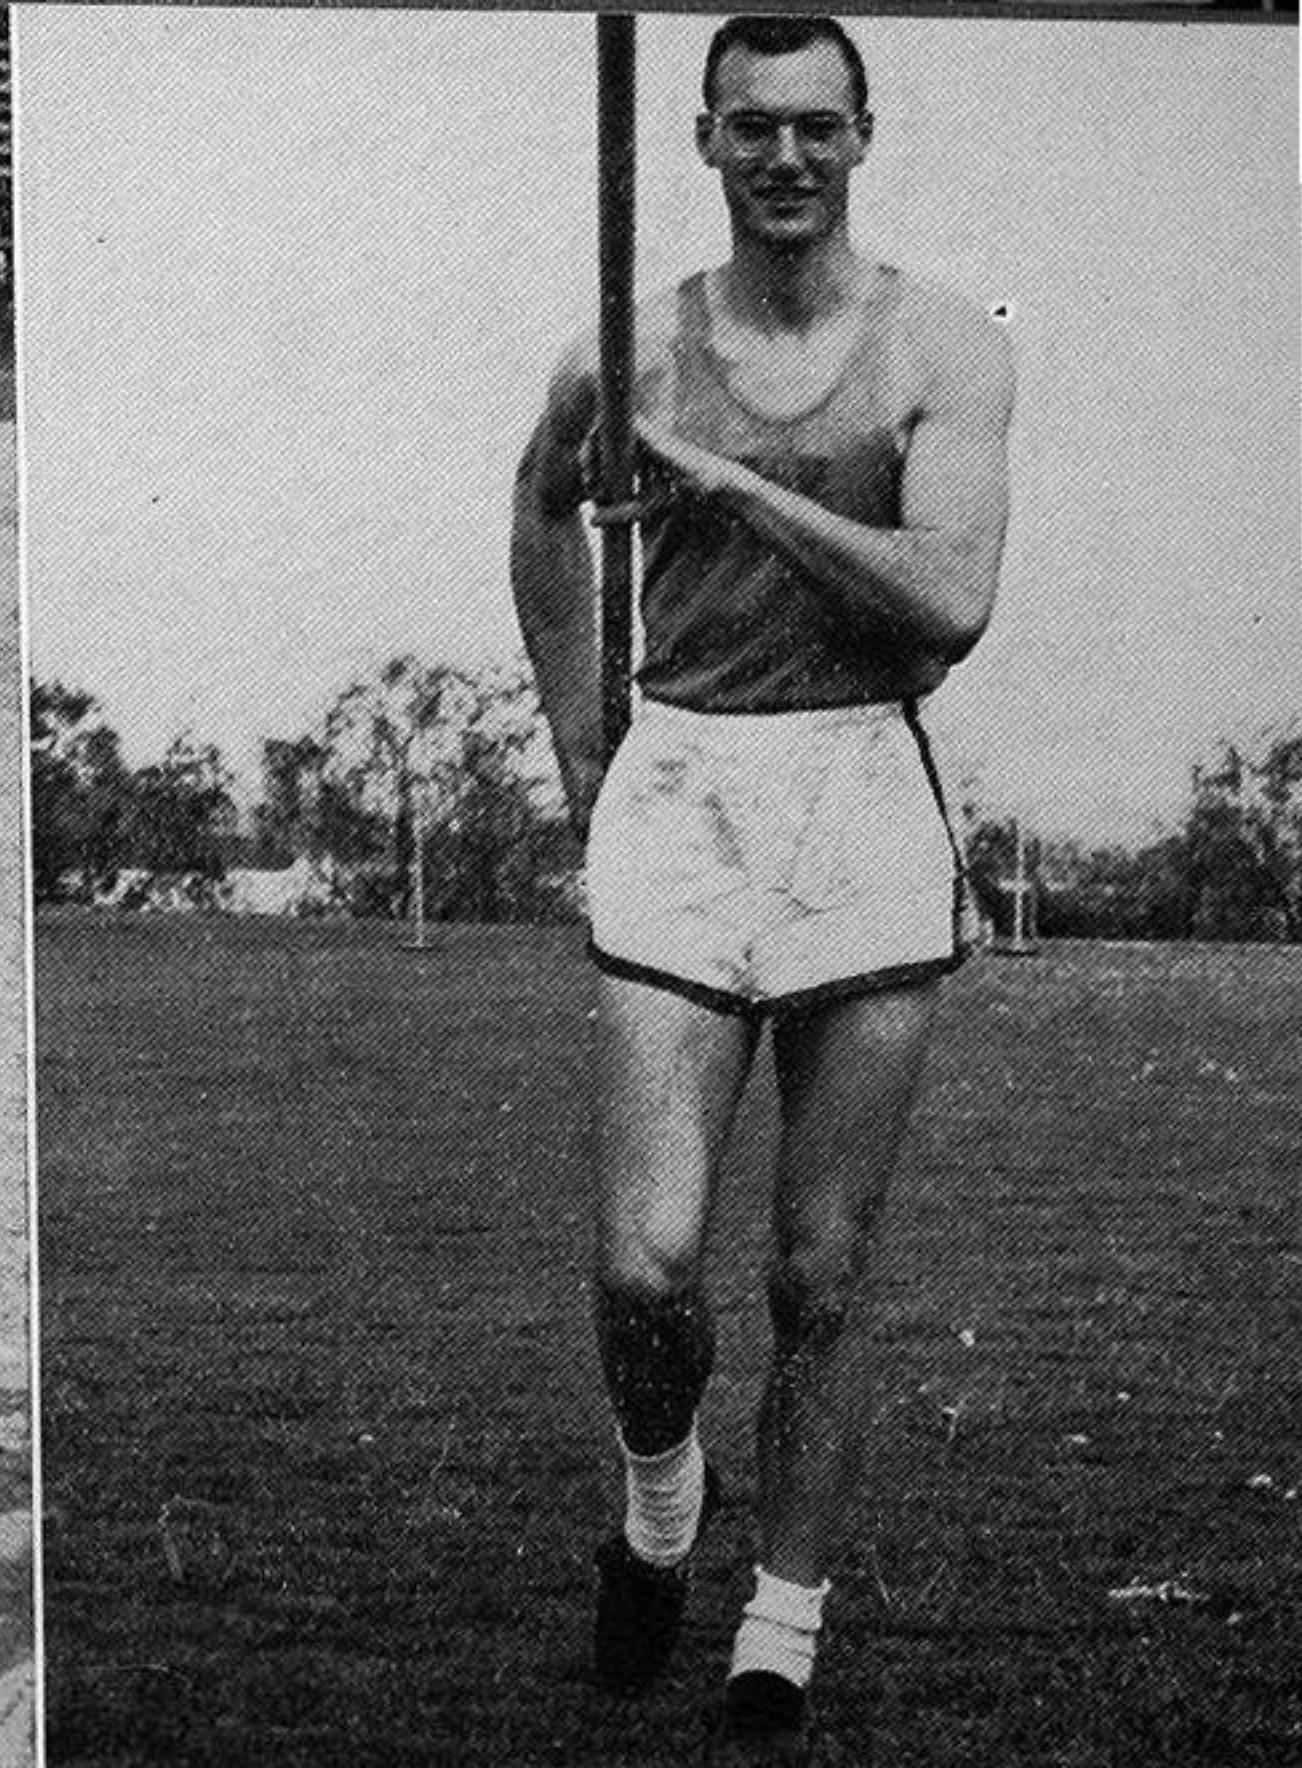

Junior EARL LESLEY was a dependable miler for the Husky cinder forces.

A junior transfer, pole-vaulter DICK BALE proved a worthwhile acquisition.

Senior shot-putter BILL DIXON again was a dependable member of the weight corps.

Veteran pole-vaulter CHARLES BRIGHAM soared 13 feet 4 inches in setting an all-time UW record.

TENNIS 1951

Coach Windy Langlie's varsity tennis forces breezed through another undefeated season, winning their twelfth straight championship and their fifteenth title in the past sixteen years. The Husky netmen swept aside all competition, winning four of their six matches without losing a point. In the northern division meet in Seattle the Huskies proved to be rude hosts as they captured both singles and doubles honors to win handily.

Providing the spark of the Purple and Gold cause was diminutive Wally Bostick, the squad's top performer and number one man. Bostick won the ND singles title by beating Tom McDonald of Oregon in the finals, 6-2, 6-2. In the doubles competition, it was an all-Husky finale with Glenn Linden and Lou Wick combining to edge teammates Jerry Kirk and Bostick, 6-3, 15-13. Linden and Wick were unseeded before the meet.

The Huskies opened the season with an easy win over the Olympic Tennis club. The only other team to take a point from Washington was Oregon State that fell before the Huskies by a 4-to-3 margin. Oregon, Western Washington, Idaho and Washington State lost to the UW forces by 7-to-0 counts. The season's record brought to 50 the string of dual match victories of Husky teams. The local tennis forces haven't lost in dual competition since 1937.

GOLF 1951

After losing the season's opener to Oregon, 19 to 8, the Husky golf squad journeyed to Corvallis where they downed OSC in a close match. Taking this as their cue, the Huskies turned in decisive victories over Idaho and WSC to complete the season's match play. Idaho went down, 14 to 3, and WSC was defeated, 20½ to 6½.

Sparking this year's varsity squad were the men up from last year's championship freshman team, along with Tom Barwick and Ervin Furukawa, both from the 1950 varsity squad. Barwick represented Washington in the NCAA meet at Columbus, Ohio, failing to qualify by two strokes. However, in an East-West contest among the NCAA golfers, Barwick won his match.

Under the eye of Coach Bill Jefferson, Jr., the players steadily improved throughout the season, as their scores will bear out. Manager of the 1951 golf squad was Bob Lorentzen.

Culminating the season was the capture of the Northern Division Medal Play crown. Washington finished 6 points ahead of Oregon to avenge the early-season defeat handed out by the Ducks. OSC finished third, followed by WSC and Idaho. Individual honors went to Washington's Paul Johanson and Don Russell, who tied with Fred Strebel of Oregon with a score of 146 for 36 holes.

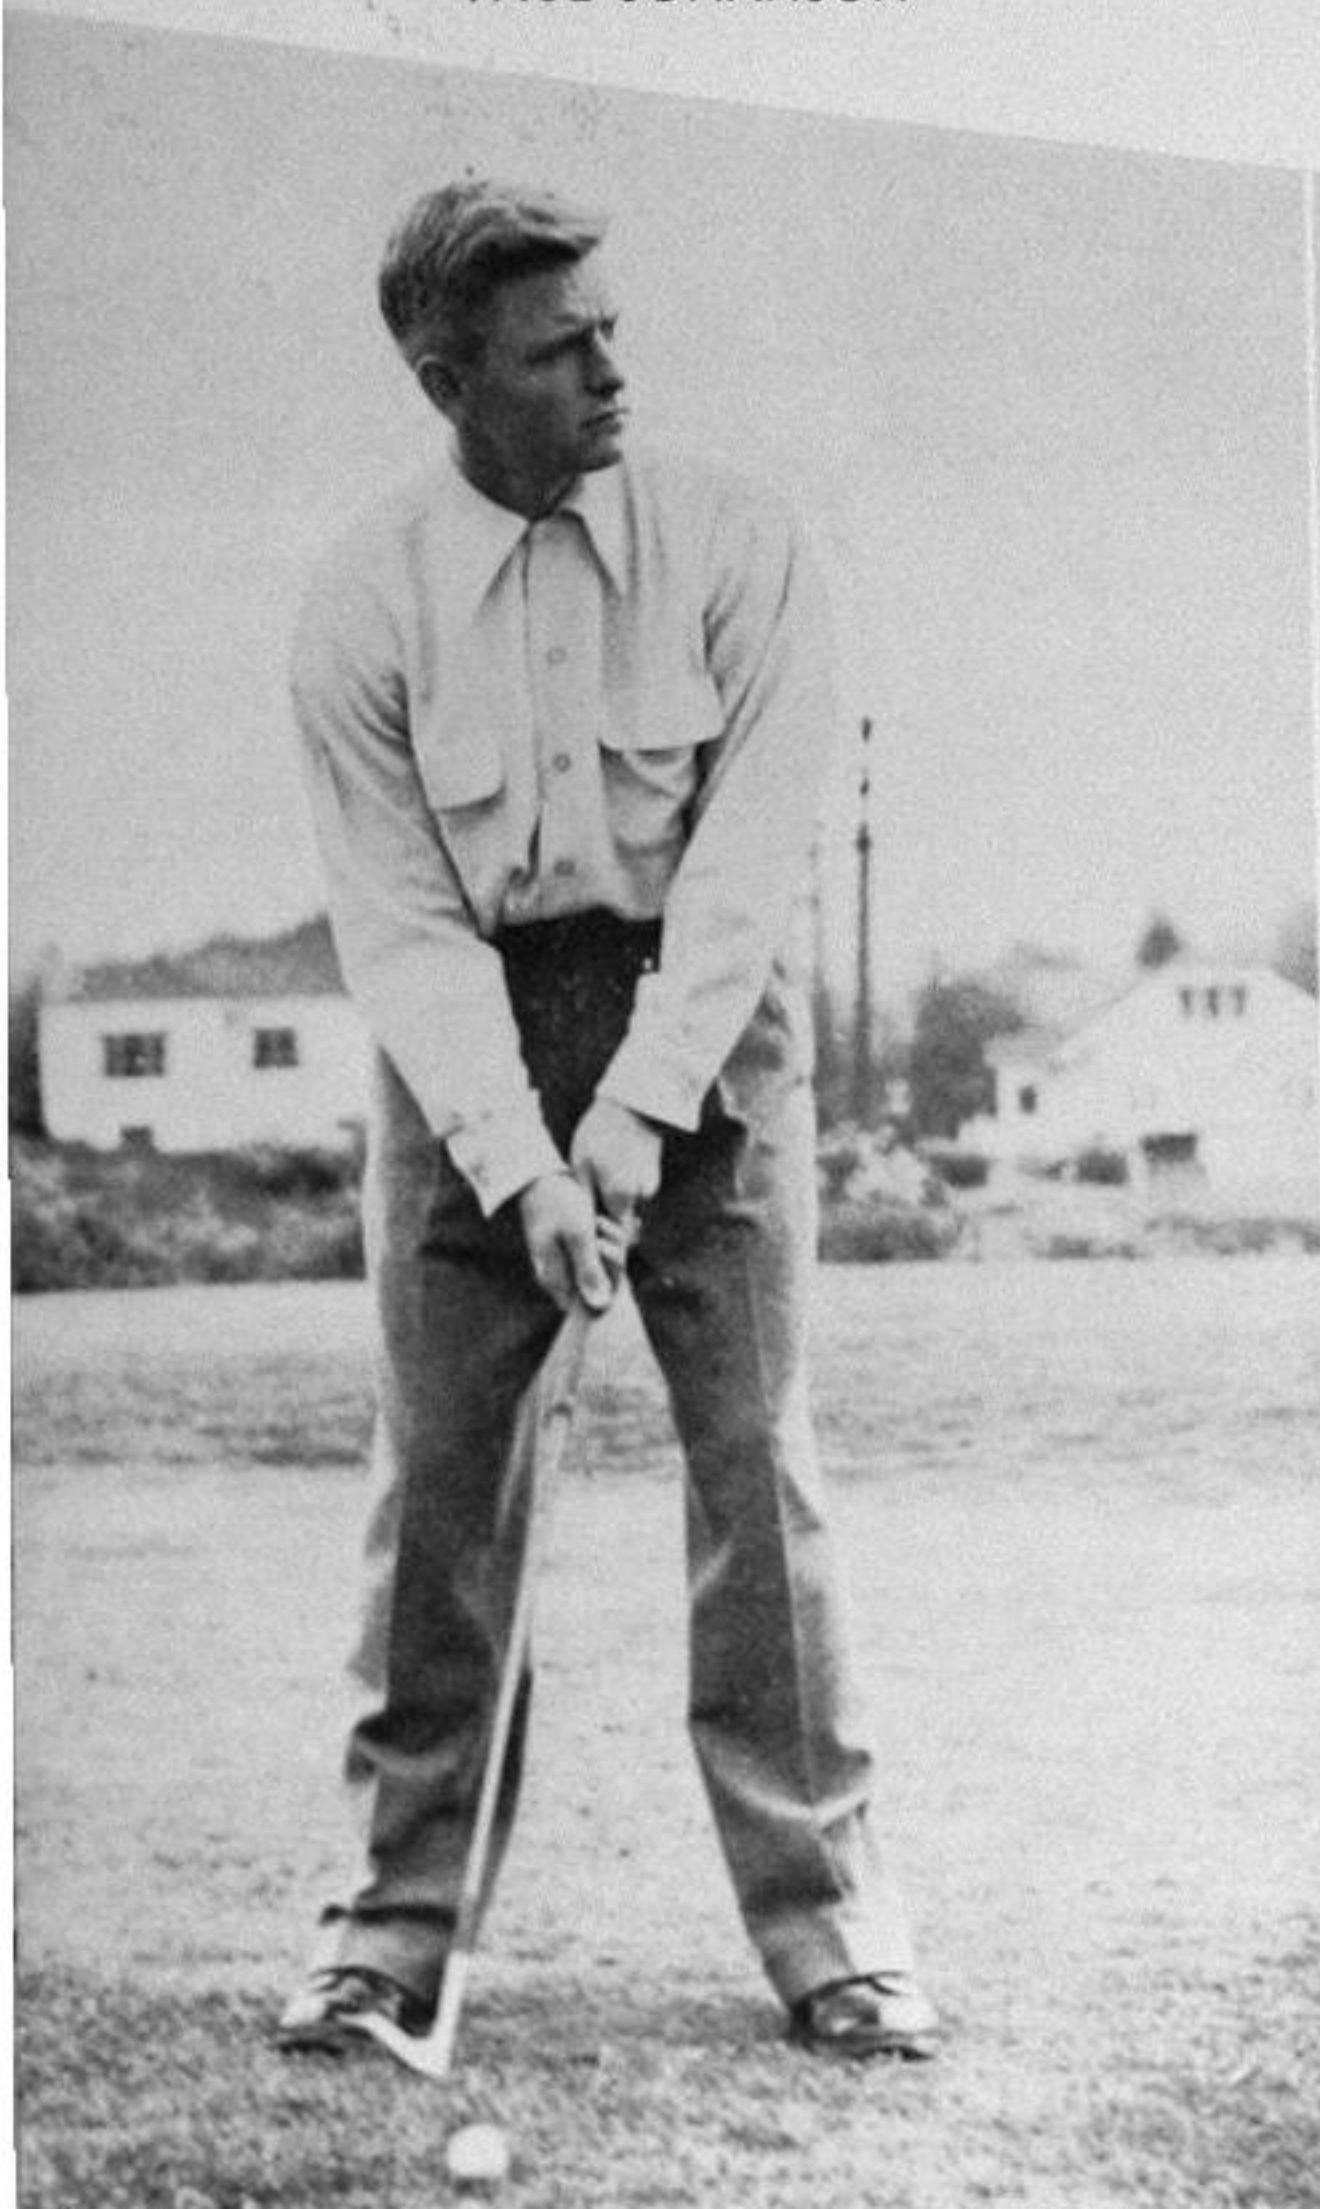

COACH BILL JEFFERSON led the Husky golfers through a successful 1951 season.

SWIMMING 1952

In looking over the past season one finds that the Husky swimming teams have a record that no other UW team can match. The Torney-coached teams have been the power of the conference for many years.

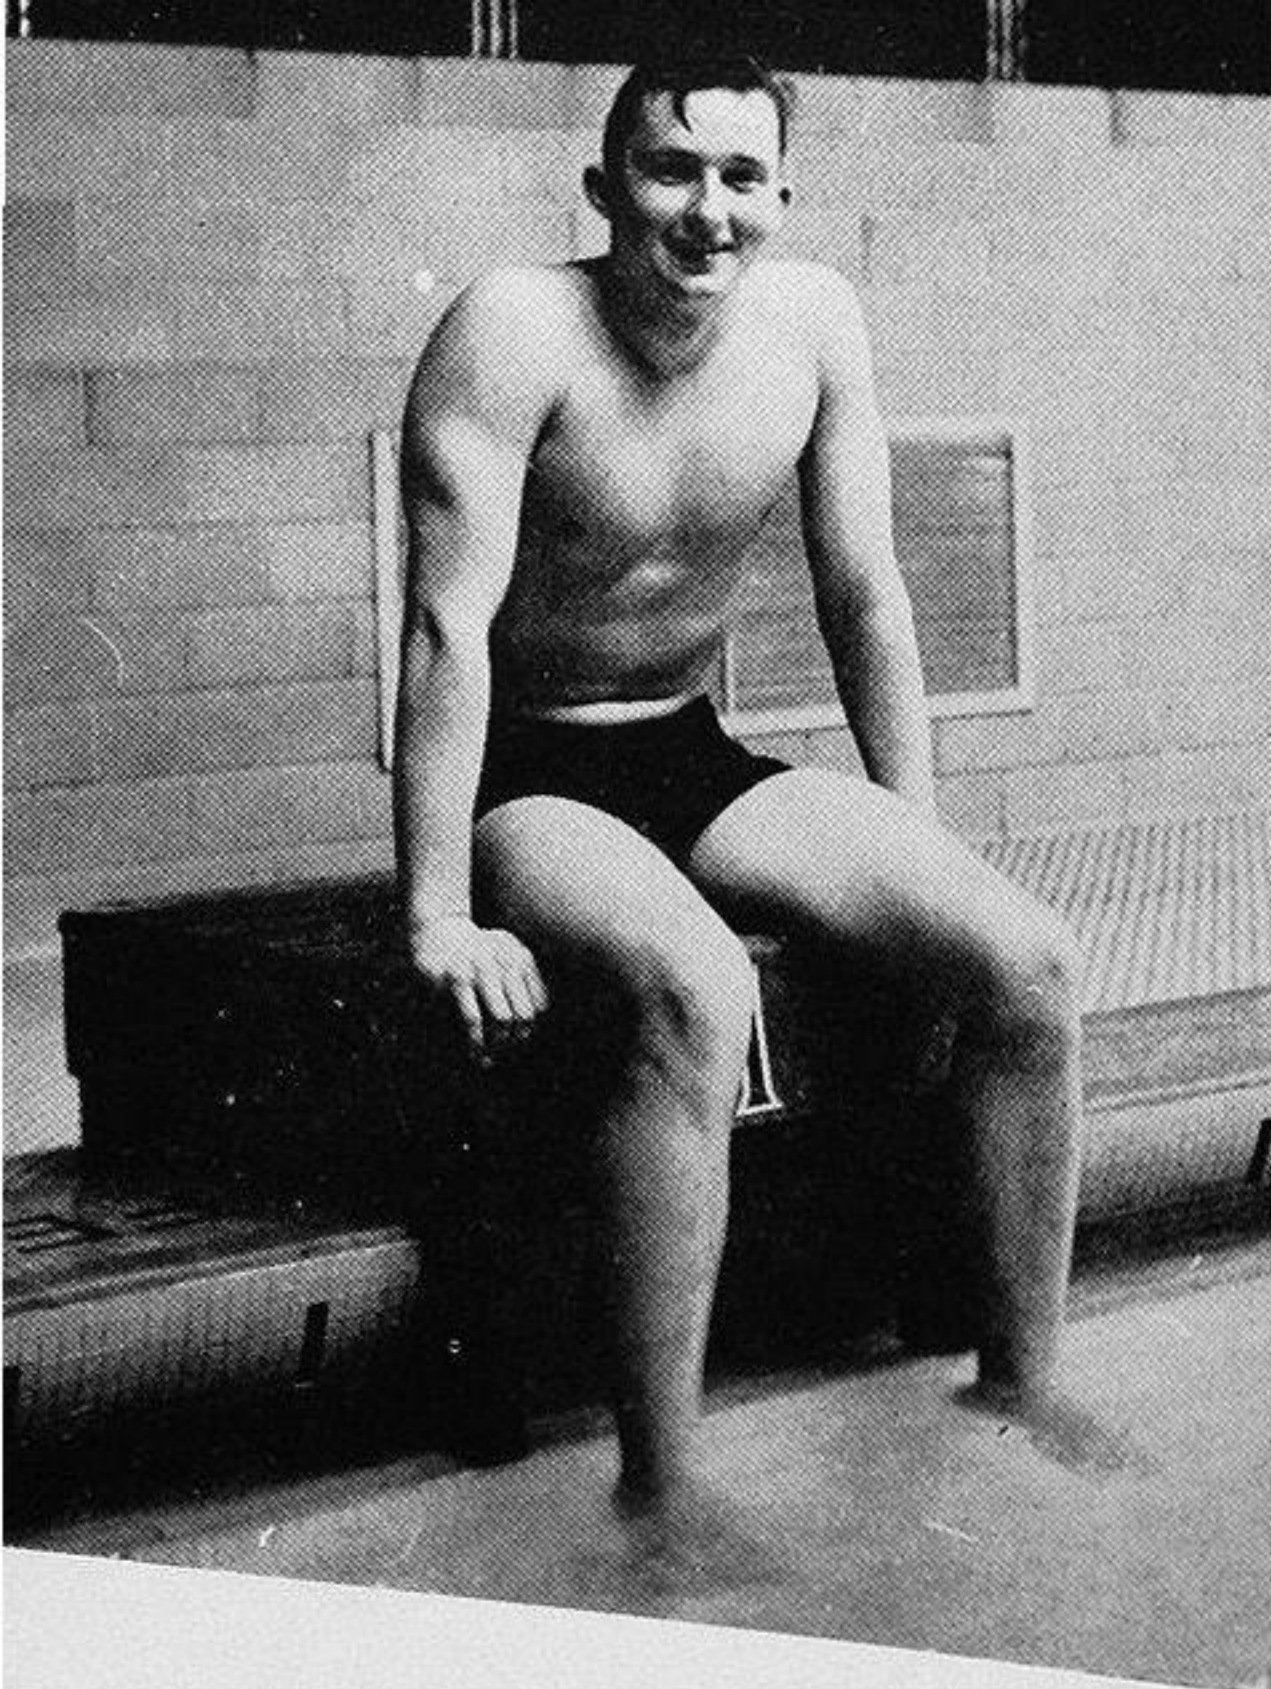

This year's team was led by three All-Americans: diver Merrill Hodges, breaststroker Dick Magnuson, and Pete Salmon, National 150-yard Individual Medley Champion. This trio, aided by several outstanding freshmen and sophomores extended the consecutive dual meet victory string to the phenomenal number of thirty-one. The last team to beat a Washington team in a dual meet was Oregon in 1944.

In winning the Northern Division Title the Huskies made it eight championships in their last ten years. The 1952 edition of Purple and Gold swimmers ranks as one of the all-time greats as far as overall team strength goes. Nine of the twelve fastest times recorded for the past season are held by Husky mermen. The wearers of the Purple and Gold also captured six of the Northern Division individual crowns. Outstanding times were turned in by several of the Huskies which would compare favorably with those recorded by swimmers from the eastern powerhouses. Losing only three men by graduation, Coach Jack Torney can look forward to another great season next year as his teams continue to be the power of the conference.

A consistent point getter throughout the season, CHUCK SHELDON finished up his eligibility with two fourth places in the Northern Pacific Division Meet. He was doubly honored this season by his teammates as they showed their confidence in him by electing him as the team captain. At the season's end they selected him as the one to receive the Inspirational Award for the past season.

The other senior on this year's varsity is BOB CLAYTON who finished up his swimming career as he anchored the 300 Medley Relay to a Northern Division title. He also placed second in the 440 and third in the 220. His best meet of the season was against W.S.C. where he won the 220 in the good time of 2:17, and the 440 in his best time of 4:56.

Freshman sensation DICK ELLIOTT specialized in the 100 and 200-yard freestyle events. Against Oregon he set a conference record of 2:11 in the furlong. He set a 200 yard medley record at O.S.C. and won the 100 yard freestyle and placed second in the 220 event at the Northern Division meet.

Coming up from last year's frosh squad to attain varsity prominence is FRANK GRAHAM. He picked up his share of points by swimming on two winning relay combinations against Idaho after getting off to a slow start.

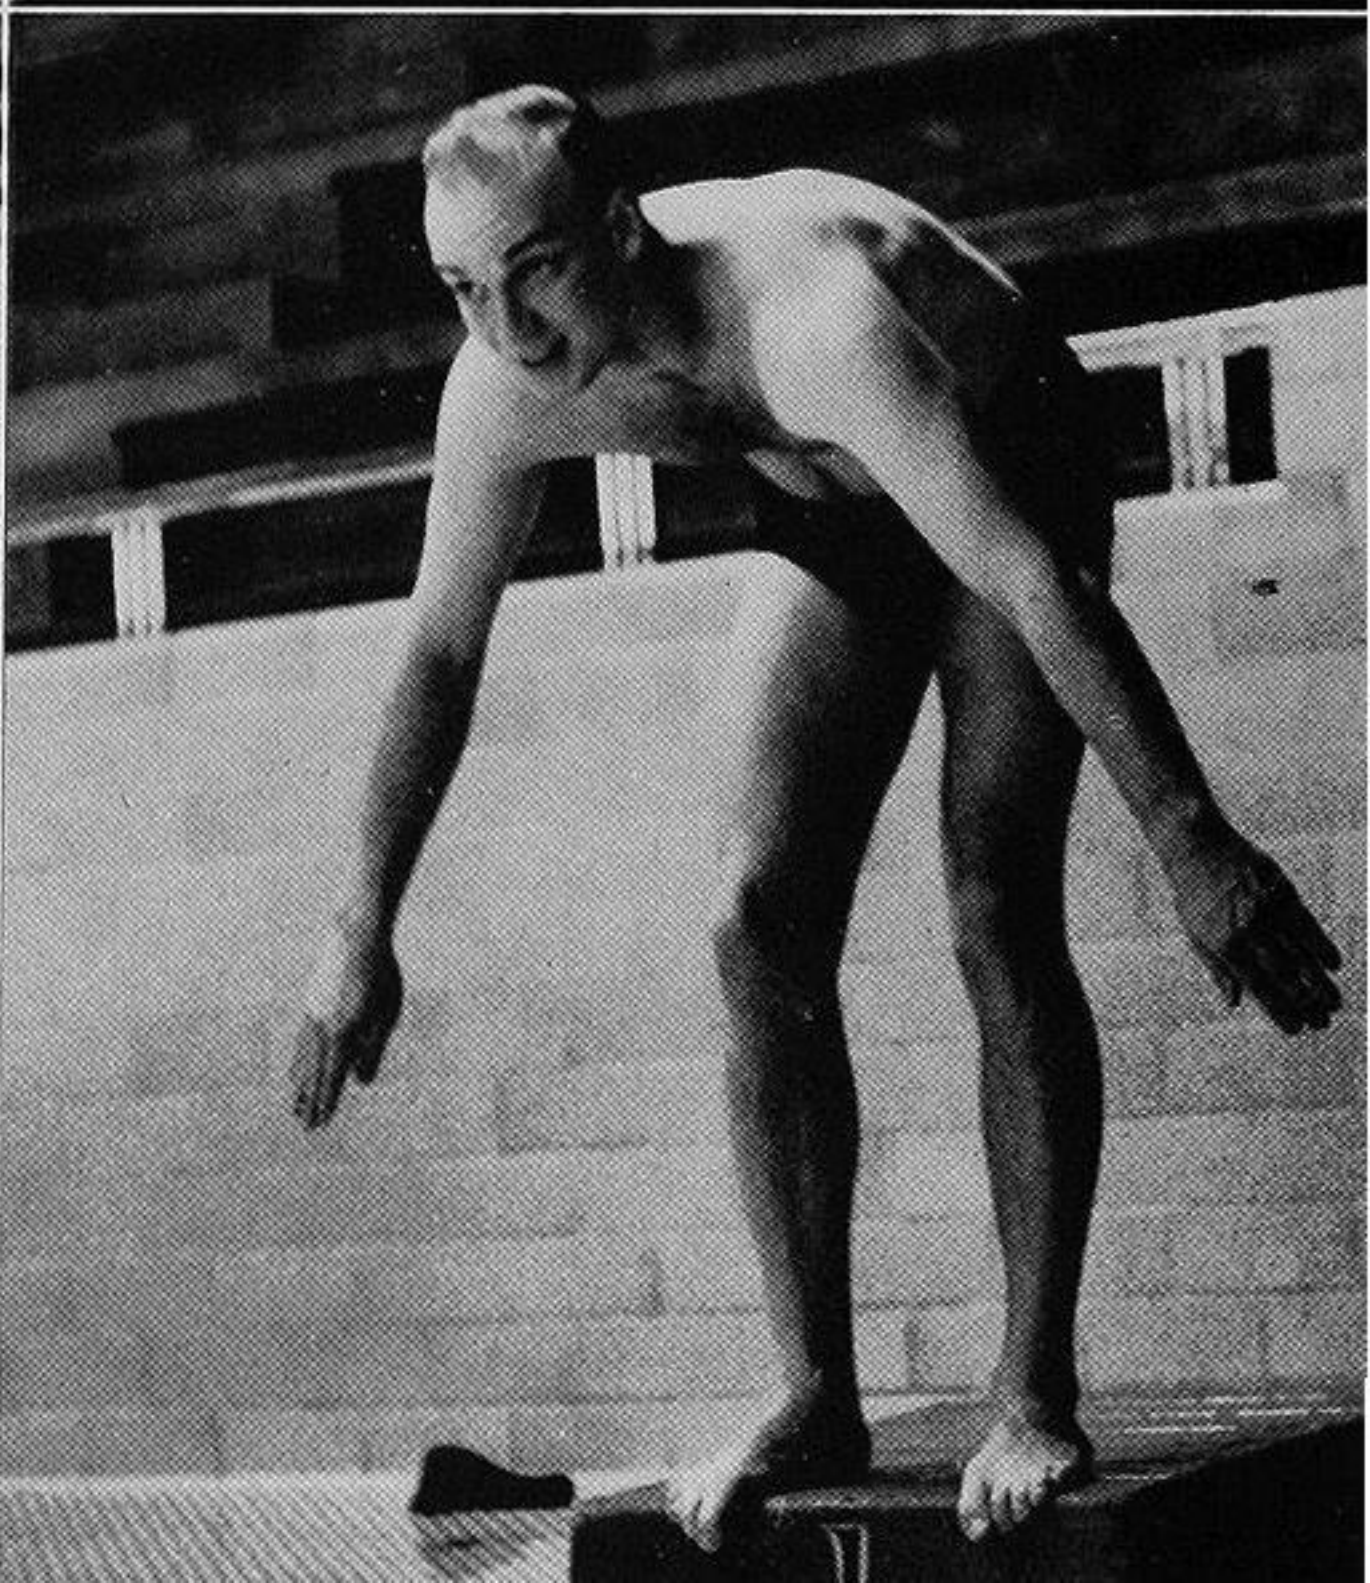

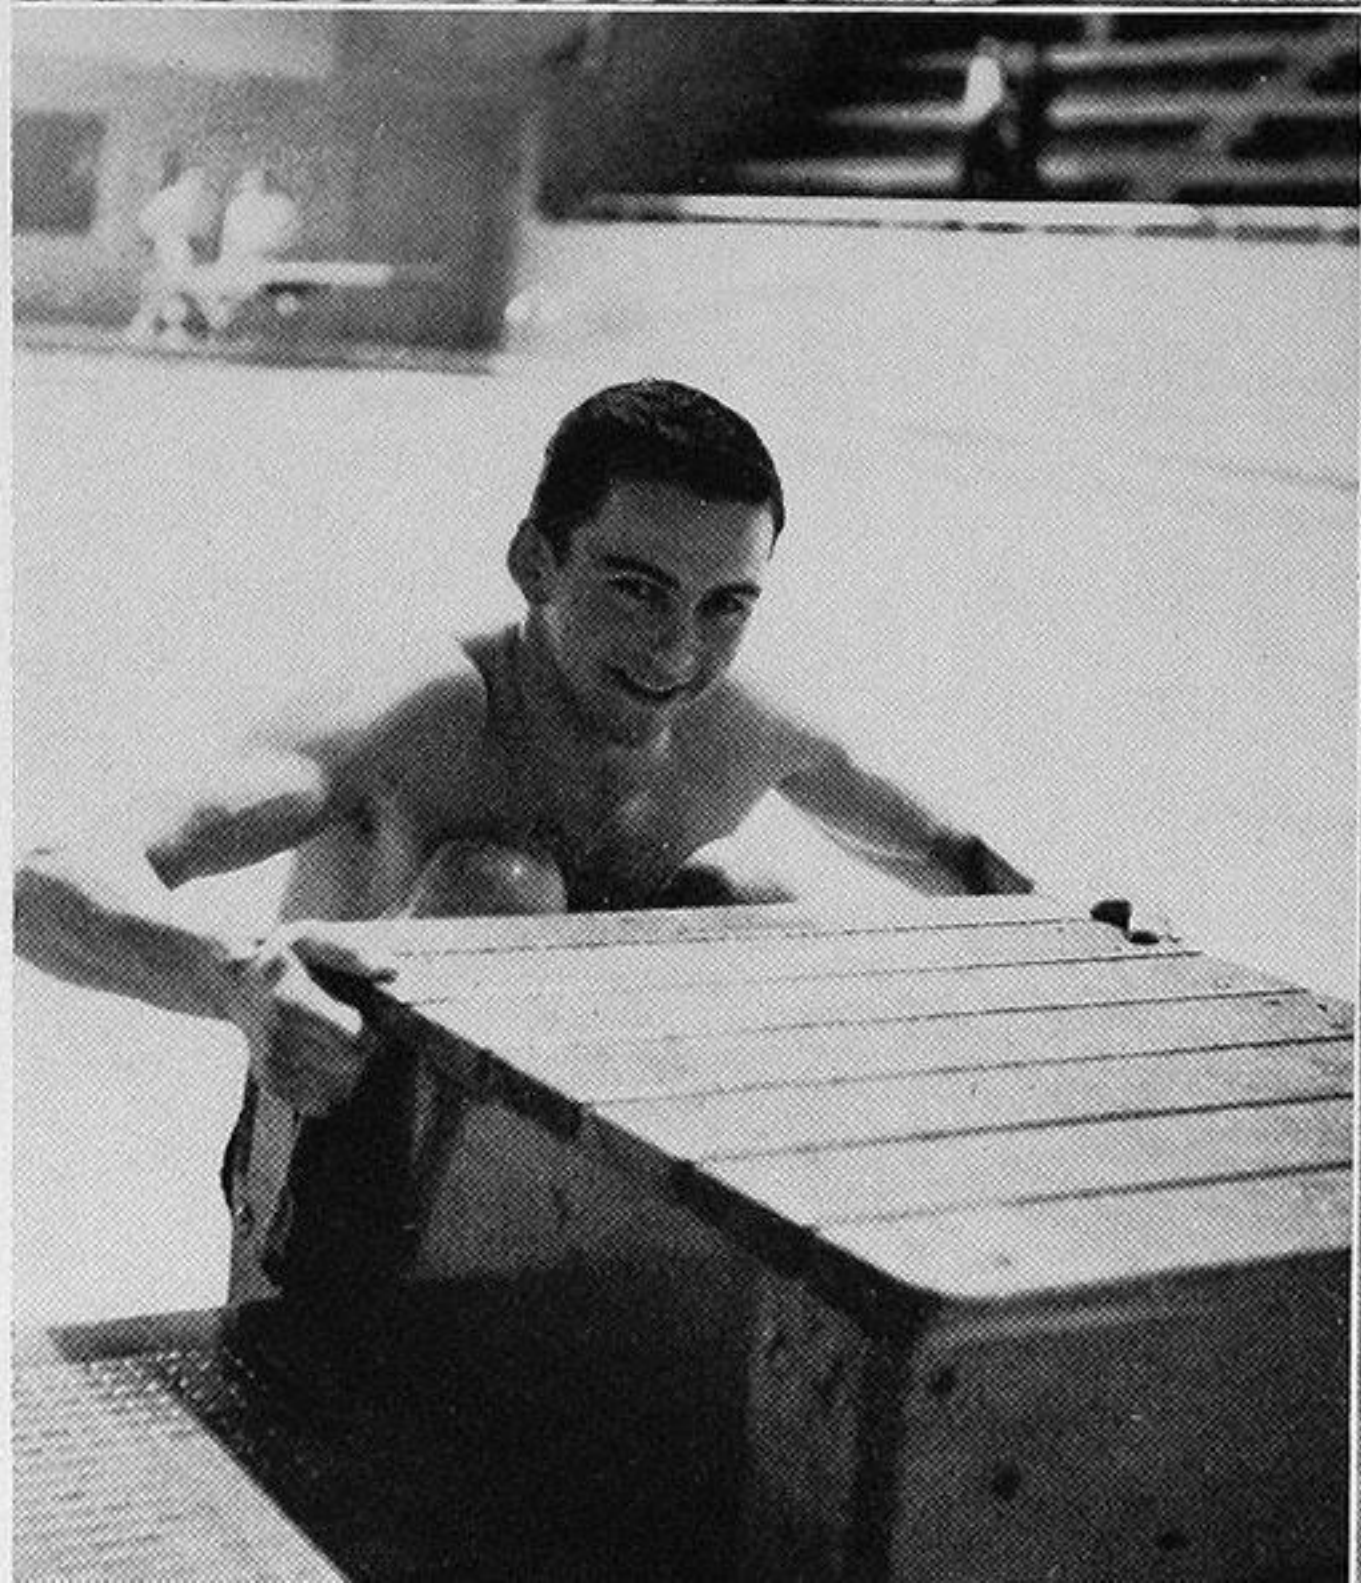

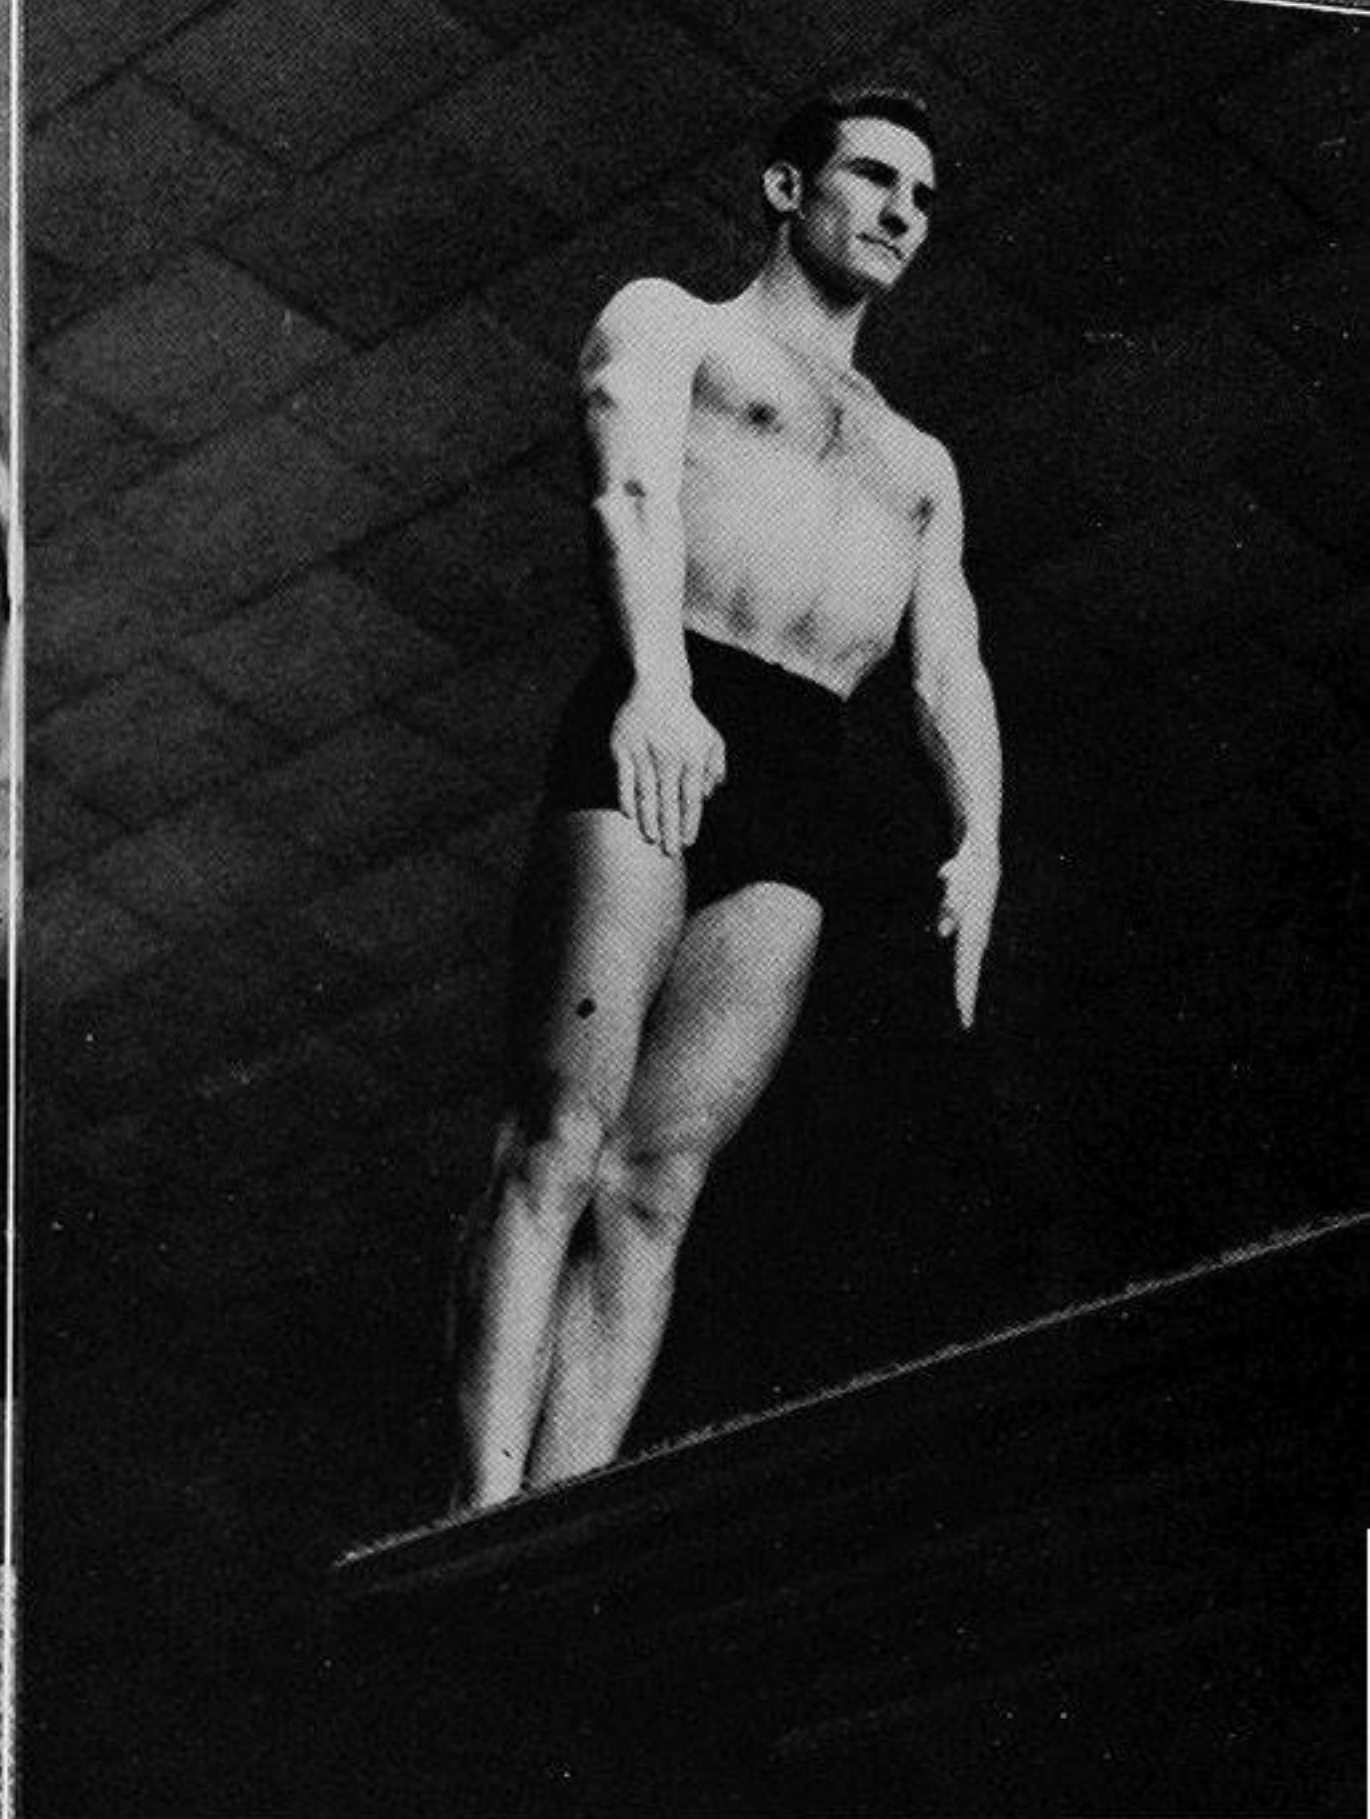

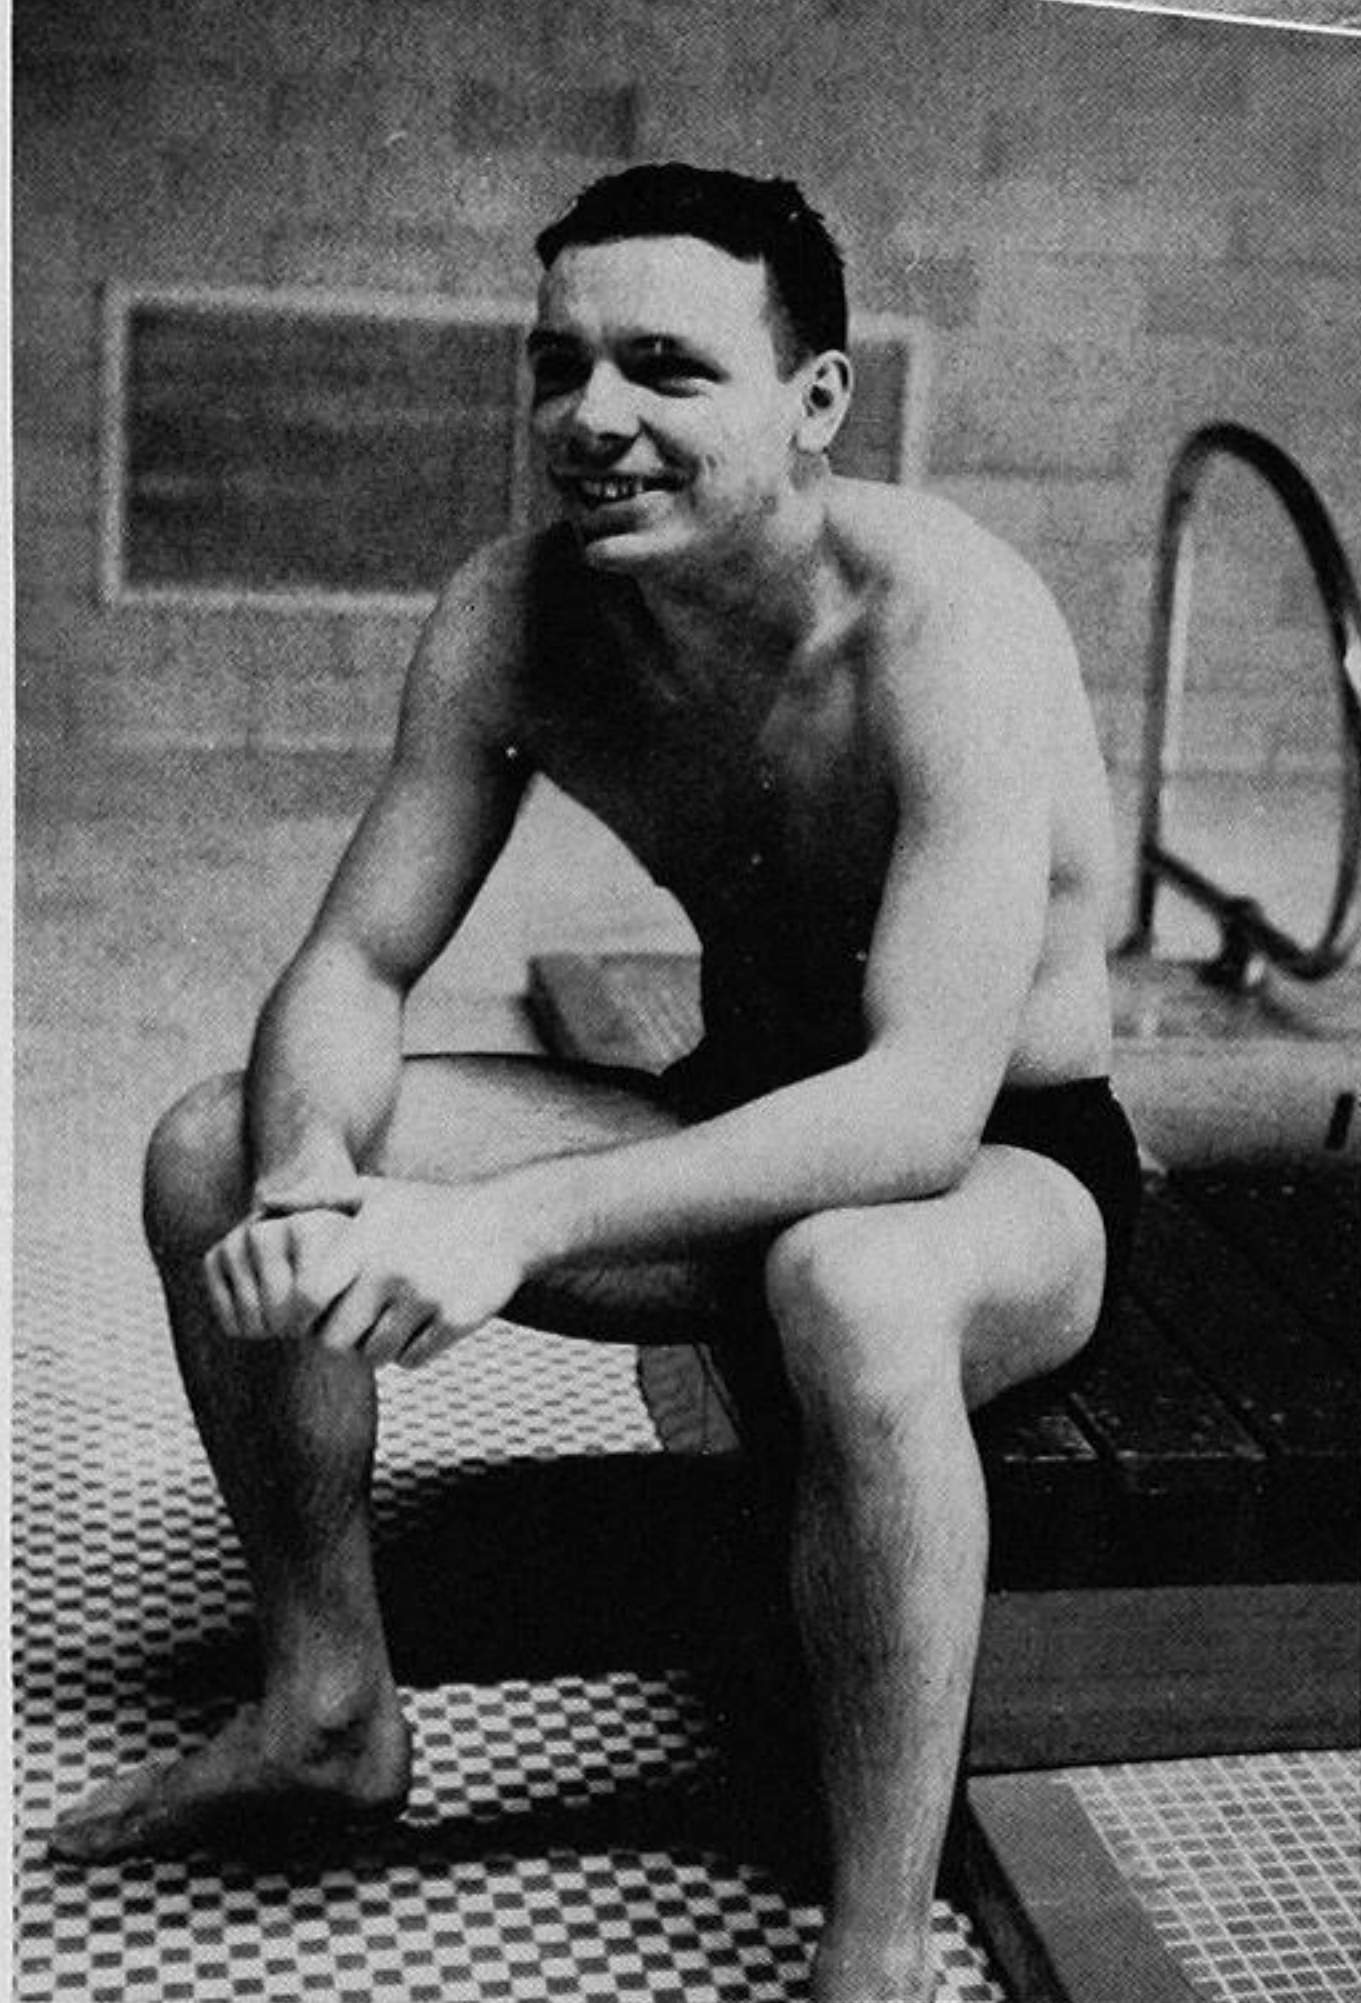

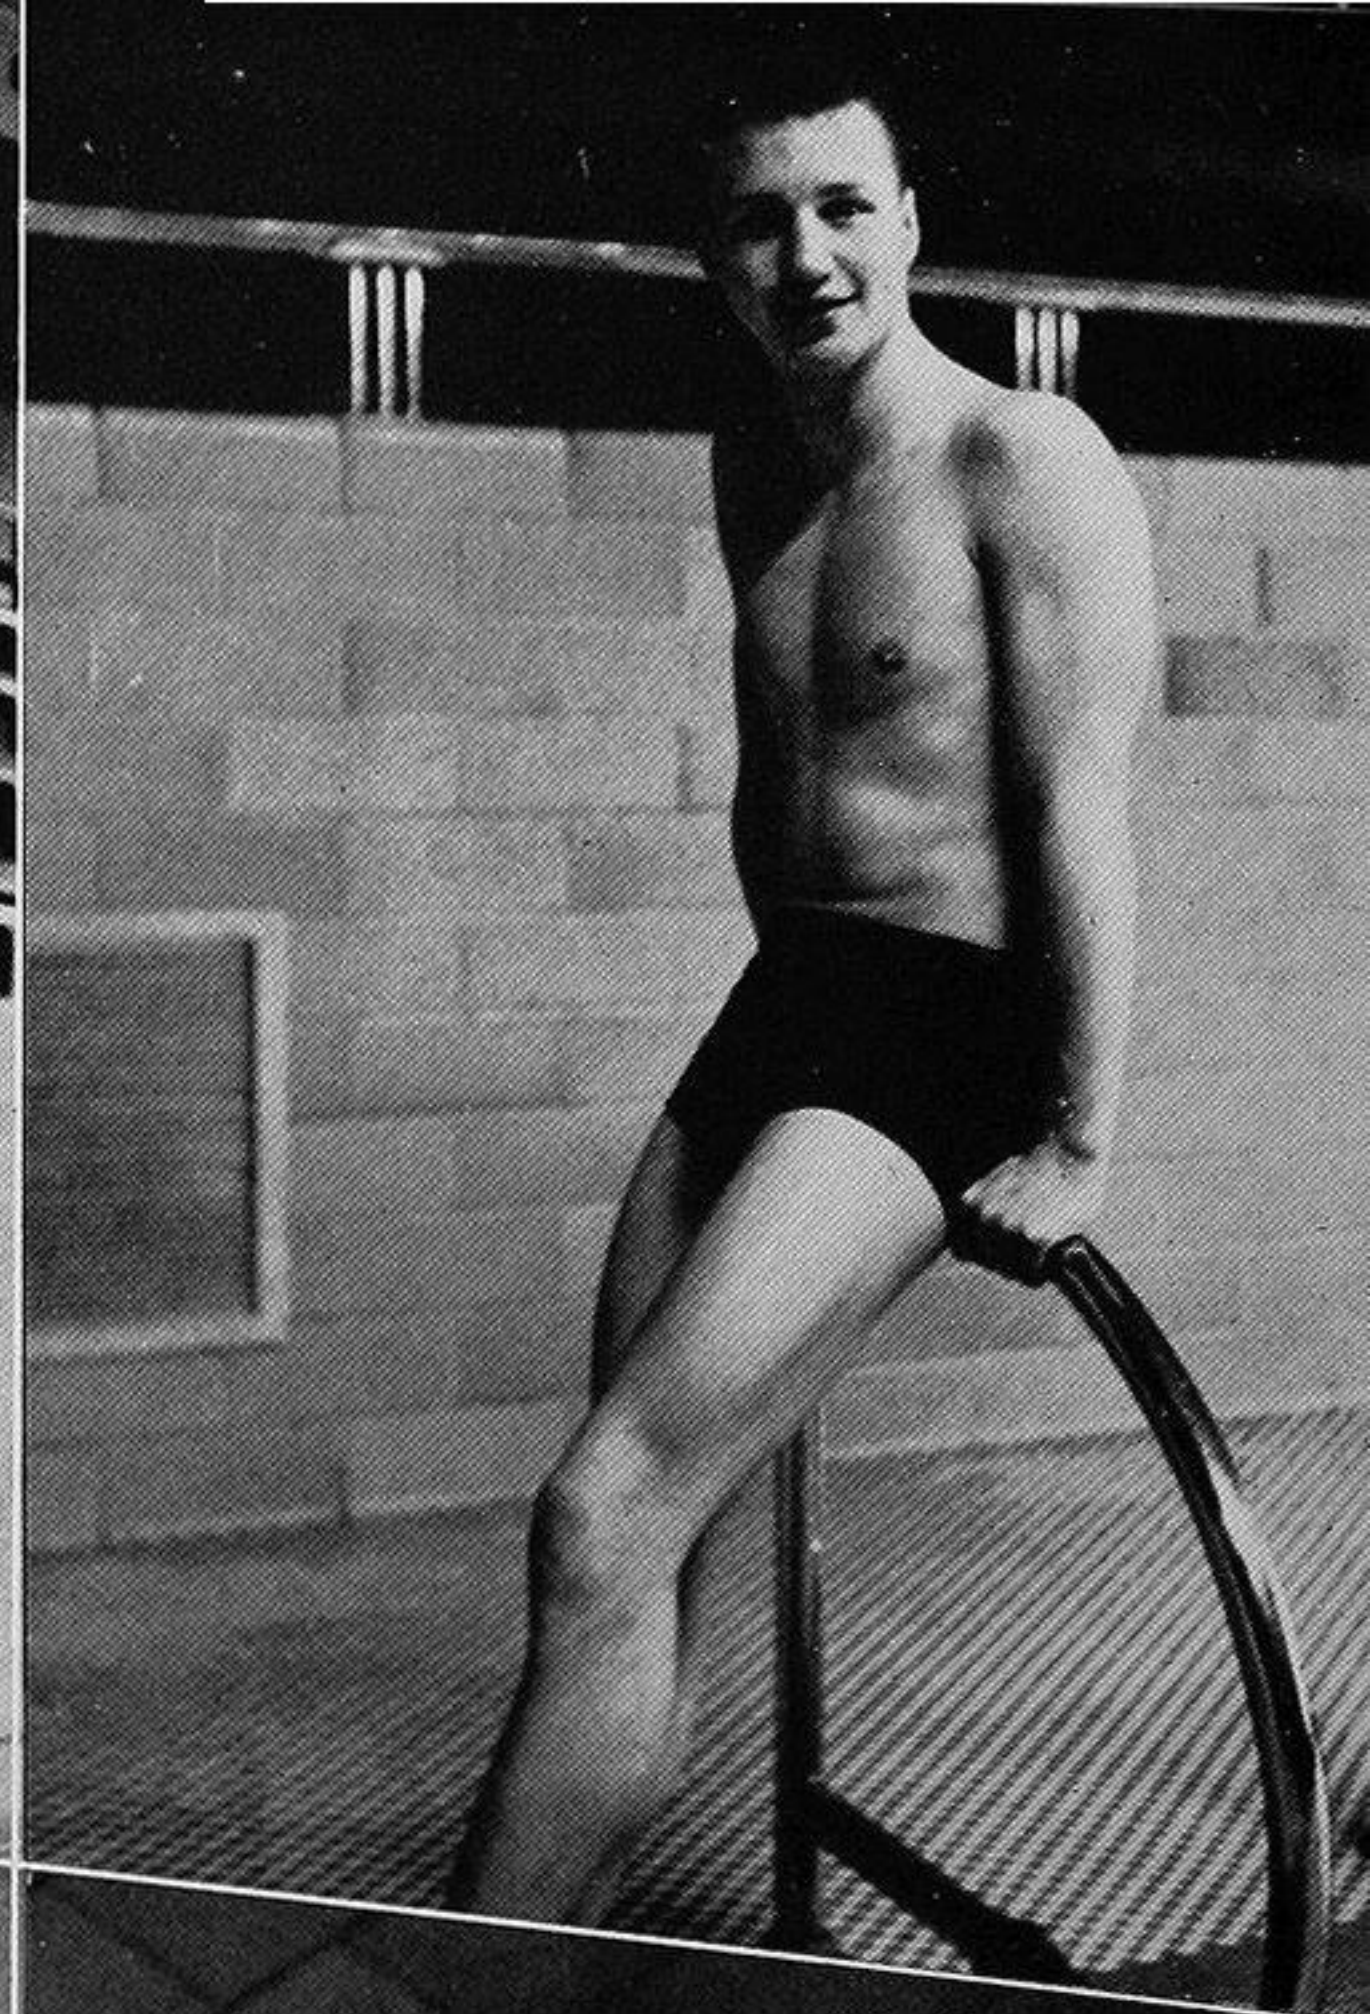

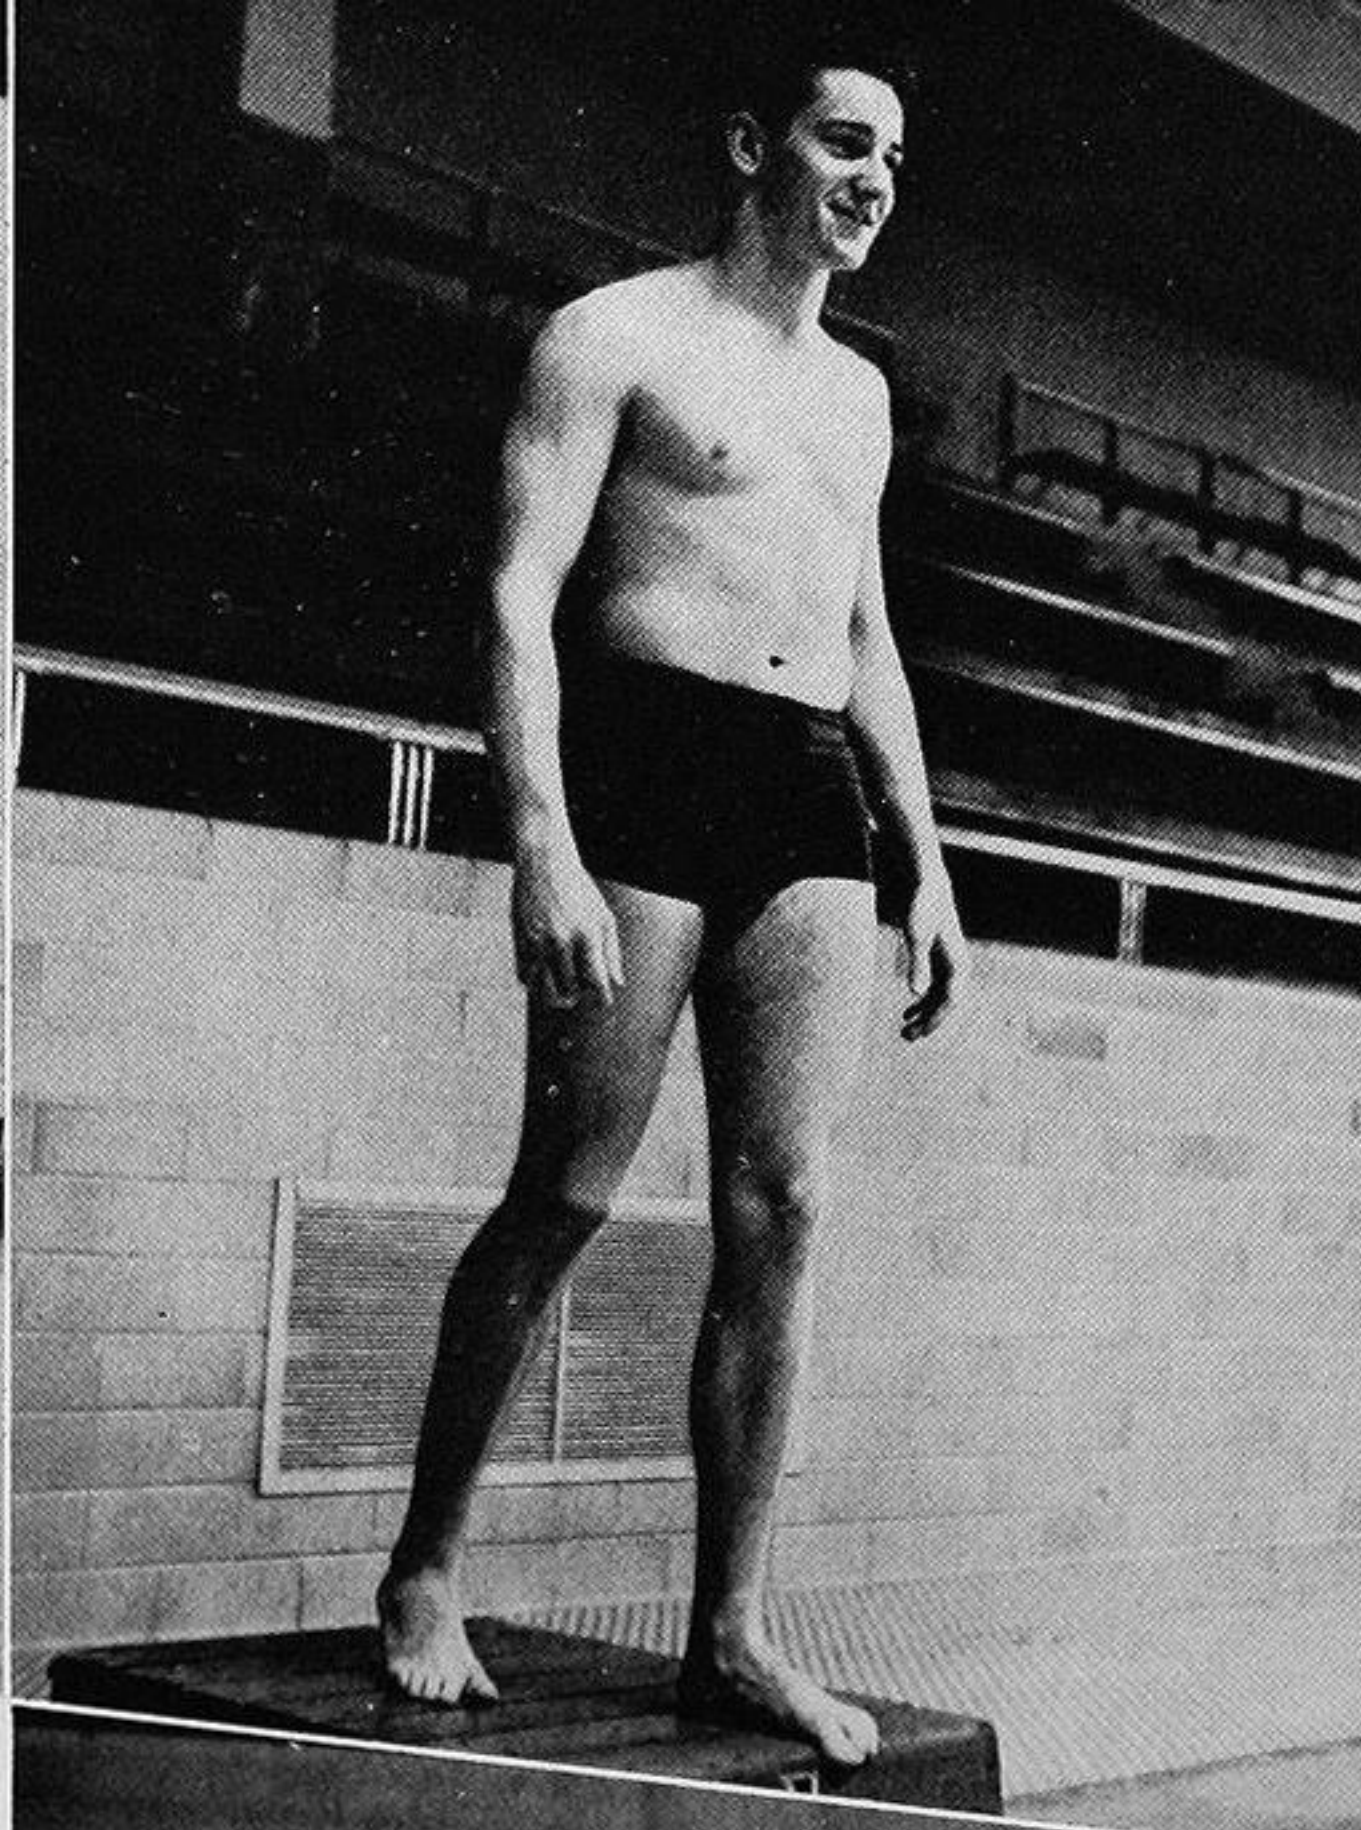

Former Oregon high school All-American backstroker is JOHN GOODE. Changing events, he swam the 100 and 220 yard freestyle races and led off the 400 yard freestyle relay team for the Huskies.

Starting off the season by losing a disputed decision in the first conference meet, BOB HAMBLIN played a key role in the success of UW swim fortunes. He won the 100 and 200 yard backstroke races and swam a leg of the victorious medley relay team.

MERRILL HODGES, at far right, Washington's All-American diver, finished up another successful season by winning the Northern Division high and low board titles. He got keen competition against Oregon but showed championship qualities under pressure.

Freshman BOB LEWIS showed his worth in the frosh meets and earned a crack at the ND meet where he garnered a pair of third place ribbons in the two backstroke events. With three years of competition remaining, he figures prominently in UW plans.

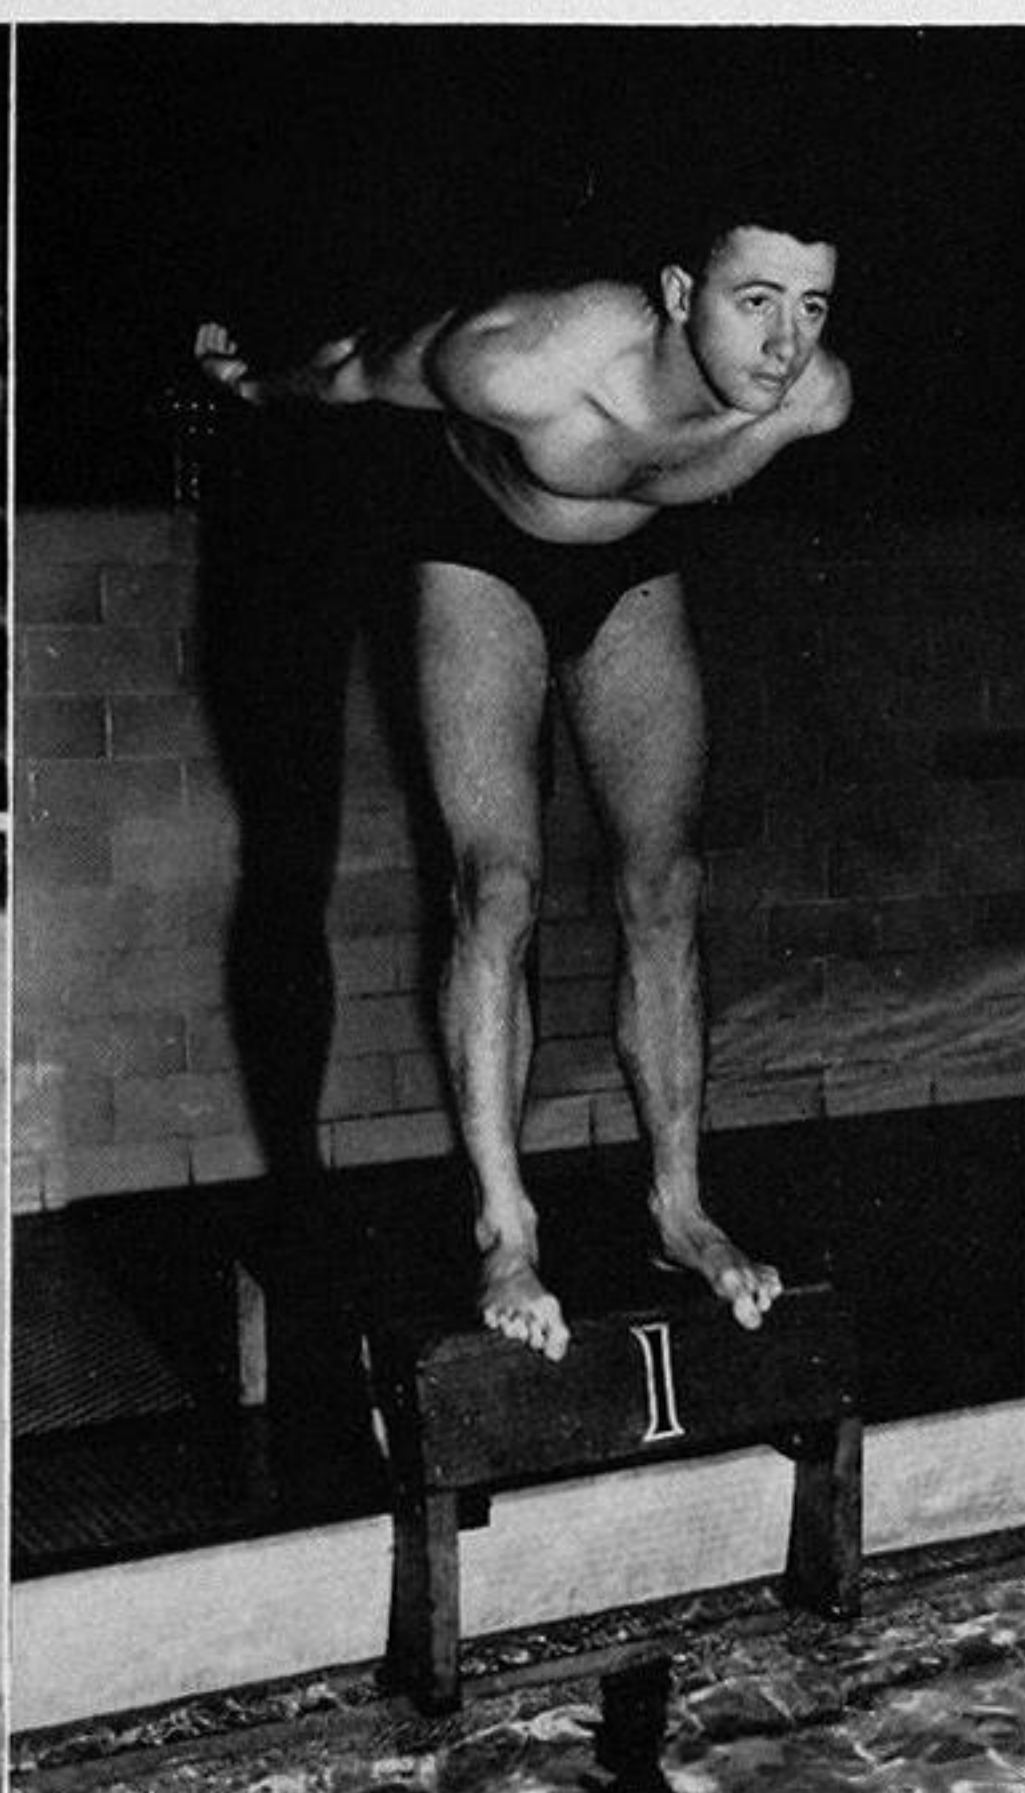

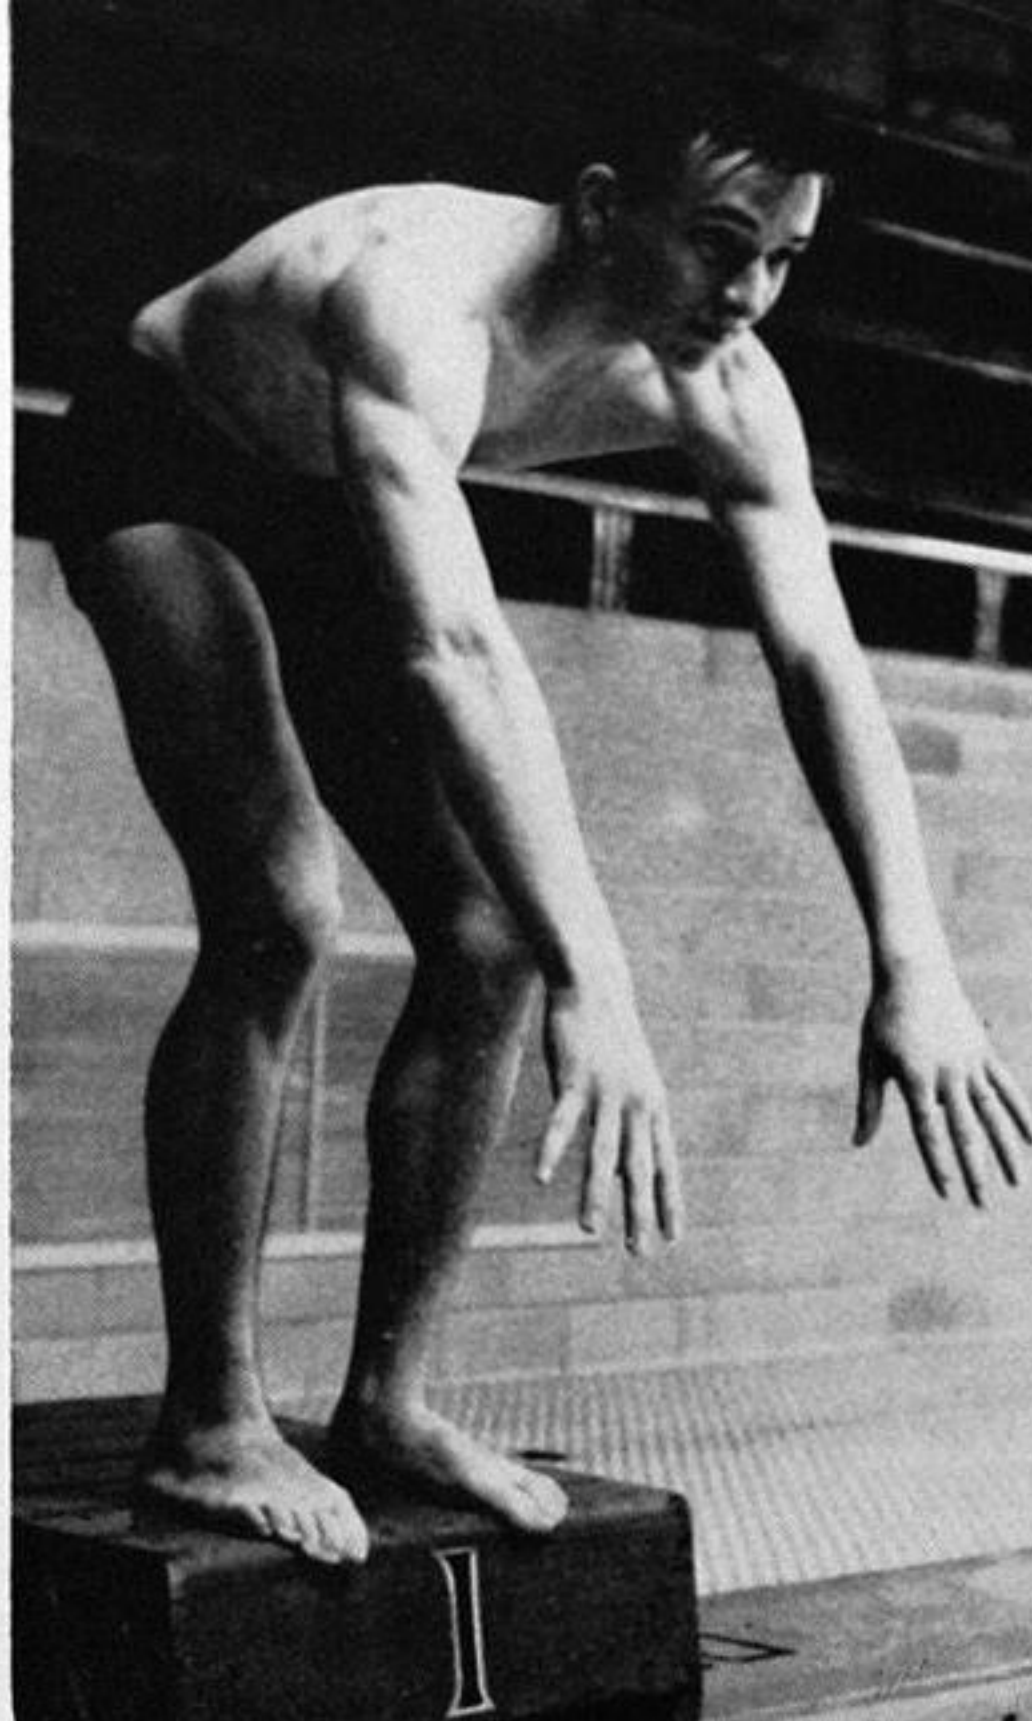

DICK MAGNUSON won All-American recognition for the Huskies in his specialty, the breaststroke, as a sophomore and continued his winning ways this season. He topped all dual meet competition and in the ND meet he took second in the 200 yard event and was first in the 100. He also captured third in the conference 50 yard freestyle race.

Graduating from last year's frosh to the 1952 varsity was TED MILLESON, who proved to be a consistent point getter for the Huskies. At the ND meet he missed a turn and knocked himself out against the wall but managed to finish out the race.

Sophomore JIM PORTELANCE set several national frosh records for the 1500 meter distance last season but failed to better his marks this year. At the ND meet he placed second in the 1500 meters, third in the 440 freestyle and fourth in the 220 freestyle.

A freestyler who was converted to the breaststroke this season and found it to his liking is DICK SIMMONS. During the year he turned in some good times and at the ND meet placed third in the 200 yard breaststroke. He returns next season.

In his first year on the high board for the Huskies, BOB THOMAS came through like a veteran in an event where experience counts most. He proved able to carry his share of the load and returns for more duty in 1953.

One of the hardest workers on the 1952 squad is MYRON SCHALL. His seriousness paid off in the long run as he won third place in the 200 yard individual medley at the Northern Division meet with a year of eligibility remaining.

Swimming his last year under the colors of Washington is PETE SALMON who ranks with Husky all-time greats in the world of swimming. He has been All-American for four seasons and captured the National 150 yard individual medley title. He managed to participate this season despite a heavy Medical school scholastic load, being limited to the home meets.

Freshman ERIC JUBB showed why he was selected on the Canadian Olympic team in 1948 in his first year at Washington. He wound up with a second in the 50 yard freestyle event at the ND meet along with being the squad's top spirit builder.

DOUG STEWART made up for a slow start by finishing up with a spot on the winning medley relay team at the ND meet. He also placed third in the 100 yard breaststroke and returns for the '53 season.

JACK TORNEY III finished the season strong by swimming on two winning relays against Idaho. In the Northern Division he finished fourth in the 200 yard individual medley and sixth in the 200 yard breaststroke.

FROSH SWIMMING

With the brilliant performances turned in by the freshmen last season, this year's team had much to live up to. Proving themselves equal to the job, the yearlings completed a successful season against college frosh and high school competition. The Husky Pups won eight of ten meets, going into action several times with their top competitors performing for the varsity. With Co-Captains Bob Lewis and Eric Jubb along with Dick Elliott and John Goode leading the way, a considerable number of the 1952 frosh squad will swim for the varsity next season.

BUSTER CAMPBELL
Team Coach

At the start of the season, there was hope that Husky snow flyers would again cop the Northwest intercollegiate ski championship crown they had worn for five successive years. But heavy odds embodied in a Scandinavian-bolstered WSC team proved too much for the Varsity squad. Phil Gillis, Gene Brady, Pete Withers, and Norm Welch kept Husky heads above ice water in the downhill-slalom competition, but Palouse jumping strength nosed out Jan Kiaer, Asbjorn Lundteigen and Kjell Bakke in the classics.

Furthermore, Huskies found themselves in a tough spot near the beginning of the season. Veterans Olie Lie, Tor Heyerdahl and Per Pederson didn't return this winter while Ted Hill, top slalom and upper-bracket cross-country artist, broke his leg during training. Footballer Gillis moved into Hill's spot while maintaining first position as downhill man.

But Husky hopes look promising for next year. Already established on the squad is a strong group of frosh skiers: 4-way man Kjell Bakke, 3-way men Ted Hill and Art Chetlain. Also back with the team will be Lundteigen, speedsters Gillis and Welsh, and sophomores John Grobey and Ross McLaughlin, snowmen in downhill and slalom.

Hard working team managers this year were Bob Wikeen, seniors; Chuck Conway, sophomores, and Leigh Rabel and Bill Calvert, frosh managers.

CROSS COUNTRY

Coach Clarence "Hec" Edmundson and his squad of cross country performers turned in another creditable showing during the fall quarter season.

With sophomore Denny Meyer leading the way, the distance team breezed to second place in their only inter-collegiate test of the season at Vancouver, B. C. Meyer pushed Bill Parnell, Canadian Olympic Games performer, all the way to take runnerup individual honors. Other Husky competitors were Rod Nystrom, Field Ryan, Rod Vanderhoff and Bill Richards.

Training site of the Husky runners is a special course through the arboretum. All of the squad members also belong to the UW track squad.

Varsity letters were awarded Denny Meyer, Bill Richards, Rod Nystrom, and Field Ryan.

RIFLE TEAM

With Captain Dwain Colby leading the way, the varsity riflemen brought more honors to the University during the 1951-'52 campaign. The Huskies compiled a season's record of 44 wins and 7 losses. Highlight of the rifle activities was the setting of a new national four-man team scoring record in the Hearst state rifle matches. The Huskies captured the regional collegiate shootoffs and wound up as the nation's third ranking team in NRA telegraphic competition. In the individual regional standings the UW riflemen dominated by taking the first five places. The Huskies also captured the small bore rifle league of the Puget Sound Rifleman Association with Captain Colby establishing a national four-position iron sights record.

Varsity letterwinners are Dwain Colby, Guy Belleman, Ed Osborne, Bob White, Gordon McAllister, Richard Tyler, David Moline, Leroy Hovde, Ray Graham and Jack Radnich.

BOXING

Highlight of the University boxing season was the thrill-packed Fistfest, sponsored by the Associated Men Students. Varsity Minor "W" awards were presented the victors of the eight matches on the card.

In the unlimited heavyweight division, Joe McIntyre punched his way to an easy decision over Nat O'Day. In the semi-windup event Con Walker won a verdict from John Crawford. Archie McLean, the only defending Fistfest champion, retained his title by taking a T.K.O. verdict in the second round from Dick Berry. Ken Ericksen turned in a relative upset by downing Ed Redkey to win the 155-165 pound division. Ericksen was also presented with the AMS Inspirational Plaque from last year's winner, Don Roos. Battling Ben Hayes, the punchy politician, won over Fuat "Terrible Turk" Turancioli in one of the most colorful bouts on the card. In the 135-145 pound division Bill Brady was the victor over Kent Kammerer, while Grant Moyer beat Dick Hall and Lee Contreras took the nod from Gene Okamura in the first two bouts of the evening.

ARCHIE McLEAN, winner of the 175-185 pound division, takes one on the chin from JOHN CRAWFORD. McLEAN won by a T.K.O.

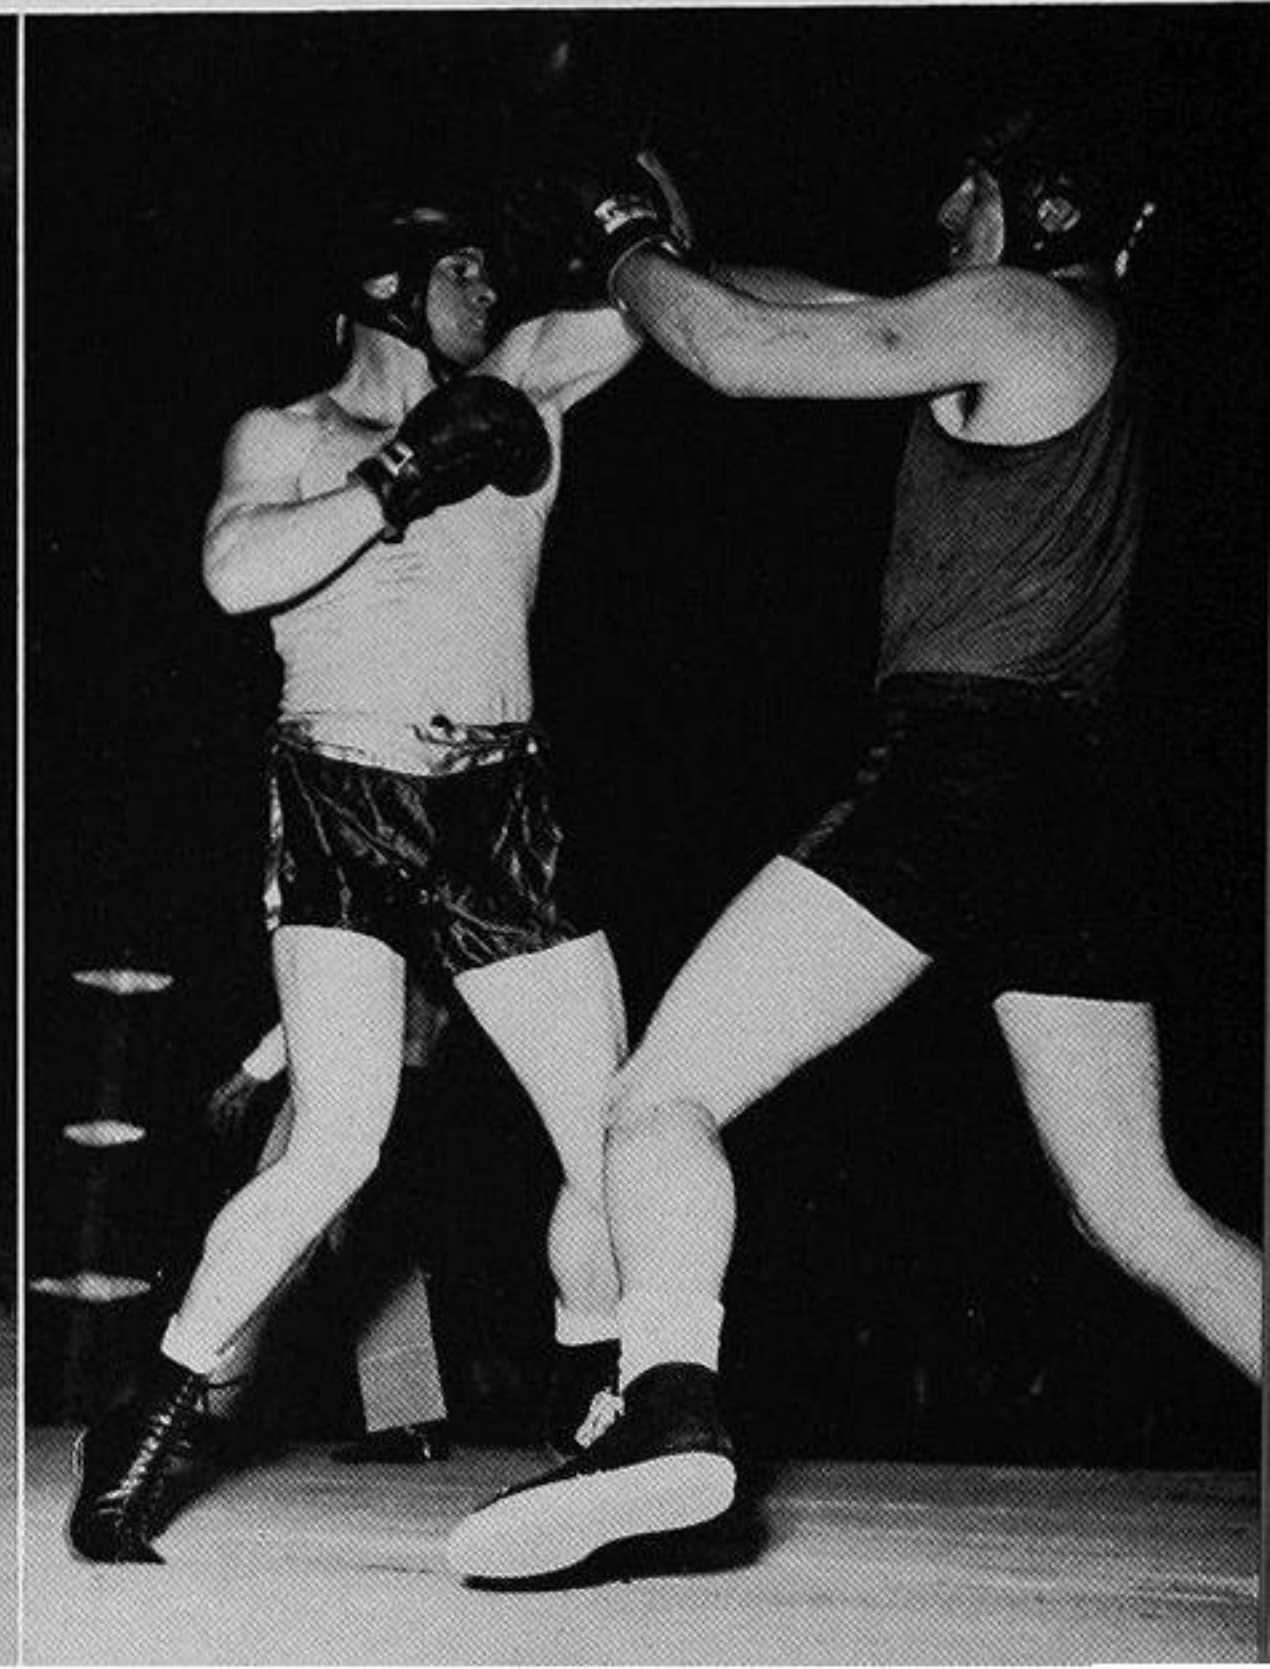

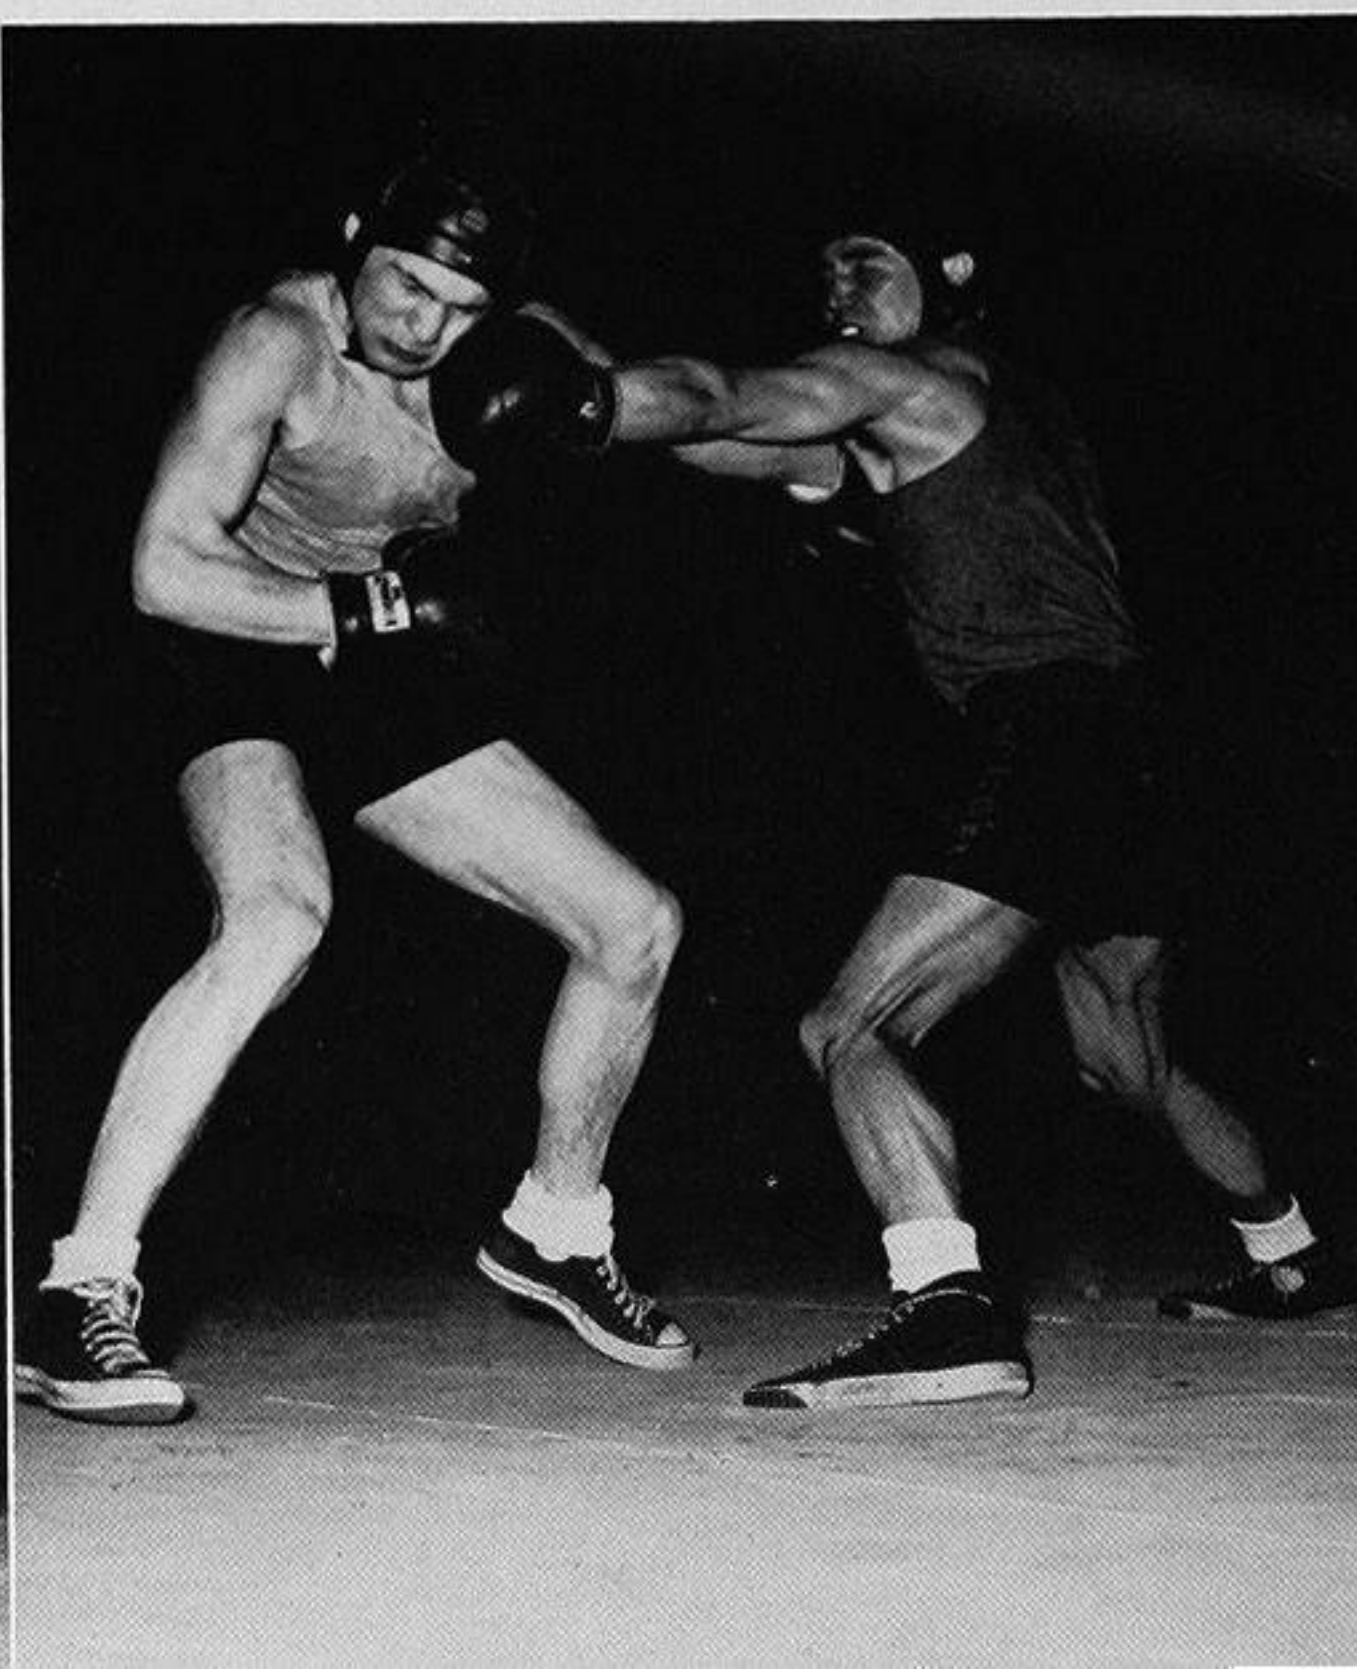

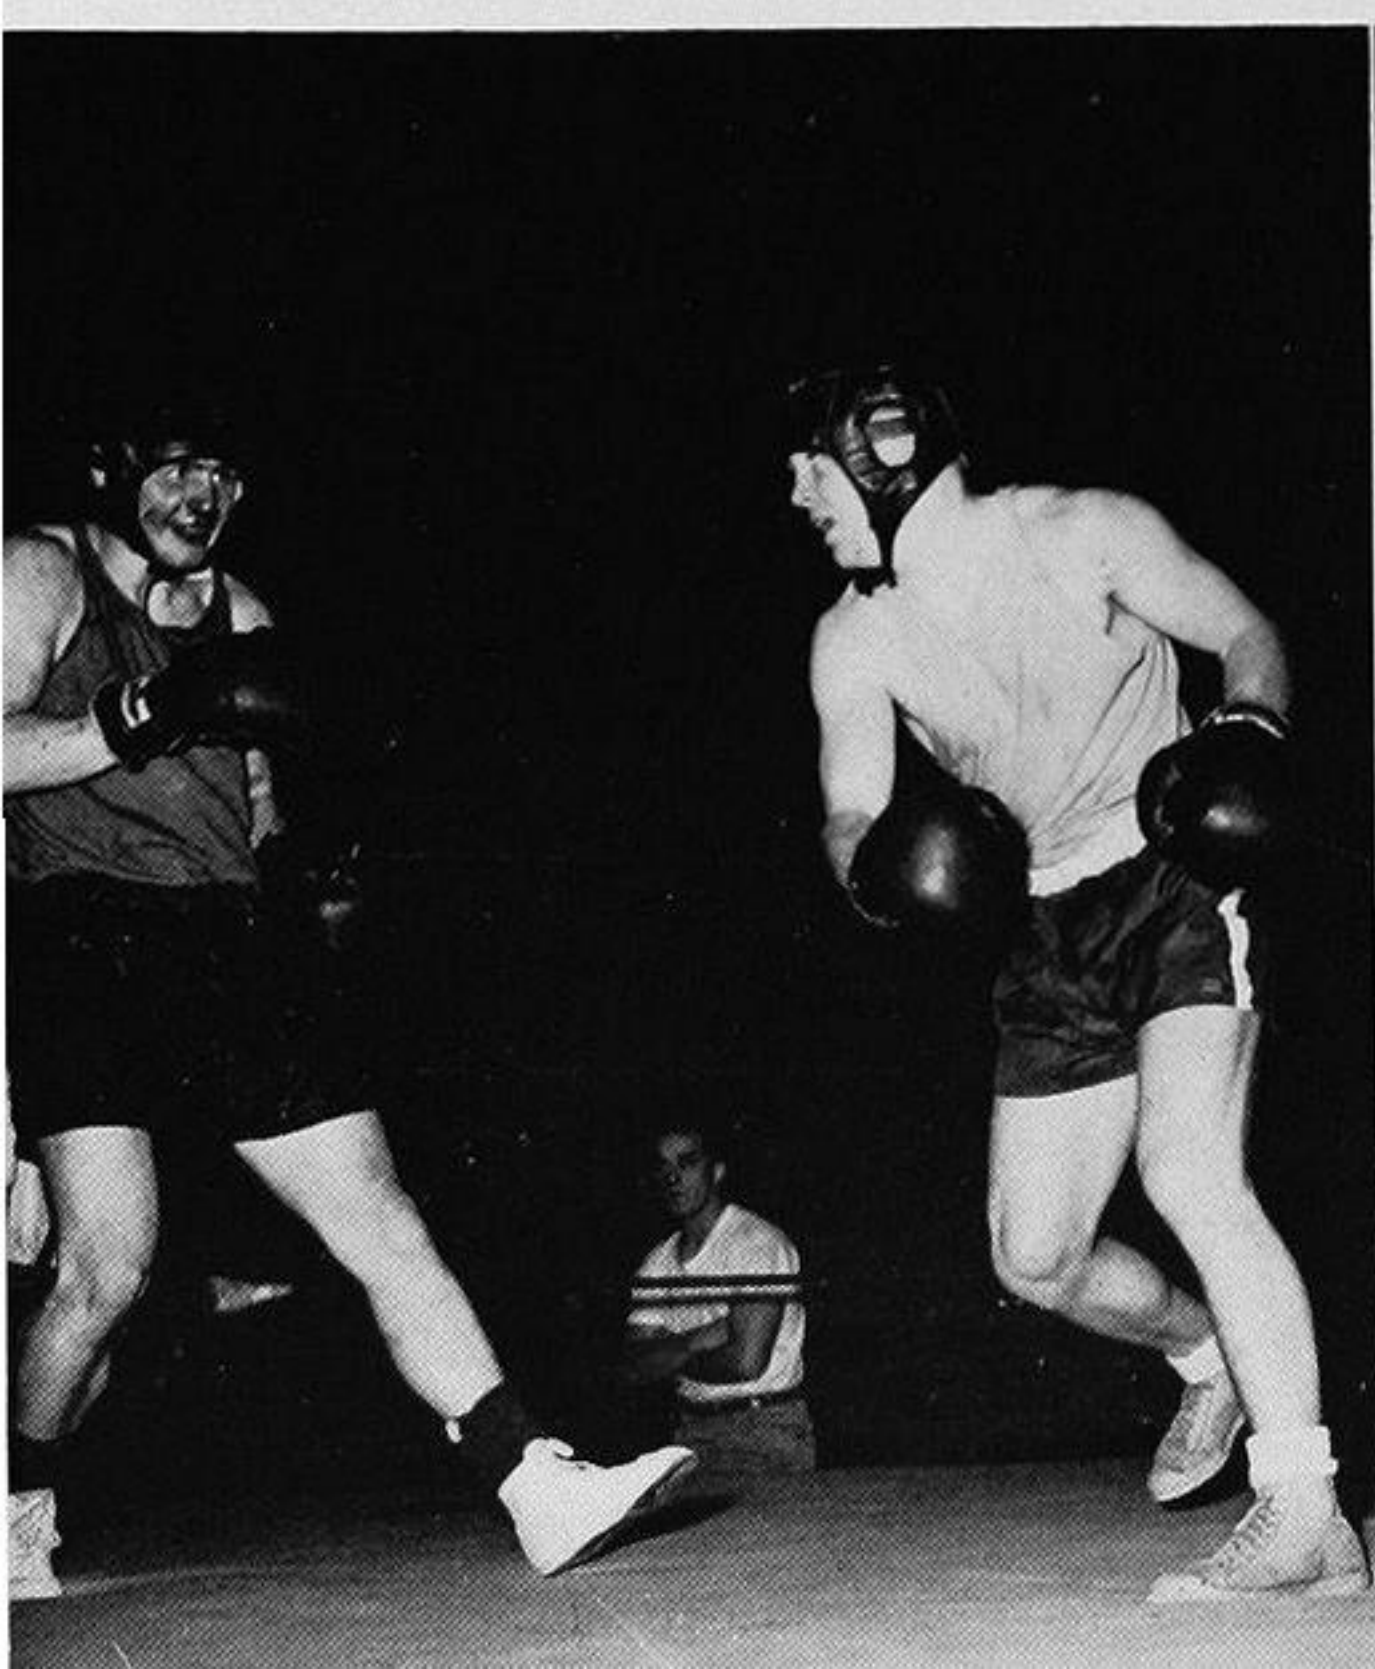

DON ROOS, first winner of the AMS Inspiration Boxing Plaque, receives the ward from CARL LOVSTED, chairman of last year's Fistfest. This year's winner and chairman were KEN ERICKSEN and RICK ADAMS.

BILL BRADY moves in on KENT KAMMERER in his quest for the 135-145 pound division title. BRADY was the winner.

The Terrible Turke, FUAT TURANCIOL, connects against BEN HAYES in one of the evening's top bouts. HAYES took the decision.

JOE McINTYRE and NAT O'DAY mix it up in their unlimited heavyweight match which climaxed the Fistfest festivities.

VARSIITY VOLLEYBALL

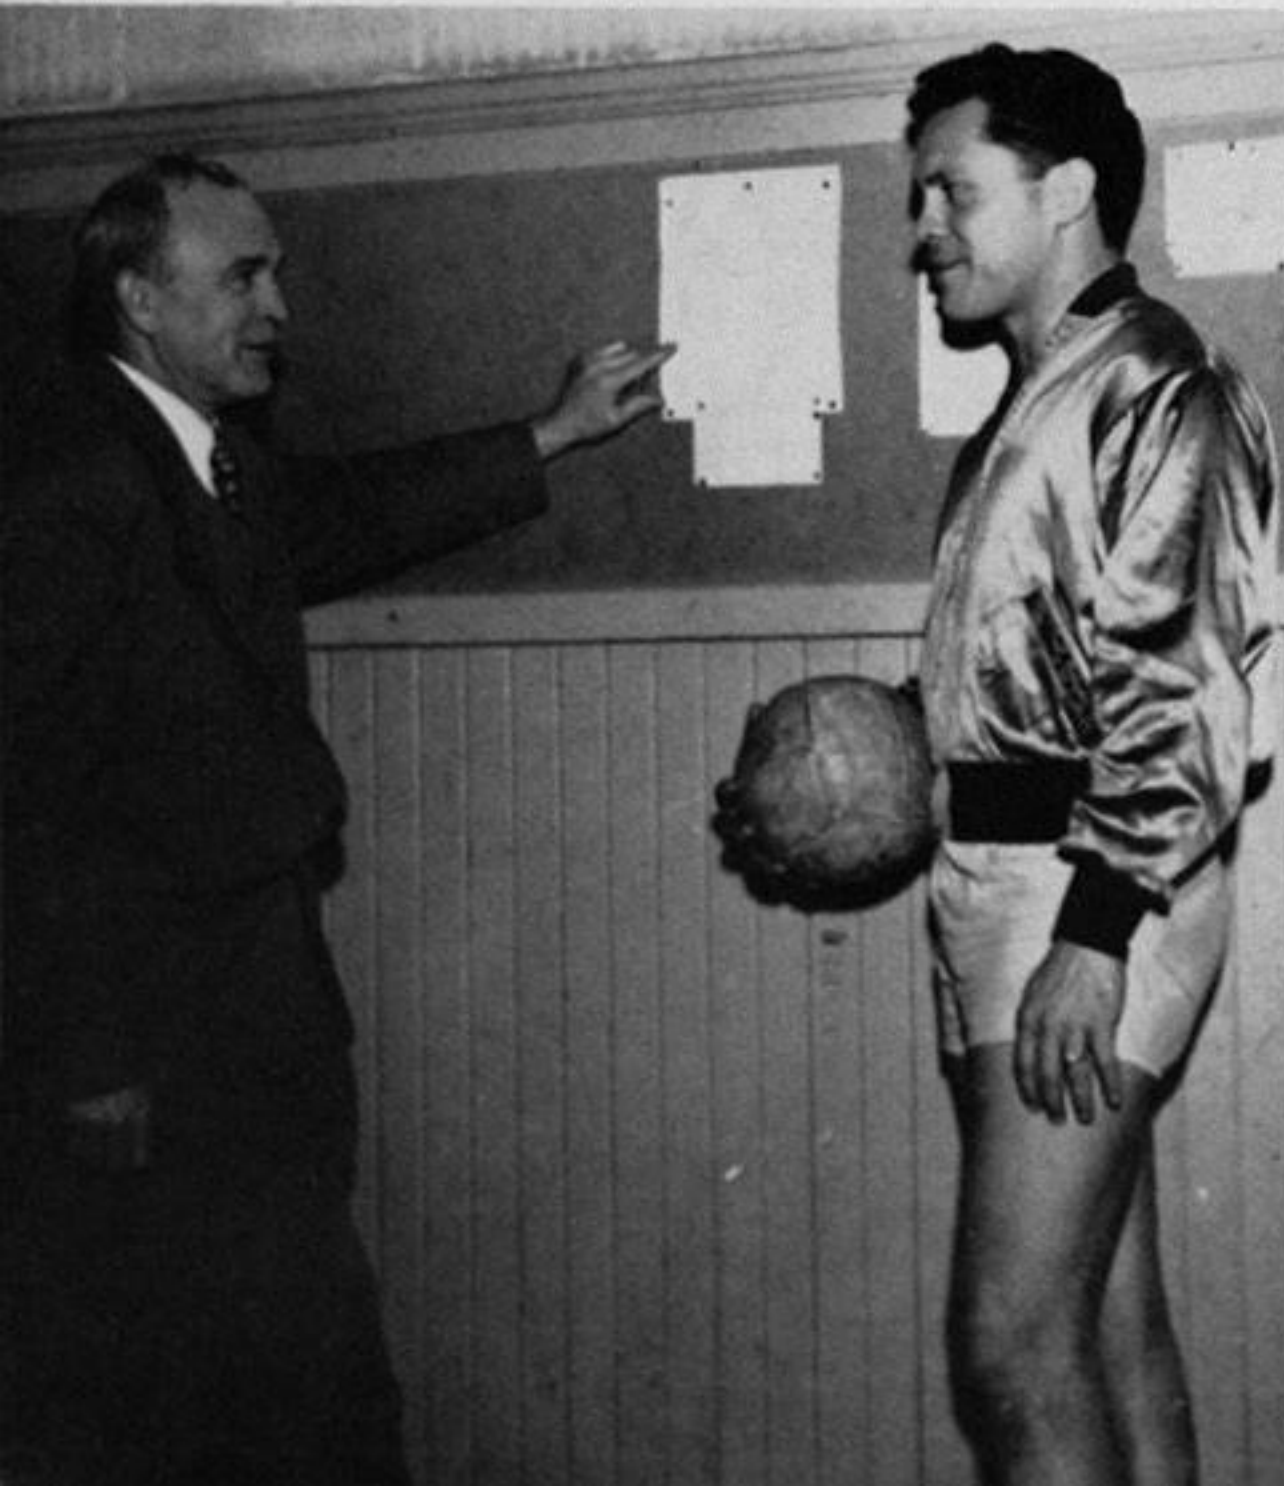

Husky volleyball forces, under the guidance of Coach Norm Kunde, completed another successful season during the 1951-'52 school year. The Huskies compiled a match record of 11 wins and 4 losses and played a total of 58 games.

Sparked by lanky Stan Ellexson, the UW team came down the homestretch of the season with five match victories. Ellexson carried the brunt of the offense after Jan Robins was lost to the squad through illness and a shoulder injury.

The season marked the first time in UW history that the Huskies were beaten by another college squad. The Portland University Pilots toppled the Husky team in the Northwest Intercollegiate Invitational tournament.

Missing from next year's lineup will be four graduating seniors: Captain Carl Bode, three-year letterman; Len Tucker and Stan Ellexson, two-year lettermen; and Jan Robins, one-year letterman.

Other squad members who were awarded circled W's for 1951-'52 play are: Kent Beckman, Aavo Kalviste, Jim Narte, Ken Pim, Milt Uehara, and Aaron Vederhoff.

Coach NORM KUNDE and Captain CARL BODE check over the team schedule during a turnout session. STAN ELLEXSON, the Huskies' offensive star, goes high in the air for a running spike effort.

WOMEN'S SPORTS

INFORMALS

One of the favorite pastimes of University students, when the weather permits, is tennis. Isabel Henley, president of the tennis club, sharpens her serve on one of the many courts next to the women's P. E. building.

Highlight of the women's swimming season is the annual Silver Fish show which has always been a top drawing attraction. Members of the swim organization practice regularly in preparation for the show. This year the show was jointly presented with the Husky Swim Club in the Men's Pool.

Bowling has always been popular with a club, regular intramural petition, and P.E. classes. During the winter months when outside activities sometimes have to be curtailed, bowling takes the spotlight.

Members of Silver Fish take time out in one of their regular practice sessions. The girls work together to improve their form, skills and rhythm in coordinated group swimming.

SILVER FISH

Silver Fishes is composed of an outstanding group of women swimmers who are chosen for their swimming techniques. Each spring the year's activities are culminated by a water ballet which displays the swimming talents of individuals in intricate formations.

Climaxing the year's work are members of the club as they relax on the edge of the pool after the 1951 show, "Four Winds and the Seven Seas."

1st row: Monty Snider, Agnes Yambao, Billie Smith, Marilyn Rogers, Jean Roscoe, Shirley Adams, Miriam Pherson, Amarylis Shanafelt, Margaret Grubbe, Shirley Hein, Pat Doyle, Al Wager.

Promenaders

Promenaders is a co-educational folk dance group which dances for fun, for exhibitions, and sponsored the All-U folk dance mixers.

ORCHESIS

Orchesis, the modern dance honorary, meets twice a week to create dance patterns and further develop the abilities in dance techniques of the individual members. The members of the club are: Lois Bill, Emmy Lou Leedy, Ronda Barnard, and Marjorie Barlow.

DANCE DRAMA

To be eligible to participate in Dance Drama, girls must turn out in a modern dance class during fall quarter and then be selected. Girls participating during the 1951-'52 year were:

Marjorie Barlow
Isabel Henley
Mary Carrigan
Helene Tsutsumoto
Adrienne Wright
Ronda Barnard
Peggy Ballard
Darlene Dexter
Nancy Cope
Shirley Chase

Lois Bill
Patty Steward

AWARDS

JUNIOR FACULTY MEDALIST

A chemistry major in the College of Arts and Sciences, JAMES ROBB GROVER, of Sutherlin, Oregon, was awarded the Faculty Medal for outstanding scholarship. He is a High Scholarship Certificate winner and is a member of Phi Lambda Upsilon, chemistry honorary.

Presentation of the President's and Faculty Medals highlighted the annual President's Fall Convocation for 1950-51. The President's Medal was conferred upon the graduating senior who had maintained the highest record over the four years of undergraduate work. Faculty Medals were awarded to students in the sophomore and junior classes who had made the best scholastic records in their classes during their freshman-sophomore and freshman-sophomore-junior college years, respectively.

DARREL ELWOOD STAVIG, now a junior in premedicine, received the Faculty Medal at the close of his sophomore year and has also won a High Scholarship Certificate.

PRESIDENT'S MEDALIST

JANET LOUISE FITHIAN, above, receives the President's Medal and congratulations from Dr. Raymond B. Allen. Twice a winner of the Faculty Medal, Janet is a graduate in psychology and has received a Fullbright scholarship to continue her studies in psychiatric social work. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and secretary of Psi Chi, psychology honorary.

1951 BACCALAUREATE HONORS

Baccalaureate honors are based on the entire scholastic record of the graduate. The distinction of summa cum laude signifies a minimum grade—point average of 3.9; magna cum laude an average of 3.6; and cum laude an average of 3.35. The honor summa cum laude is awarded only to students who have completed four full years at the University of Washington; magna cum laude and cum laude are awarded to those who have completed not less than ninety hours at the University of Washington, together with a record of distinction at institutions previously attended.

Phi Beta Kappa is the oldest Greek letter society in the United States, founded in 1776 at the College of William and Mary. The object of the society is to recognize outstanding scholarship in the liberal arts and sciences. Washington Alpha Chapter was founded in 1914.

The 175th anniversary of the founding of Phi Beta Kappa was celebrated on December 5, 1951. At the Initiation ceremony, a program of Eighteenth Century music, played on the Eighteenth Century Instruments, was presented by Mrs. Else Geissmar at the harpsichord and Miss Eva Heinitz at the viola da gamba. Dr. Stanley Chapple and Mr. Richard Wilkie, president, are looking on.

Sigma Epsilon Sigma, the underclasswomen's scholastic honorary, is composed of all sophomore women who have maintained a 3.5 grade point average during their freshman year. Members are considered active only in their sophomore year, but membership continues throughout one's entire college career. On their fall calendar, members serve as hostesses at the annual President's Tea honoring outstanding freshmen. But the big event of the year is Sigma Epsilon Sigma's sucker sale. The proceeds from the venture go toward providing a scholarship for some deserving freshman woman.

Mortar Board is the thirteenth chapter of the National Senior Women's Honorary now found in 78 university campuses. The organization promotes college loyalty, advances service and fellowship among college women, maintains a high standard of scholarship and encourages leadership qualities.

Members are chosen in their junior year as examples of co-eds outstanding in service, leadership and scholarship. A grade point three-tenths above the all-university average is required. Mortar Board sponsors the annual traditional Tolo dance and honors the two outstanding sophomore and junior girls of the year by presenting two plaques at the AWS Scholarship Banquet.

Besides these activities, Mortar Board lives up to its criterion of service by assisting at University functions whenever needed. Mortar Board girls act as hostesses for the President's Reception for freshmen and usher at the Convocation Assembly in the spring.

Fir Tree, founded in 1907, is an organization which rewards undergraduates at the University who have performed services in athletics, debate, journalism and other worthy student activities.

As a distinguishing feature, Fir Tree is not organized to serve the University as a body but to designate those who have shown unselfish devotion and service to Washington.

Membership is limited to undergraduate men who have taken all their college work at the University of Washington. The fir tree is a fitting emblem because it is indigenous to our state and reaches its greatest height when grown from the beginning in one place, surrounded by its fellows.

Totem Club was founded at the University of Washington in 1932 to give recognition to a wider group of women leaders than had been previously possible. The club is an upperclass women's activity honorary comparable to the Oval Club for men. Coeds are tapped during the spring of their junior year by presentation of miniature totem poles. Totem Club sponsors the annual Song and Stunt Night and jointly sponsors the Honors Banquet.

Oval Club on the University of Washington campus is a self-perpetuating organization whose motto is "Service to Washington." Continuously active since 1907, Oval Club has preserved the traditions, the ideals, and the history of the "University of a Thousand Years." Above average grades and upperclassman's status in the University are the basic requirements for membership. Fulfilling these, members are elected to the club on the basis of their service to the University of Washington. This athletic and activity honorary performs many large and small services for the betterment of the University throughout the year. Among the school services are a Faculty Banquet, honoring all faculty members with more than 30 years of service at the University, which is put on with Totem Club. Intermission entertainment at athletic events is sponsored by this organization, and many other small projects. In addition to other activities, Oval Club holds dances, banquets, picnics, and other events of its own.

Since W-Key was organized on the University campus in 1933, their emblem has been symbolic of loyalty and service. Members for the honorary are chosen from every field of campus activities and, in order to be pledged, a girl must have a minimum of 28 academic credits and a 2.5 grade average. Members of the club are active through the second quarter of their junior year.

The Society of the Purple Shield honors those men who, in their first two years of college, have maintained outstanding scholastic records, while at the same time have been active in student activities. Purple Shield was founded on this campus in 1925 as the underclassmen's activity and scholastic honorary.

During the fall and spring of each year pledges are accepted. To be eligible for membership men must have less than 90 hours, a grade average of 2.67 with a 3.0 for one quarter and active participation in campus activities.

Beta Gamma Sigma is the national business administration scholastic honorary. It is sponsored by the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business for the purpose of honoring outstanding students in the field of business administration. Invitations for membership in Beta Gamma Sigma are extended to students in their senior year who have maintained a grade average of 3.3 and to advanced juniors with a record of 3.5 or better. Graduate students also may be eligible.

The well-known honorary has 55 chapters throughout the United States. In 1923 the Commercial Club, which had petitioned the national organization for membership became the Alpha of Washington Chapter of Beta Gamma Sigma.

Officers for the current school year are Don Dawson, president; Lois Gunderson, vice president, and Bob Jaedicke, secretary-treasurer. Harry Blythe is faculty adviser.

IOTA SIGMA PI

The National honorary for women in chemistry chooses members from women who have had 30 hours of chemistry, and who have a grade point of 3.2 in chemistry and 3.0 in other subjects. Iota Sigma Pi finances two annual scholarships by sponsoring a large-scale lab apron sale at the beginning of each quarter.

Squadron B-1 of the national Arnold Air Society was established on campus in March of 1949. Named for General Arnold, one of the nation's champions of air power, the society is open to members of the Air ROTC enrolled at the University. Social background and fraternal spirit for men who will become officers in the air reserve are the goals of this group. Semi-weekly meetings are held, at which speakers and films of interest to members appear.

The National Society of Scabbard and Blade is an honorary organization of Army, Navy and Air Force upper-division cadets and midshipmen on each of over one hundred campuses. Members are selected on the basis of academic achievement, military leadership, and the recommendation of their respective commanding officers. Applicants must be in the upper third of their military class and must have qualities of leadership, integrity, and honesty. On the social side, Scabbard and Blade holds a dance for members and guests and sponsors the annual Cadet Ball at the Fort Lawton Officers' Club.

Washington's "Naval Fraternity" was organized in 1926 with the idea of promoting brotherhood among NROTC students. Twenty-six years have passed since the origin of Compass and Chart, and the midshipmen are carrying on toward the half-century mark in the traditional Navy manner.

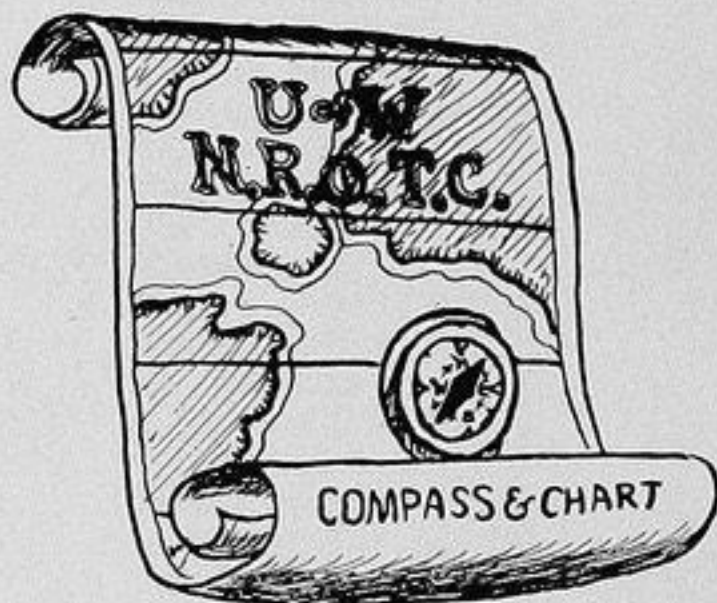

Compass and Chart, basically a democratic organization, is founded on the principle of voluntary participation by members. The group sponsors an active intramural athletic program, a popular on and off campus social calendar, a weekly newspaper, "The Binnacle," and the ever successful Navy rifle team. Members also have access to unit boats and a powerful amateur radio station through "Helm and Halyard" and the "Radio Club" respectively, groups within and sponsored by Compass and Chart.

Alpha Delta Sigma is a men's national professional advertising fraternity, whose members are interested in the field of advertising as a profession. Carrying through with the advertising theme, pledges carry "sandwich boards" with paid advertisements on them to provide a source of revenue with which the fraternity carries on its campus advertising service. Chapter activities include addresses by prominent advertising men, visits to local advertising departments, an annual Agency Banquet to which all professional advertising men are invited. The National Western Regional Convention is planned for Seattle this summer. Clyde Robinson, Director of Publications, is the faculty advisor.

The American Institute of Chemical Engineers, founded on campus to serve its student membership through the fellowship usually found in a homogeneous group, also fills in other non-academic gaps. One of its most important functions—to a student engineer—is seen in its program of bringing to the University interesting specialists in the field of chemical engineering. Their talks are the highlights of the AIChE year.

Two technical organizations on campus especially designed to serve the channeled interests in electrical engineering students are the American Institute of Electrical Engineers and the Institute of Radio Engineers. Both are the local student branches of recognized national professional societies. Due to common interests while in school, the student branches are merged into one group with common officers. AIEE was chartered by the EE department in 1912 to develop the interests of power students. The groups are open to all sophomores and above.

The Civil Engineers Society has a policy of sponsoring student organizations to provide a contact between the student and the practicing engineer. Local branches are nucleus groups, primarily concerned with field trips and other activities that will give student engineers the chance to see and understand the practical problems encountered by the engineering profession. Each year trips are taken to Coulee and other dams, industrial plants, sewage treatment plants and water sheds. The organization can be of real value to civil engineering students.

The University of Washington student branch of the American Pharmaceutical Association was established in 1946. This group is affiliated with a national organization bearing the same name, and is composed of members of the College of Pharmacy.

Primarily the association began for the advancement of pharmacy in the scientific and retail fields, but the social angle has not been omitted. The group represents the only organization to which all of the members of the college may be bound into a unified group.

The group's activities and alumni and pharmacy news are published in the association's "Pharm Phorum."

The University of Washington Student Branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers was established on the campus in 1917. The objectives are: To broaden the student's acquaintance with the practical side of the mechanical engineering; to give each student member the journal of the society, MECHANICAL ENGINEERING, informing him of engineering progress, and to make available the periodical publications; to develop the student's initiative and ability to speak in public, and to familiarize him with the parliamentary procedure and organization of learned societies; to enable the student to establish fraternal contact with his fellow students in engineering, and to meet graduate engineers engaged in active practice of mechanical engineering; and to hold regular meetings of the student branch. The U of W Student Branch sponsors frequent field trips to inspect local industries, movies of general interest, student talks, and teams to compete in intramural sports. Membership is open to any student enrolled in the engineering college of an accredited school. The office is in 416 Guggenheim Hall.

Beta Alpha Psi, national professional accounting fraternity, was chartered on the campus in 1921. The purpose of the group is to encourage and foster the ideal of service as the basis of the accounting profession; to promote the study of accounting and its highest ethical standards, and to act as a medium between professional men, instructor, students and others who are interested in the development and study of this profession. Their goals are high morale, scholastic and professional attainments and cordial relations among its members and the profession generally. Selected on the basis of professional promise and scholastic accomplishment, candidates for membership must be upperclassmen with a grade average of B- in all accounting and business law. The organization, among other things, serves as a contact between active members and employers in these fields.

The Graduate Nurses' club of the University of Washington is an organization open to all graduate professional nurses registered in the School of Nursing. These nurses are enrolled in advanced programs, majoring in nursing education, public health nursing or industrial nursing. The primary aims of the groups are to promote closer relationships between students, other campus organizations and the nursing faculty. Two members represent the club at the regular faculty meeting; Miss Virginia Olcott is faculty adviser of the club.

Grapha Techna, men's art honorary, was organized at Washington in 1938 to stimulate the interest of student and alumni members in the methods and techniques of the arts and to provide contacts with professional people in the field. Movies, speakers, and exhibitions of members' work help accomplish this objective. These works of art are brought to the meetings, discussed informally, and exhibited in a local business establishment.

During the past year Grapha Techna members have exhibited as a group at the Bellevue Arts Fair, the Orcas Island Festival of the Arts, and the Puyallup Fair Art Exhibit.

The annual initiation banquet and picnic are highlights of the spring quarter.

Pan Xenia is an international foreign trade honorary and professional fraternity. Its members are upperclassmen majoring in foreign trade and related fields, who evidence interest in the promotion of the group's objectives and good scholarship standing.

The fraternity was founded in 1918 to promote good will and better trade relations and practices throughout the world. The group has received special recognition from the Carnegie Peace Foundation as being a factor able to improve international relations. It is the oldest international college fraternity.

Pi Alpha Sigma, women's professional advertising honorary, promotes advertising as a profession among women. It was founded to bring about mutual benefit to the women on campus interested in advertising. Members are enabled to make personal contacts with people outstanding in the various fields of advertising. Pledging takes place in the fall and often in spring, too. Women pledged must have at least a 2.5 grade average and must plan advertising as a profession. Pi Alpha Sigma traditionally sponsors the annual campus Apple Day in the fall, part of the proceeds going to some organization such as Campus Chest. The spring project is taking charge of arrangements for the ASUW publications banquet.

SIGMA DELTA CHI

Sigma Delta Chi, a professional journalism honorary, has been active on campus since 1910. Fraternity membership is based on scholarship, character, and aptitude among men who show the greatest promise in newspaper work and related fields.

The chapter works closely with men actively engaged in the profession, giving the student members an opportunity for improved insight into journalism as a career.

Along with recreational activities, the group's regular meetings provide discussions by leaders in such fields as television, radio, and general newspaper production.

THETA SIGMA PHI

Alpha Chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, national women's journalism honorary, was first founded in 1909 at the University of Washington. Today student and alumnae chapters stretch from Oregon to Maine. Professional interest in journalism and a high scholastic record are necessary for membership eligibility.

The Matrix Table banquet is an annual spring event honoring Seattle's 500 most prominent women, jointly sponsored by the Active and Alumnae chapters of Theta Sig.

In the short time since 1948, the undergraduate engineers on lower campus have established a magazine that has received wide recognition among engineering and publication groups. Through the support of the student engineering societies and the untiring efforts of the editorial and business staffs, the magazine has increased in size and frequency of publication.

The outgoing staff can justly feel proud of their part in establishing this highly-regarded campus tradition.

In the fall of 1919 the Physical Education Club was started for the benefit of the physical education majors. The purpose of the club is to bind its members more closely together in their social and professional interest. A plaque is awarded to the outstanding senior student each year, and a loan fund is maintained to be used by students in physical education.

Zeta Phi Eta, the national professional speech arts fraternity for women, was founded at Northwestern University, Evanston, Illinois, in 1893. Membership is based on scholarship, professional attitude, and extra-curricular activity as evidence of professional excellence. Zeta Phi Eta maintains and supports the Lois Beal Sandall Scholarship Fund for the benefit of outstanding students in Speech Arts. The scholarship is available to any senior or graduate majoring in Speech, Radio, or Drama. In addition, the Zeta Phi Eta plaque is awarded to the outstanding graduating senior man and woman in speech. The engraved plaque is then displayed in the Walker-Ames room of Par-rington Hall. A plaque for the outstanding graduate in radio is also awarded.

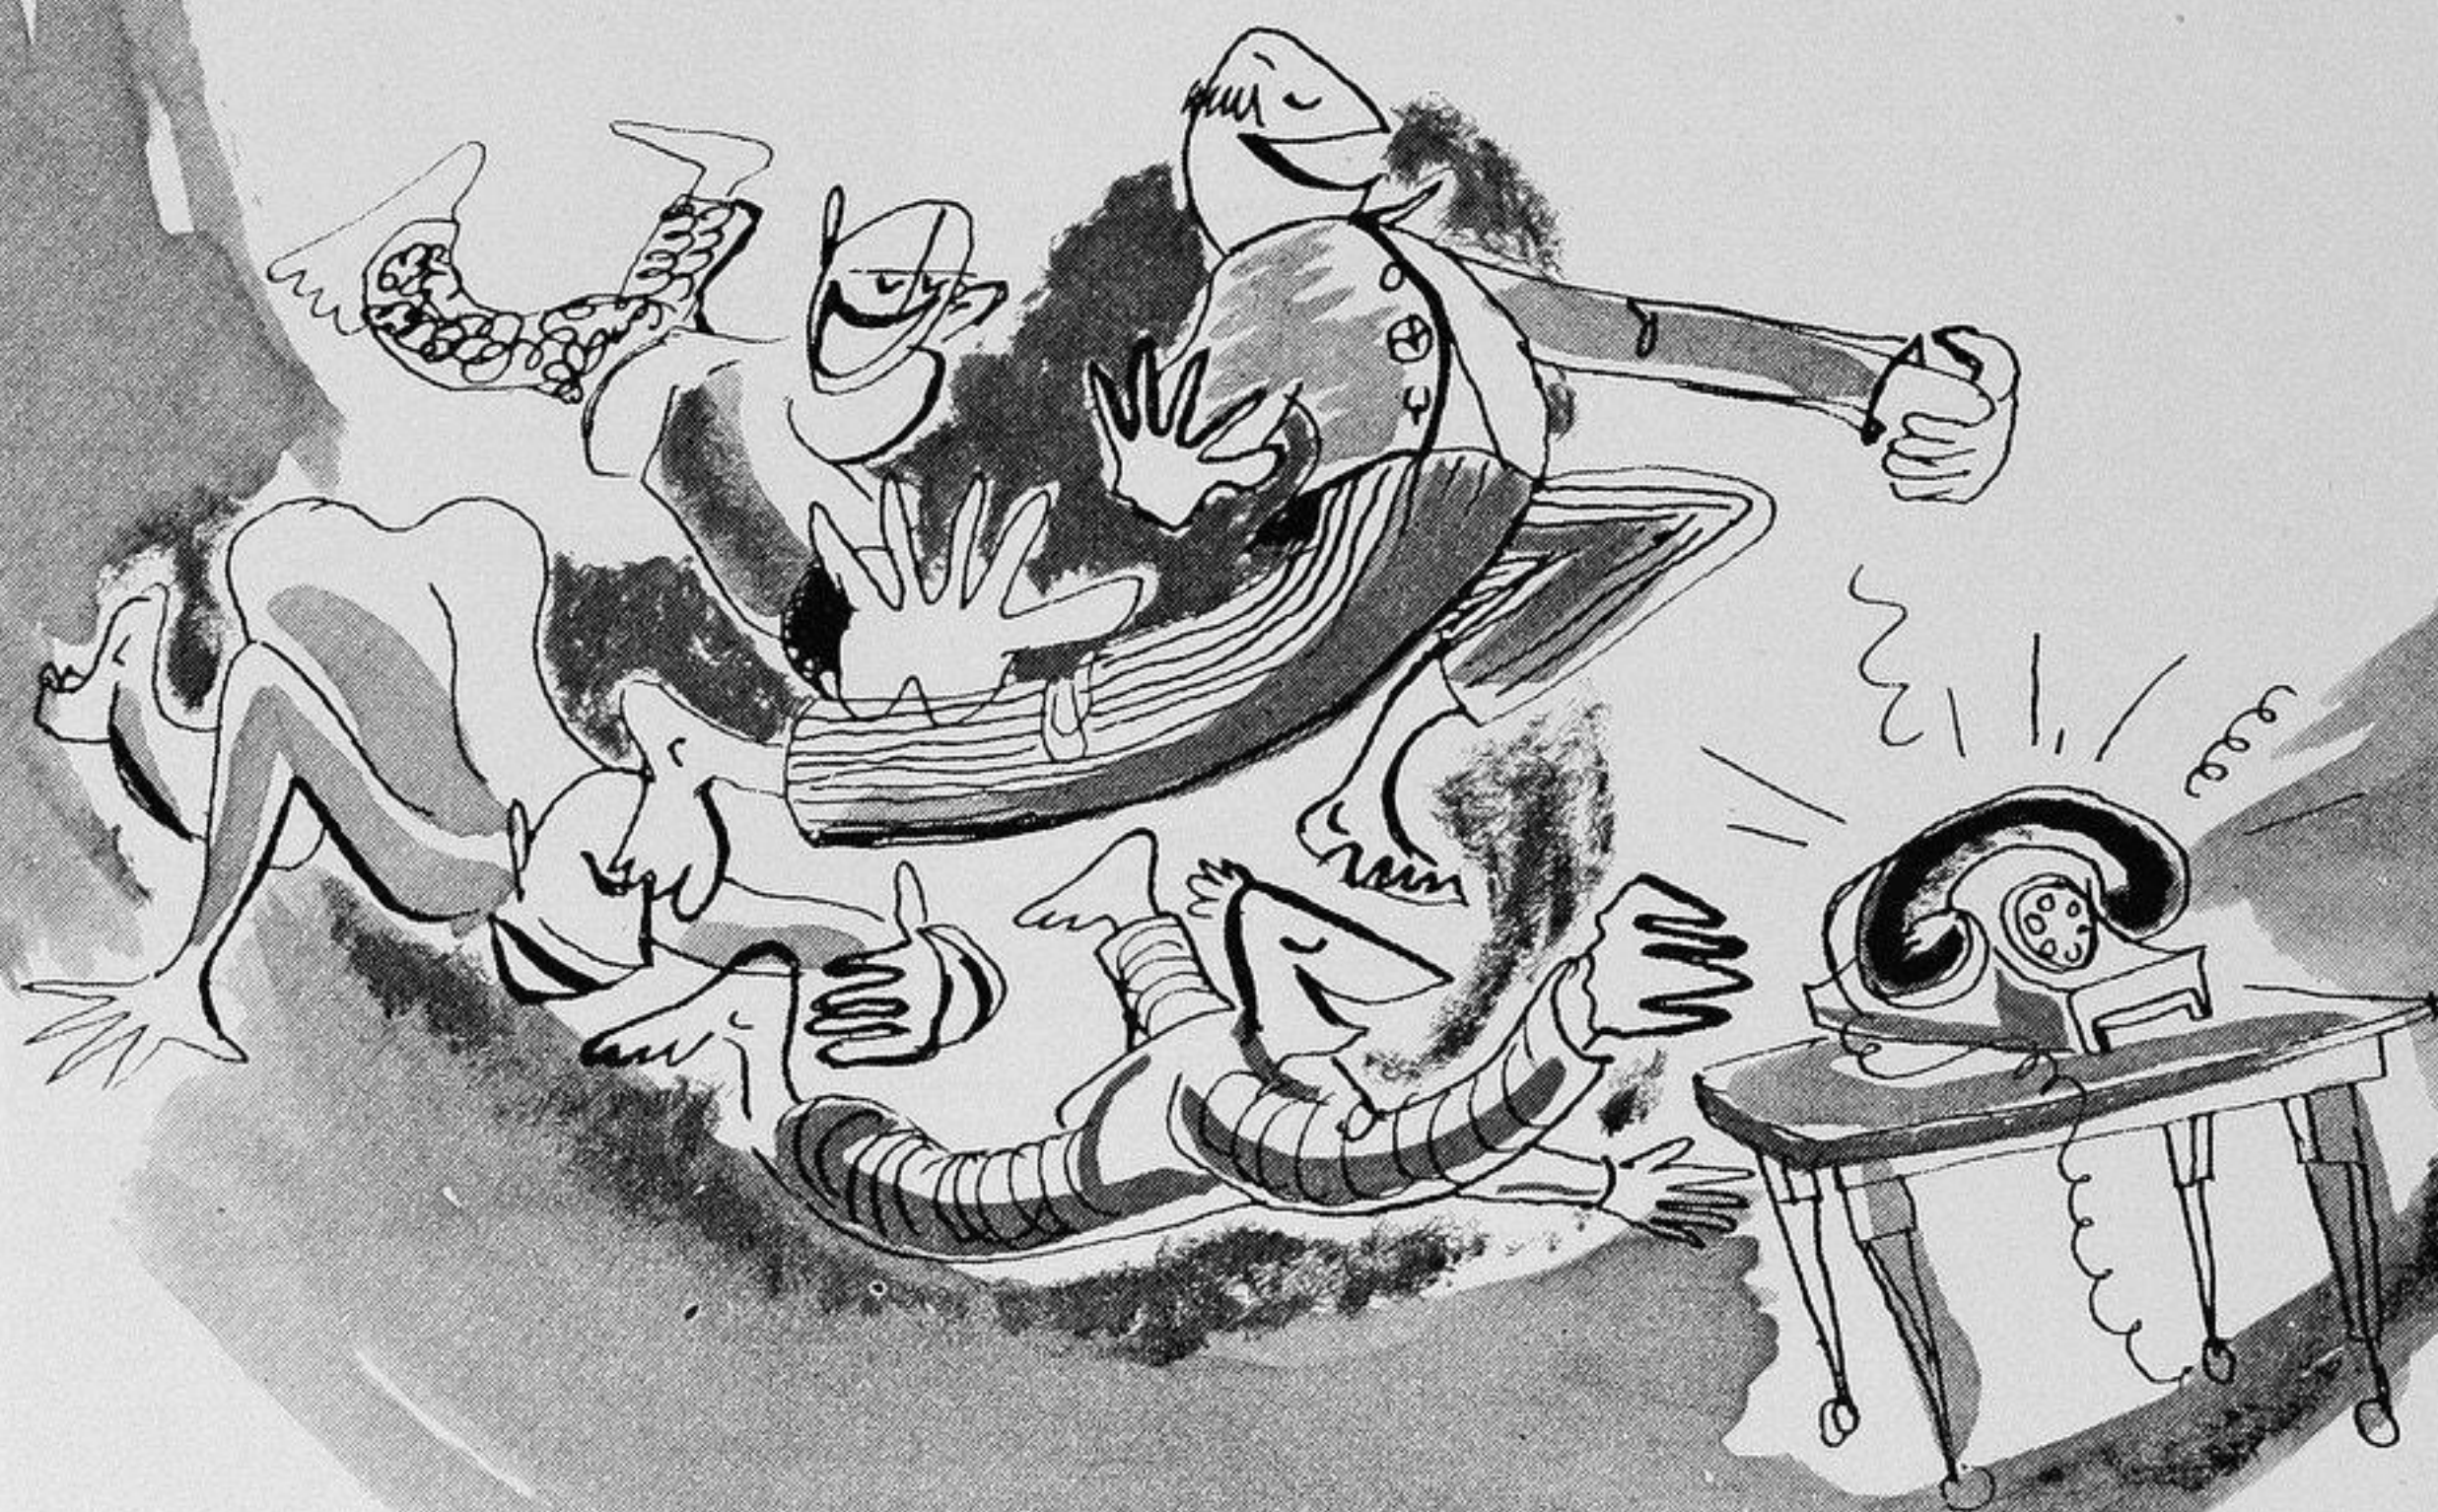

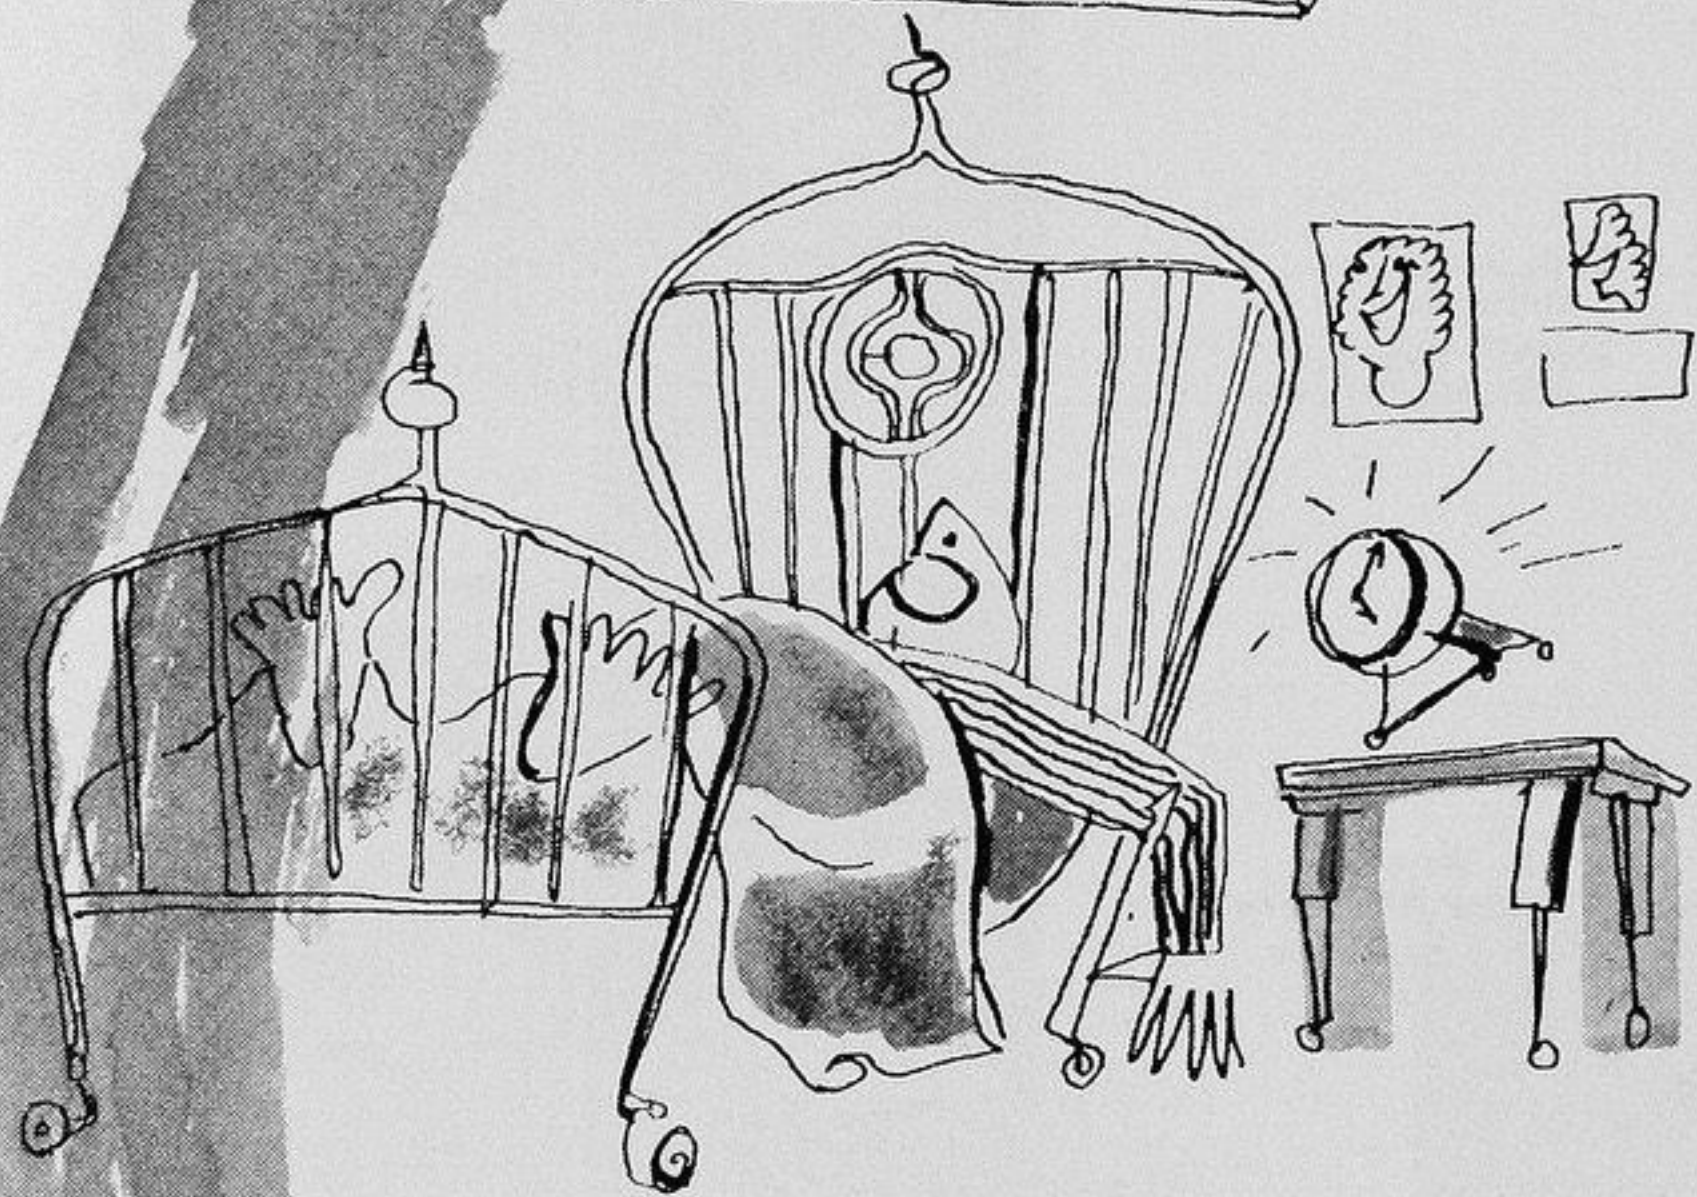

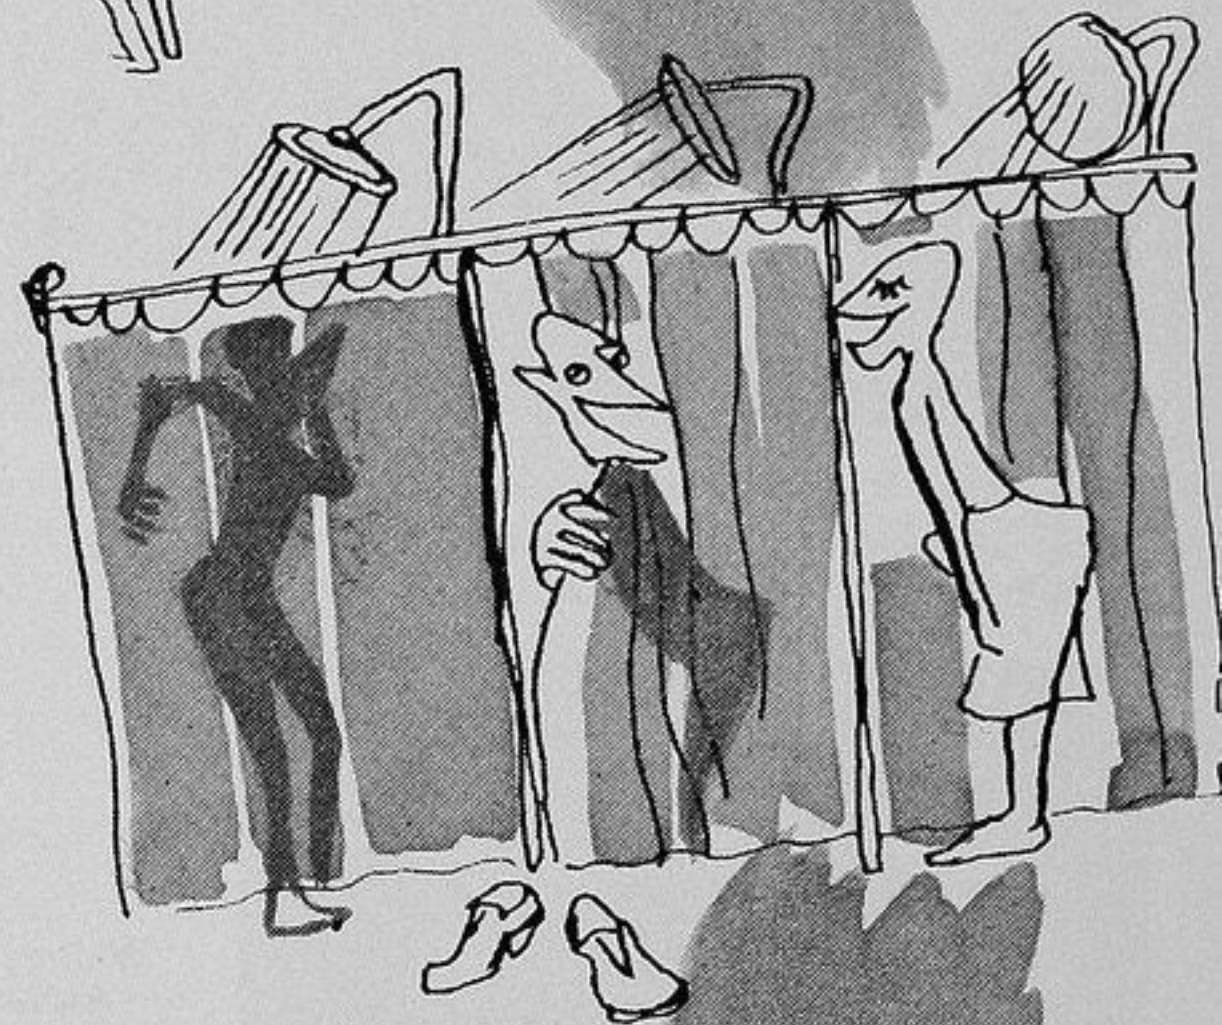

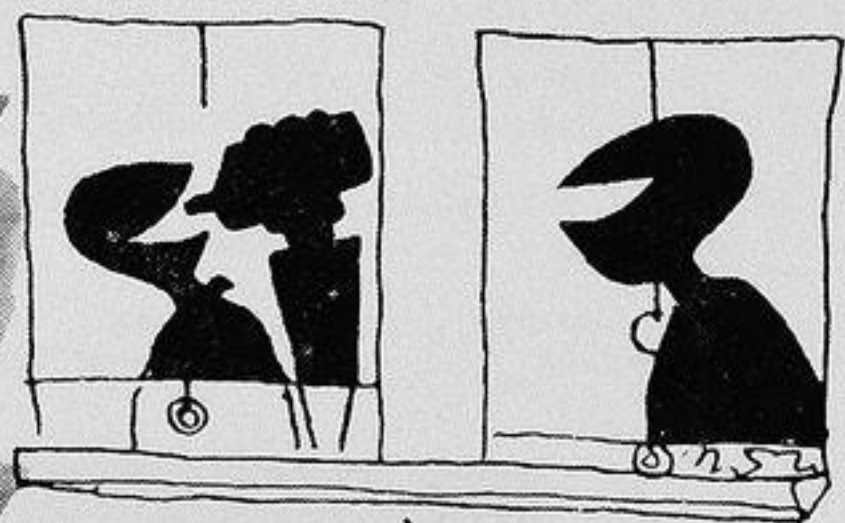

The buildings pictured on this page show the difference in architecture between upper campus and lower campus. Liberal Arts subjects are taught on upper campus in buildings such as Savory and Hutchinson, while engineering, forestry, chemistry, physics, medicine, fisheries, and dentistry are concentrated on lower campus, in buildings such as the Electrical Engineering building shown below. An over-all view at left further points out the distinction.

Panhellenic is the coordinating body of the sorority system. Beside the regular meetings, this year's Panhellenic program included the rushing program prior to autumn quarter, round robin dinners, and the annual training conference held during the first week of spring quarter for incoming and outgoing officers and house presidents.

Mrs. Herbert Plumb, executive secretary of Panhellenic, works closely with the officers and executive board in an advisory capacity. Junior Panhellenic advisor is Mrs. J. R. Damus.

Handbook

Inter-fraternity council is made up of the presidents or representatives of the 39 national fraternities on campus. IFC conducts fraternity rushing, and has made an effort to revise the rushing rules to improve the system. Scholarship and conduct standards are also maintained by the IFC, which has the power to discipline offending fraternities and individuals. IFC seeks to educate fraternity men for citizenship, social competence, and to support the University's objective of intellectual development.

Strengthening the ties of friendship, one with the other, means much to Acacians the world over. Founded at the University of Michigan in 1904, Acacia fraternity has since been distinguishing itself in scholastic accomplishments, campus activities, social recognition, and sports on the campuses of all major universities in the United States.

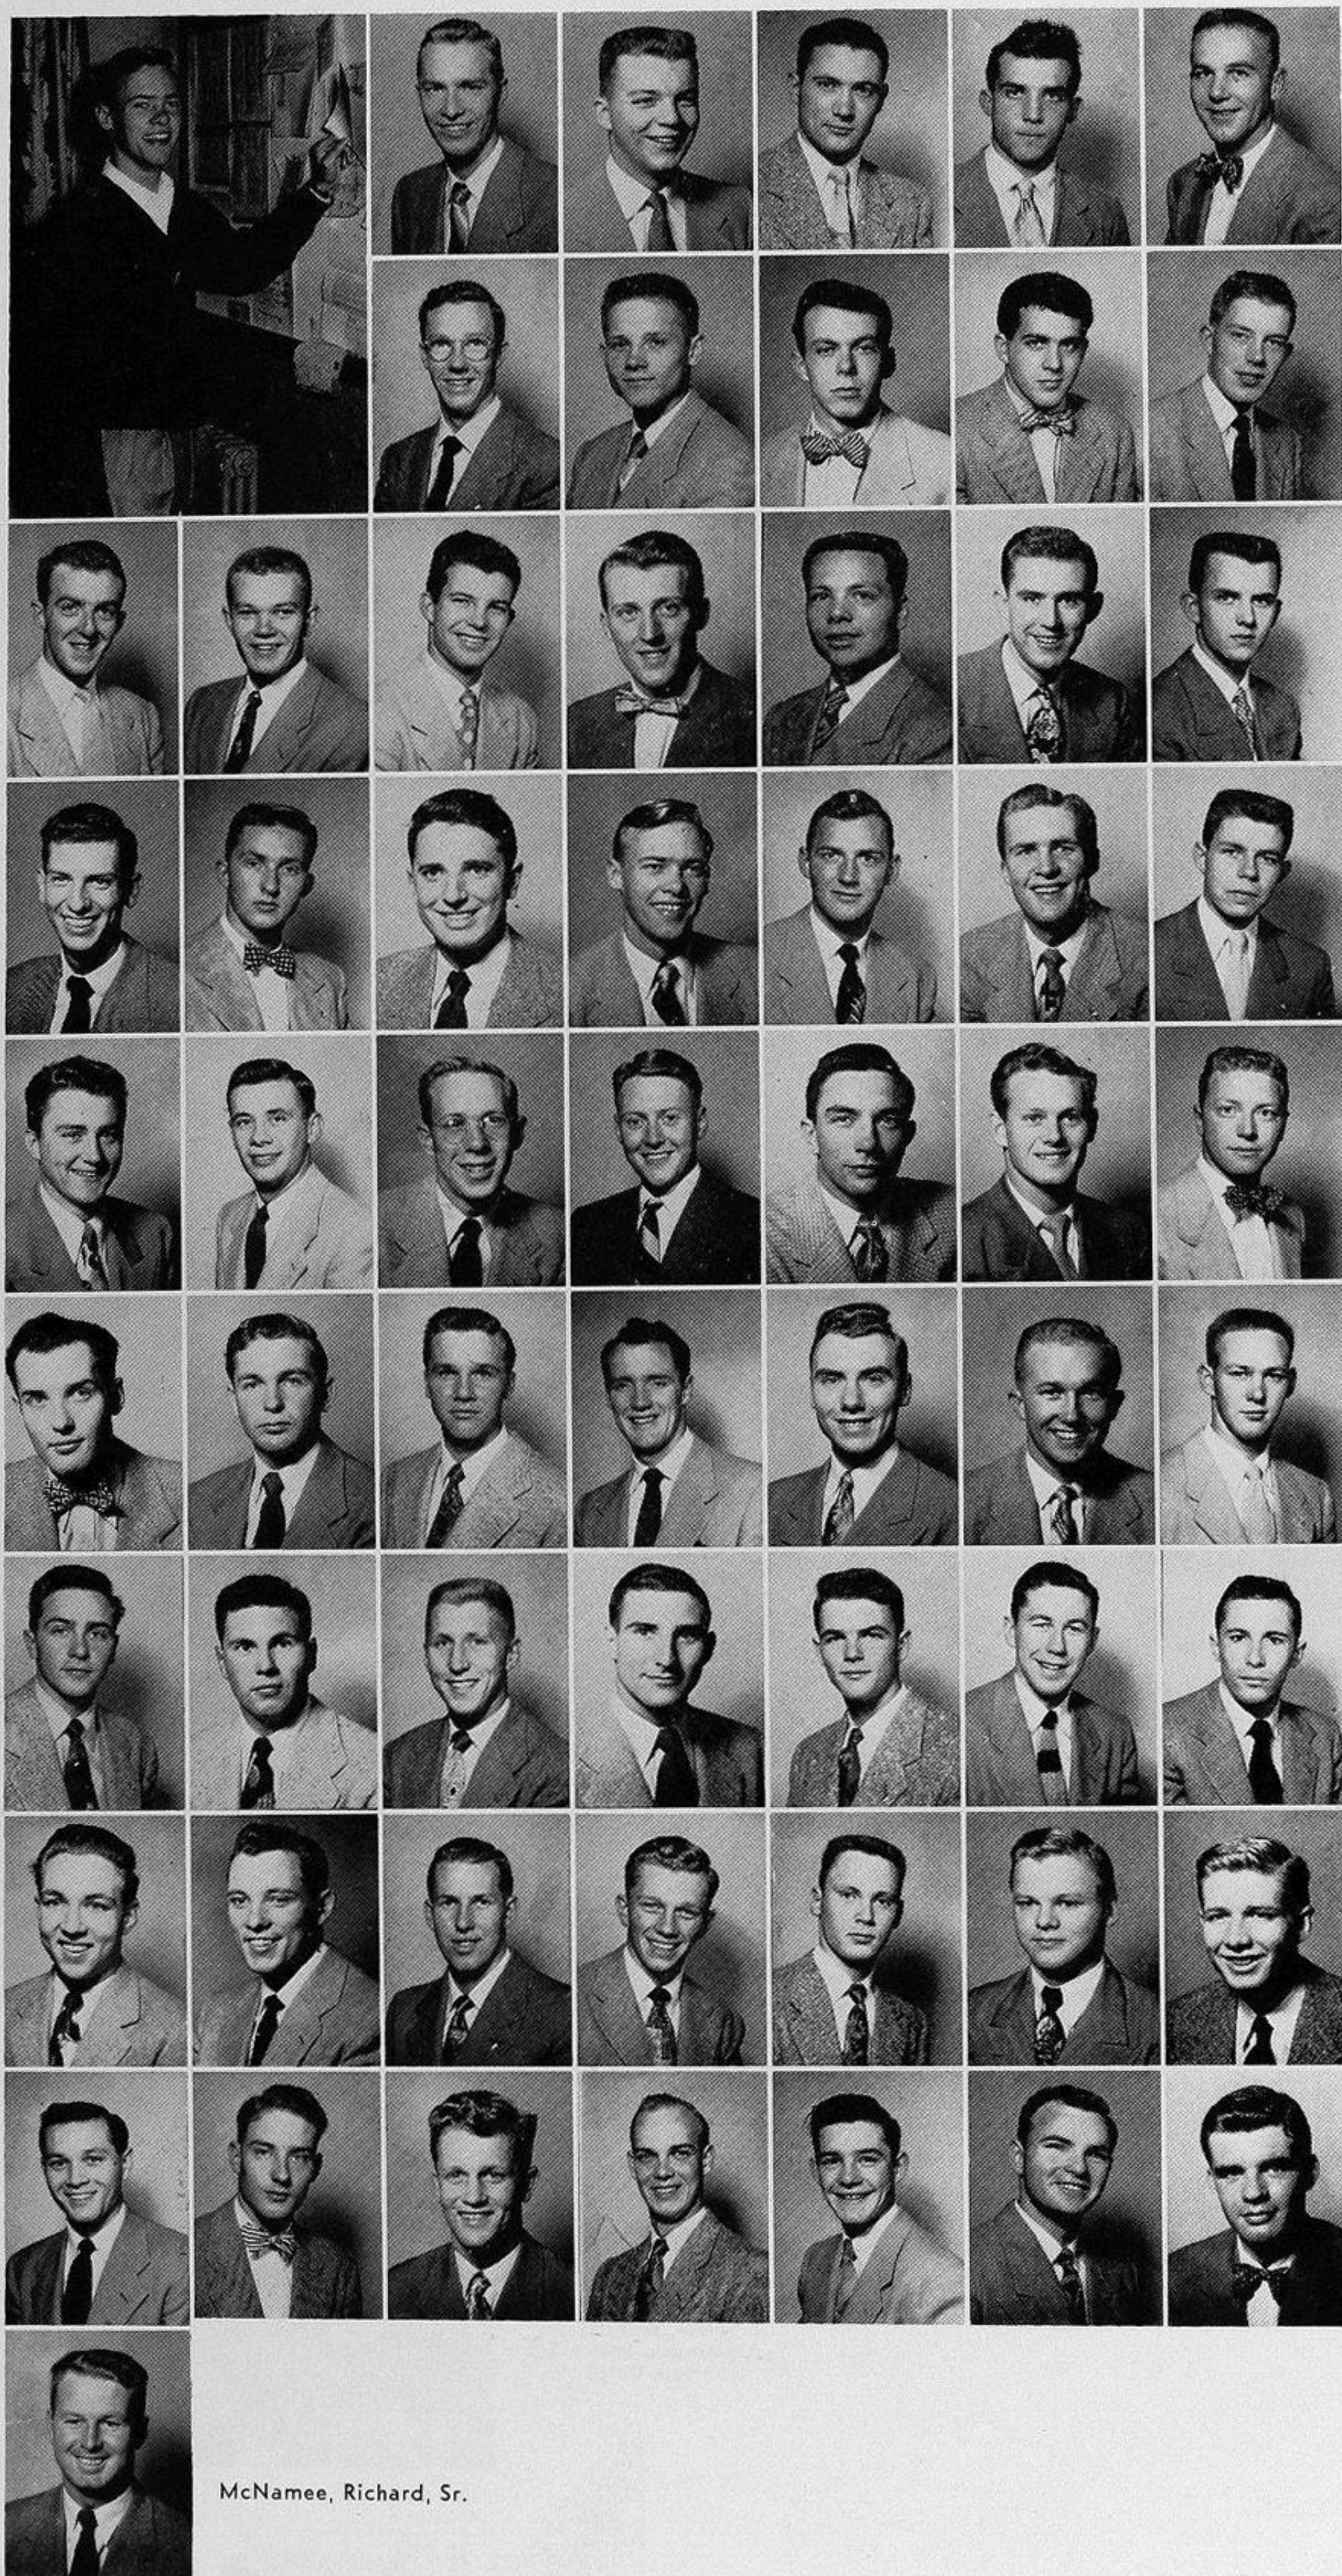

The 1951-52 season has been one of fond memories for all members of the local chapter. A new policy of "informalizing" on many exchanges has won the hearts of the sororities; victories in intramural sports, especially football and baseball, have kept the group in the center of the sports scene; a high scholastic rating, second on campus, has been a great source of pride; but best of all is the feeling of friendship and accomplishment that has always been the mark of Acacia.

Hardly a weekend went by that the Acacians didn't have a party, but the real highlights were the Pledge Dance, Costume Ball, Barn Dance, "Night on the Nile" Party, and Spring Formal, a perfect ending for a wonderful season.

With its 30 years tucked securely under its already heavily be-decked belt, the Washington Chapter of Alpha Delta Phi rolls toward an even brighter future with a deep sigh of satisfaction. Not only does A. D. Phi claim the presidents of Big "W" Club, Husky Swim Club, and Freshman Class, but also ownership of the University scholarship club for the third straight year, a strong record in intramural sports competition, and a high finish in Song-fest. Oval Club, Purple Shield, IFC, Malamutes, Managerial Coun-cil, and Big "W" Club total over 30 Alpha Delts on their member-ship rolls.

The last class of men! Class of '52 as they looked in '48.

The chapter's 29 new pledges launched a tremendous social cal-endar with their highly successful "Hawaii Calls" Pledge Dance. A snow theme Winter Formal, a spring House Party, an exchange dinner-dance with the British Columbia Chapter, and a Kappa Alpha Theta Christmas serenade were among other house functions. Despite their wide array of interests and fields of endeavor, Alpha Delts are proud of their high degree of internal unity. Attesting to the cooperation and willingness of the chapter are its effective study program and intensive intramural and Songfest participa-tion every year.

Alpha Epsilon Pi, as a progressive and spirited fraternity, has prided itself in its outstandingly successful program this past year. In no previous year has the fraternity met with so much success in its many endeavors.

Perhaps the outstanding feature of the 1951-52 program was the well-balanced social calendar. Among the many and varied social affairs were included the formal Pledge Dinner-Dance, the AEPi Den of Iniquity, a New Year's party, and many house parties, climaxed by the annual Spring Formal and the spring picnic late in May. These events were supplemented by numerous firesides, exchanges, and cocktail parties.

The chapter's athletic program has proven to be as successful as the social, AEPi fielding winning teams in basketball, touch football, volleyball, and table tennis. Individual members have participated in three of the school's major sports—crew, football, and boxing.

Alpha Epsilon Pi is known campus-wide for its many unique ideas, perhaps the most famous being the AEPi-throwing contest, used as a fund-raiser for the Campus Chest. Members are active in such campus activities as Malamutes, Club Encore, etc., and, among others, the chapter claims Harry Poll, who was associate producer of the All-U Show.

AEPi's and dates arrive for one of the house's numerous social functions.

Hold the phone! Looks like the AEPi's are up to monkey business.

ALPHA KAPPA LAMBDA

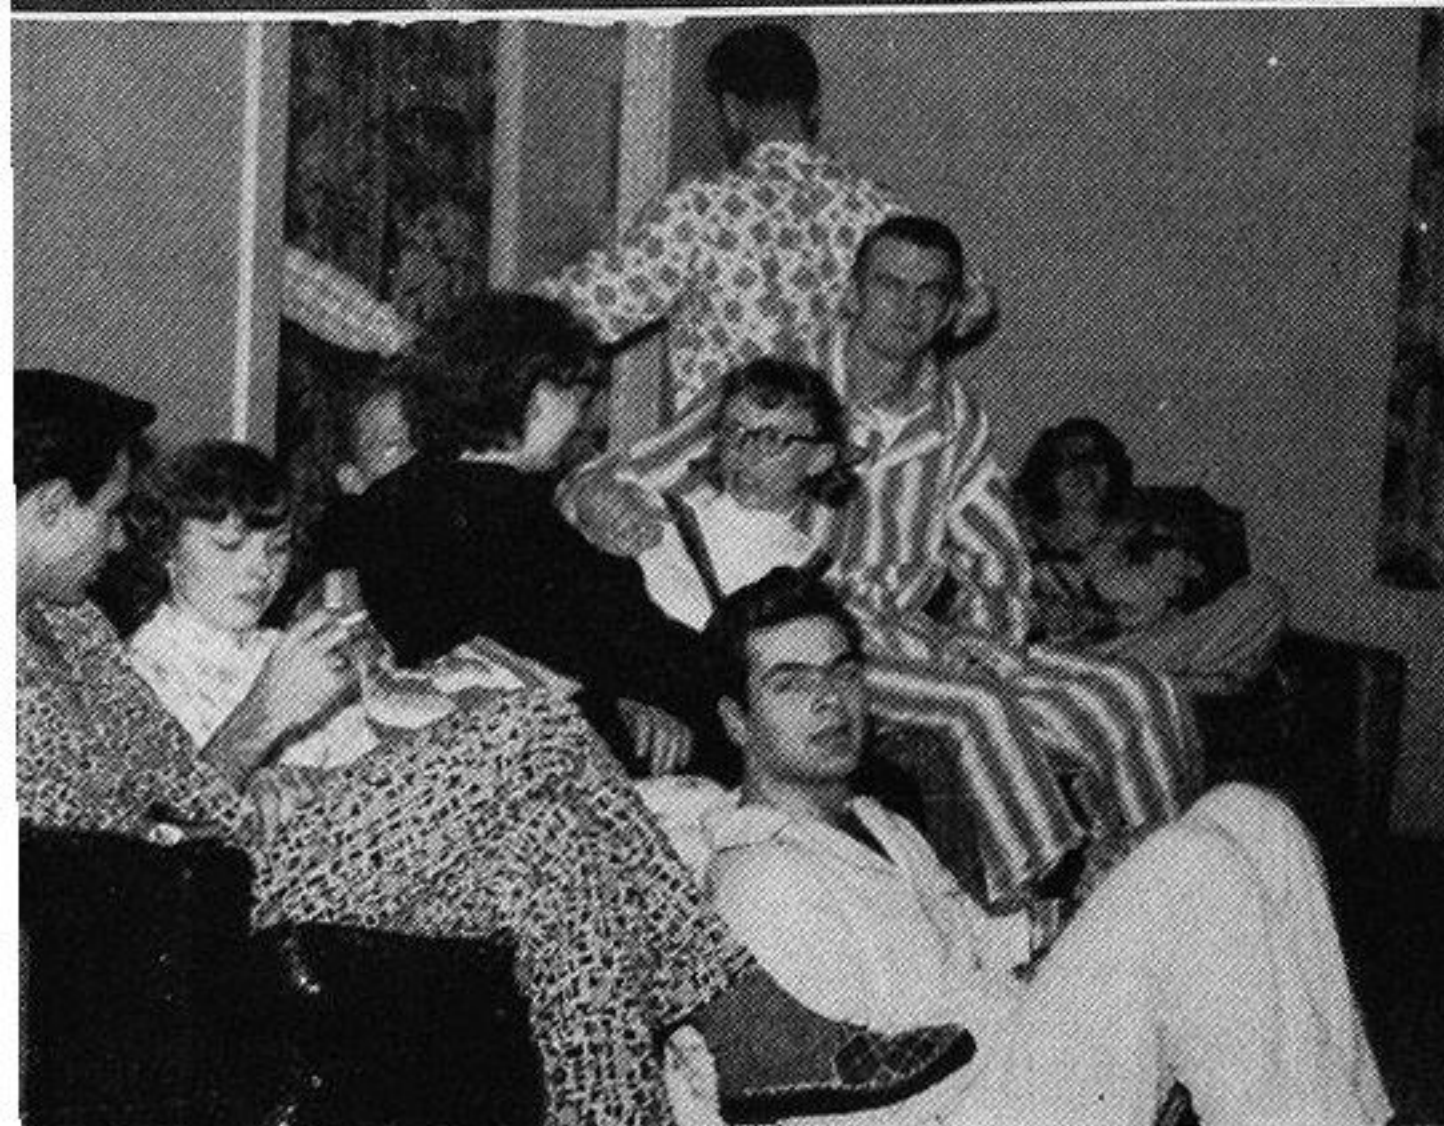

4637 21st Ave. N.E.

In its fourth year since the reactivation of Theta chapter, Alpha Kappa Lambda has done much to advance its ideal of Christian brotherhood. A well-rounded social calendar, combined with activity in intramural sports, is only a part of the many ways in which we laid the groundwork for lasting friendship. Of course scholarship retained its position of prime importance in student life through the sincere effort of every member. The school year was also highlighted by after-dinner forums with prominent alumni in the Seattle area.

With the addition of 37 new pledges in September, Mu chapter of Alpha Sigma Phi started out to enjoy a well-rounded year of social functions, intramurals, and scholastic achievement.

The Pledge Dance started the Alpha Sig social calendar off in high gear, and was followed by the traditional Barn Dance in November. A highlight of the Homecoming weekend was the very successful alumni Homecoming banquet. Fall quarter also brought many exchanges and firesides. In February the annual Winter Formal was held at the Olympic Bowl, while spring's two main events were a house party and an informal dance held at the chapter house.

John Piper, ASUW vice president, and Bob Houbregs, all-coast basketball center, kept the Alpha Sig name well before the public eye.

The "great big hairy-chested men" came through once again with flying colors to finish high among the ranks of Washington's fraternities. It was clear sailing throughout the year for the ATOs, who had a swell time working together in their many activities. Just ask 'em, and they'll tell you.

Always ready for a good time, the men threw many big parties and dances, all tops in entertainment. Adding more prestige to their illustrious chapter, the Taus bowled over opponents on practically every intramural field at the University, in addition to participating in most of the major sports. Scholastically, too, the fraternity maintained an excellent average.

Internally the house did well with a sizable, promising pledge class. In years to come, these freshmen will be particularly able to carry on the fine tradition set by many strong classes before them.

BETA THETA PI

This fall, when rush week began another school year for Beta Theta Pi, enthusiasm was at a peak around the house as the chapter prepared to embark on the second half of a century of "Beta" at the "University of a Thousand Years."

After pledging an unusually fine group of men, Beta Omega chapter began getting up steam for the big year that lay ahead.

First came Homecoming festivities with the usual hustle-and-bustle of sign making and preparing the house for visiting grads.

The Betas' intramural program was started by the footballers who prepared to defend their 1950 title, while on the Varsity gridiron the fraternity's nine lettermen were kept busy by Coach Howie Odell.

On the social calendar Betas enjoyed their fall pledge dance, the annual Beta-Phi Delt pajama dance, along with numerous exchanges and Christmas caroling with Delta Delta Delta sorority. The winter formal was the biggest hit of the year while the informal "Thug" dance was a close second.

During winter quarter the Betas' biggest project was their annual "Beta Cup" greater-Northwest high school invitational ski meet. The competition was started in 1950 and has grown to be one of the top prep gatherings in the Northwest.

The fact that Betas are prominent in every walk of university life is proof of the fraternity's well-rounded and closely integrated group of men. Beta Theta Pi is continuing to keep the high standards and reputation that it has built in over a half century on this campus.

As a chapter of Chi Phi, the first social fraternity founded still in existence, Beta Delta is proud to carry on the tradition of a conservative national organization. With numerous social activities, the high point of the year is climaxed by the Winter Formal. Members of Chi Phi feel that the keynote of fraternalism is the brotherhood of men with diversified majors. The chapter's goal is to help mold well-rounded individuals who are able to maintain themselves both socially and intellectually.

Time out for eating and loafing on the Delta Sig cruise.

4737 18th Ave. N.E.

During the comparatively short period since its foundation in 1899, Delta Sigma Phi has grown and expanded until it now includes over 70 chapters in the United States and Canada. Alpha Omega chapter has been working steadily to keep in stride with the national progress since its reactivation at Washington in 1947. This year was no exception.

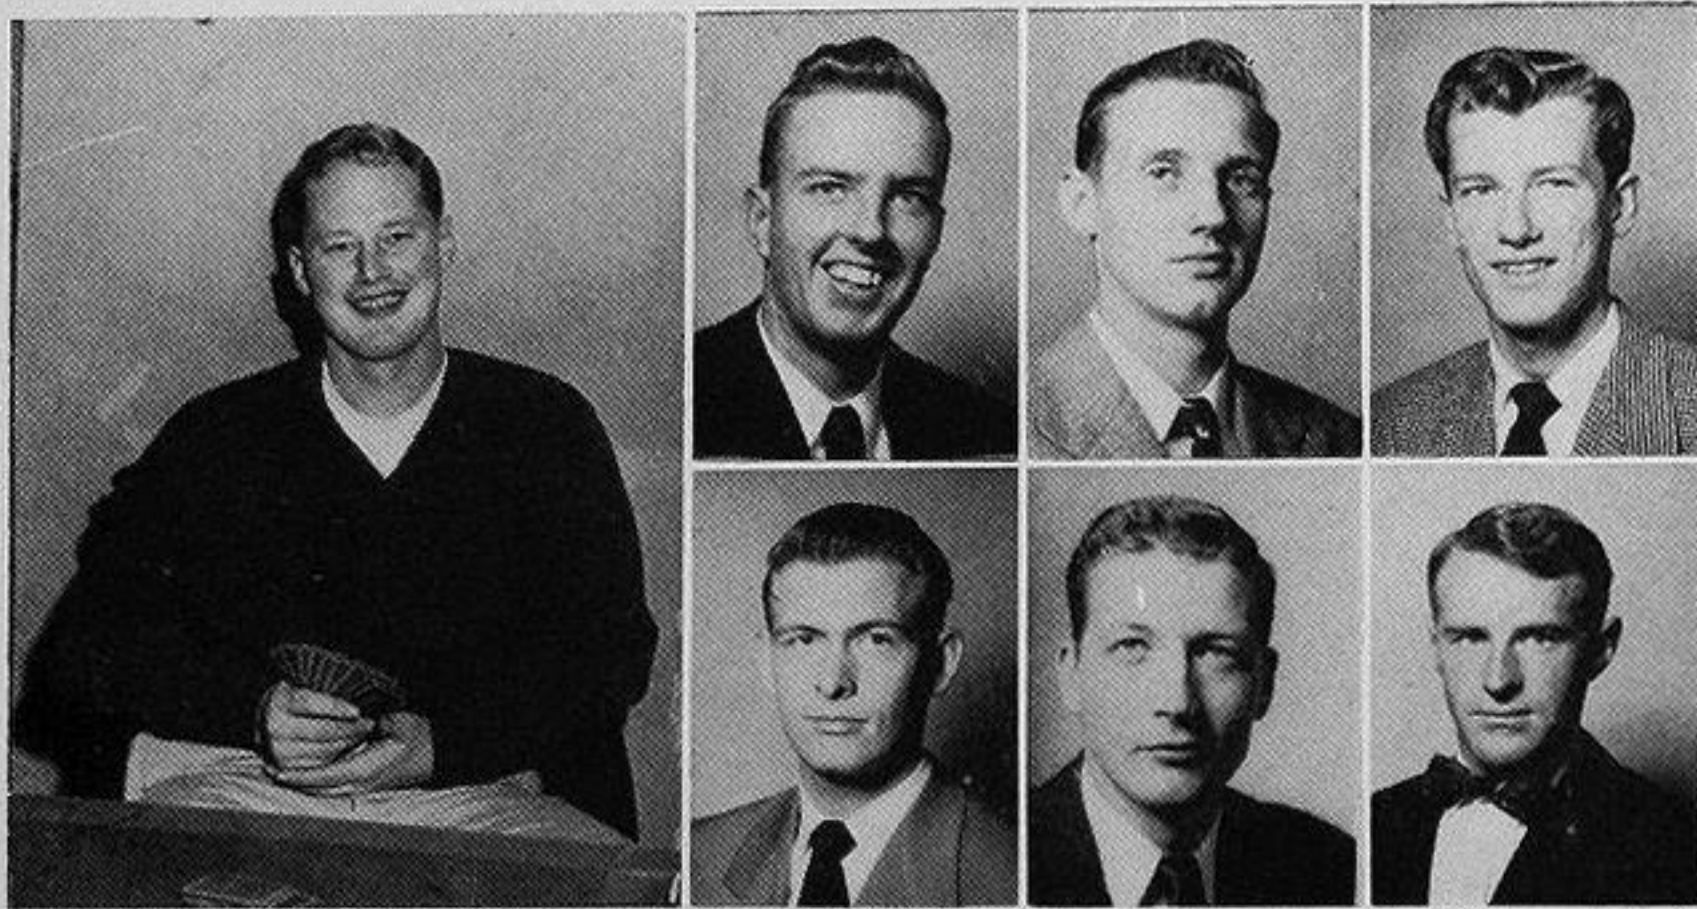

As a basis for the chapter's progress, scholastic achievement is stressed with social life and activities following a close second. Recreation time is divided between intramural sports and campus activities and clubs. The highlight of the year was the Sailor's Dance, held annually by all Delta Sig chapters.

When this eventful year comes to a close, the members of Delta Sigma Phi will look forward to their return to Washington and Alpha Omega where the bond of friendship is close.

Jones, David, Jr.

Despite the occasional raids on the brothers by Uncle Sam, this was another big year at the Chi Psi Lodge. Here as in all our chapters there is a wide variety of interests and so we participated in all phases of campus activities. The foremost politicians were Dick Morgan, president of A.M.S. and senior class president Don Johnson. Several of the brothers satisfied their interests in sports. Hugh McElhenny, Fred Rudnick and Dick Ryan were on the varsity football team, and Hugh Mac climaxed his record-breaking season by being selected to the A.P. All-American. Incidentally, the big sports event for the Lodge is the annual football game with Zeta Psi which we won this year 7-0.

As usual we had much social life, which was highlighted by the Pledge Dance, the Hunter's Frolic, the Roman Dance, and the Spring Formal. The Formal, which was held at the Tennis Club, was preceded by the traditional cruise on Lake Washington. Naturally some of the best times were had at the spontaneous parties and ski jaunts we whipped together.

Delta Chi, originally founded as a law fraternity, now is made up of majors in almost every field. The chapter has tried to give something extra in the way of living quarters, fellowship, recreation, and the other advantages of a fraternity to a group of young men men striving for a better education.

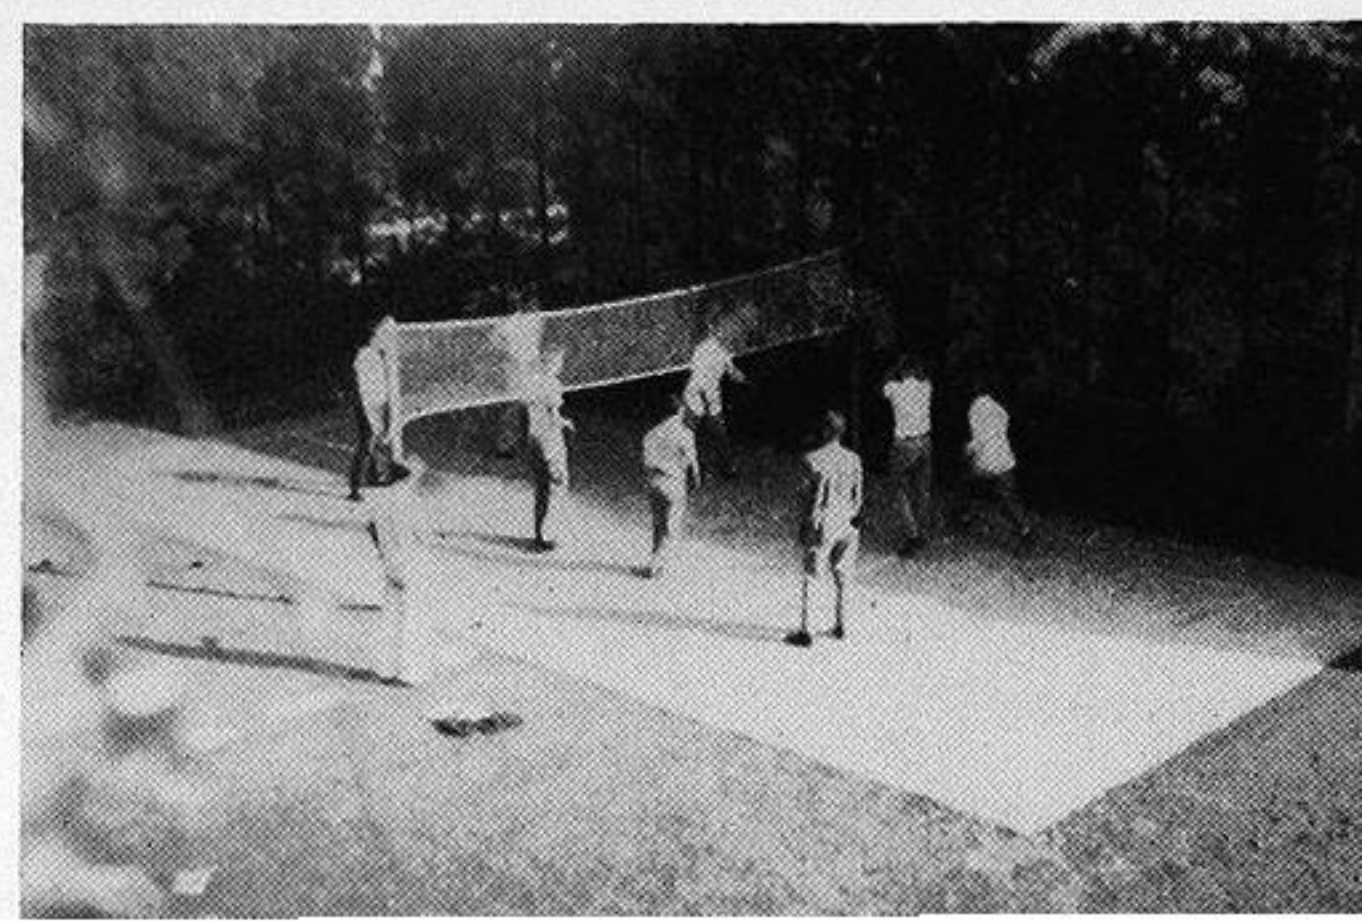

This year, as always, the house as a group, pledges and actives alike, participated in all the major intramural sports and were always favorably represented on campus, politically, socially, and athletically.

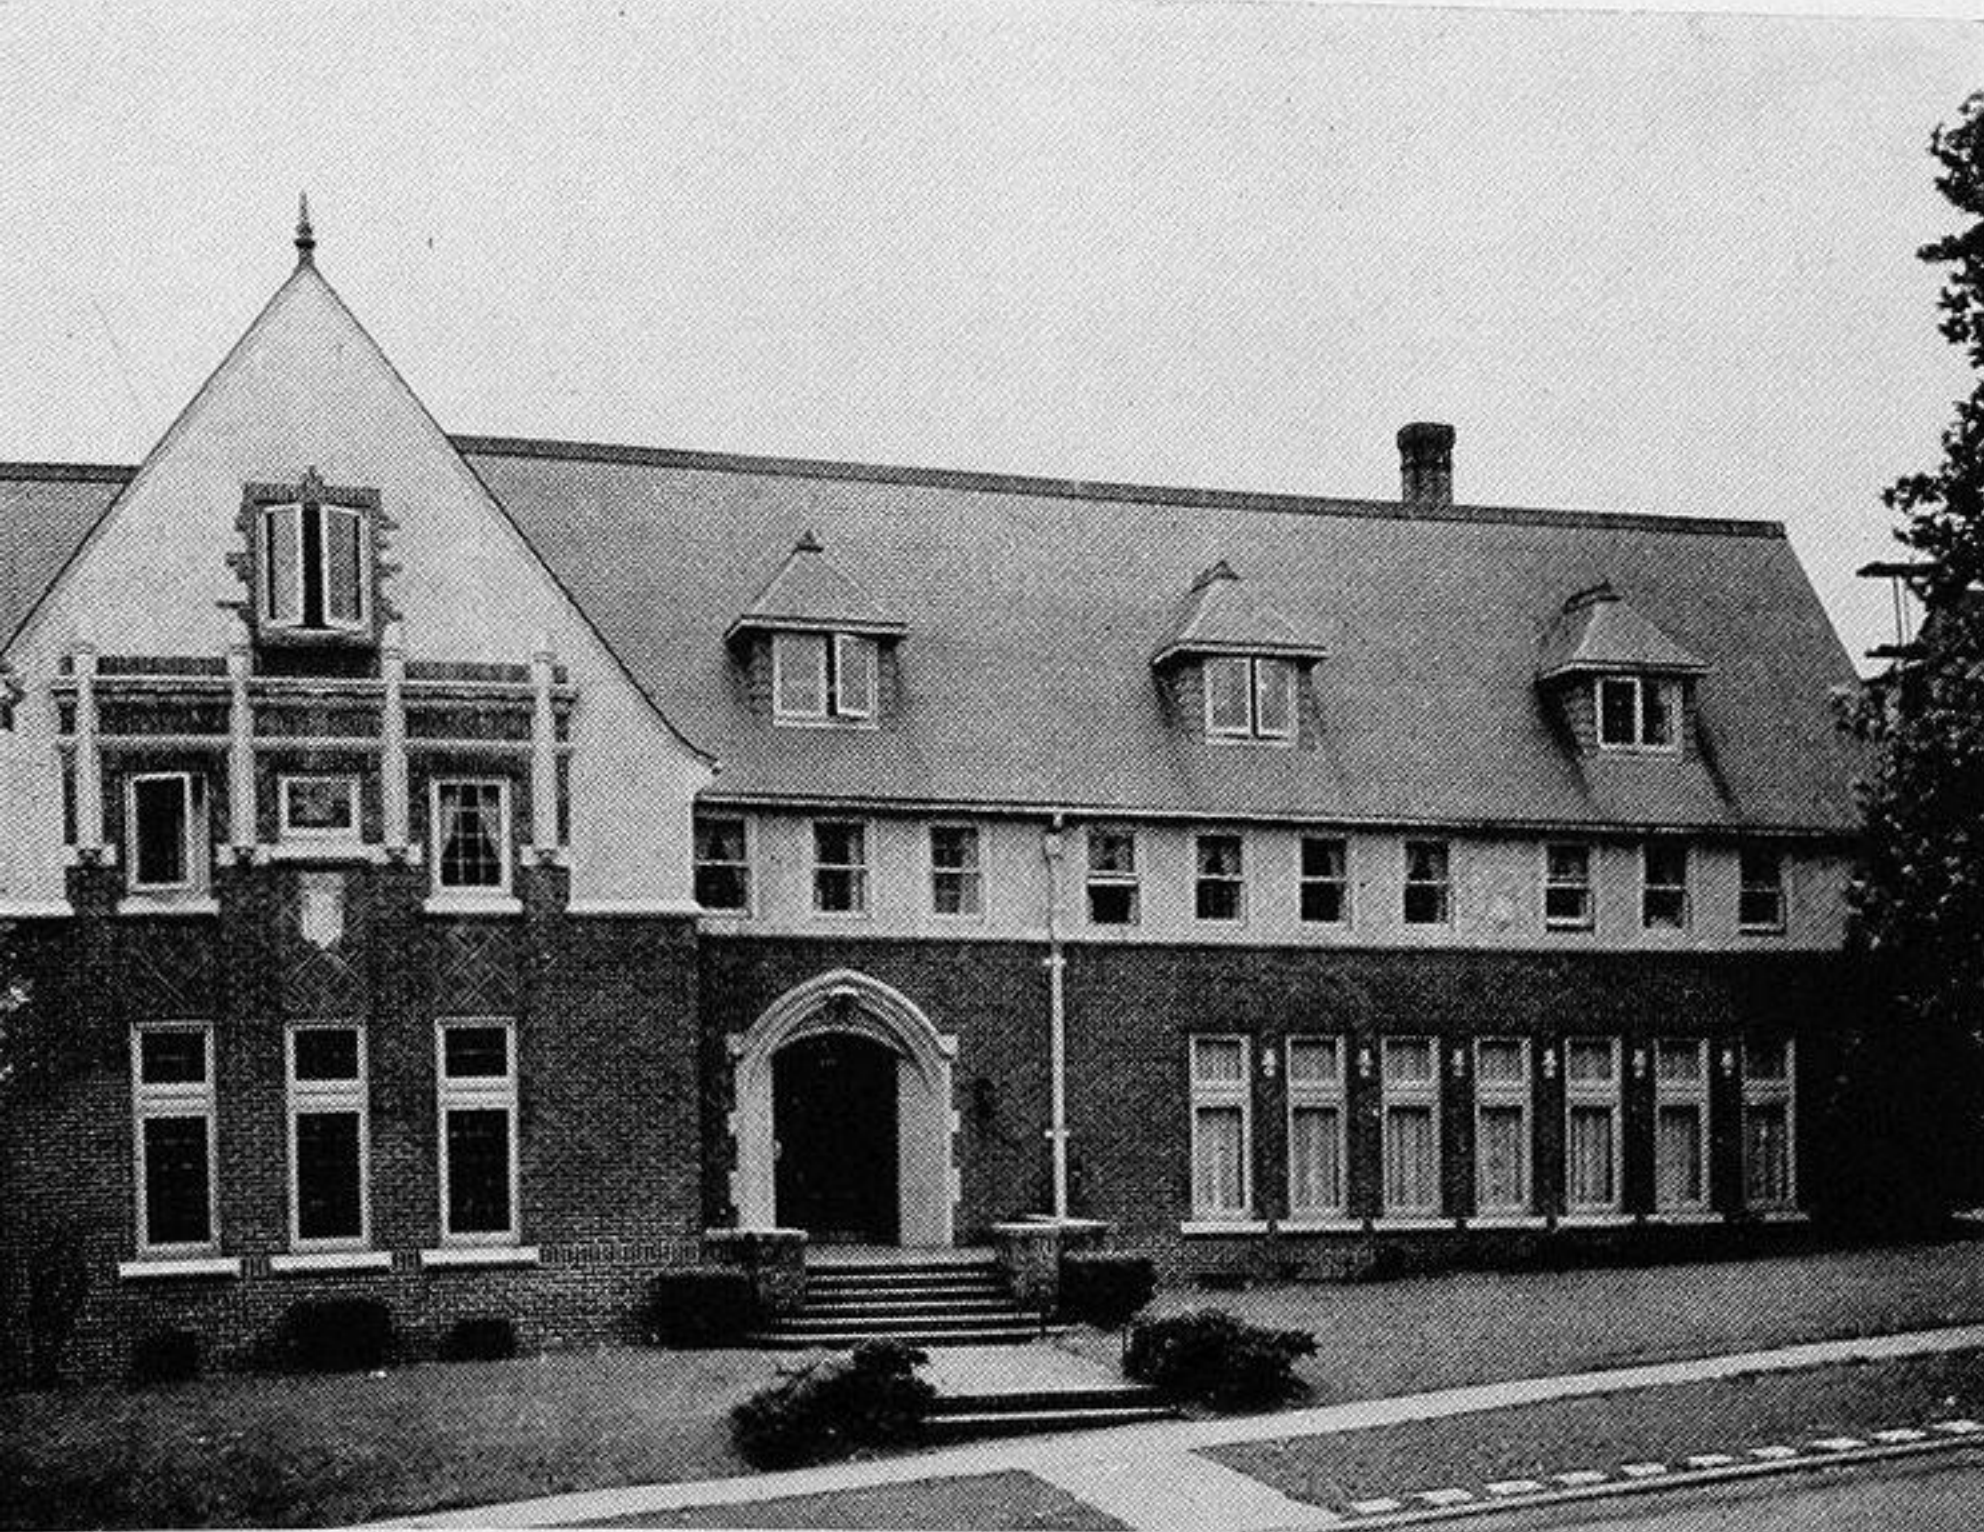

Social activities were highlighted by the annual Founders' Day Banquet, Barn Dance, Pledge Dance, Winter Formal, and finally the spring weekend party. Along with these, many enjoyable evenings were spent at firesides and exchanges.

The whole chapter has a lot to look forward to, with a fine pledge class of 27 men. This well-rounded freshman class will be able to carry on the fine traditions of Delta Chi, and to represent them in the years to come.

In spare hours Delta Chis gather around the radio, fireplace, or a card table and hash out the events of the day. Thus does Delta Chi boast of a feeling of fraternalism and sincere friendship in the warmth and genuine comfort of the spacious Washington chapter house.

Volleyball in the Delta Chi's backyard is a favorite sport.

DELTA KAPPA EPSILON

The boys down at the Deke house cut loose with one of the most complete social calendars of the season again this year. Always ready for a good time, the brothers were found "barreling" their ways through such big annual events as the Pledge, Informal, and Spring Formal Dances.

But party times come and go, the Dekes found, and study times are here to stay. They pounded the books with much vigor, at the same time managing to maintain a good average in campus elections, athletics, organizations, and other activities. Many members have been rewarded for their enthusiasm by election to Big "W" Club, Malamutes, Purple Shield, Varsity Club, and Scabbard and Blade.

Now approaching the half century mark of its existence on the Washington campus, the DKEs look forward to more good times as only their fraternity can provide.

The term of 1951-52 proved to be another big year for Gamma Mu of Delta Tau Delta. The chapter's 25 new pledges found a very enjoyable and eventful year awaiting them. They quickly discovered how well they fitted into the chapter's program, which included exchanges, dances, serenades, intramural teams, and the annual pledge-active football game.

The Pledge Dance, given by the actives in honor of the neophytes, was the high spot on the fall social program. However, the annual Barn Dance and several firesides and guest dinners also were memorable occasions.

As always, Delts were found participating in all forms of campus activity. Delt was well represented in all major sports, Oval Club, Purple Shield, Malamutes, scholastic honoraries, and various committees. Despite this heavy social and activity program, they found time to maintain a high scholastic average. This year's graduates can well take with them the fond memories of Delta Tau Delta and college life.

C'mon you pledges—we've got to win this thing.

The DU Brawl brings natives from all over the world.

Members of the Washington Chapter of Delta Upsilon leave the 1951-52 school year with rich memories of a triumphant season in both campus activities and social life.

DU is well represented in many major campus activities, such as Malamutes, Oval Club, Yell Team, and the many other important fields that help make the University outstanding. Prominent, too, are the men who actively participated in the major fields of sports—football, track, baseball, crew, and basketball. Intramural sports also won a healthy and noteworthy support from the DU Chapter.

The annual Pledge Dance, Pajama Dance, Spring Formal, and "Brawl" were the major highlights of the well-rounded, complete social program.

The house itself, located on 45th Street and furnished with completely new blond furniture in every room, a streamlined recreation room, and "Hall of Fame" for prominent brothers on campus, has the distinction of being one of the finest in the nation.

Gamma Eta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi starts the new school year proud of the activities of the last. A diamond is shining very brightly at the University of Washington. Despite the unquestioned success of the annual "Black and White Ball," and the pride which Kappamen have in their social program, our main activities are in other directions, of these "Guide Right" is the most pertinent. Guide Right Week was culminated with a special program in the community. Our Guide Right Program for 28 years has made youth the starting point, the center, and the end.

Kappa Alpha Psi affords its members an opportunity for concrete and tangible success in group action. Within her sacred realm members exchange ideas; work for common ends; and consecrate themselves at the same altar of high manly endeavor. She has created a new home life for the men of her fold. She has by this means turned inefficient individual effort into efficient fraternal effort for common good. "We wear the diamonds."

Beta Beta chapter of Pi Kappa Alpha, one of the more than one hundred chapters located throughout the nation, passed through the 1951-52 school year with its usual active social calendar. The outstanding events enjoyed by the brothers were the Underworld Party, Dream Girl Dance, Frontier Daze Dance, Shipwreck Party, and Pledge Dance. Exchanges with neighboring sororities established friendship among the campus groups. Pi Kaps were active in all intramural sports and have shown sportsmanship and friendliness throughout the school year to make their house rank high in the fraternal world at Washington.

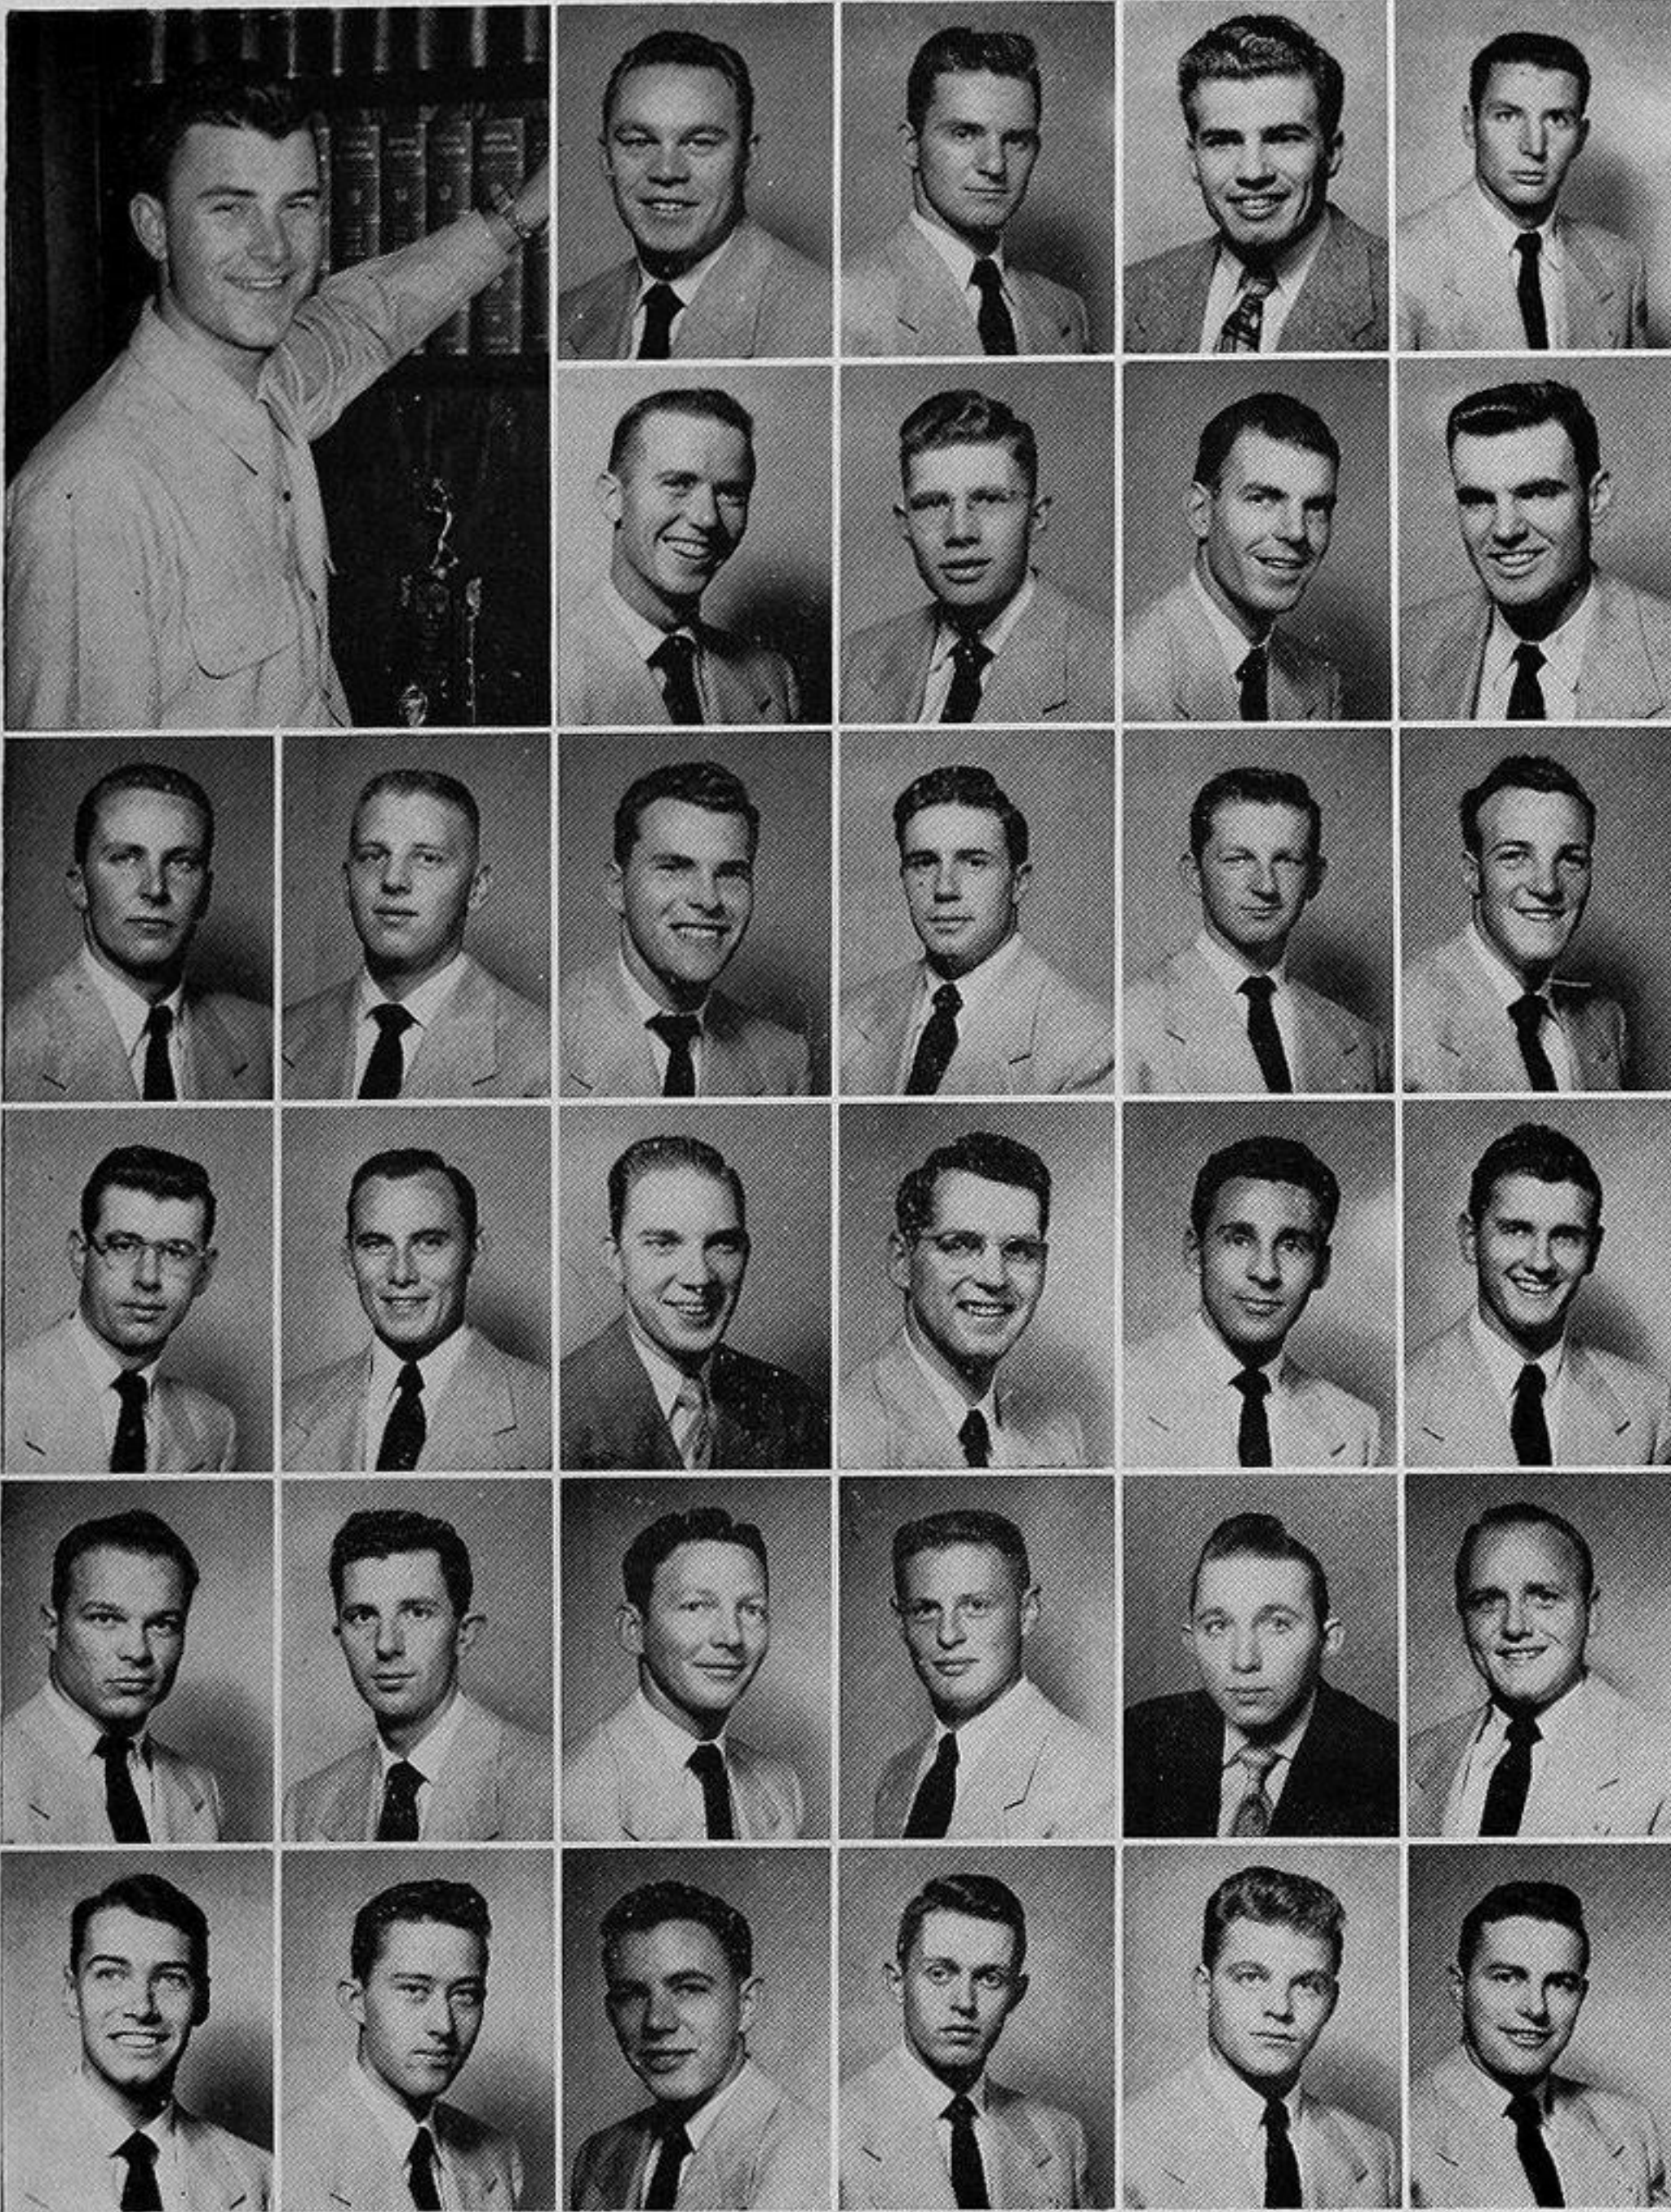

Pi K. A.'s put the finishing touches to their Homecoming masterpiece.

Looks like they are at the annual Kappa Sig
pajama dance.

After finishing off its 49th year in neat fashion, Beta Phi Chapter of Kappa Sigma is enthusiastically looking forward to its "golden year" of 1952-53 with the hope that life will be as smooth as the past season has shown it to be.

"Smooth" will hardly suffice to describe the group's fine pledges, who were snared in fall rushing; the traditional chapter social program, which included the Pledge Dance, Stardust Ball, and Spring Informal; or the many BMOCs (big men on campus), who took part in such organizations as Malamutes, Purple Shield, Scabbard and Blade, and others.

Scholarship wasn't neglected during the past year, and a few of the brothers even knocked on the very exclusive Phi Beta door. Heaven only knows what the "golden year" will bring at the Kappa Sig club.

Well, Lambda Chi is still around as indicated by the following excerpt entered by the brothers: "We didn't do much this year. Had a few parties—Prison Dance and Houseparty and a stuffy old Winter Formal. Also the usual firesides and exchanges. Not much to brag about though. Scholarship was 'bout average. A few guys flunked out, but we've got a couple of brains so the house average looks good. Won a couple intramural championships, but most of the time we were just out for kicks. Anyway, everybody got to be on the teams. Got some sharp singers, and did pretty well in Songfest, but then everybody gets lucky once in a while. Also have a few guys wandering around campus trying to look like politicians. Not much else, though.

Oh, by the way, we're also the largest National Fraternity, but who cares about that; we don't see much of the other brothers anyway.

Phi Delts play Santa Claus at their annual orphan's Christmas Party.

"It's a great life," Washington's Phi Delts agreed as they concluded a season as gay and profitable as could be wished for by any fraternity on Greek Row. The brothers feel that if they had 1951-52 to live all over again they'd pledge just as fine a frosh class as they did this year; they'd hold the same swell parties and dances; they'd come through just as brilliantly in campus activities and athletics; and they'd be as closely integrated a group as the past year has shown them to be. In other words, perfection! Who can ask for more?

Men from the "Castle on the Corner" continued their leading pace in the facets of college life during the year. Like the proverbial knight who leaped upon his horse and rode off in all directions, the Fijis strode off with honors on the social, athletic intramural, and campus political fields.

In jungleland atmosphere, the Cannibals—the nickname has no anthropological evidence to support its use—staged their annual Grass Skirt Dance during spring quarter. Fijis and their dates, girded in hand-made grass skirts, point to the dance as one of the most successful. On the same plane, they place their Winter Formal and the Pledge Dance held during fall term.

In intramural competition, the Phi Gams made use of their athletes to protect trophies already won and bring new ones to rest on the shelves of their library.

Cannibal fingers sneaked into the campus political pie as the Fijis continued their roles in student government and pledges began their apprenticeship in helping to handle school affairs.

World workers—Phi Kaps and Alpha Gams at Soph Carnival.

Getting in step for Ben.

The Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity, stemming from the revered Harvard Skull Club, was founded at the University of Pennsylvania in the year 1850. The 101 years of existence is in itself a tribute to the strength of the organization which was founded on the tradition of brotherhood, with the aim of providing an environment in which college men could grow in social and cultural stature as well as in academic knowledge.

This year, as in the past, many of the brothers have made outstanding achievements in scholarship, athletics, and campus activities. A rise in scholarship, numerous big "W" winners, and respected positions in student government including ASUW second vice-president, treasurer of the Associated Men Students, and president of Junior IFC mark the recent path of the Phi Kaps at Washington.

The all-important house functions reflect the social prominence of the Phi Kaps during the last year. The annual Orphans Christmas Party, this year for the children of Sacred Heart Villa, Pledge Dance, "Aw-Go-To-Hell" Dance, Winter Formal, and House Party highlighted a social calendar enjoyed by all members.

Phi Kappa Tau's gather around to help tame "Tabu," their pet skunk.

ΦΚΤ

Phi Kappa Tau again proved itself a great service organization as well as social fraternity. Members entered every phase of University life with great enthusiasm. But this zest did not stop with activities, for the men scored excellently in scholarship, one of the main stresses of their fraternity life.

The 1951-52 season will stand out in the minds of Phi Kappa Tau men as one of the most successful. Eagerly they look forward to another grand year at Washington.

PHI SIGMA KAPPA

The year 1952 marks Lambda Deuteron's 29th year as a representative of Phi Sigma Kappa on the University of Washington campus. The Grand Chapter of Phi Sigma Kappa, founded in 1873 at Massachusetts State College, Amherst, Mass., has grown to include 73 chapters spread from coast to coast.

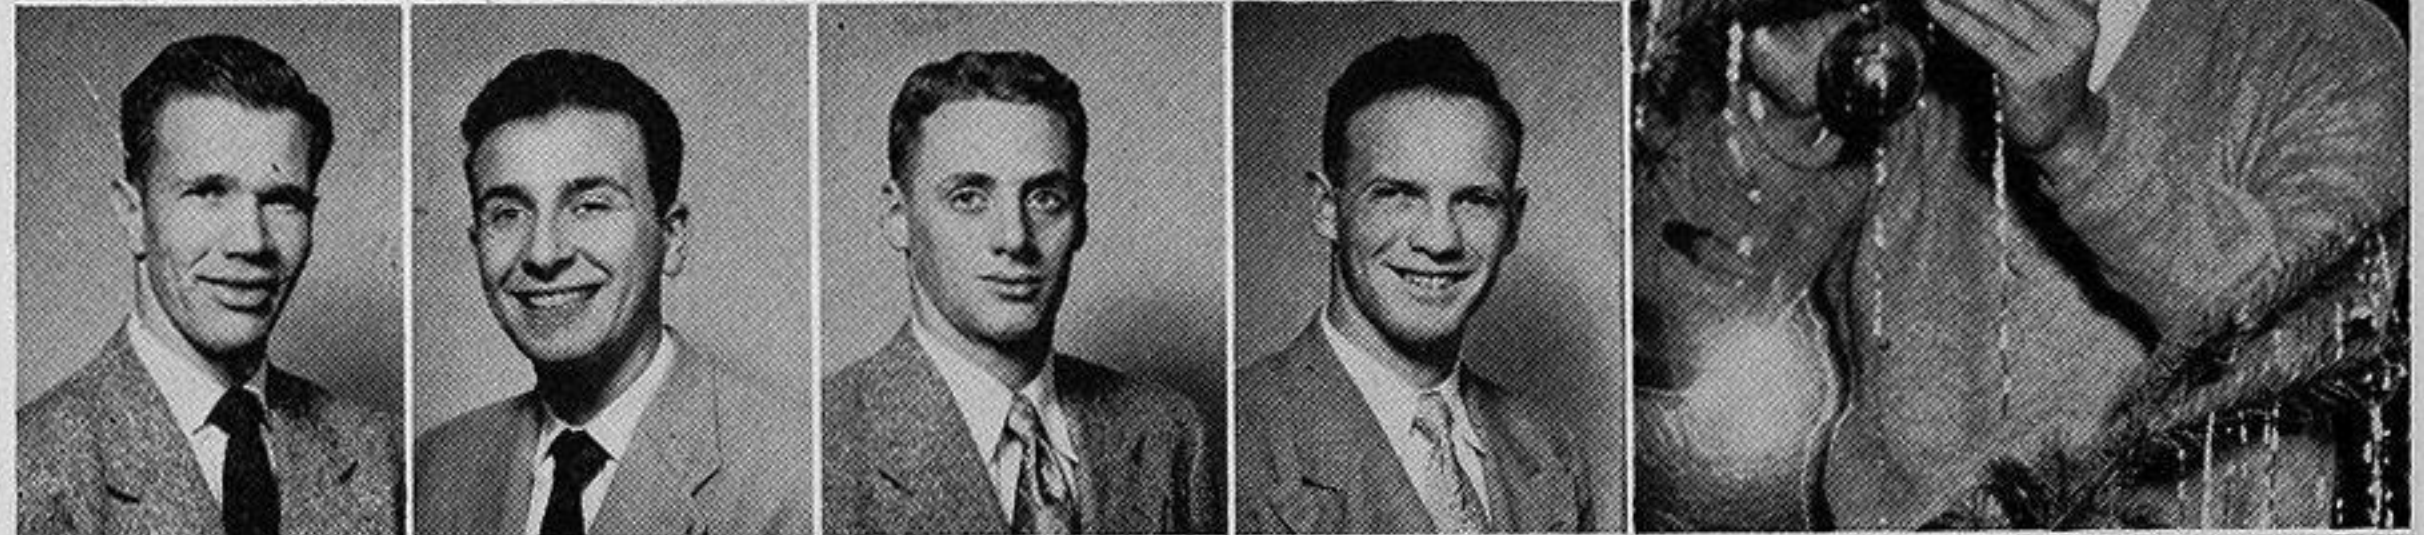

Stressing Phi Sigma Kappa's Cardinal Principles, The Promotion of Brotherhood, Stimulation of Scholarship, and Development of Character, Phi Sigs have taken an active part in campus life. Highlights of the Phi Sig social calendar during the past year included the annual "Moonlight Girl" formal dinner-dance, the winter quarter Pledge Dance, the unique Sunrise Dance held late in spring quarter, and a number of successful exchanges, firesides, and cruises.

Following the Cardinal Principles laid down by its founders, Phi Sigma Kappa will strive to meet whatever challenge the future may offer.

1818 East 47th

Since the founding of Psi Upsilon 118 years ago at Union College, Psi U has grown to 30 chapters in the United States and Canada and has been on the campus of the University of Washington since 1916.

Highlights of the year at Psi U have included the traditional Pledge Dance, Winter Formal, "Beachcombers' Brawl," and second annual Spring Formal. The Yule Season brought with it another Christmas party for 30 orphans of the Seattle Children's Home.

This year again nearly half of the group was engaged in University activities and athletics. The intramural sports program received enthusiastic support from the fraternity. In September Psi U was proud to announce the pledging of 21 outstanding men, and by Spring the chapter had increased considerably in number.

Alpha Delta of Pi Kappa Phi was established at the University of Washington in 1924. It is a relatively small house on this campus, a fact very conducive to a more intimate, closely knit group.

Pi Kaps believe firmly in the educational values to be attained in college. Consequently, a goodly portion of each member's time is spent in serious studying.

Yet, members do not overlook the social and extracurricular side of collegiate life. The many social functions of each year are topped off by the annual Rose Ball, held late each spring.

The year has been a grand one for Pi Kappa Phi, and the charge looks forward eagerly to future years of college life.

Pi Kaps and their dates sit one out at the Pledge Dance.

Sigma Pi came up with a bigger and better program than ever before with members excelling in many campus activities. As usual, the social season was packed with excitement, being built around at least one big dance each quarter. Included in the schedule were many exchanges, firesides, and ski parties.

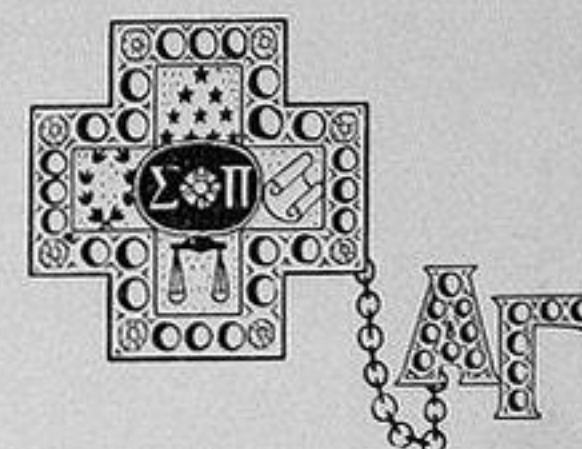

Grade averages were usually slightly better than average among the Sigma Pis who, though they "hit the books" regularly, did not neglect the athletic side of college life. All in all, it's been a great year for Sigma Pi at Washington, and the boys all seem to be "hot" for next season and more good times in their fraternity.

Through the guidance of their chosen leader, Genghis Khan, the hatchet-men of Sigma Alpha Epsilon tong have once again managed to successfully muddle their way through another year.

"We point with pride to the fact that our house bills are the most fantastic on campus as our alumni association is headed by a gent named Scrooge. Our chapter meetings are tops in chaos and are run by a small clique of 85 brothers, who have somehow managed to remember each other's names. We drink beer and sometimes take girls on wild parties following which none of them will ever speak to us again. We have a standing rule that all the athletes muts take at least three Chlorophyl tablets per day; and none of us has ever attended an all-University function.

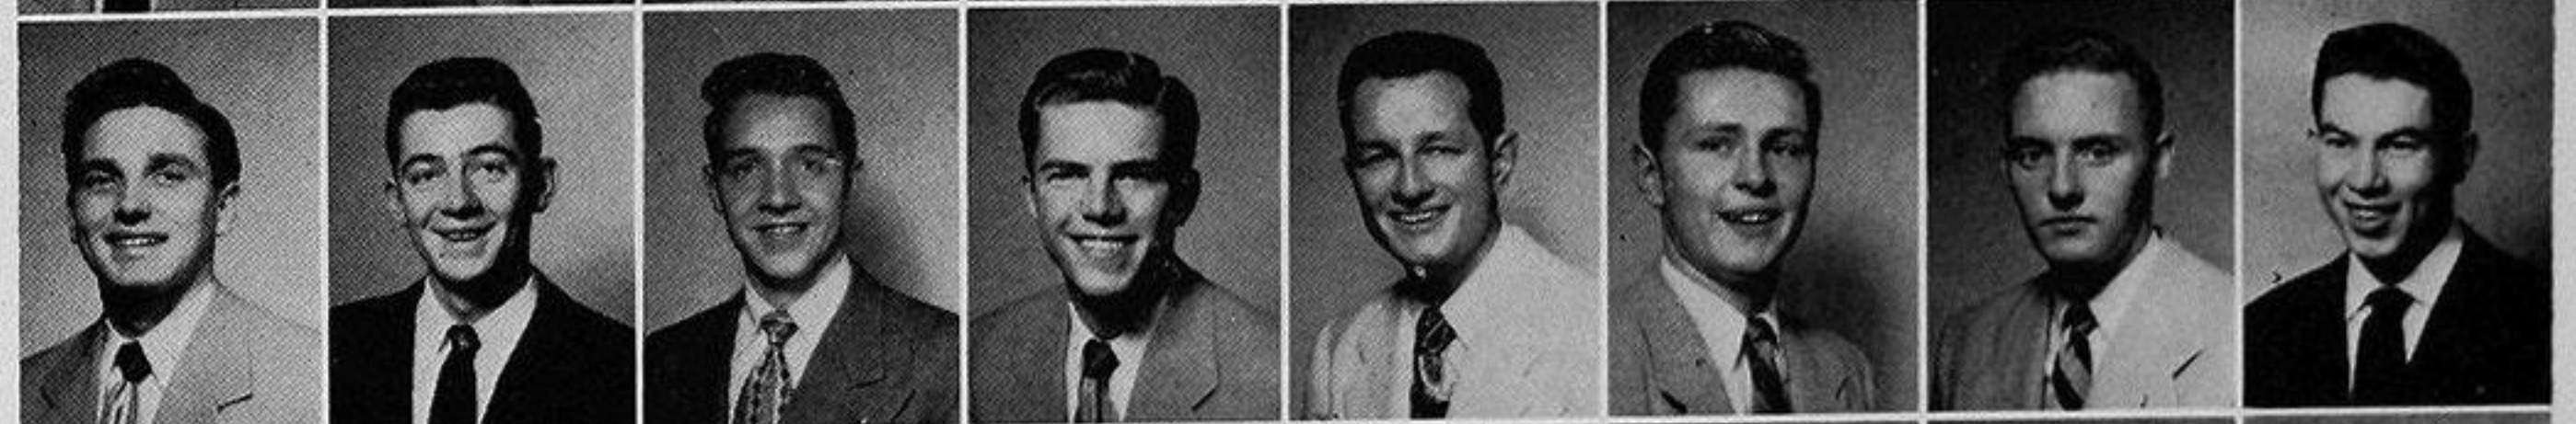

"We don't have anybody in campus politics because we can't stand coffee and besides it interferes with our fooling around. We hold open house on closed weekends, and sometimes, through sheer boredom, go to class. We hang our sox in the trophy case because we haven't got any trophies, and pictures of former all-Americans we stole from other houses decorate our walls.

In fact, we don't do anything; but we have loads of fun.

Fraternity and fellowship are synonymous. The core of Sigma Alpha Mu is the fellowship of its members.

Through the combined efforts of its membership, Sigma Alpha Mu strives for high achievement. This is in one way evidenced by the chapter's excellent scholarship record. Participation in campus activities and intramural athletics are other examples of SAM's eager determination to show what it can do. In the meanwhile, not neglecting the social aspect of college life, the "Sammies" enjoyed a well-rounded program of formal dances, including their annual Pledge Dance, Winter Formal, and Spring Alumni Dance. Through the years Sigma Alpha Mu has endeavored to translate its ideals into action, pursuing high standards and promoting significant and constructive projects.

The primary objective of Sigma Chi is to enable its members to derive the maximum benefit from their educational opportunity. To acquire this, members feel a student must maintain a balance between scholarship and participation in activities, both on campus and in the fraternity. The long list of Sigs taking part in Varsity sports, Malamutes, IFC, AMS, and other University organizations is evidence of the chapter's active interest in this institution. The traditional Sweetheart Ball, at which Washington's Sweetheart of Sigma Chi is named, is only one of their many and varied social activities. Members of Upsilon Upsilon chapter feel that they have achieved their objective.

The year 1896 marked the beginning of fraternity life at Washington. In that year Edmond S. Meany brought to the University its first national fraternity by aiding in the founding of Gamma Chi Chapter of Sigma Nu. Ever proud of its pioneer inception, Gamma Chi has remained alert to its responsibilities to Washington, to camp life, and to the men who each year are welcomed into the brotherhood of Sigma Nu.

Sigma Nu is well represented in varsity and frosh athletics and stands well above college grade averages in scholarship. In campus activities the White Star gleamed brightly as Floyd McCracken won the Junior Class presidency and the men of Sigma Nu gained first place in Homecoming sign competition and the Campus Chest Drive.

The Pig Dinner, long recognized as the highlight of campus social life, is a typical sample of the social calendar enjoyed by the men of Sigma Nu.

Thus, Gamma Chi Chapter is represented in every phase of campus service by men who, ever mindful of their heritage of leadership, proudly wear the White Star of Sigma Nu.

Sig Eps ready their Homecoming "nickel machine."

An architect's drawing of the new Sigma Phi Epsilon house.

Actives and alumni get together at the Founder's Day Banquet.

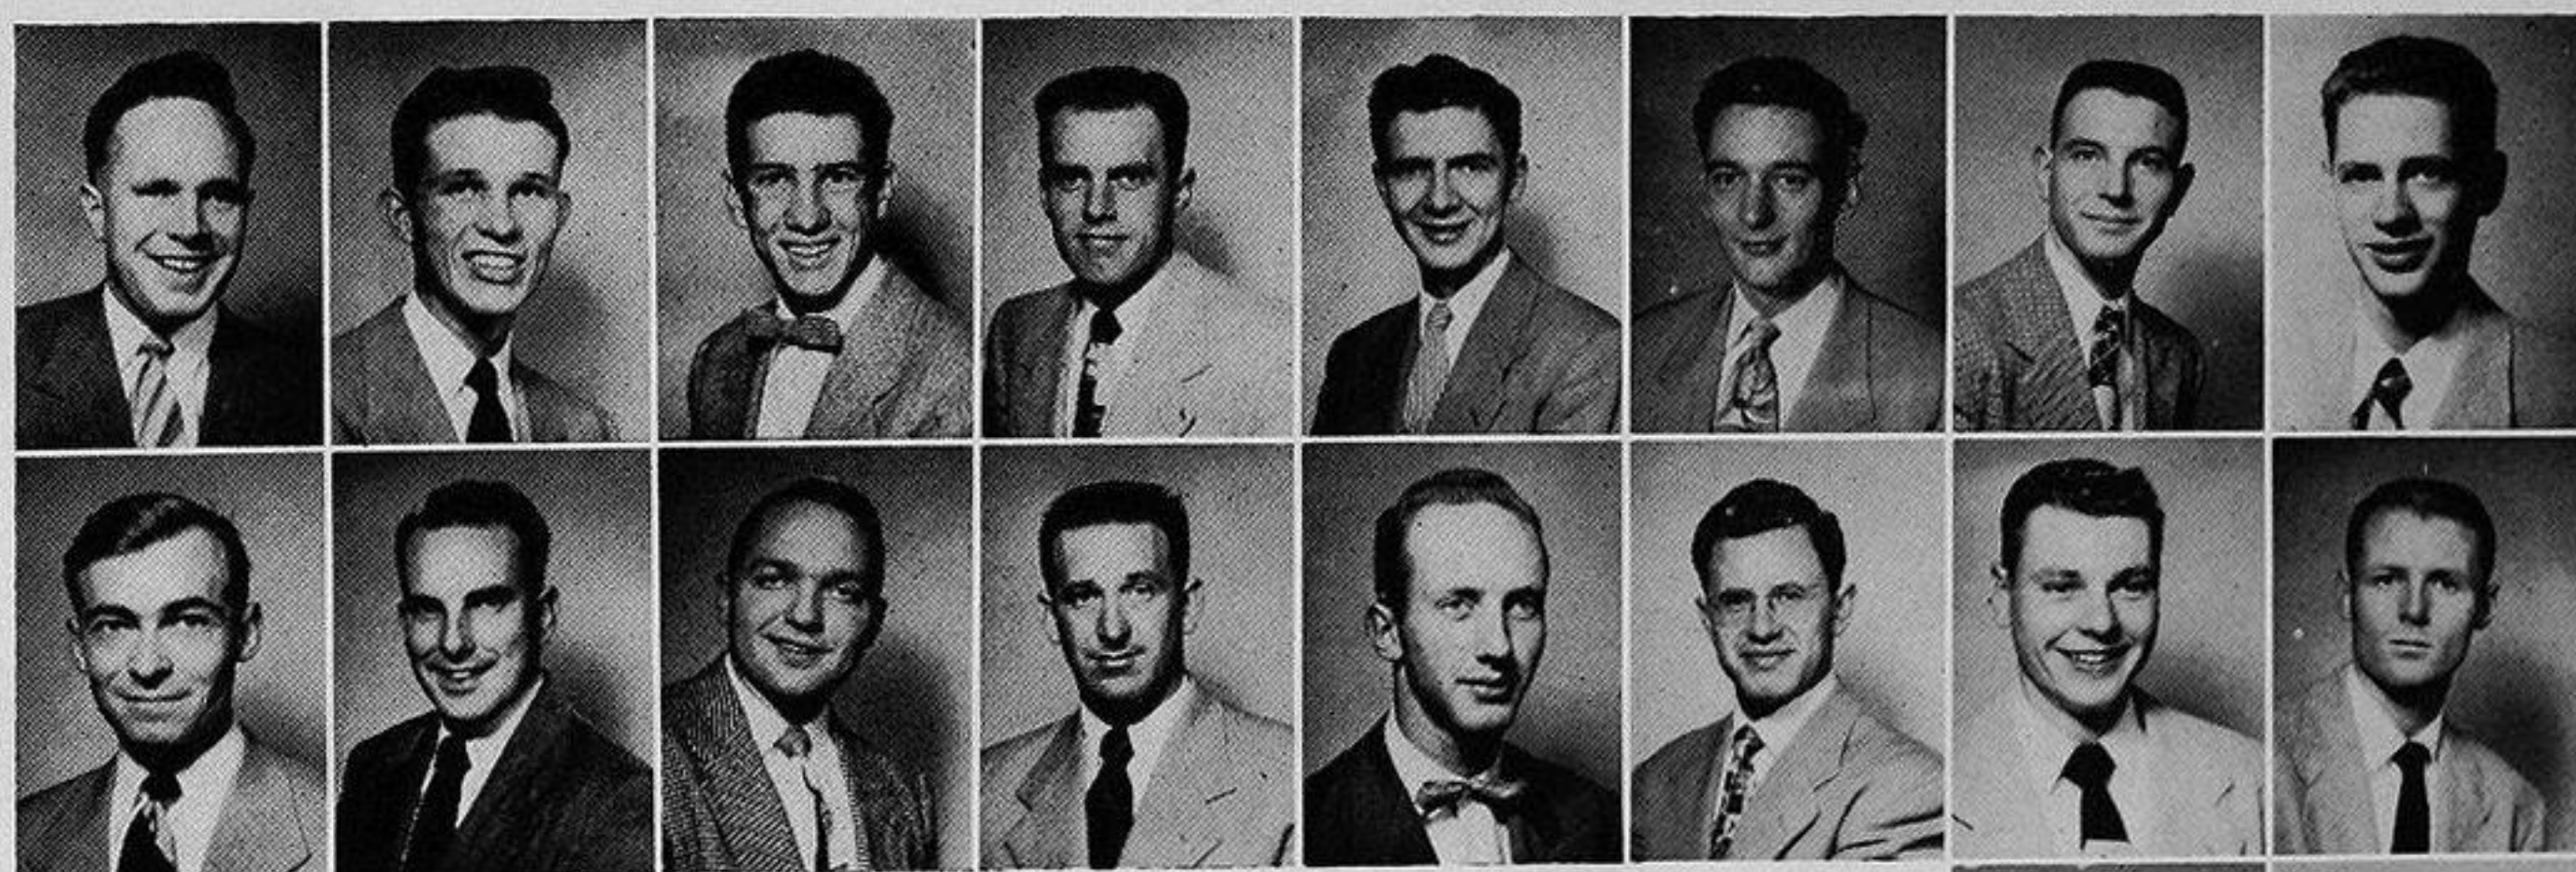

This past year has marked the 50th year of progress for Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity. From a spark ignited by 12 men at the University of Richmond, Va., in 1901, Sig Ep has grown to the size of a bonfire, with 109 chapters throughout the country and more than 39,000 members.

Memories of the 1951-52 season will remain with Sig Eps for years to come. The social calendar was never found wanting. The Pledge Dance spotlighted fall quarter, while in February the chapter held its Winter Informal. The social year was climaxed with the annual "Queen of Hearts" Ball in the spring. Furthermore, numerous firesides and exchanges made the weekends more enjoyable. The pledge class, numbering 22 men, was full of spirit and contributed much to the group's success.

Sig Ep intramural teams were outstanding, with the flag football team racing to fourth place in the all-U playoffs and taking two berths on the all-star team.

In scholarship, the basis of college life, Sig Eps made one of the greater improvements among University fraternities. As time marches on unheeded, Sigma Phi Epsilon shall also march on to new and greater accomplishments.

TKE

Time out from studies for a spring picnic.

Setting out at a hearty pace and taking everything in their stride, the Tekes concluded a tremendous season of activity and gaiety on the U of W campus. Their schedule, which included everything from "soup to nuts," was one of the hottest ever experienced by the chapter.

The other campus kings have nothing on the Tekes, who turned out like mad for University activities and sports. The house was represented on such ASUW groups as the Hub Operating and Dance Committee. Other activities such as Organizations Assembly and IFC numbered Tekes among their officers as well as members. The boys were active in the University Band, Malamutes, and the Washington Engineer staff. Even though their heads were in the clouds with activities, evidence shows that their feet were firmly planted on the ground when it came to scholarship.

All this goes to show that Tau Kappa Epsilon is heading for another big year at Washington, and is mighty glad of it.

TAU PHI DELTA

At the completion of a quarter-century, Tau Phi Delta takes pride in its past events and activities. The social calendar began with the annual Homecoming Dance, which was regarded by many alums to be the "best ever." Other social functions included a Christmas Party, Winter Formal, various exchanges, with the Spring Picnic rounding out the year.

Scholarship has always been an important matter with Tau Phi Delta, and members point with pride to their record and to the trophies which adorn their mantle.

Being a social and professional forestry fraternity does not prevent the charge from taking part in most University-sponsored events.

After an impartial survey of active members, the boys up at the Theta Chi house are proud to announce they have the "red-hottest frat club on the Washington campus." To quote . . . "We are loaded with athletes who have gone inactive after initiation; our kitchen puts out the best bread pudding on campus; our intramural football squad can beat any sorority around; we go on wild parties, sing dirty songs, and our Friday night club is just about tops.

"We have a rushee who can't make up his mind living in the chapter room; we go out with sorority girls when we can't get dates with independents; we win intramural athletics with professional ringers; we have the captain of the varsity checker team and 597 alums who hate us like crazy but show up for free meals.

"We have a 41-year-old pledge named Howie who comes to parties and owns a vacuum cleaner; we drink beer and boast of three Gamma Phi houseboys. And as for campus leaders, we have a reader in Soc. 100 and a transfer from WSC who eats at the HUB because he's allergic to food. . . . All in all we're a grand bunch of fellows."

Theta Delts, proud of their 104 year old heritage of leadership among college fraternities, finished their 39th year on the Washington campus with their banners flying higher than ever.

Members believe in well-rounded social, athletic, activity, and scholastic programs. Featuring the Pledge Formal, "Singapore Sling," Spring Formal, and numerous firesides and exchanges, there was always something on the social calendar. The athletic seasons found men in varsity crew, football, swimming, and volleyball, as well as in every intramural sport.

On the activity scene, men represented the charge in Malamutes, Columns, Tyee, debate, band, and many honoraries and committees. The house participated in Homecoming, Sophomore Carnival, and Songfest, organized the student pep band at football rallies and games, and sponsored the spring pre-election street dance. However, scholarship still received its proper emphasis. For the second consecutive year the chapter ranked fourth highest among fraternities on campus.

The continuing progress of Theta Delta Chi at Washington points to even greater years ahead.

The Zetes of the Phi Lambda Chapter pride themselves on having a well-rounded membership. Attending college also includes maintaining a scholastic record, and each year the Zeta Psi Educational Foundation makes a scholarship and achievement award to the outstanding member of each chapter.

Last year the house average was above the all-university and the all-fraternity average. The Zetes were also active in intramural sports and campus activities. The Zeta Psi-Chi Psi football game, in which members vie for the Theta lamp, is one of the outstanding sports events of the year.

Socially, the Zetes, as always, had a varied and full year. Two costume dances, and the Winter Formal at the Olympic Bowl were the big events of the year. Also, there were many exchanges and firesides.

With the closing of another terrific year, Zeta Psi will be looking forward to fall and the beginning of another outstanding year.

ZETA BETA TAU

Activity-minded as the Zeta Beta Tau boys are, nothing less than wholehearted devotion to the U of W could be expected or was given during the 1951-52 season. The fraternity fielded successful teams in all the intramural sports, and members won recognition throughout the campus by participation in organizations, scholastic honoraries, and committees.

Featuring the annual, mildly sensational "Brawl" and Winter Formal, the year was socially complete. As a climax to a fine year, members celebrated at their exotic Orchid Formal at the Olympic Hotel. This event, at which the chapter's Orchid Sweetheart is chosen, has received national recognition throughout the fraternity for a number of years.

With one eye on next year and the other on the world situation, the brothers of Zeta Beta Tau pray for peaceful years throughout the world and hope for another successful year on the University of Washington campus.

Louis Soriano receives the National Zeta Beta Tau "Best Athlete" Award presented by Larry Monoschein, 1951 president.

THETA XI

Theta Xi's 36th year at Washington was marked by a very successful social season. The annual Pledge Dance, traditional Loggers Brawl, Winter Formal, and memorable Spring Informal were the high points of the year with numerous exchanges and firesides to round out the social calendar.

Not forgetting on-campus activities, Theta Xi's participated in Malamutes, Columns, Daily, Tyee, Compass and Chart, Scabbard and Blade, intramural athletics, and various honoraries.

However, the 1951-52 season will best be remembered by the brothers for the informal get-togethers, bull sessions, and lasting friendships formed.

INDEPENDENT WOMEN'S ASSOCIATION

IWA is an association for non-affiliated university women. Any woman student who lives in one of the seven organized houses for independent women is automatically a member of IWA; any non-affiliated woman student may be a member by becoming an associate member of one of the seven houses. IWA's purpose is to represent unaffiliated women in campus government, to coordinate the social and service activities of IWA groups, and to orient new women students to campus life. The IWA Council is the governing body.

INTERHALL COUNCIL

Inter-Hall Council's membership consists of representatives from the four Women's Residence Halls. The council functions as both a co-ordinating and a governing body, promoting co-operation between campus and hall activities. It sponsors programs which affect all four halls, such as County Fair, the Foreign Students' Banquet, Honors Banquet, Parents' Tea, and the Spring Formal. The Council formulates hall policies in order to gain the best participation and enjoyment of group living.

From informal mixers held in the modernistic recreation rooms to the elaborate Interhall spring formal, the residence halls have created an atmosphere lending itself to social and scholastic achievement. The four halls as a unit present the traditional honor banquet, foreign student banquet, parents' tea and other outstanding events. Individually, the halls present mixers, exchanges, date dances, formals, Christmas carolling, and compete in the spring songfest.

Scholastic achievement is encouraged by the award of the Interhall scholarship cup to one of the halls. The success of the girls from the halls is confirmed by several being voted outstanding in their departments. Thus, we look back with pride upon this year's accomplishments, and forward to the promising future of the Women's Residence Halls.

WESLEY HOUSE

Because Wesley House is first of all a Christian Student Center and not just a place of residence, it is different. Before the year was very far along, Wesley House girls found themselves in the midst of the busy Wesley Club Co-ed program, but they still had time and energy to have special functions of their own.

Wesley House, founded in 1935 and sponsored by the Methodist Church, provides residence for college girls of Methodist preference. It is affiliated with the campus through the Independent Women's Association.

EKLIND HALL

School of Nursing Swedish Division

1102 Columbia

Nursing is becoming more and more popular with the young women of today. In fulfilling the great need for nurses, a young girl is assured of security and a fascinating occupation for life. The graduate nurse has many fields from which to choose. Among them are Public Health Nursing, General Nursing, Specialization, Nursing Education, and several others.

The student nurse leads a typical college girl's life. There are parties, dances, and University activities to attend. The study time she herself may choose. She lives in pleasant surroundings at Eklind Hall and has the opportunity to make many lasting friendships among her fellow students.

In her hospital work she meets the public in their time of need. Affiliations take her to Children's Orthopedic Hospital, Firlands Sanatorium, and the Northern State Hospital at Sedro Woolley. This plus two years of campus life fills the 4½ years of a student nurse's education.

A student and graduate nurse prepare a patient for x-ray.

Helping care for polio patients is one of the nurses' jobs.

One of the many places student nurses receive advanced training is at Northern State Hospital, Sedro Woolley.

EKLIND HALL

King County Hospital with Nurses' Home in background.

School of Nursing Harborview Division

Harborview Hall represents residence for University of Washington student nurses who select King County Hospital for clinical experience during those important days of their career from "caps to pins." The selection between the two hospitals (King County and Swedish) is made at the completion of 2½ years of campus studies which includes one quarter of pre-clinical work in the hospital by the pre-nursing student.

Residence in the hall begins after the impressive capping ceremony when all nursing candidates take the Nightingale Pledge. Living quarters are pleasant, with private rooms and liberal house rules made by the nurses' own student body which elects officers to represent their student council and student body every six months. The hall is under ASUW jurisdiction.

A comfortable lounge with a brand new television set is available to all who care to use it. Every Wednesday afternoon, the residence director, Miss Heffine, serves tea.

Social and recreational activities are many and varied. Campus activities, exchange dances, and sports are only part of life for the student nurse after classes. Responsibility for "Chronic Complainer," a biweekly publication, is assumed by each class of Basic Students for a period of six months. The Nurses' Chorus enjoys Christmas caroling and sings at important occasions such as capping and pinning. Meditation and Christian fellowship are afforded by the active Nurses' Christian Fellowship (CNF). Many students have membership and take part in the activities of Alpha Tau Delta, the nursing honorary.

Clinical experience in all fields of nursing is obtained at Harborview Hospital and other University teaching units, which include: Firland's for Tuberculosis experience, Northern State for Psychiatry, Seattle and King County Public Health Department for Visiting Nurse experience, and The Doctors Hospital for Partial Obstetrics and Operating Room.

At the completion of her work in the hospital, the student nurse receives a Bachelor of Science degree in Nursing from the University, plus a Public Health Certificate of first degree level. She becomes a Registered Nurse after taking National Board exams which gives her reciprocity in every state in the union.

Harborview dwellers spend leisure time relaxing with knitting, a cup of coffee, or just talking.

Time out for a letter home from one of the girls at Harborview.

Wednesday teas are a tradition at the Hall.

The Men's Organized House Council was reorganized last spring to include both independent men's houses on and off campus in hopes of building a stronger and more adaptable working group within the independent men. All independent men's houses with more than ten members are invited to petition for membership in the group which now includes nine houses.

A major purpose of the organization is to provide representation for all members on the Board of Control; the MOHC president being the holder of a seat on the council. A second purpose is to promote the interests of these groups through the provision of a social and athletic program.

Student Co-operators completed another eventful year of living, eating, and having fun together. The University of Washington group, composed of six houses and headed by President Dean Berntsen, successfully completed its 19th year of group living.

Board members who assisted Berntsen with Co-op business are: Ron Karge, Macgregor; Donald Taylor, Jack Papritz and Jose Zuluaga, Honderich; Stanley Holt, Rofcre; Bill Young, Sherwood; Helen Knudsen, McLean; and JoAnn Holmes, Synadelphic.

A brand new idea in college living was tried out this year at the SCA. Both men and women lived in separate units of Synadelphic House, collaborating on social functions and working together on keeping the house in operation.

"Coopie," the SCA's ever-active symbolic elf, says: "That's real co-operatin'!"

In keeping with its former name of International House, Honderich retains a cosmopolitan atmosphere by having several of its members from the far corners of the world. Students from Siam, China, Japan, the Philippines, India, France, and Canada were among the members this year. Honderich House is proof that people from a variety of environments and backgrounds can live together in complete harmony. Further proof of this was demonstrated this year as Honderich men maintained a scholastic standing near the top of men's organized houses and carried out a full social program.

Macgregor House, founded in 1933, is the largest of the Student Co-operative houses and one of the most active. Intramural sports, dinner exchanges, mixers, and the traditional Macgregor Barn Dance helped set a fast social pace.

House Presidents Phil Wingrove and Don Hansler have worked hard this year in organizing house activities and emphasizing the principles of democratic living. Macgregor House has an excellent educational program and ranks among the top houses in scholarship.

Since the founding of McLean in 1947, the house has been growing steadily in size and popularity. Under the leadership of a very active House Council the year has been filled with varied activities and much progress.

McLean is noted for its hospitality and friendliness. The interests vary from athletics to the fine arts and scholarship. The social program exemplifies this spirit with dinner parties, mixers, taffy pulls, square dances, and informal gatherings of other Co-op members and their friends.

Traditional to McLean is the big dance of the year, "The Pink Garter," set in the Gay Nineties mood with every house member becoming an entertainer for the occasion. Christmas tradition includes "Schmoo Week."

Based on the idea of cooperative living, McLean is proud of its progress and achievement.

With President Walter Baich at the helm, Sherwood House has sailed through another year of college life. Although small, it managed to provide plenty of athletic and social activity for its members. In the spring of 1951 Sherwood was moved from 17th Street to its present location on 21st Street. Last fall quarter members held an open house to acquaint the rest of the Co-op with Sherwood at the new location. Members consider it a quiet and friendly house, a good place to study or relax.

SHERWOOD

4550 16th Ave. N.E.

In fall quarter 1951, Synadelphic was converted from a girls' to a co-educational house. The Student-Cooperative Association's first experiment in co-educational living resulted in an enriching experience for Synadelphic's members. In this family-like group situation the boys and girls, several of whom are foreign students, lived in separate units, eating together, and participating in social functions. Piloted by presidents Mary Hallowell, Blaine Hoskine, and Ron Salt, the boys and girls met together to discuss problems and plan activities. Highest among independent women's houses in 1950-51, Synadelphic members endeavored to maintain an outstanding scholastic average. If the present surplus of men over women continues in the Co-op, the SCA will permanently establish this co-operational venture next year.

Cascade Hall, following the adoption of a new constitution, spent the year in an improvement program, which included the remodeling and painting of a large portion of the dorm and the purchasing of several new facilities. Funds were also delegated to a larger social program which was concluded with a spring party at a nearby lake resort.

On an individual basis, house members, a large percentage of which are foreign students, took an active part in such organizations as Organizations Assembly, Interhall Council, Malamutes, and MOHC, as well as many ASUW committees and scholastic honoraries and intramural sports. Heading the year's executive council were George L. Meshke, Bruce Flornes, Joe Gerberg, Don Loken, Bob Hammersmith, Frank Bjodstrup, Bob Hoffman, Brian Brookhyser, and George Speck.

To the casual or insensitive student Chelan Hall is a somewhat unintelligible spiderlike excrescence near the northern border of the campus. To its residents, however, it is a home which provides the matrix for study, rest, and the quiet or doubtful pleasures of celibacy. Although they are naturally disinclined to political abstractions, Chelan's citizens recognize in its rigid disorganization and settled chaos the best elements of the open society.

It should not be necessary to remark that Chelan is an aberration from the normal student residence; and this variance is fittingly reflected in its architecture. With the possible exception of several poorly executed provincial copies, Chelan's style is unique, and if the best authorities are to be believed, it is likely to remain so.

Rainier Hall is one of the largest and most active independent men's group at the University of Washington. During the past year, the hall has been very active in intramural sports. Last fall the table tennis team composed of Danny and Winnie Lim and Ness Marshall won the intramural title. The hall's activities have not been confined to sports, for members participated in a full schedule of social activities which included exchanges with several women's organizations. Rainier Hall again upheld its scholastic honors by being ranked near the top of the men's living groups. The hall is looking forward to more successful years.

Synkoa House is a popular activity center with a friendly and informal air. Bridge, ping pong, chess, cribbage and after-exam "post mortems" seem to be favorites during float hours. The club enters basketball, wrestling and soft-ball teams in intramural league play.

The club's principal activities include the annual Home-coming banquet and dance, fireside discussion meetings, guest speakers, bridge tournaments with alumni, informal dances, the annual pre-finals picnic in spring, a banquet for the graduating seniors and variety of other functions.

The name Synkoa is made up of the last initial of club members who gave their lives while serving with the armed forces during World War II.

Although Varsity Hall is one of the smaller men's organized houses, it has consistently ranked with the leaders in activity. Behind the capable leadership of President Bob Beck, Secretary-Treasurer Walt Vitous, Jack Darling, social chairman, and Gene McClenning, athletic manager, the members of the house have experienced another beneficial and memorable year.

Success in intramural sports, campus activities, social functions and a general high record of scholarship have made this one of the most pleasant years in Varsity Hall history.

Cooperating is easy when you've got a couple of gals to dry the dishes for you. Ralph Myers washes while Tanya Johnson and Marjorie Barlow dry. All live at Synadelphic house. Synadelphic was converted from a girls' to a co-educational house fall quarter. The boys and girls live in separate units, eating together and participating in social functions.

Something new on the airwaves recently was the "Music the University Way" program. Here, master of ceremonies Phil Boren interviews representatives of one of the campus sororities. This program, which each week features members of a different organized house, is heard over KRSC.

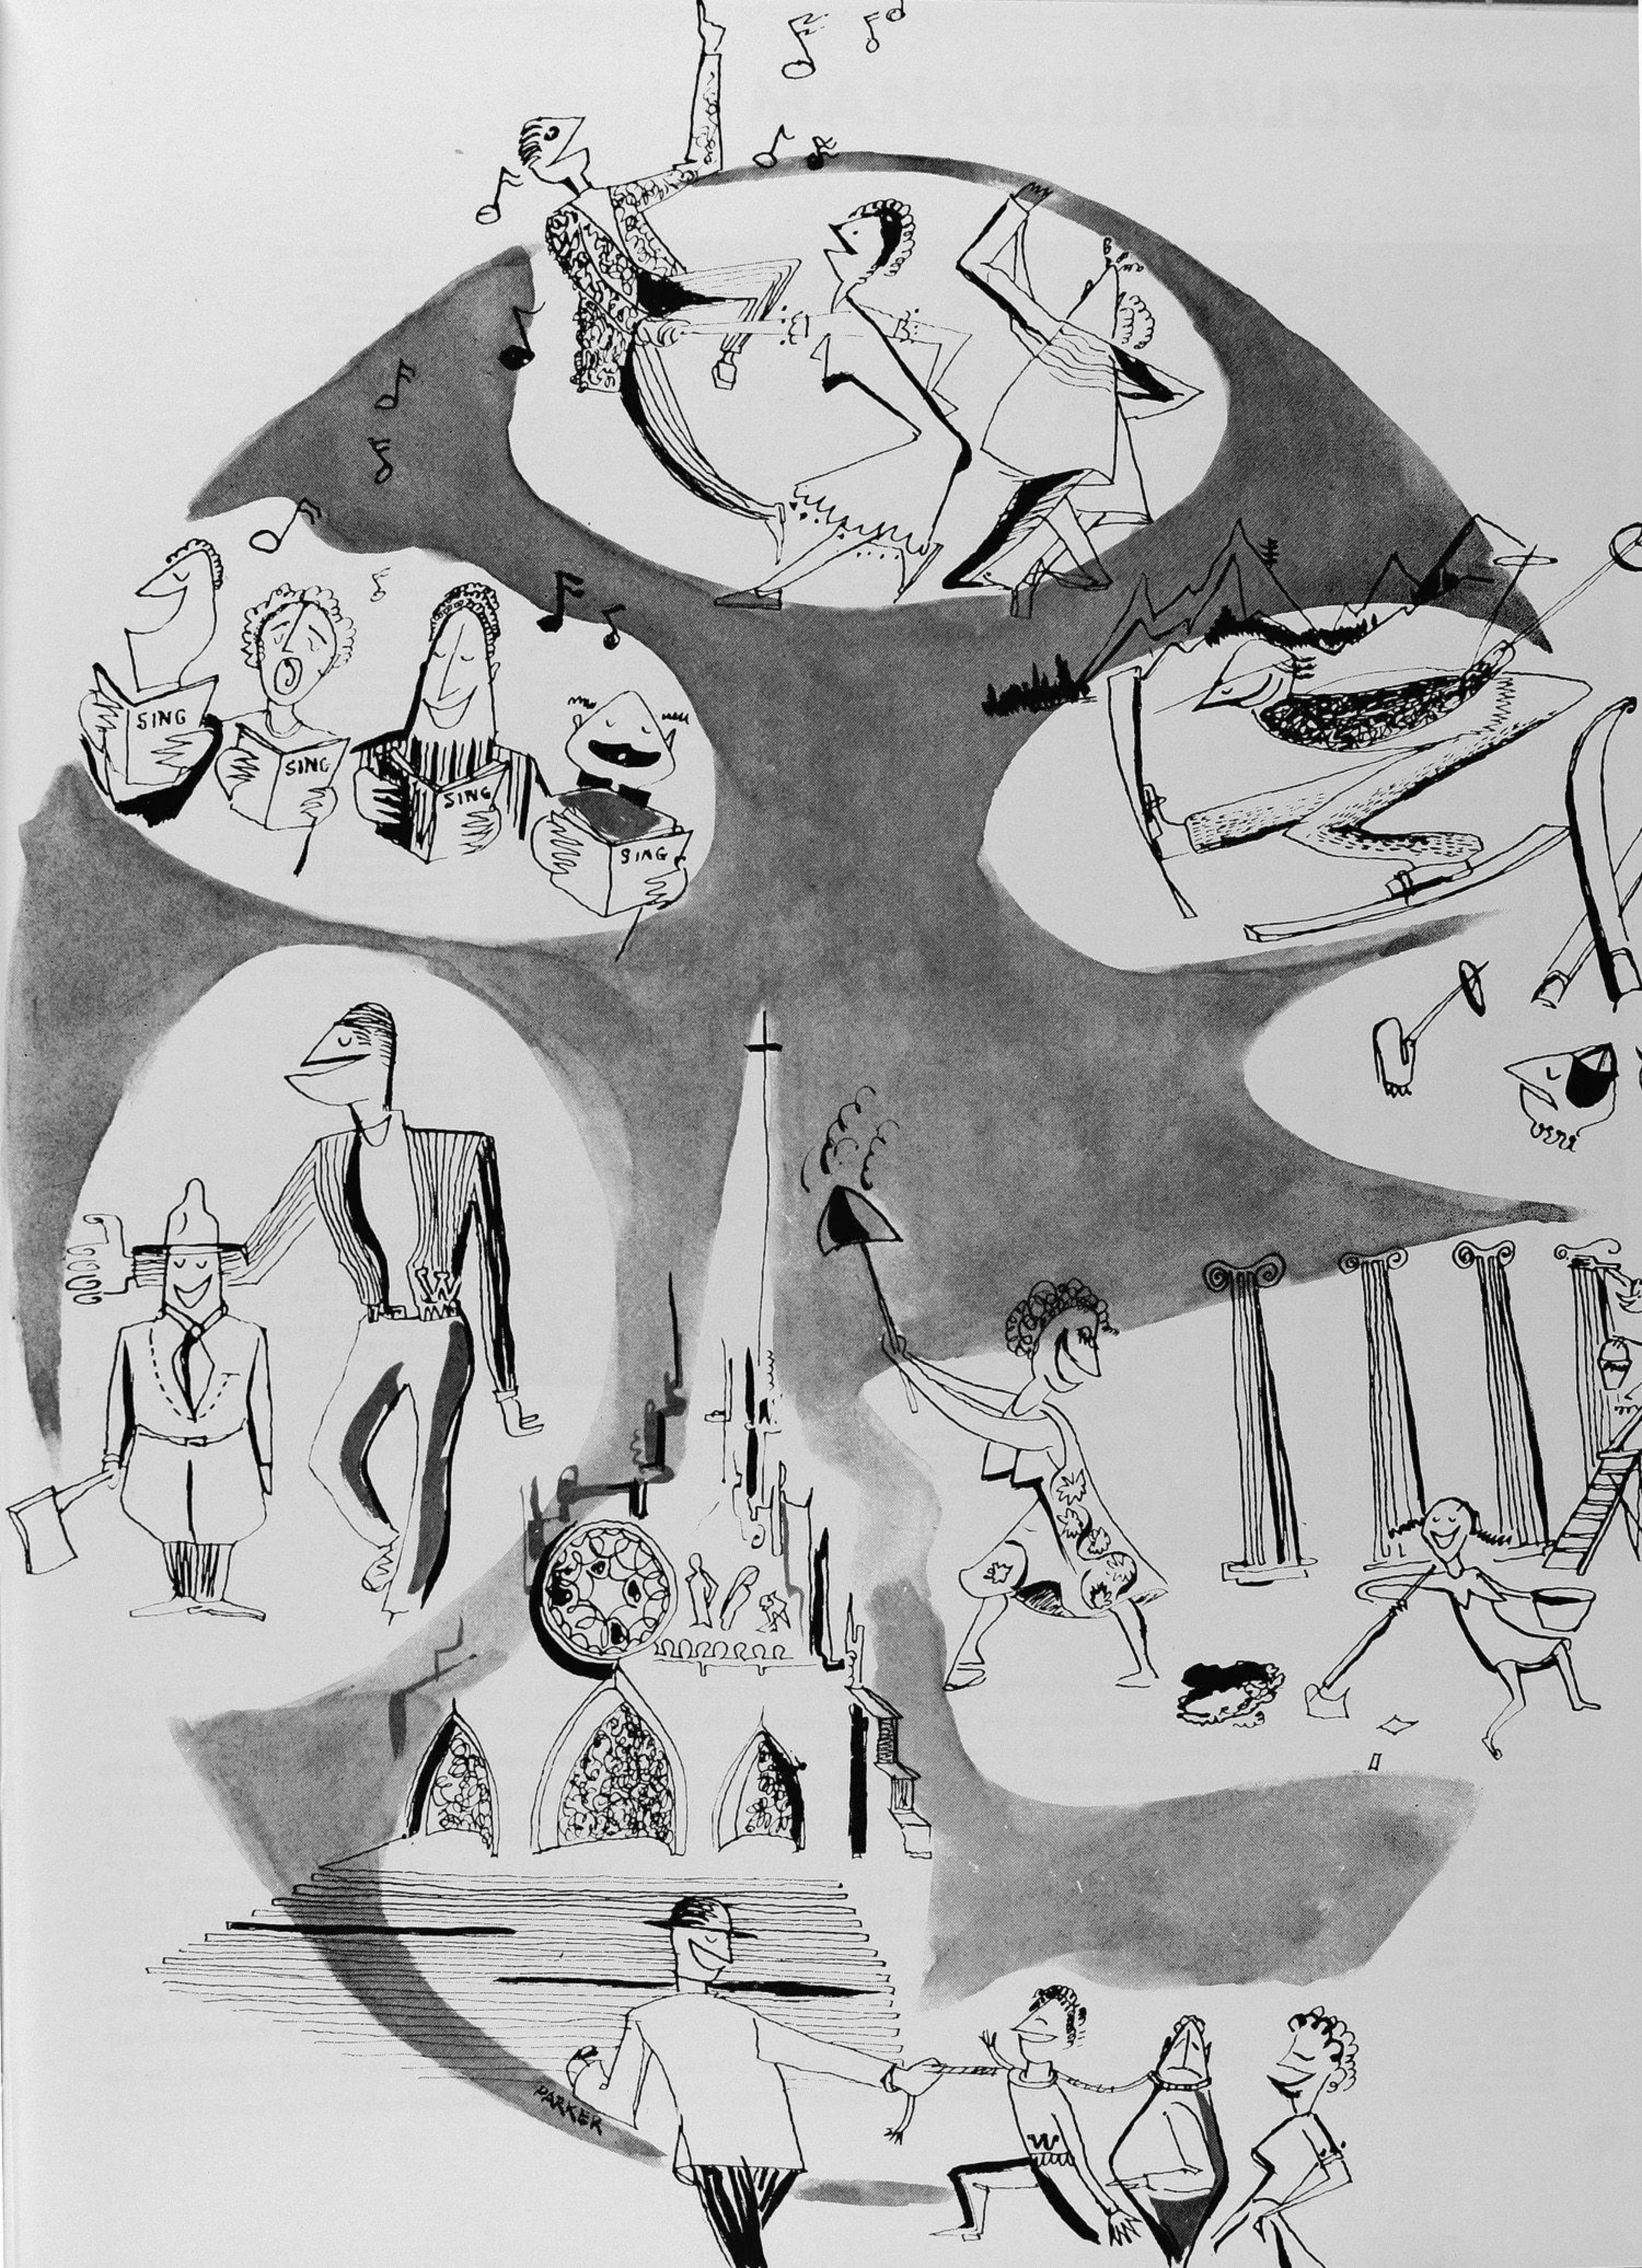

A unique feature of the program is the weekly spinning of the featured organization's favorite records. The preceding week a ballot box is placed in the organization's house, and each member is invited to vote for his or her favorite song.

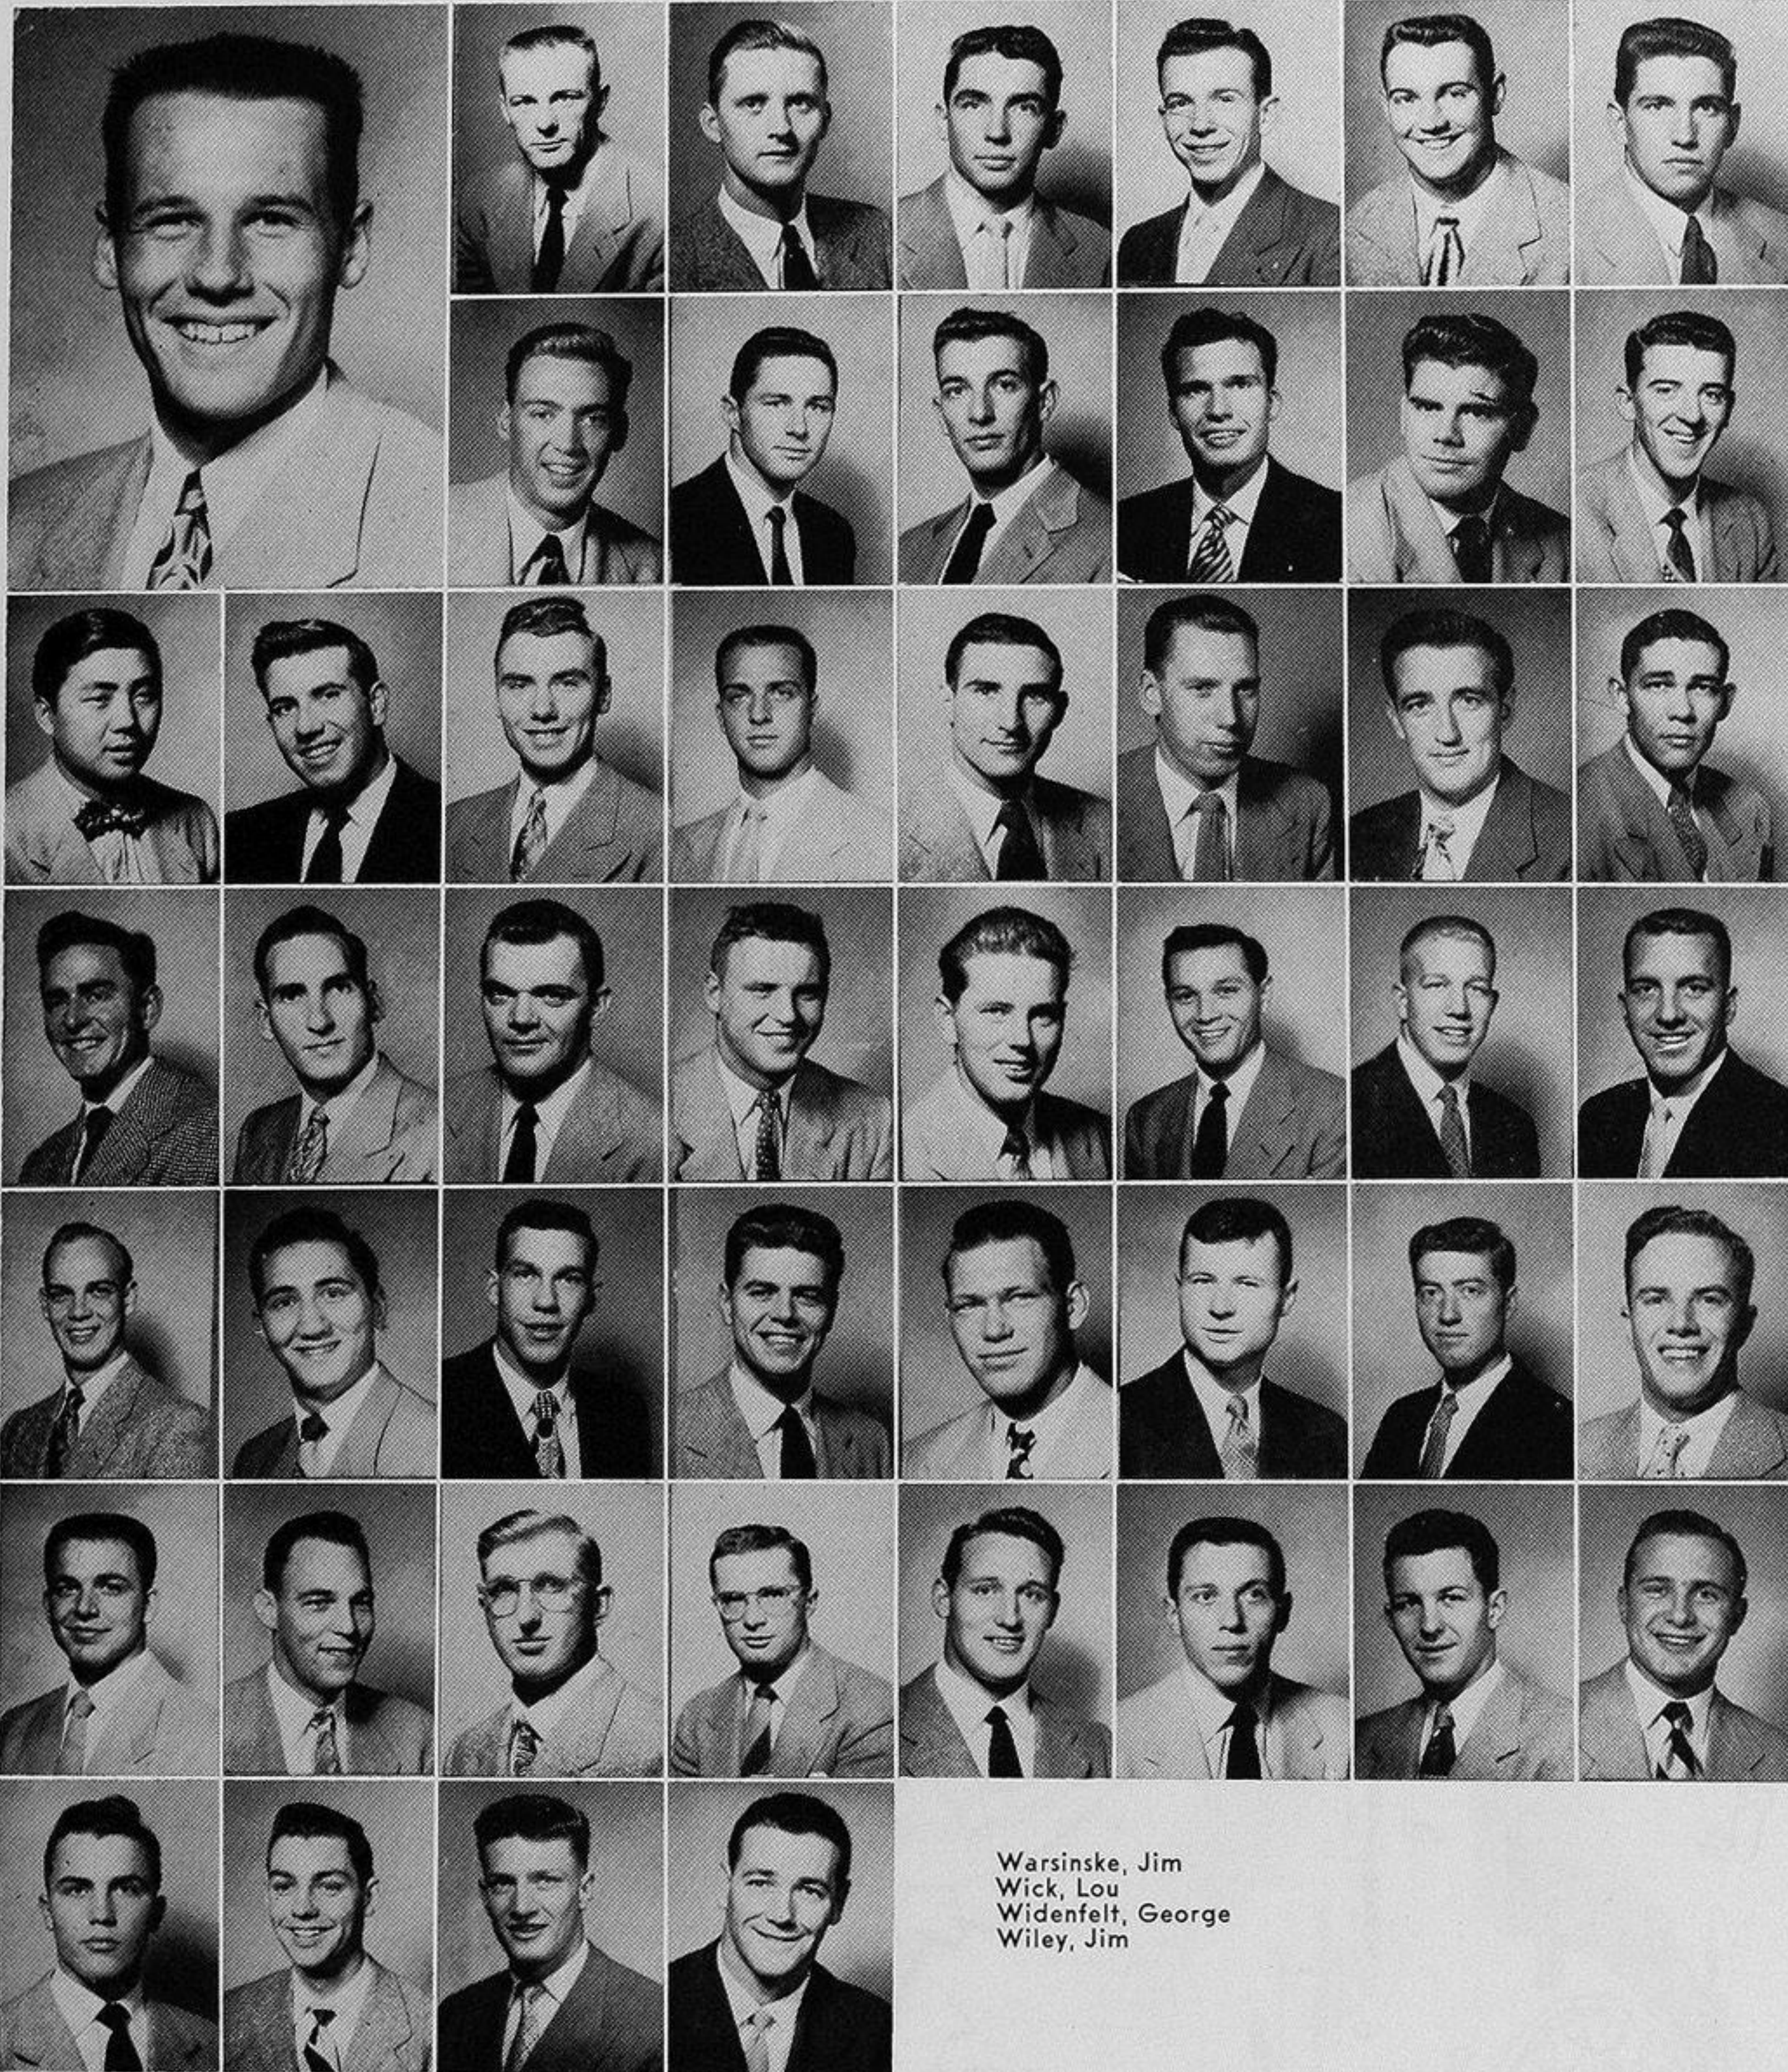

In the spring a young man's fancies lightly turn to thoughts of . . . campus elections. With signs to build and paint, campaign songs to learn, and speeches to memorize, it's a busy time.

With new election rules, electioneering is concentrated into a few hectic days. On election day the Quad is a sound effects man's paradise. Drums, sea chants, bagpipes and every other available type of noise-maker is utilized.

The thrill of intercollegiate athletics is something not exclusively held by varsity athletes. In a very definite way, a student manager feels the sense of pride that comes with a game well played and a victory justly won. Working with the frosh and varsity through their many arduous months of training; assisting the coaches to build a fine team through practice; helping the individual athletes in their personal problems, the manager feels that he is one of the group and in part responsible for the performance of the team.

The Managerial Council acts as a coordinating body over all managers in various sports. The council's objectives are: to promote the interests of the University of Washington, to promote interest in both athletics and managerial activities, and to assist individual managers in all problems that may arise in the performance of their duties. Senior and senior frosh managers constitute the active members while juniors are the associate or non-voting members.

To close the school year, the Managerial Banquet is held in May. Award of the Darwin Meisnist Trophy for the inspirational senior and announcement of next year's managers are made at that time.

Creating enthusiasm for swimming and associated sports is the aim of the Husky Swim Club at the University of Washington. Membership in this club is by unanimous election of all members present at membership meetings. Highly acclaimed by the campus have been the Aqua Follies presented in recent years. These have been jointly presented with the Silver Fish Swim Club. Another of the main projects undertaken by the club is the annual State-Wide Coaches' Swim Clinic. In order to further sportsmanship and effort among its members, the club awards an inspirational medal to its outstanding freshman and senior members.

Malamute's primary purpose is building school spirit. During the football season it plans and presents card stunts, sponsors the yell team, welcomes visiting teams, and provides send-off rallies and receptions for the Washington team.

Other activities include selling rooster's hats and training Waski, the Husky mascot.

Songfest, one of Washington's most cherished traditions, is presented every spring by the Malamutes. In many of its activities, the organization works with the Women's Rally Club and several other campus organizations.

Membership is open to freshmen, who are taken in every fall as "invites." After one quarter of service, pledges are chosen. Active members are selected during the sophomore year. Officers are elected from the actives.

To round out the club's activities, it sponsors several social events each year for its members.

The U. of W. Yacht Club was organized in May, 1948, and has grown in membership from 15 to over 150 sailors. The main purpose of the organization is to encourage student participation in sailing. The club has six sailboats which are kept in the old shell house on Union Bay. The highlight in the past year of sailing was the Seattle Yacht Club Opening Day activities in which the six Huskies took part. An Inter-collegiate regatta was held on Lake Washington in April, and May was highlighted with a moonlight cruise. With the summer just ahead, all of the sailors are looking forward to another successful boating year.

The HWSC has completed another year of bustling activity under the capable leadership of President Ola Roald and guidance of Adviser Dick Knott. The club's first activity was sponsoring the John Jay movie. This year's film, "Alpine Safari," was presented to an eager and appreciative audience in late November. Mr. Jay photographed the breathtaking Alps in the winter ski season and then went south to Bermuda to catch the summer water-ski season.

The weather man pleased the HWSC by providing beautiful powder snow and sunshine for this year's carnival held at the new University area. Obstacle races, slaloms, and a lovely ski queen and court drew University students to the event.

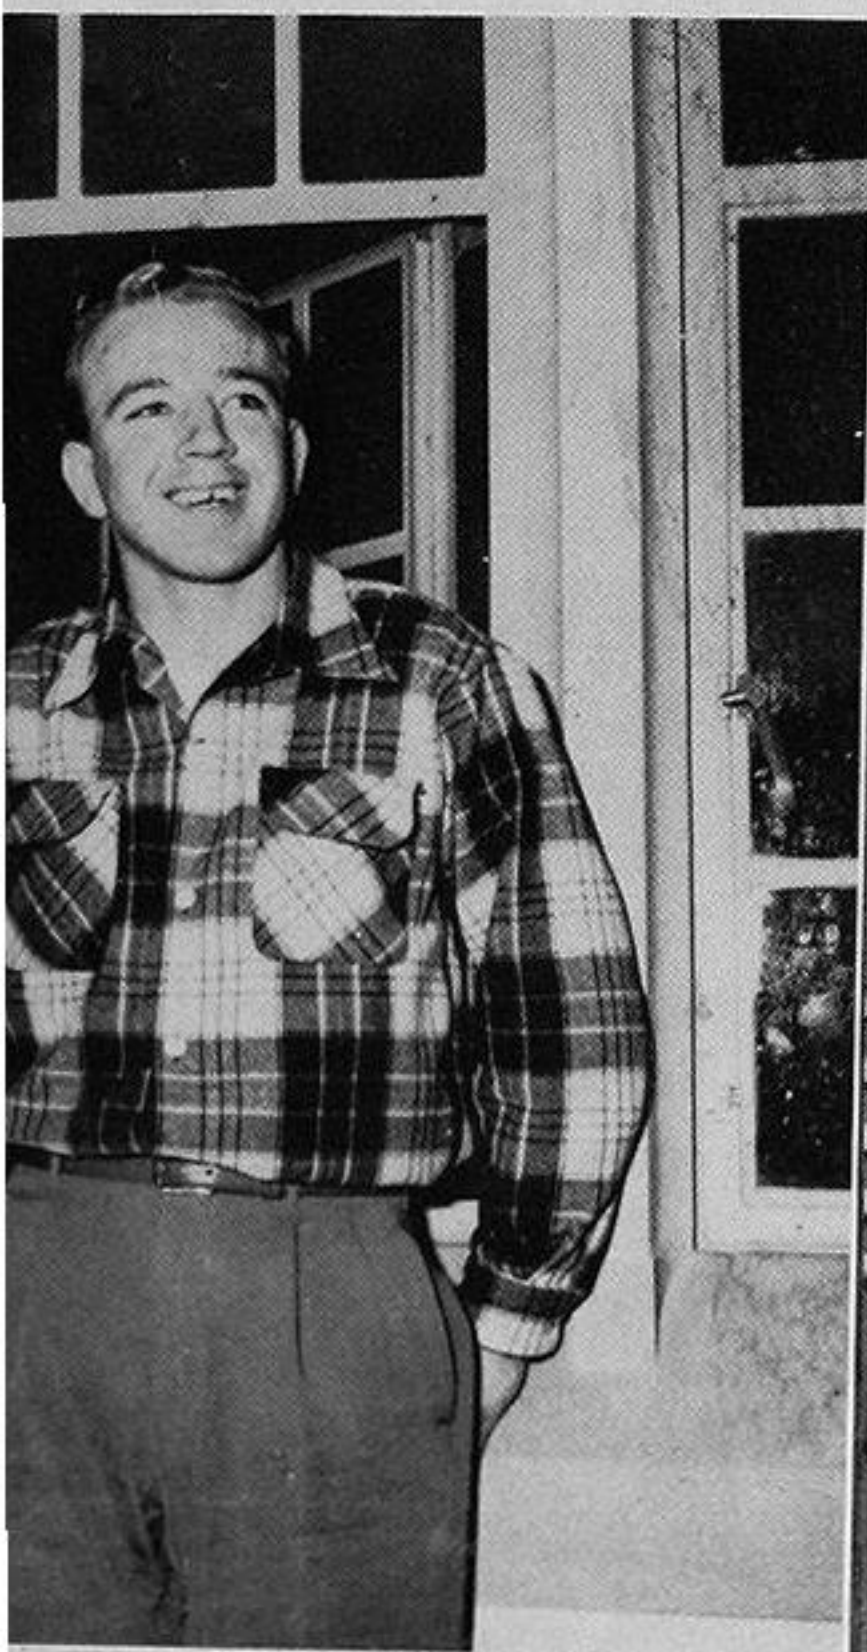

Many thanks for a great weekend is due the Carnival Committee. Members are Jack Papritz, Blanche Patterson, Floyd Hagaman, Anne Edmiston, Marty Anderson, and Jim Johnston.

Skiers who benefited by the car-pool and those who enjoyed the movies at the meetings can thank Floyd Hagaman, chairman of the Car-pool Committee and chairman of the Film Committee.

Joan Krakovsky, Publicity Chairman, writes out some copy for the Tyee by going through the general and well-known procedure of erasing, marking out, erasing, etc.

With agenda in hand and a pepsodent smile, Organizations Assembly Representative, Shirley Wizer, is all set for another weekly meeting.

Rounding up her long list of new members, Barbara Pascoe, Membership Chairman, takes a break before reports and committee meetings.

The governing body of HWSC who supported the various club activities are Jack Papritz, Barbara Pascoe, Anne Edmiston and Blanche Patterson; standing are Marty Anderson, Dick Knott and Shirley Wizer. Not pictured is Joan Brown.

Not only does it take a lot of time, but it takes plenty of accuracy to be a qualified member of the Racing Committee. Pictured are Anne Edmiston, chief gatekeeper; Don Thome, starter; Martin Anderson, chairman; Jack Papritz, assistant gatekeeper, and Floyd Hagaman, timekeeper.

The Social Committee, Blanche Patterson, chairman, and Anne Edmiston, spent long hours planning the winter carnival.

Independent men students have the opportunity to enter into social and student activities through Adelphi. This democratic organization is composed of the three clubs, Qui, Taurus, and Tillicum, which are coordinated by the Adelphi council. The aim of each club is to give its members training in leadership and to promote social activities, thereby filling their college years with warm friendships and good times.

This year, as a special project, Adelphi voted to sponsor the social activities of two German exchange law students, Rolf Holtmann and Jorgen Frenzel. Through this service, Adelphi hopes to better acquaint them with American customs and social life.

It's no job at all for Phratereans to live up to their motto, "Famous for Friendliness." It comes almost automatically—at barn dances, slumber parties, ski weekends and well, you name it.

Open to all women on the campus, Phrateres-participation in sport, social and service affairs means an added "something." Phrateres is an international social and service organization, and at the University of Washington it is composed of eight subchapters, each having its traditional activities and social events.

Scholastic excellence is still another characteristic measuring-stick in the group's program. Among its many other duties, the All-Phrateres Council keeps close tab on this important phase. The council coordinates the work of ten committees in other group activities.

Sororia was organized at the University of Washington in 1910 to bring together mature women students, both married and unmarried, enrolled for either graduate or undergraduate studies. Its purpose is to promote friendship and mutual interests, both academic and social. The group is fostered by a strong alumnae who aid in the social program with interesting functions for the campus group such as getting acquainted, Christmas party for members in the city during the holidays, summer picnic and a graduate breakfast honoring the current year's graduates.

The YMCA is one of the University's oldest organizations, having been founded on campus in 1888. The group is governed by elected and appointed student members and has initiated a number of campus traditions—first employment center, housing bureau, international house, "W" book—to mention a few. The YMCA occupies Eagleson Hall on the edge of the campus with the YWCA.

The YWCA offers students a laboratory of human relations and social responsibility to try out techniques and test ideas. Programs at the University Y bring students face to face with situations which point out the problems of democratic living. Among these are juvenile delinquency, international strife, racial tensions, religious conflicts, political lethargy and self-government.

"Be a leader, Be a friend, Be of service" is the motto of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity. Its purpose is to assemble college men in the fellowship of the Boy Scout Oath and Law.

Gamma Alpha chapter was founded in 1939 and was inactive during the war. Since its re-activation in 1947 it has become one of the most active organizations on campus. Some of the regular service projects carried on by Alpha Phi Omega are caring for campus bulletin boards, providing maps of the campus, acting as election officials and working for the rehabilitation of the amphitheater. This natural theater, situated just north of the infirmary on the side of the hill running toward Lake Washington, once held 12,000 persons. It is now overgrown with trees. Former president Taft spoke there during the AYP Exposition. Theodore Roosevelt was another notable who addressed an audience in the Amphitheater.

Alpha Phi Omega is a national organization of 176 chapters and over 20,000 members. Gamma Alpha was host chapter to a Northwest Sectional conference three years ago.

Established during the summer months of 1949, the Baptist-Disciple Fellowship is an organization for Baptist and Disciple young people. Because of the unification of the Baptist and Disciple students at the University, a student house was purchased. Situated on the corner of East 45th and 15th Ave. N.E., the Fellowship house provides many opportunities for Baptist and Christian students attending the University.

The purpose of the Fellowship is twofold: to promote Christian fellowship and leadership among the Baptist-Disciple students and their friends, and to aid students in finding an intelligent and personal religion.

Calvin Club members enter enthusiastically into the work project at Neah Bay.

Calvin Club, the collegiate group of the University Presbyterian Church, is an active Christian organization with a growing membership of over 200. The main activities that capture the interest and enthusiasm of the college students are: the Tuesday night dinners, the "sings," the Bible studies, the Sunday services, work projects and socials, to mention a few. Everyone looks forward to the fall and spring conferences, the annual formal banquet, and the fun-filled summer activities.

CANTERBURY CLUB

Thursday Noon Luncheon at Christ Church.

The Council: Merrill Babcock, Janet Elliot, May Paul (Vice President), Joan Boas, Nancy Dealey (on floor), Lois Crowe, Mary Lee Teigh (Treasurer), Dorothy Holder (on floor), Chaplain Cochran (standing), Ray Phillips (President), Lenore Holmquist (Secretary).

The Canterbury Club is an organization of Episcopal students at the University of Washington. Its purpose is to provide an opportunity for students to receive the teachings and life of Christ through prayer, study, service, giving, evangelism, and unity. This opportunity allows for Christian growth of the student as an individual and as a member of the corporate body of the church. The club has an able chaplain and advisor in the person of the Rev. Canon David R. Cochran, and an assistant advisor, Miss Merrill Babcock. Both are engaged in full-time work with the Episcopal Students. Christ Church at East 47th and Brooklyn Avenue is the headquarters for the club. Membership is open to any student who is interested, and who is willing to participate in its activities.

Delta Mu, an organization for Job's Daughters, a Masonic order, was founded on the Washington campus in 1945. This year, under the leadership of Jean Amsbaugh, Gamma chapter has provided a wide program of many activities and social life for its members.

Gamma Delta, a Lutheran student organization on campus, was founded in 1946. The organization's main purpose is to inculcate the Lutheran way of life. Meetings are held at Messiah Lutheran Church, located at 70th Avenue and 35th N.E. on Sunday evenings. It is also the aim of the organization to have a student house near the campus.

"Thy Lord is Truth" is the theme for Lutheran Student Associations all over the country. Luther Club is one of 400 Lutheran Student groups on college and university campuses.

Luther House is the center of many of the club's activities—noon lunch, Bible studies, Thursday noon meditations, and Friday night socials, as well as always being open for fun and fellowship, study and serious discussions. The Sunday evening supper meetings, the highlight of the week, are held at the University Lutheran Church, including worship, speakers and discussion. A graduate-student and faculty discussion group led by the faculty members on their own field as it relates to Christianity, has aroused enthusiastic responses.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE ORGANIZATION

4305 15th Ave. N.E.

A shaded spot on 15th provides a pleasant "campus home" for Christian Science students and faculty members.

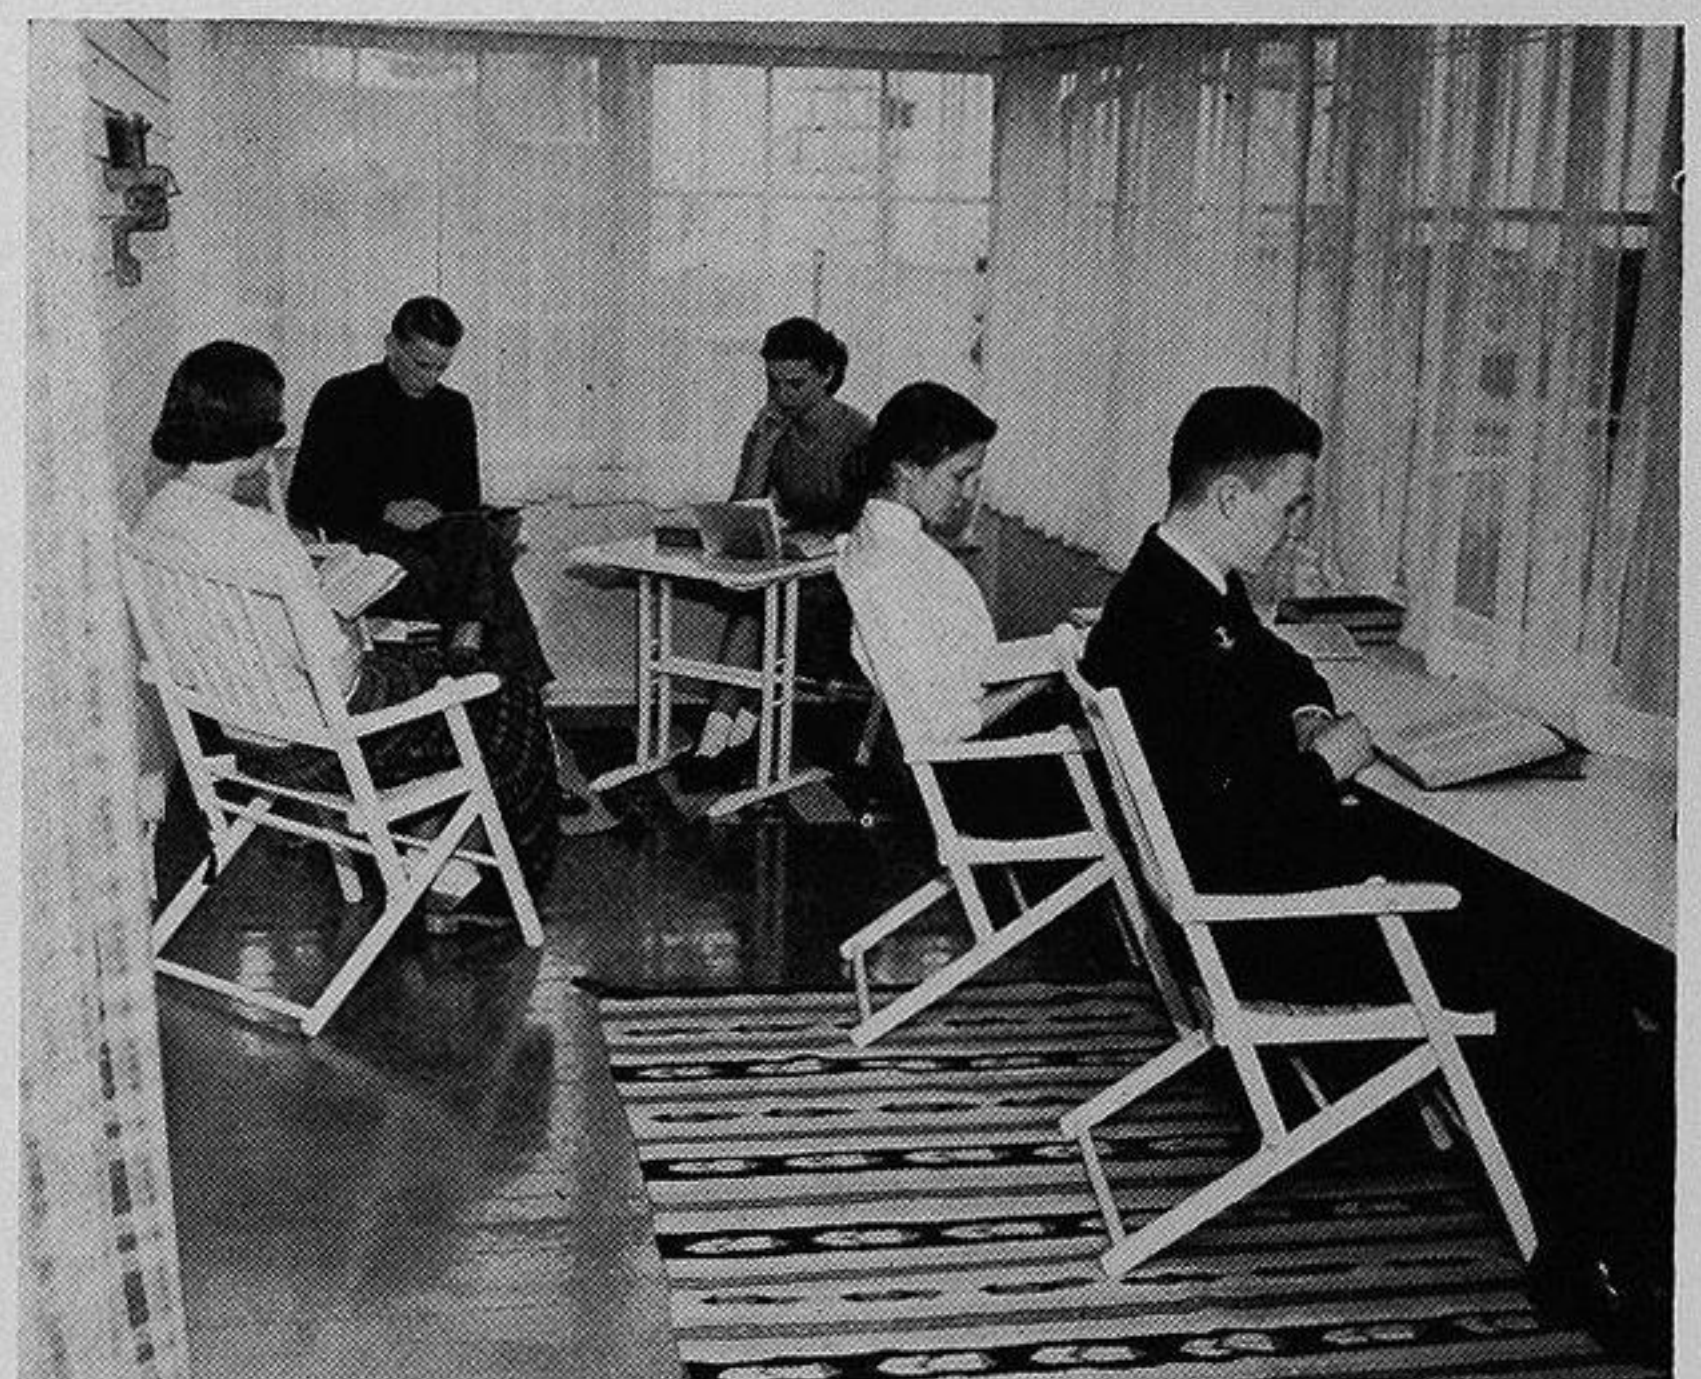

Christian Science Organization at the University of Washington was formed in 1917 by seven students, guided by the provisions in The Mother Church Manual of Mary Baker Eddy. Then, as today, the students were "consecrating themselves, their thoughts, words and actions to the service of humanity, and to the sacred course of Truth as taught in Christian Science."

The Organization's primary activity has always been its weekly religious meeting, which includes testimonies of healing through the applied understanding of Christian Science. These meetings are held in Eagleson Hall every Thursday evening of the school year, including examination weeks, at 7:45.

Students, faculty members and friends are also welcomed at the Organization's annual lecture, given by a member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist in Boston, Massachusetts.

The Organization student house at East 43rd and 15th Northeast was purchased in 1945 with the help of alumni and friends. At the House, students may read or borrow the Bible and the writings of Mary Baker Eddy, study their university work, eat their lunches, and enjoy satisfying friendships. The present structure is soon to be replaced by a modern building which will provide adequate space for all Organization activities, including the Thursday evening meetings.

The second-floor sun porch is a quiet, convenient place for study.

One of the frequent student get-togethers at the House.

Phi Chi Delta's purpose is to aid in developing the individual lives of its members through activities grouped under the general headings of social, social service, missionary education and home-building.

The founders of Phi Chi Delta were interested in drawing together Presbyterian women interested in the work of their church. Membership is open to both independent and sorority women of Presbyterian religious preference.

Kappa Phi is a national organization for Methodist college women. The aim of this group, "every Methodist woman in the university world today a leader in the church of tomorrow," is achieved by individual participation in a variety of spiritual, cultural, and social activities.

The club holds regular dinner meetings in Wesley House. At this time devotional services and programs in keeping with the themes are given. Social evenings are planned for other evenings throughout the year.

On two Sundays during the year Kappa Phi, in conjunction with Wesley club, sponsors the morning services at the University Temple. All members go to church together and student speakers replace the regular sermon.

Westminster Club strives to serve all Presbyterian students on the University campus. The club's motto, "Your home away from home," is a goal for which all members aim.

Weekly activities include a Sunday evening fireside, Bible class meetings on Tuesday, Thursday noon meetings held on the campus, and weekend parties.

Membership is open to any students interested in this program.

IN APPRECIATION

From behind the editor's desk, publishing the TYEE sometimes looks pretty impossible, but we made it and the credit belongs to all those whom I found to be just as interested in meeting deadlines, being accurate and putting out a good-looking book as I was.

For all their help and suggestions as well as correcting my mistakes, I want to thank the people at the Frayn Printing Co., especially DARRELL TAYLOR and MORT FRAYN, and STEVE and DICK LEE of Sterling Engraving. This book is theirs, too.

To Mulholland Studio, for all the trouble I caused them and for their efforts to include everyone in the book—thanks.

CLYDE ROBINSON found time to give invaluable assistance in spite of his other publications and his newfound matrimonial duties—thanks, Clyde. To Business Manager, JIM POWER, whose new system of indexing cuts the amount of time and work on that section almost in half, we owe a great deal.

The Recreation theme was supported by the Seattle Chamber of Commerce, Greater Seattle, BOB and IRA SPRING, the Seattle Times and P.-I., and many interested students.

To "Corny" ROOT, BILL STALEY, TOM COHEN, and the rest of the photo staff for coping with the never-ending assignments and enlargement orders, and to JIM SNEDDON for his cooperation—orchids as well.

For a professional cover job and advice on the art work, thanks goes to ART HANSEN, a veteran of the 1950 TYEE, and for section pages and handlettered heads artists DAVE STARR, WILLARD PARKER, and JOY JACKSON deserve credit.

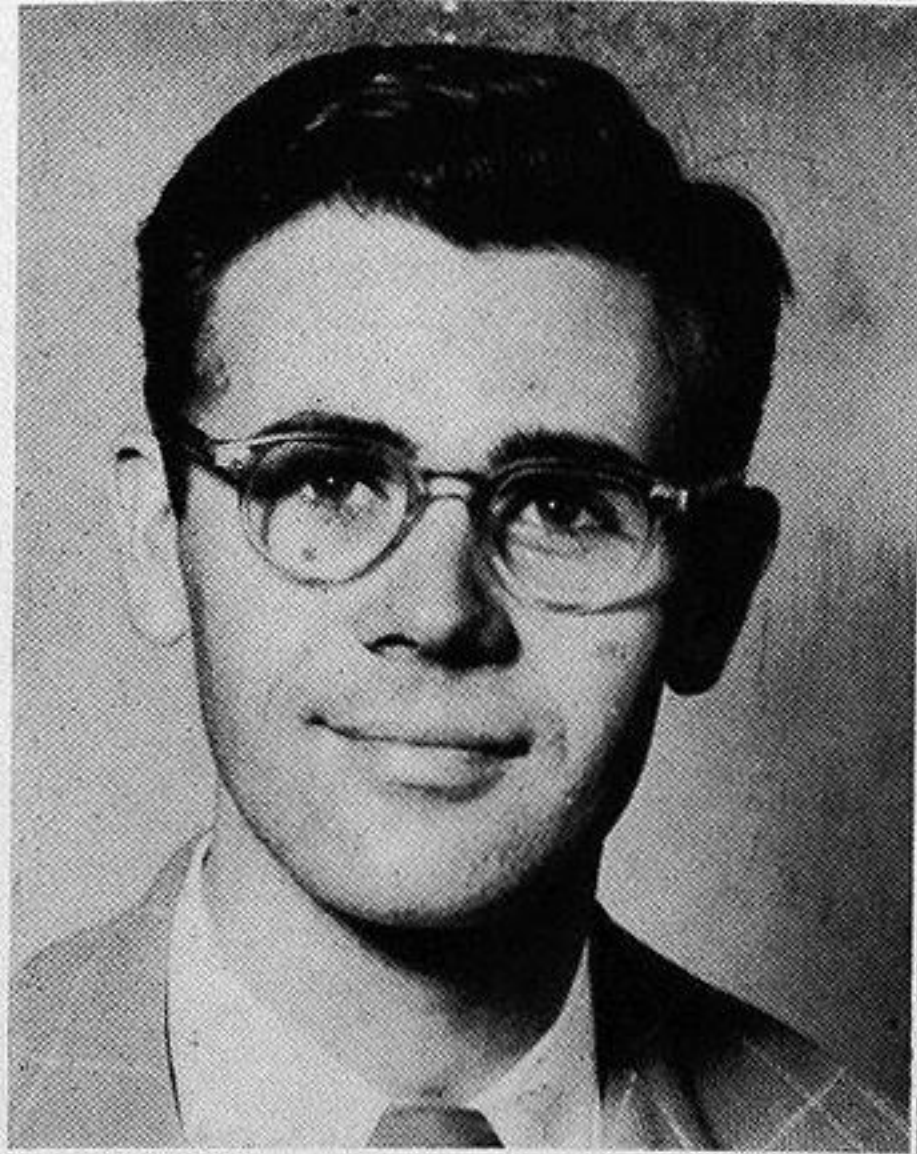

But most of all, you who read this book and I have the members of the staff to thank—especially those who not only did a terrific job on their sections, but finished up others as well—BILL KNIGHT, photographer and Sports Section Editor; LAUREL LUND, staff comedienne and Organizations Editor; JOAN SMITH, with a large staff to coordinate and countless layouts; SHAWN NIMS, who gave me sympathy as well as the best Seasonal Activities Section in many years; that hard-working pair, ELAINE KIRTLAND and ANN DAVIS, responsible for Seniors and Schools and Colleges, and many smaller unglorious jobs; and fellows in the Sports Section like DREW MILLER and JIM HENNES, who were really interested in making their sections the best; and FLORABEL KEY, our office manager who not only "managed" but did so much of the office work herself.

To these and others which space doesn't allow me to include, thanks and congratulations on your book.

Sponsored by the Methodist Church, Wesley Club is a student organization that brings students together to share common convictions and concerns in the quest for Christian living.

Membership includes both men and women and is affiliated on campus with the Campus Religious Council, Kappa Phi, and Wesley House, resident group.

The program during the year includes Sunday Evening Firesides, religious discussion groups, the weekly coffee hour, student-led Chapel services, weekend social events, and Student Sunday at the University Methodist Temple. Wesley Club facilities are open for the use of all students and student groups.

A DIVISION OF MARSHALL FIELD & COMPANY

To the Class of '52 . . .

We have much in common, you and we. You are building a career . . . we are building a great store. But the materials we both use are much the same: Masterful planning . . . patient study . . . persistent labor.

Today, after investing years and fortunes, we both have achieved only a beginning. In the years ahead your success, and ours, will depend upon our capacities to serve . . . our abilities to meet the demands of of a fast-moving world.

Congratulations, class of '52! We face the future together.

THE HUB — Activities Center of a Great University

Finally completed. At least this is all present plans call for. The University of Washington now has a Union Building second to none among U. S. schools. The latest wing houses game rooms, a coffee shop, lunch room, recreational library, record listening rooms, art gallery, ballroom, postal substation, barber shop, and bowling alley.
